LIVE STOCK

SELECTING A RAM.

A Practical Sheep Breeder Gives Some Practical Points.

The breeding season is closely approaching and flockmasters should decide very soon the type of the ram they are going to use and then begin their search for it, that they may not make a hasty selection or return to some discarded one. Act upon strict business methods in selecting a ram, keeping in mind some principles of breeding. Have an ideal toward which you wish to develop your flocks. Do not make violent and frequent changes in it. Be patient and persevering. Trust nothing to chance. Reproduction in animal life follows laws that neither human skill nor chance can overcome. Stable changes in animal life are always such as are wrought slowly. These facts should be borne in mind in selecting a ram and not too radical a change be sought in a single cross. Two undesirable extremes cannot be depended upon to produce a desirable mean. And in cross-breeding the offspring cannot be depended upon to reproduce its own type, for it has no fixed type. This is true even where crossing is between distinct families of the same breed. It is quite certain that there will be this fall a general rush toward mutton qualities, and some grave mistakes are almost sure to be made. In their abandonment of the wool-producing feature there will in many instances be an attempt to produce a mutton flock from Merino ewes bred for generations with no thought of their mutton qualities.

A flock of mutton-producing animals can be developed from such stock through judicious breeding and feeding, but it is an unprofitable course for the average farmer to take. When a flock of Merinos have so far lost the mutton quality that they cannot be made profitable as Merinos they would better be abandoned entirely, sold for the slaughter at what they will bring and the proceeds invested in the type of sheep desired. I feel certain, however, that many of the heavy-shearing flocks of Merinos should not be destroyed. The carcass in many flocks during the period of remunerative prices for wool was neglected or in many instances purposely dwarfed, with the same reasoning that makes a mere hide full of bones of the Jersey cow. The flocks have been rendered worthless through such specialty breeding. But with the majority of flocks only a slight change in the selection of a ram is necessary. The greatest error in breeding Merinos has been in developing folds in the skin, and accompanying this feature almost universally is found a narrow chest, flat ribs and a thin quarter. Wherever these features are not too strongly marked there is a chance for a return to a profitable Merino. In nearly all such cases some density and weight of fleece will have to be sacrificed. I have never found a sheep with heavy wrinkles and a tendency to yolkiness of fleece that would produce a profitable growth of carcass. That type of sheep will simply increase the flow of oil in the fleece just as a good dairy cow uses surplus food in the production of milk rather than beef. The first essential then is to destroy this characteristic. It is not necessary to go outside the same breed to do this. The selection of an animal of opposite character for mating from the same breed may be just as effectual. The result will depend upon the relative prepotency of the two animals and this can be determined only by trial.

This suggests a most important point in the selection of a ram where accuracy in breeding is sought; and it is an element almost wholly overlooked. It is the character of the dam. Rams are recommended by reference to their sires, but I believe that in the majority of instances the character of the dam is more marked upon the second generation than that of the sire. It is certain her character is not lost; and in every instance where a ram is being purchased to mate with a valuable flock, his dam ought to be scrutinized as carefully as the ram himself. This requires personal inspection on the part of the purchaser, and this should always be given when the purchaser has confidence in his own judgment. He, better than any one else, ought to know the ideal toward which he is breeding and the next step that should be taken. The custom of ordering rams from distant breeders cannot as a rule prove satisfactory. No matter how carefully bred a flock may be, it will comprise individuals of widely varying character to the trained and skillful eye, and only the purchaser can choose wisely, granting strict honesty to the breeder.

Again, in selecting a ram it is far better to visit the flock and choose from those in ordinary condition than to purchase a "show" animal. There are very few if any men who cannot be deceived into believing that excellence of condition and appearance are excellence in individual character. Moreover, a "show" condition is not conducive to a vigor; fatness and vigor do not usually accompany each other. Select well matured rams where much service is expected, and alway such as will show individual vigor. Keep the utility features uppermost, and the fancy points secondary.—Ohio Farmer.

Goes to Europe for Treatment

Suffering For Years from Insomnia and Nervous Debility—Prostrated, Exhausted—No Vitality—No Rest Until "Nature's Sweet Restorer," South American Nervine Tonic, Built up the Nervous Organism, and Gave Back to the Wearied and Exhausted Nerve-Centres their Wonted Vigor.

ADOLPHE LABODIE, B.C.L., J.P., OF THE WELL-KNOWN LEGAL FIRM OF LABODIE & LABODIE, MONTREAL.

For four generations the remarkable family of LaBodie have been prominently identified with the legal and professional life of Montreal. A long line of active, intellectual men, whose ambition to rise to prominence meant a constant drain upon the nerve forces and a tremendous demand for brain power. Mr Adolphe LaBodie, B.C.L., J.P., etc., has for seventeen years been actively engaged in the legal profession, living, as the duties of intellectual men of this fast age demand, beyond the reserve limit of natural nerve force, requiring more of the nerve centres at the base of the brain than they can possibly fulfil, which always results in nervous prostration, dyspepsia, hot flashes, insomnia, constipation, and attendant evils.

Mr. LaBodie spared neither time nor money to obtain relief, went to Europe for special treatment, all to no purpose. His attention being directed to South American Nervine Tonic, he concluded to try it. Result—immediate relief from insomnia, and a perfect and permanent cure from all other disorders, with but five bottles of the Nervine.

Mr. Adolphe LaBodie, under date of April 27th, writes from Montreal:—"I was suffering from insomnia and nervous debility; prostration and exhaustion, rather than rest, followed a night's experience. I took five bottles of South American Nervine, and am wholly recovered, and now enjoy restful nights. I have tried many remedies, have been treated in Europe, and can say with truthful emphasis that the South American nervine has cured me."

There is reason in all things: business reasons in business, truthful reasons in truth. Mr. LaBodie's statement herewith is the truthful reason why, if South American Nervine Tonic cured him, it will cure you. It is the nerve builder for brain workers. Brain and stomach cannot both work at the same time with healthful and happy issues. One must suffer. Intense intellectual activity produces indigestion because the brain is consuming all the nerve power. South American Nervine Tonic holds nature to a happy poise, and life and its duties swing to fruitful success.

Cross-Bred Lambs.

ONE of the lessons of the last annual show of the Smithfield club of London, England, was the value of judicious cross-breeding for special purposes. Some of the largest and best animals exhibited in both cattle and sheep classes were cross-bred, the object sought being weight and quality of carcass. The last one of these shows—at all times a notable event in the livestock world—was very large and good. This was especially true of sheep, no less than twelve different pure breeds being largely represented, besides many pens of cross-bred sheep and lambs. Among the latter were two pens of lambs exhibited by James Toop, which were a genuine triumph. One of the pens of three lambs was awarded the first prize and the breed cup, while the second pen won the second prize and was "reserve" for the cup. The cross was Southdown on Hampshire. The first prize lambs, were, when exhibited, 314 days old, and weighed 202 pounds each, on an average. They were as remarkable for fine quality as for great weight, averaging eight pounds heavier than the pen of Oxfordshire-Hampshire lambs which took the third prize.

It is well known that the modern "Down" breeds—that is, the Shropshires, Oxfordshires, Hampshires and Suffolks—were formed by crossing the Southdowns on various old breeds, now mostly extinct. The Southdown breed is thus the fountain from which the other "Down" blood was drawn. A cross of Southdown on any of the other established "Downs" is therefore a natural and logical one, and certainly proved eminently successful in the instance under consideration.

Temperament in Breeding Horses.

In breeding horses there are other things to consider besides the appearance and performance of sire and dam. One of the most important of these is temperament. A vicious and ill-tempered mare, whatever her good points may be, should never be retained for breeding purposes. Moral qualities are as surely transmitted to descendants as physical features. A vicious brood mare should at all times be rejected. D. Curnien, a French authority, rightly says: "No mare should be used as a brood mare unless she is perfectly well known." If she has any vice it will most probably be perpetuated, and in an augmented form, especially if the sire has defects of a kindred nature.

It is, of course, equally as important that the sire should be free from vice as that the dam should be so. As, however, it is difficult to ascertain the temper of the stallion, whether confined to his own stable or traveling the country, unless he has displayed his bad temper in public, the greater the importance of breeding only from such mares as are not actually vicious themselves, and that have not even a hereditary taint of potential waywardness and ill-temper in their constitutions. Although the produce of a vicious mare, if they have good looks and free action to commend them, may be sold at high prices as unbroken colts, no one should attempt to breed horses for his own use from such an animal. On the whole, it is good policy never to breed to such mares.

Clover a Profitable Hog Food.

There are many ways in which clover may be made profitable. But there is one way which should not be overlooked and to this we wish to call renewed attention. There is no way in which you can secure more net profit from an acre of good clover than by pasturing young hogs upon it.

An acre of clover should sustain eight hogs from spring to fall. If they weigh 100 pounds each when put on the clover, they should be able to make another hundred each from it during the season. Eight hundred pounds at five cents is forty dollars, and there is no expense to be deducted. You do not have to cut, or stack, or haul, or thresh. The hogs do it all. Six hundred pounds of pork from an acre of corn would be a good yield, and then the expense of cultivating and harvesting and feeding would make a big hole in the net profit.

Pork-making from clover is one good road to success in swine growing, and we are glad to see that it is being more and more followed. Bring your hogs to 200 pounds on the clover, and it is then an easy matter to finish them off quickly on corn early in the winter, without the expense of feeding long through the cold weather. Feeding corn in order to keep up the animal heat while putting on fat, is what so many farmers have found does not pay. Even if you do not get such heavy weights in the end as you might by some other method, still there will be more money left in your purse.

SEVENTEEN YEARS OF IT.

Charles Schryver had Kidney Disease all This Time and Didn't Know it—How he Found Out and How he was Cured.

TORONTO, Oct. 1.—Sixteen years ago kidney disease attacked Charles Schryver, a bricklayer in this city, but he did not know it. It showed itself in the form of pains in the small of the back. They did not amount so much at first, but kept growing worse. Within the past six years Mr. Schryver has almost every week had to quit work for one or two days on account of their severity. Doctors ascribed them to the liver and other causes and prescribed, but their medicine did no good. Last spring a city physician diagnosed the case as one of diabetes and wanted to prescribe, but Mr. Schryver said:—"No, if its diabetes I'll use Dodd's Kidney Pills, which I know will cure me." They did cure him, too, and to-day Mr. Schryver is free from ache or pain and able to do his day's work, week in and week out, with any man in his trade.

ISSUER OF MARRIAGE LICENSES

FROM THE CAPITAL.

A Quebec Supreme Court Appointment—A Letter From Dakota.

OTTAWA, Oct. 4.—The appointment of Justice Casault of the Supreme Court of Quebec to the Chief Justiceship of that court has caused considerable talk and surprise here. There has been always a thoroughly understood and equally as well observed compact between English-speaking and French-speaking people of the province that one of the Chief Justiceships, either of the Court of Queen's Bench or the Superior Court, should be held by an English judge. It was on these grounds that Sir John Macdonald had the late Justice Johnson appointed, although Justice Casault was the main applicant for it. Sir John Thompson and Mr. Ouimet have violated this compact and for the first time, not only since Confederation, but for many years before, both Chief Justices of the Province are Frenchmen.

Provincial Health Inspector Bryce is in the city talking over the best methods of disinfection in connection with the diphtheria cases that are reported here.

Mr. R. G. Klyne, a former resident of this district, now located in Warner, South Dakota, in a letter written to a friend here gives a sorrowful description of the western states. He says: "Things are very dull here this fall. Wheat was almost a failure; from 1 to 5 bushels per acre and of very inferior quality. It is worth from 26c to 40c per bushel, so you can readily see how the previously impoverished farmer is circumstanced when it costs about 45 cents to raise a bushel. The only thing there is any money in this year in potatoes. In fact they are good property any year. Our weather is excellent but everything is blue and there will be a good deal of economizing and some suffering this winter. Still we are better off here than they are farther south in Kansas, Nebraska and Iowa. Down there they have nothing whatever, not even feed for their stock. They have for six weeks been selling their hogs; from 75 to 150 pound hogs, for 50 cents and they are killing horses and cattle to keep them from starving to death. A man can buy horses from 50 cents up down there, and in some places the traveller sees such notices as this stuck up on the fences enclosing the pastured stock: "Please walk in and take your pick."

The De Kuyper v. Vandulken case, a dispute as to a trade mark, was concluded in the Supreme Court and judgment reserved. A constitutional point was involved in the case of Fortier and Lambe in the Supreme Court. Lambe is an Inland Revenue officer of Montreal and Fortier a stationer of the same place, and an act of the Quebec Legislature is the point in dispute, being an act to raise money by a tax on all unincorporated companies of anywhere from $10 to $100 if the stock kept is over $500 in value. Fortier seeks the annulment of the statute on the grounds that it is an interference with trade and commerce and a license law.

TRUSKY SPEAKS OF HIS CRIME

He Would Have Killed Another Man if He Had the Chance.

WINDSOR, Oct. 4.—For the first time since Joseph Trusky was convicted of the murder of Constable Lindsay at Comber on May 3 last and was sentenced to be hanged at Sandwich on December 14 next, he has opened his lips and made a confession which shows that he contemplated the killing of another man as well, before he put a bullet into his own breast. Trusky sent for Deputy Sheriff Rumble and said that the only thing which troubled him at all was the fact that his brother-in-law, George Taylor, was still alive.

"He was the man I wanted to get at first," said Trusky, "but how I came to shoot Lindsay before I settled him is more than I know. He was the —— —— —— who told Lindsay that I killed the horse and it was through him that I was arrested. I would feel perfectly satisfied if he were out of the way, but as it is I want to live in order that I can get a chance to finish my work."

The murderer expresses himself as not pleased with the attempt made to prove that he was not responsible for the deed but wishes it understood that he knew well what he was doing. He thinks the fact of the constable arresting him for killing his own horse was sufficient provocation, and cannot understand how any jury or judge could have seen it in any other light. On these grounds only he thinks he is entitled to a new trial. He says that he does not expect to be hanged, but is perfectly willing to spend a few years in the penitentiary. In his mind, such a thing as hanging is simply out of the question.

"Had I killed both Lindsay and Taylor," he said to the deputy sheriff, "I would be satisfied to go up for five years, but under the circumstances three years is plenty. When I get out I will attend to Taylor, and after serving a few years for that I will settle down, providing no one else meddles in my affairs. Hanging may be all right for those who kill men for money. When they do so they deserve to hang, but if the laws of this country don't allow a man to get any satisfaction, then the sooner I get out of it the better."

Montreal to Have a Carnival.

MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 4.—A preliminary meeting was held here last night to organize a winter carnival in Montreal for the coming winter. It was decided to hold a carnival and the leading hotel men promised their support. It is also expected that the M. A. A. A., and other leading sporting organizations will support the movement. Over $2,000 has already been raised and more is expected.

Ranchman Robbed and Murdered.

MONTEREY, Mex., Oct. 4.—Senor Clar Frias, a well-known ranchman, accompanied by his wife and their three children, left Espinoza in a wagon on an overland journey to Parras last Monday. A laborer, whose name is not known, also accompanied them. While in camp Frias and his wife were murdered by the laborer and robbed of $1,000. The country is being searched for the murderer.

Salvadorean Historian Assassinated.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 3.—The steamship Colon brings news of the assassination of Silvero A. Louis, a well-known historian of Salvador. He had just finished a history and geography of that country, and had engaged passage on the Colon, intending to bring his works to San Francisco and have them published. In his history he dealt severely with the Ezetas and their friends, which fact had leaked out. The morning before the Colon sailed Louis was found on a side street in San Salvador with a dirk sticking in his heart. His manuscript was missing.

The Tornado in Arkansas.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 4.—News from the Arkansas State Insane Asylum confirmed the first report concerning the damage to that institution by the tornado which caused destruction and death in this city. All of the male department and annex was razed to the ground, four floors falling in a mass. Dr. Ingale, formerly of Mobile, Ala., and two patients were instantly killed, and four other patients were seriously and perhaps fatally injured. The destruction in the residence part of the city in the vicinity of the penitentiary is very great. State Senator Vest's daughter, who lived in that neighborhood, was injured by a falling roof. The house was blown down and everything destroyed. The other occupants escaped serious injury.

THE RULING MARKETS.

TORONTO, Oct. 4, 1894.

No grain at all was brought in on the street. Outside prices were unchanged.

Wheat was higher in Chicago on reports of a crisis in European affairs, the close being 1-4c higher. Corn advanced 3-8 to 1-2c and oats 3-8c for the same cause.

The London stock market closed with considerable recovery of prices after the early decline. It is believed that the only object of the summoning of the cabinet concerns the despatch of troops to the Chinese treaty ports. Americans at the finish were nearly a dollar above the worst.

At the opening of the New York market another vigorous attack on prices was begun. Under the cover of a further fractional decline in sugar stock, the heavy short interest began to buy again and by noon prices had advanced again 4 points to 86. This recovery was quite as lacking in any basis other than surface speculation as was the long decline which went before it. The railroad shares, after participating in the first reaction, gained strength throughout the balance of the day's light trading. At the close prices were firmer, though irregular, sugar certificates receding considerably at the last. There was no local news, the day's real development of interest being the railroad gross earnings for September.

HOUSE DECORATING SEASON

Greatest Wall Paper Values Ever Shown

* * * * * * * * *

We ask you to investigate the claims we have made for some time past, that we are selling Wall Papers, Window Shades, Cornice Poles and Room Moulding, of all grades, at the Lowest Prices that have ever been quoted. We know our claims are well founded, and as house cleaning, or rather HOUSE DECORATING, season again comes round, we ask you to let us convince you of the fact.

The majority of homes are re-papered and decorated during the fall months in preparation and anticipation of the many duties which devolve upon you during the long social winter season. This is the time when one lives indoors and enjoys interior decorations.

Householders, paper hangers, everyone, will save money by buying their decorations at

SIGN OF THE INDIAN QUEEN.

Victims of the New York Police.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The Senate investigating committee heard the story of Mrs. Urchittel who told a pitiful tale of her ill-treatment by two detectives who blackmailed her and tore her children away from her and broke up her home without cause. One of these officers named Hussey seems to have put up a conspiracy to place the blame of the affair upon another and innocent policemen and in the court room threatened the life of a witness named Pfeffer, using vilest language. He swore a denial of the last charge but half a dozen reputable witnesses testified to his having perjured himself. Hussey nearly broke down under a searching cross-examination.

Freedom in Religious Worship.

BUDA PEST, Oct. 4.—The Hungarian Upper House yesterday opened debate on a bill granting liberty of worship to all sects. In the course of the discussion Cardinal Schlauch, arch-bishop of Transylvania, declared that the bill if it became law would ruin society and the state. The Servian patriarch and the Roumanian and Orthodox bishops spoke in a similar strain. Ex-Minister Czaky and the Calvinist bishop Szasz warmly supported the proposed reform which was introduced by the minister of public education, Baron Eoetvoes. The debate was adjourned.

Damage by a Water-sprout.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—A special from Caracas, Venezuela, says: "The rains following the water-spout have ceased. The loss of life and property is greater than at first reported. Putrifying bodies are causing much sickness. Many families are in distress, suffering from lack of food and clothing. Subterranean rumblings are heard, frightening the inhabitants."

Turks Slaughtered by Armenians.

VIENNA, Oct. 4.—Advices from Erzeroum, Armenia, say that the Turkish and Kurdish soldiers at Sussun have been attacked by the people of that region and more than 300 of them killed and wounded. The Turkish troops are reported as being in a pitiable condition, their sufferings being greatly increased by the severe weather prevailing.

The Czarewitch's Wedding Postponed.

VIENNA, Oct. 4.—A despatch from St. Petersburg says the marriage of the Czarewitch to Princess Alix of Hesse has again been postponed. This latest postponement is due to the illness of the Czar. No subsequent date is given, but it is expected that the marriage will not occur until next June.

Grist Mills Burglarized.

GANANOQUE, Ont., Oct. 4.—The grist mills of Reid & Sheuneman, of this town, were broken into by burglars. The contents of the safe, $45 in cash and $550 in bank drafts and promissory notes were abstracted.

Annual Arrival of the Sea Gull.

NEWPORT, R.I., Oct. 4.—"Dick," the sea gull, which has made his winter home on the Brenton Reef lightship for many years, again made his appearance last night. This is his twenty-third recorded annual arrival.

Smallpox in Winnipeg.

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 4.—A case of smallpox was discovered here. The victim, whose name is Beecher, has been traveling in the Territories, where he is supposed to have contracted the disease.

Burial of Captain McNeale.

HALIFAX, Oct. 4.—The funeral of Captain McNeale took place to-day. The cortege left the hospital and went to the garrison chapel where services were held. At the conclusion the funeral cortege reformed and proceeded to Fort Massey cemetery, the procession headed by a firing party of 100 men from King's Regiment. The casket, covered by a flag, was borne on a gun carriage drawn by four horses. All the men of King's Regiment marched in the funeral procession with sergeants and officers in rear. On arrival at the gates of the cemetery, the casket, on which was floral emblems, was taken from the carriage and carried on the shoulders of men of the regiment to the grave. The claim that these were not McNeale's remains have been made before, but the authorities are perfectly satisfied that the remains sent here were those of Capt. McNeale.

Walking Babies.

A well-kept baby will walk when he gets ready. He doesn't need any lessons. Let him alone. See that his falls are broken and his hurts kissed better, but don't teach him to be a tramp. Urging a child to stand alone is an excellent way to cripple him for life. When the young bird's wings are strong he knows it and flies off. As soon as the baby's legs are strong enough to support him he, too, will stand up and walk off. Give him a chance.

Duke of Somerset Dead.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—Algernon Percy Banks St. Maur, fourteenth Duke of Somerset, died suddenly. He was born December 23, 1810.

Woollen Mills Destroyed.

PAISLEY, Ont., Oct. 4.—Yesterday fire broke out in D. Fisher's woollen mill property here, destroying it completely.

Hawke's Cricket Team in Toronto.

TORONTO, Oct. 4.—The cricket match between Lord Hawke's team and an eleven representing the Ontario Cricket Association came off yesterday, as intended. Lord Hawke won the toss and sent his men to bat. L. J. Hill and C. E. De Trafford opened the inning for the Englishmen to the bowling of Laing and McGiverin. De Trafford was bowled and caught by Laing without scoring. Score, 0, 1, 0.

LOOKOUT FOR BIRDIE.

Hard-billed birds are those which live on seeds.

Soft-billed birds do not live on seeds but on insects and prepared food.

Feed very little sweet stuffs, it spoils the digestion, and then the bird's health is gone.

Hard-billed birds need little for food besides seed and occasionally a bit of lettuce, apple or celery.

Moulting cannot be called a disease since it is a natural process of providing the bird with new plumage.

A bird should be given its bath, its food and a clean cage at the same hour each day, and by the same person.

After a bird takes his water bath he should have a sun bath if there is a spot in the house where the sun shines.

Cuttle bone is an important article of diet for hard-billed birds. There is a salty taste to it which seems to be a tonic for feathered bipeds.

TURNBULL'S

Our Millinery opening is now over and has been a decided success, and it is very gratifying to be able to state that we never had more visitors or took more orders, which simply shows the fact that our selection of Millinery is very choice and varied. Our turnover in this department is so large that we can afford to buy everything new as it appears each week. Thus our customers are always sure of getting the latest styles and closest prices with us.

MANTLES.

In the Mantle department things are on the move. Our best garments are going out rapidly. We have a large and varied stock and our prices are rock bottom, as we import direct from the manufacturers. We keep the very best qualities of Astrachans and Sealettes to be made up to order. Any one thinking of buying a cheap Fur Coat should see these Cloths first as they make up more effective, and are twice as durable, and can be made up in any of the new shapes. Our Mantle maker is one the best in the country, turning her work out as well as any tailor.

JOB LINES.

Just received 1500 yards of Dress Tweeds, 48 inches wide, in Fawns, Grays, Myrtles, Browns, Blues, Garnets and Blacks, which we are selling at 15½c a yard. This is one of the biggest bargains that has struck Peterborough this season.

Also 225 yards of fancy Plaids, 40 inches wide, sale price 20c., good value at 30c.

200 yards All Wool Cheviot Cloths, 42 inches wide, at 35c. This is regular 60c goods.

KILLED BY A LIVE WIRE

Two Electric Light Employes in Boston Lose Their Lives.

IT WAS A HORRIBLE SCENE

One of the Victims Hung Slowly Burning. Attached to the Pole by a Body Belt—A Comrade Loses His Life in Attempting to Rescue Him.

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 5.—C. E. Day and A. J. Munroe, employes of the Boston electric light company, were killed yesterday. Day was at the top of a pole on Congress street trimming an arc lamp when, with a shriek, he suddenly fell back and clutched the wire with his hand. He was prevented from falling to the ground by a body belt fastened about the pole. As he hung limp and lifeless his hands and clothing were burning with a sizzling noise and sending up clouds of light smoke.

The electric company was quickly notified, and in a few minutes a repair waggon was at the scene with several employes of the company. Munroe ran up the pole to his comrade's rescue with a pair of nippers with which to cut the wire. As soon as he touched the wire with the pincers he received a heavy shock and was thrown from the pole into the street, striking on his head and fracturing his skull. Other help was secured, and Day was finally lowered from the pole. He was still breathing, but died on the way to the hospital. Munroe died an hour later, without recovering consciousness.

At the same time this accident happened, Thomas McCarthy, an employe of the same company, who was working on a light on the corner of Congress and Shanning streets, on the same electric current, received a severe shock and was knocked from the pole, falling heavily on the sidewalk. His condition is serious. One of his hands was badly burned. The cause of the current being on full strength while the men were working on the wires has not been explained, but it is thought the trouble was in the power station and that the accidents were the results of carelessness.

Corbett Sick of Pugilism.

HARTFORD, Conn., Oct. 5.—In an interview James Corbett gave his reasons for covering Bob Fitzsimmons' $1,000 forfeit to fight him in July for the championship. Corbett said he had never any desire to fight Fitzsimmons until "Fitz" had first fought Steve O'Donnell, but the talk of the Olympic Club of New Orleans had put him in a false light before the public. He would fight Fitzsimmons and any others who desired during the first week in July and would then retire from the ring as champion. He was sick of pugilism, but he will not propose to be bluffed down.

Beat His Wife for Saving His Life.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Oct. 5.—Ellsworth Hupp, a well-to-do farmer, quarrelled with his wife and left the house. Half an hour later Mrs. Hupp found him hanging by the neck to a tree. She cut him down, and, after working over him a long time, succeeded in reviving him. When Hupp recovered somewhat he took the severed rope and beat the woman nearly to death and then fell exhausted. He lies in a critical condition and may yet die.

Victims of the Hurricane.

KEY WEST, Fla., Oct. 5.—More than 50 human bodies have been washed up along the reefs along here within the last few days, most of them being badly decomposed. They were buried where they were found. The bodies probably came from vessels wrecked by the recent hurricane in the Gulf of Mexico and were carried here by the Gulf stream.

Nebraska's High Winds.

PAWNEE, Neb., Oct. 5.—A cyclone struck the home of John Nelson, seven miles south of here. The family of seven persons were blown into an adjoining field, and a little girl nine years old had a stick driven through her skull and cannot live. Five others of the family were severely injured.

Sugar Under the Wilson Law.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—The Democratic committee has issued a circular which they propose to widely distribute showing that the price of sugar has not increased under the operations of the Wilson law. The figures are taken from the official records.

Bartender Shot Dead.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 5.—Charles N. Bidwell, bartender in a saloon owned by W. H. Goodrich, at South Third and Main streets, was shot dead in the saloon while resisting an attempt to hold up the saloon. The murderer fled.

No Foundation for a Scandal.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—A despatch to the Chronicle from Naples says the scandal alluded to in a despatch to that paper from Naples on Tuesday, as affecting the abbess of the convent of St. Joseph, in that city, upon investigation attaches no discredit to that lady or any other member of the convent except the complainant (Silvia Palmieri) herself. Inquiry shows that the girl laid a plan to elope, but was prevented by the abbess. A local newspaper elaborated the story, alleging that the girl had declared that she had been drugged and assaulted by elderly men who visited the abbess, herself 70 years of age, and is now being sued for libel. The story as told in that paper had no foundation in fact.

SITUATION IN THE EAST

Li Hung Chang the Only Man Capable of Advising the Emperor.

THE WAR SHOULD BE STOPPED

London Papers View With Alarm the Probable Breaking Up of the Chinese Empire and Advise the European Powers to Call a Halt.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—Commenting on the eastern situation the Post says:

The present position of China cannot be lightly regarded. If that empire were broken up or its position imperiled the outlook would be extremely grave. Hitherto we have been accustomed to regard China as an ally and we have treaties and agreements with her which require close attention. Li Hung Chang is the only man of eminence in China capable of advising the Emperor at this juncture. He deserves any aid that England can afford him in the effort to save his country from the terrible dangers with which it is menaced.

The Graphic says: It is time a halt was called by the European powers interested in keeping the peace. Neither Great Britain nor Russia can wish to see China permanently crippled by the Japanese. A state of chaos in the former empire would raise problems that might set the world ablaze.

The Times publishes a despatch from its Shanghai correspondent, saying a despatch from Tien-Tsin denies the report that the Chinese have evacuated Corea and also denies that the Japanese are near the Yalu river or are occupying Thorntown Haven. It is stated that Chinese transports are moving with the utmost freedom in the Gulf of Pechili and that the warships at Port Arthur which were engaged in the Yalu fight will soon be repaired and ready for sea with the exception of the Lai-Yuen which was almost wholly burned.

Advices Per Steamer Gaelic.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5.—Advices per steamer Gaelic are that a private letter from Shanghai received at Yokohama says:

"The Chinese government, while on the one hand at war with Japan, has been brought to task by the French government for the murder of a French missionary. According to China's reply to France she may possibly have additional troubles upon her. At home the secret societies such as the Kotai Hwy, Peleon Hwy and the Tiente Hwy are on the point of rising. Details of these internal dissensions have been communicated by a foreigner who has recently returned from Chefoo. The Chinese at Kwang Tung are said to be secretly rejoicing at these troubles as they believe that they presage the downfall of the Tain dynasty and the restoration of the Han rule.

A Shanghai telegram states that the Chinese government has declared to the French Minister at Pekin that the French missionary had been murdered, not by Chinese troops, but by a remnant of the Japanese who had been defeated by the Chinese at Gazan and dispersed in all directions to vent their rage at their defeat. The Chinese government therefore disclaims all responsibility for the murder.

The government of Pekin sent to the foreign ministers a despatch in which it expressed its fears that Japanese men-of-war sailing under foreign flags might attack China, and requested the Ministers to allow China to stop foreign men-of-war by firing blank cartridges at them and to examine them before they proceeded on their way. The foreign ministers all refused their consent.

The government recently ordered the local officials to seize Japanese ships wherever found. The government believes that there are 800 or 900 Japanese who are disguised as Chinese and travelling in the interior. A Japanese gentleman who was travelling in Chinese dress was seized the other day at Shanghai and thrown into prison. He assured the Chinese that he was not a spy and asked them to examine a certain Chinese priest, as he was a personal friend of his. The priest was summoned, but before he came the Japanese effected his escape. The authorities were so angry that when the priest came to their court they threw him into prison and beheaded him in the other's stead.

The Japanese papers devote considerrble space to reports on the preparations for the battle of Ping Yang but as the Gaelic sailed from Yokohama only a few days after the great conflict had taken place no definite particulars had been obtained. The news of the Yalu river had also been received but nothing more than short despatches indicating victory for the Japanese fleet.

The following will serve to illustrate the confidence felt in Japanese success: "All our loyal and valiant military men," says the Shin Chova, "are confident that by the third of November the Japanese army will have taken Ping Yang, crossed the Yalu and stormed the Youkden and, in that treasury of China, the Japanese flag will be unfurled and the Emperor's birthday and the Japanese victories celebrated on that day." The victory at Ping Yang followed almost immediately the arrival of the Japanese Emperor at Hiorshima where he is directing the war operations.

Representatives of the Taigai Koha, or "Strong Foreign Policy" party now in Tokio held a meeting recently and discussed the policy to be pursued in the approaching session of the Diet. They arrived at a resolution that peace must not be made with China until an agreement can be come to with her securing the permanent peace of the Orient. They further determined that no expense must be spared to achieve the above result.

"It would tickle Viceroy Li did he see the personification of himself upon the Japanese stage by the now celebrated Soshi actor Kawakami in the Asak Usa theatre," says the Japan Mail. "The Chinese statesman is made to appear in a very prudent role, for whenever news is brought to him of the advance of the Japanese soldiers he issues orders to his own braves to run away."

The Star prints a despatch received by a London news agency to the effect that the married foreign customs officials resident in Pekin are hastily leaving the city with their families.

MEREDITH TO RETIRE

The Leader of the Opposition Has Been Offered a Chief Justiceship.

IT IS SAID HE WILL ACCEPT

Though Sir John Thompson Says the Appointment Has Not Been Made it is Generally Thought He Will Receive It—Howland May Be Leader.

OTTAWA, Oct. 5.—It is understood here that the vacancy caused by the resignation of Sir Thomas Galt, Chief Justice of the Common Pleas Division of the High Court of Ontario, has been offered to W. R. Meredith, Q.C., leader of the Opposition in the Ontario Legislature. Mr. Meredith has not yet accepted. The appointment has not yet been officially made, but it is understood that Sir John Thompson is preparing a memorandum to Council, recommending Mr. Meredith's appointment and that the Order-in-Council will be passed to-day carrying it into effect. It is understood that Mr. Meredith has accepted.

David Creighton, of the Empire, is here seeing the Premier about the matter. It is said that his visit has to do with Mr. Meredith's successor. It is understood here that O. A. Howland will lead the Opposition in the Legislature in place of Mr. Meredith.

The Premier was asked if Mr. Meredith was appointed to the chief justiceship of the Court of Common Pleas and he replied that he was not. It is generally believed here that Mr. Meredith will receive the appointment.

TORONTO, Oct. 5.—The word from Ottawa that Mr. Meredith will receive the appointment of Chief Justice of the Common Pleas was received with various comments in the city. There is much speculation as to whether Mr. Meredith will accept, and in that event who his successor will be as leader of the provincial Conservative party. The general opinion seems to be that he will accept the appointment, and in that event the leadership will fall on either Mr. O. A. Howland or Mr. G. F. Marter.

HON. STEPHEN RICHARDS DEAD.

He Was Once a Member of the Sandfield Macdonald Government.

TORONTO, Oct. 5.—The Hon. Stephen Richards, Q.C., one of the few remaining members of the John Sandfield Macdonald Government, and a well-known legal practitioner in the city, dropped dead yesterday afternoon at the Toronto Ferry Company's shelter on the dock at Centre Island.

Hon. Mr. Richards was a brother of the late Sir W. B. Richards, Chief Justice of Queen's Bench. He was born in Brockville in 1820, was educated in Toronto, called to the bar in 1844, and created a Queen's counsel in 1858. His law practice became extensive and few became better known than he in legal circles. His eminent standing at the bar won for him the Conservative nomination in South Leeds for the Local House in 1861, but he was unsuccessful, and his first return to Parliament was in December, 1867, on the resignation of the then sitting member for Niagara. In that year he was appointed a member of the Executive Council and Commissioner of Crown Lands. The following year he was appointed by the benchers treasurer of the Law Society, of which he was active member.

Upon the defeat of the Sandfield Macdonald administration Mr. Richards practically retired from active politics and resumed his legal practice. He was married shortly before his call to the bar to the daughter of the late Benjamin Chaffey, the contractor. He was a brother of Hon. A. N. Richards, of Victoria, B.C., who was Provincial Attorney-General of the Northwest Territory in 1869, and who served the term of 1875-81 as lieutenant-governor of British Columbia.

Of late years Mr. Richards' health has been fast failing. The last two or three winters he has spent in France, endeavoring to recover his health, but without success. The deceased gentleman was about 70 years of age. He was one of the counsel for the Mowat Government in the celebrated bribery case.

The Feeling in Hawaii.

OTTAWA, Oct. 5.—Mr. T. B. Walker, vice consul for Great Britain at Honolulu, was in the city yesterday on his way back to England. He is a member of a large mercantile firm in Honolulu, and in speaking of sugar cane, which forms the island's principal output, said that 115,000 tons are shipped annually. The United States is their chief market for this and he believes will continue to be for some time. Honolulu also exports, he says, large quantities of fruits. He thinks the revolutionary feeling has died down and that, while they have the best of feeling for the United States, they are tending towards even greater friendship with England.

Association of Architects Convenes.

MONTREAL, Oct. 5.—The Association of Architects of the province are holding annual meeting in the city. The reports of the secretary, the treasurer and the auditors were of a satisfactory nature, showing the association to be in a healthy condition both as to membership and finances. A pleasing feature of the meeting was the presentation of a large photograph of the Montreal members to their confreres in the ancient capital. Two years ago the Quebec architects gave a photograph to their fellow members here, and now their courtesy was fittingly recognized.

An Aged Hamiltonian Dead.

HAMILTON, Oct. 5.—Mr. Robert Lottridge, one of the oldest inhabitants in this part of the province and a descendant of an U. E. loyalist, died at the residence of his son, Mr. J. Lottridge, Bay street north, in the 90th year of his age. He was for many years engaged in the lumber business in East Flamboro township, and was afterwards engaged in the general shoe business, besides running a flour mill in Watertown. He has been retired from business for the past twenty-five years and lived with his son here. He was universally respected by all who knew him.

A BREEZE FROM BRITISH COLUMBIA.

A Letter From a Resident of Smith His Trip from Peterborough to The Pacific.

BELLA BELLA, Aug. 28th, 1894.

Leaving Peterborough on the early train on Wednesday, July 18th, we reached Toronto at 8 o'clock, and after changing cars twice left directly for Owen Sound, travelling through a country similar to Smith. Stopped at Orangeville for lunch, and arrived at Owen Sound about 10 o'clock. At once boarded the steamer Athabaska, but did not sail until the three o'clock express arrived, when we steamed out of the harbour over the calm blue waves of Georgian Bay, over Lake Huron, admiring the Manitoulin Islands. Reaching the Sault we waited for two other steamers to pass the locks ahead of us. So we had time to examine the Canadian canal in process of construction at the present time. Here we felt the heat very oppressive, but passing the locks we were soon in the sparkling waves of Superior, fanned by the gentle breeze from the north, as our steamer ploughed her way onward. Before reaching Fort William a dense fog enveloped us. With difficulty our good ship was guided onward. I suppose, if it had not been for the compass, we might have been sailing yet.

We arrived at Fort William on Tuesday, about 12 o'clock, where we had a few hours. I took the electric car to Port Arthur, four miles and back, calling on Herbert McKibbon, formerly of Smith, but he being absent, I did not see him.

Leaving Fort William again by train, passing through several miles of forest, we were soon out on the open prairie. Farther on we come to farms, with here and there a small house or barn standing alone, looking dreary and bare. It seemed to me it would take a life time to make a home such as we find in Smith.

About four hundred miles from Fort William, we arrive at Winnipeg, where we remained a few hours. Had breakfast, met our cousin, Harry Fitzgerald, looking well and fleshy. He talks of taking a trip back east. Passing on, we arrived at Brandon, which appeared to be a flourishing town on the prairie.

At Regina we parted with a very dear lady friend who was going to reside there.

Then on to Medicine Hat where we stopped for refreshments, ice cream, etc. At Calgary we parted with two more of our friends.

Next morning we wake up to behold a change of scenery.

After a thousand miles of monotonous prairie, mountains began to raise their welcome heads fifty miles or more away to the westward. Entering the mountains at Banff we pass on, admiring the different scenes, rocks of different colours and shapes, snow-cap mountain peaks, sunshine glittering on their icey heads.

We took advantage of the observation car by rising about 4 o'clock in the morning to view, with satisfaction, the superb scenery of mountain and forest.

The C.P.R. has every convenience for travellers. Good lunch rooms, with meals awaiting the arrival of passengers whose appetites have been sharpened by the fresh mountain air. The scenery was most beautiful through the Kicking Horse Pass, winding along the sometimes precipitous banks of Kicking Horse river.

The Albert Canyon and the Spence Bridge, the highest wooden bridge supposed to be in the world were worthy of note.

Reaching Vancouver July 24th, we remained there a short time, but managed to view the most important places by taking the electric car. Taking the steamer Charmer, sailed to Victoria, spending a week viewing this city. Much to see of importance. Their natural park is a beautiful spot, (a lover of nature can admire it) extending over some two or three hundred acres; driving roads along the beach and also through the park. Artificial ponds, with the beautiful bird, the swan, swimming on them, and the tiny stone bridges were worthy of notice. Animals of many kinds are to be seen in their cages.

Esquimalt, usually called, "Squimalt," is some four miles from the city. Reaching the ocean again, a very pleasant place for camping, picnicing, etc. When walking we came to the dock and saw one of the large war ships in dry dock under repair, and the other, "Royal Arthur," anchored close by out on the ocean.

Another place, for a pleasure trip, is as far East. Taking the car again, we came to Oak Bay, a little hotel being there, close by the water, for accommodating travellers. After spending a short visit in Victoria, most pleasantly, we boarded the steamer Danube and sailed north, calling at Vancouver, and proceeded onward, reaching Bella Bella on 3rd day, enjoying our sail very much, owing to fine weather, good company, etc.

Bella Bella is a very nice village, the Indians living in clap-board houses, making a respectable living for their families, taking an active part in church affairs, leading a weekly meeting if called upon. They have the Epworth League meeting among them, having some meetings every night during the week. I will finish this time, telling you that I am enjoying best of health in this good climate, as well as the good British Columbia venison and salmon.

CANADA'S PORTS FOR SHIPPING.

A Board of Trade Conference at St. Johns Advocates This.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Oct. 5.—The conference of Provincial Boards of Trade opened here yesterday with a very large attendance from all the leading points in New Brunswick and President Troop, of the Halifax Board, and E. Curry, of Amherst. After an address of welcome from the president of the St. John board the business of the conference was taken up. The question first considered was the license fees of peddlers and this provoked considerable discussion.

A resolution was moved asking that the Provincial Legislature amend the law governing them and that each licensed peddler shall wear a badge with a number. Mr. McLean, of Toronto, said they had fought the question out and the decision of the Privy Council had shown the Provincial Legislatures had not jurisdiction in the matter. In view of this it was decided to postpone the matter.

The next topic was railway freight rates, and under this heading the Canadian Pacific came in for considerable discussion, the merchants present from non-competitive C. P. R. points claiming that the road has arbitrary rates, which is a source of great grievance to manufacturers and business men. A resolution condemning the rates as arbitrary against Woodstock was carried unanimously. Another resolution was passed condemning the discriminating policy of the Grand Trunk and I. C. R. in freight matters against the northern portion of New Brunswick.

A resolution seeking to adopt standard time provoked a lengthy discussion and was finally defeated.

President Troop, of Halifax, moved a resolution to the effect that it was advisable to form a maritime board of trade. This was carried unanimously and a committee appointed to carry the idea of the resolution into effect.

At the evening session Lieut.-Governor Frazer was present and addressed the convention at some length on the importance of the matters to be considered.

The resolution touching the peddlers was again taken up and passed.

The next subject was the necessity of the importation of Canadian goods through Canadian ports. This brought out a round of speeches and all were of one mind that Canadian goods should not be brought into the country through United States ports, nor should they be shipped from the United States on steamers subsidized by Canada. Resolutions strongly condemning this were passed.

A resolution was also passed in favor of a short credit system.

A scheme was submitted and adopted for the organization of the Maritime Board of Trade. The next meeting is to be held at the call of the president of the Halifax Board.

THE CONDUCTORS ON TRIAL.

Tamblin and Defries, the Toronto Men, Taken to Montreal.

MONTREAL, Oct. 5.—High Constable Bissonnette and Detective Flynn arrived here with the two Grand Trunk conductors who were consigned to Montreal for trial by Judge MacMahon of Toronto on a charge of defrauding the company. The two men were arraigned before Judge Dugas and pleaded not guilty. Messrs. D. Murphy and John Pevey appeared and offered bail for the two prisoners which was accepted by his honor to the amount of $500 each for each, and the prisoners themselves giving $1,000 each as a guarantee. Mr. Donald MacMaster, Q. C., appears as defence for Tamblin, Defries, Stone and Mulligan.

The enquete in the case of the five accused, Tamblin, Defries, Stone, Mulligan and Lewis commenced in the afternoon. Mr. MacMaster announced that he was not ready to proceed, and as a consequence an adjournment was made till to-day. Mr. R. D. McGibbon appeared for William Lewis, one of the five accused, but his client did not appear. Mr. J. N. Greenshields, for the prosecution, then asked that a bench warrant be issued for the defaulting man's arrest if he did not appear. This was granted. In the case of the other four men the bail has been renewed. There is much excitement in railway circles over the arrests and the court room was crowded with conductors and trainmen curious to know the result of the cases.

FRATERNAL ASSESSMENT LIABILITY.

"Can't I get out when I please, and have no liability?"

Most people expect "yes" for an answer to this question, when they say they are members of an assessment insurance society, and begin to think of their responsibilities as such. It is important for them to know that they cannot escape liability; because every member, no matter when he drops out, is liable for any deficiencies that may arise in future, if they were developed during his membership. Here is an instance:

The United Masonic Benefit Association of Missouri was some years ago an active and apparently prosperous assessment concern. It provided no reserve, but offered low rates, cheap insurance, and seemingly hoped that new blood would make up for increasing mortality resulting from increasing age. By and bye its forces began to fall off, not enough "new blood" came in, and the cost of membership ran up in a very uncomfortable way. Presently the healthier lives began to feel their burden pressing heavily and steadily left the ranks, until so few were left in the association that the assessments amounted to $140—one hundred and forty dollars—on each certificate. The remaining members refused to pay such a sum, and the concern failed. But there were unpaid death claims for a large amount due, and the State Superintendent of Insurance thought they ought to be paid. So he began suits at law against individual members to enforce payment of the assessments against them; the court has decided that they must pay. The feelings of those who are thus compelled to pay what they never expected have undergone a change with respect to assessment insurance.

Replying to some enquiries which had been made upon this point of liability, and citing this case illustration of what may be expected in any similiar case which might be pressed to suit, the Insurance Monitor says: "The decision referred to answers our question which has been debated whether the member's liability is limited to sums which he may choose to pay; in, other words, whether he can get out when he pleases without further harm. This he cannot do. Every member, no matter when he may drop out, is liable for any deficiencies which may crop up in future, resulting during his membership. The only safe course for parties that apprehend breakers ahead is to drop their membership before the breakers are reached; and the misfortune of this course is that the faster they drop, the faster the association drives towards the breakers."

There seems to be only one course open for the prudent man who may be determined to avoid possible liability; that is to keep out of such associations entirely and buy his insurance of the regular companies.—Monetary Times.

NO WAR SCARE NOW.

The Cabinet Meeting is Over and Peace is Still Assured.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—The Cabinet Council, so hurriedly called on Tuesday last, met yesterday. Sir William Harcourt, Chancellor of the Exchequer, was the only notable absentee.

It is understood that a perfect agreement was arrived at respecting the plans submitted for the protection of British residents in China. It is announced upon authority that the Cabinet Council, after discussing the state of affairs in China, decided to send troops to that country in order to protect British interests. It is also probable that additional ships will be sent to strengthen the fleet in Chinese waters, under the command of Admiral Freemantle. It is also said that in consequence of the meeting of the Cabinet, the British legation at Pekin will shortly be guarded by British blue jackets and native Indian soldiers.

The Admiralty have ordered to proceed to China the first-class cruiser St. George now at Plymouth, and the second-class cruiser Aeolus from the Mediterranean squadron. The gunboats Redbreast and Pigeon of the East India squadron have also been ordered to Chinese waters. This action is understood to be in accordance with the decision of the cabinet council.

Lord Rosebery has gone to his seat at Dalmeny Park, Linlithgowshire, and the other ministers are returning to the several resorts in the country whence they were summoned.

The newspapers have apparently recovered from the bad scare caused among some of them by the hasty calling of a Cabinet Council. Wednesday's papers apparently seriously apprehended war with France. Now they are unanimous in expressing the opinion that there is not the slightest need of any anxiety as to a serious dispute.

The Daily News says: There is no reason whatever to believe that the alarmist rumors of the last few days were the offspring of any inspiration but that arising from a complete misunderstanding of the actual state of things.

The Standard says: Whatever truth there may be in the rumors, all danger of a rupture, if such had existed, has vanished, thanks to the conciliatory disposition of the French statesmen.

The Telegraph, in an article written in a similar strain to that of the Chronicle, remarks that three of the five ships ordered to China could not possibly arrive there in time to prevent a possible massacre of British subjects nor could a vessel of the type of the first class cruiser St. George be needed merely to keep order at treaty ports. The paper thinks that possibly a further emergency is being provided for.

NEW YORK POLICE SCANDALS.

A Story of Wholesale Corruption as Told by a Witness.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—The star witness of the Senate police investigating committee yesterday was Susan Martin. She kept a cigar store at 86 Allen street when Captain Allaire was in the eleventh precinct and Frank Wilson was his wardman. Wilson, who was independently rich, she said, had resigned and was now in Pennsylvania with his mother. She gave Wilson money, she said, and she cried as she told it. She had given a great deal of money in her time. She had given him jewellery and had furnished a house for him. She kept a disorderly house in the precinct twelve years in one place and Wilson always protected her. She used to give him $25 or $50 every month and gave him $100 at Christmas time. He wanted a diamond ring for his wife and daughter and she gave them to him. She also bought silk dresses for his wife. She bought silverware for his family—water pitcher, goblets and the like, and paid $1,000 for the furniture for his house. She was in his house at 269 Grand street very often. His wife picked out a carpet and the witness paid $300 for it.

"Did his wife know what kind of a house you kept?" asked Senator Bradley bluntly.

"She did," was the answer. "It was his second wife." Wilson was subsequently with Captain Cortright as wardman in the first precinct. She remembered too when Captain McLaughlin took command of the precinct. She had to pay Burns, McLaughlin's wardman, $300 and $50 every month. Burns sent a man to her with a diamond stud, and ordered her to buy the stud for him. She did so and paid $165 for it. She pawned everything she had to buy the stud. The man who sold the stud to her was Solomon "who always hangs around with Silver Dollar Smith," said the witness. Every house in the precinct paid money to the Gerry men, Mrs. Martin said. Other persons told Captain Cross of it. Mr. Goff came down to the time when Captain Cross' wardman, with Agents Finn and Becker, then of the Gerry society, raided the house.

She brought the money and Captain Cross marked the bills. She met Becker and Finn at the corner of Second avenue and Twenty-fourth street, Captain Cross having his men ready to arrest the Gerry men. The witness said that then Captain Cross told her she would have to move. She went to Newark and bought a saloon. She said she saw ex-Wardman Burns at headquarters and that he offered her $25 and a passage to Europe if she would not testify against him. He also promised to return the money she had given him.

"Now, how much money have you given up to the police altogether?"

"Well, for the last twenty years I have given between $8,000 and $10,000."

The woman is entirely destitute now.

DEAR SIRS,—My hair had fallen to such an extent, that I was quite bald all over the top of my head; a friend advised the use of your "Hairene" and I purchased a bottle, which proved very satisfactory. I am now about through with the second, and as a result, have a healthy growth of hair covering my head.

CHESHIRE HOGS.

A Large Breed That Has Come to the Front of Recent Years.

The Poland-China, Chester White, Duroc Jersey, and Cheshire breeds of swine originated in this country. The Cheshire being of comparatively recent introduction, is less known than the other breeds mentioned, except in Central New York. The Cheshires were first bred in Jefferson county, N.Y., by A. C. Clark of Belleville, and shown at the State fair in 1859. Our illustration, says the American Agriculturist, is a portrait of the boar which headed the prize heard in 1879. There has been but little change in the breed except a tendency to breed for a shorter nose and smaller ear. The type is so firmly fixed that the grades are always white, long, and show the characteristics of the full blood. The Cheshire is a long, broad hog, a shape which gives heavy hams and shoulders. Head short in proportion to length of body. Face slightly dished—ears thin, small, erect, and nose straight. The texture of both flesh and bone is fine and compact, hence, though the bones are very small, the animal never breaks down. This fineness of skeleton texture gives the best quality of meat—both lean and fat—being firm and solid, not soft and flabby, like some other breeds. The Cheshires are unequaled in proportion of lean to fat meat. They are said to be the only hogs that will very nearly sink in water. Very few men can correctly guess their live weight, unless aware of their peculiar structure. The feeder of Cheshires can have lean meat only or both fat and lean, as he may prefer. If he wants fat he can get it by longer and heavier feeding, with carbonaceous food. An important quality of the breed is early maturity and rapid growth. At one year some of them will dress five to six hundred pounds. When dressed, their clean white skin looks like satin. The hair is short, fine and thin.

They are very tame and have the least "hoggishness" about them of any breed I have ever handled. One can catch a pig without a club. Sows with their first litters lie quiet while needed assistance is given. The sows are very prolific, averaging from eight to fourteen pigs to a litter, and are generally good milkers. The quiet disposition and vigorous constitution make them easy keepers. For three winters I have wintered the brood sows on raw flat turnips, and 200 pounds of bran each. No other food was given. After pigs are weaned in spring the sows were turned into a swamp pasture, and were not fed until the middle of September. One of them thus summered took the first premium at the county fair in her class, being a most excellent animal.

Look Here.

Do you feel blue and despondent? Do pains rack and tear away at nerve and muscle, and have you been disappointed in finding a remedy that will afford certain and speedy relief? If so, go at once to any drug store and buy a bottle of Polson's Nerviline. Polson's Nerviline never fails to relieve neuralgia, cramps, headache, rheumatism and all internal or external pains. J. B. Carman, druggist, Morrisburg, writes: "All the parties I supply speak very favorable of Nerviline, and always purchase a second lot." Polson's Nerviline is sold in bottles at 25 cents—by all druggists and country dealers everywhere.

Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam cures coughs, colds, asthma, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles.

Another Voice From Smith.

SMITH, July 7, 1892.

I was troubled with a nasty pain in the back and shoulders for a long time, and had tried several remedies without getting any relief. I thought at first it might be my lungs, as the doctor's say such pains are symptoms of lung trouble coming on, but I was induced to try a bottle of Membray's Kidney and Liver Cure, for sale at Tully's Drug Store, and after taking the second dose I was surprised to find the pains all leaving me. It acted like magic. I never knew anything that acted so quick on man or beast before.

ROBERT HALL.

Seasonable and Opportune.

Always forearmed for all the shopping demands of our customers—this store is never behind—the right goods at the right time and at the right prices. October suggest the need of such things as

Underwear, Hosiery and Gloves.

We have too many kinds to attempt any detail, but in addition to the BEST makes in underwear we carry a full line of the celebrated "Health Brand" in all sizes and combinations.

Blankets and Bed Comforters.

The buying of these lines was done with extreme care, as we have an exacting constituency to chose for, who are wide awake judges of qualities and prices. The stock is right and the values correspond.

Along with these we would also mention our new fall selected Shawls, in many sizes, qualities and shapes—very exclusive—and from makers who warrant their goods.

Millinery and Mantles.

Style is everything in these lines. You don't want a last years' hat, or bonnet, or jacket, at any cost, and you won't find one here. You don't even want this season's unless the style is distinctive, and that is just where we excel.

We continue to show full range in all the newest novelties in Dress Goods.

The Drama.

Baird's New York comedy company, which is fulfilling a four night's engagement at Bradburn's opera house, presented the border drama, "My Partner," last night. The play deserved a far better patronage than was accorded it, as the cast of characters was superior to that of many companies that show here at higher prices. This evening a change of bill will be presented, and doubtless a full house will reward the efforts which the company has put forth during the last two evenings.

A Sad Death.

In reference to the recent death of Mrs. J. R. McCrea, formerly of Keene, the Campbellford Herald says:—"The many friends of Mr. J. R. McCrea, druggist of Campbellford, sympathise with him in the loss of his young wife, which sad event took place on the morning of the 27th ult. The deceased was the second daughter of Mr. M. Archie Bryce, of Keene, and came to Campbellford a bride less than eighteen months ago with prospects of long life and happiness. But the providence of God willed it otherwise, for illness soon appeared in the form of consumption and after a lingering illness she slept away to her final rest at the age of 23 years. Her remains were conveyed to Keene and interred in the family burial plot. Many floral offerings were laid upon the coffin from friends who entertained respect and love for the departed."

Arrests in Kingston Expected.

The Grand Trunk Railway authorities claim that they have unearthed one of the largest conspiracies ever engineered on the continent. The way the scheme to defraud the company was worked was this: It is alleged that certain individuals issued forged passes, which were sold by a certain porter at the Queen's Hotel, Montreal. Those who purchased the passes, were told to take the trains on which Conductors ——— or ——— were running. These conductors acknowledged the passes, and turned the passengers over to the Conductors ——— or ——— in the run between this city and Toronto. The condvctors who took up the passes did not turn them in, and the consequence was that it was impossible to discover the crime by comparing the passes with the stubs. If a spotter worked the train he overlooked the passes, thinking them genuine.—News.

A "Roasting" for Margaret L.

The Port Hope Times, in speaking of the presentation of "Tried as by Fire," in Port Hope, Wednesday evening, says:—"The Margaret L. Shepherd Company appeared before a slim audience, in the Opera House, here, last evening, in "Tried as by Fire," the story of Mrs. Shepherd's life. If the story is true, Mrs. Shepherd should be ashamed of it, instead of parading her filthy record for the gratification of the vulgar. There can be no excuse for this outrage against propriety; for the only moral which this play teaches is that if a woman is bold, as well as bad, she can impose successfully on a certain class of the community. Mrs. Shepherd, as an actress, is a failure. She possesses no dramatic talent whatever. Her leading man, Martin Cheworth, can only be described as a ridiculous barn-stormer. The play is without a redeeming feature. Any person who ate it out will certainly be "tried as by fire.

Trade With South Africa

Mr. F. R. Lingham, a Bellevillian, who is doing a large lumber trade in South Africa, has been in Tacoma, Wash., buying lumber for Johannesburg. He is organizing a company of capitalists, who will operate a line of vessels between Tacoma and Delagoa Bay, South Africa. The company will be known as the Puget Sound & Delagoa Bay Navigation Co. There will be in the line six clippers and two others of a different class, and they will make trips every 30 days. The first vessel, the Levenbank, is now in Tacoma taking on a cargo of 2,000,000 feet of lumber.

Protect your Horses.

Don't allow your valuable horses to go without a waterproof cover during the cold wet days of the fall. Be good to them, provide them with one of Kingscotte's strictly waterproof covers, costing only a dollar or two. If you are shipping and receiving goods that are liable to damage from wet, Kingscotte's black oiled canvas waterproof covers "fills the bill,"—nothing better or cheaper. They have no tar in their composition, being an OIL preparation, which keeps them soft and pliable. Awnings taken down and stored in a careful and agreeable manner. An Inviting Programme.

The concert which is to be held in Bradburn's opera house on Tuesday evening Oct. 16, promises to be one of the best which the Peterborough public has had the opportunity of visiting for some time. Regarding Miss Roblin who is to take part the Picton Times says: "Tuesday evening, May 29th, will long be remembered by the large and appreciative audience which gathered in the Quinte opera house on the occasion of Miss Eva N. Roblin's song recital, as one of the happiest evenings they have ever enjoyed. A glance at the programme was sufficient to guarantee the rarest musical and literary evening that could be desired. The highest expectations were more than realized by the perfect manner in which every number of the long and varied programme was rendered. It is needless to make further remark on the several performers assisting Miss Roblin than to say each one scored a marked success. The attraction of the evening was, of course, Miss Roblin, who has lately returned from London, England Miss Roblin from the first completely charmed her most appreciative audience with her magnificent singing and most pleasing manner. Her selections were most happy, and showed the marvellous fulness and compass of her fine soprano voice. Her purity of tone and exquisite vocalization rendered all her songs, which were most varied in character, pleasing in the extreme, and well deserved the enthusiastic applause with which they were received. The hope is entertained that at some future date, not far distant, the citizens of Picton will have the pleasure of hearing Miss Roblin again." Master Wilfred LaRue, a promising young cornetist, and Miss Lilian Burns, a certified pupil of the Toronto College of Music, School of Elocution and Delsarte will also take part.

THE DOMINION VOTERS' LIST.

Under the Dominion Franchise Act many of the citizens entitled to vote have to look sharply after their vote in order to disfranchisement. Under this act the income voter can register on a minimum of $300 income a year, which will include the large majority of money earning citizens as well as a tenant of a property renting for $20 a year.

See that your name is registered on the preliminary lists which are only open till Oct. 15th. Any person wishing to have a vote at the next Dominion election should call at the EXAMINER office, which will be open every evening next week; and there will be an official in waiting provided with the necessary declarations to permit of the applicant being entered upon the preliminary lists preparatory to the final revision.

This especially applies to every citizen who is not a property owner, but can qualify on income or as a wage owner, or who has come to town to reside since the middle of last February.

Bear this in mind and call at the EXAMINER office any evening next week. Remember that no matter how indisputable your qualification, you will not have a vote unless your name is upon the list.

—Gilmour & Co. are laying up one block of logs, numbering about thirty thousand, at Heeley's Falls, and are bringing down their other three blocks, numbering altogether nearly one hundred thousand, to lay them up at the same place. One block is now at Rice Lake, one at Lakefield, and the other at Young's Point. This will put the company in good position for transportation to Trenton and the early commencement of work next spring.

—There is one point of daily newspaper evolution which the morning press never dares to discuss. It is the fact that the great mass of readers have no time to read a morning issue. The evening paper has the best field by all odds; for what doth it profit a man to publish a paper in the morning if the people perversely won't stop their avocations in the forenoon to pursue it? They insist on doing their reading in the evening; hence, they naturally prefer to take the evening paper, containing to-day's news rather than the morning one with yesterday's news.—Toledo Blade.

GALWAY.

From Our Own Correspondent.

On Oct. 1, the Rev. Father O'Connel, P. P., united in the holy bands of matrimony, Mr. Wm. Allen with Miss Aggie McGee, both of this township. The bride, being attired in beautiful cashmere, looked very charming. The groom was ably assisted by Mr. Robert Allen, and the bride by her sister, Miss Lizzie McGee. The services being over they repaired to the residence of Mrs. Ed. Allen, where, after receiving many congratulations, a sumptuous dinner was partaken of.

The bride was made the recipient of a large number of beautiful and valuable presents.

Having spent a very pleasant day the happy couple proceeded to their future abode, where their many friends tender them their sincerest wishes for a happy and prosperous life.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 75c. bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

PALE CHILDREN

With poor appetites and frequent coughs, should be given a few bottles of Campbell's

Skrei Cod Liver Oil.

Doctors recommend it because it is pure and easy to take and to digest.

LADIES! LADIES!

Special Attention.

Ladies, do not be misled by paste-board charts and so-called tailor systems that have a set form of curves and give a box form appearance to all garments; they give the same curve and the same shape for all persons of the same size. We are the original inventors of all seamless garments, and warn all parties not to use them unless using our system, as we will prosecute those that do. We have our Government papers open for public inspection, which prove we are the inventors, so watch out for frauds and copyists. We graduate you with an elegant diploma. We give each scholar for one year free our Paris Fashion Publication, which gives you the latest styles and draftings. Our course is the only complete French course of dress cutting ever given in Canada, and we challenge the world for from $5,000 to $50,000 a side to contest the all-round merits of our system. Those wishing to accept our challenge must deposit their money in the bank, and have the bank notify us of the same and we will at once cover the amount. Satisfaction guaranteed in all cases; 25,000 testimonials of merit on file for public inspection. Our academy in Toronto, No. 467 Yonge street, is the largest and best in Canada.

$10 Reward—We also offer a $10 Reward for the Crow system people to produce for public inspection any patent or copyright or government papers for their seamless garments, as they claim for some years back. Yours truly, Prof. and Mme. O. H. DE LAMORTON & CO., Toronto and New York City, N.Y.

MRS. McCAULLEY, Dress-Maker, No. 126 Brock Street, is our only and only authorized representative in Peterborough for teaching our seamless Garment System.

GERMAN MANTLES.

In this department more than any other do we show the public the advantages derived by BUYING and SELLING for cash, importing as we do direct, sending a buyer twice a year to the LARGEST EUROPEAN MANUFACTURERS, gives us a clear lead of at least 25 per cent. in price, and more than that in style. Always pleased to have you see our goods before you decide where to buy. Looking means buying. In no department does the system of going (as we do) direct to the maker tell as much as in this.

MILLINERY.

Under superior management, with goods in many cases cheaper than the wholesale houses charge, we are not surprised that the wise and prudent leave their orders with us. WALKING HATS, repeat orders to hand. The Fine Wool Felt at less price than you pay elsewhere for Canadian Felt. It is worth your while to call if you have heretofore thought that one place was as good as another.

DRESS GOODS AND SILKS.

We certainly have heard many flattering remarks about our Dress Goods stock, and without any egotism we think them well deserved. This department occupies the FIRST RANK FOR HIGHEST QUALITY; LATEST STYLES AND LOW PRICES; from the lowest Wool Goods to the finest silk. We can show you the finest range of any house in this part of the province.

OUR WINDOWS this week are attractive, well worth looking at. The above departments each take a share in the large window display. We are invariably busy, but with twice the selling space of any store in town, coupled with sufficient light to show goods exactly as they are, and with all the accommodation of any city store, we make everybody welcome.

If you cannot come to see us, send for samples.

THE OUTFALL SEWER TO BE ALL OF BRICK.

The Chief Magistrate Rebuked by Councillors Roger and Sutton.

A special meeting of the town council was held this morning to consider a letter which was received from Contractor Grant to the effect that it was impossible to procure the inverts for the bottom of the sewer for two or three weeks, but that with the permission of the council, he would proceed to build the sewer entirely of brick. This would cost a little more, but the contractor was willing to bear the extra expense if the council would not object to the change.

There were present at the meeting the Mayor, and Councillors Kelly, Sutton, Roger, Best, Cahill, Dawson and Moore. The discussion on "sewer bottoms" was prolonged, if not edifying.

Finally, on motion of Messrs. Mason and Dawson it was resolved "that, subject to the approval of the town solicitor and town engineer, the council assents to the substitution of an all brick sewer, for an invert sewer as contracted for, without extra cost and without prejudice to the contract or the bond or security therefor, Mr. Grant to give the necessary undertaking approved of by the town solicitor."

THUNDER IN THE AIR.

Councillor Rogers took occasion to call the Mayor down for calling these special meetings of the council, without giving the councillors notice of for what purpose the meeting was called. The members of the council, he stated, had been hastily summoned together and asked to decide the gravest matters, at a moment's notice. He thought it strange, that when the changing of the route of the sewer from the centre of the street to the side, that the members of the Street Railway Company, were all present on his arrival at the Council Chamber and knew what was in the wind while he didn't.

A DIRECT CHARGE.

Mr. Sutton openly charged that the council, in thus changing the route of the sewer, was subordinating the town's interests to that of the Street Railway Company. If the sewer was being laid on a side street, upon which the street railway had no rails laid, the sewer, he stated, would undoubtedly be laid in the centre of the roadway.

The matter being aside from the issue then in argument caused the matter to be dropped, though, as Mr. Roger explained, it was worth thousands of dollars to the Street Railway Company to learn that they would not have to temporarily move their tracks until the sewer was laid. In return for this great favour, valuable concessions from the company should have been obtained in the way of arranging to have the street railway track laid down outside the town on the same conditions as they were laid down inside the corporation, that is regarding their temporary removal at any time for the laying of a sewer, etc.

OTONABEE AGRICULTURAL EXHIBITION.

HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL SHOW AT KEENE.

Bad Weather Could Not Defeat the Enterprise of Exhibitors—A Good Show in Spite of Drizzling Rain—Excellent Exhibits in all Departments—Increased Membership and Increased Exhibits.

The annual exhibition of the Otonabee Agricultural Society held at the romantic little village of Keene yesterday was, in spite of the disgusting weather, a great success. For one year the society was dormant and as a result, if not consequence, this year the society came forth like a "giant refreshed with new wine." In the interim the society has made considerable improvements, and it can now boast of having one of the most complete rural exhibition grounds in the county. The grounds have been enlarged by the addition of several acres of land leased from Mr. H. H. Burnham, of Port Hope, for a term of seven years. An excellent one-third mile track has been laid down and this track was in excellent condition before the pouring rain of Wednesday night. As a consequence the track yesterday was sodden and in a heavy condition. The society is quite ambitious in the matter of buildings also. They have an Agricultural Hall, the drill shed devoted to the show of roots and grains; a fine arts hall, the town hall buildings and an elaborate secretary's office—the fine new Independent Foresters' hall, a very complete and comfortable building.

THE AGRICULTURAL EXHIBIT

proper was an excellent one; there was a grand show of grains and roots, the latter being especially praiseworthy, the roots of enormous size and abundant in quantity—a strong testimony to the fertility, and good farming of the banner township of the county. The dairy products were also of high quality. In the department displays of buggies, waggons, cutters, etc., were made by S. Mather, W. T. Mather, and David Hastie.

In the town hall there was a splendid display of ladies' work, not abundant, but of excellent quality. The fine arts were also very creditably represented; some paintings in oil showed very gratifying talent and culture. The domestic department of ladies handiwork was well filled. There was a first class display of fruit, especially apples, and hot house plants and cut flowers were well represented.

UPON THE GROUNDS

were to be found a very fine show of horses in the several classes, and in the matter of horned stock there was a good exhibit. Some fine thoroughbred Durhams were worthy of the admiration they received. There was an uncommonly good collection of swine. Thoroughbred and grade Berkshires and Yorkshires were well represented, and Mr. John Breckenridge showed a Tamworth boar. There was a fine show in the sheep pens of both long and short wools. In the latter class Mr. W. J. Miller and Messrs. Birdsall & Sons, were the largest exhibitors.

A creditable show of poultry was also made, and altogether the exhibit in the live stock department was one, that was worthy of the township.

THE SPEEDING EVENTS.

There was a large crowd to witness these events, which were run off promptly and successfully. The judges were Messrs. W. Rutherford, Chas. Stapleton and Geo. Fitzgerald, while Mr. J. H. Cruikshanks filled the office of time-keeper. The following summaries indicate the results of the races:

NOVELTY RACE.

This was a very amusing event. The horses were to walk once, trot once and gallop once around the ½ of a mile track. This was an easy victory for Elmhirst's horse, which literally "walked" away with the prize according to this summary:

W. Elmhirst	1
Gilbert Howson	2
Jno. Breckenridge	3
W. Elmhirst	4

GREEN TROT.

D Moore's Black Tom	3	3	3

Time, 3.33, 3 30, 3.36.

THE OPEN TROT.

J Elmhirst's Ontario Chief	1	1	1
M Connors' Fred S	2	2	2
H Elmhirst's R J	*	3	3
W Clancy's Mambrino Mitchell	*	dr

* In the first heat "R. J." and "Mambrino Mitchell" trotted a dead heat and in the second "Mambrino" was drawn.

The rain very obligingly held off till the races were concluded.

Upon the grounds were the usual number of interested speculators, and Messrs. Gough Bros. and Grafton & Co. had each a tent containing fine exhibits of their ready made clothing.

The society is to be congratulated upon the success of the exhibition. The gate receipts were over $40 in excess of those of any other year indicating a proportionately large attendance of visitors. The membership of this year is nearly double of that of last year (61 and 119) and the entries were 896 this year, as compared to 604 the last exhibition.

A BIG CHANCE.

For Some Years Back John Riley Did Not Work on his Farm—He Does Now—The Reason Why.

Milverton, Sept. 24th.—John Riley, a farmer living near here, is able to do his farm work right along now, something he could not do for years. The reason was, he had a bad form of kidney disease, which set in about ten years ago, and gradually grew worse. Latterly Mr. Riley was at times unable to lie in bed or stoop to the ground because of his kidney troubles. Now, he can rake hay in the meadows, follow a plough or handle a reaper with any man in the country. The cause of the wonderful change is nothing more than Dodd's Kidney Pills. Four boxes effected a complete cure of Mr. Riley's kidney disease. These pills always cure.

A FRATERNAL VISIT TO MOUNT PLEASANT.

Templars have a Good Time Among Themselves—Cordial Greetings.

Three 'bus loads of the members of City Lodge, No. 404, Independent Order of Good Templars, journeyed out last evening to pay a fraternal visit to Mount Pleasant Lodge.

The heartiness of the welcome which was accorded them surpassed anything in that line ever experienced by the members of City Lodge. The hosts it seems could not do enough for their visitors, and the cordiality of the greeting soon established the members of both lodges on a footing, which enabled them to pass an evening, the pleasure of which will long linger in the memory of all those present.

Upon arrival in the Lodge rooms an address of welcome was made by the Chief Templar, of Mount Pleasant Lodge, to which Mr. Alf. Gould, P. C. T., of City Lodge, responded.

City Lodge took out with it, its best elocutionists, vocalists and instrumentalists and the following programme, which was presented, was received with the greatest enthusiasm:

Selection, mouth organ and autoharp	Mr. T.J. Begley and Miss M. Kindred
Recitation	Miss Brenton
Mouth organ duet	Messrs. Milne and Bradley
Reading	Mr. Barrie
Quartette	Misses T. and E Kindred, and Messrs. J. Anderson and T. J. Begley.
Song	Mr. T. J. Begley
Address	Bro. Smith, W. Chap. Mount Pleasant Lodge
Reading	Miss Emmerson
Mouth organ duet	Messrs. Milne and Bradley
Reading	Mr. A. L. Gould
Song	Mr. T. J. Begley
Reading	Mr. Geo. Munro
Selection, mouth organ and autoharp	Mr. T. J. Begley and Miss M. Kindred

At the conclusion of the literary part of the programme the visitors were invited to partake of a most appetizing supper. After full justice had been done the repast votes of thanks were passed by Mount Pleasant Lodge for the entertainment which had been provided by the visitors and by City Lodge for the cordial manner in which they had been received.

When the members of Mount Pleasant Lodge see fit to return the visit, without doubt, the warmest kind of a welcome will greet the members.

SPRIGHTLY SUMMER SPORTS.

On the Lacrosse Field, the Grease and the Diamond—Triple A. Topics—The Bicycle and Football.

THE TURF.

Chillicothe, Ohio, Oct. 3—The 10,000 persons, who crowded the race grounds to witness the card of special attractions provided for the day's sport, witnessed the breaking of no less than three world's records. First, Flying Jib went against the world's pacing record of 2.01¾, made by Westmont, with running mate at Chicago, ten years ago. The pacer led the runner to the half in 59 secs. flat. Rounding the turn, he kept up close to the three-quarter pole, and shot under the wire in 1.58¾. The last half was made in 59¼ seconds. Another world's record was broken by Onoqua, the game little Iowa trotter. She trotted under the wire in the first heat of the 3-year-old trot in 2.11½, breaking the world's 3-year old trotting record. Still another world's record was broken by Sidmont, who went against time and smashed the 3-year-old stallion pacing record, going the mile in 2.10½, reducing the record made by Brookside a full second. Directly, the champion 2 year-old pacer was driven to beat his record by McDowell, but failed, coming in in 2.09½.

CRICKET.

The match between Lord Hawke's team and the Ontario eleven had to be pronounced a draw, yesterday, at Rosedale, on account of the rain. The visitors were retired for 147 runs, when the Ontarios went to bat, but had follow on, as only 55 was made. A score of 125 for five wickets was then added by the Ontarios, when the wickets had to be drawn.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The members of the Gun Club were called out for a shoot this afternoon.

The Trinity School Rugby team play the town fifteen, on the P. A. A. A. grounds, to-morrow afternoon. A good match may be looked for.

Mr. Geo. Thomas, Belleville's well known dog and bird fancier, was in town this morning and on his return to Belleville took with him a couple of extra fine game cocks, of whose capabilities in the pit he had doubtless heard.

THE EMERALD TRIO COMING.

The Royal Templars Will Hold Meetings all Next Week.

Of the "Emerald Trio," which have been engaged by the local lodge of the Royal Templars to hold nightly meetings under their auspices in the town hall, Ashburnham, all next week, the Lindsay News Item says:—

"The Emerald Trio," J. Parsons Smith, Prof. Morgan, (blind), and his daughter, "Little Fairy," have been holding Gospel temperance meetings during the week to large and attentive audiences, under the auspices of the Lindsay Court Royal Templars of Temperance. Mr. Smith is not only a forcible speaker, handling his subject in as good a style as he did "Jack Ward" in former days, but is a beautiful bass singer, and when combined with the melodious voices of Prof. Morgan and "Little Fairy" is something to be admired by all. "Prohibition Bells" on Monday evening was especially well rendered, and brought forth requests on all sides for other renditions, which was speedily responded to. "The Story of His Life" was one of interest, as his path as a pugilist had been marked out, but fortunately stopped for something more noble, and the Royal Templars have great reason to feel proud of such progressive workers in the temperance cause. The entertainments were brought to a close last evening by a lime-light exhibition, which was enjoyed immensely by those present. Mr. Smith and his company are booked up to Christmas, thus showing high appreciation of their services as a temperance band. 2d

CHEESE MARKETS.

WOODSTOCK, Oct. 3.—There were 3,5[illegible] boxes of cheese offered. Sales: 370 boxes at 10 3-16 to 10½c; 10¼c was freely offered. Next market Oct. 10th.

Brockville, Oct. 4.—There were 1,700 boxes of cheese boarded here to-day, about half white and half coloured; 10⅜c was offered on contract, but none sold. The board adjourned for two weeks.

Listowel, Oct. 4.—At the cheese fair here to-day 31 factories boarded 7,379 boxes, mostly August cheese—no sales—10 5-16c offered; factorymen holding for 10½c and over.

WATERPROOFS

WHEN YOU ARE

Out in the Rain

How fortunate is the man who has a thoroughly Waterproof Coat. Many a time when you have been caught in the fall rains and drenched to the skin, you have made up your mind to invest in a Waterproof the first opportunity—but you have delayed and delayed until you get caught in the same fix again. Don't procrastinate any longer. Let us help you to a good Mackintosh NOW—right on the spur of the moment. The value of a Waterproof Coat is more obvious during October and November when you are likely to be surprised with a downpour every few minutes.

"Tell me not in mournful numbers"
That you can't afford to buy,
For a Waterproof don't cost much.—
Mind you—GOUGH'S are never high.

We Sell the Best Waterproofs

At a dinner —when you have eaten heartily, you should take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Your liver needs the gentle stimulating, as well as invigorating, effect of these tiny, sugar-coated Pellets.

If you feel drowsy, dull, languid, inexpressibly tired or debilitated; if you've no appetite and frequent headaches or dizziness, a furred or coated tongue—it proves that you're bilious. In that case you should carry in your vest-pocket a small sealed vial of these Pellets. They are anti-bilious granules, which act in a prompt and natural way, without griping. So beneficial and lasting is their effect that the makers can afford to guarantee that they will give you satisfaction, or they'll return your money.

THE DAIRY

TESTING MILK.

Some Well Considered and Some Well Answered Questions.

The Farmer's Review contains a condensed stenographic report of the round up Wisconsin farmers' institute that is full of well considered and well answered questions. We quote quite liberally from it. We are impressed with the earnestness of those Wisconsin dairymen and with the fact that they are worthy competitors and that we shall have to bestir ourselves if we would continue to overmatch them:

W. F. Stiles spoke on the value of individual tests in the herd. The salient points of the addresses were brought out in the discussion.

Q.—What size would you recommend for a test?

A.—A man with twenty-five cows should get one with fifteen bottles.

Q.—How soon should a cow be tested?

A.—Test her two years, it would not be fair to judge her by the test the first year.

Q.—Do you find that different milkers have anything to do with the amount of butter fats obtained?

A.—It has been found at the experiment stations that a new milker will not get so much milk at the first, but after the cows get used to him they will come back to their milk.

Q.—Does the morning milk test differ more than the evening milk test?

A.—Not if they are kept under the same conditions. Cows vary greatly from one milking to another.

Q.—Do favorable conditions give the best tests?

A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—Would you discard a 3-year-old heifer if she tested under 3 per cent?

A.—No, sir; I would not.

Q.—Would you discard a first-year heifer that gave the first year 150 pounds of butter?

A.—I think I would not.

Q.—What is your standard of butter fat per day?

A.—A cow should give at least one pound per day, and in time should give one and one half pounds.

Q.—When is the average of fat in the milk most?

A.—When they first come in.

Q.—Will a young or old cow give the most fat?

A.—A cow about four years old. After that there is not much difference.

Q.—Do you know of any means to make a hard milker milk easy?

A.—No, sir; I have never found any.

Q.—Has the period of lactation any effect on the richness of the milk?

A.—Yes, sir; after six months she will give less milk, but richer, as a general thing.

Q.—Are there any milking machines that are practical?

A.—Well, I do not know of any that are being used by dairymen in this country. They have invented some in foreign countries, but they do not take well with Americans.

Q.—Why is it necessary for one to have a Babcock tester; why not churn and weigh the butter?

A.—A man with one cow does not need to, but a man with fifty cows needs a tester.

Mr. Everett—The churn test is incorrect, for it does not show how much butter there is in the milk.

Q.—About how much will a cow increase in the richness of her milk during the period of lactation?

A.—About 1 per cent.

C. L. Hill spoke on the importance of keeping milk records and making tests for fats.

Q.—Mr. Hill, you spoke about one of the best cows in your herd giving the lowest per cent of fat; is that a rule?

A.—No, sir; there is no rule about it.

Q.—Would it not do to weigh the milk once a week, as well as every day?

A.—It might be just as well, but by the daily weighings we get a surer average.

Q.—Do you suppose that if a man goes to the trouble of getting the conveniences for weighing his milk that he would be likely to stop? Would he not rather want to weigh it at every milking?

A.—He would have no desire to stop, because he would be interested in keeping run of his cows.

Mr. Goodrich—A good many people talk about the trouble of weighing milk. I timed my boys one day and found it took twelve seconds to a mess; that is, it took one minute to weigh the milk of five cows, and they could have done it in half the time if they had tried.

Mr. Hill—Well, I think it takes only five minutes a day to weigh the milk of twenty-two cows.

Q.—How many dairymen in this room are weighing the milk of their cows?

Nine hands were raised.

What Is There In This?

The Western Agriculturist calls attention to American discrimination against heifer beef, saying while American butchers discriminate against heifers, English butchers pay one cent per pound more for heifers. One of the largest wholesale butchers in Liverpool, Eng., Mr. Andrew Ross, says: "Out of the 1,500 to 2,000 cattle handled by me weekly 60 per cent. are heifers. The butchers who buy from me will give 12 cents per 14 pounds more for heifers than for steers, as they have less bone and stand more cutting; better roasts being gotten out of them than out of steers."

A Fat Job.

White Wash—Say Moore, I heah yos' struck a fat job?

Moore Eaton—Bet I has! I's brakeman on a watarmillin train, I is.

Didn't Last Long.

Travers.—That last suit of mine is worn out already.

Tailor.—Yes, sir; I heard you say you never paid for your clothes until they were worn out.—Tom Masson, in Clothier & Furnisher.

A Grand Feature

Of Hood's Sarsaparilla is that while it purifies the blood and sends it coursing through the veins full of richness and health, it also imparts new life and vigor to every function of the body. Hence the expression so often heard: "Hood's Sarsaparilla made a new person of me." It overcomes that tired feeling so common now.

Hood's Pills are purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, always reliable and beneficial.

Signs of worms are variable appetite, itching at the nose, etc. Dr. Low's Worm Syrup is the best worm expeller.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

The Best Medicine.

J. O. WILSON, Contractor and Builder, Sulphur Springs, Texas, thus speaks of Ayer's Pills:

"Ayer's Pills are the best medicine I ever tried; and, in my judgment, no better general remedy could be devised. I have used them in my family and recommended them to my friends and employes for more than twenty years. To my certain knowledge, many cases of the following complaints have been completely and by the use of Ayer's Pills alone: Third day chills, dumb ague, bilious fever, sick headache, rheumatism, flux, dyspepsia, constipation, and hard colds. I know that a moderate use of Ayer's Pills, continued for a few days or weeks, as the nature of the complaint required, would be found an absolute cure for the disorders I have named above."

"I have been selling medicine for eight years, and I can safely say that Ayer's Pills give better satisfaction than any other Pill I ever sold."—J. J. Perry, Spottsylvania C. H., Va.

Killed at this early stage, but little trouble is experienced. One of the worst plant pests the farmer has to contend with is the Canada thistle. When once his fields are infested it is next to impossible to circumvent this foe, which, however, in the garden, by constant cultivation, is easily eradicated. Prevent all growth above ground. No thistle root, nor any other perennial root will live long without a chance to breathe through its foliage.

The annual weeds must be conquered by destroying them before they perfect their seeds. Numbered with the most troublesome of these are purslane, chickenweed, wild mustard and the ragweed, here depicted. Everywhere along roadsides may be seen the coarse, dusty foliage and dull green spikes laden with pollen, of the unsightly plant known as ragweed in some sections and as horseweed in others. When growing in situations where it is practicable to run the mower before the flowers are sufficiently advanced to perfect their seeds this will be found to be a good plan. Being an annual, this method when through will destroy the crop for another year. Sheep will eradicate this weed if pastured on the ground infested. In the cut, reproduced from the Prairie Farmer, is shown the flower spikes or ragweed about one-fourth natural size.

As a substitute for patent weeders, Greiner suggests common iron spoons and broken case knives, properly ground to an edge on both sides and bent in the shape of a curve. In fact, any small, sharp-edged tool can be utilized as a hand weeder.

The instrument shown at the top of the second illustration can be made by any blacksmith, using an old spade handle and a piece of wagon spring. To utterly demolish burdock, set this cutter about two inches from the plant at an angle of about 30 deg. from the perpendicular; with the foot press the cutter down far enough to cut the root. Now lift the burdock by the hand from its place and the work for that burdock is done. This instrument and process severs the roots below the crown, and it will sprout again. The blade of the other instrument, shown at bottom, is a wide piece of old wagon spring, twenty inches in length, sharpened at both ends. A block of hard wood, seven inches long, is bolted to center of blade to hold the wooden handle, forty inches in length. With this implement one stroke is required, and one can take out weed roots at a rapid rate.

ITCHING AND PIN WORMS. PILES

No More Misery.

ITCHING PILES is an exceedingly painful and annoying affliction, found alike in the rich and poor, male and female. The principal symptoms are a severe itching, which is worst at night when the sufferer becomes warm in bed. So terrible is the itching that frequently it is impossible to procure sleep. Often the sufferer unconsciously during sleep scratches the parts until they are sore—ulcers and tumors form, excessive moisture is exuded. Females are peculiarly affected from this disease, causing unbearable irritation and trouble. These and every other symptom of Itching Piles or irritation in any part of the body are immediately allayed and quickly cured by Chase's Ointment. It will instantly stop itching, heal the sores and ulcers, dry up the moisture.

OINTMENT

PIN WORMS is an ailment entirely different as to cause than Itching Piles, yet its effects and symptoms are exactly the same. The same intolerable itching; the same creeping, crawling, stinging sensation characterizes both diseases. Chase's Ointment acts like magic. It will at once afford relief from this torment.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE IN THE EXAMINER

TO KEEP HORSES IN CONDITION.

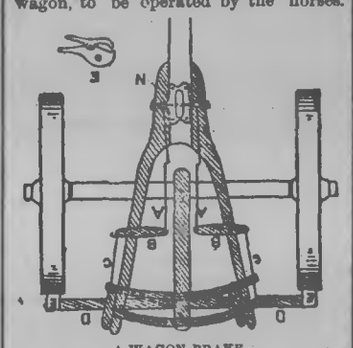
Opinion of a Well-Known Horseman On Different Foods.

Says a well-known horseman in speaking of the food required to keep different horses in condition: "There is a vast difference in horses in respect to the weight of hay necessary to keep them. Some will eat nearly twice as much as others without gaining half the strength or appearing so full of health and vigor. Many of the stables use chaff or chopped hay in preference to the natural article, claiming that by its use horses masticate more thoroughly and waste less.

Oats and beans, together or separately, are often given to horses in hard training. It is seldom, however, that beans are used during the summer months, as the extra stimulus afforded by them is not needed. They should be at least six months old and thoroughly dry. Bran is not a regular article of horse diet, and is only given where a horse is not required to work hard. Although barley is used with advantage in the training of horses in England it is regarded with suspicion in this country. According to the theories of trainers the difference lies in the diverse climates of the two countries. Barley is regarded as very heating, and in a hot climate like this a horse in training cannot bear much more than the legitimate temperature. Corn is not used to any great extent. As a nutritive article it is far behind oats. Carrots, turnips and potatoes are seldom used, as it has been found that this mixture does not answer for the fast work required from race horses. Of the three, carrots are the most relishable as a diet."—Orange Judd Farmer.

A Front Wheel Brake.

The brake illustrated below may easily be rigged up in the workshop and put on the front wheels of the farm wagon, to be operated by the horses.



A WAGON BRAKE.

The tongue is straight at the back end and sides between the hounds, with a slot of five inches for the draw bolt. The two brake rods, A A are fastened to the plate N above the tongue, passing between the axle and sand board to the lever B. This is bolted to the under side of the hounds and connects with the rods C C. These are attached to the brake stick, D D. As the rods A A slide back they pull the brake blocks, E E, against the wheels with a leverage of three to one. It gives pressure enough to hold any load. When backing the wagon the tongue will strike the end of the slot and the blocks roll away or turn back and take the pressure from the wheel. The brake setting the wheel, E, has a hole in the upper portion and it is through this that the brake is fastened to the brake stick.

Plums in the Chicken Yard.

A writer in the Indiana Farmer last fall said: Theories vanish by the side of facts in every vocation. I have, at the present writing, three plum trees loaded with ripening fruit, and two others with not a plum left. The five trees were set on the same kind of ground seven years ago and have had the same culture. The same results have been derived for the past three years the three trees bearing a full crop of sound fruit, and the two a crop of wormy fruit worthless. The three fruiting trees are in the chicken yard; the others outside. The ground in said yard is not plowed, but early in the spring is swept and kept hard and smooth. Under these trees I scatter bran and screenings, and "biddy" does the work of eating the pestiferous insects. While looking for the little seeds and specks of bran she garnishes her food with the spicy curculio. I know this to be true for I have the evidence.

Her Smart Little Sister.

"Are you going to be an old maid now, Ethel?" asked that young lady's 10-year-old sister.

"Why, certainly not, you silly child," she replied. "I shall marry Mr. Spooner, of course."

"But you can't now."

"Why not?"

"Isn't he a bachelor?"

"Yes."

"And he joined the church this morning."

"I know it."

"And he was confirmed."

"I know that also."

"Well, doesn't that make him a confirmed bachelor?" —Toledo Blade.

SEVENTEEN YEARS OF IT.

Charles Schryver had Kidney Disease all This Time and Didn't Know it—How he Found Out and How he was Cured.

TORONTO, Oct. 1.—Sixteen years ago kidney disease attacked Charles Schryver, a bricklayer in this city, but he did not know it. It showed itself in the form of pains in the small of the back. They did not amount so much at first, but kept growing worse. Within the past six years Mr. Schryver has almost every week had to quit work for one or two days on account of their severity. Doctors ascribed them to the liver and other causes and prescribed, but their medicine did no good. Last spring a city physician diagnosed the case as one of diabetes and wanted to prescribe, but Mr. Schryver said:—"No, if its diabetes I'll use Dodd's Kidney Pills, which I know will cure me." They did cure him, too, and to-day Mr. Schryver is free from ache or pain and able to do his day's work, week in and week out, with any man in his trade.

THE DIPPER GOURDS.

HOW THEY CAN BE MADE TO SERVE A NUMBER OF PURPOSES.

Walter H. Garrison Tells How to Make the Most Artistic and Useful Articles Out of These Fence Corner Growths—Three Varieties of Manufactures Illustrated.

The common dipper gourds, whose seeds spring up perennially in the yards and fence corners of hundreds of farms over the country, may be made to serve many useful purposes. The gourd vines which are trained to run up fences and trees or other upright objects usually yield gourds with straight stems; while those which grow window-vine fashion, on the ground, have curved or crooked stems. Either kind may be used to make the useful and serviceable dipper, without which no old-fashioned housekeeper considers her kitchen complete. The best way to make a dipper is to use a tolerably sharp saw and saw off carefully a third of the ball of the gourd, as shown by Fig. 1. The seeds are to be cleaned out and the gourd boiled in water for an hour or more. A little borax or alum should be added.

No better receptacle in which to put garden and other seeds away for next year's use need be desired than good dried gourds, with the stems cut off, and a stopper of soft wood or cork fitted in like the stopper of a bottle. When the end of the stem it neatly sawed or cut off, the seeds or pith should be removed with a wire or sharp stick, and the gourd boiled to toughen it. Before fitting the stopper a cord may be wound around the neck which will prevent any liability to crack when the stopper is put in tight. The neck is dipped in melted wax to keep the cord in place. A loop of cord serves to hang up each gourd on a nail, or they may be placed on upper shelves, as the seeds are put in them, after being well dried. The labels from seed packets may be pasted on the gourds to represent the kind of seeds contained in them, or the names may be printed with pen and ink.

Gourds made into seed receptacles are shown in Fig 2. For saving seeds the small gourds are the best. Larger gourds, with the stems cut off and the seeds removed, make a neat mantle or table ornament, in which small bouquets of flowers or wild grasses may be handsomely arranged. Ornament the gourd with brush and paint, or pen and ink, after your own ideas, and half fill with sand to give weight and put in any pretty flowers or grasses you have and see if the effect is not tasty as well as inexpensive. Gourd bouquet holders are shown in Fig. 3. If desired these holders may be stained any color with the common dyes.—Walter H. Garrison, in Farm and Home.

Seeding for Hay and Pasture.

Many varieties of grass seeds are recommended for seeding for the above purposes. On the open market timothy hay brings the highest price, popular prejudice placing it at the head of all hays. There is, however, says the Orange Judd Farmer, a demand springing up for a good quality of hay made from mixed grasses.

The principal benefit to be derived from the sowing of a mixture composed of such varieties as meadow foxtail, fescues, orchard grass, etc., is their permanency. Where fertility of the soil is kept up by top-dressing they will retain their heavy cropping and excellent pasturing qualities for a number of years. The grasses being early, the hay crop can be cut nearly two weeks ahead of timothy and being fibrous rooted all start quickly so that a heavy second crop or abundant fall pasture is afforded. These grasses can also be pastured without injury, as they do not form a bulb at the base of the stem in the fall as is the case with timothy. Another advantage of these mixed grasses is that by varying the mixture they can be adapted to a variety of soil, from heavy clay, through the various grades of loam to light, sandy soils.

The seeds of these grasses are much lighter than timothy and greater care is necessary in the sowing and not less than three bushel per acre should be sown. To those who have been accustomed to sow timothy this will seem an unusually heavy seeding, but there are more seeds in a half bushel of timothy than in three bushel of such a mixture.

The subject of more hay and better pastures is becoming an extremely important one to the farmers of the eastern states who are unable to compete in grain and corn growing with the vast areas of the western states. With the present low cost of these products caused by overproduction, it is in many cases cheaper to buy than to grow.

ODDS AND ENDS ABOUT WOMEN.

A man can carry a heavier bundle than a woman can carry, but he can't carry so many. If they contain bargains, there is no limit to the number of bundles a woman can carry.—Atchison Globe.

Miss Alice Carson, of Josephine county, Ore., ran against her lover, Jeff Hayes, in that county for superintendent of education. And she defeated him. She was a republican and he was a populist.

TRANSPLANTING LARGE TREES.

An Expert Tells How Preparations Should Be Made for Removal.

Those about to plant trees, and who desire to set out large ones, are often persuaded not to do so by those who believe only small trees thrive. Indeed, to the general observer there can be but one opinion formed from what is seen, which is, that the best results follow the planting of trees of small size. But while this is so, it need not be so. Large trees, if properly prepared, can be planted with as much chance of success as attends the setting of smaller ones. In a general way it is understood that the life of a tree depends upon its roots. Yet how surprising it is that with this knowledge there should be such indifference to the preservation of them when trees are dug up. The life of a transplanted tree, be the specimen large or small, depends on the roots, their number and their vitality. Forest trees, and other ones, which have stood a long time without removal, have but a few thick roots, and when removed it is next to impossible to get but a small portion of them. With small trees there is no trouble in getting nearly all they possess, and this is the only reason why small trees do better than large ones. When this matter is well understood, the one who desires large trees will set himself to work to produce more roots on them before he removes them.

Fortunately, this is not very hard to accomplish. At almost any time of the year the trees can be root-pruned, and the heads shortened in at the same time, which brings about the desired result. I prefer either spring or fall for the work. We will suppose the tree to be a good size, say six inches in diameter. A circle is dug around the tree, a distance of about five feet from the trunk. It is dug deep enough that all the roots are encountered, and all of them are cut off, making a clean cut, not a ragged one. Then the same earth that was thrown out is to be thrown in again, if it be good, but if poor it will be much better to get well-decayed manure and mix with it before filling it in. At the same time prune the tree in well, shortening the branches one-half, cutting them in such a way that will tend to bring about a well-shaped tree. Should this work be done in the spring, the tree would be in a better condition to move the coming fall than it would have been, but it would be still better if left until the fall following. The cutting of the roots is to encourage small ones to form, and this they do, a dozen or more taking the place of every large one which is cut off. I have seen very large fruit trees moved by farmers in this way, as well as hickory and oak trees from the woods. Nursery-grown trees would be no better than forest trees but for the fact that their roots are often cut in transplanting, hence they make quantities of small ones.—Joseph Meehan, in Prairie Farmer.

Badly Injured by a Train.

GUELPH, Oct. 5.—The trainmen of the fast express noticed a man lying beside the track between Guelph and Rockwood. Section men were sent back from Rockwood to bring in the supposed dead body. They found him still alive but probably fatally injured. His name is James Slavin and lives near Rockwood. It is supposed he jumped off a moving train and was struck by it.

RUSSIA'S RULER DYING.

His Health is Much Worse Than Has Been Officially Stated.

BERLIN, Oct. 5.—The Kreuz Zeitung, which generally obtains accurate news of the Russian court, learns that the Czar is in a far worse state of health than has been officially admitted and that his death may be expected within a few weeks. The Czarina, according to this information, has been made fully aware of her husband's condition.

The visit of the Czarewitch to Darmstadt was postponed upon the advice of the Czar's physicians, and the marriage of the Czarewitch to Princess Alix was also postponed upon the same advice. It was rumored that the engagement of the Czarewitch to Princess Alix had been broken, but this is untrue.

It was decided to have the services in Central Music Hall where Prof. Swing preached, on Sunday afternoon.

Her Wise Papa.

She—Papa says that when coming to see me you must not come in a street car any more.

He—Really! Does he expect me to walk all this distance?

She—Of course not. He says all he asks is that you will come in a carriage, hired by the hour.—New York Weekly.

Why He Ran.

Jones—I believe all the electric cars in this country are controlled by foreigners.

Brown—What makes you think so?

Jones—Because they are run by poles.

JEWELRY AND SILVERWARE.

A skull of briar wood with silver cross bones for ornament is a smoker's fancy.

The vine-wreathed claret jugs in engraved glass and silver gilt are the most attractive things of their sort.

Graceful silver tete-a-tete coffee and berry sets festooned with garlands bespeak the hospitality of piazzas and arbors.

Large spoons of silver gilt have stems of raised work inclosing plaques of enamel work. These spoons have broken edges of metal and enamel. These, however, only extend half way around the spoon, leaving the working ends sharp and free.

Belt pins are among the novelties. These are enlarged bib pins, intended to effect a better union between the back of the belt and a woman's skirt. They are covered with raised work or occasionally are set with tiny turquoises and semi-precious stones.

In sports yachting supersedes everything else in things ornamental and symbolic leaves and pennants adorn everything. After all this is an amusement that interests few compared with other sports. Yachtsmen and women, perhaps, have more money to spend in trinkets.

THE RULING MARKETS.

TORONTO, Oct. 5, 1894.

Western barley was dull at Buffalo; 25,000 bushels of No. 2 Canada sold at 65c.

The wheat market in Chicago was active and higher on sales of 315,000 bushels of spring wheat for Buffalo. The close was 1-2c higher. Corn closed strong and 1 1-8c higher. Oats were firm, closing 1-4 to 1-2 higher.

THE FARMERS' MARKET.—The receipts on the street comprised 300 bushels of wheat at 54c for white, 53c for red and 50c for goose, 1,000 bushels of barley at 40 to 45c, 150 bushels of peas at 59 to 60c, and 60c straight for blackeyes, and 1,000 bushels of oats at 30 1-2 to 31c.

In the 40 cars of sheep and lambs on sale at Buffalo were 11 cars Canada lambs. The market was a shade better for these and closed steady with about all sold at $4 to $4.30.

The Treasury gold reserve at Washington is only a few thousand dollars below the $99,000,000 mark, having gained $1,000,000 in the past two days.

In London full details of the Cabinet meeting are not disclosed, but the restoration of confidence is almost complete. Consols recovered most of the fall and also other securities, including Americans. It is believed the position of stocks is materially strengthened by the sharp shake out of weak bulls.

The tone of the New York stock market was distinctly strong. Hardly one active security missed the early movement of recovery. In the second hour, however, a curious attack was made upon the market, attributed, and no doubt rightly, to the strongest and most expert combination of local bear speculators. Sugar certificates and Chicago Gas were particularly strong, and before the day had ended it was plain that the movement against the Grangers was merely a feint to protect the bear's retreat in other quarters. The closing hour was devoted to almost indiscriminate buying by recently aggressive bears.

TURNBULL'S

Our Millinery opening is now over and has been a decided success, and it is very gratifying to be able to state that we never had more visitors or took more orders, which simply shows the fact that our selection of Millinery is very choice and varied. Our turnover in this department is so large that we can afford to buy everything new as it appears each week. Thus our customers are always sure of getting the latest styles and closest prices with us.

MANTLES.

In the Mantle department things are on the move. Our best garments are going out rapidly. We have a large and varied stock and our prices are rock bottom, as we import direct from the manufacturers. We keep the very best qualities of Astrachans and Seal ettes to be made up to order. Any one thinking of buying a cheap Fur Coat should see these Cloths first as they make up more effective, and are twice as durable, and can be made up in any of the new shapes. Our Mantle maker is one the best in the country, turning her work out as well as any tailor.

JOB LINES.

Just received 1500 yards of Dress Tweeds, 48 inches wide, in Fawns, Grays, Myrtles, Browns, Blues, Garnets and Blacks, which we are selling at 15½c a yard. This is one of the biggest bargains that has struck Peterborough this season.

Also 225 yards of fancy Plaids, 40 inches wide, sale price 20c., good value at 30c.

200 yards All Wool Cheviot Cloths, 42 inches wide, at 35c. This is regular 60c goods.

MR. MEREDITH ACCEPTS

He Will Now be Chief Justice of the Court of Common Pleas.

WHITNEY MAY SUCCEED HIM.

The Member for Dundas Spoken Of as the Most Likely One to Lead the Opposition—Mr. Howland's Chances—The Contest in London.

OTTAWA, Oct. 6.—Sir Henry Strong, Chief Justice of Canada, who is Deputy Governor-General, has signed the Order-in-Council which was passed at Thursday's meeting of the Cabinet, appointing Mr. W. R. Meredith, Chief Justice of the Court of Common Pleas of Ontario. The appointment of Mr. Meredith will therefore date from yesterday, when his salary of $8,000 per year will begin. It will take a couple of days before Mr. Meredith's commission is prepared and engrossed, so that it is just probable he will not care to be sworn in until it reaches him. There is, however, nothing to prevent him being sworn in and taking his seat on the bench at once.

Resigns as Toronto's City Solicitor.

TORONTO, Oct. 6.—Mr. Meredith has sent to the city hall his resignation as city solicitor, giving as his reason that he has accepted the position of Chief Justice of the Common Pleas, and that he had telegraphed his acceptance to Ottawa. He thought he would be able to arrange with the Department of Justice at Ottawa for two weeks' time in which to arrange the legal business of the city.

William Ralph Meredith is 54 years of age. He was born on March 31st, 1840. In 1859 he entered Toronto University and in 1861 was called to the bar. He moved to Toronto in 1888 when he replaced the late W. A. Foster, Q.C., in the firm of Foster, Clarke & Bowes. Mr. Meredith was first elected to the Ontario Legislature in 1872, succeeding Sir John Carling, and elected one month before Sir Oliver Mowat was first chosen in Oxford. The member from London was chosen as leader of the Opposition in 1878. A few years ago Mr. Meredith was offered a junior judgeship, but he refused the appointment.

WILLIAM RALPH MEREDITH.

Talking of a Leader.

There are two names that are seriously spoken of by the party as likely members of the Conservative party in the Ontario Legislature to succeed Mr. Meredith as the leader. These are Messrs. J. P. Whitney and O. A. Howland. It is conceded that Mr. Howland would be the choice of the party if he had had a long experience in politics. There are staunch supporters of the Conservative party who do not know Mr. Howland. At his nomination a prominent Tory politician even called into question his orthodoxy, and said he had never heard his name mentioned before in a Tory caucus or a Tory gathering of any kind. Mr. Howland was elected by the largest majority ever given a Conservative candidate in Toronto.

James Pliney Whitney, Q. C., is the member for the county of Dundas. He was born at Williamsburg, Dundas county, in 1843, and was called to the bar in 1876, and was married in the following year. He is a Lieutenant-colonel in the militia reserve. Mr. Whitney was unsuccessful in the general elections of 1886, but was first returned to the Assembly in 1888, the sitting member having lost his seat through bribery by agents. He was re-elected in 1890, and again in 1894. Mr. Whitney has always held a seat near his leader on the front row and is recognized as the strongest remaining member of the past Parliament. There are other prominent Conservatives mentioned, men who would first have to secure a seat in the local Parliament.

Saying a Word for Whitney.

MORRISBURG, Ont., Oct. 6.—The news of W. R. Meredith's retirement from the position of leader of the Opposition in the Ontario Legislature to accept a position on the bench was received here with regret. In that event the not unexpected suggestion that J. P. Whitney, Q.C., M.P.P., Morrisburg, should be his successor, was received here with much general favor by all classes of the community by whom he is held in high esteem. His manly, straightforward course in all matters pertaining to the welfare of his constituents has given him a warm place in their affections. His appointment would meet with much satisfaction in this part of the province and would no doubt result favorably in the interests of the party.

What the 'Tiser Says.

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 6.—The Advertiser (Liberal) says: "With regard to the appointment of Mr. Meredith to one of the most responsible positions in the service of the people, whatever the motive which has induced the Dominion Premier to make it, we have no doubt at all that his large ability, his habits of industry, his splendid memory, will enable the new chief justice to become a most efficient, fair-minded and upright judge. Leaving the past to take care of itself, we feel sure that we but voice the sincere views of the citizens of London when we say that they join with us, irrespective of party, in wishing the new chief justice of the Court of Common Pleas a long and useful career in the high position to which he has been called."

The Contest in London.

During the recent contest in this city Mayor Essery said that Mr. Meredith was the only man in the Conservative ranks whom he would step aside for, and that he had no hesitation in stating that he would prefer the nomination himself next to seeing Mr. Meredith with it. Mayor Essery has never expressed a change of opinion. He will likely be in the field in a few days. The Reformers are anxious to have Mr. Thomas Hobbs in the field again, and they think they can beat the Mayor in a race for Parliamentary honors.

CHINESE IN RETREAT

They Are Leaving Moukden Before the Japanese Arrive.

ARMED COREANS HELP JAPAN

Word From Missionaries at Han Kow Announce Their Safety and That They Fear no Trouble—Uprising in the Province of Mongolia.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—The Central News correspondent in Shanghai telegraphs: "Seventy Japanese transports passed the northeast promontory near Chee-Foo on the morning of October 2. New-Chwang reports are to the effect that the Chinese are in full retreat from Moukden. Ten thousand armed Coreans are receiving Japanese pay."

A despatch to the Morning Post from Shanghai says that several Japanese warships are patrolling the sea near Wei-Hai-Wei with the object of preventing the Chinese from leaving Wei-Hai-Wei or Port Arthur. The warships approach the coast at nightfall and steam away again at dawn.

The Morning Post insists that it is impossible to allow Japan to dictate terms to China without consulting the European powers. The Post discusses America's interest in the questions and concludes that these are purely commercial while Europe's are also political. For the sake of the world's peace, it says, Russia, Germany, France and Great Britain must intervene.

The Japanese Prince Yamashina, who was recently recalled to Japan to assume an important command, is a passenger on the Hamburg-American steamer Augusta Victoria which sailed from Southampton yesterday for New York. Prince Yamashina has been serving in the German navy.

The British missionary society has received a telegram from the missionary station at Han-Kow saying: "We are all well and apprehend no danger."

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6.—J. S. Van Buren, agent of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company at Hong Kong was one of the passengers on the steamer Gaelic which arrived here. Mr. Van Buren says that it is impossible to get trustworthy news of the war at any place in the east. All Chinese news comes by way of Shanghai, and as the government controls the wires all information concerning engagements between the contending forces is garbled to suit the Chinese authorities. The news obtainable at Yokohama is no more satisfactory as it is modified or exaggerated to suit the ideas of the Japanese authorities.

TIEN-TSIN, Oct. 6.—According to reports received here, the Province of Mongolia is in a state of rebellion and troops have been despatched from Pekin to subdue the revolt. There is also said to be grave trouble in the Pekin palace, but full information is lacking. Every precaution is being taken by the residents of Tien-Tsin against a threatened attack by the natives.

Review of American Trade.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—R. G. Dun & Co's. weekly review of trade says the lowest prices ever known for wheat and cotton necessarily imply somewhat restricted consumption of other products. Wheat has touched the lowest point ever known for options and cotton the lowest ever known in any form with the present classification, and the accumulation of stocks in both products is discouraging to purchasers for an advance. Producers are compelled to sell at prices below the ordinary cost of raising crops and in some western states there is also a lamentable failure of the corn crop. Under the circumstances it would be very strange if the demand for manufactured products should be quite as large as in other years. The condition of the industries is in some respects more satisfactory. The boot and shoe trade continues to deliver more goods. The new demand in dry goods is not as large as it has been and in spring goods the market is called remarkably dull.

Shot at Himself and Killed His Wife.

UXBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 6.—Friends of ex-Consul Jaubiard, who shot his young wife and her escort in Chicago last Tuesday, have received letters from him in which he intimates that legal proceedings against him on the grounds of attempted murder are to be dropped and that he will be released from custody. Jaubiard states that the bullet which pierced his wife's side was intended for himself and that his rash act was the product of an unbalanced mind brought on by weeks of terrific mental strain.

THIS IS SIGNIFICANT

The Strongest Section of the British Navy Ordered to Gibraltar.

WHY THE COUNCIL WAS CALLED

The Removal of the Home Defence Gives Rise to the Suspicion That the Sudden Call to the Cabinet Meant More Than Was Given Out.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—Threatened eventualities in the east is the official explanation of the summoning of the emergency cabinet council which on Wednesday plunged all Europe into a veritable war panic. This explanation will not find ready acceptance in the light of such knowledge of the eastern situation as the public possesses. An order issued by the Lords of the Admiralty will be regarded as of vastly greater importance and significance than the announcement which came from official hands after the adjournment of the council. This decree transfers at once the headquarters of the channel fleet from Portsmouth to Gibraltar. In other words the strongest section of the British navy, that designed for the home defence, is suddenly ordered practically to reinforce the British squadron in the Mediterranean.

There are so many explanations possible of this action that in the absence of all definite knowledge it is perhaps useless to speculate.

It is reported from another semi-official source that no issues between France and England are in such an acute stage that they cannot be safely left to diplomacy for adjustment. Yesterday's strange naval order tends to confirm this statement, for although in the event of hostilities between France and England the former power would probably strike the earliest blow against the British Mediterranean fleet, yet Great Britain would never leave her own coast unprotected in order to meet a lesser danger.

There is not even a hint as yet of this sudden and startling tidings which caused the hasty summons of the Cabinet. It is definitely ascertained that all 11 o'clock on Tuesday morning there was nothing in sight to call the Cabinet together until the meeting in the ordinary course, six weeks hence. Five hours later the most urgent messages were sent to the absent Ministers in all directions. The attempt to intercept Harcourt in Paris failed, and none of the messages sent to various points of his journey reached him until he was too far away to get back to London in time.

The Chronicle says: "It is difficult to understand why an act so purely administrative as that of increasing the squadron in Chinese waters could not have been decided without summoning the Cabinet in hot haste from all parts of the United Kingdom and Europe."

Review of Canadian Trade.

MONTREAL, Oct. 6.—There is a moderate activity in general trade at Toronto, favorable reports being received from commercial travellers. Jobbers here report an improved demand from the interior in some lines. Nova Scotia's apple crop is reported exceptionally large and exports from Halifax are heavy. Advices from New Brunswick are that the general business situation on the north shore is improving, with prospects good for lumber operations this season. Bank clearings at Hamilton, Toronto, Montreal and Halifax aggregated $21,248,000, an increase of 18 per cent. compared with last week, but nearly 9 per cent. as compared with the corresponding week one year ago. There are 40 failures reported from the Dominion of Canada this week, compared with 31 last week, 30 a year ago and 36 two years ago.

The Times on Lynching.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—The Times this morning has an editorial on the letters exchanged between Florence Balgarnie, the secretary of the anti-lynch committee, and the governor of Alabama. The Times banters Miss Balgarnie about the "delicious pharisaism" of her letter which, it says, innocently illustrates Lowell's saying, "What's good's all English," etc. In conclusion it says: "While we have little or no sympathy with lynching we have none with the procedure of the anti-lynch committee. The members are doubtless actuated by excellent motives, and probably had not the least suspicion that the letter was likely to be resented as officious impertinence. We should not be surprised if the letter multiplied the number of lynchings."

Wanted to Shake With the Duke.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—As the Duke and Duchess of York were proceeding in a carriage at Leeds to the Yorkshire College, at the opening ceremonies of which they were to be present, a man rushed from the crowd which lined the route to the college buildings and attempted to force his way to the side of the carriage. One of a detachment of Lancers which was acting as escort to the Duke and Duchess struck the man repeatedly with his sword and drove him back to the crowd, where he was taken in charge by the police. The prisoner proved to be an imbecile and it is believed that his action in rushing toward the carriage was prompted solely by a desire to shake hands with the Duke and Duchess.

Preparing a "Bismarck Annual."

BERLIN, Oct. 6.—Dr. Kohl, of Berlin, who is editing Bismarck's speeches, is about to start a "Bismarck Annual." The first volume will appear in November and will contain certain letters that passed between Prince Bismarck and the old Emperor William, King Victor Emmanuel, Prince Georgtchakoff and others, besides a selection of letters in which Prince Bismarck is threatened with violence.

Goodrich's Government Successful.

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., Oct. 6.—The Goodrich Government in Newfoundland, which obtained office through the unseating of the whole Whiteway party for bribery and corruption, is being sustained by the constituents. The Government has now won four seats, being victorious in every district contested.

MR. MEREDITH A JUDGE.

If long and faithful party service is deserving a reward, the services of Mr. Meredith to the Conservative party have been very fittingly recognized by the Dominion Government in appointing the leader of the Opposition to the honourable position of Chief Justice of the Court of Common Pleas. Mr. Meredith is well qualified for the position. He is able, both as a lawyer and advocate. His experience of law making during twenty one years in the Local Legislature should prove valuable to him in his new position, and the uprightness and honesty he has retained through nearly a quarter of a century's practical politics; should give added qualification. Mr. Meredith will find, one would think, great relief, even though his new duties be never so arduous. Entering Parliament and being sworn in the same day as Sir Oliver, Mr. Meredith has ever since been giving a stern chase to the ship of state Ontario with a view of getting a hold on the tiller. That he has failed has not been due so much to his lack of ability as, perhaps, to his having failed at all times to shorten the course by steering straight, and avoiding too frequent tacking, and by not having a crew that could be depended upon to give the help that every leader, no matter how gifted, must to a greater or less extent rely upon. And Mr. Meredith's loss will be felt still further by an Opposition that has been thinned in talent by the loss of such members as Mr. Clancy; Mr. A. F. Wood and Mr. E. F. Clarke. Those who may feel inclined to accuse Mr. Meredith of unchivalrous conduct in deserting the Opposition when it is in extremis, should reflect that he has has held the Opposition together for twenty years, with, considering the circumstances, no small degree of success, and with little encouragement from the electorate that his Opposition leadership would ever merge into the premiership. Mr. Meredith's elevation to the bench will very greatly weaken the Ontario Opposition. It will be weaker because of the withdrawal of by all odds, the best member, because in its ranks there appears to be no man approximately capable of filling Mr. Meredith's position; and also weaker numerically, because it is not probable that an oppositionist will be elected in Mr. Meredith's old constituency, London, where his personal popularity has been so large a factor in securing his repeated return for over a score of years. Mr. Whitney, of Dundas, Mr. Marter, of North Toronto, and Mr. O. A. Howland, of Toronto South, are spoken of as candidates for Mr. Meredith's position as leader; though it is more than doubtful if the genius of any of these gentlemen could modulate the endless De Profundis that has wailed up from the dreary depths of the Opposition benches for twenty years into the long hoped for Te Deum that success would evoke.

A 3 TO THE VOTERS' LIST.

It should be remembered that all declarations for the preliminary revision of the Dominion Voters' Lists must be ready for submission to the revising officer not later than Monday, Oct. 15th, less than two weeks. While attention is being devoted to this it would not be amiss to make efforts to submit declarations in respect of names that should be struck off the lists. In order to assist these objects and to give information as to qualification for the benefit of any who may be in doubt the following summary is given. It is sometimes found after all that has been published that some are still uninformed as to what the qualifications are:

Every person described below who is a British subject and not by any law of the Dominion of Canada disqualified or prevented from voting, is entitled to be placed on the new list, who can qualify under any one of the following descriptions:—

OWNER—of real property in a city valued at $300, in a town at $200; or in villages or parishes at $150. Ownership by a wife will qualify the husband.

TENANT—(or joint tenant or works, lands on shares) of any real property under a lease, renting from $2 a month or $20 per annum; or of land assessed at $300 in cities, $200 in towns, and $150 in other municipalities; and has been in possession for one year and paid one year's rental; or who has paid at least $20 rental within a year preceding; change of tenancy does not disqualify.

OCCUPANTS—Other than owner or tenant (or whose wife is occupant) or real property for at least twelve months, worth $300 in cities, $200 in towns, or $150 elsewhere.

INCOME—Of at least $300 annually in money, or money's worth, or part in both, and has been a resident of Canada within one year preceeding.

FARMER'S SON.—A farmer's son is qualified if the property in value divided will qualify more than the farmer and if more than one son, then the sons are taken in seniority until the qualification is exhausted, home residence being demanded.

OWNER'S SON.—The same principle as of a farmer's son applies to the son of the owner of real estate other than a farm. The sons of a widow qualify in such cases until the value of the property is exhausted, home residence being demanded.

TENANT'S SON.—A tenant's son on a farm of not less than 20 acres, leased for not less than five years, residing with his father for one year preceding; and if more than one son the qualification may be divided until exhausted. "Father" is interpreted to mean living with mother and grandfather or the same relatives "in-law," or "step" relatives.

FISHERMAN.—By reason of such property in boats, etc., valued at $150.

ANNUITANT.—By value of a revenue as such of $100 in money or money's worth.

THE Montreal Star (Independent Conservative) in discussing Mr. Meredith's retirement from the leadership of the Ontario Opposition, says: "When Blake and Mackenzie went to Ottawa long ago, the Liberals brought Sir Oliver Mowat down from the bench to lead the party and the experiment proved a shining success. But it is one thing to invite a man to accept the Premiership vice a leader going to wage a stiffer battle, and quite another to offer a man in snug quarters the leadership of a badly beaten Opposition vice a leader going on the bench. The people of Ontario would be deprived, if Mr. Meredith were to retire, of the oft-referred to comfort of knowing that if Sir Oliver were beaten, fully as good a man stood ready to take his place. They always boast up there that they have a choice between two "goods." Both Mowat and Meredith are able; both are honest beyond suspicion; and both are to be trusted with the strong box of the province. Mr. Meredith's successor may be fully as able and honest as Mr. Meredith himself, but it will take quite a time for him to get as well known as his predecessor along all the concession lines and in all the nooks and crannies of the province."

THE Hamilton Herald, in speaking of Mr. Meredith's elevation to the bench says:—The reason for this has not been any lack of faith in Mr. Meredith's integrity or ability, but because the people of the province as a whole have been satisfied with the purity and excellence of the Mowat administration.

IF Mr. Meredith has failed to persuade the people to give him justice, the Dominion Government has given him justice — and chief justice at that!

THE MODEL WIFE and DIAMOND DYES.

A model wife can realize
Great benefit from Diamond Dyes;
No matter what her family's size,
She dollars saves by Diamond Dyes;
She happy makes her children's lives,
By using often Diamond Dyes;
Her home is bright as cloudless skies,
Because she uses Diamond Dyes:
All other brands she must despise,
When she can choose the Diamond Dyes;
Her faded dress she deftly tries
To renovate with Diamond Dyes;
Her husband coats, vests, pants and ties
Are soon renewed with Diamond Dyes;
At Fair this year she took the prize,
For goods dyed with the Diamond Dyes;
She causes wonder and surprise,
By tinting walls with Diamond Dyes;
She with the artist often vies,
By colouring maps with Diamond Dyes;
She's economical and wise,
T'is comes through using Diamond Dyes;
Good nature sparkles in her eyes.
Because she's helped by Diamond Dyes;
On those grand colours she relies,
She knows the best are Diamond Dyes.

Treachery of African Natives.

LISBON, Oct. 6.—The government is informed that the situation of affairs at Lourenzo Marquez, Delagoa Bay, is growing worse. Chief Matupas' men offered to aid the Portuguese against the Kaffirs and the garrison has great hopes as the result of this assistance. The chiefs arrived at Lourenzo Marquez and were supplied from the Portuguese arsenal. In the morning they all ran away taking their rifles, etc., with them.

The Mormons in Session.

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 6.—The sixty-fifth semi-annual conference of the Mormon Church opened yesterday with a large attendance from all parts of Utah and surrounding states and territories and delegations from Canada and Mexico. It is expected that considerable attention will be paid to politics in so far as the formation of the new state constitution is concerned, but no partisan utterances are looked for.

Caused by One Man's Carelessness.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 6.—In answer to a suit filed in the District Court yesterday Wisdom & Cannon, owners of a saw mill at Pine City, charge that the recent fire which destroyed Hinckley and cost several hundred lives was caused by the carelessness of an employe of Laird & Boyle, who owned a saw mill at Mission Creek. So far as indicated in the paper there is no charge that the fire was maliciously set.

FRATERNAL ASSESSMENT LIABILITY.

"Can't I get out when I please, and have no liability?"

Most people expect "yes" for an answer to this question, when they say they are members of an assessment insurance society, and begin to think of their responsibilities as such. It is important for them to know that they cannot escape liability; because every member, no matter when he drops out, is liable for any deficiencies that may arise in future, if they were developed during his membership. Here is an instance:

The United Masonic Benefit Association of Missouri was some years ago an active and apparently prosperous assessment concern. It provided no reserve, but offered low rates, cheap insurance, and seemingly hoped that new blood would make up for increasing mortality resulting from increasing age. By and bye its forces began to fall off, not enough "new blood" came in, and the cost of membership ran up in a very uncomfortable way. Presently the healthier lives began to feel their burden pressing heavily and steadily left the ranks, until so few were left in the association that the assessments amounted to $140—one hundred and forty dollars—on each certificate. The remaining members refused to pay such a sum, and the concern failed. But there were unpaid death claims for a large amount due, and the State Superintendent of Insurance thought they ought to be paid. So he began suits at law against individual members to enforce payment of the assessments against them; the court has decided that they must pay. The feelings of those who are thus compelled to pay what they never expected have undergone a change with respect to assessment insurance.

Replying to some enquiries which had been made upon this point of liability, and citing this case illustration of what may be expected in any similiar case which might be pressed to suit, the Insurance Monitor says: "The decision referred to answers our question which has been debated whether the member's liability is limited to sums which he may choose to pay; in, other words, whether he can get out when he pleases without further harm. This he cannot do. Every member, no matter when he may drop out, is liable for any deficiencies which may crop up in future, resulting during his membership. The only safe course for parties that apprehend breakers ahead is to drop their membership before the breakers are reached; and the misfortune of this course is that the faster they drop, the faster the association drives towards the breakers."

There seems to be only one course open for the prudent man who may be determined to avoid possible liability; that is to keep out of such associations entirely and buy his insurance of the regular companies.—Monetary Times.

TIMES OF TERROR AND FEAR.

Terrible Misery of a Well-known Toronto Gentleman.

Mr. J. B. Butts Says: "I Am Satisfied Paine's Celery Compound Saved My Life."

J. B. BUTTS, TORONTO, ONT.

Times of terror and fear, of horrible nightmares and dreams, of terrible misery and sufferings!

This is no overdrawn picture; these statements are in no way exaggerated or too darkly painted.

A well known Canadian—a respected citizen of Toronto—was plunged into the slough of despondency and darkness owing to a nervous and broken-down system, indigestion and loss of sleep. Medical skill was invoked without avail and a special patent medicine failed to give relief, although it was recommended.

Providence in its own wise and good way brought to the sufferer that infallible balm of relief—that life-giving and strengthening medicine, Paine's Celery Compound. The wonderful remedy was Mr. Butts' salvation; it was his rescurer and deliverer from the grave.

Mr. J. B. Butts, who was so wonderfully saved from death, is the proprietor of the principal hand laundry in Toronto; his establishment at 309 Spadina avenue, is the busiest of the kind, and the best patronized in the Queen City.

Mr. Butts writes as follows about his sufferings and troubles, his marvellous success with Paine's Celery Compound, and his perfect restoration to health:—

"Two years ago I had a very bad attack of La Grippe which left me with a nervous and broken-down system; I also suffered terribly from indigestion, and insomnia or sleeplessness added to my misery. At night I could not sleep naturally; I was troubled with horrible nightmares and dreams; indeed, my sleeping hours were to me times of terror and fear. I commenced to use a patent medicine for my troubles, but derived little benefit from it. I happened to get one of your books at my house, and after reading about the wonderful cures effected by Paine's Celery Compound, I decided to give it a trial. I procured a bottle and began using it, and within 48 hours I was benefitted. In three months I found myself fully and perfectly restored to health, and had gained 19 pounds in weight.

"I am satisfied Paine's Celery compound saved my life, and that without it, I would not now be alive. I have recommended Paine's Celery Compound to dozens of people, and the results have proved satisfactory in every case. It is without doubt the best remedy in the world."

The Czar's Condition.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 6.—Nothing official concerning the condition of the Czar has been published in this city during the last four days. The newspapers are forbidden to publish any unofficial reports and the members of the Imperial family and household are forbidden to hold any communication on the subject.

Two Italian Laborers Killed.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Oct. 6.—Frank de Churchi and Nicoli Worra, Italian laborers were killed by the caving in of a trench at the west end of Fairfield avenue crossing, where the railroad company is eliminating a grade crossing. The coroner says that sufficient precautions were not taken by the contractor.

A Wealthy Widow Suicides.

MOUNT KISCO, N.Y., Oct. 6.—Mrs. J. E. Butler, a wealthy widow of this place, has committed suicide by shooting. Mrs. Butler was the wife of the confederate general, who died a year ago. It is said she killed herself on account of the waywardness of her son.

Poisoned by Toadstools.

ALTOONA, Pa., Oct. 6.—Mrs. Winifred Smith's son brought home a bunch of toadstools, thinking they were mushrooms. They were cooked, but Mrs. Smith was the only one who ate them. She was soon overcome by the poison and died.

Y. M. C. A. Building Destroyed.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 6.—Fire has destroyed the Y.M.C.A. building. The editorial rooms were temporarily located in the fourth story of the building. Loss, $100,000; partially insured.

Look Here.

Do you feel blue and despondent? Do pains rack and tear away at nerve and muscle, and have you been disappointed in finding a remedy that will afford certain and speedy relief? If so, go at once to any drug store and buy a bottle of Polson's Nerviline. Polson's Nerviline never fails to relieve neuralgia, cramps, headache, rheumatism and all internal or external pains. J. B. Carman, druggist, Morrisburg, writes: "All the parties I supply speak very favorable of Nerviline, and always purchase a second lot." Polson's Nerviline is sold in bottles at 25 cents—by all druggists and country dealers everywhere.

A Steamer's Wheelman Killed.

BUFFALO, Oct. 6.—By a peculiar accident Nicholas Cheever, wheelman on the steamer W. H. Gilbert, lost his wife. The Gilbert was lying at the Lackawanna trestle at the foot of Erie street. Cheever and a fellow sailor were lifting a cover to put it over a hatchway. The other sailor lost his grip and his end fell through the hatch. Cheever hung on to his end and tried to prevent it from falling to the bottom of the hold. But the cover was too heavy for him, and, losing his balance, he followed it through the hatchway. He fell to the bottom of the hold, crushing his skull. Death was almost instantaneous.

Brazil's Abrogation of the Treaty.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—The notification of the abrogation of the reciprocity agreement between Brazil and the United States under the McKinley law which has just been officially received by the State department, says: "I am sure that the cessation of our reciprocity agreement will in no wise affect the commercial relations of our countries, considering that their mutual interests and spirit of cordial friendship now rests on a firmer basis than a written contract."

The Vexed Wool Question.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—The vexed questions arising in connection with the wool schedule of the new tariff bill will be finally settled in the courts. Until January 1 next the position taken by the Board of General Appraisers at New York that the McKinley rate of duty obtain on wool, and that hair of animals is wool, will be followed by the Treasury Department in assessing duties under this schedule. Importers can file their protests and await the decision of the courts.

Great Discoveries.

The astronomer who discovers a new star, the scientist who finds a new face, or the geologist who alights upon a new species of fossil, becomes deservedly famous; but the actual good such discoveries do is nothing when compared to the finding of a medicine which is an infallible cure for certain diseases. Such a discovery was made nearly half a century ago by an Eastern gentleman named Perry Davis, and his preparation is now known to the world as Perry Davis' PAIN-KILLER. It is a sure cure for Diarrhœa, Cramps, Cholera Morbus, Cholera, and indeed, all bowel complaints. 25c. only for Big 2 oz. bottle.

Wash your prints with Wide Awake Soap and notice how the colours are brightened.

For Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, Cramps, Colic, Diarrhœa, Dysentery and Summer Complaint, Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is a prompt, safe and sure cure that has been a popular favorite for over 40 years.

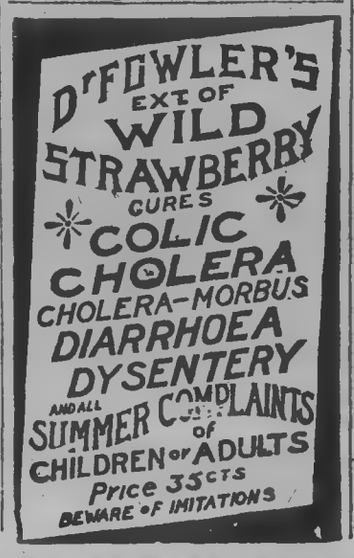
Cruel Death of a Child.

PORT STANLEY, Oct. 6.—Coroner Gustin and Crown Attorney Donahue held an inquest here to inquire into the circumstance attending the death of the infant found on the beach here. Evidence was given by the parties who found the body, and Dr. Mothersill who performed a post-mortem. The opinion was that the child had not been drowned but had been placed on the beach by some parties unknown. The verdict arrived at was that the child had met its death from the hands of some party or parties unknown.

Perry Weinberg Found Guilty.

TORONTO, Oct. 6.—Before the magistrate yesterday Perry Weinberg was found guilty on the charges of stealing two watches left with him by Mrs. Sterne to be repaired and also on two similar charges. As the magistrate was about to deliver judgment Mr. Robinette asked that judgment be not delivered until his worship had looked up some cases in which it would appear that there is no case of larcency, where goods are given voluntarily into the custody of the accused. Sentence will be passed on Monday.

The formula of Ayer's Sarsaparilla is well known to the medical profession, and universally approved. The reputation of the firm guarantees excellence and uniformity in the medicine, and the world's experience for nearly half a century has fully demonstrated its value.



Another of Da Gama's Plots.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—A cable from Buenos Ayres says: "Montevideo advices state that the Brazilian foreign minister announces that he has discovered a plot on the part of Admiral Saldahana da Gama to gain control of the squadron of warships in the Upper Uruguay river. The minister also says he has reliable information that the revolutionists in Rio Grande do Sul, Brazil, have received money from Europe through Selveira Martins.

The Deadly Electricity.

YONKERS, N. Y., Oct. 6.—John Yeager, engineer at the Schuyler Electric Light Works, was killed by a shock of electricity. He was throwing a switch and is thought to have touched both poles at the same time.

THE RULING MARKETS.

TORONTO, Oct. 6, 1894.

The total of available stocks of wheat in the United States and Canada, both coasts, afloat for and in Europe is 1,162,206,000 bushels.

Wheat was unsteady in Chicago, December closing weak while cash was firm. May corn closed unchanged. Oats closed 1-8c lower for May and 1-2c higher for cash.

THE FARMERS' MARKET.—On the street 400 bushels of wheat sold at 53c for white, 53c for red and 50c for goose; 300 bushels of barley changed hands at 42 1-2c to 45c; 150 of peas at 58 1-2c to 59c, and 400 oats at 30 1-2c to 31c. Outside prices remain unchanged.

In Buffalo the barley supply was in even demand. For No. 1 Canada a bid of 62c was made and 66c asked. Quoted: No. 1 western, 60c; No. 2, 58c; sample, 55 to 57c; choice Minnesota, 60 to 61c; state, nominal; Canada, 64 to 66c.

The East Buffalo sheep and lambs market closed the meanest of the season. Good lambs sold $3.40 to $3.70 and several loads unsold.

The London stock markets opened firm but quickly gave way on continental selling accompanied by rumors of the death or critical condition of the Czar. Neither report was confirmed, but the latter statement is generally believed.

ROBERT HALL.

Seasonable and Opportune.

Always forearmed for all the shopping demands of our customers this store is never behind—the right goods at the right time and at the right prices. October suggest the need of such things as

Underwear, Hosiery and Gloves.

We have too many kinds to attempt any detail, but in addition to the BEST makes in underwear we carry a full line of the celebrated "Health Brand" in all sizes and combinations.

Blankets and Bed Comforters.

The buying of these lines was done with extreme care, as we have an exacting constituency to chose for, who are wide awake judges of qualities and prices. The stock is right and the values correspond.

Along with these we would also mention our new fall selected Shawls, in many sizes, qualities and shapes—very exclusive—and from makers who warrant their goods.

Millinery and Mantles.

Style is everything in these lines. You don't want a last years' hat, or bonnet, or jacket, at any cost, and you won't find one here. You don't even want this season's unless the style is distinctive, and that is just where we excel.

We continue to show full range in all the newest novelties in Dress Goods.

ROBERT HALL,

385 George Street.

Daily Examiner.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 6, 1894.

LOCAL NEWS.

St. Luke's Church, Ashburnham.

The fourth sermon of the course on "Religion" will be preached to-morrow evening in St. Luke's church.

Catholic Association.

The annual meeting of the Catholic Association for the election of officers and the transactions of other important business will take place on Monday evening, Oct. 8th, in the rooms of the Association.

Eva N. Roblin Concert.

Tickets may be procured from the members of the Ladies' Aid and at the Peterborough Bookstore, where a plan of the hall may be seen and seats secured for. Concert will take place in the Opera House on the evening of Tuesday, Oct. 10th.

A Boys' Fall Suit at $2.50, or a Man's Overcoat at $12, gives you the best value possible for every cent of your money at Grafton & Co's.

Women's Missionary Society.

The next annual meeting of the Bay of Quinte Branch of the Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist church will be held in Oshawa. The following officers have been elected:—President, Mrs. (Dr.) Carman, Belleville; 1st Vice-President, Mrs. (Rev.) J. C. Wilson, Tweed; 2nd Vice-President, Mrs. Massie, Wallbridge; 3rd Vice-President, Mrs. (Rev.) A. R. Campbell, Hastings.

"Now for the Rubber."

For these are rubber days, and all folks should wear rubber or rainproof coats. We carry full lines for men and boys, of the best English, German and Canadian makes. All sewed seams, with or without capes, and that don't throw off that horrid tarry smell that other kinds have. The prices are a little less than if you get a traveller to import you one as a favour. Gough Bros., the Wonderful Cheap Men.

Harvest Festival.

A harvest festival will be held in the little brick church, Douro, in connection with the Baptist church and Sunday School meeting on Thursday, Oct. 11th. Rev. Mr. Limbert, Lakefield, Rev. H. Symonds, M.A., Ashburnham, Rev. J. E. Trotter, Peterborough, and Rev. C. E. McLeod, Gilmour Memorial church have been invited to be present and deliver addresses. The Lakefield choir and local talent will furnish choice selection of music. All are cordially invited to come, as a profitable and pleasant time may be expected.

Battalion Orders.

HEADQUARTERS,
Peterborough, Oct. 6th, 1894.

Orders by Lieut.-Col. J. Z. Rogers, commanding 57th Battalion, Peterborough Rangers.

The Battalion will parade for drill every Tuesday evening until further orders, for the purpose of preparing for a sham battle on Thanksgiving Day, in which it is expected the cavalry and artillery will participate.

By order,
E. F. MASON, Capt.,
Adjutant 57th Batt.

The fact that Grafton & Co. sell the best clothing in town does not imply that they ask high prices for their clothing.

The White is King.

Telfordian Temperature Topics.

Saturday, Oct. 6.—We will now have it cold, so gentlemen will have to don their overcoats and ladies their furs, as this morning the thermometer indicated 43 degrees above zero, with wind during the day.—THOS. TELFORD.

Out of the Wet.

There was a man in our town,
Possessed of wisdom rare,
He had, with winter coming on,
No Mackintosh to wear.

He read Gough Bros' rainproof ad.,
Then, with all his might and main,
He hustled to "The Great Cheap Men,"
Now, welcome, wind and rain! tf

A Couple of Nice Skins.

A party of school boys got a bear in a fence corner, only half a mile out of Campbellford village, yesterday afternoon, and kept her there, by slinging stones at her, until one of the party procured a gun and brought Mrs. Bruin to the earth. Two cubs escaped. Mr. George Horkins, being in Campbellford, last night, purchased the hide as well as another one. All Campbellford was out after the cubs, last night, but neither of them whs sighted.

The Last Obsequies.

The funeral of the late Mr. Marcus Dean of Bridgenorth, passed through to the Little Lake Cemetery yesterday afternoon and although services were not held in the church, the bell of St. John's was tolled. Rev. J. C. Davidson conducted services at the house and at the grave, and the pall bearers were Messrs. Samuel Clegg, Dr. Poole, Adolphus Dean, L. Fowler, W. B. Kelly, and William Mann—all being relatives of the deceased.

Opera House.

What the Brockville Times of Oct. 4th says about Guy Bros. Minstrels, which appear at Bradburn's Opera House, Friday night next:—"The Guy Bros'. Minstrels were greeted with a bumper house last night, which they richly deserved, for the performance was A 1, in fact better than ever put on before by this well known company of artists." Prices 25, 35, and 50c. Seats now on sale at usual place.

A Narrow Escape.

A upset occurred this afternoon, just this side of the Hunter street bridge. The nut came off one of the wheels of a buggy, and the vehicle turning over on its side, in consequence of the wheel coming off, threw the occupants, an old lady and her daughters, to the ground. By the nervy intervention of Mr. Geo. Armstrong, blacksmith, the horse was prevented from running away. The occupants of the buggy escaped unhurt, with the exception of a general shaking up, and after the nut had been replaced and the vehicle repaired in Mean's blacksmith shop, they were able to proceed to their destination.

Protect your Horses.

Don't allow your valuable horses to go without a waterproof cover during the cold wet days of the fall. Be good to them, provide them with one of Kingscotte's strictly waterproof covers, costing only a dollar or two. If you are shipping and receiving goods that are liable to damage from wet, Kingscotte's black oiled canvas waterproof covers "fills the bill,"—nothing better or cheaper. They have no tar in their composition, being an OIL preparation, which keeps them soft and pliable. Awnings taken down and stored in a careful and agreeable manner. Halls decorated for assemblies, balls and meetings of all kinds. ALF. KINGSCOTTE, tent, sail and awning maker, 344 Water street.

The Late Mrs. John Sim.

Yesterday a brief mention was made of the death after a long illness of Mrs. John Sim, sr., 243 McDonnel Street. Last May the deceased suffered a paralytic seizure, from which she partially recovered, and was able to be about till a couple of months ago, when her health failed seriously. A week ago she took to her bed and remained in an unconscious, and apparently painless, condition, till yesterday, October 5th, when death took place. The deceased lady, whose maiden name was Elizebeth Malcolm, was a native of Stirlingshire, Scotland. She came to Peterborough with her parents in 1842, and has remained ever since a well-known and highly-respected resident. In 1846 she was united in marriage to Mr. John Sim. To this marriage eight children were born, three of whom died in infancy, and David, a much respected citizen, died four or five years ago. The remaining children are Mrs. W. H. Turnbull, of Hartley, Souris district, Man.; Mr. John Sim, Canadian Express Co., Mrs. W. F. Hamilton, town, and Miss Sim, who resides at home. Mrs. Sim was a Presbyterian in religion and a member of St. Paul's Congregation. Her husband still survives at the age of 80 years. The funeral takes place from the family residence, 243 McDonnel street, on Sunday at 3 o'clock.

Bank of Commerce Building.

The new block, chiefly intended as the business home, in Peterborough, of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, is progressing rapidly. The stone work of the first story is up and the steel girders are placed in position. Mr. Jas. Bogue, contractor for the stone work, is advancing the work promptly. Mr. J. J. Hartley, the contractor for the brick work, is pushing his part rapidly. He began the interior brick work for the bank building and for the range of seven shops on Water street, two weeks ago and now has all the partition walls erected for the first story and the steel girders and joists placed in position. West of the bank building there is a 20 foot shop with a five foot stairway admitting to the second and third floors. This shop extends to the rear southward till it meets an extension, giving a separate entrance on Water street. There are seven shops in the block facing on Water street. The sixth and seventh shops are separated by an entrance drive admitting to the stable yards of Mr. R. H. Leary's livery premises. Mr. Hartley has recently built a brick extension of the stables to the north, 26x30 feet to make room for the extension of the southernmost of the Water street range of shops, to the lane in the rear. Mr. Hartley's prompt work is only another example of his reliability as a contractor.

NEWS NUGGETS.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—Additional local matter on eighth page.

—The Government had decided to allow fishing with gill nets for herring during November.

—It costs but 6½ cents per day each to feed the prisoners in the Hastings county gaol at Belleville.

—The Emerald team will sing a couple of selections at the George street church to-morrow morning.

—Mr. Henry Corby, M.P., for West Hastings, has announced that he will not be a candidate at the next election owing to ill health.

—Messrs. Gilmour & Co's. third and fourth drives, the last of the season, have passed through Burleigh and are now in Clear Lake.

—Lakefield's Hunt Club is beginning operations. Where are the Peterborough fox hunters that they do not organize and have weekly runs?

—The rain is by no means unwelcome to the farmers. It will require a great deal more of it to raise the springs to their usual height after the dry summer.

—The appearance of the building occupied by Macdonald's drug store and the Peterborough Music Store is being greatly improved by a coat of paint on the brickwork.

—The "boss" of the sewer construction gang states that, on Monday, he will have a big force of men at work and before the end of the week he expects to have the full complement of workmen engaged.

—A game of Rugby football is in progress this afternoon between the town team and the first fifteen of Trinity College School. The visitors arrived at noon and are registered at the Snowden.

—Quite a number of fishing and hunting parties intend going up to the hunting grounds next week. The intend to fish until the hunting season comes in. It is said that deer are plentiful this season.

—John Wesley Jacobs, of Chemong, landed a lunge yesterday at Buckhorn Narrows which tipped the beam at 28 pounds and measured 51 inches in length. It is now on exhibition at Smith's fish market, Charlotte street.

—The Dickson Co. is building a new dam in its raceway at Lakefield. The diverting of the water from the raceway will deprive the Lakefield residents of the benefit of the electric light for about six weeks, as the power to drive the dynamo was derived from this source.

—A U. S. paper says that Erastus Wiman, since he gave bail and came out of the Tombs, has been kept busy attending to his many enterprises. He is just as active and energetic as formerly, and his friends say he will yet work out of all his financial troubles.

—A social will be given by the young people of Mark street Methodist church, Ashburnham, at the residence of Mrs. Wm. Wand, corner Lake and Robinson streets, on Tuesday evening, 9th of October. Good programme and refreshments. Admission, 15 cents.

—The North Ontario Observer deserves special credit for the "fish" edition, which was issued last week. The tales of bears, etc., which appeared, are pretty hard to swallow. One narrative concerning a chipmunk taking refuge from a dog in a sleeping man's mouth, especially savoured of fish.

—Mrs. Seward wishes to heartily thank the trustees of the George street Methodist church for the free and freely accorded use of the church for the concert in her favour on Oct 5th, those who contributed the programme so generously and all who in any way contributed to a success represented by receipts of $165.30, which is gratefully acknowledged.

—It is said that "music hath charms to soothe the savage breast," but such appears not to have been the case at Rat Portage a short time ago, when Wm. Sharp, jr., Eramosa, tuned up his pipes at the station. There were a number of Indians at the depot disposing of their wares. As soon as they heard the shrill sound of the pipes they looked up in wonderment, and suddenly sprang to their feet and fled.

THE EMERALD TRIO COMING.

The Royal Templars Will Hold Meetings all Next Week.

Of the "Emerald Trio," which have been engaged by the local lodge of the Royal Templars to hold nightly meetings under their auspices in the town hall, Ashburnham, all next week, the Lindsay News Item says:—

"The Emerald Trio," J. Parsons Smith, Prof. Morgan, (blind), and his daughter, "Little Fairy," have been holding Gospel temperance meetings during the week to large and attentive audiences, under the auspices of the Lindsay Court Royal Templars of Temperance. Mr. Smith is not only a forcible speaker, handling his subject in as good a style as he did "Jack Ward" in former days, but is a beautiful bass singer, and when combined with the melodious voices of Prof. Morgan and "Little Fairy" is something to be admired by all. "Prohibition Bells" on Monday evening was especially well rendered, and brought forth requests on all sides for other renditions, which was speedily responded to. "The Story of His Life" was one of interest, as his path as a pugilist had been marked out, but fortunately stopped for something more noble, and the Royal Templars have great reason to feel proud of such progressive workers in the temperance cause. The entertainments were brought to a close last evening by a lime-light exhibition, which was enjoyed immensely by those present. Mr. Smith and his company are booked up to Christmas, thus showing high appreciation of their services as a temperance band. 2d

An Inviting Programme.

A concert, under the auspices of the Ladies Aid, will be held in St. John's South Ward Mission, on Thursday evening, October 11th. The entertainment will consist of a scarf drill by eight little girls and a choice programme of vocal and instrumental music. Admission, fifteen cents.

THREE SPECIAL DEPARTMENTS

—AT—

HALL, GILCHRIST & CO'Y

GERMAN MANTLES.

In this department more than any other do we show the public the advantages derived by BUYING and SELLING for cash, importing as we do direct, sending a buyer twice a year to the LARGEST EUROPEAN MANUFACTURERS, gives us a clear lead of at least 25 per cent. in price, and more than that in style. Always pleased to have you see our goods before you decide where to buy. Looking means buying. In no department does the system of going (as we do) direct to the maker tell as much as in this.

MILLINERY.

Under superior management, with goods in many cases cheaper than the wholesale houses charge, we are not surprised that the wise and prudent leave their orders with us. WALKING HATS, repeat orders to hand. The Fine Wool Felt at less price than you pay elsewhere for Canadian Felt. It is worth your while to call if you have heretofore thought that one place was as good as another.

DRESS GOODS AND SILKS.

We certainly have heard many flattering remarks about our Dress Goods stock, and without any egotism we think them well deserved. This department occupies the FIRST RANK FOR HIGHEST QUALITY, LATEST STYLES AND LOW PRICES; from the lowest Wool Goods to the finest silk. We can show you the finest range of any house in this part of the province.

OUR WINDOWS this week are attractive, well worth looking at. The above departments each take a share in the large window display. We are invariably busy, but with twice the selling space of any store in town, coupled with sufficient light to show goods exactly as they are, and with all the accommodation of any city store, we make everybody welcome.

If you cannot come to see us, send for samples.

RIVER AND LAKE RIPLETS.

Rod, Line and Gun.

From our own Correspondent.

Jubilee summer resort and hunting grounds, Rice Lake, have been closed for the season.

Commodore H. Calcutt will commence building his summer cottage early in the spring, at Junilee. Several other parties anticipate erecting cottages alongside of Mr. Calcutt's, they mostly being Americans from Rochester.

The Canadian Canoe Company will ship in a day or two, three crates of their famous canoes, each crate containing four craft, to their agent in London, England. They also have some few orders for their steam launches.

The steamer Daisy is busily engaged in moving the effects of Mr. D. Michie, from the head of Rice Lake, (Bewdley) to Ashburnham, where he will become a permanent resident.

The steamer Beaver left yesterday with a scow load of bricks, from the yards of Mr. Mark Curtis, town, destined for Gore's Landing.

Jubilee Point, financially speaking, so says the "Commodore," did a flourishing business this season. He states that it will be a paradise for Americans in a few years. He has already allotted plots to our American cousins to locate upon. They will erect cottages early in the spring.

Mr. R. S. Davidson has purchased "Desang Point," Rice Lake, where the old fortifications were erected by the Mohawk and Massassanga Indian tribes, which is directly back of Sugar Island, situated some three miles from Keene. It is famous, on account of there being a battle of the tribes above named on the spot. Mr. Davidson has chosen this spot as a most desirable one upon which to erect a cottage for duck shooting purposes, as well as angling. He will build in the spring.

Mr. Samuel Munroe, manager of the Harwood lumber mills, (Dickson Co., town) has moved to Peterborough for the winter season.

There will be a meeting held at the Maple Leaf hotel, Ashburnham, Tuesday evening to consider and draft a programme for races to be held on the Riverside Park on the afternoon of Thanksgiving Day. Steeplechases from the Park in and about the three islands to the C.P.R. bridge will be a unique race. No doubt it will attract a large gathering.

Old Fisherman—"You didn't fish long this summer?"

Amateur—(tremulously)—"Sharks out there."

Old Fisherman—"Oh! scared the fish did they?"

Amateur—"I didn't wait to see whether the fish were scared or not—mister."

Mr. Wm. White, engineer of the government steamer Empire, Stony Lake, has gone to Toronto to consult Dr. Ryerson for throat trouble. At last accounts he was doing nicely, and his many friends will be pleased to see him about again in a short time.

Mr. Thos. Evans, engineer of the steamer Undine, Stony Lake, is in town on a visit, the boat being tied up for the balance of the season. He is looking well.

Messrs. Harry Neill, "Jay" Gould and Alex. Patterson, while on their way to the Keene fair yesterday, laid low seven rabbits—"not so dusty."

A certain O.L.S. surveyor is engaged in locating some 25 islands in Stony lake. He claims that they must have vacated their last resting places—moving further north—which is very doubtful, so say the old settlers.

A V. S. from town accompanied by his student, were called out to Lakefield the other evening to attend a sick horse, the steed having "Bright's disease." The horse having pulled through they became busily engaged in hauling eels out of the Lakefield race, it being cleared out. The "Vet and the Tobacconist" succeeded in capturing 17 eels all alive in the raceway, while at the same time at the dam they hooked 27 bass, and 3 lunge. They had good luck, while it lasted, but on their way home 'twas amusing to see the reptiles crawling out from under the seat of their buggy and heading for the water. On their arrival home they placed their catch on view, at Mr. Tobe Fitzgerald's livery, Charlotte street, for inspection, at which place they were duly distributed to their many friends.

Blasting below the Lake old dam is considered necessary owing to the logs passing over the apron. By some means or other a huge rock was moved which obstructed the channel thereby causing the logs to jam the sluice. They have a staff of competent hands blasting the shell rock the last day or two.

Mrs. Kearney, of the Lakeview House, Young's Point, has her hands full at present, the house being full of Americans, principally from Rochester, N.Y. They are in all several in number, and at the same time dead game sports at that. They will sojourn at the point until the close of the season. Mrs. Kearney and her handsome table waitresses and also the outer attendants see that their American cousins are properly cared for. She sets a table to tempt every fancy. Their American visitors took two or three snap shots at the dining hall, which is prettily decorated, they particularly fancying the flower stand, which was prettily arranged, at the same time showing the good taste of the Misses Kearney.

Messrs. Alex. Patterson, Harry Neil, Sam Ray, T. Rutherford, "Jay" Gould, Charles Gladman and Jack Stanger were out on a fox hunt yesterday in Monaghan. They succeeded in laying low two of them and had a crack at the third, which disappeared in the thicket and was lost to view, the sports not being able to see it for smoke.

The guests registerd at the Lakeview recently are as follows: Mr. Bryan Harding, Messrs. W. and J. Webster, Rochester, N.Y., and W. H. Boswell, London, Eng. They will remain till the salmon fishing commences, with Mr. T. A. Gordon as guide. At present they are having exceptionally good luck at the Point, having caught in a single day's outing one hundred and seventy-eight pounds of bass alone and ninety-six pounds lunge, the largest bass weighing 4½ lbs., while the lunge went at 23½ lbs. They want to have a crack at the salmon in Long Lake. No doubt they will astonish their friends in Rochester when they return.

The Dickson Co.'s drive is past the Red Mills.

Mr. Wm. McGreggor lost a most valuable spaniel dog the other day, it being plugged with porcupine quills in Oregon, otherwise known as Harvey township. He was compelled to kill him in order that the sufferer be put out of pain.

A terrific tornado passed over Singleton's Dump, Cedar Lake, Sunday morning. The Americans camped there say it was terrible while it lasted. They say it lifted the water some 3 or 4 feet from its natural surface. Mr. Harding and his party, of Rochester, N.Y., registered at the Lake View, summer resort, Youngs Point, state that it was a regular water spout, accompaning a cyclone.

Mr. John McCombs while out trolling yesterday, with his line attached to a 4 foot edging and walking too and fro on the boom timbers at the point snared a monster lunge, which, he states, must have weighed every bit of 30 lbs. He not having a club to kill the monster with after landing it on the boom, did the best he could with the heel of his boot, but the monster broke the line, taking bait and about two feet of the line with him. Mr. McCombs was about to plunge in after him when he conceived the idea that he had disappeared. Wasn't that too bad? Ha! ha! ha!

Mr. E. J. Hartley has for sale a number of decoy ducks, both old and new, of his own manufacture of the various breeds of the feathered tribe, at a moderate price. Duck hunters should see "Edg." before taking their outing.

PERSONAL.

Miss Ella Burnet is visiting friends in Cobourg.

R. Hewson, C.E., of Cobourg, is at the Grand Central.

Mrs. George Hopkins is visiting friends in Campbellford.

Mr. J. C. Sherin, of Lakefield, registered at the Snowden to-day.

Messrs. Joseph P. and James McNeil, of Keene, are at the Snowden.

Mr. Sheldrake of Lakefield, was in town to-day, and registered at the Oriental.

Rev. W. C. Beer, Peterborough, made the Guide a call to-day.—Port Hope Guide.

Mrs. D. Costello is paying a visit at the residence of Mr. C. Young, of Young's Point.

Mrs. Downer, of Toronto, is home on a visit to her mother, Mrs. Allen, Water street.

Miss Buchanan and Miss Tenie Buchanan, of Campbellford, were in town this morning.

Mrs. A. E. Edmonds, of Detroit, is home on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cowle, 219 Simcoe street.

Mr. G. W. Mulligan, Peterborough, was in the village Monday looking up prospects for starting a singing class in this place.—Lakefield News.

Mr. William Nelson, of the Bank of Ontario, who was suddenly stricken down with a heavy cold and an attack of fever, is on a fair road to recovery.

Col. D. E. Sloan, Mrs. Race and maid, of New York, passed through yesterday on their way home from a summer passed up in the region of the back lakes.

Mr. Wm. Wand, Lake street, Ashburnham, who has been absent on a trip to the old country for the benefit of his health, is expected home the latter part of this month.

Mr. Geo. Davidson's many friends will be pleased to learn that he is rapidly getting over the effects of the severe attack of typhoid fever from which he has been suffering. He will be able to get up for the first time to-morrow.

Mr. A. M. McDonald, James street Baptist church, Hamilton, will give a reading in the Central Park, to-morrow afternoon. As he is blind, he will read raised type, from the Douay and King James version. No collection. All are cordially invited.

The condition of Mrs. Joseph Fisher, of Baillieboro, has become sufficiently favourable to enable her to be removed from the residence of Mrs. Samuel White to that of her sister, Mrs. Knox. It will be remembered that Mrs. Fisher was the victim of a runaway accident which occurred last week.

HOSPITAL NOTES.

A Few Newsy Briefs Concerning What is going on at the Nicholls' Hospital.

The private wards in the hospital have recently been supplied with white enamelled iron bedsteads. Six were purchased in all.

Much to the gratification of the hospital authorities, Mr. James Harper is beginning to show signs of improvement. He is also gaining in flesh.

During the week Doctors Halliday and Greer performed an operation for appendicitis most successfully.

The isolation wards of the hospital have now only three inmates. All are suffering from attacks of diphtheria, and all are represented to be convalescent. Two of the three are from Lakefield, and the third is a Peterborough boy.

Mr. Alex. McFee, of Iowa, who has been spending a few weeks in the country, looking up old friends, and who was taken ill with a bad attack of asthma, when passing through on his way out West again, is at the hospital. He is now suffering from pneumonia and, being troubled with a heart affection also, is in a very precarious condition. Mrs. McFee has arrived from Iowa and is in attendance at the bedside of her husband, as is his sister Mrs. Robert J. Gray, of Oshawa.

It has been finally decided that the graduation exercises will take place on Wednesday, October 17th, in the Oddfellow's Hall. The programme, as far as is now known, promises to be a most delightful one. Miss Pauline Sheak and Miss Moore Kelly, both of Toronto, have each signified their willingness to assist in making the musical part of the programme a success.

Miss Edith Johnston, who is attending the Nicholls Hospital, Peterborough, expresses her delight in her chosen profession. It is her intention to graduate in medicine as well.—Belleville Intelligencer. The arrival of Miss Johnson makes up the full complement of nurses for the ensuing year.

There are now eleven typhoid patients in the hospital, but all are considered to be past the critical stage and on the way to recovery.

The members of the graduating class have for some time been kept busy sewing on a work of no inconsiderable magnitude. For weeks past all their resources have been brought to bear in order that the work might be completed ere their departure. A few days ago the result of their labours became apparent when, through the medium of Her Majesty's mails, there appeared in a down town office a garment of wearing apparel of the daintiest possible material (?) and finished off to perfection with frills and furbelows (whatever they are). Everything was completed, even down to the beautifully embroidered (?) "legend" in the lower left hand corner, which last, be it said, is "quite the latest." Only those intimate with hospital life could understand the wonderful construction of this work of art. The recipient desires to express through these columns his deep and heartfelt (?) appreciation of the motives which induced the graduating class to bestow upon him such a mark of their favour. Although the gift is at present more ornamental than useful, he ventures to express the hope that some day these to terms may be used in conjunction in reference to the said garment.

THE PREACHER'S TRIAL.

AN INTERESTING CHAT WITH THE REV. W. J. CHAPIN.

In the Strain of Pulpit Labour he Had Overdrawn His Health Account—How he Met the Crisis and Returned to His Duties With Renewed Health.

From the Springfield, Ill., Journal.

In the pretty village of Chatham, Ill., there lives a Baptist divine whose snow white hair is the one outward sign that he has encroached upon the days beyond the allotted three score years and ten. His clear eye, keen mental faculties and magnificent physique all bear witness to a life well spent. This pioneer in God's eternal vineyard is Rev. W. J. Chapin, whose 72 years are crowded with noble deeds in the Christian ministry.

To a Journal representative who asked him something of his career in the ministry, Mr. Chapin talked in an interesting strain, and said that in spite of the indications to the contrary, his life had not been all sunshine and good health.

"As my present appearance testifies, I was fortunate in the possession of a very vigorous constitution. But as is too often the case I overestimated my physical resources, and when it was too late learned that I had over drawn my health account. The crisis came about 18 years ago. At the time I was preaching the gospel from the pulpit, and I became suddenly so ill that I was compelled to stop before my sermon was finished. It was a bad case of nervous prostration, and for a time my friends were greatly exercised over my condition. Complete rest was imperative and Mrs. Chapin and I planned and took a long trip. My health was sufficiently restored to resume work, but I was not the same man. I felt absolutely worthless physically and mentally. I had so lost control of my muscles that my fingers would involuntarily release their grip upon a pen, and my hand would turn over with absolutely no volition on my part. About two years ago, to intensify matters, I was seized with a severe attack of la grippe. I recovered only partially from it and had frequent returns of that indescribable feeling which accompanies and follows that strange malady. I looked in vain for something to bring relief and finally I read an account of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Something seemed to tell me that they would do me good and I commenced using them. They gave me additional strength from the start and toned up my system from a condition of almost absolute prostration so that I was able again to resume my duties as a minister. The improvement was simply marvellous and the credit is due Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Mrs. Chapin was present during the conversation and said: "I don't think Mr. Chapin could ever have resumed his preaching after he had the attack of la grippe had it not been for Pink Pills. They did him so much good that I decided to try their efficacy on myself. I had been troubled for years with what our physician, Dr. Hewitt, called rheumatic paralysis, and since taking the Pink Pills I have been stronger and the pain in my right arm and hand is less acute. We keep the pills in the house all the time, and they do me a great deal of good in the way of toning up my system and strengthening me.

In all cases like the above Pink Pills offer a speedy and certain cure. They act directly upon the blood and nerves. Sold by all dealers or sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of 50 cents a box, or $2.50 for six boxes, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., or Schnectady, N.Y. Beware of substitutes and nostrums alleged to be "just as good."

Acquitted of a Serious Charge.

TORONTO, Oct. 6.—N. W. Prittle, a prominet citizen, who was on trial at the sessions on a charge of arson in connection with the burning of his house, was yesterday morning found not guilty oy the jury after a short retirement. Mr. Prittie's house was heavily insured and contained much valuable furniture and numerous costly paintings; also insured. The case lasted two days, but Pritti clearly proved an alibi.

Nipissing Enters Dominion Politics.

NORTH BAY, Ont., Oct. 6.—The first Liberal-Conservative convention ever held in Nipissing for Dominion election purposes is being held here. This district is not yet represented in Parliament, but the last redistribution bill entitles it to vote for a member at the next general election and it is to choose a candidate to carry the Conservative banner then that this convention is being held.

Whitby, April 20th, 1894.
Dr. Andrew Grant & Co., Toronto.

DEAR SIRS,—My hair had fallen to such an extent, that I was quite bald all over the top of my head, a friend advised the use of your "Hairene" and I purchased a bottle, which proved very satisfactory. I am now about through with the second, and as a result, have a healthy growth of hair covering my head.

YANKEE GAS MEN ALARMED.

Canadian Companies Are Proving Formidable Rivals to Americans.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—The importation of natural gas from Canada into the United States is assuming such proportions on the northern frontier as to call serious attention to the rivalry thus occasioned between Canadian companies and companies supplying cities with illuminating gas from wells in the United States. The Treasury Department, when appealed to protect American gas in the case of a Canadian company which brought natural gas into Buffalo by means of a pipe line, at first placed a duty of 20 per cent. ad valorem upon it as a mineral product. Subsequently this duty was, by decision, reduced to 10 per cent. ad valorem, and the latest ruling on the subject by the Treasury Department is that the Canadian gas is free as an unenumerated unmanufactured article.

"Jack the Hugger" Remanded.

WINDSOR, Oct. 6.—"Hugger" William Marshall was brought into the police court yesterday. T. M. Morton, appeared for him and wanted him discharged as Bertha Mitchell, the young lady whom he hugged on Goyeau street, did not appear against him. Bertha and a companion were in the chief's private office. She is a handsome brunette, 22 years of age. She refused to appear before the curious crowd of court loungers. Magistrate Bartlett said that Miss Dixon, who was struck a violent blow while on Ouellette avenue two weeks ago by a man whose description corresponded to Marshall's, was lying seriously ill from injuries caused by the blow. The attending physician regards her entire recovery as doubtful. Marshall was remanded till next Friday.

They Were Captain McNeale's Remains.

HALIFAX, Oct. 6.—Col. Hamilton and the officers of King's Regiment are morally certain that the remains interred at Fort Massey cemetery are those of Captain Neil McNeale. They say only one officer of King's Regiment was killed at York. The buttons found on the remains are undoubtedly those of an officer of King's. As there was only one officer of the regiment killed they take it for granted the remains in question must be those of McNeale. Colonel Hamilton received several communications from Rev. Dr. Scadding, Toronto, but after making inquiries into the matter his opinion is that the doctor must be mistaken.

Robbed at the Point of the Revolver.

UTICA, Mich., Oct. 6.—Two masked men entered the house of Samuel Hotchkiss, a wealthy farmer, and at the point of a revolver held the entire family up. Hotchkiss made some show of resistance, and was struck on the head with a club and fatally wounded. The men then ransacked the house, securing $50 in cash and a large amount of jewellery.

Bank Robbers Get a Big Haul.

BLOOMFIELD, Ind., Oct. 6.—After a desperate fight near here, in which one of the Bloomfield bank robbers was shot, the three men who got away with $5,000 of the bank's money were run down. The wounded robber, who gave the name of Charles Rivers, of Indianapolis, was taken to Swiss City. He had $1,500 of the money on his person. He will die.

Another Voice From Smith.

SMITH, July 7, 1892.
I was troubled with a nasty pain in the back and shoulders for a long time, and had tried several remedies without getting any relief. I thought at first it might be my lungs, as the doctor's say such pains are symptoms of lung trouble coming on, but I was induced to try a bottle of Membray's Kidney and Liver Cure, for sale at Tully's Drug Store, and after taking the second dose I was surprised to find the pains all leaving me. It acted like magic. I never knew anything that acted so quick on man or beast before.

The Best Medicine.

J. O. WILSON, Contractor and Builder, Sulphur Springs, Texas, thus speaks of Ayer's Pills:

"Ayer's Pills are the best medicine I ever tried; and, in my judgment, no better general remedy could be devised. I have used them in my family and recommended them to my friends and employes for more than twenty years. To my certain knowledge, many cases of the following complaints have been completely and by the use of Ayer's Pills alone: Third day chills, dumb ague, bilious fever, sick headache, rheumatism, flux, dyspepsia, constipation, and hard colds. I know that a moderate use of Ayer's Pills, continued for a few days or weeks, as the nature of the complaint required, would be found an absolute cure for the disorders I have named above."

Permanently Cured

"I have been selling medicine for eight years, and I can safely say that Ayer's Pills give better satisfaction than any other Pill I ever sold."—J. J. Perry, Spottsylvania C. H., Va.

Arrangements can be made for reduced rates for excursion parties of 25 to 50 by regular trips. For large excursions, the barge "Chemong" can be engaged.

From Chemong to Bobcaygeon is one of the most charming trips in the country, passing through Chemong and Pigeon Lakes, by the Indian Village and Oak Orchard, and winding among the Islands and bays of the Narrows.

A new hotel has recently been erected at Jacob's Island, Pigeon Lake, in one of the most beautiful spots on our back waters in the midst of the finest fishing grounds; the steamer passing four times each day gives tourists an excellent opportunity to visit Peterborough and Bobcaygeon.

Family tickets and season books, for steamer only, can be procured from the Captain on board, at A. F. Bottom's hardware store, Bobcaygeon, or of the G.T.R. Agent, Peterborough, and at the Peterborough Bookstore.

Device for Feeding Sheep.

The old-fashioned sheep pens gave the lambs free access to the feeding racks, and generally from thence to the barn floor, in both of which situations they managed to soil a good deal of feed, and to afford no little inconvenience to the owner. The device shown herewith consists of narrow little doors, one for each sheep in the pen, through which only their heads can protrude. The doors are all opened and shut with one movement of the hand, and when shut can be fastened with a single movement. Each feed can be placed in position before the doors are opened, so that all can begin to eat at the same time, while no heads have been in the way of the feeder. The doors may be closed "between meals."—American Agriculturist.

A Fact in Feeding.

No man can starve a young animal even for a week and make up for it later. Time lost in that way is lost forever and worse than lost, for when an animal starts to run down it costs an extra effort to overcome that tendency and get a start the other way. The animal can only make use of a certain amount of food anyway and there is no possibility of making up what is lost by failing to supply this all the time. Men who keep young stock just alive on rough fodder through the winter for the growth that they will make the next summer should be able to see that the summer's growth could be added just as well and much cheaper if the animals had been kept growing all winter.

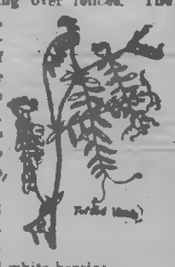
Some Common Weeds.

The climbing poison ivy climbs by tendrils, ascending trees as high as forty to fifty feet, or climbing over fences. The stem is quite woody, and sometimes attains a thickness of two inches. Some confound this with the Virginia creeper, but the leaf clusters of the latter have five leaflets, while this has only three, much wider and more oval in outline. Flowers greenish, and fruit in dull white berries.



Views differ regarding the way in which the poison from these plants is communicated. Some maintain that actual contact is necessary; others that it is given off from the leaves during sunshine when wet by dew; some attribute it to the pollen, and others say that the plant gives off a gaseous vapor. Persons affected show redness about the eyelids, ears and throat. These parts soon show inflamed blotches rising in blisters, the whole face becomes so swollen that sometimes blindness is produced for days. In some cases the poison spreads over the arms and other parts of the body, and the patient suffers with fever and headache, or even becomes delerious. It is not uncommon for those once affected to experience attacks from year to year without coming in contact with the plant again. Remedies: (1) Apply a strong solution of bi-carbonate of soda (baking soda) to the pustules as soon as seen. This is highly recommended. (2) Bathe affected parts with sulphate of soda (glauber salts). (3) Rub on a lather made from common potash soap with a shaving brush. (4) Make a paste of sweet cream and gunpowder and apply three times daily to the eruption with a soft feather. This remedy is unfailing and gives relief in a few applications.

The pictures in this article are members of the Legumminosæ (Pulse Family), an order of great economic value, supplying us with valuable plants such as beans, peas, clover, etc. The flowers are irregular and in some respects present a resemblance to a butterfly. There are usually ten stamens, nine united in a sort of tube, the remaining one detached from the rest; the seeds are generally borne in pod-like structures. The last cut represents the wild carrot, a biennial which grows 2.4 feet high and resembles a carrot in many respects. Our common carrot is this naturalized; but as a weed this species has become a great nuisance. Hand pulling and destroying as fast as it produces flowers will be effective. Cutting well below the surface should also be successful.—Prof. Panton, O.A.C.

Forestry in Baden.

The general law of forestry is laid down as follows in the forest laws of the Duchy of Baden: The forests are to be so cultivated by the cutting down and removal of old large trees that, without loss of time, a young forest can take their place.

SEVENTEEN YEARS OF IT.

Charles Schryver had Kidney Disease all This Time and Didn't Know it—How he Found Out and How he was Cured.

TORONTO, Oct. 1.—Sixteen years ago kidney disease attacked Charles Schryver, a bricklayer in this city, but he did not know it. It showed itself in the form of pains in the small of the back. They did not amount so much at first, but kept growing worse. Within the past six years Mr. Schryver has almost every week had to quit work for one or two days on account of their severity. Doctors ascribed them to the liver and other causes and prescribed, but their medicine did no good. Last spring a city physician diagnosed the case as one of diabetes and wanted to prescribe, but Mr. Schryver said:—"No, if its diabetes I'll use Dodd's Kidney Pills, which I know will cure me." They did cure him, too, and to-day Mr. Schryver is free from ache or pain and able to do his day's work, week in and week out, with any man in his trade.

THE ANNUAL REPORT OF THE COUNTY GAOL.

INTERESTING STATISTICS.

A Detailed Statement Concerning the Criminals Who Have Been Jailed and a Few Remarks Thereon.

Appended will be found the annual report of the county gaol for the year ending September 30th, 1894, and by perusing it some interesting facts will become apparent.

The effects of a sojourn up on the hill with Gaoler Nesbitt evidently has a salutary effect on those committed, as of the 168 prisoners last year it will be seen that 104 were in for the first time, 29 for the second and 12 for the third.

The county has evidently been comparatively free of crime of any very heinous nature as only in one case has a commital to the penitentiary for a term of over three years occurred.

The vexed question as to whether or not should be once and for all settled by the appended statistics which show that, of the 168 committals, 34 of the prisoners were married while 134 were unmarried.

Ten of the 22 women who were committen were uneducated, being unable to either read or write, and 22 of the 146 men were of the same class. This is a bad showing for the men, as only one seventh of them can put forward the plea of ignorance as an extenuation of their guilt. Whereas, almost one half of the women can urge a similar excuse.

Sir Oliver's saying, that so much crime could be attributed to the influences of drink, falls rather flat when confronted with the Peterborough County Gaol figures, which show that out of the 168 committals only 62 were reported as intemperate. One fact, however, qualifies these figures and casts a doubt as to their authenticity and that is that upon the prisoner himself rests the responsibility of his classification. Few prisoners, indeed, upon being catechised would be straightforward enough to about such a matter and when 106 out of 168 supposed felons, claim to be temperate it goes a long way to prove the good standing which a temperate man enjoys.

By far the greater majority of those committed must have come from the common walks of life and have been of an extremely poor class, as only one printer got into trouble. The washerwomen are evidently a hard lot, as no less than seven were up on the hill. Gaoler Nesbitt could have easily bought all his meat by the quarter, as he had seven butchers with him to cut it up into steaks or roasts and the gaol should be in good repair as eight carpenters were detained on the premises within the year, as well as a couple of painters and plumbers, and a whole host of other mechanics—kitchen mechanics included.

HOUSE DECORATING SEASON

Greatest Wall Paper Values Ever Shown

We ask you to investigate the claims we have made for some time past, that we are selling Wall Papers, Window Shades, Cornice Poles and Room Moulding, of all grades, at the Lowest Prices that have ever been quoted. We know our claims are well founded, and as house cleaning, or rather HOUSE DECORATING, season again comes round, we ask you to let us convince you of the fact.

The majority of homes are re-papered and decorated during the fall months in preparation and anticipation of the many duties which devolve upon you during the long social winter season. This is the time when one lives indoors and enjoys interior decorations.

Householders, paper hangers, everyone, will save money by buying their decorations at

A BIG CHANCE.

For Some Years Back John Riley Did Not Work on his Farm—He Does Now—The Reason Why.

Milverton, Sept. 24th.—John Riley, a farmer living near here, is able to do his farm work right along now, something he could not do for years. The reason was, he had a bad form of kidney disease, which set in about ten years ago, and gradually grew worse. Latterly Mr. Riley was at times unable to lie in bed or stoop to the ground because of his kidney troubles. Now, he can rake hay in the meadows, follow a plough or handle a reaper with any man in the country. The cause of the wonderful change is nothing more than Dodd's Kidney Pills. Four boxes effected a complete cure of Mr. Riley's kidney disease. These pills always cure.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

An old friend has presented the association with 25 volumes books, including an encyclopedia of ten volumes, and other works of value. Such thoughtful gifts are very much appreciated by the reading young men who frequent the rooms.

The young men's meeting on Saturday evening at 8 p.m., will be led by Mr. Bruce Anderson. Short talks. Bring a friend with you.

Gospel and song service at 8.30 p.m. Sabbath evening. It is expected that Mr. Pady will address the meeting. The Emerald Trio will be present and assist in the song service.

Do you have headache, dizziness, drowsiness, loss of appetite and other symptoms of biliousness? Hood's Sarsaparilla will cure you.

TURNBULL'S

Our Millinery opening is now over and has been a decided success, and it is very gratifying to be able to state that we never had more visitors or took more orders, which simply shows the fact that our selection of Millinery is very choice and varied. Our turnover in this department is so large that we can afford to buy everything new as it appears each week. Thus our customers are always sure of getting the latest styles and closest prices with us.

MANTLES.

In the Mantle department things are on the move. Our best garments are going out rapidly. We have a large and varied stock and our prices are rock bottom, as we import direct from the manufacturers. We keep the very best qualities of Astrachans and Seal ettes to be made up to order. Any one thinking of buying a cheap Fur Coat should see these Cloths first as they make up more effective, and are twice as durable, and can be made up in any of the new shapes. Our Mantle maker is one the best in the country, turning her work out as well as any tailor.

DR. HOLMES IS DEAD

The Aged Poet Passes Away at His Massachusetts Home.

HIS LIFE AND FAMOUS POEMS

He Dies at the Advanced Age of Eighty-Five Years—He Occupied the First Place as a Writer of Poems and Was a Popular Lecturer.

BEVERLY, Mass., Oct. 8.—Oliver Wendell Holmes, the poet, died at his residence at Beverly Farm yesterday.

[Oliver Wendell Holmes was born at Cambridge, Mass., August 29, 1809. He was graduated at Harvard College in 1829, and began the study of law, which he subsequently abandoned for that of medicine. Having attended the hospitals of Paris and other European cities he commenced practice in Boston in 1836. In 1838 he was elected professor of anatomy and physiology in Dartmouth College and in 1847 was appointed to a similar professorship in the Massachusetts Medical School, from which he retired in 1882. As early as 1836 his contributions in verse appeared in various periodicals.

As a writer of songs, lyrics and poems for festive occasions he occupied the first place. He was for many years a popular lecturer.

In 1857 he commenced in the Atlantic Monthly, a serious of articles under the title, "The autocrat of the breakfast table," which were followed in 1860 by "The Professor at the breakfast table," in 1872 by "The Poet at the breakfast table," and in 1885 by "The new portfolio." In addition he published "Astrea" in 1850; "Currents and counter currents in medical science," 1861; Elsie Venner, a Romance of Destiny" 1861; "Borderlands in some provinces of medical science," 1862; "Songs in Many Keys," 4864; Soundings from the Atlantic," 1861; Humorous poems," 1865; "The guarding angel," 1868; "Mechanism in thought and morals," 1870; "Songs of Many Seasons;" 1874; John L. Motley, a memoir," 1878; "The Iron Gate and other poems," 1880; "Medical essays," 1883; "Pages from an old volume of life," 1883; "Ralph Waldo Emerson," 1884; "A Mortal antipathy," 1885; "One hundred days in Europe," 1887; "Before the Curfew," 1888; and numerous poems recited at various dinner and reunions.

In 1886 he visited England where he was received with great cordiality. Editions of his collected poems have appeared from time to time, the first in 1836 and the last in 1889. He has contributed largely to current medical literature as well as to literary journals and reviews. A series of genial papers from his pen entitled "Over the teacups," appeared in the Atlantic Monthly during 1890.]

Governor Curtin Dead.

BELLEFONTE, Pa., Oct. 8.—Andrew Gregg Curtin, the war governor of Pennsylvania, died yesterday. Governor Curtin was born April 22 1817. Was admitted to the bar in 1837, and in 1854 was appointed Secretary of State by the governor. In 1858 he was a prominent candidate for the nomination for vice-president on the ticket with Grant, but was defeated. Shortly succeeding Grant's election Governor Curtin was appointed minister to Russia and spent nearly four years at St. Petersburg. He later on renounced his allegiance to the Republican party and as a Democrat served six years in Congress.

TROOPS FOR TREATY PORTS

Missionaries Ordered to Return From Unprotected Districts.—British Feeling in Favor of Letting Japan Reap the Benefit of Her Victories

LONDON, Oct. 8.—It can be stated on authority that the developments of the past week in eastern affairs will lead to concerted action on the part of the European powers. On Monday last N. B. O'Connor, the British Minister at Pekin, warned the foreign office by cable that the condition of affairs was such that the Government was not able to guarantee protection to the foreign residents at the treaty ports and the missionaries in the interior of the country. The Minister in the same despatch stated that the Chinese imperial council was disorganized and that the collapse of the government was not looked upon as an impossibility and advised that instant action be taken for the protection of the lives and property of British subjects in China.

The substance of this despatch was at once communicated to Lord Rosebery, to the Governments of France, Russia and Germany, with the suggestion that the powers co-operate in increasing the guard at the treaty ports and in measures for the protection of the missionaries. When the cabinet met on Thursday, friendly responses from all three of the powers named had been received, and those so thoroughly cleared up the situation as to enable the ministers to give the premier and the Earl of Kimberley, Secretary of State of Foreign Affairs, a free hand to take whatever steps in the matter they might consider necessary.

No question of intervention between Japan and China has arisen, however. It is reported that preparations are being made to send 10,000 troops to occupy the leading treaty ports, and if the present intention is carried out Parliament on reassembling will be asked to grant a credit of £4,000,000 to cover the expenses of the expedition. Since the holding of the Cabinet council instructions have been cabled to the British Minister at Pekin and to the British consuls at all the treaty ports to send to the mission stations in the interior imperative instructions for the withdrawal of all the missionaries to the protected coast districts. The consuls are empowered by their instructions to call for assistance upon Vice-Admiral Freemantle, commanding the British fleet in Chinese waters, who is authorized to send gunboats to any possible distance if such action be deemed necessary to cover the withdrawal of the missionaries. The instructions also direct that all missionaries without regard to nationality shall be protected.

The few and meagre telegrams thus far received from the Minister and consuls from the nearest mission stations indicate that the missionaries there are determined not to desert their posts, but to continue their work in the face of all risks.

Private advices to the Army and Navy Gazette explain away the Japanese charge that Vice-Admiral Freemantle signalled to the Chinese the approach of the Japanese fleet. The British vessels, it is said, used their search lights in order to reveal their nationality and thus preventing an assault upon them by mistake.

The offers of mediation between China and Japan are all widely divergent. The truth of the matter is that it is the general belief in official circles that the members of the Cabinet are unanimously against any foreign interference, and so far as Great Britain is concerned, favor allowing the Japanese to reap the full fruits of their victories unless, of course, they seek to injure the commercial interests of Europe.

The largest Protestant inland mission in China is engaged in the provinces of Se-Chuen and Hu-Pei, in which provinces anti-foreign riots have most often occurred. The managers of these stations think of withdrawing the workers under their supervision or sending fresh drafts of missionaries to the various stations in their district, they having received advices that there is no more cause for fear or ill-treatment than usually exists.

The same may be said of the Catholic missionaries, whose numbers are largely in excess of the Protestants. In New Chang and Moukden, which are near the centre of the district where the war is now being carried on, there were stationed 23 Catholic and 17 Protestant missionaries. The latest mail advices received from these points state that the churches and houses of native converts have been pillaged and burned, but that the foreign residents have meanwhile remained unharmed.

The position of affairs debars the Admiralty from sending explicit orders as to how to dispose of the vessels covering the post, but Vice-Admiral Freemantle has been advised to station gunboats at Che-Foo, Ichang and Hankow and also at the furthest inland port, Chun-King. At Shanghai the Indo-European police force will be increased on representations made by British shippers there.

The British Government at Hong Kong recently asked the home government for a decision upon the question whether or not rice was to be considered as contraband of war. The Earl of Kimberley, Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, telegraphed a negative answer and at the same time warned the Japanese authorities of the refusal of the Government to admit rice as contraband. The settlement of this question was shirked during the Franco-Chinese troubles and the decision is against the interests of the Japanese and will not tend to increase the friendliness of that nation towards England.

An English Capitalist Under Arrest.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Hubert F. Allen, financier of Brighton, England, the manager of the Dand and Property Investment Syndicate of America with offices in London, was arrested on Saturday at the Fifth avenue hotel, on a telegram from the chief of police of Des Moines, Ia., charging him with obtaining $1,500 from D. B. Lyons, of Des Moines, on false pretences. The company of which the defendant is manager was organized for the purpose of interesting English capital in American farm loans. Allen is held for examination.

TRAGEDY IN PARKDALE

Frank Westwood Shot at the Door of His Father's Residence.

MYSTERY SHROUDS THE CRIME

The Young Man Opened the Door in Response to the Bell and Received a Mortal Wound—He Knows His Assailant but Will Divulge Nothing.

TORONTO, Oct. 8.—A tragedy attended by circumstances of an unusually sensational character was enacted on Saturday night at the residence on Jamieson avenue, Parkdale, of one of the most prominent citizens of the West End, Mr. B. Westwood, whereby his son Frank, aged 19, received probably fatal injuries.

The house and grounds of Mr. Westwood have a large frontage on the lake, and are known to everyone for their beauty and extent. The front door of the residence is a very considerable distance from the street and in the intervening space their dog, an exceedingly savage one, is let loose at night to guard the house from possible nocturnal prowlers.

About 11 o'clock on Saturday night while Mrs. Westwood and Frank were sitting in the parlor their came a sudden ring at the door bell, and immediately afterwards Mrs. Westwood was startled by seeing the face of a man peering through the window.

Frank at once rose and went to answer the summons. He had no sooner opened the door than a pistol shot rang out on the night air, startling the already frightened mother and rousing the entire household.

Mrs. Westwood ran to the door, but for a moment could not see her son or anyone else for the smoke from the powder. When it cleared away she saw the form of her son lying prone on the floor with his life-blood oozing from a wound in his side.

Although almost prostrated by the terrible event the mother recovered herself sufficiently to reach the side of the wounded lad, and with the other members of the family who had hastened horror-stricken to her assistance, conveyed him into the parlor. In the meantime Mr. Westwood, senior, had secured a revolver and fired a couple of shots in the direction the probable murderer was supposed to have taken, but without eliciting any response.

Dr. Aylesworth was at once sent for, and, on his arriving, it was ascertained that the bullet had entered Frank's body between the lower ribs on the right side, and that it had embedded itself somewhere in the back, making a wound so serious that it is regarded as improbable that the young man can recover, and his death is looked for momentarily.

All kinds of rumors are in circulation, but mystery though the tragedy is to the family and the world, the would-be murderer is known to his victim, who pertinaciously refuses to divulge his name. A gaming incident or jealousy is said to lie at the bottom of his reticence, but he may yet be prevailed to tell the full particulars of the events leading up to Saturday night's tragic affair.

The glimpse secured of the man revealed a person of about thirty years with a dark moustache and an intensely white face.

About a month ago, it is admitted by the wounded lad, a man threatened him, saying that he would yet get even with him (Frank Westwood). From words that dropped from his lips it is surmised that Frank thought he would be visited on Saturday night by his Nemesis, and, despite the well-known savagery of the dog, which ordinarily would have allowed no one to pass, the avenger, if avenger he be, succeeded in reaching his marked victim, although the dumb guardian was abroad. It is surmised from this latter fact that the would-be murderer must have been a friend and that the dog was acquainted with him to let him pass without even a growl, so far as anyone heard.

The stricken household is in great sorrow, in which the whole community shares, for the family is very well known, especially in Parkdale, in which they are prominent in the Methodist church.

It is hoped that the young man who is so near death's door will yet reveal the name of his assailant.

"THE FUTURE MUSKOKA."

Lake Tamagami Teems With Fish of Many Varieties.

OTTAWA, Oct. 8.—A. E. Barlow of the Geological Survey, returned yesterday from three months' field work in the Lake Tamagami and Temiscamingue regions. His party made this summer the first survey of Lake Tamagami. He reports this lake to be about 30 miles long and 21 wide. It is full of islands, he says, and will be "the future Muskoka." Its waters also abound with splendid fish of many varieties. The vicinity of the lake is rocky and there is no farming land whatever. To the southeast end of the lake there is splendid timber. The rocks contain what may prove to be valuable deposits of copper, iron and silver ores. If the Nipissing and James Bay Railway, which passes by the east end of the lake, is ever completed these deposits will likely be developed.

Mr. Barlow also explored Lake Temiscamingue and reports that there is good farming land at the northeast arm of the lake as can be found anywhere in Canada. Settlers are rapidly colonizing this part.

Cincinnati Druggists Arrested.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 8.—Four of the leading druggists of Cincinnati were arrested on Saturday upon warrants issued by the food inspector, charging them with selling adulterated drugs. The warrants were issued after a chemical analysis of the articles in question—paskola, vin mariana and unfermented wine. The analysis is said to have shown all these preparations to be adulterated within the meaning of the statutes of Ohio.

A Fatal Gun Accident.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Geo. S. Nixon, an employe of the Parisian Steam Laundry Company, was killed on Saturday night by the accidental discharge of a gun which he was removing from a buggy. The hammer caught in some manner and exploded, the charge blowing off the top of the young man's head.

Shot Nails Into His Heart.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1894.

UNDER the Dominion Franchise Act it may be regarded as, at least, peculiar, that, while a wife cannot vote, she can qualify her husband for voting upon property in her own right. While a wife's brains do not furnish sufficient qualification for voting, her cheque book confers the sacred privilege of the franchise upon some do-nothing of a husband who has not industry or ability enough to accumulate sufficient property to make him a man in the eyes of the franchise law.

WOOL.

(Monetary Times.)

The Canadian wool trade shows no animation. Domestic manufacturers of woolen goods, while expressing confidence in the future of the industry, are not at present carrying on active operations. They are wisely waiting for the consumptive demand to come back again to normal conditions. In the meantime, they do not appear alarmed at the wool markets, and evidently expect that, if prices do not decline, they will at all events not advance. Values of domestic woolen goods remain on a very low basis, one class of Canadian tweeds selling at the unprecedented price of 20 cents a yard.

As a consequence of the waiting policy of manufacturers, transactions in the wool market during the last several weeks have been of inconsiderable amount. Again this week, merchants from the United States have been in Toronto endeavouring to sell fine wools; the demand for Canadian fleece from American markets, however, is not strong enough to lead to transactions in these descriptions. There is much diversity of opinion throughout the country as to the value of domestic fleece wools. One country merchant writes this week that he has 10,000 lbs. of wool on hand and expects to get 20 cents the pound for his fleece, and 13 cents for his unwashed; 18 cents for the former description and 10 cents for the latter would be prices more nearly approaching the market situation. It is impossible to get at the quantity of fleece held in the country; we know of several dealers who are holding considerable quantities, and should prices take an upward turn it would surprise no one to find a large quantity of fleece wool offered in the market. One Ontario merchant is said to be carrying 500,000 lbs. of North-west Territorial wool.

The London wool sales have failed to develop anything new since we last noted their progress. The expectation that they would establish a positive basis of valuation has not been realized, but although no very material advances in the market have been made, on the other hand prices are not declining. Operators show an inclination to hold off until the November series. The series now in progress will end on Oct. 15th. The first sertes of wool sales for 1895 will begin on January 15th, and the second on March 7th, without fixed limit to quantities offered.

LOON LAKE LACONICS.

(From Our Own Correspondent.

The heavy wind that has been blowing for the past few days has made news gathering rather dull.

Miss Hart has returned to her home, after spending a few pleasant weeks on the lake shore.

Mr. John Doxsee is visiting friends at Campbellford and Havelock.

Messrs. May and Falkner, the evangelists, are holding meetings in the various school sections around the lake.

Logging bees seem to be the rage around here, this fall, usually ending with a dance at night.

Miss Woods is visiting friends at Clanicard for a few days.

Messrs. O'Brien & Hines have been threshing around the west part of the Lake.

We understand that Mr. Robt. Hawks has purchased the herd of cows formerly owned by Mrs. Jas. Steen.

Messrs. Ludgate and Lounsborough were through the township, a few days ago, inspecting the roads and paying the men employed during the past summer.

Mr. Chas. Hawks has had his beautiful little boat, "the Loon," on the dry dock undergoing extensive repairs. She was launched a few days ago and gives her owner excellent satisfaction.

Building operations are booming in this vicinity.

Mr. H. S. Prouty is finishing up his new house, and when completed, will be one of the most convenient farm houses in this part of the country.

Mr. H. McDougall is etecting a very nice cottage on the Coe Hill road.

Mr. A. Clapperton has made extensive alterations to his house, and Mr. A. Woods is finishing off his house at the Narrows.

Mr. Joseph Woods is slowly recovering from a long and severe illness.

Mr. Moses Couch is on the sick list.

Mr. Chas. Prouty has finished his new canoe. We understand he intends building another one soon.

A few flakes of snow were noticed on the morning of the 25th ult.

GALWAY.

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Council met pursuant to adjournment. Present, Michael Mansfield, reeve, in the chair, James Allen, Benjamin Miller and Michael Collins, councillors. Moved by B. Miller, seconded by J. Allen, that the minutes of last meeting be read. Moved by B. Miller seconded by M. Collins, that Michael Barry be allowed twelve months from date to pay arrears of taxes against lots 44 and 45, Con. A, amount being $18.18. Moved by J. Allen seconded by B. Miller, that James Dalton expend $10 between lots 13 and 14, Con. 10, Galway, and that Nicholas Cheevers expend $10 to straighten road opposite M. Flaherty's lot and that M. GEN. BOOTH'S VISIT.

He Will be Royally Entertained While in Peterborough.

The contemplated visit of General Booth to this town is being discussed by all interested in evangelistic work. It is not to be wondered at that such is the case for no matter what differences of opinion may exist as to many of the methods adopted by the Salvation Army, it is universally acknowledged that General Booth is one of the greatest men of the age, and has been the instrument through which great good has been accomplished, and the race immeasurably benefitted. General Booth is certainly one of the best known men of to day, and his schemes for the alleviation of the 'submerged tenth' in England have been subjects of discussion with many of the great thinkers of the present time. His early history, however, is not so well known as his prominent position. He was born in Nottingham in 1829. Although his mother was an earnest Christian, he was unconverted at the age of fifteen. He was interested in Christian work, and publicly professed Christ in a Wesleyan chapel. His talent for Christian work very soon made him a leader among the workers of that place. When seventeen years he was appointed a local preacher. He commenced to study for the ministry about three years later. When a division took place in the Wesleyan Society in 1861 he joined the reformers. He was then set apart as an evangelist and his labours were wonderfully successful. About this time he was married to Miss Catherine Mumford. As Mr. Booth's wife and helper she has since become famous and the Salvation Army owes much of its success to her efforts. After several years of evangelistic work his reappointment was refused and he resigned his position. London offered a great scope for work so he moved there in 1864 and began work in a tent in the East end. This work grew so rapidly that he gave all his time to it. He soon found that assistance was needed and that some organization would be required. Ultimately what was know as the Christian Mission was formed. It consisted of Mr. Wm. Booth and his small band of workers. This small organization continued to grow until in 1878 the first great war congress was held and the Christian Mission was merged into the Salvation Army. The scope of the Army is now well known and General Booth is still its indefatigable leader, deputing his wonderful energy through thousands of officers and followers.

He will be accompanied on his Peterborough visit by his secretary, Col. Lawley, Commandant H. H. Booth and wife, and a number of staff officers.

HE TELLS IT HIMSELF.

A West Oxford Farmer Narrowly Escapes Premature Burial—The Causes of His Threatened Fate and Lucky Escape.

INGERSOLL, Oct. 8.—W. H. Bailey of West Oxford township, claims to have only narrowly escaped premature burial a short time ago. He had had kidney disease for four years back and so badly at times that he was completely laid up. Many doctors treated him, but their treatment, in Mr. Bailey's opinion, made him worse rather than better. His escape from a premature grave was affected by the use of the infallible Dodd's Kidney Pills. Three boxes of these cured completely. Mr. Bailey claims to be able now to do a bigger day's work than his twenty-four-year-old son.

FRATERNAL ASSESSMENT LIABILITY.

"Can't I get out when I please, and have no liability?"

Most people expect "yes" for an answer to this question, when they say they are members of an assessment insurance society, and begin to think of their responsibilities as such. It is important for them to know that they cannot escape liability; because every member, no matter when he drops out, is liable for any deficiencies that may arise in future, if they were developed during his membership. Here is an instance:

The United Masonic Benefit Association of Missouri was some years ago an active and apparently prosperous assessment concern. It provided no reserve, but offered low rates, cheap insurance, and seemingly hoped that new blood would make up for increasing mortality resulting from increasing age. By and bye its forces began to fall off, not enough "new blood" came and the cost of membership ran up in a very uncomfortable way. Presently the healthier lives began to feel their burden pressing heavily and steadily left the ranks, until so few were left in the association that the assessments amounted to $140—one hundred and forty dollars—on each certificate. The remaining members refused to pay such a sum, and the concern failed. But there were unpaid death claims for a large amount due, and the State Superintendent of Insurance thought they ought to be paid. So he began suits at law against individual members to enforce payment of the assessments against them; the court has decided that they must pay. The feelings of those who are thus compelled to pay what they never expected have undergone a change with respect to assessment insurance.

Replying to some enquiries which had been made upon this point of liability, and citing this case illustration of what may be expected in any similiar case which might be pressed to suit, the Insurance Monitor says: "The decision referred to answers our question which has been debated whether the member's liability is limited to sums which he may choose to pay; in, other words, whether he can get out when he pleases without further harm. This he cannot do. Every member, no matter when he may drop out, is liable for any deficiencies which may crop up in future, resulting during his membership. The only safe course for parties that apprehend breakers ahead is to drop their membership before the breakers are reached; and the misfortune of this course is that the faster they drop, the faster the association drives towards the breakers."

There seems to be only one course open for the prudent man who may be determined to avoid possible liability; that is to keep out of such associations entirely and buy his insurance of the regular companies.—Monetary Times.

THE BROWN FAMILY'S TROUBLES.

This Now Celebrated Case Again Before Montreal Courts.

MONTREAL, Oct. 8. — The celebrated Browne desertion case is once more before the courts.

Andrew White Browne, the son of a very wealthy merchant, left his young wife in New York and coming to Montreal took up lodgings at the Windsor, where he lived most of the summer. His young wife followed him to Montreal, but he refused to have anything to do with her. To compel young Browne to recognize his wife proceedings for desertion were taken in the Police Court and Browne was convicted. Later he returned to New York. His father having come to Montreal, proceedings were taken against him together with his son for an allowance.

Messrs. McGibbon & Davidson, counsel for Mrs. Browne, ask for $150 a month. On Friday a motion was made in court for an order on Mr. Lyman Browne to appear in court for examination on Saturday morning. The motion set forth that Mr. Browne contemplated leaving Montreal. The motion was granted.

The case came up for hearing before Judge Tait in chambers. Mr. J. N. Greenshields appeared on behalf of Mr. Browne, sr., and asked that an extension of time be granted, so that he might test the jurisdiction of the court in trying the case. He contended that the deposition made would be again used against Mr. Browne in the case that is at present going on in New York. The judge overruled his objection and ordered the case to proceed.

In answer to a question by Mr. McGibbon, Q. C., counsel for plaintiff, Mr. Browne, sr., stated that if the court granted Mrs. Browne alimony of $150 a month he was willing and able to pay the amount.

A recorder's court warrant was also issued on Friday summoning Mr. Lyman Browne, sr., of New York to appear to answer to the charge of failing to support his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Andrew Browne.

PASSED HIS EXAM BY FRAUD.

A Civil Servant Got a Medical Student to Personate Him.

OTTAWA, Oct. 8.—The board of civil service examiners have reported to the Justice Department a case which has come before them at their rooms in the Ontario Chambers in regard to a member of the civil service getting another party to personate him in the civil service qualifying examination. The civil servant referred to is H. L. Desilettes, a mail clerk from Three Rivers. He was asked certain questions concerning his examination and as to how he secured his certificates. These questions he refused to answer at first, but the appearance of a Dominion policeman on the spot ready to arrest him and place him in jail had the desired effect and with some hesitation he gave the information desired.

The story of Desilettes is that at an examination in Montreal some three years ago, a medical student from Quebec personated him. Desilettes says that he does not know where the medical student has gone since that time, but he is somewhere outside of Quebec practising his profession. The name of the young doctor is withheld until such time as Desilettes' story is verified.

Hamilton's Mayor Fined.

HAMILTON, Oct. 8.—At Saturday's session of the police court Mayor A. D. Stewart was found guilty of assaulting William Lottridge and was fined $1 and costs. On September 22 the mayor in his capacity as secretary of the Hamilton Jockey Club undertook to eject Lottridge from the club house because the latter was trespassing on the private quarters of the club where only members are permitted. Lottridge, who had been drinking, was in an ugly mood, assumed a pugilistic attitude, whereupon the mayor knocked him down. Magistrate Jelfs decided that the mayor in his capacity as Jockey Club secretary had a right to eject Lottridge if he was trespassing, but should not have struck the blow complained of.

An Old Cornwall Resident Dead.

CORNWALL, Ont., Oct. 8.—An old and highly respected citizen of Cornwall was on Saturday removed from his life labors in the person of Francis Lally, at the ripe age of 85 years. Mr. Lally came from Westport, County Mayo, Ireland, fifty years ago, taking up his home in the then small village of Cornwall, where he carried on a boot and shoe business for upwards of thirty-five years. He was also connected with the High Court sessions in Cornwall, and parties having law business here will miss his smiling face and pleasant countenance.

The Latter Day Saints.

PETROLEA, Oct. 8.—The semi-annual conference of the Chatham district of the organized Church of Jesus Christ, the Latter Day Saints, is in session there. Of the fifteen branches in the district nine reported by resolution. The officers for the district were elected, and other business connected with the organization was gone through with. Elder J. H. Lake was chosen as the delegate to represent the district at the general conference to be held at Independence, Mo., commencing April 6, 1895.

Licenses Given to American Vessels.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Oct. 8.—Advance sheets of the report of the Canadian Department of Marine and Fisheries show 53 American vessels have taken modus vivendi licenses for the year of 1894, for which they paid a total sum of $46,603. Of the number securing licenses 43 were from Gloucester, 3 from Boston, 2 from Portland, 2 from Provincetown and one each from Rockland and Salem. Licenses taken out in Newfoundland are not included.

Boy Drowned at Lindsay.

LINDSAY, Ont., Oct. 8.—A sad drowning accident occurred here yesterday. Four boys were out in a boat near the pumping station when the boat upset. Three of the boys got out safely, but Willie Brown, messenger boy at the G. N. W. office, was unable to reach the shore and was drowned. It is supposed he was taken with cramps as he was a good swimmer. The body will be buried at Woodville.

A Good Orchard Ladder.

In pruning my young orchard last spring I wanted a small ladder to reach the upper parts of the apple trees, and made a very satisfactory one in the following way:

Having a small light ladder about 9 feet high I put an extra round in 4 inches from the top, of 1x2 inch oak, the ends being reduced to fit easily into a ½-inch hole in each side piece. I bored a hole in the centre of this round for a ½-inch bolt. For the support I made a V (inverted) of two pieces of 1½ x 2-inch heart pine, mitred off at the top ends and fastened by wire nails clinched. Three feet from the apex I put a 4 x 1 inch oak strip to meet the flat round of the ladder and nailed it securely against the edges of the V; a hole is bored through the centre of this to receive the ½ inch bolt at a. A brace 4 or 5 feet lower down completed the arrangement.

The ladder stands firmly on its four feet, even though the ground is very uneven, the double joint at the upper part giving freedom of adjustment, and is very steady when you mount it. The upper part of the support is a good thing to hold on to when you are at the top. When needed elsewhere, the ladder can easily be disconnected.

For gathering fruit a heavier one may be used for two men, rounds to be put on the support so that a man can mount it on either side.—Country Gentleman.

LOVE'S TANGLES.

Swiss girls in the time of William Tell were married in bright-colored gown, plaid apron, red hose, bridal wreath and a stomacher, on which the bride's name and the date of her birth were engraved in large letters.

In Germany the bride is entitled to the morgenabe, morning gift; the custom having formerly been that on the morning after the wedding she was entitled to ask for what she pleased, and her request could not be refused.

In one country district of Germany "pay-weddings" were in vogue as late as the present century, each guest paying for his entertainment as much as he would at an inn, the receipts going to set up the happy pair in their new home.

Gretna Green was commonly chosen for a place of marriage by English runaway couples, as it was the first village across the border on the west coast road, and the laxity of Scottish marriage laws allowed almost any kind of ceremony.

The Karens of Burmah have their marriages at a funeral feast. When a villager dies his remains are temporarily disposed of until one or more marriages can be arranged, when they are disinterred, a great feast made and the funeral services properly performed.

When a Chinese girl is married her attendants are always the oldest and ugliest women to be found in the neighborhood, who are paid to act as foils to her beauty. It is said that some exceptionally ugly old women make their living by acting as professional attendants at weddings.

In Sweden and Russia the crown is the bride's chief ornament. It is commonly of silver and often very becoming. During the ceremony the groom must place it on the head of the bride with his own hands, and if by any chance it should slip to one side or fall off the omen is regarded as exceedingly disastrous.

WHEREVER YOU MAY ROAM YOU CAN find nothing like the beautiful line we are selling of

SIDEBOARDS

OUR SPECIAL.

Special, because you'd pay more money for inferior style elsewhere.

Special, because in addition to the superior style, the patterns are the best produced this season.

Drop in the first opportunity you have and compare our prices with what you've been in the habit of paying. You will then trade here.

Credit if desired and without interest or extra charge.

NEWTON'S

PULLMAN HOUSE

FRANK FAIREN, Proprietor, | 289 George Street, Peterborough.

Fresh air and exercise are all right, Boy's, but you want a little something occasionally for the stomach's sake. You can always count on getting it good at the Pullman. But be temperate, Boys, and let your motto be "moderation;" First-class Billiard Room in connection.

ROBERT HALL.

Seasonable and Opportune.

Always forearmed for all the shopping demands of our customers—this store is never behind—the right goods at the right time and at the right prices. October suggest the need of such things as

Underwear, Hosiery and Gloves.

We have too many kinds to attempt any detail, but in addition to the BEST makes in underwear we carry a full line of the celebrated "Health Brand" in all sizes and combinations.

Blankets and Bed Comforters.

The buying of these lines was done with extreme care, as we have an exacting constituency to chose for, who are wide awake judges of qualities and prices. The stock is right and the values correspond.

Along with these we would also mention our new fall selected Shawls, in many sizes, qualities and shapes—very exclusive—and from makers who warrant their goods.

Millinery and Mantles.

Style is everything in these lines. You don't want a last years' hat, or bonnet, or jacket, at any cost, and you won't find one here. You don't even want this season's unless the style is distinctive, and that is just where we excel.

We continue to show full range in all the newest novelties in Dress Goods.

Eva N. Roblin Concert.

Tickets may be procured from the members of the Ladies' Aid and at the Peterborough Bookstore, where a plan of the hall may be seen and seats secured for. Concert will take place in the Opera House on the evening of Tuesday, Oct. 16th.

Telfordian Temperature Topics.

Monday, Oct. 8th.—At yesterday (Sunday) morning's observation the thermometer indicated only 30 degress above zero, with a sharp, hard frost, and to-day indicated 40 degrees. Will have slight local showers, and may have some flakes of snow before long. THOS. TELFORD.

"Robert Hilliard."

Saturday next will be a merry one at the opera house when Mr. Robert Hilliard comes with a delightful company in that funniest of all comedies, "The Nominee." In this play there is not a dull moment, and any one seeking to drive away dull care will find ample opportunity by witnessing the performance. Prices, 25, 35 and 50c., box seats, 75c. Seats on sale at street railway office. 1d

The Collector's Duty.

The Municipal World reminds clerks of municipal corporations of their duties respecting collectors' rolls, and states that "every collector's roll is required to be completed and balanced on or before the first day of October, and a summary showing the total of the different rates entered therein, and should be handed to the Treasurer of the municipality before the roll is placed in the hands of the collector, and the treasurer should charge the collector withthe total amount on the roll, and credit the different accounts for which special rates have been raised, with the amount entered in the roll for each."

Friday's Attraction tt the Opera House.

What the Brockville Times says: The Guy Bros. filled the opera house last night, and everybody stayed till the finish, and all went home satisfied. This company never give a bad performance, but this season eclipses all previous ones. The boys are, as usual, up to date, and what they do not know about getting up a unique and crisp programme in minstrelsy is scarcely worth knowing. From the prelude to God Save the Queen every number was good, and most of them remarkably so. There is not a weak man in the combination, and the old gentleman Guy, now over his three score and ten years, seems as proud as ever of his boys, who are certainly the leading burnt cork artists in this part of the universe. Prices — 25, 35 and 50 cents. Seats on sale at street railway office.

The Bradshaw Inquest.

The coroner's inquest on the case of Lewis Bradshaw, who was struck by a G. T. R. train running into Port Hope, two weeks ago, and who afterwards died, have brought in the following verdict:—"That the said Lewis Bradshaw died, on the second day of October, 1894, and that death resulted from injuries received at Barrett's crossing, on Barrett street, in the town of Port Hope, on the 24th day of September, 1894, in a collison with engine and train of cars, the property of the Grand Trunk Railway Co., of Canada: and that the collision took place from the undue speed with which the said engine and train of cars were running at the time of the collision, in a thickly populated part of the town, of Port Hope; and the jurors recommended that gates be erected at this crossing to protect the public."

The fact that Grafton & Co. sell the best clothing in town does not imply that they ask high prices for their clothing.

NEWS NUGGETS.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—Additional local matter on eighth page.

—The Sons of England intend giving a tea and concert early in November.

—In Saturday's senior football matches, Osgoode Hall defeated 'Varsity and Hamilton defeated Toronto.

—At Lindsay, a lad named Brown, aged 16, while out in a canoe with three companions, lost his life by upsetting.

—Quite a few of the citizens will drive out to Riverdale to a social to-night in the Methodist church in that settlement.

—Street Inspector Pope has his men at work to-day cleaning up the principal business streets. They needed it badly.

—In the game of lacrosse between the Shamrocks and Capitals, for a $300 trophy, Saturday, the result was a draw, each team winning two games.

—The British Government has advised all missionaries, in inland China, to withdraw immediately to districts on the coast where they may be protected.

—A recent letter from Barrie says: "The demand for men to work in the lumber woods this fall is greater than for a number of years back. This will have a good effect on our business generally.

—A social will be given by the W. C. T. U., at the residence of Mrs. Wm. Wand, corner Lake and Robinson streets, on Tuesday evening, 9th of October. Good programme and refreshments. Admission, 15 cents.

Messrs. J. J. Turner & Son have received the order for the decorations of the drill shed, in elaborate and first class style for the reception of General Booth, S.A., and staff, on Oct. 18th. The work is sure to be well done.

—A C.P.R. freight train running west struck and killed an ox which was standing on the track about two miles and a west of the bridge, yesterday. Quite a few of the citizens walked down to gaze on the mangled remains during the afternoon.

—On Friday last, John Kivell, Sr., who lives in the township of Clarke, was down to Port Hope. On his way home his buggy was struck by a passing train at Ball's crossing, Lake Shore Road, and broken to pieces. The driver and horse escaped without injury.

—In the "lack of accommodation" charge, preferred by the Chief of Police against a down town hotel keeper, this morning, the case was dismissed by the magistrate, who held that the evidence showed that there was the accommodation required by law.

—The Manitoba Free Press is informed that after Oct. 6th, lake and rail rates will take a jump, the new basis being 60 cents per 100 first class. The rate at present is 30 cents. Rates on iron will advance 90 per cent., placing them back where they were earlier in the season. An advance in transcontinental rates is promised. These will be announced in a few days.

—"Mr. J. Parsons Smith has been a personal acquaintance and friend during the last five years. He has proved himself a success in temperance work. The Holy Spirit has endorsed him, and honoured his preaching by using his Sabbath pulpit utterances in so many instances to lead Christians to a better life and the unconverted to a better life. Crossley & Hunter."

—The Owen Sound Advertiser has issued a splendid trade edition. The special is a seven column, four-page sheet. The text, containing full and well written articles on the numerous industries of the town, is admirably and profusedly illustrated by beautiful half tone engravings. The Advertiser's trade edition is a credit to the art preservative generally, and a handsome proof of the enterprise of its publishers. A town, too, whose push, spirit and manufacturing importance, warrant the undertaking of such an enterprise is entitled to be classed among the leading towns of Ontario.

IN THE TOILS.

The Notorious Chiropodist is Committed for Trial.

Prof. Connors was, this morning, committed for trial by Police Magistrate Dumble, on a charge of stealing a coat from Thomas Kemp, of Douro. The coat, which was a rubber one, was taken from the hotel where Mr. Kemp left it in Lakefield, on the day of the fair, in that village. Connors was present at the fair and afterwards came to Peterborough, where he endeavoured to sell a garment, similiar in pattern to the lost article, to Mr. McCallum and other parties in town. The coat was recovered in Steve Holland's hotel the day after the fair by Mr. Kemp. Mr. Holland explains how he came into possession of the mackintosh by stating that he traded an older one for it to Connors, and gave a couple of dollars. The magistrate considered that sufficient evidence was adduced by the crown to warrant a commital.

TEMPERANCE.

A temperance meeting was held, yesterday afternoon, in the Town Hall, Ashburnham, by the Emerald Trio, under the auspices of Otonabee Council R. T. of T. The trio was introduced to the audience by the chairman, Mr. H. S. Armstrong, S. C., of Otonabee Council. Mr. J. Parsons Smith, of the Trio, delivered an instructive temperance address and the vocal selections, furnished by the trio, were well rendered and greatly appreciated. They also assisted in the service in the Mark street church, in the evening. Meetings will be held in the hall each evening this week.

The White is King.

Particularly recommended to weak mothers when nursing. Sold by all leading grocers, and delivered to any part of the town. Telephone No. 98.

Out of the Wet.

There was a man in our town,
Possessed of wisdom rare,
He had, with winter coming on,
No Mackintosh to wear.

He read Gough Bros' rainproof ad.,
Then, with all his might and main,
He hustled to "The Great Cheap Men,"
Now, welcome, wind and rain! tf

Dirty.

Well, we should say so. From the cellar to the garret. With the dust of the summer and the dust of the flies everything is apt to be a little dirty just now, especially the wall paper and window blinds. We offer a remedy for that dirty appearance that comes early in the fall. A new fresh paper and a new set of blinds is the simplest and finest remedy. It will make your home look like new, and give a refreshing appearance to everything around. See the beautiful stock all this month at a genuine discount. No regular prices at the Peterborough Book Store.—A. H. STRATTON & Co.

For coughs, colds and bronchitis the best and safest remedy is "Madill's Pulmonic Cough Syrup." Each bottle has a positive guarantee attached to it. If it fails to cure, return empty bottle and your money will be refunded.

To Get Your Name on the Dominion Voters' List.

Attention is again urged to the importance of qualified electors applying to have their name placed on the Dominion voters' list for the preliminary revision. Remember that all declarations must be submitted to the Revising Officer, not later than next Monday, Oct. 15th. Every evening, during the present week, an official will be at the EXAMINER office to receive names and assist in the making of the necessary declarations to permit names to be submitted for the preliminary revision. And remember that, no matter how otherwise fully qualified you may be to vote, you will be disfranchised unless your name appears on the Dominion Voters' List. Lose no time, therefore, but come to the EXAMINER office any evening this week and take the necessary steps to enable your name to be added to the list.

While it is advisable that all who are properly qualified should have their names put on the lists, a special effort should be put forth during the few days now remaining, to submit declarations asking that the names of persons not properly qualified be struck off. This can be done on the preliminary revision.

PERSONAL.

Mr. H. Grundy left Peterborough on Thursday for Chicago.

Miss Etta Bennett, of Peterborough, is visiting friends in town.—Cobourg World.

Mr. R. A. Shaw, the vocalist, leaves this week for New York, where he will reside in future.

Misses Ella and Maggie White, Cartwright, are on a visit to friends in town, the guests of Miss Lytle, Water street.

Miss E. F. Croly, who has been visiting with her brother Mr. T. M. D. Croly, returns to her home in New York city tomorrow.

Mr. J. S. Knapman was suddenly called to Uxbridge to-day by reason of the death of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Thomas Gould. Mrs. Gould, mother of the deceased, died on the 21st of last month.

By reference to an announcement in another place in this issue, it will be seen that Mr. Wm. Lech, sr., will, in the early spring, retire from the firm conducting the fur business, of which he has been the head for thirty years. Next March Mr. Lech will have attained the age of three score and ten, and has richly earned the rest upon which he will then enter. During his thirty years' business experience in Peterborough, Mr. Lech has achieved a high reputation for enterprise and honourable dealing, which constitutes a valuable legacy to his successors. His exemplary career as a public-spirited citizen has won him the highest respect of the community, which will doubtless join heartily with the EXAMINER in wishing Mr. Lech many years in which to enjoy the happiness, of which an honourable and active life as a business man and citizen have made him deserving.

ANOTHER "LIQUOR CASE."

It is Dismissed by the Magistrate, as Prosecutor Proceeded on the Wrong Ground.

Another of the liquor cases was on at the police court this morning viz., the one preferred against Brown Bros. The charge was similiar to that preferred against the other holders of shop licenses, but as the magistrate pointed out, the information was not correctly laid. The firm was charged with not keeping their stock of liquors on premises separate and distinct from their grocery business, but this could not be proven. Town Solicitor Edwards was promptly checked by the magistrate when he attempted to argue for a conviction on the ground that the two businesses were not separate and distinct. The business and the premises, the magistrate pointed out, were two wholly different terms, and if the prosecutor desired a conviction for the selling of liquor in the grocery department the only way to attain the desired end was to lay a separate charge against the defendant on the ground that he was selling liquor without a license. Regarding the town bylaw concerning the division of the shops, etc., the magistrate informally gave it as his opinion, that the bylaw was not good, being in fact ultra vires. The case was dismissed without even the evidence for the defence being taken.

Handsome Features.

Sometimes unsightly blotches, pimples or sallow opaque skin, destroys the attractiveness of handsome features. In all such cases Scott's Emulsion will build up the system and impart freshness and beauty.

Piano Tuning.

Mr. G Gumpricht is in town. Orders may be left at Messrs Taylor & Macdonald's or at the Peterborough Bookstore.

Knox's Gold Lable Ginger Ale

Put up expressly for campers and family use. Also Lemon Sour and Ginger Beer and all kinds of soft drinks and fine Cider Vinegar delivered to any part of the town D. KNOX, 26 Queen street.

An Inviting Programme.

A concert, under the auspices of the Ladies Aid, will be held in St. John's South Ward Mission, on Thursday evening, October 11th. The entertainment will consist of a scarf drill by eight little girls and a choice programme of vocal and instrumental music. Admission, fifteen cents.

"Now for the Rubber."

For these are rubber days, and all folks should wear rubber or rainproof coats. We carry full lines for men and boys, of the best English, German and Canadian makes. All sewed seams, with or without capes, and that don't throw off that horrid tarry smell that other kinds have. The prices are a little less than if you get a traveller to import you one as a favour. Gough Bros., the Wonderful Cheap Men.

Evening Classes, Peterborough Mechanics' Institute.

A meeting will be held on Tuesday evening October 9th, at 8 o'clock, when classes in Machine Drawing, Mensuration and Steam Engineering will be formed and a competent teacher engaged if a sufficient number of names are handed in. Intending scholars will please leave in their applications with the librarian as early as possible.

J. S. KNAPMAN,
Chairman Class Committee.

Furniture.

The long nights are coming and people are preparing to make home attractive. A. Clegg is now receiving, daily, the newest things in furniture. A full assortment in every line. Parlour suites, dining room furniture, all grades very cheap. In bedroom suites, the largest line ever offered in Peterborough, especially in suites ranging in price from $14 to $25—by far the best values ever offered. Fancy chairs, centre tables, spring beds, mattresses, pillows, etc.—A. CLEGG, 427 George street. dw

RETIRING FROM BUSINESS.

After 55 years of active work at the fur business, the senior partner of the firm of W. Lech & Sons, will, at the close of the approaching winter season, retire from business. The business of the manufacture of furs in Peterborough for the past thirty years by Mr. Wm. Lech, sr., will be continued by his sons on the same principles as heretofore—manufacturing a superior article a others who sell furs made up for the wholesale trade. Their connection with Leipsig, Germany, for many years has enabled them to select the best furs in the market, a circumstance which has earned for the firm a wide-spread reputation. At the beginning of the business in Peterborough the struggle for existence was a hard one as there were at that time very few persons who could buy furs. Money being a scarce article, the farming community were in the habit of offering farm products in exchange for furs, but such offerings proved useless as our obligations demanded cash. Under such circumstances it would have been impossible for anyone to establish a business in furs, but to a lifelong experience with the raw fur trade our success is due. Although the opposition was always a keen one, my reputation with the trappers made me the best fur buyer in the market.

Thanking the public for the most liberal patronage received during the past thirty years, and confident that my successors in the business will do their utmost to earn and retain the good-will and reputation achieved in the past, I remain,

Yours truly,
WM. LECH, SR.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

At the Gospel and Song Service held last evening in the Y.M.C.A. hall a crowded audience was present. The hall, parlours and gallery were filled in every part, and large numbers could not gain admittance. Mr. Pady gave a very interesting and instructive address on the need of the hour, Christian young men to work, and the field for the work, which was listened to with rapt attention by the large audience. The Emerald Trio who are in Ashburnham for a week's service being present gave two of their delightful Gospel temperance songs. Rev. Mr. Grant closed with prayer.

LADIES! LADIES!

Special Attention.

Ladies, do not be misled by paste-board charts and so-called tailor systems that have a set form of curves and give a box form appearance to all garments; they give the same curve and the same shape for all persons of the same size. We are the original inventors of all seamless garments, and warn all parties not to use them unless using our system, as we will prosecute those that do. We have our Government papers open for public inspection, which prove we are the inventors, so watch out for frauds and copyists. We graduate you with an elegant diploma. We give each scholar for one year free our Paris Fashion Publication, which gives you the latest styles and draftings. Our course is the only complete French course of dress cutting ever given in Canada, and we challenge the world for from $5,000 to $50,000 a side to contest the all-round merits of our system. Those wishing to accept our challenge must deposit their money in the bank, and have the bank notify us of the same, and we will at once cover the amount. Satisfaction guaranteed in all cases; 35,000 testimonials of merit on file for public inspection. Our academy in Toronto, No. 467 Yonge street, is the largest and best in Canada.

$10 Reward—We also offer a $10 Reward for the Crow system people to produce for public inspection any patent or copyright or government papers for their seamless garments, as they claim for some years back. Yours truly, Prof. and Mme. O. H. D'E LAMORTON & CO., Toronto and New York City, N.Y.

—AT—

HALL, GILCHRIST & CO'Y

GERMAN MANTLES.

In this department more than any other do we show the public the advantages derived by BUYING and SELLING for cash, importing as we do direct, sending a buyer twice a year to the LARGEST EUROPEAN MANUFACTURERS, gives us a clear lead of at least 25 per cent. in price, and more than that in style. Always pleased to have you see our goods before you decide where to buy. Looking means buying. In no department does the system of going (as we do) direct to the maker tell as much as in this.

MILLINERY.

Under superior management, with goods in many cases cheaper than the wholesale houses charge, we are not surprised that the wise and prudent leave their orders with us. WALKING HATS, repeat orders to hand. The Fine Wool Felt at less price than you pay elsewhere for Canadian Felt. It is worth your while to call if you have heretofore thought that one place was as good as another.

DRESS GOODS AND SILKS.

We certainly have heard many flattering remarks about our Dress Goods stock, and without any egotism we think them well deserved. This department occupies the FIRST RANK FOR HIGHEST QUALITY; LATEST STYLES AND LOW PRICES; from the lowest Wool Goods to the finest silk. We can show you the finest range of any house in this part of the province.

OUR WINDOWS this week are attractive, well worth looking at. The above departments each take a share in the large window display. We are invariably busy, but with twice the selling space of any store in town, coupled with sufficient light to show goods exactly as they are, and with all the accommodation of any city store, we make everybody welcome.

If you cannot come to see us, send for samples.

MILLBROOK.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Perhaps nothing except a general election or an Orange celebration will induce the people of this vicinity to turn out in larger numbers than to their annual fall show. It is a day when most of the farmers of East Durham, but more especially the township of Cavan, quit work and go in for a genuine good day of it. It was no wonder then that the streets of Millbrook were crowded, on Friday, with people, who had come to attend the Annual Union Exhibition of the East Durham and Cavan Agricultural Societies. For years, this exhibition has been becoming attractive, but this one is admitted by everyone to have excelled all previous ones.

The grounds have lately been enlarged, new sheds erected and a fine half-mile track put in good shape, which, together with the many other improvements, added greatly to the enjoyment and comfort of those present. From early morning the people began to arrive in town and from ten o'clock they began to make their way to the Agricultural grounds, where the attractions, of course, were. Here, the grounds were thronged with men, women and children, who were enjoying themselves looking at the exhibits, riding on the merry-go-round and watching the horse races. The exhibits were good and many, there being five hundred more entries made this year than last. The races, of course, were the most interesting part of the day and were keenly contested by both local and outside horsemen.

T. Dixon Craig, M.P., and W. A. Fallis, M.P.P., were on the grounds, as was also Col. McLean, the McCarthyite canidate for the next Dominion election.

At the police court Tuesday evening Jno. Crocker, of the Queen's hotel, was fined one dollar and costs for assaulting a man named O'Malley. It appears O'Malley was not conducting himself properly around the house, and Mr. Crocker dealt him a severe blow on the face. Magistrate Gillott said that while the plaintiff was certainly a great nuisance around the house, still the defendant could have found a more quiet way of getting rid of him.

One of the best games of baseball that has been played here this season took place Saturday between Bethany and Millbrook. The game was very exciting at time, but Bethany seemed to get rattled and played loosely, making many overthrows. Millbrook won by a score of 20 to 7. Following are the teams:

SPRIGHTLY SUMMER SPORTS.

On the Lacrosse Field, the Grease and the Diamond Triple A. Topics—The Bicycle and Football.

The town Rugby team ran up against a very hardy crowd of youngsters on Saturday, when they attempted to try conclusions with the first fifteen of Trinity College School, Port Hope.

The visitors came up as fit as could be as the result of constant practice, but it was the same old story with the town boys—the majority of the members of the team not having been on the field a half dozen times this year. Naturally, the school boys won handily by a score of 18-12.

Referee, Mr. Colyer.

The game was started at about 3.30 and the school boys started off with a rush and after a few scrimmages forced the ball far down into Peterborough territory, and it wasn't long before Parsons had to rouge for safety, giving the school a point.

The next point was won by Peterborough, being a rouge, and shortly afterwards six more points were added to the home team's score by a "touch and try." The goal was beautifully kicked by Lefevre, though the wind at the time was directly against him.

The school secured four points after a hard struggle by a touch in goal, but the try was missed. Half time was soon afterwards called by the referee, Mr. Colyer, and the two teams took a short rest. The score at this juncture stood 7—5 in favour of Peterborough.

When play was resumed the visitors had both the wind and the sun in their favour, but for about half an hour the home boys kept them in check, and the ball did not get more than five yards either side of the half. The home scrimmage worked like Trojans and were well backed up by the quarterman and the halves, but the town wings seemed unable to hold their own, consequently the play was all to keep the ball in the scrimmage.

The superior wind and staying power of the School finally began to tell and they scored successively until they led the town by eleven points. Peterborough, however, is always good on the finish in all games, and the home team by a great effort raised their score to 12 before time was called.

NOTES.

The last touchdown was scored for the town by G. Bell, who secured the four points in a way to earn the plaudits of the spectators.

"Pop" Moore played a good game, but was not given an opportunity to get in any of his famous runs, as passing the ball seemed to be an art unknown in the town play.

Lefevre and Strickland played with the Royal Military College last year and both worked hard for the town, on Saturday. Montgomery and Rogers also put up a good game.

Taken individually, the home team were probably the better of the two, but individual play was never known to win a match yet and so it was Saturday, the majority of the town players appearing to think that the chief end of the game was to secure the ball and hang on to it as long as they could. On the contrary, the visitors' passing was the feature of their play. The school wings, too, seemed to be able to evade their checks without any trouble and consequently when the ball went back from a scrimmage to Rogers, the forwards of the school were on him, more than half the time, before he had an opportunity of kicking.

If the report is true that the Peterborough's and Edison's have amalgamated, in order to put a strong town team in the field, it seems strange that only one Edison man was on the team on Saturday. The Edison's have proved their superiority over the Peterborough's and hold the town trophy, it seems only natural then, that they should be more fully represented on the town team, particularly as they are in splendid trim from the constant practises in which they have indulged during the last month.

The fair sex was well represented on the grand stand, Saturday, although the atmosphere was somewhat chilly.

Negotiations are in progress to have the first 'Varsity team and several others of that ilk give the Peterborough's a game during the fall.

THE TURF.

Henry of Navarre won the big race for the supremacy of the American turf at Morris Park, Saturday. Following is a sketch of the event: Domino declined the first break. Then Clifford declined. The next break was refused by Clifford and Navarre. Then they broke, with Domino slightly in the lead. They were moving, and the flag went down. A mighty shout, "they are off," arose from the 25,000 people present. Henry of Navarre kept at Domino's throat-latch all the way up the incline, and Simms rattled along in the rear with Clifford. There was a clear streak of daylight between the leaders and Clifford as they swept across the brow of the hill. They swung into the home in this order. The space was terrific, and still Henry of Navarre hung on. "Domino is beaten, Domino is beaten," was the shout. Taral drew his whip and brought it down on Domino's glossy flanks again and again with terrific force. He drove him with whip and spur for half a furlong, while Clayton was sitting immovable on Henry of Navarre. Clifford then made his effort, and amid groans of disappointment Domino fell back beaten. Taral humanely and sensibly gave up the useless struggle.

"It's Clifford's race," then rang out as the mighty four-year-old closed up on Navarre with a bound. Clifford had his nose in front for a few strides. Clayton then called upon Henry of Navarre, and rode the grand colt as he had never been ridden before. The three-year-old, to the consternation of the talent, responded nobly. He gradually forged to the front, and amid a perfect pandemonium of cheers he won the supremacy of the American turf by a length. Clifford, urged to the utmost limit of endurance, beat Domino, who was eased up, by fifteen lengths. Domino showed signs of temper when punished. The official time of the race was: First furlong, 13 seconds; second, 24; third, 37; fourth, 51; fifth, 1,04; seventh, 1.28½. No official time was taken for the mile.

DEATH OF MR. ALEXANDER McFEE.

A Former Resident of Otonabee Returns on a Visit and is Suddenly Stricken Down.

Mr. Alexander McFee, of Kent, Union County, Iowa, died Saturday afternoon, at the Nicholls Hospital, his death being attributed to a complication of diseases.

Mr. McFee was 66 years of of age and was a resident of Otonabee for nearly half a century. He was a Scotchman by birth but came to Canada when he was four years of age and together with his parents settled in the East Riding.

At twenty-two years of age, he was married to Miss Christena Conway, also of Otonabee, and ten children were born, namely Duncan, Hugh, Peter, Janet, now Mrs. Robert Gray, of Oshawa; John, Thomas, George, Mary, now Mrs. Wm. Philpot, of Iowa; Ellen, now Mrs. John Philpot, of Iowa; and Lizzie, wife of Mr. T. Reid, of the same place.

Mrs. McFee died in 1871, and six years later Mr. McFee took unto himself another wife in the person of Mrs. Isabella Webster, of Otonabee, and in 1881, accompanied by his entire family, with the exception of Mrs. Robert Gray, Mr. McFee moved to Iowa.

He returned to Otonabee during the summer to arrange some business affairs and to renew old acquaintances, but on his way home to the west again has only got as far as Peterborough, when he was suddenly taken so ill as to necessite his removal to the hospital. Mrs. McFee was summoned from Iowa by telegram and arrived, together with Mr. Geo. McFee, on Wednesday last. Mrs. Gray, of Oshawa, a daughter of the deceased, was by the bedside of her father on Monday last, and remained with him until his death.

Mr. McFee besides his large family by his first wife, also leaves five children by his second wife, the eldest of whom is fifteen years of age.

The remains, after being embalmed by Mr. D. Belleghem, were removed to the residence of Mr. Harry Gray, Water street, where the body was viewed yesterday by many of the relatives and friends of the deceased, both in the town and from the country.

When residing in Otonabee Mr. McFee was an elder of the Presbyterian church in Warsaw, and Rev. McKnight who was the pastor of the church at that time, conducted service at the house this morning, after which the remains were taken west on the G.T.R. by the early train.

Mr. Hugh McFee, of Dummer, and Mr. John McFee who resides in Otonabee, near Keene, are brothers of the deceased and were in town yesterday.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 75c. bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

TO MAKE A HORSE LIE DOWN.

An Illustration of Rarey's Method As Shown in "Tachyhippodamia."

The Kansas Farmer says in answer to a correspondent who requested a method of making a horse lie down gently:

We have had an illustration of Rarey's method made from "Tachyhippodamia," by Willis J. Powell, and published by the Dayton, Ohio, Historical Publishing Company. Mr. Rarey explains his method as follows:

To make a horse lie down, bend his left fore leg and slip a loop over it, so that he cannot get down. Then put a surcingle around the body and fasten one end of a long strap around the other fore leg, just above the hoof. Place the other end under the surcingle, so as to keep the strap in the right direction; take a short hold of it with your right hand; stand on left side of horse, grasp the bit in left hand, pull steadily on the strap with right hand, and bear against his shoulder till you cause him to move. As soon as he lifts his weight your pulling will raise the other foot, and he will have to come on his knees. Keep the strap tight in your hand so that he cannot straighten his leg if he rises up. Hold him in this position and turn his head toward you; bear against his side with your shoulder, with a steady, equal pressure, and in about ten minutes he will lie down, when he will be completely conquered and you can handle him as you please. Then take off the straps, straighten out his legs, rub him gently about the face and neck; handle all his legs, and after he has lain ten to twenty minutes let him get up. After a short rest go through the same operation again, and repeat it three or four times. The next day give him two lessons, and the following day two more. By this time he will lie down by taking hold of one foot. When he is well broken this way, tap him on the opposite leg with a stick when you take hold of his foot, and in a few days he will lie down from the mere motion of the stick.

HORSE WITH RAREY'S EXTRA STRAP ON.

We know two farm boys who trained a two-year-old colt by this method until he would lie down at the word of command. This was accomplished by saying "lie down," every time they took hold of his foot and tapped the other leg with the stick, and the horse soon got to associate the words with the act. After that the command was all that was necessary.

FASTENING FOR DOORS.

A Possible Improvement on Knobs and Catches for Certain Uses.

Dr. H. M. Shaw, of Genoa, N. Y., a dentist for many years, but also a pattern-maker and a man of some mechanical ingenuity, has suggested a substitute for the ordinary knob and latch for such doors as do not require locking. Upon the edge of the door itself he would place, at the proper height, merely a small metal or wooden projection. Opposite thereto, in a recess in the jamb, he would put a small upright lever, pivoted, as shown in our diagram, and having a notch cut in the rounded upper end. To the lower end is attached a stiff spring, whose upward pressure tends to throw the lever to one side or the other of a perpendicular, and to hold it in either of the two slanting positions indicated by the full lines and dotted lines of the diagram. In opening and closing the door the projection would engage the notch in the lever. Dr. Shaw believes that this plan would keep the door from rattling in the wind, and make it fit more snugly against the jamb-casing, thus excluding flies, ants and drafts of air. It would also involve less carpenter work. A door thus fastened could be opened with a push, without turning a knob or lifting a latch.—N. Y. Tribune.

The Most Dignified Pursuit.

It is a queer commentary on the state of affairs that while hundreds of thousands of men are idle and half starving in our cities, the farmers of the country are crying for help to do the necessary work on their farms. In many localities it is impossible to get farm help at prices that would have been considered large five years ago. It is possible that we are nearing a time when farming will be looked upon as a menial pursuit, which self-respecting men will not engage in? We hope not, for when that time comes we will see the beginning of the end. In old times the farmer was looked down upon, and was, in fact, a slave. In many countries he could not leave the manor upon which he was born, and was subjected to any privations or indignities that the owner of the land felt like afflicting him with. Then, with civilization, the tiller of the soil came to be recognized as an important factor in the prosperity of his country, and began to receive more consideration until within the last century he has come to the front, chiefly because of the high place he has won for himself in our country. The farmer won his place as one who must be recognized as the cornerstone of prosperity, and from his success the farmers of all the civilized world have profited. It is a noble calling, and it is to be hoped that the workers of our country will never be so blind to their own interests as to begin to despise farm work.—American Farmer.

When catarrh attacks a person of scrofulous diathesis, the disease is almost sure to become chronic. The only efficacious cure, therefore, is Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which expels scrofula from the system and the catarrh soon follows suit. Local treatment is only a waste of time.

Another Voice From Smith.

SMITH, July 7, 1892.

I was troubled with a nasty pain in the back and shoulders for a long time, and had tried several remedies without getting any relief. I thought at first it might be my lungs, as the doctor's say such pains are symptoms of lung trouble coming on, but I was induced to try a bottle of Membray's Kidney and Liver Cure, for sale at Tully's Drug Store, and after taking the second dose I was surprised to find the pains all leaving me. It acted like magic. I never knew anything that acted so quick on man or beast before.

"Only the Scars Remain,"

Says HENRY HUDSON, of the James Smith Woolen Machinery Co., Philadelphia, Pa., who certifies as follows:

"Among the many testimonials which I see in regard to certain medicines performing cures, cleansing the blood, etc., none impress me more than my own case. Twenty years ago, at the age of 18 years, I had swellings come on my legs, which broke and became running sores. Our family physician could do me no good, and it was feared that the bones would be affected. At last, my good old to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I took three bottles, the sores healed, and I have not been troubled since. Only the scars remain, and the memory of the past, to remind me of the good Ayer's Sarsaparilla has done me. I now weigh two hundred and twenty pounds, and am in the best of health. I have been on the road for the past twelve years, have noticed Ayer's Sarsaparilla advertised in all parts of the United States, and always take pleasure in telling what good it did for me."

Mother Urged Me

FIVE KILLED IN A FIRE

Buried Beneath the Falling Walls—Others Seriously Injured.

DETROIT, Oct. 6.—Five men of the fire brigade were killed and four or five seriously injured by the falling walls at the burning of Kennan & John's furniture store yesterday.

The front wall of the building tumbled into Woodward avenue. At the time several firemen were working on the sidewalk and all were buried beneath the brick and mortar. The first man taken from under the debris was Lieut. Michael H. Donoghue, of chemical engine No. 1. He was dead. The next body found was that of Richard Dely, pipeman of engine No. 9. He was lying under two iron columns and the head and back were frightfully crushed. The next dead man to be taken out was Pipeman John Pagel, of No. 9. He was crused by the tumbling walls. Frederick A. Bussey, a spectator, was taken to Grace Hospital and died.

Mike Gray was taken to Grace hospital, where he was found to be so badly injured about the head that he may die. Mike Boyle, pipeman of No. 9 is still in the ruins and certainly dead.

The loss on the building, which was a five storey brick structure, will be in the neighborhood of $100,000.

They Died Together.

HALIFAX, N.S., Oct. 6.—Alex. McEachren and his wife committed suicide at Dartmouth by poisoning. At the coroner's inquest last night on the remains the doctors who held the post mortem examination could not, at such short notice, give any opinion of the cause of death and adjournment was made until Thursday.

Crop and Implements Burned.

KINTAIL, Ont., Oct. 6.—The barn and all the season's crops, including hay, and nearly all the implements, belonging to Maurice Wallace, Ashfield township, have been destroyed by fire. Loss at least $1,200, partly insured. The fire was caused by children playing with matches at or near the straw stack.

A Mayor Charged With Assault.

HAMILTON, Oct. 6.—Mayor Stewart has been served with a summons charging him with assaulting William Lottridge at the Jockey Club track on September 22nd, the day of the Gymkana. The summons was handed to the Mayor by Magistrate Jelfs, and the case will be called at the Police Court to-day.

The Case Against the Conductors.

MONTREAL, Oct. 6.—The enquete in the case of the G. T. R. conductors, charged with "knocking down fares" was again postponed until Tuesday, at the request of the counsel for the prosecution. Lewis, the missing Queen's hotel porter, has not put in an appearance yet, but the detectives expect to secure him before long.

ITCHING AND PIN WORMS. PILES

No More Misery.

ITCHING PILES is an exceedingly painful and annoying affliction, found alike in the rich and poor, male and female. The principal symptoms are a severe itching, which is worst at night when the sufferer becomes warm in bed. So terrible is the itching that frequently it is impossible to procure sleep. Often the sufferer unconsciously during sleep scratches the parts until they are sore—ulcers and tumors form, excessive moisture is exuded. Females are peculiarly affected from this disease, causing unbearable irritation and trouble. These and every other symptom of Itching Piles or irritation in any part of the body are immediately allayed and quickly cured by Chase's Ointment. It will instantly stop itching, heal the sores and ulcers, dry up the moisture.

OINTMENT

Gives Instant Relief.

PIN WORMS is an ailment entirely different as to cause than Itching Piles, yet its effects and symptoms are exactly the same. The same intolerable itching; the same creeping, crawling, stinging sensation characterises both diseases. Chase's Ointment acts like magic. It will at once afford relief from this torment.

SUN LIFE ASSURANCE CO. OF CANADA.

From the CANADIAN TRADE REVIEW.

"There is no invidiousness involved in the assertion that no other Canadian company in existence can point to such a record of rapid, substantial and uninterrupted progress and prosperity as that exhibited in the successive annual reports of the Sun Life. . . . Most assuredly are its directors, shareholders and policy holders to be congratulated upon the very flourishing condition of the Company, and especially upon the result of the business of a year which was marked by the prevalence of conditions—the influenza epidemic, for instance—which proved disastrous for so many life companies. And with no less certainty can it be said that the very great progress made by the institution has been mainly due to the able and energetic efforts, guided by the sagacity and prudence which pratical experience alone can bring, of the President and Managing-Director, who has been efficiently assisted by the Secretary. From the contemplation of so successful a past the management may reasonably draw most sanguine anticipations as to the prosperity of the future.

FARM AND GARDEN

THE FARM HORSES.

Why They Should Have the Best of Care at All Seasons.

How much of our success in farming is due to the long suffering labors of our patient farm horses. Hence, it is of primary importance that we handle and care for them in the wisest manner, both from a humane standpoint, and from a mercenary one as well, as we wish to extend their period of usefulness as long as possible, and thereby get as much work out of them as can be obtained. With good feed, regularly supplied, horses will stand steady work through the entire day and yet keep in good condition, providing they are not worried by a senseless, thoughtless driver.

In the first place the farm horses should have comfortable commodious stables that are cool, airy and well-ventilated. Close, narrow stalls are an abomination. Every hard working horse should at least be allowed a good wide box stall in which he can stretch out his legs, and rest in comfort. Of ccdrse comfortable bedding should be supplied. Not so heavy a bedding is needed now as in winter, but a thin layer of sawdust, dry loam, or straw is needed to permit an animal to lie easy, as well as to keep him clean. To keep air of stables sweet and wholesome, sprinkle about a little land plaster occasionally.

The hard-working horse must have liberal rations. Oats seem best fitted for horses, but they are somewhat expensive, and for slow-working farm teams, corn and bran may profitably be compounded with the oats. An excellent ration consists of one-third each, of cracked corn, bran and oats. Of this combination, the farm horse may receive twelve quarts per day, or four quarts morning, noon and night. It is a mistake to work an animal all day, and then turn him out very hungry to pasture by the roadside, to get his living. Thus the poor beast must work both night and day. By all means feed the grain ration first, with a little good hay or cut grass, then if a cool pasture is available, the animal may be turned loose to rest in the open air.

Regular, thorough grooming, and well-oiled, properly-fitting harnesses are further items upon which the good condition of the farm team depends. Grooming is the equivalent of a certain quantity of grain, and is it not reasonable that a horse whose skin is kept open, and the pores unclogged, should be more healthy and vigorous and capable of performing more work than one that received no attention in this direction?

Then there is no question but what a harness that is pliant and supple from regular applications of oil, is found to last longer and bear less heavily upon the horses than one that is hard and stiff turough neglect. A well-oiled harness means less chafing, fewer galls and sores. In conclusion, it may be repeated, that our farm horses deserve all the kindness and good care that can be given them.—M. Sumner Perkins, in Ohio Farmer.

It Shuts Itself.

This gate hits my idea of one that will shut itself and open each way better than any I ever saw. A shows the irons for the upper hinge, B shows the lower hinge, which has double pinions, while C shows the catch driven into the post with the spring. To open and shut itself the gate must be hung about four inches out of plumb, having the lower hinge, B, project out from the post that much farther than the upper one. It shuts then just like a wagon rolling down hill. The lower hinge, B, must be eight inches from slot to slot.—J. J. Wagner, in Orange Judd Farmer.

Mats for the Table.

It is too bad to have one's polished tables and stands covered with little rings where a vase has stood and the water has overflowed. There is no need of this, either. Everybody should have on hand an abundant supply of these mats. These need not be obtrusive in design. In fact, no one wants any more the elaborate confection that were once wont to call attention to their crocheted splendors in our drawing rooms. Make the latter-day vase mats of small rounds of olive-green felt, preferably not ornamented at all except for a "pinked" border. No one will notice them, but they will keep your rosewood and mahogany from harm.

SEVENTEEN YEARS OF IT.

Charles Schryver had Kidney Disease all This Time and Didn't Know it—How he Found Out and How he was Cured.

TORONTO, Oct. 1.—Sixteen years ago kidney disease attacked Charles Schryver, a bricklayer in this city, but he did not know it. It showed itself in the form of pains in the small of the back. They did not amount so much at first, but kept growing worse. Within the past six years Mr. Schryver has almost every week had to quit work for one or two days on account of their severity. Doctors ascribed them to the liver and other causes and prescribed, but their medicine did no good. Last spring a city physician diagnosed the case as one of diabetes and wanted to prescribe, but Mr. Schryver said:—"No, if its diabetes I'll use Dodd's Kidney Pills, which I know will cure me." They did cure him, too, and to-day Mr. Schryver is free from ache or pain and able to do his day's work, week in and week out, with any man in his trade.

MOVEMENTS IN THE EAST.

A Large Force of Japanese Land on the Chinese Coast.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Tien Tsin correspondent of the Times telegraphs: "The Japanese are pursuing the campaign toward Moukden cautiously, avoiding all dashing enterprises. Japanese cruisers are closely watching the Chinese fleet in the Gulf of Pechili. The Japanese by paying for supplies and keeping discipline are gaining the sympathies of the Coreans.

The Daily Graphic prints a despatch from Shanghai saying that Japanese transports have landed a large force at Talien-Wan, on the Chinese coast, northeast of Port Arthur.

A despatch from Shanghai says: "Native reports from the Corean frontier say that the Chinese have abandoned their positions at Ngan and retired upon Kaichan. There is a vague rumor that the Chinese officials contemplate totally blocking the Woo-Sung bar."

The Standard's Berlin correspondent telegraphs: "The Japanese government has instructed Gen Count Yakagata to inform the diplomatists at Seoul that the Japanese will not be allowed to plunder Pekin in the event of their capturing the city."

The Central News correspondent in Rome says: "It is semi-officially announced that the Italian minister in Pekin has offered the Chinese government Italy's mediation in the question at issue between China and Japan."

PARIS, Oct. 8.—The French warships Isly, Alger, Dugnay-Tronin and Lutin have been ordered to Chinese waters. It is semi-officially stated that, besides the protection of French residents in China, the French government has in view possible contingencies arising from the war. The Temps says that the naval officials at Brest have been ordered to hold the warships in readiness to proceed at a moment's notice.

ROME, Oct. 8.—Despatches from Pekin say that that the Board of Foreign Affairs has issued a note to the representatives of the foreign powers limiting the rights of neutrals. The British, Russian, French and Italian representatives decline to accede to China's wishes in this respect.

BERLIN, Oct. 8.—Under the approval of the Emperor Chancellor von Caprivi has telegraphed to Lord Kimberley, British Foreign Minister, informing him that the German squadron will co-operate with the English fleet to protect Europeans at Chinese ports.

TO PARNELL'S MEMORY.

The Anniversary of the Great Irish Leader Fittingly Celebrated.

DUBLIN, Oct. 8.—The anniversary of Charles Stewart Parnell's death was celebrated impressively here yesterday. No such crowds have been seen in Glasnevin Cemetery since the day of his funeral. Special trains came from all parts of Ireland, bringing thousands of the dead leader's admirers. The procession was marshalled by Timothy Harrington and was punctual and orderly from beginning to end. The memorial contained countless wreaths and designs in flowers from Ireland, America, Australia, India and several continental countries.

Among the most conspicuous persons in the procession were J. H. Parnell, the agitator's brother; Mr. Dickinson, his sisters, John Redmond, Wm. Redmond, James McGuire, John Nolan, J. E. Kenny, John J. Clancy, William Field, L. P. Hayden, (all members of parliament), many exmembers of parliament, the Lord Mayor of Dublin and the Mayor of Cork, each in full robes of his office.

The procession was led by a mounted guard of citizens who wore mourning scarfs. The band came next, followed by the memorial car. The most notable among the flowers was a great harp of lilies, sent by the staff of the Independent. Round it were the flowers from America, Dublin, Cork and Waterford.

The Irish Parliamentary party followed the car and behind them walked the staff of the Independent, the Lord Mayor, the majority of the corporation, the Foresters, representatives of the Dublin trades, post office officials and delegates from every county in Ireland. There were 49 bands besides the large one near the head of the procession and all played the "Dead March from Saul" as they marched to Glasnevin. Thousands along the line of march wore the ivy leaf and many houses were draped.

When the procession arrived at Glas Nevin the crowd near Parnell's grave was parted and the delegations filed slowly by, each placing flowers within the grave circles. As they left the line the delegates retired to the outskirts of the cemetery and dispersed.

Fight With Mutinous Convicts.

FAYETTEVILLE, N.C., Oct. 8.—Louis Crawford, a veteran convict, who has done time in both the Carolinas, made a rush at Jailor Clark on Saturday with the intention of smothering him with a blanket. Clark, perceiving his object, shot, mortally wounding the prisoner in the left side. Several other prisoners rallied to Crawford's assistance, and in the desperate battle which ensued Jailer Clark's pistol was again discharged, seriously wounding Assistant Jailer Bramble and a prisoner. After a terrible fight the prisoners were driven back to their cells.

Haggard's Suit Against the Publishers.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—Judge Acheson, of the United States Circuit Court, heard argument on Saturday on a demurrer to the bill of complaint of the novelist, H. Rider Haggard and the publishing firm of Longmans, Green & Co., of New York, against the Waverley Co., of New York, for an alleged infringement by the latter of the copyright of Haggard's novel, "Nada, the Lilly." This is the first case arising under the new international copyright law passed in 1890 and involves the constitutionality of the Act.

Fight Between Negroes and Whites.

HAWESVILLE, Ky., Oct. 8.—A fight occurred at Powell's station, west of this city, between three dozen negroes and a few white men. An excursion train was returning from the Owensboro' fair, when the negroes, enraged because they were made to ride in a separate coach, made a rush for the other cars. Soon the blacks began shooting and United States Deputy Marshal Moses Bullington and others replied. Several of the whites were wounded, but none killed, though every window in one car was shot out. Bullington and his comrades assert that at least seven negroes were killed and many others wounded.

Terrible Death of a Female Balloonist.

FRANKLINVILLE, N.Y., Oct. 8.—Beatrice von Dressen, the young female balloonist, made an ascension on the Franklinville Fair grounds at 6 o'clock and when over fifteen hundred feet in the air she fell from the balloon and was instantly killed. She had a parachute attached to the balloon and was trying to loosen it and lost her balance. Where she struck the ground it was indented nearly a foot with the imprint of her head, shoulders and arm. She was but 17 years old and had been in the business three years.

CHURCH CHIMES.

Rev. Mr. Rae conducted services at Riverdale yesterday afternoon.

The Emerald Trio sang several selections at the morning service in George street church.

The Board of Managers of the George street Methodist church, will meet Tuesday evening.

A Young Peoples meeting of the congregation of George street church, will be held Tuesday evening.

The anthem "My heart is fixed" was most beautifully rendered by the choir of St. John's, last evening.

The offerings of the Park street Baptist Sunday school for Foreign Missions yesterday amounted to five dollars and fifty-four cents.

The choir of the Park street Baptist church rendered the anthem "Jesus is Tenderly calling," in a most acceptable manner at the evening service last night.

Mr. A. M. McDonald, of Hamilton, who is blind, attracted quite a number around him in the Park, yesterday afternoon, by reading the Scripture from a raised letter volume.

Yesterday was sacrament Sunday in St. Paul's Presbyterian church, and in consequence no anthems were rendered, the service assuming a more subdued form than usual.

At the morning service in Charlotte street church yesterday morning the solo entitled "Abide With Me" was admirably taken by Mr. R. A. Shaw, as was Mr. A. L. Davis' solo, "Palm Branches." In the evening the anthem 'God is a Spirit" was well rendered.

On Tuesday evening next the young people of St. John's congregation are requested to assemble in the school house in order to consider the advisability of forming a Young Peoples' Association in connection with the church. It is hoped that a large number will be in attendance.

The offertory which was taken up in St. John's church yesterday was devoted to the augmentation of the Widows' and Orphans' Fund. The church wishes to raise $6,000 this year for this purpose, and St. John's parish is expected to contribute $122 towards the fund during the month of October.

Mr. Pady, of the Park street Baptist Mission, spoke on the subject of Foreign Missions, at the morning services yesterday. He reviewed the work of the past, beginning with the zeal of William Carey, and dwelt upon the progress which had been made in late years. The work of the Canadian Baptists in India was expanded upon to considerable length and the necessity of funds wherewith to carry on the work was strongly urged. The offerings were donated to this purpose.

CAARLOTTE STREET METHODIST CHURCH.

The Rev. J. J. Rae, occupied his own pulpit yesterday and preached to large congregations, both morning and evening. At the morning service the pastor spoke a few words in explanation of the condition of the temperature of the church, as repairs are being made on the furnaces. He promised that they should be more comfortable next Sabbath. He quoted a few lines from Burns, describing the cauld condition of the kirk and minister in his day. Mr. Rae remarked such was not our condition. Although the outward appearance of the organ suggested that changes were being made, yet the music part was complete. The opening prayer was an earnest appeal for the blessing of God to rest upon the services. The various wants and needs of the people were faithfully presented to a throne of grace. The preacher, in selecting his lessons and texts, does not confine himself to the new Testament, but brings things new and old out of the treasury of the Lord. The lesson of the day was the 11th chapter of Genesis, and the text was selected from the first clause of the 4th verse, "And they said, go to, let us build us a city, and a tower whose top may reach unto heaven." As a preacher the sermons that have been delivered by Mr. Rae in the past as the present have been laid on the only sure foundation, Jesus Christ. This was the groundwork of the theme, other foundation can no man lay. The builders on the plain of Shinar were men of intelligence, skilled in building, laid out their plans, selected the best of material, had laid out the site of the city, were all agreed as to the necessity of building an immense tower. The world had been destroyed by a deluge the windows of Heaven had been opened and the fountains of the great deep were broken up and every human being had perished, with the exception of Noah and his family, who had been preserved in a miraculous manner—therefore, the necessity of building the tower. All their plans were well laid, only one thing was wanting, they forgot to take the great Architect of the universe into their counsels. If they had done this, there would have been no need of building this tower. They could have saved all this expense. The preacher shewed his intimate knowledge of his subject, in the masterly way in which he handled it. Beginning at the foundation, he pointed out that everything built on earth will perish; nothing will stand the inspection of the great Judge that is not built on a better foundation than this earth. After commending the good qualities that tend to make up moral character, such as honesty, morality and other virtues—all are insufficient to build on to reach heaven. They are helps, but of themselves are insufficient to meet the wants of the case. The remedy was given in plain, clear language, build only on the rock Jesus Christ. The exhortation in closing the discourse was an earnest appeal from a practical Christian's standpoint, and saint and sinner must have been blessed, encouraged and helped. Such morning congregations should cheer and encourage the pastor in his labour of love.

The choir was very helpful, and Mr. Shaw took the solos morning and evening. The evening selection was "Abide With Me. Fast Falls the Eventide. The pastor preached a fine discourse in the evening on Methodism, chosing for a text 6th chapter of St. John, 63rd verse: "The words that I speak unto you they are spirit and they are life. Space prevents giving a synopsis of this able and instructive discourse.

Fatal Trolley Accident in Montreal.

MONTREAL, Oct. 8.—Another fatal street railway accident occurred on Saturday on St. Catharine street. Edward Maher, a young man who was being trained as a second conductor, was in the act of crossing from a trolley car to a trailer to collect a fare, when he missed his footing and fell heavily to the ground. The front wheels of the trailer passed over his body, which was dragged for a considerable distance before the car could be brought to a standstill. The man was dead by the time the ambulance arrived at the scene of the accident.

Quebec's New Treasurer.

QUEBEC, Oct. 8.—At a meeting of the Cabinet Hon. L. O. Taillon was chosen Provincial Treasurer pro tem. It is said on good authority that Judge Wurtele will be named senior judge of the Court of Queen's Bench. Judge Davidson will be appointed at Judge Wurtele's place at the Court of Appeals and Hon. J. S. Hall will succeed Judge Davidson in the Supreme Court.

Protest Against Germany's Tobacco Tax.

BERLIN, Oct. 8.—Five social democratic mass meetings were held here yesterday to protest against the tobacco tax which is to be proposed by the government. In their resolutions they protested against depriving 50,000 workingmen of employment by increasing the tax on tobacco, and denouncing the government for violating its promise to put the burden of the last army bill on the shoulders of the rich.

HOUSE DECORATING SEASON

Greatest Wall Paper Values Ever Shown

We ask you to investigate the claims we have made for some time past, that we are selling Wall Papers, Window Shades, Cornice Poles and Room Moulding, of all grades, at the Lowest Prices that have ever been quoted. We know our claims are well founded; and as house cleaning, or rather HOUSE DECORATING, season again comes round, we ask you to let us convince you of the fact.

The majority of homes are re-papered and decorated during the fall months in preparation and anticipation of the many duties which devolve upon you during the long social winter season. This is the time when one lives indoors and enjoys interior decorations.

THE SHRUBS AND VINES.

THE BEAUTIFUL SPECIMENS WHICH FLOURISH AT THIS SEASON.

The Sweet Pepper Bush With Its Sweet Scented White Flowers—The Rose of Sharon—The Trumpet Vine and the Blood-Leaved Plum.

One of the shrubs which we always look for at this season of the year, and which never disappoints us is the beautiful sweet pepper bush, Clethra alnifolia. This is a native shrub, found in wet places, which bears numerous spikes of sweet scented white flowers. It is just the shrub for a wet spot on one's grounds where but few other sorts would grow. I have one of them in such a situation, and though the bush is but about five feet in height there are as many as 500 blooming spikes on it to day. Like almost all fall blooming shrubs it gives but little promise in early spring of what it will be at this season.

What a lovely yet neglected vine is the scarlet clematis! The flowers are about an inch in length, somewhat bell shaped, borne on long stems and in profusion. The vine is deciduous, dying to the ground every fall, but getting stronger and growing more vigorous every year. It ought to be better known than it is. Flowering at the same time, though totally different in habit of growth and in the character of the flowers, is the European clematis, vitalba, called traveller's joy. This grows rampantly, soon covering a large space, and now it is full of sprays of white flowers. Still another one, and one resembling the last-named to some extent, is the flammula, called the sweet scented. It, too, is a European species. It is very much esteemed for its fragrance and beauty.

Succeeding the first blooming of the running sorts of honeysuckles there are now flowering some of the half shrubby sorts, such as flava, yellow; sempervirens, scarlet, and belgica, pinkish white. The latter sort is nicely scented, but, unfortunately aphis are very fond of the flowers.

And what splendid shrubs the Rose of Sharon or althæa bushes are for summer blooming! Some bloom early, others late, so that from this date, which sees the first opening flowers, till frost comes, blossoms can be had by a selection of about a dozen kinds. There are single and there are double kinds, and two varieties with variegated foliage, and these variegated ones stand the sun splendidly, which but few other variegated shrubs will do.

There is hardly anything more showy at this season than the trumpet vine, Bignonia radicans. At the extremity of its long shoots made this season are huge clusters of scarlet trumpet-shaped flowers, and one after another the flowers come for several weeks in succession. For covering old buildings, decaying trees, etc., it is a splendid vine. It can be made into a beautiful lawn ornament by fastening it to a stake for a few years, by which time it will have strength enough in itself to keep upright as a small tree, in which position it is uncommonly beautiful when in bloom—equally as handsome as the Chinese species, grandiflora. The flowers are even larger than in our native species, and they are of a yellowish-red color. I saw a large specimen of this one last week, completely covering the trunk of a deseased tree from the ground to a height of 20 feet. It was loaded with flowers, and the display was certainly unique.

Prunus pissardi, the blood-leaved plum, is universally known and esteemed for its blood-red leaves and its lasting color, there being little or no dimunition of color even at the last days of autumn. I saw a new use made of it last week. Some dwarf, though strong plants, had been obtained, and these were planted in a bed just as coleus are. It was a great success, the blood-red foliage being exceedingly striking. The plant or shrub bears clipping well, and this clipping forces out the young growth, which is always the highest colored.

A good yellow-flowered shrub blooming now is Potentilla fruticosa. When let grow as it will, it makes an open, rather straggling bush; but cut it down in the spring, and it will sprout up bushily and bloom later and more profusely than when untouched. A bush pruned in this way is in flower now, and is greatly admired.

Calycanthus floridus, the eastern one, has been out of flower for some time; but another, the Pacific coast species, known as occidentalis, has been flowering for several weeks past. These are the well-known sweet shrubs; and this western one is no way behind the other in its delightful fragrance, though scarcely as hardy.

Hydrangea radiata is a native of the mountains of Virginia and North Carolina. While the flowers are not pretty, being of an imperfect white color, the leaves are exceptionally so—their under side being of a beautiful silvery color, which, when exposed by passing winds, contrasts nicely with the green of the upper side.

In this period of scarcity of flowers in the shrubbery, the bright berries on the Tartarian honeysuckle and the cotoneasters must not be passed unnoticed.—Joseph Meehan, in Country Gentleman.

Notes for Gardeners.

Prompt action on the first appearance of an insect pest will often so effectually destroy it as to prevent its becoming established.

Aconite of monkshood is a perennial weed. The root has been mistaken for horseradish with fatal results. It should be destroyed wherever found by cutting below the surface as soon as a leaf shows above it.

Norway Pine Syrup strengthens the lungs and cures all throat troubles, coughs, colds, etc.

Mastiff Plug Cut, always moist, cool, sweet and full of that rich comforting flavor, only obtainable from the highest grades of Virginia leaf tobacco.

TURNBULL'S

Our Millinery opening is now over and has been a decided success, and it is very gratifying to be able to state that we never had more visitors or took more orders, which simply shows the fact that our selection of Millinery is very choice and varied. Our turnover in this department is so large that we can afford to buy everything new as it appears each week. Thus our customers are always sure of getting the latest styles and closest prices with us.

MANTLES.

In the Mantle department things are on the move. Our best garments are going out rapidly. We have a large and varied stock and our prices are rock bottom, as we import direct from the manufacturers. We keep the very best qualities of Astrachans and Seal ettes to be made up to order. Any one thinking of buying a cheap Fur Coat should see these Cloths first as they make up more effective, and are twice as durable, and can be made up in any of the new shapes. Our Mantle maker is one the best in the country, turning her work out as well as any tailor.

WILL LEAD THE LOCAL PARTY

Dr. Montague to be Taken Into the Cabinet—Hon. T. M. Daly's Arrival at Ottawa Means the Settlement of the Lieut.-Governorship of Manitoba.

OTTAWA, Oct. 9.—Hon. T. M. Daly is expected to arrive here to-day. Within the next few days after his arrival it is said that the lieutenant-governorship of Manitoba will be settled one way or another. Mr. Ross will then be appointed or will be told that the constituency of Lisgar cannot be opened until after the next general election.

Patterson to Lead in Ontario.

The report is current in official circles to the effect that the Hon. J. C. Patterson, Minister of Militia, will retire from the Government and accept the lead of the Opposition in the province in the place of Mr. Meredith. His retirement would mean that Dr. Montague would be included in whatever shuffle was to be made to bring this about.

Justice Burbidge's Decision.

Justice Burbidge, in the Exchequer Court, has refused to amend the judgment in the Larkin-Connolly case, so as to include the terms of settlement made by counsel.

Commander Tupper, R.N.

There has arrived in Ottawa from China on a brief visit to his relative, Sir C. H. Tupper, one of the youngest commanders in the Imperial navy. Commander R. Tupper is only 34 years of age, but has a splendid record of naval service in different parts of the world, which doubtless accounts for his rapid promotion. Until a few weeks ago he was first lieutenant on H.M.S. Mercury, of the Chinese squadron, but having received his promotion, he is now on his way to England to join another ship. Commander Tupper leaves for England via New York.

Serious Explosion in a Bank Vault.

WATERLOO, Ont., Oct. 9.—A serious explosion occurred here at the Waterloo branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce at the hour for beginning the day's business. Ed. Kreutziger, junior clerk, was in the act of lighting the gas to illuminate the vault, which had just been opened, when a deafening explosion took place, knocking him with great force against the counter and otherwise bruising him. He is badly burned and lacerated on the face, neck and hands, the skin hanging in shreds in several places. He was taken to a drug store and his wounds dressed by Drs. Webb and Armitage. He will recover, but will probably be laid up for some weeks. A serious conflagration was averted by Teller Snyder rushing in and putting out the fire which had already caught the bank's books. The heavy plate glass windows were badly wrecked, having been blown out and across the street against the opposite building by the force of the concussion. The cause of the explosion was due to the leakage in the gas pipes allowing gas to escape into the vault.

Captured a Yankee Bail Jumper.

MONTREAL, Oct. 9.—Deputy Marshal T. F. Freel, of New York, made quite a clever arrest in this city when he gathered in one Henry Gottlelb, charged with arson, who had skipped his bail bonds. The accused was arrested in New York and the grand jury brought in a bill for arson in the second degree. He was allowed out on $350, but when the day for trial arrived he had skipped and the bail was forfeited. The deputy marshal got an intimation that he was in Montreal and arrived here yesterday, and after watching the house for three hours observed his man going into a boot and shoe store near by. He at once arristed him. He will fight extradition.

A Halifax Divorce Case.

HALIFAX, Oct. 9.—A divorce case commenced here yesterday. The petitioner is Mrs. Lovett, wife of Mr. I. M. Lovett, of Yarmouth. They were married in 1887 at Woodstock by Rev. Thos. Dunstead. Two children were the result of the marriage. The wife alleges in her petition that the husband has been in the habit of remaining out late at night and drinking. She also alleges that her husband became acquainted with Miss Fanny Wade and that the latter alienated her husband's affections. Mrs. Lovett also charges her husband with cruelty. The petition contains various other statements relative to alleged bad conduct and cruelty of her husband.

Balfour in the Netherlands.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—The Morning Post has a despatch from Buenos Ayres, reporting that Jabez Spencer Balfour, who wrecked the Liberator Building Society, escaped from Salta on August 16, and is supposed to be in the Netherlands.

British Elections at Hand.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—In addressing the Liberals of Louth, Shaw Lefevre, president of the local government board, said that the general election could not be postponed long. It would certainly be held before the end of another year.

To Meet a Growing Cattle Trade.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—After a conference with the Castle Traders' Association the Mersey board have agreed to extend the woodside lairages at an expense of £100,000 to accommodate the growing trade in cattle.

CHINESE NOT TRUSTED

Hated Mongolians Guard the Emperor's Palace at Pekin.

FOREIGNERS IN THE NAVY

All the European Officers Engaged by the Chinese Government—Railroad Construction Stopped—A Writer Compares the Chinese With the Japanese.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—The Vienna correspondent of the Daily News telegraphs: "The palace in Pekin is guarded by Mongolians, because the Chinese are no longer trusted. There are daily fights between the Chinese and the Mongolians; the latter are greatly hated."

A Times reporter writing from Tien Tsin in August compares the scenes there with what he had observed earlier in the month during a visit to Japan. He says: "The change was like that from one planet to another. Japan throbbed with silent energy and was quietly working to a definite end. China was in a state of aimless turmoil, like a colony of perturbed ants. Japan made a careful and orderly provision for war. There was no hurry, no friction. Everybody knew his duty and everybody performed it. The world has seldom beheld an executive machine in better working order and worked with more consumate skill. In China, on the other hand, the only system which is general is the system of sham, and the navy is a sham. They are not fighting forces, but means of livelihood."

The reporter reiterates the stories of corruption and peculation of officers, and continues: "The troops are mostly rabble and the Japanese ought to march through them like a snow-plough through snow."

The reporter throws a new light on the Asan fight. The Japanese, he says, vainly attempted the tactics adopted at Ping Yang, but the movements were so managed that separate Japanese divisions fired upon each other with disastrous effect. The Chinese cut their way through and reached Ping Yang after twenty-six hours' fighting.

The Tien-Tsin correspondent of the Times says that railway construction in China has been suspended and all the European officers have been engaged by the government for the naval service.

CHATHAM FARMERS EXCITED.

Four Incendiary Fires in Succession—Hunting for the Firebugs.

CHATHAM, Ont., Oct. 9.—Yesterday between 2 and 3 o' look the barns of Mr. Lucas, 3rd concession of Chatham, were discovered to be on fire and in a short time were completely destroyed, together with contents. About half past three a hay stack belonging to Mr. Tompkins was fired. After a hard struggle the barns were saved. While this fire was in progress the barns of Mr. Kahue were found to be in flames and in a few minutes were a complete loss; no insurance. The next barn fired was that of Mr. Marshall and it was also destroyed with its contents.

These fires all took place within a distance of one mile and were undoubtedly the work of incendiaries.

For some time past considerable ill feeling has existed between white and colored men at threshings as to dining at the same table and threats were made that they, the latter, would take revenge. The whole neighborhood is thoroughly aroused and a vigilance committee is now hunting down the firebugs, and it is declared that if the gulprits are caught they will never be brought to trial.

The total loss in barns, cattle, agricultural implements and crops will amount to between $6,000 and $7,000. About half of this is said to be covered by insurance.

Sunday Baseball in Windsor.

WINDSOR, Oct. 9.—There was an exciting time at the Windsor Driving Park on Sunday when Officers Giles and Lister arrived to stop a game of baseball between the Chiefs of Detroit and the Liners of Windsor. The police seized the pile of coats and the score card with the names, while the players disappeared over the fence. A hot race for the ferry began. So fleet footed were they that only one was arrested. The police hold the coats and baseball paraphernalia until the matter is settled. Smidt, the player captured, was fined yesterday, the charge being desecration of the Sabbath. There were over 200 spectators at the driving park and with them the two officers had a lively altercation, the crowd demanding that the coats be given up.

A Dishonest Grand Trunk Cashier.

HAMILTON, Oct. 9.—Fred Filgiano, cashier in the freight office of the G. T. R. here, left the city suddenly a few days ago and since then nothing has been heard of him. Several days ago Mr. J. McLerin, the freight agent, handed in his resignation to the company and on account of his departure it became necessary to make an audit of the books. Filgiano learned that an auditor was coming from Montreal and shortly afterwards left town. There is a shortage in his accounts and it is charged that he has been using the company's funds for his own private use.

British Postal Officials in Canada.

MONTREAL, Oct. 9.—There has arrived in Montreal by the Mongolian three gentlemen of the British postal service who have none of them had less than thirty years experience of official duty. These are Mr. Lafin Hill, one of the assistant Secretaries of the General Postoffice, London, an office which controls the whole letter and telegraph arrangements of the United Kingdom; Mr. James J. Gardin, the Receiver land Accountant General of the same office, and Mr. J. D. Rich, the Postmaster of Liverpool. They will go west as far as Vancouver.

A Bicyclist Killed by a Trolley.

HAMILTON, Oct. 9.—Trolley car No. 44, going east, ran down and killed Robert Welshman, a salesman employed at Oak Hall clothing store. Welshman was mounted on a bicycle and attempted to cross the track in front of the car at the corner of King and Catharine streets, but either misjudged the car's distance or its speed. The motorman stopped the car within sixty feet, but both wheels passed over Welshman's chest and he died almost instantly. Deceased was almost 30 years of age and leaves a widow and two children, who reside on Aikman avenue.

TRIBUTES TO HOLMES

England's Regret at the Death of the Famous "Autocrat."

ENCONIUMS OF THE PRESS

All Unite in Paying Tribute to His Genius—The Poet's Death Was Unexpected by His Family—In "My Aviary" He Breathed His Last.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—The Standard this morning says: "The death of Dr. Holmes will be regretted by the whole English speaking world. His writing doubtless will continue to have much influence in fostering good feeling between England and America."

Justin McCarthy has in to-day's Daily News a column of personal recollections of O. W. Holmes. He says: "I have never known anybody more lovable, or, in his way, more gifted."

The News says editorially: "We think it is as a poet that O. W. Holmes will live. His prose is full of singular charm, yet the protean changefulness of mood, so characteristic of his genius, finds more adequate expression in metre."

The Westminster Gazette, in an article on the death of Oliver Wendell Holmes, says: "Dr. Holmes was a warm-hearted and keen-witted American, who smilingly compelled his readers to enter into his own personality. A kindlier philosopher never made fun for himself and his fellows."

The Globe says the news of the death of Dr. Holmes will be received by English-speaking people all over the world with a feeling of personal bereavement. He endeared himself to his readers, winning their love before obtaining their admiration.

The Morning Post says: "Englishmen will not soon forget it was O. W. Holmes' head that prompted the hand which wrote some of the most fervent words in which this country was ever apostrophized."

The Daily Telegraph says: "The English speaking and reading world loses in him one of the most illustrious men of the letters and subtile humorists of the century."

The Daily Chronicle says: "Within his own limits Dr. Holmes won an almost unique position of universal love and respect."

The Times says that as a talker and press writer Mr. Holmes was unique, but as a poet he was overshadowed by Lowell. Referring to his kindliness towards England, the Times adds: "In return England entertains a feeling of personal affection for his name and memory. He will live not only as a favorite author, but as a beloved personality."

The Death of Mr. Holmes.

BOSTON, Oct. 9.—Death came to Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes in a chamber overlooking the Charles river and immortalised in the famous poem "My Aviary." The members of the family were unprepared for his death. Dr. Holmes and his son, Judges Holmes, were in the midst of a conversation in the poet's chamber and there was no evidence that the end was so near.

The dying poet was sitting in a chair with his head resting on the arm of another chair, and it was thought he would be more comfortable if he could be moved into his favorite arm chair, an old-fashioned piece of furniture with a winged back. Accordingly his son supported Dr. Holmes to the big chair, and as the poet sank into it he leaned his head on one of the side rests and said: "That is better, thank you." This simple phrase was the final utterance of Dr. Holmes.

His son noticed that the Doctor's breathing became irregular and almost immediately ceased altogether.

Dr. Holmes was down town as late as last Thursday at the Parker House making arrangements for the meeting of the Saturday club and despite his great age and his bronchial affection he was in good spirits. During the summer, except his asthmatic troubles, Dr. Holmes had been in good health.

The funeral services are to take place in Kings chapel to-morrow and the Rev. Edward Everett Hale, D.D., will officiate. Burial will be in the family plot at Mount Auburn. The services are to be of a semi-public nature, it is understood, although the details have not been perfected.

A Fatal Gun Accident.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—Geo. S. Nixon, an employe of the Parisian Steam Laundry Company, was killed on Saturday night by the accidental discharge of a gun which he was removing from a buggy. The hammer caught in some manner and exploded, the charge blowing off the top of the young man's head.

The Czar Mentally Depressed.

VIENNA, Oct. 9.—The Neue Wiener Tageblatt says that the Czar's mental depression has been evident to all who approached him the last few days.

Threw Himself Before a Train.

SHELBURNE, Ont., Oct. 9.—William Wrand, a young printer, committed suicide by throwing himself before a fast approaching freight train. Wrand was clad in a night robe and concealed himself near the track until the train was quite close to him, when he leaped forward on the rails. The train passed over him, cutting him in two. No motive can be assigned by the young man's parents.

Mercier in the Hospital.

MONTREAL, Oct. 9.—Mr. Mercier, at the request of his family and himself, has been removed from his residence on St. Denis street to Notre Dame hospital. Madame Mercier remains with him night and day. The malady has now reached its most advanced degree and gangrene has set in in his limbs.

Fire in Dutton.

DUTTON, Ont., Oct. 9.—Fire broke out in a small oil house at the rear of the store of D. H. Taylor. The frame store owned by Mr. Savage, G.T.R station agent of Guelph, also those of B. A. Kirkland, druggist; T. Smith, boots and shoes, and J. S. Ostrander, jeweller, were burned. The goods were saved. Loss, $4,000; partly insured.

North Essex Conservatives.

WINDSOR, Oct. 9.—Dr. H. R. Casgrain has informed a committee of the Windsor Conservatives that he would consent to be a candidate at the convention for nomination as a member of the Dominion House to represent the north riding of Essex.

Daily Examiner.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1894.

CREDIT to whom credit is due is the right thing, and it gives the EXAMINER great pleasure to note that the Health Convention in Montreal under the auspices of the American Health Association had high words of praise for the excellent quarantine arrangements of the Dominion Government at Grosse Isle. The importance of having safe and reliable defences at the gateway of Canada against the invasion of the disease is not only to be recognized in relation to health, but bears directly upon the freedom of commercial intercourse with outside nations, especially the neighbours at our doors.

THE average price of wheat last week in England was 21s. 7d. a quarter, the lowest figure reached in two hundred years. But a Stratford man has pointed out that it was lower in Canada forty years ago than now. He bought wheat then at three York shillings--37½ cents — per bushel. And the proceeds of a bushel of wheat will buy vastly more now than then. In spite of this fact, it costs the producers of wheat more to live in the present day. They live differently.

SUPPOSING, says the London Advertiser, the talked of union between the Methodists and Presbyterians of the Dominion were to take place, their combined total of members and adherents, according to the last Dominion census, would be 1,603,091. A pretty good team. The aggregate of the Church of England, Baptist, Congregational, Presbyterian and Methodist in the Dominion is set down at 2,579,872, members and adherents.

THE Empire has now full scope for its great activities. Added to its nightmarish contract of finding a seat for Hon. Mr. Harty, is the disgustingly perplexing task of finding a head for the Opposition, This latter may result in giving Hon. Mr. Harty a short rest so that he can see about that dam at the foot of Swamp Lake, which the people and council of Galway are petitioning for.

Hon Steven Richards, Q.C., Provincial Secretary in the Sanfield Macdonald government, who died suddenly at Toronto the other day, retired from active politics the same year that Mr. Meredith entered politics. By somewhat of a coincidence the same time that Mr. Meredith is elevated to be a judge, Hon. Mr. Richards, according to the popular idea, ascends to be judged.

WHEN one looks over the material in the Ontario Opposition, from which a leader to take Mr. Meredith's place is to be selected, one feels glad that the difficult task of "putting a head on the opposition" is not left to himself.

THE Empire still has the bee in the bonnet. It continues to demand a special session of the Legislature to discover whether or not the Opposition was defeated at the general elections in June.

A MOTHER'S WORDS.

Lactated Food Saved My Baby's Life.

INCOMPARABLE IN QUALITY.

It Saves Babies' Lives.

A mother's statement as to how her baby's life was saved, may induce many mothers to pause and consider the important question: "Am I using the best food for my baby?"

A mother, the wife of a storekeeper in the east end of Montreal, says:—

"My baby was never breast-fed; it had to be brought up on prepared foods. When my baby girl was two months old, it was so thin and weak that doctor said it would not live many days. Seeing a notice in one of the daily papers about Lactated Food, I bought a package and tried it. There was new life for baby in the first meal, though small in quantity. After using Lactated Food for ten days, I found the baby was getting brighter and smarter. I continued using the food and now baby is five months old, and is fat and healthy. Your Lactated Food saved my dear baby's life; its worth its weight in gold."

DAIRY PRODUCTS.

The importance of the cheese industry to this country lends interest to the statistics, which shows its continued activity and the increase of export. Advices from Montreal show that 67,527 packages were shipped across the Atlantic from that port, last week, making the total shipments of cheese from Montreal, during the present season of navigation 1,199,815 packages, as compared with 1,085,688 packages for the corresponding period last year. In butter we have not yet "made a strike" in the Old Country. Progress is being made, however, in educating dairy women, and in establishing creameries, as well as in getting country storekeepers out of the bad habit of buying butter indiscriminatingly and mixing all qualities in their cellars.

At a meeting of dairymen, held in Brockville, recently, the following resolution was passed: "That, whereas it is the general opinion of the meeting of Dominion butter manufacturers that something should be done towards having our butter placed in better condition on the British market, with a view of securing for it a larger portion of the trade with that country."—Resolved, that Mr. F. de L. Tache, John H. Croil, E. Castel and D. Derbyshire be named a committee to lay the views of this meeting before the Dairy Commissioner, Prof. Robertson, in order that he may bring the matter before the Minister of Agriculture and members of the Dominion Government."

When catarrh attacks a person of scrofulous diathesis, the disease is almost sure to become chronic. The only efficacious cure, therefore, is Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which expels scrofula from the system and the catarrh soon follows suit. Local treatment is only a waste of time.

Biliousness and Liver Complaint, headache, etc., are cured by Burdock Pills.

MEN WE MENT.

A Pen Portrait of Such Self Seeking Tramps as Everyone Has Seen.

(The Templar.)

Every live temperance society assumes as a duty the maintenance of public agitation by means of public meetings. The demand for help at these meetings has produced the professional temperance lecturer, sometimes an excellent and worthy individual, sometimes a mercenary buffoon, but good or bad, always treated with suspicion and discount by the very people we desire to reach and convert, viz., those who are outside our fold. The Templar believes that our reform has reached a position in the public affairs of our country where it can only be successfully treated by citizens of our own country who are above suspicion of mercenary aims. Over and over again, professional lecturers have offered to divide the spoil with the Templar if we would advertise them and help them to engagements, but believing it to be an imposition on our workers and an injury to the reform, we have steadfastly refused.

We do not classify as professional the man or woman who has a habitation and an occupation amongst us, and is sacrificing time and money and private interest for the reform, even if he does accept a partial return in cash for a special effort, when his services are sought. We do not include legitimate propoganda or organization. We have reference to the man who makes a business of getting $25 a night out of innocent and unsuspecting temperance societies, for an "entertainment" with a sensational title—a man who makes a travesty of temperance by playing the fool for the amusement of an audience, but is not half as big a fool as the people who pay him the money for it.

SEVENTEEN YEARS OF IT.

Charles Schryver had Kidney Disease all This Time and Didn't Know it—How he Found Out and How he was Cured.

TORONTO, Oct. 1.—Sixteen years ago kidney disease attacked Charles Schryver, a bricklayer in this city, but he did not know it. It showed itself in the form of pains in the small of the back. They did not amount so much at first, but kept growing worse. Within the past six years Mr. Schryver has almost every week had to quit work for one or two days on account of their severity. Doctors ascribed them to the liver and other causes and prescribed, but their medicine did no good. Last spring a city physician diagnosed the case as one of diabetes and wanted to prescribe, but Mr. Schryver said:—"No, if its diabetes I'll use Dodd's Kidney Pills, which I know will cure me." They did cure him, too, and to-day Mr. Schryver is free from ache or pain and able to do his day's work, week in and week out, with any man in his trade.

HOW TO PACK APPLES.

Monetary Times.

In an export trade there is always an element of international competion. Careless or dishonest individual firms may bring the whole export trade of this country into disrepute. The export trade of apples is a source of considerable profit to Canadian horticultural and mercantile interests. But negligence or carelessness, or both, threaten the trade with disaster. An old apple shipper has written some paragraphs upon the subject of "How to ship apples to Europe," which we repeat:

The most important point to be observed is the packing. The barrels should be new and made for the purpose. The filling should be done on a platform of boards and not on the bare ground. All wormy or bruised fruit should be rigidly rejected. The size of the apples in not a matter of prime importance. The first one or two layers of the fruit should be very fine and uniform. They should be placed in the barrel with their stem downward, as the bottom of the barrel becomes its head when the barrel is filled.

The remainder of the barrel should be filled by pouring in the apples slowly from baskets, care being taken not to bruise the fruit. The barrel should be gently shaken after each basketful has been poured in, until loosely filled. A layer should then be placed on top, with at least one-half of the thickness of the apples in the layer projecting above the chine of the barrel. The head of the barrel should then be placed on top, and the apples gently forced into the barrel by using a screw press. The barrels should be well nailed, and lining hoops securely fastened around the inside of the chines of both ends of the barrel.

Hood's Cures After Others Failed

Scrofula in the Neck—Bunches All Gone Now.

Sangerville, Maine.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Gentlemen:—I feel that I cannot say enough in favor of Hood's Sarsaparilla. For five years I have been troubled with scrofula in my neck and throat. Several kinds of medicines which I tried did not do me any good, and when I commenced to take Hood's Sarsaparilla there were large bunches on my neck so sore that I could not bear the slightest touch. When I had taken one bottle of this medicine, the soreness had gone, and before I had finished the second the bunches had entirely disappeared." BLANCHE ATWOOD, Sangerville, Maine.

FRATERNAL ASSESSMENT LIABILITY.

"Can't I get out when I please, and have no liability?"

Most people expect "yes" for an answer to this question, when they say they are members of an assessment insurance society, and begin to think of their responsibilities as such. It is important for them to know that they cannot escape liability; because every member, no matter when he drops out, is liable for any deficiencies that may arise in future, if they were developed during his membership. Here is an instance:

The United Masonic Benefit Association of Missouri was some years ago an active and apparently prosperous assessment concern. It provided no reserve, but offered low rates, cheap insurance, and seemingly hoped that new blood would make up for increasing mortality resulting from increasing age. By and bye its forces began to fall off, not enough "new blood" came in, and the cost of membership ran up in a very uncomfortable way. Presently the healthy [illegible] began to feel their burden pressing heavily and steadily left the ranks, until so few were left in the association that the assessments amounted to $140—one hundred and forty dollars—on each certificate. The remaining members refused to pay such a sum, and the concern failed. But there were unpaid death claims for a large amount due, and the State Superintendent of Insurance thought they ought to be paid. So he began suits at law against individual members to enforce payment of the assessments against them; the court has decided that they must pay. The feelings of those who are thus compelled to pay what they never expected have undergone a change with respect to assessment insurance.

Replying to some enquiries which had been made upon this point of liability, and citing this case illustration of what ma[illegible] in a similar case w[illegible] suit, the Insurance Monitor says: "The decision referred to answers our question which has been debated whether the member's liability is limited to sums which he may choose to pay; in, other words, whether he can get out when he pleases without further harm. This he cannot do. Every member, no matter when he may drop out, is liable for any deficiencies which may crop up in future, resulting during his membership. The only safe course for parties that apprehend breakers ahead is to drop their membership before the breakers are reached; and the misfortune of this course is that the faster they drop, the faster the association drives towards the breakers."

There seems to be only one course open for the prudent man who may be determined to avoid possible liability; that is to keep out of such associations entirely and buy his insurance of the regular companies.—Monetary Times.

False Statements.

AWAY WITH THEM.

It Is Only the Lever of Truth That Moves the Great World.

Statements Made in Favour of Paine's Celery Compound Always Ring With Honesty.

A Marvellous Cure in Virden, Manitoba.

A Minister of the Gospel can Endorse the Testimony.

False statements, like counterfeit coin, for a time will pass current and undetected.

The false statements made in connection with a host of common medicines have duped and disappointed thousands of our suffering people in the past, and at the present time there are many who are being deceived from day to day. These worthless and deceptive medicines, with all their false assertions about curing disease, are now being posted on the black list in all well regulated communities, and are carefully avoided and abhorred by the wise and prudent.

It is only the powerful lever of truth that can move intelligent communities and peoples. This mighty lever is Paine's Celery Compound, an agent that has never had an equal in the history of medicine for the curing of the sick and diseased.

Every statement made in favour of Paine's Celery Compound, rings out with honesty and truth. The letters of testimony come from our own Canadian people, whom doubters may interview or write to for particulars.

Paine's Celery Compound has thousands of records of victories over rheumatism, sciatica, neuralgia, dyspepsia, nervousness, headaches, sleeplessness, kidney and liver troubles, general weakness and lost vitality.

The marvellous cure of Mr. James Leverington, of Virden, Man., by Paine's Celery Compound, after the failures of doctors and other agencies, should be sufficient proof for all fair minded men and women who are honestly seeking for health, strength and new life.

Mr. Leverington writes as follows about his success with the world's best medicine:

"I think it my duty, without solicitation from any one, to write in the interests of other sufferers, and give you a testimonial in favour of your (to me) almost miraculous remedy, Paine's Celery Compound. For more than a year I was suffering from the agonizing pains of sciatica; and after trying all that medical skill could devise, and using many remedies, patent and otherwise, I concluded to try the Hot Springs of Banff, under the able superintendence of Dr. Brett. I took the treatment thoroughly and carefully for six weeks, and came home at the end of that time racked with pain and weighing 43 pounds less. At this juncture, when hope had almost fled, I heard of Paine's Celery Compound. It seemed suited to my case, and I sent to my druggist, Mr. J. W. Higginbotham, of this place, and asked about it. He recommended it to me, and I took a bottle. I soon began to feel better and after taking a second bottle I was a cured man and threw away my crutches.

"I keep a bottle on hand in case of any return of the complaint. I am now 58 years old, and I feel as spry and healthy and free from pain as I ever did in my life. I was born in Norfolk, England, and came to Canada when only 3 years old. I was brought up in the township of Cornwall, Ontario, and came to Manitoba eight years ago. Have always been a farmer, and am as able to do hard work now as ever I was.

"With a heart full of gratitude for the benefits derived from the use of your remedy, and a wish to influence others who may suffer, I gladly and freely indite this letter.

"Rev. Mr. Talbot, Methodist Minister, of Elkhorn, can confirm my statements, and will do so if written to."

Mr. Higginbotham, the successful and extremely popular druggist, of Virden, vouches for Mr. Leverington's statements as follows:

"I have known Mr. Leverington for two years or more, and can confirm what he says in regard to his cure by Paine's Celery Compound. Ever since his cure he has been sounding its praises, and he is a perfect enthusiast on the subject of Paine's Celery Compound. I believe him to be thoroughly reliable."

An Important Organ

The health and life of the entire body is directly dependent upon the proper performance of the functions of the stomach, and no other organ is subject to such gross abuse, when everything that the palate craves or the eye covets is dumped into this abused receptacle, and indigestion ensues. DEAR SIRS,—My hair has been falling for some time, and I tried a bottle of your "Hairene," and was surprised and pleased to find that less than half of one bottle stopped the hair from falling and completely removed the dandruff.

Yours truly, J. M. WALLACE.

SIMPLE REASONS.

A soap bubble is round because every part of its surface is equally pressed by the atmosphere.

Sheep thrive best in a pasture infested with moles, because of the better drainage of the land.

The tone of a bell or glass can be stopped by the finger, because the vibrations are thus checked.

The porcupine is so called because his name comes from two Latin words meaning a thorny pig.

Boiled water tastes flat and insipid, because the gases it contained have been driven off by heat.

Red hair is of that color because it is supposed to have a larger proportion of sulphur than black hair.

A tuning fork does not sound in a vacuum, because there is no air to convey the vibrations to our ears.

Birds are covered with feathers, because these combine the highest degree of warmth with the least weight.

A heavy dew is the precursor of rain, because it shows that the atmosphere is saturated with moisture.

Almost as Tough as Cats.

Next to a cat, there is nothing so tough and tenacious of life as a Rocky mountain burro, and some of the tales told about this little animal are almost marvelous. One day, as the express train was running into Santa Fe, N.M., the engineer spied a burro walking the track. He whistled and slowed up, but the burro ignored all signals, and, in consequence, was knocked about thirty feet ahead of the train. One hoof still lay on the track, and the engineer, coming to a stop, got out with his fireman to push the carcass into the ditch. Each seized a leg, but before they could heave the burro scrambled to his feet, planted a couple of kicks on the two men, jumped the ditch and was off. On the next trip the burro was seen, a little stiff in one leg, but otherwise uninjured.

Crate for Hauling Swine.

In moving swine some method besides leading or driving is often necessary. For hauling a single animal make a strong box 4½x2½x1½ ft. with an opening at one end. Set the box in the pen doorway and with a little corn entice the hog into it. Let the door in the rear end down and secure it with a peg, as shown in the cut. Two men can then easily load a 200-lb. shote into a wagon. The box must be made strong by cleating the inside corners. Such a box is worth its cost every time it is used.—Orange Judd Farmer.

A Montreal Woman Badly Burned.

MONTREAL, Oct. 8.—The firemen on Saturday evening were called to No. 358 Laval avenue where a fire had started in a room. The fire was started by the upsetting of a coal oil lamp. While the lady of the house, Mrs. E. Houle, was attempting to subdue the fire, she was very badly burned about the face and had her hair scorched. She is in a critical condition.

Zola Goes to See the Pope.

ROME, Oct. 8.—Emile Zola, the French author, one of whose latest works, "Lourdes," has been placed on the index librorum prohibitorum by the Vatican authorities, will arrive in this city on the 28th instant. The object of Zola's visit is said to be to obtain an audience with the Pope, but the Vatican officials declare he will not succeed.

Goes to Europe for Treatment

Suffering For Years from Insomnia and Nervous Debility—Prostrated, Exhausted—No Vitality—No Rest Until "Nature's Sweet Restorer," South American Nervine Tonic, Built up the Nervous Organism, and Gave Back to the Wearied and Exhausted Nerve-Centres their Wonted Vigor.

ADOLPHE LABODIE, B.C.L., J.P., OF THE WELL-KNOWN LEGAL FIRM OF LABODIE & LABODIE, MONTREAL.

For four generations the remarkable family of LaBodie have been prominently identified with the legal and professional life of Montreal. A long line of active, intellectual men, whose ambition to rise to prominence meant a constant drain upon the nerve forces and a tremendous demand for brain power. Mr Adolphe LaBodie, B.C.L., J.P., etc., has for seventeen years been actively engaged in the legal profession, living, as the duties of intellectual men of this fast age demand, beyond the reserve limit of natural nerve force, requiring more of the nerve centres at the base of the brain than they can possibly fulfil, which always results in nervous prostration, dyspepsia, hot flashes, insomnia, constipation, and attendant evils.

Mr. LaBodie spared neither time nor money to obtain relief, went to Europe for special treatment, all to no purpose. His attention being directed to South American Nervine Tonic, he concluded to try it. Result—immediate relief from insomnia, and a perfect and permanent cure from all other disorders, with but five bottles of the Nervine.

Mr. Adolphe LaBodie, under date of April 27th, writes from Montreal:—"I was suffering from insomnia and nervous debility; prostration and exhaustion, rather than rest, followed a night's experience. I took five bottles of South American Nervine, and am wholly recovered, and now enjoy restful nights. I have tried many remedies, have been treated in Europe, and can say with truthful emphasis that the South American nervine has cured me."

There is reason in all things: business reasons in business, truthful reasons in truth. Mr. LaBodie's statement herewith is the truthful reason why, if South American Nervine Tonic cured him, it will cure you. It is the nerve builder for brain workers. Brain and stomach cannot both work at the same time with healthful and happy issues. One must suffer. Intense intellectual activity produces indigestion because the brain is consuming all the nerve power. South American Nervine Tonic holds nature to a happy poise, and life and its duties swing to fruitful success.

Seasonable and Opportune.

Always forearmed for all the shopping demands of our customers—this store is never behind—the right goods at the right time and at the right prices. October suggest the need of such things as

Underwear, Hosiery and Gloves.

We have too many kinds to attempt any detail, but in addition to the BEST makes in underwear we carry a full line of the celebrated "Health Brand" in all sizes and combinations.

Blankets and Bed Comforters.

The buying of these lines was done with extreme care, as we have an exacting constituency to choose for, who are wide awake judges of qualities and prices. The stock is right and the values correspond.

Along with these we would also mention our new fall selected Shawls, in many sizes, qualities and shapes—very exclusive—and from makers who warrant their goods.

Millinery and Mantles.

Style is everything in these lines. You don't want a last years' hat, or bonnet, or jacket, at any cost, and you won't find one here. You don't even want this season's unless the style is distinctive, and that is just where we excel.

A Narrow Escape.

Mr. David Price, traveller, of this city, had a very narrow escape at Gananoque, on Friday night. He was on the train which passes through the town and wished to get off at certain spot before the train stopped. In jumping, Mr. Price's rubber slipped off and he was thrown. He grasped the iron railing of the car very deftly and clung to it. If it had not been for this, he would undoubtedly have been thrown under the wheels. After the train had slowed down a little, Mr. Price, being unable to hold any longer, swung himself away from the train and fell. Those who witnessed the affair were sure that he had been killed. Mr. Price says that it is an experience he would not care to have repeated many times and certainly he had a narrow escape.—Belleville Sun. "Dave" is well known and has many friends in Peterborough.

The Eva Roblin Concert.

The public who wish to enjoy one of the best concerts presented in Peterborough for a long time, should make arrangements for attending the grand concert in the opera house on Tuesday evening, Oct. 16th. Miss Roblin is a Canadian soprano who has won great triumphs, not only at home, but in England, where her exceptional ability as a vocal artist, has been very heartily recognized. A singer who wins success in London, where the best musical talent of the world converges, is sure to be of the highest order. Miss Roblin's singing at the opera house on Oct. 16th will be the musical event of the season. In addition to her contributions, the programme will be furnished by Miss Lilian Burns, Delsarte elocutionist, and Master Wilfred LaRue, the phenomenal cornetist. Opera House, Tuesday, Oct. 16th. Young Women's Association.

Bible study this evening, beginning at eight o'clock. Subject, "Little things of the Bible." Teacher, Miss Code. Cordial welcome to all young women. The regular meeting of the Association was held on Saturday evening, President, Mrs. Scott presiding. Opening prayer by Miss Code. Treasurer's statement read and adopted; secretary's report showed that during the month of September, the rooms have been opened again every day and evening. Attendance and interest have been increasing during the past two weeks. Twenty young women have been looking for work and situations found for eight. Strangers passing through the town have wended their way to the home-like rooms, appreciating couches and reading tables. Three new names have been added to the membership list. Seventy-five cents received from "Employment Bureau. Another paper was kindly contributed for reading table. After reading reports, classes for the winter were talked of. The Board of Management is desirous of opening up classes in physical culture, taught by Major Rundle; cutting and fitting system, taught by Miss Meek. Whether these are formed, depends on the interest manifested by the members. All wishing to join are requested to leave their names with the secretary this week. Terms are reasonable. Every woman is welcome to same by first joining the Association. It was also decided at this meeting that a thanksgiving social be held on Thanksgiving day, and members who have received any blessing from the Association, bring a thank offering. Those who desire give expressions to the same.

THE CATHOLIC ASSOCIATION.

Re-organized for the Season of 1894-95—List of Directors Elected—An Active Literary and Entertainment Campaign in Prospect.

At the well-attended and enthusiastic annual meeting of the members of the Catholic Association held in their rooms last night, organization for the season of 1894-95 was effected and the following directors elected: A. Gough, Dr. Brennan, P. Henry, R. Sheehy, M. LeHane, Thos. Kelly, H. LeBrun, Jas. Dolan, W. Burke, R. J. Hillier, M. Giroux, A. Murty, M. O'Brien, J. Corkery, M. Reilly, J. P. Hurley, W. Rudkins, John O'Brien, R. Gough and T. Dolan.

The programme of the coming season was discussed, and the decision arrived at to resume at an early date the weekly entertainments which were so enjoyable a feature of last year's programme, and to make the coming winter the most active and successful in the history of the association. This association does an important work in furnishing wholesome entertainment, reviving the literary aspirations and researches of the members, and providing a means of spending the evenings profitably, in striking contrast to the temptations that surround the young at nights in a large town.

THE GANG OF THIEVES ARE BECOMING MORE DARING.

Their Last Exploit Caps the Climax—A Till Tapped to the Tune of $150.00.

One of the boldest of the series of thefts which have been committed in this vicinity, lately, was perpetuated last night, in the office of the Meldrum Roller Mills, at Auburn.

The mill being rushed with work is now running night and day and in consequence a gang of men was at work there all night.

The robbery took place while the men were actually packing directly over the office, it being situated in the storehouse.

The electric lights in the office were turned out while the watchman was in another part of the building, and by the time he returned the combination of the safe had been solved, and the interior rifled of over $150 in cash.

The whole job was done so neatly and with such dispatch that it is evident that the theft was committed by someone well acquainted with the premises, and with the habits of the watchman, or else the cracksman was one well skilled in the business he had in hand.

The police are in possession of the facts of the affair as far as are known and have taken the case in hand.

The White is King.

Anniversary services will be held in the Gilmour Memorial Baptist church on Sunday, Oct. 14th. Rev. J. E. Trotter of town will conduct both the morning and evening services, and special collections will be taken up in aid of the building fund. A public tea meeting will be held on the following Monday evening, when tea will be served in the basement of the church between the hours of five and seven o'clock. It is expected that addresses will be delivered during the evening by Rev. J. E. Trotter, Peterborough; A. R. McDonald, B.A., Lakefield; G. R. Clare, Bridgenorth, and others. An admission fee of 25 cents will be charged.

Saturday's Attraction at the Opera House.

Mr. Robt. Hilliard will appear here next Saturday in "The Nominee." The Montreal Herald says: It is funny right through from beginning to end, without once deteriorating into horse play or farce. Although it has been seen here before with Mr. Hilliard in the role of Jack Medford, it is well worthy of a second visit from those who last season laughed through the performance. Mr. Hilliard is an almost faultless actor. He treads the stage as though it were a drawing room, and is always self-possessed and natural. In Jack Medford he has a role which fits him in every way, and he makes a very great success of his presentation of it. He was well seconded in the fun-making by his company; without exception, the efforts of two or three of its members being especially good. Prices 25, 35 and 50 cents. Box seats 75 cents. Seats now on sale at Street Railway Office.

Guy Bros. Minstrels.

This is what the Ottawa Free Press says of the show:—The Guy Brothers great minstrel combination occupied the boards at the opera house last night and gave a rare performance of the kind. It eclipsed anything in that line given in Ottawa heretofore, not even excepting Haverly, Primrose and West or Cleveland. From beginning to end it was entertaining and just as represented on the fence bills. Guy brothers are without an equal. There are six of them, along with their father, and they are the most clever black cork artists in minstrelsy. They give a show that is full of fun. It includes singing, dancing, gymnastic specialties and instrumental selections of an enjoyable character. Others who are phenomenal in their specialties are Eddie McDonald, the Adonis statue; Nick Glynn, the imitable musical comedian, and Fred Smith, the baton swinger. They appear at opera house, Friday, Oct. 12th. Prices 25, 35 and 50c. Seats now on sale. 1i

FARMER CUT IN TWO BY A RAILWAY ENGINE.

GHASTLY DEATH OF MR. JOHN FEE.

The Fatal Level Crossing at Lindsay—A Farmer Crushed by a Shunting Engine.

(Special to the Examiner.)

LINDSAY, Oct. 9th.—At 11.15 this morning, a terribly shocking and fatal level crossing accident happened near the freight sheds here. Mr. John Fee was approaching the tracks of the Grand Trunk Railway, at this point, when a shunting engine, pushing two flat cars, backed into Fee's waggon. The shock threw the doomed man out upon the track and the wheels of one of the cars passed over his body, mangling it terribly and almost cutting it in two.

DEATH BEING INSTANTANEOUS.

It appears that just before Mr. Fee saw the engine his horses had sighted it, for they became unruly, and he was unable to manage them. Some box cars standing on one of the sidings near the freight sheds prevented him from seeing his danger till he was almost at the track.

Mr. Fee was well known in Lindsay where he had done business for many years. He lived about three miles from town.

THE B. OF D. OF THE P. C. E.

The Number of Entries Increased by 418 Over Last Year—Votes of Thanks.

The Board of Directors of the Peterborough Central Exhibition met in the Morgan House yesterday afternoon, with President Elliott in the chair, the other members present being Messrs. Vance, Hunter, Davidson, Hall and Morgan. Secretary Green and Superintendent Fitzgerald were also in attendance.

The secretary's report showed that there were in all 418 more entries made this year than last—the entries in every class, with the exception of swine, being increased.

A resolution was passed whereby the secretary's salary was increased by $30 per annum. The salaries of the superintendents will remain unchanged.

On motion of Mr. Morgan the Board nominated Mr. Vance, as a candidate for the representation of "the four counties" at the Council of Agriculture and Arts Society. The sister societies are strongly urged to support and elect Mr. Vance.

Votes of thanks were passed to the hotelkeepers for their aid and to the storekeepers for their exhibits.

A special recommendation was passed concerning the horse collars made and exhibited by Mr. W. J. Devlin, and a vote of thanks was passed to him for presenting the collars to the Association to be used as prizes.

The society was put to considerable expense this year by the erection of a new grand stand, the moving of the large building, and the laying out of a new track, but notwithstanding their large expenditures a snug nest egg for next year's expenses has been laid by.

—AT—

HALL, GILCHRIST & CO'Y

GERMAN MANTLES.

In this department more than any other do we show the public the advantages derived by BUYING and SELLING for cash, importing as we do direct, sending a buyer twice a year to the LARGEST EUROPEAN MANUFACTURERS, gives us a clear lead of at least 25 per cent. in price, and more than that in style. Always pleased to have you see our goods before you decide where to buy. Looking means buying. In no department does the system of going (as we do) direct to the maker tell as much as in this.

MILLINERY.

Under superior management, with goods in many cases cheaper than the wholesale houses charge, we are not surprised that the wise and prudent leave their orders with us. WALKING HATS, repeat orders to hand. The Fine Wool Felt at less price than you pay elsewhere for Canadian Felt. It is worth your while to call if you have heretofore thought that one place was as good as another.

DRESS GOODS AND SILKS.

We certainly have heard many flattering remarks about our Dress Goods stock, and without any egotism we think them well deserved. This department occupies the FIRST RANK FOR HIGHEST QUALITY; LATEST STYLES AND LOW PRICES; from the lowest Wool Goods to the finest silk. We can show you the finest range of any house in this part of the province.

OUR WINDOWS this week are attractive, well worth looking at. The above departments each take a share in the large window display. We are invariably busy, but with twice the selling space of any store in town, coupled with sufficient light to show goods exactly as they are, and with all the accommodation of any city store, we make everybody welcome.

If you cannot come to see us, send for samples.

A PICKPOCKET SENTENCED FOR TWO YEARS.

The Magistrate Sends Him to the Central Much Against His Will.

"Oh! not that, your honour! not that!" exclaimed George Thomas, the convicted pick-pocket in the police court this morning, as the magistrate sentenced him to two years in the Central Prison for picking Mr. David Doig's pocket on the fair grounds on September 27th.

Mr. Doig was down at the exhibition grounds on the day in question and while taking a cider at one of the booths suddenly felt a hand being withdrawn from his left hand trousers pocket. He turned instantly and saw a man with some money in his hand edging away from him through the crowd. Mr. Doig kept his eyes on the man and plunged his hands into his trouser pockets to see if he missed anything. Finding that eight dollars in bills had suddenly disappeared from his pocket, he closed with the stranger and demanded his money.

The stranger endeavoured, as proven by the evidence, to draw him away from the crowd and settle the matter quietly, but Doig didn't see the matter in that light at all and wrested the money from the pick-pocket, there and then.

As the stranger heaped a good deal of abuse on Mr. Doig's head, the latter resolved to hand the man over to the police, but he had quite a job in accomplishing his object, as a number of fakirs closed around and tried to part the men and spirit their pal away before the arrival of an officer.

County Constable Archie Moore was soon on the scene, however, and relieved Doig of his prisoner whom he escorted to police headquarters. The stranger's story was to the effect that he had seen Mr. Doig drop the money and had picked it up. That when it was demanded of him he had asked Doig to identify it by naming the denominations of the bills in the roll.

As Doig's evidence was supported by other witnesses of the affair the stranger's story did not avail him much. Indeed, as the magistrate remarked, the prisoner's own evidence was enough to convict him, as if he had seen Doig drop the money, there could be no reason for refusing to surrender it.

The prisoner has been remanded from time to time but his trial finally came off this morning and the aforementioned sentence was passed upon him, notwithstanding the fact that he pleaded hard to be sent to the Penitentiary instead of the Central. He even offered to take a term of two and a half years in the Penetentiary if allowed to go there, but it was "no go," and Thomas will have to take up his residence with Warden Massie.

A MIDNIGHT STRUGGLE TO SAVE HER HONOUR.

A Ruffian in a Maiden's Chamber.

FOILED IN HIS DESIGNS.

The Kennedy House the Scene of what is Alleged to have been an Assault Case and Attempted Rape—George Nicholson in the Cells Charged with the Crime—Miss Kennedy's Story.

George Nicholson, a stone-cutter, of Toronto, who has been employed at the new Bank of Commerce building for the past three weeks, is at present lying in the cells with the heinous charge of assault and attempted rape preferred against him.

Nicholson, it appears, applied for a night's lodging at the American House shortly after eleven o'clock last night, stating that he boarded at Clancy's, and had been locked out. Mr. Kennedy, the proprietor, admitted the man and after letting him have some cigars, showed him to his room in the third story.

Nicholson asked to have

sent up to him, but this favour the landlord refused him as he saw, he states, that the man was considerably under the influence of liquor and so he didn't care to supply him with any more. Leaving a lamp in the room with his guest Mr. Kennedy retired to his own room to rest, but was awakened shortly after midnight by being loudly called by his bartender, Pat Collins. Mr. Kennedy threw on a few clothes and hurried out into the hall where Collins told him one of the rooms

HAD BEEN BROKEN INTO.

The proprietor's mind instantly reverted to the only stranger in the house, and together with his bartender went to Nicholson's room, where they found the occupant, so they state, standing in the middle of the room half undressed and in an apparently bedazed condition.

Mr. Kennedy did not know exactly what pranks his guest had been committing, but not thinking it was anything of a very serious nature, contented himself with throwing the fellow out of doors. Upon enquiry he ascertained that the trouble had been on the top flat, and upon ascending the stairs was met by his sister, who, with night dress almost torn off her and hair dishevelled, told the story of her desperate midnight struggle

TO SAVE HER HONOUR.

Miss Kennedy states that she was awakened by the opening of her door, but did not instantly cry out for aid, as she was under the impression that her midnight visitor was a new domestic, who had been hired that day and who, she imagined, had become lonely in her room and was coming in to her for company. This idea, however, was rudely dispelled from her mind when she felt a man's hot breath on her cheek and heard a hoarse voice whisper in her ear that "she had invited the visitor to her room and if she was a woman she would keep her word."

With a startled scream Miss Kennedy attempted to spring from her bed, but a strength greater than her own held her down and a hand was pressed closely over her mouth to muffle her cries for help.

A TERRIFIC STRUGGLE

ensued in which the bed clothing was torn and Miss Kennedy roughly handled. Her assailant did not escape without injury, however, as the terrified woman in her struggles for freedom scratched and mauled Nicholson's face in such a manner, that this morning in the police court, he presented a perfect spectacle, as his eyes were badly blackened and his face smeared with blood stains.

Patrick Collins, the bar tender, finally heard the cries for aid, and without waiting to dress hurried out to ascertain what was the matter. Nicholson hearing him approaching quietly decamped into his own room, where as stated he was found by the landlord a few minutes later.

After being ejected from the house up the street, but seeing a police officer approaching he doubled and came back down the street again. By this time Mr. Kennedy had learned the circumstances of the assault which had been committed and started out after his man. Seeing Officer Stewart, he told him his story and a hunt for the culprit was instantly instituted. After a long search Nicholson was found hiding in the Oriental Hotel yard and taken over to police headquarters.

NICHOLSON HURRIED OFF

This morning Mr. E. B. Stone appeared for the prisoner, who declined to elect as to whether his trial be conducted by the magistrate or left for a jury.

The case was enlarged and the prisoner remanded until Thursday.

AND STILL ANOTHER "ROAST."

Belleville Intelligencer.

"Tried as by Fire," is supposed to be a dramatization of Margaret L. Shepherd's life. If the performance given by the company of barnstormers on Saturday night is true to the lines of the leading lady's life, she is indeed to be pitied. The performance was not even a burlesque on good acting, and as for Mrs. Sheperd her attempt was mockery. The audience, of whom there was perhaps one hundred, appeared more "tried" at the fall of the curtain than did Margaret. John H. Gordon, bailiff, attached the box receipts before the show began on an account from W. H. Robertson, of Peterborough, and the $20 of receipts were swept away and nothing was left for the company.

THE SCHOOL SPORTS.

Collegiate Institute Jottings—Many Valuable Prizes to be Offered for Competition Among the Students.

The third annual sports of the Collegiate Institute will be held on the P.A.A.A. grounds, Ashburnham, on Friday afternoon next, commencing at 2 o'clock. The committee appointed to canvass the merchants of the town for prizes, have met with great success, and as a result, they are able to show the best prize list in the history of the school. The steeple chase, as well as the half mile race, will take place before Friday so as to leave ample time for the other events. The former will be run on Wednesday at 4 p.m. on the following course. Starting at the school the contestants will cross over to Ashburnham by way of the Hunter street bridge, thence proceed north along the river to the Smith street bridge, which is to be crossed and a return made to the starting place. This race is a new feature in the programme of sports and is causing considerable excitement. The half mile race will be run on Thursday, after school, on the P.A.A.A. grounds. The following is a list of the events and the prizes which have been so generously donated by the merchants of the town:

SPRIGHTLY SUMMER SPORTS.

On the Lacrosse Field, the Crease and the Diamond—Triple A. Topics—The Bicycle and Football.

QUOITS.

Frank Claus' challenge has been accepted by a quoit pitcher named Joshua Armstrong, of the Toronto Quoit Club. The match will take place on the Belleville Quoit Club grounds on the 23rd inst., and will be best two of three 61 point games. The stake is $150, and $25 was put up by Mr. A. W. Taylor, Claus' backer, yesterday, as a forfeit. The Toronto men will be allowed their expenses down and back, and while in Belleville. The match will be a hard fight, as the Toronto man is spoken of as a clever pitcher, and we can say the same for Claus.

OBITUARY.

The Late Mrs. Henry Coombes.

Elizabeth Hanney Coombes, widow of the late Henry Coombes, of Otonabee, who died Sept. 12th, 1894, was a native of Paignton, Devon, England, where she was born in 1818. There she was married to her late husband. She came with her husband to Peterborough in 1839, and settling on the farmstead in Otonabee resided there till her death, which came only three weeks after that of her husband. The two who had passed the spring and summer of life together, grew old together, and together they ripened and were gathered to the heavenly garner. Their beautiful devotion to each other and to their family endured to the end. While their departure will make a sad and irreperable break in the loving circle of the home, the community will feel the loss of two worthy neighbors whose qualities of character won for them the high respect they enjoyed.

WATERPROOFS

WHEN YOU ARE

Out in the Rain

How fortunate is the man who has a thoroughly Waterproof Coat. Many a time when you have been caught in the fall rains and drenched to the skin, you have made up your mind to invest in a Waterproof the first opportunity—but you have delayed and delayed until you get caught in the same fix again. Don't procrastinate any longer. Let us help you to a good Mackintosh NOW—right on the spur of the moment. The value of a Waterproof Coat is more obvious during October and November when you are likely to be surprised with a downpour every few minutes.

"Tell me not in mournful numbers"

THE NEW STYLE pill is of Dr. Pierce's invention and is full of improvements. They are used by everyone—high livers, bad livers, those whose livers are sluggish—all find relief in Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

To BEGIN WITH, these "Pellets" are the smallest, and easiest to take. They're tiny, sugar-coated, antibilious granules that every child takes readily.

SECONDLY. — They're perfectly easy in their action—no griping, no disturbance.

THIRDLY.—Their effect is lasting.

FOURTHLY.—Put up in glass—always fresh.

FIFTHLY.—They're the cheapest, for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned. You pay only for the good you get.

LASTLY.—They absolutely cure Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, Sick or Bilious Headaches, and all derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels.

See if Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy won't cure you, if you're suffering from Catarrh. Then, if you can't be cured, the makers will pay you $500 in cash.

BLUE ANDALUSIANS.

Pretty Fowls and Prolific Layers That Are Worth Breeding.

The Andalusian breed, shown in our illustrations, belongs to the Mediterranean division of fowls, which also includes the Spanish, Minorcas and Leghorns. There is a tradition in England that the first Andalusians in that country were imported from Spain in 1851. Whatever may be the facts in regard to this, it is certain that they have been crossed with other breeds subsequently to the date given. In fact many fanciers are of the opinion that the Andalusians were "made up" by crossing black and white Minorcas or black Spanish with a possible dash of Dominique Leghorns. But the Andalusian has become recognized as a distinct and well-established breed.

The fowls present a unique combination of the true Spanish form with a color rarely seen in other pure breeds. In size, form, and general appearance, except the color of the plumage, back and legs, the Andalusians strongly resemble the Minorcas. Like them, the comb is single, rather large, deeply serrated, upright on the males and drooping to one side on the females. The face is bright red, showing but little above the eyes; ear lobes white. The beak, shanks and toes are slaty blue. The general color of the plumage in both sexes is slaty blue, the feathers on the breast being finely laced with a darker shade, and the hackles, saddles, wing-coverts and sickle feathers of the male very dark blue, approaching to black.

Andalusian hens are very prolific layers of large, smooth, white eggs. They are very little given to sitting, and when one becomes broody and is given a nestful of eggs, she is quite likely to change her mind in a few days, leaving her charge in a condition which is neither eggs nor chickens. But when one perseveres to the end and brings off her brood, she makes an excellent mother, though she is quite likely to resume laying regularly while the chicks are still following her. The chicks are very precocious, feathering out while very young. The little cockerels begin to crow at an age when those of most other breeds are still in the down. They are also very pugnacious, although their infantile disputes rarely end in very serious bloodshed. As broilers they are unsurpassed. They are fit for the gridiron at an earlier age than many Asiatic breeds and the flesh has a delicate, gamy flavor. The Andalusians succeed well in the north with proper care and winter protection.

BLUE ANDALUSIAN HEN.

During the hot weather impurities in the blood may seriously annoy you. Expel them by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla the great blood purifier.

PROFITABLE SAVING.

The Use of a Bible Text in Running a Well-Kept Farm.

We often think of Christ's command, says the Ohio Farmer, "Gather up the fragments, that nothing be lost," and wonder how many good Christian farmers in the country obey it. In no other business is there so much waste as upon the farm. This is not usually the result of pure neglect or indifference so much as necessity, though in thousands of cases the waste is needless and little short of criminal. A gentleman from north Ireland recently made a tour through this country and staid for a few days at the home of the writer. "Your people own too much land," said he. "There is entirely too much waste. Your farmers raise crops and waste much of them. Much of their land is useless, and simply an expense. It seems to me that it will pay to economise land and labor here as well as in our country, where nothing goes to waste that can possibly be saved."

Conditions are different in the two countries. Land is cheap here and dear there. Labor is dear here and cheap there. Here, farmers cannot do all the work themselves, necessary in utilizing their land and saving all their crops, and the savings will not pay for the hired labor necessary, in all cases. Where land is plenty and cheap, the "puttering" that would save a dollar would lose two dollars in many instances. On our large farms the labor must be done by horses, etc., to the largest extent, and land that cannot be utilized in this way must remain idle. As our population increases and land becomes more valuable these conditions will change also, and eventually our farmers will save and utilize just as European farmers do now.

Habit sticks to us. The habit of doing farm work on the wholesale plan begets the habit of waste. In most cases farmers do not save as much as they could, and in many instances they waste all their profits. Every one should go to the extreme limit of profit in saving, and stop there; to go further is loss. Do not be penny wise and pound foolish. A contemporary calls attention to the fact that a Chicago packer has put in an evaporating apparatus to recover the salt in corn beef brine. These packers waste absolutely nothing. Every part of the slaughtered animal is utilized—the entrails, the horns and hoofs, the hair, the bristles, the blood—and now they intend to recover the salt from brine that has been used. No wonder they get rich.

Success is secured by attention to the details of any business—the little things that together make up the whole. If this is done, the big things will come out all right. We may learn useful lessons from farmers across the water, even though our surroundings are so much different. Our conditions change faster than our habits. The necessity of greater care and economy is already upon us, but we have so long practiced the loose and wasteful methods that they stick to us, and we really do not know why we do not succeed better. We change our habits only as we are compelled to do so.

In these times of low prices and great competition it will pay, especially, to economize in the direction we have indicated. Every leak should be stopped. Every blow should count. The scorching, rainless summer has cut the forage crops short over a vast area of country. Feed will be scarce and high, and the farmer should save every grain and straw possible. It will be a good year to practice upon the corn fodder crop—a crop that is most shamefully wasted in ordinary years. Properly taken care of and judiciously fed out, it is almost as valuable as timothy hay, ton for ton. It will be criminal to waste any of it this year. "Gather up the fragments, that nothing may be lost."

HE TELLS IT HIMSELF.

A West Oxford Farmer Narrowly Escapes Premature Burial—The Causes of His Threatened Fate and Lucky Escape.

INGERSOLL, Oct. 8.—W. H. Bailey of West Oxford township, claims to have only narrowly escaped premature burial a short time ago. He had had kidney disease for four years back and so badly at times that he was completely laid up. Many doctors treated him, but their treatment, in Mr. Bailey's opinion, made him worse rather than better. His escape from a premature grave was affected by the use of the infallible Dodd's Kidney Pills. Three boxes of these cured completely. Mr. Bailey claims to be able now to do a bigger day's work than his twenty-four-year-old son.

"Only the Scars Remain,"

Says HENRY HUDSON, of the James Smith Woolen Machinery Co., Philadelphia, Pa., who certifies as follows:

"Among the many testimonials which I see in regard to certain medicines performing cures, cleansing the blood, etc., none impress me more than my own case. Twenty years ago, at the age of 18 years, I had swellings come on my legs, which broke and became running sores. Our family physician could do me no good, and it was feared that the bones would be affected. At last, my good old to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I took three bottles, the sores healed, and I have not been troubled since. Only the scars remain, and the memory of the past, to remind me of the good Ayer's Sarsaparilla has done me. I now weigh two hundred and twenty pounds, and am in the best of health. I have been on the road for the past twelve years, have noticed Ayer's Sarsaparilla advertised in all parts of the United States, and always take pleasure in telling what good it did for me."

Mother Urged Me

CHARMING GOWNS FOR LITTLE GIRLS AND STYLISH MISSES.

Elegant Simplicity Seems to Be the Prevailing Fad—Mademoiselle Dressed for a Small Party—A Dainty Miss in Red and Black.

Little people's clothes, like the little people themselves, are always an interesting subject to mothers. So many changes are required by these minature men and women even in a single day of their busy, out-of-door life that every detail of their apparel has to be made the subject of much thought and study. And so it happens that suggestions regarding the prevailing modes for the little folks are always welcome to the grown up.

The little maiden who rules the household from papa down with a firm though dimpled hand is not forgotten these days by the designers who regulate affairs in the domain of fashion.

While the style is not so elaborate as that adopted by her mamma, and while she does not reckon among her possessions as many frocks as her older sister, yet her clothes are dainty and pretty; and where quantity is lacking an opportunity is given of adding in quality. And clever and fanciful, not to say striking, are the materials and decorations now permissible in the small girl's modistic world.

The very little girls—those who have not long been able to toddle along without stubbing their tiny toes—are wearing the sweetest little frocks imaginable; things that make them look like children even though some cynical bachelors and other disagreeable persons declare there are no children in this day and generation. These little gowns are mostly pure white and the materials softest silk or sheerest muslin with fine lace for the trimming.

The favorite model has the short empire waist and full skirt in which a happy medium has been struck between the extremely short and the exaggerated long ones so much in vogue last season. A very pretty empire frock has tiny bands of lace insertion for the sole decoration of the sheer muslin skirt. The sleeves are puffed and unlined, showing the baby arm beneath. A deep collar of soft lace falls over the front of the short waist and passes bertha fashion over the shoulders while just below the waist the skirt is shirred, through which a ribbon is run and tied in a very large bow with short ends at the back.

Mothers who go in for style and elegance regardless of expense have robes for their very small girls made entirely of real lace, to be worn over a silken foundation. I saw a quite exquisite one yesterday composed of alternate bands of lace insertion and edging, the latter being lightly fulled in flounce fashion. The little lace bodice was high in the neck, and the full sleeves of lace were drawn in at the wrist with narrow satin ribbon. Accompanying this robe were three silk slips, one in rose pink, one in pale blue and the other in pure white, each edged at the bottom with a tiny frill of fine lace.

Of course, such a dress is quite beyond the reach of those not to the manor born, and perhaps therein lies its greatest charm.

Another pretty style of frock for a little girl from one to three years of age is like the model in the picture. The skirt is laid in box plaits and hangs from a yoke of plaited silk. The sleeves are very full, ending in a deep cuff of silk, while the bottom of the skirt is finished by a narrow silk frill put on in shell pattern and headed by a band of deep embroidery. A pretty and decidedly chic appearance is given by the addition of a little cuirass jacket, decorated with embroidered bands. If made of fawn-colored cashmere, with salmon pink silk for trimming, the result will be an up-to-date little gown.

The dresses worn by girls from six to ten years of age are equally pretty as those of their smaller sister; and the materials chosen are the soft clinging ones so becoming to children. Serge and stout cloths in all colors are in great demand as outing and school frocks. Among a number of such practical dresses recently made for a young school girl was an olive green cloth made with zouave jacket and frill of silk of a darker shade and trimmed with narrow guipure. Full sleeves with a deep cuff and collar, trimmed with three rows of guipure, finished it. A hat of dark green straw with pointed crown and loops of ribbon to match will be worn with the frock.

Another gown that pleased me much was a fine smooth-faced cloth, tan in color, strapped across the yolk with four rows of gimp. Full gigot sleeves, tight at the wrist, with stripes of gimp and a broad silken sash in vandyke brown gave it the desired style. A pretty hat of ecru and brown straw, trimmed with a large cluster of crimson roses, was the headgear, adopted by the little girl who called this pretty frock her own.

The little maiden or ten or thereabouts "goes in" for dances and parties quite as enthusiastically as do her elders; and, of course, must be provided with suitable raiment. Frocks for these occasions are made more elaborately than school dresses and house gowns; but at the present moment it is not considered good form to have them too fancy, but rather quaint as it were. At a fashionable modiste's, who is also an importer, I saw yesterday a charming dancing gown for a ten-year-old girl. It was of gold-colored chiffon with raised pea spots. The skirt was accordion plaited, rather short and bordered with fine rows of extremely narrow black velvet ribbon, the baby waist was decollete, shirred at the neck and belt, and ornamented with five rows of herring-bone stitching in yellow silk through which was threaded black velvet ribbon, the elbow sleeves full and gathered into a band decorated with velvet and a frill of chiffon. The guimpe was of pineapple tissue, cream-tinted, shirred in loose puffs.

Guimpes, I might mention, are universally worn, dressy ones being elaborate creations of puffs, embroidery and lace, while those designed for everyday wear are of India linen or fine cambric gathered into a band at neck and waist, edged simply with narrow embroidery or lace.

Girls in their teens, as a rule, have gowns that are miniature pictures of those their mothers are wearing, with blazers and blouses, revers and lace-trimmed yokes. This is really too bad. Many a girl has been dubbed an "old maid" at twenty-two simply because at sixteen she put on long dresses and young lady airs and went into society. Girls, don't do it.

Be young girls just as long as you can. Youth is short enough at best, and once out of that happy, care-free time you can never, never go back.

But my mission is not to preach, but to record the fashionable frivolities of la mode, and just now I am haunted by visions of a dress I met this morning. It was a lovely dress worn by a lovely girl just turned sixteen, red in color, which,

PRETTY GOWN FOR A PRETTY MISS.

I might remark in passing, will be a most popular shade for early fall wear. This particular red dress was of crepe, made with a full skirt ornamented by a flounce with a row of black lace insertion set on near the bottom. As is the case with all pretty dresses nowadays, the style or air was in the well-fitting bodice with its deep plaited collar of red chiffon and very large sleeves decorated with two bands of insertion. The crush collar was finished with a flaring bow and jet buckle, and a similar one held the band of red ribbon on the black straw sailor hat.

With its accustomed regularity the little reefer coat has come to town. This year it is more fanciful than ever before. Some are of scarlet cloth, gay with gilt buttons, while others are in the lavender blue shade, now so fashionable in Paris. This shade is also known as bluet blue and promises to be an important color in the autumn. One little coat that struck my particular fancy was of reversible tweed that is in small checks on one side and large plaids on the other with edges bound in leather matching the short belt across the back. Most of these coats are only designed for early fall wear, but such a one as I have described would be serviceable until time to put on heavy winter wraps.

The exquisite elegance of the new silk hosiery for children is enough to bankrupt the most resolute mother. Black silk stockings have Chantilly lace insertion up the front and daintly embroidered tan ones have lace inserted clocks up the sides. Besides these are plain white, soft gray and pale blues, keeping close company with every variety of design interwoven in color with black.—Kate Gardner, in Chicago Lamp.

That Tired Feeling

Is a dangerous condition directly due to depleted or impure blood. It should not be allowed to continue, as in its debility the system is especially liable to serious attacks of illness. SPRINGVILLE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Rev. Mr. Barclay, of Balliboro, Ireland, has occupied the pulpit of the Presbyterian church for two successive Sundays very acceptably. The congregation are unanimous in extending a call to the reverend gentleman.

Mr. John Warner, the popular tenor singer, has left for an extended tour in the northern country for the benefit of his health, and also with a view of adding to his wealth. May fortune favour you, John.

Our village has been visited with three extensive and destructive fires during the past season, the last being the stables and sheds of Mr. William Millan. Mr. Millan looses his hay and implements, together with a valuable horse. The origin of these fires are undoubtedly the work of an incendiary. The villagers are intending applying to the government to have a provincial detective investigate the matter and, if possible, bring the guilty parties to justice.

Farmers are busy threshing. The grain is turning out well through this locality, especially alsike clover, some having a yield of five bushels per acre. If farmers were allowed to fix the price of the various cerals, they would be more abundantly blessed with gold and silver than the present prospects promise them.

The Royal Templars are still strong with Mr. F. E. Wilson at the helm. With such a distinguished orator and good tactician, the temperance cause should flourish in this town.

I notice in your last issue an item in your Warsaw budget of news, of a party taking a trip. At first reading of the item the thought would strike the causual reader that the party had adopted the old time way of going to Heaven, (that is by chariot). Possibly they may have started with that intention, but as we read on, the spirits or something else apparently caused them to turn at the bridge. Whoever wrote the description of the trip, may possibly have waked out of one of those rip-van-winkle long sleeps and thought he was transformed, evidently by the exuberance of his own verbosity, into some strange supernatural being. What a sensational feeling must have crept over him when he realized the fact that they had only been down to the old Trent bridge. Your correspondent would advise those people that before starting out on such an expedition again they should come down and join the Royal Templars of Springville. They would be sure to get a passport there that would insure them from the use or interference of spirits, and no doubt could make the through trip without their imagination turning them back to that lovely village of Warsaw. We would suggest that some of our boys extend the invitation.

LASSWADE.

(From Our Own Corespondent.)

We notice that our Apsley correspondent begins to dish up ready made poetry. News must be scarce around that slumbering hamlet.

Mr. Edward Youmans has a potato of white elephant variety, grown on his farm in Metheun, that tips the scales at just 3 lbs. Mr. Youmans does not claim that he has the largest potato in the neighbourhood, but would like to hear of one that will beat it.

Mr. Read is about done threshing in this neighbourhood. He seems to have given good satisfaction, as the farmers say they have never had better work done. He threshed 200 bushels of oats for Jas. Woodbeck in just two hours on Friday last.

Quite a number from this neighbourhood took in the C.P.R. excursion to the Picton fair on Thursday.

A couple of teams of the Rathbun Co. are drawing lumber from the mill near here to Fell's Lake, where the company intend shantying this winter.

Mr. J. A. McColl is doing a rushing business in his mill this fall.

The milk waggons have started running every other day now.

The Rev. Mr. Ratcliffe, of Stouffville, is visiting with his son J. W. Ratcliffe, of this place. Mr. Ratcliff was at one time a resident of Apsley, and has many friends in the surrounding country who are pleased to see him back again.

Miss Hattie Graham is enjoying a short vacation, this week, while the school house is undergoing repairs.

Mrs. John Hales was the guest of Mrs. J. A. McColl, on Saturday.

The Rev. Mr. Emberson has been visiting among the members of his flock, across the swamp, this week.

Mrs. Anderson has been the guest of Mrs. Parcels during the past week.

Mr. Bert Carl, of Methuen, has been dangerously ill during the past week. He has been under the care of Dr. Jeff, of Apsley, and is recovering.

Mr. Manford Woodbeck returned home, from Michigan, on Friday evening, after an absence of over a year.

Miss Lousley and Miss Young were the guests of Miss Julia Hales, last week.

SUNDAY SCHOOL ANNIVERSARY

An Enjoyable Programme Rendered at Riverdale and the Debt Cleared Off.

The anniversary services of the Riverdale Sunday School which were held last evening, were an unqualified success in every particular.

The programme which was presented, was a most pleasing one, and the proceeds of the tea were sufficient to clear off the Sunday school debt of $25.

Quite a few drove out to the settlement from town, and together with the others who were present swelled the audience to no inconsiderable size. The programme which was rendered was as follows:

Doxology and Benediction.

Crispi's Following Reinforced.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—A despatch from Rome to the Central News says that the majority of the Piedmont deputies have declared their purpose to support the government, henceforth in the Chamber. Their action will greatly strengthen Crispi and will reduce the following of Zanardielli and Giolitti to about forty.

Cotton Spinners' Strike Settled.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Oct. 9.—The cotton spinners' strike was settled at a conference between the mill owners and the operatives, the latter agreeing to accept a reduction of 5 per cent. in wages with the understanding that the final settlement reached at Fall River shall also apply here.

New Mexico Doesn't Want Them.

EL PASO, Oct. 9,—Gov. Thornton of New Mexico returned an answer to the query from El Paso parties relative to having Corbett's next fight in New Mexico, stating that the territory statutes prohibit anything of the kind and he will do what he can to prevent it.

THE PARKDALE SHOOTING.

Probing for the Bullet in Frank Westwood's Body—Case Still a Mystery.

TORONTO, Oct. 9.—Mr. Benjamin Westwood, father of the Parkdale youth shot under such mysterious circumstances on Saturday night, was seen by a reporter with regard to the rumor circulated that the boy knew who his assailant was, but for some unknown reason refused to say. Mr. Westwood expressed great indignation at the story.

"My son never wronged anyone in his life," he said, "and I am confident that if I went to the door on Saturday night instead of him I would have been shot."

Mr. Westwood accused the police authorities of trying to cover up their own negligence by making insinuations against the truth of his and his son's story.

It is now generally thought that the shooting was the crazy freak of some crank, though the fact that a man made inquiries for the location of the Westwood home early in the evening is unexplained. The name of a lady living in Victoria Crescent had been mentioned in connection with that of Frank Westwood. And it was said that that the description of the father tallied exactly with that of the man who fired the shot on Saturday night. What amount of credit may be given to this story is hard to say, as there are many ridiculous rumors circulated as an explanation of the unfortunate affair.

A consultation was held, attended by Drs. Cameron, Peters, Scadding and Lynd. All the medical men were of the opinion that an operation was imperative. The sufferer was put under the influence of opiates. An incision was made in the abdomen and an outlet given for the internal hemmorhage that has been going on ever since the wound was inflicted. Probing for the wound was unsuccessful, and it was considered dangerous to proceed further at the present. The operation was necessary and was only a chance at saving the boy's life. He may live but the chances are against him.

Rev. Mr. Scott, the family pastor, visited the boy's bedside, and to him young Frank told the story he had already related to the detectives. He was quite positive that he could not identify the man who shot him.

Perry Weinberg Gets a Year.

TORONTO, Oct. 9.—In the case of Perry Weinberg, who was convicted on three separate charges of larceny last week, sentence was pronounced by the magistrate yesterday. Weinberg was extradited from New York after a vast amount of trouble and the expenditure of over a thousand dollars. In the first case, of stealing a watch and money from Mrs. Stern, he was sent to the Central Prison for one year, and on the other two six months each, the sentences to run concurrently. This makes just a year that Weinberg will have to spend in custody and ends the whole matter.

Gignac Becomes Insane.

WINDSOR, Oct. 9.—Dr. Casgrain has been requested to consult with Dr. Pare of Sandwich upon the condition of Albert Gignac, the Sandwich West farmer who was murderously assaulted by ex-Constable Sam Wilson and Montgomery Bell. Gignac's mind has been deranged as a result of the assault and he is now totally insane. The case will be placed in the hands of the county crown attorney, who will get witnesses to prosecute as a criminal case for the Crown.

Objected to Being "Hazed."

KINGSTON, Oct. 9.—Cadet Plummer, of Toronto, has gone home for the second time since the term opened at the Royal Military College. It is stated that the senior cadets attempted to "haze" him on two occasions and he resisted strenuously. On the first occasion he returned to the college with his father, but this time, it is understood, his friends will request an investigation, so that his tormentors may be punished.

Killed in Saving Her Child.

CARLETON PLACE, Ont., Oct. 9.—Mrs. John E. Irvine, with her two children, were driving into town and when near the railway crossing one of the children slipped out. Mrs. Irvine, in trying to rescue the child, tripped on the reins, fell out and broke her neck.

Canadian Killed in Buffalo.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 9.—William Farmer, a lithographer employed by G. H. Dunstan & Co., was instantly killed at the Genessee street crossing of the Erie railroad. He was struck and thrown 20 feet. Death was immediate. Farmer was 46 years old, unmarried, and it is said he formerly resided in Lancaster, Ont.

A Guelph Boy's Sudden Death.

GUELPH, Oct. 9.—Jas. Alfred Vincent, a young man aged about 20 years, was found dead by his father, who was bringing him a lunch to where he was working ing in a garden. The young man was suffering from a sore throat, but whether this was the result of his death is not definitely ascertained.

Died After Fifty Days' Fasting.

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—Prof. William Sloan died at his home yesterday after a fast of fifty days. He has frequently lived three or four weeks without nourishment.

THE RULING MARKETS.

TORONTO, Oct. 9, 1894.

Stocks of grain in the city elevators increased 29,846 bushels the past week.

The receipts of wheat yesterday on the street comprised 300 bushels of wheat at 52 cents for white and 50 cents for red; 600 of barley at 43c to 46 1-2c and 200 of oats at 30c to 30 1-2c. Outside wheat was weak.

Wheat was weak in Chicago on account of the large increase in the visible supply. Sales of cash wheat ranged higher but the nominal close was weak. Corn followed wheat. Oats closed lower.

Buffalo market reports the visible supply of barley as 2,750,000 at the close of the week against 2,365,000 the week previous and 2,100,000 the close of the first week in October last year. An easier feeling is reported, but the demand does not improve materially. Canada is dull.

Of the 96 cars on sale at the East Buffalo live stock market one-fourth remained unsold at the close. There were 15 cars of Canadas in the offerings, a portion of which were not choice stock. The better grades of Canadas sold at $4 to $4.15 and the others, except a few undisposed of, sold at $3.75 to $3.90.

The London markets were firmer. American railroads were better but closed under the best.

Professional pulling and hauling at the New York stock market began promptly with the opening of the business. Manipulation was less difficult because the settlement of bear contracts last week had been pretty complete. At the close, though the declines were not distributed with any uniformity, the general range was lower. Nothing sold down except where actual pressure from professional sources was applied, and it was altogether natural that in all such cases outside support should not be perceptible.

TWO HUNDRED KILLED.

The Military Barracks in Grenada, Nicaragua, Blown Up.

PANAMA, Oct. 9.—A despatch to the Star and Herald from Granada, Nicaragua, says: "A terrible catastrophe has occurred here. The military barracks has been blown up and a whole quarter of the city has been badly damaged. The number of dead is estimated at 200. The number of wounded is much greater but no estimate is as yet obtainable.

Parnellite Meeting in Dublin.

DUBLIN, Oct. 9.—John Redmond, leader of the Parnellites, presided over a large meeting in the rotunda last evening. He denounced the Government for accepting with equinamity the decision of the House of Lords against home rule and for removing home rule from the category of urgent questions. If the agitation to abolish the House of Lords be interposed now home rule would be relegated to the back ground for a generation. The abolition of the right of entail would be the greatest revolution in English history. The meeting passed a resolution to the effect that everything possible should be done to force the immediate dissolution of Parliament and obtain from the electors a fresh mandate as to home rule.

Blown to Death by Dynamite.

IRONWOOD, Mich., Oct. 9.—John Ravell, a miner, last evening put half a box of dynamite in the kitchen stove to thaw it out for use in the morning. The family, consisting of seven persons, was gathered about the stove conversing with a neighbor, Mrs. Paterson. In a few minutes there was a terrific explosion. Ravell and three of his children and Jessie Paterson were instantly killed and Mrs. Ravell and the two other children so badly injured they will probably die. The house was blown to atoms.

Stabbed a Mute Couple.

BOSTON, Oct. 9.—Joseph Finnegan and his wife Hannah, both mutes, were stabbed while in bed. The man has a cut in his arm from the shoulder to the elbow, an ugly gash, clear into the bone. The woman has two wounds, one in the throat, and one in the breast. Mrs. Finnegan awoke to see a strange man bending over her. Her husband was aroused, and as he was struck at he threw up his arm, and the knife, instead of striking his body, slashed his muscles. The intruder leaped to the ground below. He was captured.

Terrible Explosion in Steel Works.

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—Three men were killed in the Illinois Steel Works and four others injured by the explosion of a steam pipe. The dead are, William Miller, John Holstrom and A. B. Sparrow. The recovery of the injured is doubtful. All were employes at the South Chicago mills and the injured were taken to the company's hospital there. The room in which the accident occurred was filled with steam and almost every one of the 50 men in it was burned more or less severely.

Killed by a Wrecked Train.

TOMAHAWK, Wis., Oct. 9.—Train wreckers sawed the supporting timbers of the Soo road bridge at Tomahawk Junction and the engine of an early west bound passenger train went through the structure. Fireman Charles Cottrell, of Minneapolis, was instantly killed, and Engineer James E. Dutch, of Minneapolis, was badly hurt. An attempt was made to wreck the train a week ago.

Four Wrecked Passengers Missing.

SYDNEY, N.S.W., Oct. 9.—The steamer Londondo, from Adelaide for Fremantle, went on Pollock Reef, off the West Australian coast, on October 6. Of the 164 passengers all but four made their way on boats and rafts to the southeast of the island. Thirty-six members of the crew were saved also. The four missing passengers are supposed to have been drowned.

The Cyclone Reaches Florida.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 9.—The cyclone reported raging in the Gulf near Galveston, Texas, has reached Florida. At noon the wind at Pensacola was reported to be blowing at a velocity of 64 miles an hour. Shortly after that the wires went down between this place and Pensacola and it is impossible to learn whether any damage has been done.

Old Antwerp Buildings Burned.

ANTWERP, Oct. 9.—Fire started in the buildings on the exhibition grounds known as "Old Antwerp," and for a time the destruction of the entire group was threatened. The flames were extinguished after a block of seven houses had been burned. The greater part of the "Old Antwerp" buildings were saved.

Fire Loss for September.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—The Journal of Commerce to-day says that the fire loss in the United States and Canada for September was $10,144,000, as compared with $10,506,700 for September, 1893. The total loss for the first nine months of 1894 was 97,[illegible],000, and for the corresponding period of 1893 it was $121,000,000.

A Milton Forgery Case.

MILTON, Oct. 9. — Amos Dorland has entered an action against Joshua Butterfield, formerly manager of the Bank of Hamilton here, and now of Mount Forest. The Bank of Hamilton held notes belonging to Joseph Brothers, of Milton, to the value of $11,000. He reduced it to $5,000 by obtaining an endorsation from Amos Dorland. For security Dorland received $5,000 in notes from Brothers. Brothers fled some time ago. The notes given to Dorland, it is said, were forgeries, and Dorland claims that the bank knew that the notes were forgeries and he seeks to recover from the bank.

A Newfoundland Bye-Election.

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., Oct. 9.—The Trinity bye-election campaign has opened. The government candidates are Moses Monroe, one of the leaders of the party last fall; Robert Bremner and Campbell MacPherson. They started with a strong force of canvassers. The Whitewayites were taken by surprise, though the election had been gazetted, as they thought the government was not making preparations. Their probable candidates are Horwood and Johnson Layers and Gussue Planter, all comparatively unknown men. A keen contest is expected as the Whitewayites carried all three seats last November by good majorities. Polling is to-day fortnight.

Opposition to Huddart's Scheme.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—The opposition to the proposed fast Canadian steamship line is observable in more than one quarter, and the most ingenious rumors are being circulated with a view to unpopularize the scheme. One of these is embodied in a statement made public, and in which the officials in London of the Occidental and Oriental Steamship Company deny most emphatically that there is any truth whatever, that their company and the Pacific Mail Company had entered into a combination with a view to bringing a strong opposition to bear against the projected Canadian line.

Our Millinery opening is now over and has been a decided success, and it is very gratifying to be able to state that we never had more visitors or took more orders, which simply shows the fact that our selection of Millinery is very choice and varied. Our turnover in this department is so large that we can afford to buy everything new as it appears each week. Thus our customers are always sure of getting the latest styles and closest prices with us.

MANTLES.

In the Mantle department things are on the move. Our best garments are going out rapidly. We have a large and varied stock and our prices are rock bottom, as we import direct from the manufacturers. We keep the very best qualities of Astrachans and Seal ettes to be made up to order. Any one thinking of buying a cheap Fur Coat should see these Cloths first as they make up more effective, and are twice as durable, and can be made up in any of the new shapes. Our Mantle maker is one the best in the country, turning her work out as well as any tailor.

DISASTROUS MINE FIRE

The Violation of Orders Results in a Terrible Fatality.

WORKMEN CAUGHT IN A TRAP

Five Known to Have Lost Their Lives in the Seething Furnace—The Coal Property Ruined at a Loss of Several Hundred Thousand Dollars.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Oct. 10.—The most disastrous mine fire in the history of the anthracite regions of Pennsylvania started at the Luke Fidler colliery from the naked lamp of a workman.

Five persons are known to be dead. They are Irwin Buffington, carpenter; George Brown, miner; John Cierze, laborer; Michael Buzofiskie, laborer, and Anthony Cobert, driver boy.

Buffington, with a number of other carpenters, was at work half way down the shaft calking up holes in the side of the brattice which connects the shaft with the air passage. It is the rule when doing this work for the men to use lanterns, but in this case the rule was disregarded and naked lamps were substituted. Detecting a leak Buffington placed his lamp to the draft and the flame immediately caught the boards, which were saturated with oil, and was taken into the air chamber. Realizing the consequences of his act the man at once started for the bottom of the shaft to notify the workmen employed there of their danger, his companions in the meantime rushing up the shaft to safety.

When Buffington had notified the workmen below he stopped to exchange his rubber boots for a pair of shoes and the delay in doing this cost him his life. He staggered to within thirty feet of the door of a passage-way which led to the open air but here he was overcome by smoke and fell. His body was found in the morning. The other bodies are still in the mine.

The fire had been scarcely a minute started before up through the air passage shot a sheet of flame 20 feet high. In three minutes the fan house was a mass of blackened cinders. The flames by this time were creating havoc with the workings below and in addition to the timbers which were nearly all on fire, the beds of anthracite were beginning to ignite and the whole mine in the vicinity of the bottom of the shaft were soon a seething furnace.

The Shamokin fire department began pouring water into the mine within an hour after the fire started, but thus far has not produced any perceptible effect.

One thousand men were employed at the Luke Fidler colliery and another thousand were given employment at the Gimlet and Hickory Ridge collieries, all of whom are thrown out of work. This valuable coal property is practically ruined, entailing a loss of several hundred thousand dollars. Considering the rapidity with which the fire did its work, it is considered fortunate that no more lives were lost.

Old Rates on Pig Lead Restored.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—Paragraphs 165 and 166 of the new tariff law, which reduce the duties on pig lead from 2 cents a pound to 1 cent and on lead dross from 1 1-2 cents to 1 cent a pound, contained a provision that the old rates should be restored "in case any foreign country shall impose an export duty upon lead ore and lead dross or silver ores containing lead exported to the United States." A circular to collectors of customs, issued by the Treasury Department, advises them that "Italy and Spain impose export duties on lead ores and that Japan imposes an export duty on lead," and consequently the old rates of the McKinley law will apply to lead imports from those countries.

Spiritualists in Convention.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—The National Spiritualists' Association of the United States met in convention at the Masonic Temple yesterday, with about 150 delegates present, half of whom are women. The annual report of the president, Harrison D. Barrett, was presented. The report said that nearly 100 local organizations are now connected with the national body. Mediums have been arrested in several States and subjected to persecution, and Prof. Barrett recommended the formation of a defence fund for their protection. He recommended the adoption of a vigorous missionary policy.

Smallpox Scare Near Buffalo.

BUFFALO, Oct. 10.—The neighboring village of Angola has a smallpox scare. Mrs. Madison came there sick from Chicago and was taken to the house of a relative. There she showed symptoms of the disease, and the village doctor failed to diagnose the case. Dr. Wendt, the Board of Health Commissioner, has been asked to examine the woman. His reply is that it is out of his jurisdiction.

Murdered by a Jealous Lover.

SCRANTON, Pa., Oct. 10.—Frank Bezec murdered his sweetheart, Maria Kerzic, at the home of the latter's sister in Olyphant yesterday. Bezec and the girl came to America last Saturday from Bohemia. Jealously prompted the crime, the girl having announced her intention of marrying an old lover who had preceded her to this country.

Fierce Storms in Florida.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 10.—The western portion of Florida was swept by the gulf storm, but it is impossible to ascertain the extent of the damage, as the wires to the west are down. The storm is supposed to have been severe between Tallahasse and Pensacola. The loss to farmers will be heavy.

NO HOPE FOR THE CZAR

He is Told by His Physicians That His Malady is Incurable.

HIS EMOTION AT THE NEWS

The Disease Has Been Slowly Eating Away His Life Undetected for Two Years—A Joint Regency to Preside Over the Council of State.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—The Standard's correspondent in St. Petersburg sends the following story, the facts of which he says he learned through an ear witness: "When Dr. Zacharin told the Czar that his malady was incurable, that care and attention might prolong his life a few months, but that it was useless to conceal the fact that no remedies would avail beyond a certain period, the Czar was terribly affected. He entered another room and exclaimed to the occupants: 'Dr. Zacharin has just told me that there is no hope.' Everybody was thrown into consternation by the Czar's change of face and mien and greatly blamed Dr. Zacharin for speaking so bluntly."

The correspondent vouches for the correctness of this story. He adds: "The Czarewitch will very shortly return here accompanied by Grand Duke Michael. The two will preside over the council of state and act jointly. They will be regents in everything except in name. Army reports have already been submitted to the Czarewitch, who will probably assume the chief command almost immediately. His marriage appears to be somewhat remote, partly owing to the tradition that no Czar may marry within a year of his coronation.

It is reported that Prof. Leyden is less hopeless concerning the Czar than is Dr. Zacharin. He considers that the disease must have existed two years, and he is astonished that it was not detected at an earlier stage when treatment is more likely to be efficient.

MASSACRED BY KAFFIRS.

Outrages Continue at Lourenzo Marquez, Southeast Africa.

LISBON Oct, 10.—A despatch from Lourenzo Marquez, on Delogoa Bay, Southeast Africa, says that Chief Mahazula's Kaffir tribesmen massacred several whites and a large number of Kaffir allies in the outskirts of the town. There is continual raiding and looting in the vicinity. At a meeting of the European residents the incapacity of the government was denounced and immediate action was demanded. Business is paralyzed and the public offices are closed.

The steamer Cazengo will sail from Lisbon for Lourenzo Marquez on October 15 with reinforcements of troops.

The Merritt Family in Trouble.

WALKERTON, Oct. 10.—In the trial of the Merritt family, of Kincardine, true bills were found against Rachael Merritt and her mother, Mrs. Sophia Merritt, for conspiracy to shoot Wm. Stewart. Judge MacMahen, however, entered a verdict of not guilty, without allowing it to go to the jury. A true bill was found against Charles Merritt for shooting at Wm. Stewart with intent to do grievous bodily harm. This met the same fate as the other in being dismissed without going to the jury. A true bill was also found against Sophia Merritt, Rachael Merritt, James Merritt, John Merritt and Charles Merritt for conspiracy to burn the crops of Wm. Stewart. All these were bound over in their own recognizances to appear for trial when called upon. It is altogether likely that they will never be called upon. They are a very respectable looking family of good standing in the county and got into their present difficulty through the act of the prosecutor, Stewart, who is alleged to have seduced Rachael Merritt and then married another girl. The latter gave evidence on behalf of her husband and had no doubt at all that he was entirely innocent of the charge made against him by Rachael Merritt. No one else in court, however, had the same opinion.

Rubbing it Into the Committee.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—Truth, Henry Labouchere's paper, commenting upon the British anti-lynching committee's letter to the governor of Alabama says: "For a consummate piece of impertinence, put forward with unblushing effrontery, I have never come across so fine a specimen as the reproof administered by the anti-lynching committee to the governor of Alabama. Little Peddlington chastising the American eagle is so irresistibly comic that there is difficulty in treating the subject from a serious point of view. Considering the irresponsible nature of the body who strutted out to deliver the assault it is only wonderful that the governor condescends to make a reply. He employed a Nasmith hammer to kill a fly."

Death of Earl Gray.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—Earl Gray, the third Earl of that name, died at his country seat, Howick House, Bilton, Northumberland, aged 92. Henry Gray, third Earl Gray, was born in 1802, and was the only son of the second Earl, the eminent statesman and reformer. The deceased in 1832 married a daughter of the late Sir Joseph Copley. He leaves no children. Earl Gray has been Under-Secretary for the Colonies, Under-Secretary for the Home Department, Secretary of War and Secretary of State for the Colonies. He was a lifelong friend of Mr. Gladstone.

Established Church in Congress.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—The English church congress opened at Exeter yesterday, the Bishop of Exeter presiding. In his opening speech the bishop urged the need of thorough church reform, a catholicity of spirit toward other denominations of Christians, religious education and the enforcement of temperance laws on the lines of the Gothenburg system.

Neale to Sail To-Morrow.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—Neale, the absconding Canadian customs official, was remanded again at Bow street until to-morrow. Inspector O'Leary, of the Dominion police, is expected to arrive here from Ottawa, and in his custody Neale will probably be returned to Canada by the Sardinian, which sails to-morrow.

STILL A DEEP MYSTERY

Toronto Authorities Puzzled Over the Parkdale Shooting Case.

NO MOTIVE FOR THE CRIME

The Boy Said to Have Made a Statement to the Detectives Which They Have Not Yet Made Known—Many Rumors Complicate the Case.

TORONTO, Oct. 10.—An absence of motive is puzzling the detectives who are looking for the person who shot Frank Westwood on Saturday night. The victim is lying in a precarious condition, while the officers are scurrying about looking for a clue. No one who could possibly wish harm to the young man has been found. His father and his acquaintances vouch for the reputation of the lad, whilst his comrades and chums know of no entanglements, and the police are unable to ascribe a motive for such a deed. As time passes the mystery deepens. The slight threads of evidence are becoming tangled by tales that were born in the imaginative faculties of gossip. The police are not even decided whether it is a man or woman who did the shooting.

The detective department has been hard at work on the case, notwithstanding the fact that they have not shown the results yet. Every clue that bears on its face a degree of probability is traced to its source. Many people weave hearsay gossip with a gifted imagination and bother both detectives and reporters with the impossible results. Like all puzzles, it may prove the most simple form of mystery when it is solved. The police argue that the crime was committed either by a crazy person or by a person with a motive. The first theory they have counted out of the calculation, and they are looking for some person with a motive. A lad of nineteen summers is not likely to inspire anyone, even a frenzied youth or a girl with a passion that would be productive of such a mad crime. When the lad is a sturdy, fine-looking young fellow, free of all visible vice, and a favorite in the circle where he moves, the search for a motive becomes still harder.

It is said that the boy has made a statement to the detectives which they, for some reason, are keeping quiet at present. It would seem from this to be beyond all doubt that there are circumstances connected with the case which the family are desirous of keeping quiet. If a statement has been made, as is rumored, interesting developments may be expected.

The boy is hovering between life and death and little hope is entertained for his recovery. The rumor that the vital spark had gone out was circulated throughout the city, and on the strength of this a coroner's warrant had been issued for an inquest. This action has been subjected to severe comment as it is the duty of the coroner in such cases to thoroughly investigate before issuing his warrant.

TRUE BILL AGAINST GREEN.

He is on Trial at Cornwall for the Murder of Cosgrove.

CORNWALL, Ont., Oct. 10.—The grand jury brought in a true bill against Charles Green for the killing of Patrick Cosgrove on the night of September 10. It may be well to recall a few facts in connection with the crime. On that night Cosgrove and Green were seen together. Cosgrove was found the following morning in an unconscious condition on Water street east and died shortly afterwards. Two men named Kearney and Henderson were suspected and skipped the town, but were subsequently arrested in Morrisburg and brought back to Cornwall and divulged the confession of Green that he had murdered Cosgrove by hitting him a blow with his fist behind the ear and then went through his pockets, but failed to get any money. Green was caught in his sister's house, secreted in a cistern, after a hot chase, and waived extradition. The trial will be reached to-day and is creating considerable excitement.

Temperance People Persecuted.

SUTTON, Que., Oct. 10.—The sequel to the lead pipe murderous assault upon Mr. W. W. Smith, president of the Brome County Alliance, occurred on Saturday last. It has been well known that the liquor men, baffled in their attempt to murder Mr. Smith, had, however, not abandoned their plan to ruin him and discourage other temperance workers in the county. The scheme was known to the temperance people, but it was not thought possible that it would succeed. It was nothing more nor less than the securing of the dismissal of Mr. Smith from his position as agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway. They have, however, succeeded. Mr. Smith was notified on Saturday last of his dismissal from the company's employ. Some astonishing revelations may be expected, as the temperance people are intensely indignant that the company should have yielded to the demands of the liquor party and removed from its service one who has been for years a trusted servant and faithful officer.

Trial of the Conductors.

MONTREAL, Oct. 10.—The case of the Grand Trunk conductors, Stone, Mulligan, Defries and Tamblin, charged with defrauding the company by "knocking down" fares, was commenced in the police court yesterday. High Constable Bissonnette, of Montreal, was examined and related the particulars of the arrest. He produced the valises found in the possession of the accused at the time of their arrest, and an examination was made of their contents before the court. Nothing of an incriminating nature was found, the only article of use being some packages of tickets which were filed as exhibits.

Killed by a Thresher.

THAMESFORD, Oct. 10.—A fatal accident occurred at Mr. Hughes' place in East Nissouri, about seven miles north of here. Matthew Young, who with Mr. Abbott runs a threshing machine, had completed the threshing and was removing the thresher from the barn when his team became frightened and started off. Mr. Young lost his footing and fell, both wheels passing over his body killing him instantly. He was unmarried and a highly respected man.

Daily Examiner.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 10, 1894.

THE Dominion Government's fatuous insistence upon a high "protection tariff" in the face of a persistent popular demand for tariff reform is provoking rebellion in the ranks of its supporters. The St. Thomas Times, a staunch Conservative journal, is being "slugged" because it preaches tariff reform. This provokes the Times to retort. In a recent number it addresses "a few words" to its readers. It says: "While we believe, and in fact, know," it says, "that the course pursued by this journal, politically, has met the approval of the great bulk of the Liberal-Conservatives in St. Thomas and of the surrounding country, we are very well aware that a few noisy and over zealous spirits, extreme partisans, ambitious for office, and having personal ends of their own to serve, having been sowing the seeds of discontent on the ground that the Times is not a sufficiently supple and available party organ." It promptly and proudly pleads guilty to this "soft impeachment," and proceeds to outline its policy on many of the issues of the day. It is for British connection, for moderate protection and tariff reform, for the right of independent thought. As for its position in the political arena, it declares:

We shall continue to give the Liberal-Conservative party a loyal, faithful and hearty support in so far as we can do it conscientiously and truthfully. We are not blind to its faults and failings, and do not propose to be silent about these when the public good requires a candid word to be spoken.

The government will find the number of "kickers" increasing and the ballot box will tell a tale that will not be pleasing to the high taxationists.

NONE of the possible leaders who have been suggested as Mr. Meredith's successor pleases the Hamilton Spectator. Mr. E. E. Sheppard "can write a good article of a certain kind and can make a funny speech," but that is not what is wanted in a Conservative leader. Mr. McCarthy is objectionable, Dr. Montague "is not the man for the job," and Mr. Howland has had no legislative experience. But the unkindest cut of all is administered to Mr. Witney, who is dismissed with the remark that the Spectator knows very little of him, and "the fact that he is nominated by so many Grit papers is very much against him." Mr. Marter is not put in the list.

HON. Mr. Daly says the Dominion elections will not be held for eighteen months yet. Then, why not defer the revision of the voters' list till next year? Does the Government wish an appeal to the electorate on lists incomplete to the extent of those who die within the next year or so, and those that come of age within the same time. Then, too, there is the question of economy—but that cuts no figure with the Government, any more than fair play or several other considerations.

THE Stratford Herald says: "Now that Mr. Meredith has retired from political life, the Grit papers which industriously tried to blacken his character during the late campaign have promptly discovered that he is one of the grandest of men, and will make a most righteous judge." The Herald has evidently either not read the Liberal papers, or it has forgotten the sixth commandment.

FAILURES in Canada during the last nine months showed substantially the same liabilities as last year. The assets have declined. On the other hand the liabilities of insolvent traders in the United States have decreased 66 per cent. The disparity is due to the fact that we did not suffer the commercial collapse which swept across the states to the south in 1893.

THE EMPIRE sometimes gets tired of trying to find Hon. Mr. Harty a seat, and for change makes a desperate effort to get Mr. Evanturel into the Cabinet.

A CASH VALUE IN TREES.

The average rainfall in Ontario from 1882 to 1893, inclusive, was 6.83 inches. For 1893 alone, the fall was 5.12, a falling off to the extent of nearly one and three quarter inches as compared with the average for the full period of twelve years.

This decrease would be significant in any event. It is doubly so when it is observed that the principal reduction has taken place in those sections of the Province in which the work of removing the original forest has been most active.

It is the old lesson over again. Absence of trees means absence of rain and if a country is stripped of its timber, the volume of rainfall must necessarily be reduced.

The facts are gradually being forced upon the attention of farmers in the older settled parts of the Province, and as a result, evergreens, planted by hand, are beginning to dot the crests of hills and banks of the rivers and streams.

But sufficient has not yet been done. The work of planting should be prosecuted more vigorously and systematically, and those who engage in this task will receive full return in a greater rainfall in summer, in shelter from the winds of winter and in the addition made to the beauty of their homesteads.—Toronto News.

SUPREME COURT DECISIONS.

The London Betting Case—The Landslide at Quebec Citadel.

OTTAWA, Oct. 10.—A number of judgments were given in the Supreme Court yesterday, but the "power to prohibit" case was not touched. It is held over until next week.

An important case deciding as to the liability of the Crown in the landslide which occurred at the Citadel of Quebec some years ago was disposed of. The city of Quebec sued the Crown to recover damages. The court held by three to two that the Crown was not liable. The case will likely be carried to the Privy Council

In the London election betting case, as to the result of the Carling and Hyman election, between Trebilcock and Walsh, the court held that Walsh, who was the stakeholder of a $1,000 bet between Richards and Trebilcock, ought not to pay the bet over, as betting was illegal. Trebilcock sued Walsh as to paying over the amount, and the court below held with him. The judgment was reversed, Taschereau dissenting.

Another important case whereby the subsidy to the Hereford Railway Company had been diverted to pay the workmen engaged in constructing the road. The company sued the Quebec Government for doing so. The case was decided in favor of the Government.

A Toronto Customs Officer Dead.

TORONTO, Oct. 10.—At his residence, 135 Somauren ave., Thomas McLean, chief clerk of the customs house, died yesterday. He had been sick only a few days, and his death was a shock to his friends. Mr. McLean came from Ireland many years ago, and soon after arriving in Toronto embarked in the newspaper business, becoming editor of The British Herald, at one time the Orange organ in Canada. In 1871 he entered the civil service, and became, after long years of service, chief clerk in Toronto. He was prominently connected with the Church of the Epiphany, and for some time was delegate to Synod from that church. He was also a liberal supporter of Wycliffe College. He leaves one child, a daughter, who is married to Mr. Robert Wright, an employe in the customs department. The position opened by the death of Mr. McLean is a lucrative one, one of the best at the disposal of the Dominion Government.

Charged With Firing Coal Sheds.

NIAGARA FALLS, Oct. 10.—Coulson's coal shed was discovered in a blaze by men working in the G.T.R. yards. They promptly manned the Company's fire appliances and soon had the fire under control. Meanwhile the police had arrested a young man named Connolly who resides near the coal shed and who has been twice arrested before for setting fire to the shed and Buckley's furniture ware rooms adjoining. On each occasion the police were unable to furnish sufficient evidence to convict. They claim on this occasion Connolly was seen to remove oiled waste from some cars on the M.C.R. tracks and take it in a direction leading to the coal shed. As soon as the fire was discovered the police ran to Connoly's house and found him lying on the bed in an intoxicated condition with but part of his clothing removed and with hands stained from handling the oil waste. He will have a hearing by Magistrate Hill on Saturday.

SEVENTEEN YEARS OF IT.

Charles Schryver had Kidney Disease all This Time and Didn't Know it—How he Found Out and How he was Cured.

TORONTO, Oct. 1.—Sixteen years ago kidney disease attacked Charles Schryver, a bricklayer in this city, but he did not know it. It showed itself in the form of pains in the small of the back. They did not amount so much at first, but kept growing worse. Within the past six years Mr. Schryver has almost every week had to quit work for one or two days on account of their severity. Doctors ascribed them to the liver and other causes and prescribed, but their medicine did no good. Last spring a city physician diagnosed the case as one of diabetes and wanted to prescribe, but Mr. Schryver said:—"No, if its diabetes I'll use Dodd's Kidney Pills, which I know will cure me." They did cure him, too, and to-day Mr. Schryver is free from ache or pain and able to do his day's work, week in and week out, with any man in his trade.

WARSAW.

(From Our Own Correspondent)

On the 30th of September the Presbyterian church held their annual Children's Day. The doorway, windows and pulpit were liberally bedecked with beautiful blooming plants and cut flowers. Rev. Mr. Hyde occupied the pulpit, and Miss Sarah Smith presided at the organ. The choir was composed of the Sunday school scholars of the senior classes.

FRATERNAL ASSESSMENT LIABILITY.

"Can't I get out when I please, and have no liability?"

Most people expect "yes" for an answer to this question, when they say they are members of an assessment insurance society, and begin to think of their responsibilities as such. It is important for them to know that they cannot escape liability; because every member, no matter when he drops out, is liable for any deficiencies that may arise in future, if they were developed during his membership. Here is an instance:

The United Masonic Benefit Association of Missouri was some years ago an active and apparently prosperous assessment concern. It provided no reserve, but offered low rates, cheap insurance, and seemingly hoped that new blood would make up for increasing mortality resulting from increasing age. By and bye its forces began to fall off, not enough "new blood" came in, and the cost of membership ran up in a very uncomfortable way. Presently the healthier lives began to feel their burden pressing heavily and steadily left the ranks, until so few were left in the association that the assessments amounted to $140—one hundred and forty dollars—on each certificate. The remaining members refused to pay such a sum, and the concern failed. But there were unpaid death claims for a large amount due, and the State Superintendent of Insurance thought they ought to be paid. So he began suits at law against individual members to enforce payment of the assessments against them; the court has decided that they must pay. The feelings of those who are thus compelled to pay what they never expected have undergone a change with respect to assessment insurance.

Replying to some enquiries which had been made upon this point of liability, and citing this case illustration of what may be expected in any similiar case which might be pressed to suit, the Insurance Monitor says: "The decision referred to answers our question which has been debated whether the member's liability is limited to sums which he may choose to pay; in, other words, whether he can get out when he pleases without further harm. This he cannot do. Every member, no matter when he may drop out, is liable for any deficiencies which may crop up in future, resulting during his membership. The only safe course for parties that apprehend breakers ahead is to drop their membership before the breakers are reached; and the misfortune of this course is that the faster they drop, the faster the association drives towards the breakers."

There seems to be only one course open for the prudent man who may be determined to avoid possible liability; that is to keep out of such associations entirely and buy his insurance of the regular companies.—Monetary Times.

CAPTURE OF CHEE-FOO.

A Treaty Port Reported to be in the Hands of the Japanese.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—The St. James' Gazette prints a despatch from Chemulpo, dated October 3, saying that fourteen Japanese transports are in the harbor, having on board 7,000 troops, and that 750 coolies had been landed since September 27. Owing to fears of an uprising of insurgent tribesmen the garrison at Seoul had been reinforced by 4,000 men. The Japanese pay for everything they get from the Coreans. The daily expense of Japan in maintaining her army in Corea is £50,000.

The Westminster Gazette publishes a despatch from Yokohama, which says it is reported there that the Japanese have captured Chee-Foo. The government, however, has received no information confirming this report. A despatch from Hong-Kong says the Foo-Chow river has been closed to shipping.

The Times publishes a despatch from its correspondent in Yokohama confirming the report that the Japs have taken Chee-Foo. The correspondent adds that a Japanese force has also landed at Tarascada, near Port Arthur.

The Times also publishes the following despatch from its Tien-Tsin correspondent: "Five thousand Russian troops are posted on the Corean frontier facing a Japanese force at Hun-Chun."

"Assaults on foreigners at Pekin and its environs are increasing in frequency and gravity, as it has been always predicted must happen owing to the toleration of the foreign representatives who are really responsible. Each minister thinking to conciliate the government, leaves it to his colleagues to make protests, the result being plenary indulgence to street rowdies. For the same reason commercial rights are invaded with impunity. Serious trouble must follow unless the foreign agents deal firmly."

The Central News correspondent at Shanghai says the British and German [illegible] in Tien-Tsin have adopted essential measures for the defence of European residents. The volunteers are drilling steadily. Business in Tien-Tsin is at a standstill. Stores of skins and hides from the interior are accumulating on the bund. The Viceroy works night and day, but he keeps himself secluded. He has not been seen in port since the recent Chinese reverses.

It is reported that reinforcements of marines for the British squadron in Chinese waters will go to their destination by way of the Canadian Pacific railway, as that is considered the quickest route.

The British warship Undaunted has been ordered to Nagaski and the gunboat Firebrand to New-Chwang.

It is reported that the Japanese army is encamped to the north of the Yulu river. The despatch also says that a battle is imminent.

The Manchester Guardian publishes a despatch from its St. Petersburg correspondent saying that Russia sent a note to Japan in September claiming an interest in the future government of Corea. Japan's reply, it is asserted, was unfriendly to Russia's proposal.

A despatch to the Times from Hong Kong says the Chinese are preparing for a siege of Canton, and that a panic prevails in that city. The Shanghai despatch referring to the report of the capture of Chee-Foo says: "Two Japanese warships closely reconnoitered Chee-Foo harbor and the neighboring coast and then departed.

The Times, in an editorial on the war between Japan and China, contends that any attempt on the part of the powers to stop the war will be doomed to failure unless supported by a tremendous display of force, which it says is out of the question. "The power taking the initiative," it says, "would make an enemy of the most powerful and progressive nation in the east without advancing the cause of peace and humanity a jot. China and Japan must be allowed to fight out their quarrel."

The Berlin correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says that reports of the capture of Chee-Foo were received in official circles in Berlin yesterday, but were not confirmed.

Religious Excitement in Madrid.

MADRID, Oct. 10.—The excitement over the recent consecration of the Protestant bishop of Madrid is increasing. The papal nuncio's letter supporting Cardinal Monesillo's protest against the consecration has added fuel to the fire. The liberal newspapers defend the consecration and plead for tolerance. They attack the papal nuncio for meddling as a diplomat in domestic affairs of Spain, and suggest that the government hand him his passports.

A Strike on the Stage.

BROCKTON, Mass., Oct. 10.—The first strike in the history of the Actors' Protective Union of America, which was formed last May, occurred in this city at the Park theatre last night, on account of the discharge of Ed. Joyce and Verona Carroll, vocalists and dancers. The audience was dismissed and the money refunded. After the house closed the matter was adjusted satisfactorily.

A Democrat Opponent of Hill.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Everett P. Wheeler, the gubernatorial nominee on the third ticket for this state, is a leading lawyer of this city. He has always been a democrat, and his father and grandfather were prominent in the councils of the party. Mr. Wheeler has seldom worked in harmony with the regular "Democracy" of the state, and has been known as a bitter opponent of Senator Hill.

Desperate Attempt to Regain Liberty.

MONTREAL, Oct 10.—The guards of the Montreal jail yesterday discovered that Edward Collins, one of the inmates had disappeared and an investigation showed that he had made a desperate attempt to regain his liberty and had probably met his death in consequence. When last seen Collins was noticed entering the closet, an isolated building in the jail yard. Not returning, the guard instituted a search, which resulted in the astonishing discovery that the prisoner had escaped through the closet by a sixteen inch drain pipe leading to the main sewer, which empties into the river. The main sewer was thoroughly searched, without any trace being found of the missing man. It is believed that his body is in the drain connecting with the main sewer.

Tried for Reuben Tew's Death.

HAMILTON, Oct. 10.—The manslaughter case against Francis Hancock and Charles Carter was tried yesterdy. The prisoner are young men, both living in Hamilton. On June 23 when Reuben Tew, a Greensville farmer, was driving home from Hamilton his rig collided with a rig driven by the prisoners. The shaft of the prisoners' rig pierced Tew's groin and he died shortly afterwards. Mr. Clute, of Belleville, crown prosecutor, said the crown would endeavor to prove the young men were driving furiously and were responsible for the accident. The jury, however, returned a verdict of not guilty.

Filgiano Thought to Have Suicided.

HAMILTON, Oct. 10.—The friends of Fred. A. Filgiano, the missing cashier of the G.T.R. freight department here, are getting very anxious about him and believe he has committed suicide, as no person has heard from him since last Thursday when he disappeared. It will be two or three weeks before the auditor has completed his work on the books and until then the exact amount of the shortage will not be known.

Killed on the Grand Trunk.

LINDSAY, Ont., Oct. 10.—While Mr. John Free was driving across the tracks of the Grand Trunk railway, near the freight shed, the shunting engine with two flat cars attached backed into Free's waggon, throwing him out, and one of the cars ran over his body, killing him instantly. It appears that just before Mr. Free saw the engine his horses became restive and he was unable to hold them.

Liberals Meet at Harrowsmith.

HARROWSMITH, Ont., Oct. 9.—At the Liberal convention held here yesterday for Addington, George W. Dawson, the present member, was unanimously chosen to contest the county for the Commons at the next general elections. The attendance of delegates was unusually small.

A Canadian Receives Foul Play.

BROCKPORT, N.Y., Oct. 10.—James Heffron, aged 30, a saloonkeeper, has been missing for several days and it was thought he had met with foul play, as he had considerable money with him. His body was found in the canal, also part of the money. He formerly lived in Canada.

Convention of Railway Trackmen.

OTTAWA, Oct. 10.—The second annual convention of the Brotherhood of Railway Trackmen of Canada was in progress here yesterday. About fifty delegates are in attendance. They come from the far Pacific to the Atlantic.

His Pipe Caused His Death.

MONTREAL, Oct. 10.—Pierre Dufault, aged 78, died from the effect of burns. A hot coal dropped from the old man's pipe and his clothing caught fire.

For Anglican and Catholic Reunion.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—The Standard publishes a despatch from Rome saying that the Pope will shortly address a special appeal to the clergy of the Anglican church on the subject of reunion.

Tobacco Ruined by Fire.

DANVILLE, Va., Oct. 10.—Fire in Fuller and Co.'s tobacco factory last night caused $18,000 damages. The Planters' tobacco warehouse, a hundred yards distant, caught and considerable damage was done.

Nine Hop-Pickers Killed.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—A waggon containing a party of hop-pickers started to cross the railroad tracks at Chatham when a train, which could not be seen owing to a dense fog, struck the vehicle. Nine persons were instantly killed, and all the others more or less seriously injured.

Orange Crop Damaged by a Cyclone.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 10.—A telegram has been received from Port Eads to the effect that the orange crop in that vicinity was damaged one-third by the storm. The wind had attained a velocity of 84 miles an hour when the guage broke.

Wife Murder and Suicide.

MARBLE ROCK, Ia., Oct. 10.—Geo. Reams murdered his wife yesterday in a horribly brutal manner, cutting her throat from ear to ear. He then severed his own windpipe. Domestic infelicity was the cause.

THE RULING MARKETS.

TORONTO, Oct. 10, 1894.

The Grand Trunk Railway's return of traffic for the week ending October 6 show a decrease for the week this year of $51,093.

On the street 400 bushels of wheat sold at 53 cents for white, 50 to 51 for red and 50 for goose; 1,000 of barley at 43 to 48; 200 of peas at 57 to 68, and 500 oats at 30 to 31. Outside prices are unchanged.

Wheat was weak in Chicago, December closing 1-8c and cash 1-2 lower. The bears had complete control of the corn market and forced the price down. Oats were weak.

In the East Buffalo live stock market, when all in, the offerings were 37 cars including 14 cars of Canadas. Canada lambs closed dull with some sales of good at $4.10 to $4.15 per cwt. and of common to fair at $3.75 to $4.

The settlement in London disclosed a reduced bull account and was easily arranged. The tone was dull. Americans were flat. Prices closed at the lowest. South Americans were exceptionally firm.

Evidence of a carefully concerted plan to shake the New York market for securities was further visible. The professional contingent lent its efforts against Louisville, General Electric and St. Paul. In the afternoon appearances suggested some considerable buying in of shorts, but the market closed extremely tame. There was nothing in the day's outside news to influence prices.

The Great Family Medicine of the Age.

There is probably no family medicine so favorably and so widely known as DAVIS PAIN-KILLER. It is extensively used in India, China, Turkey—and, in every civilized country on earth, not only to counteract the climatic influences, but for the cure of bowel troubles, cholera and fevers. It is used internally for all diseases of the bowels, and externally for wounds, burns, bruises, etc. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents for a big bottle.

Minard's Liniment is used by Physicians.

MOLLY, MYSELF AND THE BABY!

Buy all our shoes at McNaughton's.

MOLLY is a sweet, sensible little woman—economical, too—always buys what she can get the best value for her money.

FOR MYSELF, I used to buy my shoes down town, but I dropped into McNAUGHTON'S to see if he was selling as cheap as the big George Street stores. Bought three pair quicker than scat.

THE BABY, well, the kid would'nt wear a shoe that did'nt come from McNAUGHTON'S. Is never troubled with croup.

ROBERT HALL.

Seasonable and Opportune.

Always forearmed for all the shopping demands of our customers—this store is never behind—the right goods at the right time and at the right prices. October suggest the need of such things as

Underwear, Hosiery and Gloves.

We have too many kinds to attempt any detail, but in addition to the BEST makes in underwear we carry a full line of the celebrated "Health Brand" in all sizes and combinations.

Blankets and Bed Comforters.

The buying of these lines was done with extreme care, as we have an exacting constituency to chose for, who are wide awake judges of qualities and prices. The stock is right and the values correspond.

Along with these we would also mention our new fall selected Shawls, in many sizes, qualities and shapes -very exclusive—and from makers who warrant their goods.

Millinery and Mantles.

Style is everything in these lines. You don't want a last years' hat, or bonnet, or jacket, at any cost, and you won't find one here. You don't even want this season's unless the style is distinctive, and that is just where we excel.

We continue to show full range in all the newest novelties in Dress Goods.

LOCAL NEWS.

Telfordian Temperature Topics.

Wednesday, Oct. 10th,—At this morning's observation, the self-registering thermometer indicated 38 degrees above zero, with a coming storm. There might be a mixture of snow.—THOMAS TELFORD.

Putting in a New Machine.

Mr. S. Bickle is making ready to put in a new veneer machine for making the hoops for his cheese boxes. This will give the farmers a home market for their soft elm. Mr. Bickle seems to let no opportunity slip for the improvement of his factory.

An Inviting Programme.

A concert, under the auspices of the Ladies Aid, will be held in St. John's South Ward Mission, on Thursday evening, October 11th. The entertainment will consist of a scarf drill by eight little girls and a choice programme of vocal and instrumental music. Admission, fifteen cents.

Off for the Fish and Game.

A party composed of Messrs. Wm. Snowden, Sam Ray, T. E. Boddy, Arthur Blade and T. Rutherford are getting together their fishing tackle and loading cartridges for a trip back into the Gull Lake region. The sportsmen leave on Friday next and will put in a week trout fishing and duck shooting after which they will go farther north after deer and other larger game. Each member of the party is an expert angler, as well as an excellent shot and there should be great results from the trip.

Dirty.

Well, we should say so. From the cellar to the garret. With the dust of the summer and the dust of the flies everything is apt to be a little dirty just now, especially the wall paper and window blinds. We offer a remedy for that dirty appearance that comes early in the fall. A new fresh paper and a new set of blinds is the simplest and finest remedy. It will make your home look like new, and give a refreshing appearance to everything around. See the beautiful stock all this month at a genuine discount. No regular prices at the Peterborough Book Store.—A. H. STRATTON & Co.

Single Canoe Race.

A championship single canoe race will take place at Lakefield on Friday next, Oct. 12th, at 3 o'clock p. m., for a purse. As several well known paddlers are to compete a good and exciting race may be expected. The following entries have been made: Geo. Taylor, Chemong; M. Howard, Rice Lake; S. Nicholls, Wm. Mollmoyle, and Wm. Jarvis, Lakefield. The course will be a mile and a half with a turn from the Government wharf, up the lake and back to the wharf. Judges, Messrs. Geo. Fitzgerald and T. Rutherford; referee, J. F. Lillicrap; secretary, Wm. Leahy, to whom entries should be sent.

A Reminiscence.

Mr. D. McDonald, who resides in the Northern part of the town, the other day, in conversation with a representative of the EXAMINER, dropped into ancient history and referred to the Trent Valley operations in a manner to show that we shall have this evergreen enterprise, like the poor, with us always. In the year 1843, the then government engineer, of the Trent Valley works, came to Peterborough and engaged Mr. McDonald to make the first wrought iron lock gate hinges or anchors ever made in Canada. Mr. McDonald's plan from which he had to work were only verbal instructions, yet, although he had to work with charcoal, the hinges he turned out were entirely successful and they have been, and are to this day, in use on the lock gates, at "the locks." Mr. McDonald afterwards made similiar hinges for the lock gates at Lindsay. This was one half a century ago, and at this rushing rate of progress the Trent Valley Canal stands a brilliant chance of having some of Mr. McDonald's descendants, five or six generations hence, as witnesses to the driving of the "last spike."

The fact that Grafton & Co. sell the best clothing in town does not imply that they ask high prices for their clothing.

NEWS NUGGETS.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—Coal is $4.75 per ton in Toronto.

—No arrests yesterday or last night.

—A great number of the citizens drove out to the Norwood fair to-day.

—There was not grist turned out from P. M. Dumble's mill this morning.

—The Fire, Water and Light Committee of the town council meets this evening.

—The regular meeting of City Lodge, I. O.G.T., will take place to morrow evening.

—A boulevard is being placed in front of the residence of Mr. Jas. McGregor, Water street.

—October certainly seems to be the favourite month for weddings in Peterborough.

—St. Andrew's church, Belleville, which was burned about a month ago, will be re-erected at a cost of $10,000.

—A party of young people will drive out into the country to-night to a housewarming at the residence of Mr. George Stewart.

—The Wm. English Canoe Co. shipped three canoes for the use of the cadets of the Royal Military College, Kingston, to-day.

—Peterborough's Kelly was ruled off the field for cross checking a player in the great Shamrocks vs. Capitals lacrosse game the other day.

—The trial of George Nicholson, who is under arrest, charged with one of the gravest offences, will take place to-morrow morning before the police magistrate.

—The sills of the second story of the new Bank of Commerce building have been placed in position, and the brickwork of the upper stories will now be commenced.

—The Sanderson-Hazlitt nuptials take place this evening at the residence of the bride's father in Otonabee. Rev. Mr. Torrance will perform the wedding ceremony.

—Invitations have been issued for the graduating exercises of the Nicholls Hospital training school for nurses. The ceremonies take place in the Oddfellow's Hall, on the 17th.

—Mr. Geo. H. Giroux is out with a challenge for the quoit pitchers of the county. He is willing to pitch against any man in Peterborough county (Eddie McFadden preferred) for from one to $25 a side—horseshoes, large and small, barred.

—We are requested to say that there is to be a meeting of the Peterborough Rugby Football club this evening at 8 o'clock in office of Mr. R. B. Rogers. Every member of the club is requested to be present when special business will be put before them.

—The performance in Saturday's lacrosse match in Montreal of the two junior players whom the Capitals took on from the Stars, was one of the best proofs the lacrosse world ever got of the wisdom of building up native players instead of looking for importations.

—It was a false alarm that called out the fire brigade shortly before 8 o'clock last night. The hose wagon ran west along Charlotte street for some distance, but could not locate the supposed conflagration. The alarm was given by a small boy. He was relieved by Officer McGinty, and didn't wait to explain where the fire was, but it was afterwards discovered that the heavy smoke coming from the chimney of T. Dolan's store, where the furnace had just been lighted, was the cause of the alarm.

The White is King.

The Peterborough Music Company, 404 George street, are now sole agents for this popular sewing machine.

A Good Chance.

Mr. John Haggart, auctioneer, will give any person, so desiring, full particulars respecting a quantity of household furniture and furnishings to be sold en bloc. tf

For stomach and liver trouble, costiveness or biliousness, there is nothing better than "Madill's Stomach and Liver Pills."

The Motion Dismissed and the Work Goes On.

Before Judge Weller this morning Mr. Edmison, for the township of North Monaghan, moved for an injunction to prevent the continuation of work on the new outfall sewer until such time as an award has been made in Toronto concerning the decision of the arbitration, against which the township has appealed. After hearing argument the motion was dismissed.

Telegr m.

Messrs. Hall, Gilchrist & Co., Peterborough,—We have between us purchased 300 pieces of all-wool dress goods. The wholesale price of them was, the best lot, 55 cents, the second lot, 35 cents; all wool in both cases. I am having our share shipped at once. You can offer the best line at 50 cents, and the second line at 25 cents. This is the greatest bargain we ever got hold of. There are others to follow. JOHN GILCHRIST.

The Outfall Sewer.

A number of labourers have been laid off the sewer work as the excavations are far in advance of the bricklayers. Three or four additional bricklayers were taken on this morning, but there is room for more of them. The local men do not take to sewer work, and consequently outside bricklayers may yet have to be brought to town and put on the work. The sewer has now been completed past the roadway allowing that thoroughfare to be again in use.

Another Consignment of Fall Goods.

The attention of our numerous readers is directed to the advertisement of Messrs. Pete Simons & Co., in another column. This is a duplicate lot of the fall and winter goods with which they made such a successful opening a few weeks ago. Evidently few go in to look at these goods without leaving an order before coming out, as Mr. Simons has a peculiar method of producing his order book while showing goods to visitors, which immediately disperses their mind of any doubts which may be entertained as to the genuineness of the order or material—hence the rush during the past three weeks. He calls special attention to-day to a few dozen choice overcoats, made up during the dull season in order to keep his workmen on full time, which will be sold at extremely low prices as he requires the space for other goods.

A Sad Case of Mamma.

If ever a man had a mother-in-law, he can appreciate what "Jack Medford's" life was in Stamford, Conn. He was a brilliant, dashing, happy-go-lucky fellow, rich, handsome, and everybody's friend. His home there was beautiful, his wife a perfect treasure, and yet he sought life outside the family mansion. That is what brought him in many scrapes, but the result was a happy re-union and a moral lesson all round. The result of all this is brought about in "The Nominee," that particularly funny comedy in which Mr. Hilliard is starring. Everybody knows "Bob" Hilliard, and press and public are unanimous in commendation of his portrayal of the character of "Jack Medford." This is Mr. Hilliard's second starring season in this play, and he expects shortly to be seen in a very fine comedy expressly written for him. The play will be seen here on Saturday night next.

For coughs, colds and bronchitis the best and safest remedy is "Madill's Pulmonic Cough Syrup." Each bottle has a positive guarantee attached to it. If it fails to cure, return empty bottle and your money will be refunded.

THE MACFARLANE—BEST NUPTIALS.

Handsome Presents Received—Off for an Extended Wedding Trip.

This afternoon at 2 o'clock the residence of Mr. John Best, 426 Donegal street, was the scene of an interesting social event, the celebration of the marriage of his only daughter, Ella Violet, to Mr. C. D. Macfarlane, second eldest son of Mr. Andrew Macfarlane, of the William Hamilton Manufacturing Company. The parlours of Mr. Best's residence, where the happy event took place were elegantly and appropriately decorated for the occasion, and about forty guests, the relatives of the happy pair, were present. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. R. Young, pastor of the George street Methodist church, assisted by Rev. A. MacWilliams, of St. Andrews. The bridesmaids were Miss Nellie McLean, Mount Pleasant, cousin of the bride, and Miss May Macfarlane, sister of the groom. The bride was tastefully dressed in cream cashmere, with trimmings of real silk lace and moire ribbons, and carried a bouquet of white roses. Miss McLean wore cream cashmere, and Miss Macfarlane pink cashmere, and each carried a bouquet of cream roses. Mr. Walter Conner supported the groom. After the ceremony the elegant wedding breakfast was discussed and the guests extended their congratulations, and the large number of elegant and wisely selected wedding gifts were much admired. These represented friends of the bride and families concerned, in Toronto, Hamilton, Winnipeg, Brandon, St. Thomas, Chicago and Duluth. The bridal couple took the 4.48 C.P.R. express for an extended bridal tour in western Canada and the United States. Both the parties to this auspicious wedding event are highly respected and mutual congratulations, in which the EXAMINER desires to join, are in order. The best wished follow Mr. and Mrs. Macfarlane for a happy wedded life.

PERSONAL.

Mr. J. C. Grant is registered at the Anglo-American, Belleville.

Mr. W. Cumming, Montreal, is spending a few days in town with his relatives.

Miss Burnham, of Cobourg, is the guest of the Misses Halliday, Water street.

Miss Mabel Johnston has gone on a visit to friends in the east for a couple of weeks.

Mrs. Pollard and Mrs. Armstrong are spending a few days with Mrs. G. J. Chalmers, Young's Point.

Mr. A. H. Stratton and Mrs. Stratton are expected to arrive in Peterborough this evening after a week's stay in New York.

Mr. Walter Wesley has resigned his position with Grafton & Co. and leaves for New York, in a day or so. Mr. Wesley goes to the other side to pick up some pointers in regard to the manufacture of woodenware, after which he will join his brother in Toronto, in that business.

APSLEY.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The Chandos council met at No. 7 school on Saturday, Sept. 29th. Members all present. Minutes of last meeting read and approved. Mr. Geo. Bullied was appointed collector at a salary of $50. Mr. Hawley was allowed his statute labour, as it was done, but not marked on list. A. Trotter was authorized to examine the road west from Roman Catholic church with a view of having back taxes expended on same. The clerk was authorized to instruct the county clerk not to advertise certain lots. On motion, all Board of Health accounts were laid over until next meeting. The reeve and A. Trotter were appointed a committee to meet a like committee from Wollaston to arrange a basis of expenditure on the boundry line between the two townships. P. and J. Johnson were allowed to work out their back taxes on their own road. Each councillor was appointed a commissioner to see that those in arrears for taxes worked them out on the road in their own neighbourhood. A. Trotter was authorized to see F. Garrett and S. Scott and arrange with them as to repairs on their road. Orders were drawn on the treasurer, one in favour of Mrs. Jas. Scott for $25.49, balance for road allowance, and one in favour of A. Doxee for $6 on salary. The council adjourned to meet again at No. 5 school house, on the call of the reeve.

That Joyful Feeling

With the exhilarating sense of renewed health and strength and internal cleanliness, which follows the use of Syrup of Figs, is unknown to the few who have not progressed beyond the old time medicines and the cheap substitutes sometimes offered but never accepted by the well informed.

Cold in the head—Nasal Balm gives instant relief; speedily cures. Never fails.

Piano Tuning.

Mr. G Gumpricht is in town. Orders may be left at Messrs Taylor & Macdonald's or at the Peterborough Bookstore.

Out of the Wet.

There was a man in our town,
Possessed of wisdom rare,
He had, with winter coming on,
No Mackintosh to wear.

He read Gough Bros' rainproof ad.,
Then, with all his might and main,
He hustled to "The Great Cheap Men,"

THE EMERALD TRIO

Hold Another Successful Meeting in the Ashburnham Town Hall.

A large gathering greeted the Emerald Trio last evening in the Ashburnham town hall, and the meeting was one of the most successful yet held. The singing of the Trio was of a very high order, and the selections were very catchy and appropriate, the renditions being well balanced and the different voices blend beautifully in the selections rendered. Mr. J. W. Miller, who is an ex-member of the Emeralds, is assisting in the singing during the week.

The Little Fairy in her recitation proved herself to be an elocutionist of marked ability, her number being rendered in excellent style.

The address of J. Parsons Smith was a forcible and convincing one on Prohibition and in the course of the lecture the drink traffic was strongly denounced and the different religious bodies were scored for their apathy in the great temperance question.

Quite a number at the close of the meeting pledged themselves to abstain from intoxicating liquor, and others signified their intention of joining the Royal Templars.

To-morrow night Mr. Smith will give the story of his life in the prize ring and on the race course, and on Thursday evening a service of song will be held. The meetings will close on Friday evening by a grand lime light entertainment, at which over one hundred magnificent views will be shown.

Ask for Minard's and take no other.

VIOLIN AND VOCAL LESSONS

MR. H. KLINGENFELD, Teacher of Violin,

—AND—

MRS. H. KLINGENFELD, Teacher of Singing, Piano and Theory,

Of Toronto, intend coming to Peterborough once a week (Saturday) to give lessons; that is, if a sufficient number of pupils apply. Kindly leave applications at Turner's music store, 404 George street. Toronto address, 505 Sherbourne street.

MR. D. A. SHAW'S CLASSES IN DRAWING AND PAINTING

Will begin on Monday, October 8th, for the Fall term. Those who desire a place in any of the classes will kindly leave their names with Mr. Shaw, 170 Charlotte street, as soon as possible. Instruction in drawing and painting will be given at the homes of those who may desire it. Terms reasonable.

CARD OF THANKS!

GEO. G. HORKINS, Esq., District Manager, Manufacturers' Accident Company, Peterborough.

Dear Sir—Please accept thanks for the prompt manner in which your company paid my claim of $1,050.00 for broken arm under policy 6780. I take much pleasure in recommending your company to any one requiring Accident Insurance.

LADIES! LADIES!

Special Attention.

Ladies, do not be misled by paste-board charts and so-called tailor systems that have a set form of curves and give a box form appearance to all garments; they give the same curve and the same shape for all persons of the same size. We are the original inventors of all seamless garments, and warn all parties not to use them unless using our system, as we will prosecute those that do. We have our Government papers open for public inspection, which prove we are the inventors, so watch out for frauds and copyists. We graduate you with an elegant diploma. We give each scholar for one year free our Paris Fashion Publication, which gives you the latest styles and draftings. Our course is the only complete French course of dress cutting ever given in Canada, and we challenge the world for from $5,000 to $20,000 a side to contest the all-round merits of our system. Those wishing to accept our challenge must deposit their money in the bank, and have the bank notify us of the same, and we will at once cover the amount. Satisfaction guaranteed in all cases; $5,000 testimonials of merit on file for public inspection. Our academy in Toronto, No. 467 Yonge street, is the largest and best in Canada.

$10 Reward—We also offer a $10 Reward for the Crew system people to produce for public inspection any patent or copyright or government papers for their seamless garments, as they claim for some years back. Yours truly, Prof. and Mme. O. H. DE LAMORTON & CO., Toronto and New York City, N.Y.

A NEW CHURCH SOCIETY INAUGURATED LAST NIGHT.

The Large Attendance Augurs Well for the Future of the Association.

A Young People's Association in connection with St. John's church was inaugurated last evening under the most favourable circumstances.

In response to a suggestion from the pulpit by the rector on Sunday last, several score of the younger element of the congregation gathered in the Sunday School room last evening, and formally inaugurated the society under the name of the Young People's Association, and if the enthusiasm evinced at this meeting is a criterion to go by, the career of the new society promises to be a flourishing one.

The chair was taken by Rev. Mr. Davidson and Mr. Alf Terrill was appointed secretary pro tem.

Mr. Davidson briefly outlined the objects of the society which are chiefly to promote social intercourse amongst the younger members of the congregation and to interest them in the progress and welfare of the church.

The Association will meet weekly on Monday evenings and a musical committee has already been appointed to make arrangements for the preparation of suitable programmes for the evening entertainments. All members of the congregation over 16 years of age are eligible for membership in the society.

A committee for the nomination of officers has been appointed, and will bring in a report at the regular meeting of the Association on Monday evening next, when the election of officers will take place.

After expressing his gratification at the large attendance at this, the inaugural meeting of the association, Mr. Davidson dismissed the members by pronouncing the benediction.

THE FINANCIERS MEET.

A Letter is Received From the Water Company, but no Action is Taken.

At a meeting of the Finance Committee last evening, the following letter was read:

PETERBOROUGH, Oct. 9th, 1894.

Mr. R. Armstrong, Town Clerk.

DEAR SIR.—In reply to your letter of Oct. 5th, and with a view to facilitate as much as much as possible the question of the union, and at the same time be in accord with the feelings and wishes of the members of the Council, I am directed to say that the Water Company will accede to the terms of your letter of date mentioned above; in so far as, that the Company will place, ready for use, 12 hydrants in the village of Ashburnham, at distances of not less than 300 feet apart for the price of $60 per hydrant, one hydrant to be placed on the Hunter street extension, east, in the town, at $35. The price for future hydrants to be a matter for future agreement between the Water Company and the municipal authorities. I am further directed to say that the Water Company desires as far as possible and business interests will allow to meet the wishes of the corporation, the company feeling that the interests of the two corporations are mutual.

G. W. HATTON,
Secretary.

The communication was in reply to one addressed to the Water Company by the Council, asking if the Company would put in twelve hydrants in Ashburnham, in case of a union being effected, at a cost of $40 each, all additional hydrants over this number to be put in at $35 each. The Company, in its letter, accepts the first part of the proposition, but does not bind itself as regards the latter portion.

The communication will be further discussed at a special meeting of the council, to be held to-morrow evening.

To Get Your Name on the Dominion Voters' List.

Attention is again urged to the importance of qualified electors applying to have their name placed on the Dominion voters' list for the preliminary revision. Remember that all declarations must be submitted to the Revising Officer, not later than next Monday, Oct. 15th. Every evening, during the present week, an official will be at the EXAMINER office to receive names and assist in the making of the necessary declarations to permit names to be submitted for the preliminary revision. And remember that, no matter how otherwise fully qualified you may be to vote, you will be disfranchised unless your name appears on the Dominion Voters' List. Lose no time, therefore, but come to the EXAMINER office any evening this week and take the necessary steps to enable your name to be added to the list.

While it is advisable that all who are properly qualified should have their names put on the lists, a special effort should be put forth during the few days now remaining, to submit declarations asking that the names of persons not properly qualified be struck off. This can be done on the preliminary revision.

MORE AMERICAN LABOUR.

To-day, fifty-five more American labourers arrived by C. P. R. to work on the limits of Messrs. Howrie & Son, Fenelon Falls. This is another evidence of the unfair conditions that obtain between Canada and the United States in relation to labour. As the EXAMINER has before pointed out, no single Canadian labourer of any kind, is allowed to do a stroke of work in the United States, even a poor typewriter girl is frozen out by the "heathen Chinee" rule of exclusion of our amiable and hog-like (in this matter) American cousins. No one will justify the United States in this attitude, and it seems a case in which reprisal, if ever, is justifiable. But our own paternal government taking no notice of this anomolous condition, American labourers are allowed to come in by hundreds and to deprive Canadian labourers of work. The Dominion Government might have prevented this unrighteous competition. Mr. Geo. Taylor, of Gananoque, the government whip, introduced a measure in the House of Commons to prevent the importation of alien labour into Canada, but the government smothered the bill and left Canadian labourers at the mercy of the labour of the United States. The government was too busy protecting the interests of capital and monopoly by propping up the tariff wall, to devote one thought to the protection of the real wealth producing element of this or any country—labour. During the last provincial elections, the Conservative organs that preach high tariff and protection to monopolists wrathfully demanded that the Ontario Government should provide that all timber sold to Americans should be cut in Canada, so that employment could be given to Canadians. For the reason that the United States would place a prohibitory duty on Canadian timber if this were done, it was not done. Yet the Wilson Bill has produced the same effect, and we now have in this very district, at Fenelon Falls, an American firm cutting its timber in Canada. But what becomes of the contention of the Empire and its confrers that such a condition would give employment to Canadian labour? Howrie & Sons have previously imported some forty American labourers under the plea that they needed "experts." Is the batch of fifty-five that came to day, composed of "experts?" This plea is plainly fallacious, and the fact is that Canadian workmen are displaced by a like number of American workingmen.. Is the Dominion Government powerless to redress the wrongs of Canadian labour, or is it simply insulting indifference that dictates their masterly inactivity in this regard?

They have no tar in their composition, being an oil preparation, which keeps them soft and pliable. Awnings taken down and stored in a careful and agreeable manner. Halls decorated for assemblies, balls and meetings of all kinds. ALF. KINGSCOTTE, tent, sail and awning maker, 344 Water street.

A SERIES OF MISHAPS.

The Little Rob Roy Gives Her Crew Some Trouble on the River.

A party composed of Mr. and Mrs. Law, Miss Mabel Roy, Mr. Belcher, Mr. Carnegie and Mr. Ed. Roy, were taken down the river as far as Hales Bridge the other day on the Rob Roy by her popular proprietor, Mr. R. M. Roy.

The down trip was accomplished with pleasure and safety, but darkness setting in earlier than was expected and a dense fog were responsible for a series of mishaps, which occurred after the little launch's prow had been turned up the river for the homeward trip.

Soon after leaving the bridge, the Rob Roy got into a bed of weeds which entangled themselves so much about the craft's wheel as to drag that necessary appendage off. By the greatest of luck Mr. Roy happened to have brought an extra wheel with him, so, after the yacht was poled ashore, R. M. rolled up his trousers and waded into the chilly water to place the new wheel into position. Needless to say he had hardly a dry stitch on him when the task was completed.

Resolving to make up for a portion of the lost time, the Rob Roy's throttle was thrown wide open, and she was sent up the river at top speed. Mishaps, however, never come singly and this old proverb was brought more forcibly than pleasantly to the minds of all when they were thrown violently from their seat by a sudden concussion. This time the yacht had run up on the rocks, and for a few minutes it appeared as though the danger was imminent, and a cold bath unavoidable, but fortunately the staunchly built hull was not damaged, and the boat was shoved off without injury, though a paddle was broken and the long pike pole lost.

Upon getting clear of the rocks the Rob Roy started in as though was a competitor in an obstacle race, and ran down a snag, in the shape of a huge root projecting out into the water, sank a log and actually was forced over a fence which is built out into the river.

The party did not arrive in Peterborough until after midnight, whereas they expected to be home at six o'clock. A meal was made on the boat out of lemons, mixed pickles and anchovy sauce.

THE FAME HAS GONE ABROAD.

(Ottawa Citizen.)

The renown of Canadian dairying has gone around the earth, and the department of agriculture of many other countries have sought and obtained not only information but teachers from Ottawa. Scotland got her two most successful instructors in this way, and the government of New Zealand has applied several times to the Dominion dairy commissioner for the name of a competent expert who might go to that colony.

Mr. J. B. MacEwan, of the Dairy Commissioner's staff, has now accepted an appointment from the Secretary of Agriculture for New Zealand, and will sail from Vancouver on the 16th instant. Mr. MacEwan is well and favourably known throughout Ontario, and during the past summer he was in charge of one of the Dominion travelling dairies in Manitoba and the northwest territories.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 75c. bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

TO RESIST THE ATTACK —of the germs of Consumption, Scrofula, Grip, Malaria, and many other diseases—means fight or die for all of us. These germs are everywhere in the air we breathe. The odds are in favor of the germs, if our liver is inactive and our blood impure.

What is needed most is an increase in our germ-fighting strength. To do this successfully you need to put on healthy flesh, rouse the liver to vigorous action, so it will throw off these germs, and purify the blood so that there will be no "weak spot," nor soil for germ-growth.

We claim for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, that it does all this in a way peculiar to itself. It is the development of generations of medical thought—it has stood the test of a quarter of a century of cures.

That is why the makers can guarantee it. In every trouble caused by torpid liver or impure blood, if the "Discovery" fails to benefit or cure, your money is refunded.

There wouldn't be any cases of Chronic Catarrh if everyone used Dr. Sage's Remedy. There's $500 reward for an incurable case.

LIVE STOCK

THE SHEEP FOLD.

An English Opinion on the Most Popular Breeds.

The London Mark Lane Express has some remarks under this head which may be of interest for the hints they afford as to the characteristics of the different breeds and the localities in which they are most popular in Great Britain:

Taking statistics of showyard exhibits into consideration, foreign agriculturists visiting this country might be excused for forming the conclusion that the Shropshire is propagated in England to a greater extent than any other two breeds put together. But it would not be right to base such a supposition on this evidence, because, as most show frequenters are aware, the Jersey breed of cattle is often found by far the most numerous in showyards, even in districts where it is well known other varieties very much predominate. While, then, the numbers entered for exhibition, and which appear in showyards form very good evidence of the popularity of breeds of sheep and other stock, too much must not be drawn from facts and figures of this nature. Southdowns, next to Shropshires, are often the most numerous in the Royal and other leading showyards, even in localities where the generality of farmers have little or nothing to do with them. The Shropshire is undoubtedly a popular breed even beyond the Midlands, where there are very few others. But Southdowns beyond their native hills, the chalk wolds of the south of England, are certainly not popular, being regarded as a gentleman's breed, adapted for the parks of the nobility and country gentry to supply the best quality of mutton for their tables, but by no means what is termed rent-paying sheep. On hill farms girt with an extensive area of chalk downs they are probably more remunerative for the tenant farmers than any other kind, but for all the deeper and richer soils they are too diminutive. Their mutton yields a higher price than most other mutton, no doubt, and from not eating so much they can be kept thicker than larger sheep; but this does not fully compensate, and it is found in such cases most remunerative to keep either Oxfordshire-Downs or flocks of the Hampshire or Shropshire varieties, which yield both mutton and wool in greater bulk, while the joints of meat, although larger and not worth so much per pound, are still juicy, with a considerable proportion of lean to fat.

Thus the most popular breed in one district is very far from being so in an other, and the wider we take our survey the more perfectly shall we be convinced of the truth of this. In Devon and Cornwall we find long-wooled sheep predominating, and, in fact, no others worthy of the name, either Devon long-wools, or Leicesters, or South Hams, or Dartmoors; and if an inquiry be made on the point, it will be found that no Down variety suits the country. The fields are either too much bounded by woodlands and high fences, and consequently not breezy enough for the Downs, or there is something in the character of the soil better suited for the native breeds than for those of other districts. There is a fact published that the late Col. Luttrell tried an experiment in West Somerset on some of the rich low-lying moorlands not far distant from Bridgewater, and he found that he could fatten three sheep of the Devon long-wooled breed before he could make a Southdown fat. He attributed it entirely to the hot, close atmospheric influences, the Southdowns requiring naturally more air, and probably a colder temperature.

In Scotland and the north of England, they have also a large preponderance of long-wool sheep, the Border-Leicesters or the Cheviots, and in Yorkshire the purer Leicesters or the Wensleydale variety. In the fens and marsh districts of Lincolnshire, the more wealthy sheep of the Lincoln breed suit the locality more than any other, and are consequently the most popular. The eastern counties go in for the Down breeds most, but there are some long wools in the richest and most lowland districts, Norfolk Cotswolds in some and Oxford Downs in others, while for grazing purposes the last mentioned breed has extended itself into Scotland. In fact, in all districts where that useful and preeminently wealthy cross of a Leicester Cotswold or Lincoln ram on Down ewes has been found to answer, Oxford Downs will be sure to do so. The breed originally was derived from a Cotswold-Hampshire cross, its present fixity of type having been derived by continuous high selections carried on in a lengthy succession of years.

This is especially worthy of a deep and attentive consideration, now that the mutton of most varieties of English long-wool sheep is only slightly more valuable than New-Zealand mutton in London shops and those of many provincial towns. Many of the districts which have in the past been deemed best for long-wooled sheep, would no doubt be equally well adapted for Oxford-Downs. These supplanted Cotswolds very profitably for farmers in the counties of Gloucester, Oxford, Bucks and Berks, and Major Staveley finds that they thrive just as well on his large hill farm in the Yorkshire Wold district as the Leicester and long wool varieties most generally kept there. The mutton of the latter does not command anything like so high a price as that of the Oxford Down; therefore Major Staveley is increasing his flock of the latter variety.

Paris' New Presbyterian Church.

PARIS, Ont., Oct. 9.—The opening of the new Presbyterian church took place on Sunday. The dedication services were conducted in the morning and evening by Principal Grant, of Kingston, and in the afternoon by Rev. Wm. Cochrane, of Brantford. The seating capacity, which is 1,200, was taxed to the utmost. The Presbyterians of Paris may well feel proud of their edifice. The cost will reach $40,000. It is very neatly finished and has a splendid ventilating apparatus.

HE TELLS IT HIMSELF.

A West Oxford Farmer Narrowly Escapes Premature Burial—The Causes of His Threatened Fate and Lucky Escape.

INGERSOLL, Oct. 8.—W. H. Bailey of West Oxford township, claims to have only narrowly escaped premature burial a short time ago. He had had kidney disease for four years back and so badly at times that he was completely laid up. Many doctors treated him, but their treatment, in Mr. Bailey's opinion, made him worse rather than better. His escape from a premature grave was affected by the use of the infallible Dodd's Kidney Pills. Three boxes of these cured completely. Mr. Bailey claims to be able now to do a bigger day's work than his twenty-four-year old son.

"Only the Scars Remain,"

Says HENRY HUDSON, of the James Smith Woolen Machinery Co., Philadelphia, Pa., who certifies as follows:

"Among the many testimonials which I see in regard to certain medicines performing cures, cleansing the blood, etc., none impress me more than my own case. Twenty years ago, at the age of 18 years, I had swellings come on my legs, which broke and became running sores. Our family physician could do me no good, and it was feared that the bones would be affected. At last, my good old to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I took three bottles, the sores healed, and I have not been troubled since. Only the scars remain, and the memory of the past, to remind me of the good Ayer's Sarsaparilla has done me. I now weigh two hundred and twenty pounds, and am in the best of health. I have been on the road for the past twelve years, have noticed Ayer's Sarsaparilla advertised in all parts of the United States, and always take pleasure in telling what good it did for me."

Mother Urged Me

FRUIT AND FLOWERS

GARDENING IN DOG DAYS.

Things Requiring Attention in the Vegetable and Flower Gardens.

In the way of planting and sowing, this is not a notable month, neither is it an especially busy one in the vegetable garden. When crops cover the ground, weeds get less of a foothold, still among the late planting there will be plenty to do with the hoe and cultivator, and the market gardener will be kept busy marketing the different summer crops as they come in. The onion crop will ripen during the month, the first requisite being to pull up and lay in rows until thoroughly dried off. Then clean and market or place in sheds for later use. Late plantings of celery may still be made. The stalks will have time to attain a fair size for late winter use.

Rutabaga turnips may be sown the early part of the month, and the white varieties as late as the latter part. In case of an attack of the fly endeavor to protect the plants by dusting with lime or wood ashes where these materials can be had. Spinach intended to be used in the fall may be sown. A late crop of bush beans and peas may still be tried. Remember also that if bush beans are not allowed to go to seed, they continue in crop much longer than if only partially picked. The same is true of cucumbers. Pick as often as the crop is ready. Repotting plants of many kinds will during this month be actively engaged in. For example the cala bulbs may be shaken from the old, and reset with new soil in a 5 or 6 inch pot and given a place for a couple of months on the outside to be transferred to the house or greenhouse when cold weather comes. Young plants of Chinese primrose and Cyclamen will need larger pots as they make fresh growth. Calceolaria and Cineraria seed may be sown at once. Fuchias of known, good winter flowering kinds, may be partially pruned back, a part of the old soil being taken away, and be repotted with fresh earth to induce a full growth. The old Speciosa, set out in the free ground or in a large box in a conservatory makes a wonderful growth in one winter, affording masses of flowers all the time.

Usually the Harrisii lilies come into the market this month and to get them in flower by November they should be planted in pots or in flats as soon as received. There is no better place for them at first than out of doors, covering the soil with four inches of loose manure. Medium-sized bulbs are the most satisfactory, and they may be flowered in 4 or 5-inch pots.

Oxalis is a very pretty flowering bulb. Such kinds as hirta, flabilifolia, elongata and amœna should be repotted this month. Eupatoriums, stevias and poinsettias, all useful winter flowers, should be kept growing by repotting as they make growth. Geraniums intended for winter flowering and now in pots, should have the flowers picked off to encourage free growth and to insure flowers when winter does come.

The making of cuttings for next year's plants in the flower garden will begin with geraniums, as well as stock plants from many kinds of which cuttings will be taken towards the end of the month. Few care about bothering with the large old plants in the flower garden except enough large geraniums for filling vases, which may be taken up the last thing before frost appears.

An old hotbed is an excellent place to root cuttings. Place six inches of sand over the soil. The glass should be kept close and shaded during the day until new roots put forth, which will be in from two to three weeks, depending upon the nature of the plant. Even roses may be rooted in this way if a stock of young plants are wanted. If an amateur has no hotbed sash, a few old window sashes will answer.

Tuberose bulbs set out this month will flower in December. If planted in benches, give them the warmest end of the greenhouse; if in pots they are of course portable and can be taben into the house later. Leave about half the bulb out of the soil in potting, or from where the neck begins to swell.

The Achania Malvaviscus is a good old greenhouse or window plant, as it flowers continuously throughout the winter. It belongs to the mallows, the character of the flower being very well shown in the illustration. In color it is bright red. A plant once obtained it may be kept for years, as it is quite shrubby in its habits, being merely pruned back in the summer to make fresh growth by winter. Slips root readily when placed under glass, but for a time they are far less striking than older plants.

Habrothamnus is an excellent greenhouse plant with panicles of red flowers at the tips of the branches. It is easily trained up against a back wall in the greenhouse or does well for covering what is often an unsightly spot in the house conservatory. Still another of this old class of plants is Cestrum aurantiacum with orange-yellow flowers. It is quite shrubby in its nature. It does not, however, flower as long as either of the others named.—Orange Judd Farmer.

When the hair begins to come out in combing, it shows a weakness of the scalp that calls for immediate attention. The best preparation to arrest further loss of hair and restore the scalp to a healthy condition is Ayer's Hair Vigor.

Signs of worms are variable appetite, itching at the nose, etc. Dr. Low's Worm Syrup is the best worm expeller.

Another Voice From Smith.

SMITH, July 7, 1892.

I was troubled with a nasty pain in the back and shoulders for a long time, and had tried several remedies without getting any relief. I thought at first it might be my lungs, as the doctor's say such pains are symptoms of lung trouble coming on, but I was induced to try a bottle of Membray's Kidney and Liver Cure, for sale at Tully's Drug Store, and after taking the second dose I was surprised to find the pains all leaving me. It acted like magic. I never knew anything that acted so quick on man or beast before.

SUN LIFE ASSURANCE CO.
OF CANADA.

From the CANADIAN TRADE REVIEW.

"There is no invidiousness involved in the assertion that no other Canadian company in existence can point to such a record of rapid, substantial and uninterrupted progress and prosperity as that exhibited in the successive annual reports of the Sun Life. . . . Most assuredly are its directors, shareholders and policy holders to be congratulated upon the very flourishing condition of the Company, and especially upon the result of the business of a year which was marked by the prevalence of conditions—the influenza epidemic, for instance—which proved disastrous for so many life companies. And with no less certainty can it be said that the very great progress made by the institution has been mainly due to the able and energetic efforts, guided by the sagacity and prudence which pratical experience alone can bring, of the President and Managing-Director, who has been efficiently assisted by the Secretary. From the contemplation of so successful a past the management may reasonably draw most sanguine anticipations as to the prosperity of the future.

THE COW AND THE OVERCOAT.

Needed Hints About Preparing for the Fall and Winter.

At a recent Dairymen's meeting, one of the speakers made the statement that "A cow should be stabled as soon as the owner donned his overcoat"; and for the sage remark received a round of applause. The point to be considered here is, if the stabling should not be commenced some time before this overcoat stage? There may be a little latitude given under certain conditions. The cow that has been giving milk through the summer, and is rapidly drying off, will not be effected nearly so much by the chilling rains and cold breezes of the late autumn, as the fresh cow that is in her full flow of milk, and whose system is in that relaxed condition incident to a large flow of milk—nature's bountiful provision for the nourishment of the young and fast-growing calf. In the early stages of the milk flow, it takes but a little "hardship" in the way of cold, or blustering exposure, to check the flow of milk; and while there is no cast-iron rule about what a cow will, or will not do in coming back to the full flow after a shrinkage, the chances seem to be against a return to the full amount, and so in the general result there is a loss that might have been avoided if the cow had been so cared for, that there would have been a full average maintenance of warmth.

There seems with the dairy cow, and all milk giving mothers for that matter, a close relation between warmth and milk flow. The mother's office is one of beneficence, a giving to her offspring from the secretions of the organs of her own body, and it is seen at a glance that warmth, constant and pretty nearly uniform, is a great promotor, if not the very source of energy to excite these glands to lively activity, while cold would act as a cause to contract and retard the working of these very complex sources of substance, and whether for the calf or the man, there would follow loss, and this loss is not for the one day, but is a daily levy upon the milk supply for the rest of the milking period of the cow. In my own experience I find it pays me well to commence to stable as soon as the nights get disagreeably cool and verge upon the frosty. There is a great amount of time in August and September that could be most profitably used in and about the stable in making it the presentable place that it may be made for the home life of the cow in the winter, and from the middle of October until well into May, the thing that corresponds with the owner's overcoat to be used quite as early in the fall, and for the same purpose, protection against frost, rain and cold. Some will argue that this increased care of cows makes them more tender and susceptable to disease, but at the same time overlook the fact that the better care of men, better clothing, and guarding against sudden and extreme changes of heat and cold is, along with warmer and better houses, giving us more immunity from disease and a lower death rate from consumption. She is indeed like the man who was possessed with the idea that each time there was a change of a degree in his temperature, his life was shortened a day; hence he carried a jug of ice-water, a blanket overcoat, and a thermometer with him all the year round.—John Gould, in Country Gentleman.

Cruelty to Animals.

From circulars from the society for the encouragement of kindness to animals, we extract an illustration of the natural kindness of the Greeks towards animals, and its cultivation. The thoughtless cruelty to animals that is of constant occurrence on the part of farmers' sons and farm laborers impresses one who is a witness of it. Man with intelligence is constantly erring.

Home-Cured Pork.

Any enterprising, intelligent farmer, says Breeder's Gazette, who lives near a good-sized town may, with very little effort, persistently followed up for a year or two, work up a trade in home-butchered, home-made and home-cured salt pork, bacon, hams and sausage. It will almost always pay better than selling it on foot if the work is done as it ought to be, for the product sent by the great city packers to the country towns and into the market generally is at best but a sorry substitute for what the farmer who "knows how to do it" may easily furnish.

A Good Appetite

Always accompanies good health, and an absence of appetite is an indication of something wrong. The universal testimony given by those who have used Hood's Sarsaparilla, as to its merits in restoring the appetite, and as a purifier of the blood, constitutes the strongest recommendation that can be urged for any medicine.

Hood's Pills cure all liver ills, biliousness, jaundice, indigestion, sick headache. 25c.

What is Eczema?

It is an agony of agonies.

A torture of tortures.

It is an itching and burning of the skin almost beyond endurance.

It is thousands of pin-headed vesicles filled with an acrid fluid, ever forming, ever bursting, ever flowing upon the raw excoriated skin.

No part of the human skin is exempt.

It tortures, disfigures and humiliates more than all other skin diseases combined.

Tender babies are among its most numerous victims.

They are often born with it.

Sleep and rest are out of the question.

Most remedies and the best physicians generally fail, even to relieve.

If CUTICURA did no more than cure Eczema, it would be entitled to the gratitude of mankind.

Y.P.S C.E. NOTES.

MODERATE DRINKERS.

Where are all our drunkards recruited from? From the ranks of the moderate drinkers who say they can drink liquor and let it alone whenever they wish. The unfortunate part of it is that none of the moderate drinkers (in their own opinion) will become drunkards, and that is why the temperance reform is so slow in winning its way towards prohibition. The following article from the Golden Rule is startling enough to merit a careful perusal by every young man in Peterborough:

A SERMON BY NINE HUNDRED STRANGE PREACHERS.

[By Rev. Chas. Roads, President of the Pennsylvania State C. E. Union.]

A unique work of remarkable proportions and spiritual success is prosecuted by the Philadelphia Sunday Breakfast Association. A Christian Endeavour Society is fully organized there, and proves its adaptability to that especial field no less than to the ordinary church. Many earnest workers from the city society take turns by companies in meetings held nightly all the year round, and occasionally there is a great rally early on Sunday morning, which Endeavourers can attend, and yet return in time for home church service. All the winter there were from seven hundred to nine hundred unfortunates every Sunday crowding the large room, once a church, and [illegible] overflowing into the lecture room; [illegible] was exceedingly pathetic to see the [illegible]ky manner in which they took the [illegible]ge. ous cups of coffee and the nicely prepared sandwiches from the distributors, who with great cans and baskets moved up and down the aisles. Though hands and faces were clean, a more indescribably wretched company was never seen in America.

The workers are men with long experience in dealing with these people. Mr. Lewis U. Bean, the genial and sympathetic president, has laboured here for fifteen years, and the following statements, which he gathered in answer to his his searching questions, are really the reliable statistics of an expert. Mr. Bean has won the hearts of his strange congregation, and can freely secure honest expressions of their statements.

On Sunday evening, after a complete and clear explanation, the following questions were put and answered by raising hands, with every evidence of sincerity and truthfulness. Nearly nine hundred homeless and distressed, the unfortunates of a great city, were present. The experienced workers of the Association divided the audiences into sections that could be easily counted, and the totals of their reports are given. Every precaution was taken to secure accuracy.

1. How many of you had Christian parents and were instructed in a religious life? About ninety per cent. answered affirmatively.

2. How many were faithful Sabbath-school scholars? About seventy-five per cent. raised their hand.

3. How many have been brought to their present dilapidated condition by the use of strong drink? About seventy-five per cent. acknowledged that they had.

4. How many commenced drinking before they were twenty-one years of age? About seventy per cent. showed that they did.

5. How many deliberately started out to become drunkards? Only two persons raised their hands. These two, however, were partially intoxicated, and probably did not understand the question. How impressive this response!

6. How many started to drink liquor with the idea that they could and would stop just whenever they wanted to? About seventy-five per cent of those present responded, or really all that had previously confessed that strong drink ruined them.

7. How many that have had the experience in the path of sin will say to us, "Use all your influence and power to keep young men from the path in which we have been walking" About ninety-eight per cent so urged. Nearly every hand was up for this remarkable appeal. Was there ever a more powerful object-lesson than this silent forest of upright hands? All sorts of hands, criminal, sinful, hardened more by desperate wickedness than by toil, implored young men not to follow them.

In the after-meeting, when about four hundred were present, an additional question was asked.

8. How many are desirous of getting out of their sinful ways, and would make an attempt to lead religious lives if they thought that they could and would succeed in holding out to the end? Of the four hundred, about three hundred and eighty raised their hands, and seventy-eight of them came forward for prayers.

The Christian Endeavour movement came to late for these poor fellows. They had the ordinary religious influences in all but a few cases, but only enthusiasm in work for Christ after personal salvation will preserve such souls amid the fearful tides of evil in a great city.—Philadelphia, Penn.

ST. PAUL'S SOCIETY.

This society elected their officers for the ensuing year on Monday night, a full list of which will be published when the committees are selected. The Rev. Mr. Torrance took up the topic, and the meeting throughout was very interesting.

On Tuesday night the Society held a social, and it was one of the most successful socials they ever held—and that is saying a good deal. A novel scheme of interesting those present was the feature of the evening, and the icy feeling that predominated on such occasions was banished, and a sociability prevailed that will be remembered by those who were present for some time to come. A well selected programme of instrumental and vocal solos assisted by the renowned and far-famed Harmony Club, followed by refreshments supplied by the young ladies, and thereby allowing the Society to record one more successful social. Those who took part in the programme were Misses Jennie Rose, Mary Paterson, Etta Montgomery, and Mr. Crane. Mr. Jas. Connal acted as chairman.

KINGSTON DELEGATES.

The following Endeavourers have gone to the Kingston convention going on this week: Mr. Geo. Anderson, Riverdale; Misses M. Foster and L. Wilson, Springville; Messrs. W. Webster and H. Martin, St. Paul's; Miss Aggie Patterson, St. Andrew's Junior. The last named is to respond to the address of welcome for the visitors at the Junior conference. There may be other delegates who have gone from this county but we have not got their names.

GEORGE STREET SOCIETY.

The following officers have been elected in the George street E. L. of C. E. for the ensuing year:

President—Miss Finlay.
1st Vice-President—E. Might.
2nd Vice-President—L. Stevens.
3rd Vice-President—Maud Mason.
Secretary—Mr. Geo. Frost.
Treasurer—Mr. Rex Dixon.

NORWOD NEWS NOTES.

From our own Correspondent.

Mrs. Joseph Stuart, of Lakefield, is the guest of Mrs. R. J. Stuart.

Miss Ada Reynolds, Alliston, is visiting at the house of Mr. P. W. Reynolds.

Mrs. Bell and Miss Barnard, North Monaghan, are visiting Mrs. Walter Cumming.

Mr. and Mrs. Lockwood, of Yarker, are visiting at Mr. J. Walker's.

A number of modelists drove to Dummer last Friday evening to attend a social given at the residence of Mr. Howson.

Last Wednesday afternoon the barn of Mr. M. Hannon, Dummer, was struck by lightning and caught fire. The building with all of this season's crop was totally consumed. The insurance only amounted to $150.

The Model School Football team drove to Keene on Saturday and played a match with the Allandale team. The Modelists were beaten by a score of 2 to 0.

Last Wednesday evening a happy event took place at the residence of Mr. George Buck, Asphodel, when his eldest daughter Luella J., was united in marriage with Wm. J. Scott, eldest son of Mr. Abraham Scott, also of Asphodel. The ceremony was performed by Rev. James Anderson, the bride being supported by Miss Annie McMillan, while Mr. Willon Wildman performed a like office for the groom. After the nuptials the usual wedding festivities were indulged in. We unite with their many friends in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Scott a long and happy life.

The regular monthly meeting of the Model School Society was held on Friday afternoon. The officers of the preceding month were elected without change. Miss Merritt read the critic's report of the last meeting. An instrumental duet was well rendered by Misses Patterson and Campbell. A debate followed on "Resolved, that city life is preferable to country life." The affirmative was taken by Messrs. Stubbs and Kindred, while Messrs. O. Kidd and C. Howson spoke in favour of country life. The judges decided in favour of the affirmative. The journal read by Mr. McFarlane, editor, created much amusement. The meeting closed with a song by the Glee Club.

The regular meeting of the School Board was held on Monday evening, the following members being present:—W. E. Roxburgh, chairman; W. H. Stephenson, secretary-treasurer; T. Fraser, Dr. Pettigrew, J. Breckenridge, W. Webster, P. W. Reynolds and W. H. Stephenson. A communication from J. Davidson, M. A. S. L. B., bringing a number of matters before the board. Moved by Dr. Ford, seconded by Mr. Fraser, that the communication be received. Moved by Mr. Breckenridge, seconded by Dr. Pettigrew, that the board recognize the necessity of having another male teacher and that the same be hired by the executive committee, at a salary af not more than $500. Moved by Dr. Ford, seconded by Mr. Anderson, that the Property Committee be instructed to confer with the principal and procure the necessary seats for the High School. Moved by Mr. Fraser, that the High and Public Schools have the 2nd day of the Fair and Friday after thanksgiving, as holidays.—Carried. A number of accounts were referred to the Finance Committee.

MOUNT PLEASANT.

(From Our Own Correspondent.

City Lodge, of Peterborough, visited our organization of Good Templars last Thursday evening. The visitors, comprising three bus loads and a single, showed their indomitable attachment to the cause of temperance by facing out through the unpleasant weather and darkness. The visiting ledge carried to a close a programme of literature, music and song, after which they were lunched by the receiving lodge.

On Wednesday at the residence of the bride's father, 13th con. Cavan, Miss Hattie Head and Mr. Wm. Petty were united in the holy bonds of wedlock. The young benedicts have taken a house in our village and we extend to them our very best wishes for conjugal felicity.

A private supper was given Mr. Davy Desautell, of Peterborough, and a few of his friends, last Friday evening. The event was occasioned by Davy's leaving for his old home. Speeches were the order after supper and the greatest good humor prevailed.

Mr. J. J. Sadler, of Toronto, inspected his machine shop here, on Saturday.

A large number of visitors were in attendance at the East Durham and Cavan Agricultural Society's show, in Millbrook, on Friday. Words of praise and satisfaction at the increased attractiveness and utility of the fair were resonant from all.

On Wednesday afternoon at the close of a very pleasant programme given by the pupils of No. 5, Cavan, the retiring teacher was pleasantly surprised by the reading of the following address, accompanied by the within named presents:

Mr. T. W. McLean, Mount Pleasant,

DEAR TEACHER AND FRIEND,—We, your pupils, hear with sincere regret of your intended departure from our midst. We feel and know that we are losing a true friend and a faithful teacher. Our loss is others' gain. Before leaving us we beg of you to accept this writing desk and handkerchief case as a very slight token of our high esteem for you and our deep gratitude for your earnest labour in our behalf.

We wish that success may crown all your efforts, and that the guidance and protection of God may attend you through life.

Signed on behalf of the school,

EVA COE,
MAGGIE VANCE,
BERTHA TOUCHBURN,
ADAM VANCE.

Mr. McLean made a very suitable reply, expressing his sadness at leaving, his gratitude for the handsome presents and his hopes of prosperity for the future. Mr. Richard Coe made a short speech, after which, with singing a farewell song, the programme was concluded. Mr. McLean has taught for four years in No. 5, Cavan, and the good feeling that existed between pupils and teacher was evident from the sorrowful parting. Mr. McLean leaves this week for a position in a private institution in Brantford.

YOUNG'S POINT.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The Lakefield baseball team defeated the local nine in a game here on Friday afternoon, which was marked by some brilliant playing. The catching and throwing to bases of Isbister, the Lakefield catcher, was something almost equal to the work of a professional. The home team was greatly strengthened by the addition of two American players from Rochester, Messrs. Webster and Ramsdale. Mr. Webster did the twirling and Mr. Ramsdal put up a brilliant game at short, his hard and brilliant playing and picking being a feature of the home team's work. Mr. Webster pitched a good game, and had he received good support all round the result might have been otherwise. The following were the players and positions:

Lakefield.		Young's Point.
Vincent	pitcher	Webster
Isbister	catcher	Johnston
Alcombrac	1st base	McFarlane
North	2nd base	Kearney
Ridpath	3rd base	Brooks
Moran	short stop	Ram-dale
Bates	left field	"Jerry" Young
McIlmoyle	centre field	Welsh
Bloomfield	right field	R. J. Young

Umpire—Mr. G. Webster, Rochester.

The umpire's decisions met with general approval, except with his friend, Mr. Ramsdale, who constantly reminded him that he was so honest and conscientious that he was cheating his friends and once or twice he went so far as to say that Mr. Webster might know a great deal about the manufacturing of boots and shoes but he could not umpire a ball game.

Mr. Hugh Sutherland, who for many years drove the Apsley stage, died at his home in Smith, on the Burleigh Road, after a long illness. The funeral took place on Thursday to the Little Lake Cemetery, Peterborough. He leaves a family of two children to mourn his loss, which is keenly felt, as their mother died in April last.

Mrs. Levoy, of North Bay, is visiting her sister, Mrs. R. Young.

Miss Maggie Fobert of Chemong, who has been visiting friends here, returned home on Tuesday.

Mr. J. F. Sullivan of Ennismore, is spending a few days visiting in the village.

Mrs. Pollard and Mrs. Armstrong, of Peterborough, are visiting with Mrs. Geo. J. Chalmers.

The entertainment and tea given by the Young's Point True Blue lodge on Wednesday, Oct. 3rd, was a decided success. The lady friends of the lodge provided ample refreshments of the most dainty order. Addresses were delivered, several of the members showing the working of the order and the rapid increase in membership. In the evening a number repaired to Mr. J. E. Kearney's dancing parlour and tripped the light fantastic till near midnight.

Messrs. B. Harding, G. Webster and W. Webster, who have been registered at the Lakeview house, and Mr. Frank Ramsdale at the Carleton house during the past week returned to Rochester on Saturday with a large catch of fish. Mr. Harding is an ardent disciple of Isaac Walton, and was very successful, and made some very fine catches, and one day lauded a twenty-one pounder.

KEENE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.

Miss Maggie, second daughter of Mr. W. J. Miller, met with a very painful accident on Monday. When leaving Keene Station the horse she was driving became unmanageable. Miss Miller jumped out to save herself and landed in a very rough place fracturing her leg badly. Medical assistance was sent for and she is doing as well as could be expected.

Mr. Alex. McFee, an old resident of Otonabee, but who has lately been living in Iowa, died very suddenly in Peterborough on Saturday while back on a visit to his friends. The remains left on the 7.00 train for interment in Iowa.

Miss Nixon, of Winnipeg, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Dr. Harrison, left for home on Wednesday.

Although the Agricultural Society was not favoured with a fine day, still the fair was a success, far ahead of any ever held here before. Parties who ought to have some idea pronounced our race track a good one.

Mr. Robert McCamus has completed his new yacht which adds one more to the sailing crafts of the village.

HARVEY'S ANNUAL FALL PLOWING MATCH.

At a meeting held in Lakehurst the Other Evening it was Decided to Hold the Match on the 17th.

The farmers of Harvey have arranged for their annual fall plowing match, which is of great interest to all living in the locality, to take place on Oct. 17th.

Hitherto the fall plowing matches in this township have been fraught with interest, and by the enthusiasm already evinced by the Harvey farmers the match on the 17th will prove a great success.

A representative gathering of those interested assembled in the Lakehurst town hall the other evening, and arranged the preliminaries of the match.

HOW TO KEEP RECORDS.

A Farmer Who Has Clear-Cut Methods of Doing Things.

A correspondent of the Country Gentleman describes the method of recording the yields of milk of his cows, which he has found perfectly satisfactory in every way. A common pad hung behind each cow, with a pencil tied to it by a string, are all that are needed in the stable for the milk, not forgetting, however, a common spring balance hanging on a small gallows so as to clear the wall, for weighing the milk. The pails are made to weigh exactly the same by the addition of solder or lead soldered to the pail. The tinman who makes the pails will do this when they are ordered. The actual weight of the milk is thus easily got at, at the weekly addition of the milkings. Then, as soon as a cow is milked, the milk is weighed and the weight marked on the pad in a column opposite the date. Each pad has the name of the cow plainly written on the top of the sheet. His pads are seven by five inches, and have twenty lines on each sheet. This makes the sheet last a week and on the day fixed, which may be Saturday night, the sheet is torn off and taken to the house or office for entry under the cow's name in the account kept in the book. The sheets are filed as they are entered, and each week's product, as it is added and tared, is put down in a column kept for it. Another column may be kept for the butter made when any separate churning is made of that cow's milk, and this should be done at stated times. If a Babcock tester is kept and used once a week for special work, the portion of fat is entered in its column, and the quantity of butter by estimate is put in the next column.

Uses of Raw Hide.

For wide usefulness, few things exceed raw hide, though it is not commonly understood in the East, or among civilized people as should be the case. The western pioneer through necessity learned the art of manipulating it long years ago, and its use has not been forgotten. A coil of sun-dried cowhide tied to the plow handle, turret ring or wagon stake, is security against breakdowns and many mishaps which are likely to overtake the farmer or teamster. Soaked in water, it becomes limber quickly and will tie a harness, wagon and other things together and hold them firmly, whether wet or dry. When it dries, it shrinks, binding more firmly than ever. On the treeless, rainless wastes of the Southwest, where the fiercest sun and constant drying winds would shrink the tire from any wheel used in moist climates, the raw hide tire is indispensable, because the dryer it gets, the closer it sticks. If after long wear a tire is found loose, a new one can be quickly whipped about the wheel at night, ready to start with in the morning. For belt laces, traces and other harness straps, chair bottoms, and innumerable other places where hard wear is demanded the raw hide with the hair exposed, or turned in out of sight, is valuable and could be used in the older states oftentimes with great advantage. Or these skins may be "tawed," as the process is called where the hair or fur is preserved, and no tannic acid is used. This is done by spreading a mixture of finely powdered salt and alum in equal quantities upon the moist flesh side and doubling one, or laying pairs flesh side together. The hides are left thus for several days, when they seem to have become something like leather. They are then stripped, scraped, rubbed with chalk and pumice stone until smooth, and pulled and scraped while drying to make them soft.—Hollister Sage.

For Felling Trees.

In felling leaning trees they generally split and waste so much lumber that some way of preventing the splitting should be adopted. Get your blacksmith to bend a bar of iron about an inch thick and sixteen in long in the shape of Fig. A. Cut the side of the tree at C, withdraw the saw, drive in the iron with the points B B and the tree is ready for sawing from the opposite side. When the tree is sawed nearly through the saw may be withdrawn, the iron removed and the sawing completed from the first cut.—Orange Judd Farmer.

Kerosene Emulsion.

Kerosene emulsion is prepared by dissolving half pound of soap in a gallon of boiling water and mixing this at once with two gallons of kerosene. This mixture is then churned evenly so as to form a creamy mass in which the oil and water do not separate. This may be done by forcing the liquid through a pump into a pail in which the emulsion is formed, or by the use of an egg beater, and will require from seven to ten minutes of active agitation. This may be diluted when used with from nine to eighteen times its bulk of water and applied to plants by means of a force pump or spraying machine. If the well water available is very hard it will be found preferable to use soft water. Ordinary well or spring water, however, will in most cases answer the purpose. The oil and water will probably separate in case the water is very hard.

The Back Yard.

Improve the back yard. Plant a few shrubs and flowers for your own use. If they need a little attention a person can slip out in the back yard, look after plants, etc., when they would not think of going in the front lawns. A good rule is to plant something for the home folks.

The Chores.

Do not neglect the chores, even if other work seems to demand your whole attention. Study to save both step and time in doing the chores and do them in the same order every day.

Wash your prints with Wide Awake Soap and notice how the colours are brightened.

TURNBULL'S

Our Millinery opening is now over and has been a decided success, and it is very gratifying to be able to state that we never had more visitors or took more orders, which simply shows the fact that our selection of Millinery is very choice and varied. Our turnover in this department is so large that we can afford to buy everything new as it appears each week. Thus our customers are always sure of getting the latest styles and closest prices with us.

MANTLES.

In the Mantle department things are on the move. Our best garments are going out rapidly. We have a large and varied stock and our prices are rock bottom, as we import direct from the manufacturers. We keep the very best qualities of Astrachans and Seal ettes to be made up to order. Any one thinking of buying a cheap Fur Coat should see these Cloths first as they make up more effective, and are twice as durable, and can be made up in any of the new shapes. Our Mantle maker is one the best in the country turning her work out as well as any tailor.

A TENEMENT FATALITY

Inmates of the Building Imprisoned by Falling Walls.

NINE TAKEN OUT LIFELESS

One Man Lay for Nine Hours Pinioned by the Beams, but Maintained Wonderful Nerve—Fourteen Persons Were Injured in the Crash.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—A seven-story brick structure in course of erection at 72 Monroe street, collapsed yesterday during a terrific gale and rainstorm. Part of it fell the other way on the house of 76 Monroe street. At least fifteen persons were known to be in this house, which was utterly crushed. A few minutes after the crash the shrieks of the imprisoned victims could be heard blocks away.

At 8 o'clock three bodies had been taken from the ruins, two of them mutilated almost beyond recognition, and eighteen persons were under treatment for severe injuries received. The schoolhouse next door to the wrecked structure was temporarily turned into a hospital.

At 2.15 o'clock in the afternoon the body of Solomon Karoness was taken from the ruins. Shortly after five o'clock the body of Rosie Abraham, aged 18 years old, was discovered in the ruins. She lay beneath a huge mass of debris. Till the finding of this body a slight hope was entertained that life might yet linger in those known to be in the ruins.

During the afternoon the few remaining members of the Abraham's family sorrowfully watched the search for their mother, father, sister and brother. Later in the afternoon it was decided to continue the search for the dead during the night and arrangements were made to have electric lights erected.

Captain Grant had his detectives hunting for a man named Amelsky, said to have had charge of the erection of new buildings, acting for the owner.

The most remarkable incident in connection with the disaster was the almost miraculous escape from death of Jacob Koroness. For nearly nine hours he lay under the debris, threatened every minute with instant death should a cave-in occur. A wire mattress had fallen across a couple of beams directly above him, thus giving him space in which to breathe. Notwithstanding the terrible mental and physical strain to which he had been subjected the young man maintained his nerve until he was placed on a stretcher. He fainted while being carried to an ambulance. He did not show any signs of outward injury, but the doctors at Gouverneur hospital.

The dead are: Bertha Koroness, 48 years old; Abraham Koroness, aged 9; Solomon Koroness, aged 21; Rosie Abrahams, aged 18; Meyer Steinman, aged 21; Jennie Steinman, aged 60.

Fourteen persons were injured, more or less severely. Isaac Abrahams, his wife and 7-year-old son were missing, but were taken out of the ruins dead at midnight. None of the injured will die.

Funeral of Poet Holmes.

BOSTON, Oct. 11.—Amid a wealth of flowers, the brightness of which was a pleasant contrast with the gloomy skies and steady rainfall without, the plain blackcloth covered the coffin, bearing a plate on which was inscribed "Oliver Wendell Holmes," and containing all that was mortal of the famous poet who has just passed away in the fullness of his years and fame, was placed at the head of the main aisle in King's Chapel yesterday and the simple funeral rites were held. After the service the body was taken to Mount Auburn and buried in the Jackson lot in which Mrs. Holmes, the wife of the poet, was interred. Only the family and most intimate friends were present at the last rites, which consisted simply of selections sung by a quartette.

Coal Schooner Sunk in a Collision.

FORT MONROE, Va., Oct. 11.—The schooner Henry Lippit, Capt. Howes, with coal from Georgetown, while anchored in the roads was run into by the Schooner Redwing and sunk. Captain Howes, the mate and steward took to the rigging and were rescued at midnight by the crew of the Bay line steamer Alabama. Five of the crew took to the boats and have not since been heard from. Captain Howes thinks but two of the men reached the boat before the vessel sank.

Shamokin Miners Still Entombed.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Oct. 11.—The entombed miners in the burning Fidler mines have not yet been found. Two violent gas explosions occurred in the main shaft yesterday, the shock being felt on the surface one mile distant. No rescuing party has been able to penetrate the workings since the accident.

Bartholomy to be Imprisoned.

BUFFALO, Oct. 11.—The jury has brought in a verdict of murder in the second degree against George Bartholomy, who shot and killed Wm. E. Delaney. The sentence will be life imprisonment in the Auburn penitentiary.

VIOLENT COAST STORMS

Ten Lives Lost by a Terrific Gale Off Newfoundland.

NEW ENGLAND STATES SUFFER

A Woman and Two Children Swept From a Barge in a Long Island Harbor—Immense Damage Reported From Other Points on the Coast.

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., Oct. 11.—St. Pierre, the French colony on the south coast of Newfoundland, was visited by a terrible gale which caused the loss of at least 10 lives and unprecedented damage to shipping. More than 30 vessels anchored in the roadstead were driven ashore and most of them were destroyed. Their crews escaped only by the merest chance. A fleet of more than 300 French fishing vessels had arrived at St. Pierre within a few days, having been compelled to make port in consequence of damage sustained in the gale on the Sunday before last, which raged furiously on the banks. All vessels reported serious losses. Several ships are missing and are believed to have foundered with 200 lives.

HUNTINGTON, L.I., Oct. 11.—During the heavy gale last night seven barges loaded with coal bound east and the large steam tug Belle McWilliams went ashore at Lloyd's harbor, and a woman and two children were lost. Some men belonging to the crews are missing and are believed to have been drowned. The beach for a mile is covered with wreckage.

The woman who was lost was aboard the barge Jennie Hughes, whose captain, James Murphy, was her brother. With her were her three children. At the height of the storm the woman and children took refuge in the cabin, which was built upon the deck. A wave tore away the cabin and carried it into the sea. The wrecked cabin in which lay the woman's body, was afterwards found about a mile from where the barge went ashore. One of the children, a 11-year-old boy, still alive, was found on the beach and was taken aboard the tug, which lays high and dry on the beach. The bodies of the other children have not yet been found.

The exact loss of life and property cannot be ascertained until the searchers return from the scene of the wrecks. The gale was the fiercest ever witnessed by dwellers near the bay.

ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS, N. J., Oct. 11.—The storm was the most violent that has visited these and adjoining shores for many years. A large number of small craft were destroyed and goods washed out, trees uprooted and buildings unroofed.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Oct. 11.—A terrible rainstorm, accompanied by a northeast wind, swept over this place. The tide is the highest ever recalled here, and many docks are under water. A number of small craft anchored in the harbor have been driven ashore. The sloop Dexter, H. A. Townsend, was sunk.

JERSEY CITY, Oct. 11.—The storm did great damage in this city, and greatly interfered with the working of the trolley cars owned by the Consolidated Traction Co. The high wind tore down the wires in every direction and caused several accidents, two of which proved fatal to horses.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—The wild wind-storm along the South Atlantic coast doubtless caused many marine disasters. The bark Ogir, of Norway, from Hull, Eng., to Wilmington, N. C., in ballast, grounded on Cape Fear Bay and became a total loss. The crew of eleven men were rescued by the life savers.

ASHBURY PARK, Oct. 11.—During the storm here the wind reached a velocity of 60 miles an hour. The heavy sea ripped up a portion of the flooring of the Ashbury Park pavilion. Telegraph, telephone and electric light wires were blown down all over town.

SALEM, Mass., Oct. 11. — Considerable damage is reported to yachts moored in the harbor. An unknown schooner is reported in the Bay of Mongolia disabled and flying a signal of distress. Word has been telegraphed to Gloucester to try to render the vessel assistance.

BEVERLY, Mass., Oct. 11.—The worst storm of the season prevails here. The wind blew a gale along the water front. The streets are strewn with broken limbs and branches of trees.

British Imports From Canada.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—British imports from Canada show an increase of 8 per cent. for the month of September, according to the returns published by the British Board of Trade, as compared with September of last year. There is also an increase of 7 per cent. in the imports for the nine months of the year, as compared with the same period of last year. Cheese increased 120,000 pounds. Exports from Great Britain to Canada decreased 25 per cent. in September and for the nine months 30 per cent., as against the returns of last year.

Brantford Weavers on Strike.

BRANTFORD, Oct. 11.—The weavers in the Dominion cotton mills here went out on strike. A new schedule of prices, to take effect next Monday, had been posted. When the weavers saw the prices they would not return to work. They claim the cut of ten per cent. last June and this cut will make a cut of about fifteen per cent., and they cannot make sufficient to maintain themselves. On account of the weavers going out the mill is closed down and will remain closed until such time as the weavers accept the schedule prices.

A Section Man Killed.

BOTHWELL, Ont., Oct. 11.—William Little, who lived about one mile out of town, while working with a G. T. R. section gang near Thamesville, was struck and instantly killed by an accommodation train going west, his body being thrown into the ditch. Little failed to move out of the way of the train in time. His body was taken to Thamesville, where an inquest will be held. He had been an employe of the company for fifteen or twenty years.

HIS SLAYER AT LARGE

Westwood Died Without Throwing Light on the Mystery.

NOTHING IN HIS STATEMENT

His Story Was the Same as That Given After the Shooting—The Coroner's Jury Empanelled—Something Startling Expected at the Inquest.

TORONTO, Oct. 11.—Frank Westwood's death was a terrible shock to the family. Around his bedside were gathered his father, mother and two brothers. All night long an anxious watch was kept in the silent chamber, for the physicians had intimated that in their opinion the unfortunate lad would not live through the night. His youth and vitality held out for hours against approaching death.

The statement which has been reported was made by the boy was taken on the advice of Dr. Lynd, who advised the youth to tell of the affair as he remembered it. He detailed the story of the events of the fatal Saturday night when he answered the door bell and was shot down ere he had time to peer out into the darkness. The statement did not differ from that made to Coroner Lynd in the presence of Detective Slemin early on Sunday morning just after the shooting. On securing the statement the officer of the law left the room to continue the search for the assassin.

The deceased lad was quite resigned and content when told he could not live. During his 79 hours suffering since the assassin's bullet was fired he has been brave and courageous, bearing untold agony without murmur or complaint. He said he was not afraid of death, and that he felt quite prepared. The police confess that they are puzzled by the case. It is a mystery that they have not fathomed. Any amount of theory has been disproved. After securing the ante-mortem statement the detectives made several calls and verified the last recital of Frank Westwood. So intensely interested in the case are the officers of the law that the chiefs of the departments are endeavoring to assist their subordinates in tracing a criminal who did not leave any tracks. At any moment they expect to find a missing clue, but up to to-day they are groping aimlessly about. With a hope that justice will not allow such a dastard to escape, and that the wide publicity given to the case will assist them, the police will continue the search for the assassin.

Dr. Lynd called at the Westwood home a few minutes after Frank had breathed his last. He at once informed the Crown Attorney of his patient's demise. Coroner R. B. Orr at once issued a warrant for an inquest.

The coroner's jury assembled at Lakeside hall. Reporters who sought admittance to the house were not allowed to enter by the relatives of the youth. This fact causes some comment, as it is almost unprecedented. This adds further to the mystery surrounding the case. After the jury was sworn in they viewed the body and listened to an explanation of the position of the wound, the course of the bullet and the probable position of the revolver from which came the fatal shot. The jury then chose their foreman and Coroner Orr fixed to-morrow evening at the hour of eight at No. 6 Police Station as the time and place of the next sitting.

The circumstances surrounding the shooting and subsequent death of Frank Westwood are unparalleled by any previous tragedy in Toronto or Canada. All attempts at finding some explanation of the crime have so far only tended to deepen the mystery. Some startling developments are expected at the inquest to-morrow night, and it is more than generally conceded that an arrest will soon be made.

GREEN NOT GUILTY.

The Verdict Rendered by the Jury at the Cornwall Trial.

CORNWALL, Ont., Oct. 11.—The trial of Charles Green for the murder of Prtrick Cosgrove on the night of September 10, was concluded last night, when the jury brought in a verdict of "not guilty," and the people of Cornwall were not pained to hear the horrible death sentence pronounced on the prisoner. The room was literally packed to the doors and when the jury filed out a deathly silence prevailed. When the verdict of "not guilty" was rendered, the prisoner was lectured and finally discharged. He thanked the judge and going over to his lawyer, Mr. MacLennan, shook his hand warmly and the court adjourned.

Only Land Workers Wanted.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—The Mansion House relief committee has been advised by the Dominion Government that there is no room in Canada for any class of immigrants other than land workers. The partial failure of the committee's emigrants sent to Montreal in the past season, it is expected, will practically stop this purely charitable emigration. It is now being urged upon the committee that they should bring back to England the emigrants now without work at Montreal.

Died From His Injuries.

TORONTO, Oct. 11.—Harvey S. Qua, the 6-year-old son of Samuel E. Qua, 11 Gwynne avenue, died yesterday. The little fellow was riding on a coal waggon when it was stopped at the house of his uncle across the street. When the waggon started the little chap attempted to get off. In doing so he fell under the wheels and was fatally crushed. The accident happened over a week ago, and the little fellow lingered in much agony until death released him.

Probably an Accident.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., Oct. 11.—Robert Laurie, aged 35, a farmer on St. Peter's road, went duck shooting yesterday and a few hours after his body was found on shore at East River, near Falconwood asylum, shot through the heart, the gun lying by his side. Nothing further is known regarding the accident. Deceased was married only a few months ago.

Ontario C. E. Convention.

KINGSTON, Oct. 11.—Yesterday the ninth annual convention of the Ontario Christian Endeavor Union opened in the First Congregational Church. The first session was opened by Rev. A. M. Phillips, Montreal, who presided at night. Addresses of welcome were delivered by Mayor Herald and others in Sydenham street church.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1894.

CHILD-SAVING CONFERENCE FOR ONTARIO.

To be held in Confederation Assembly Hall, Toronto, on October 18th and 19th.

Mr. J. J. Kelso, superintendent of Neglected and Dependent Children of Ontario, addresses the following circular letter to those who are in anyway engaged in the work of protecting and caring for neglected, dependent or delinquent children in Ontario:

The extent and importance of the work carried on in this province for neglected and dependent children has suggested a conference of workers, at which existing laws might be carefully considered and views interchanged as to the best methods of procedure. No such conference has yet been held in Ontario, although the money annually expended in the work, not to speak of much thought and energy, is anywhere from $200,000 to $300,000. We have in active operation twenty-five children's homes, an industrial school for boys, industrial school for girls, a Provincial reformatory for boys, a Provincial refuge for girls, Provincial homes for the blind, the deaf and dumb, and the feeble-minded, twelve children's aid societies, twenty-five children's visiting committees in rural districts, and in addition seven British agencies bringing children from the old country to this Province.

Then we have many laws, both Provincial and Dominion, bearing upon child-rescue and child-protection work. Some of these laws are of recent origin and are of an advanced character. They cannot be carried out until the spirit and import of them is thoroughly grasped, and a harmonious system decided upon for their efficient administration. With the present laws, and with a vigorous prosecution of child-saving work, there need be no hesitation in saying that fully half the vice, crime and pauperism of the present day would be swept away. Lack of parental control and home training is the offence that is filling our gaols and refuges, and of this the officials can bear ample testimony. The wretched, blighted criminal is simply the victim of the circumstances of childhood—over which he had no control, and for which he is not accountable.

To bring together the workers in the cause of saving and reclaiming the young is also an important aim of the conference. Those who understand the laws, who have had years of experience in the work, can stimulate and encourage others who love children and wish to help them but who do not know how to go about it. In response to a circular of inquiry sent out some time ago, fifty persons replied that he hoped to attend if a conference could be arranged. This number included county judges, police magistrates, officials connected with institutions, children's aid societies, visiting committees and others connected with kindred organizations.

In view, therefore, of these facts, it has been decided to hold a two days' conference in Toronto opening at 11 o'clock on Thursday morning, October 18th, and continuing until Friday evening. The place of meeting will be the Confederation Assembly Hall, corner of Yonge and Richmond streets. In addition to its very central location, this building is particularly appropriate in that it contains the offices of the Children's Aid Society, and of the President, Mr. J. K. Macdonal. Every effort will be exerted to make the proceedings of interest and benefit to the largest number. Lengthy papers or addresses will not be encouraged, as the aim will be to get at facts by the shortest route. It is believed that more inspiration can be gained in a general discussion than in a few elaborately written essays, and this makes it very necessary that all attending should come prepared to take part. Topics will be arranged to be introduced by delegates named and then submitted to the conference. Judge McDonald of Brockville, well known for his sympathetic interest in all philanthropic work, and a member of the recent Royal Commission on the Liquor Traffic, has kindly consented to preside at the opening sessions of the conference.

It is earnestly hoped that there will be a large attendance of friends of children from all sections of the province. This is not a Toronto meeting, but a Provincial one, and all who can possibly do so are asked to attend. The chief qualification is to be engaged, or to have a desire to be engaged, in work for the care and protection of friendless children. While all connected officially with institutions or societies are especially invited, others not holding any official position will be made welcome. A railroad rate of a fare and one-third on both the Grand Trunk and the Canadian Pacific Railway has been arranged for all who attend the conference. When purchasing a single ticket to Toronto ask for and secure a certificate of purchase. This will be signed by the Secretary of the conference, and the holder will then be able to purchase a return ticket for one-third the usual amount.

Further information will be given later on, but friends are asked to definitely decide now that they will be present. Correspondence regarding the conference invited, and any enquiries will be answered by the undersigned.

SEVENTEEN YEARS OF IT.

Charles Schryver had Kidney Disease all This Time and Didn't Know it—How he Found Out and How he was Cured.

TORONTO, Oct. 1.—Sixteen years ago kidney disease attacked Charles Schryver, a bricklayer in this city, but he did not know it. It showed itself in the form of pains in the small of the back. They did not amount so much at first, but kept growing worse. Within the past six years Mr. Schryver has almost every week had to quit work for one or two days on account of their severity. Doctors ascribed them to the liver and other causes and prescribed, but their medicine did no good. Last spring a city physician diagnosed the case as one of diabetes and wanted to prescribe, but Mr. Schryver said:—"No, if its diabetes I'll use Dodd's Kidney Pills, which I know will cure me." They did cure him, too, and to-day Mr. Schryver is free from ache or pain and able to do his day's work, week in and week out, with any man in his trade.

DR. BARNADO'S HOME.

In his 28th annual report, a neat little volume of 112 pages, Barnardo reviews the work of his well known Homes for the twelve months ending 31st December last. He has a splendid story to tell, for his institutions now cover a very wide range of effort. Many of the totals supplied are really amazing in their magnitude, and we commend the figures on pages 42 and 43 to any one who wishes to form some conception of what Dr. Barnardo's rescue work really means. For instance, it appears that nearly 5,000 children are now under the care of the Homes; that 23,711 waif children have been rescued, trained and placed out in life in the bygone 28 years; that 13,418 children were dealt with in the course of the single year 1893; that very nearly 7 boys and girls were on the average admitted every 24 hours; and that 6,571 trained emigrants had been sent out to the colonies from the beginning of the Homes to December, 1893. Free lodgings have been given the most destitute by tens of thousands, and free meals by the hundred thousands, while religious services, and temperance, social, and educational meetings held at the various mission centres have had over a million of registered attendance in twelve months. A detailed account is given of each of the 51 branches, which are now comprised in the Homes, and a series of most interesting case-histories, and of letters from former inmates, attest at once the real necessity of the work and the great success which has attended it. In a second part of the report, the committee of the Homes dwells on the financial aspect of the work, and supplies an audited statement of accounts. It appears that last year the sum of £132,054 was received in no fewer than 82,709 separate gifts. Sixty per cent. of the donations were individually under £1 each, showing that the institutions are really widely supported by the general public. Donations in aid of the Homes are urgently needed and are at all times welcome. We commend this little volume to our readers as a wonderful record of organised Christian philanthropy. A copy will be sent to any one on application to the General Secretary of the Homes, 18 to 26, Stepney Causeway, London, E.

THE TIMES ON AMERICAN CROPS.

London, Oct. 8.—The Times in a leader discussing the condition of wheat growing in America as revealed by the Agricultural Board, says that the American farmer must in the end raise prices or abandon wheat growing. American railways and steamers will some day cease to carry his wheat for almost nothing. It adds that it is true that Russia, Argentine and India must be reckoned with and that the last two countries have not reached the lowest price at which wheat may be profitably produced. It is reasonable to regard the present price of wheat and indeed most wholesale prices of commodities as eccentric transient phenomena. The return of prices to their natural level will be assisted by the abundance of gold promised by new discoveries, but nobody can attempt to say when the balance will be depressed. The worst is that every farmer will have to decide before long what area he will sow with wheat. In the meantime he must not shut his eyes to the compensations retailers and consumers receive from the reckless competition in American and other countries. It is true that the benefit sometimes is intercepted, as in the case of Californian fruit before it reached the consumer. Still the profit goes somewhere and the wonderful extension of the fruit trade is a plain sign that the middle man is not all-powerful in evil. Undoubtedly our farmers suffer. Opinions differ as to wheher the benefit outweighs the loss, but certainly the community benefits largely.

JAPAN'S DUMMY SHIPS.

The Mikado Making a Display With Sham Cruisers—Her Fleet Crippled.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—The Times has this despatch from its correspondent in Tien-Tsin:

Minister N. R. O'Connor has arrived at Chee-Foo aboard H. M. S. Alacrity and is proceeding in haste to Pekin. The Emperor is now taking the initiative and is infusing new energy into the work of national defences, mustering military resources the existence of which was scarcely suspected. The viceroys of Yun Kwei and Hukwang have been summoned to Pekin for counsel.

The Japanese admiral has been making sham demonstrations with dummy ships, painted white like war vessels, but there always have been the same two cruisers appearing about the promontory of Shang Tung.

The Japanese are taking elaborate pains to conceal their losses in the recent engagement, nevertheless the truth is gradually coming out. Their fleet was crippled more seriously than the Chinese were aware.

The English papers received contain a falsified version of the Chinese emperor's declaration of war. The phrase "rooting the pestilential Japanese from their lairs," is not in the original. Experience has shown that Japanese accounts of events preceeding and during the war have been systematically misleading.

To Beautify the Complexion

—do not take the cosmetics, paints and powders which injure the skin, but take the easiest way to gain a beautiful color and a wholesome skin. Health is the greatest beautifier. The means to beauty, comfort and health for women is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Dull eyes, sallow or wrinkled face, and those "feelings of weakness," have their rise in the derangements peculiar to women.

"Favorite Prescription" will build up, strengthen and invigorate, every "run-down" or delicate woman by regulating and assisting all the natural functions.

To cure constipation, biliousness, indigestion, sick headache, take Dr. Pierce's Pellets. One a dose.

When catarrh attacks a person of scrofulous diathesis, the disease is almost sure to become chronic. The only efficacious cure, therefore, is Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which expels scrofula from the system and the catarrh soon follows suit. Local treatment is only a waste of time.

FRATERNAL ASSESSMENT LIABILITY.

"Can't I get out when I please, and have no liability?"

Most people expect "yes" for an answer to this question, when they say they are members of an assessment insurance society, and begin to think of their responsibilities as such. It is important for them to know that they cannot escape liability; because every member, no matter when he drops out, is liable for any deficiencies that may arise in future, if they were developed during his membership. Here is an instance:

The United Masonic Benefit Association of Missouri was some years ago an active and apparently prosperous assessment concern. It provided no reserve, but offered low rates, cheap insurance, and seemingly hoped that new blood would make up for increasing mortality resulting from increasing age. By and bye its forces began to fall off, not enough "new blood" came in, and the cost of membership ran up in a very uncomfortable way. Presently the healthier lives began to feel their burden pressing heavily and steadily left the ranks, until so few were left in the association that the assessments amounted to $140—one hundred and forty dollars—on each certificate. The remaining members refused to pay such a sum, and the concern failed. But there were unpaid death claims for a large amount due, and the State Superintendent of Insurance thought they ought to be paid. So he began suits at law against individual members to enforce payment of the assessments against them; the court has decided that they must pay. The feelings of those who are thus compelled to pay what they never expected have undergone a change with respect to assessment insurance.

Replying to some enquiries which had been made upon this point of liability, and citing this case illustration of what may be expected in any similiar case which might be pressed to suit, the Insurance Monitor says: "The decision referred to answers our question which has been debated whether the member's liability is limited to sums which he may choose topay; in, other words, whether he can get out when he pleases without further harm. This he cannot do. Every member, no matter when he may drop out, is liable for any deficiencies which may crop up in future, resulting during his membership. The only safe course for parties that apprehend breakers ahead is to drop their membership before the breakers are reached; and the misfortune of this course is that the faster they drop, the faster the association drives towards the breakers."

There seems to be only one course open for the prudent man who may be determined to avoid possible liability; that is to keep out of such associations entirely and buy his insurance of the regular companies.—Monetary Times.

NEWS FROM OTTAWA.

"Hazing" at Kingston Mil. to be Stopped—A Supreme Court Vacancy.

OTTAWA, Oct. 11.—Hon. J. C. Patterson was seen by a reporter in reference to the reported hazing at the Kingston Military College, which was so brutal as to force a son of Inspector Plummer, of Toronto, to leave the college. He seemed very much annoyed and said he was determined to put a stop to that sort of thing and would order an investigation at once. "However," he added, "we have only heard one side of the story." He received the following reply to a telegram: "Up to the present I have failed to obtain the slightest confirmation of alleged hazing. The report you require will be sent to-morrow." (Signed.) D. R. Cameron.

It is reported that Christopher Carter, of Montreal, will get the vacancy on the Superior Court bench. John S. Hall, ex-treasurer of the province of Quebec, is said to have refused the position.

Aylmer branch of the anadian Pacific Railway may soon have new owners. The Pontiac and Pacific Junction Railway is dickering for it. Rumor says that a deal has been reached. Mr. H. J. Beemer, who is the president and probably the largest owner of the P. & P. J. Railway, says nothing definite has yet been arrived at. This reply, while not confirming the rumor of a sale, confirms the idea of a deal being under way.

John Burnham, M. P., and James Stevenson, M. P., are here to-day interviewing the Premier and other members of the Cabinet on a variety of questions affecting their constituents. Among other things they want a drill shed at Peterborough.

In an interview with Mayor Cox, who is interesting himself with the proposed winter carnival to be held here January 15, Sir John Thompson said that Parliament would positively not open before January 22.

Hon. J.C. Patterson emphatically denies that he will accept the Ontario leadership or resign his present seat in the Cabinet.

Mrs. Beaton's Libel Suit.

HAMILTON, Oct. 11.—At the assize court before Judge Falconbridge the libel suit of Beaton vs. Brierley was concluded yesterday. This came of a series of suits brought by Mrs. Elizabeth Beaton, of Burlington, against several newspapers for publishing an article taken from the New York World in August, 1893, regarding the mysterious disappearance of a wealthy gentleman named Cicero Harrison Case, who was lost overboard from the old Dominion Line steamer Guyandotte on a voyage from South Carolina to New York. Mr. Brierley defended himself and made an eloquent defence. The judge charged strongly in favor of defendant. After being out a considerable time the jury returned a verdict of $1 and costs for plaintiff. It is understood the verdict was a compromise one, seven of the jurors being strongly in favor of a verdict for defence.

Result of Fooling With a Gun.

BRAMPTON, Ont., Oct. 11.—Herb Joyce, a boy about 18 employed in the Banner office, shot his brother Will, a lad a year or two younger, with a shot gun. The whole charge struck the boy square in the face at not more than twenty foot range, and the only wonder is that he was not instantly killed. He was taken to Toronto hospital. It appears the youths were alone when Will playfully told his brother to point the gun at him and see if it was loaded, which was done, and Herbert found to his sorrow it was loaded and he is now almost wild with grief at his rash act.

Railway Accident in Quebec.

QUEBEC, Oct. 11.—A railway accident occurred on the Q., M. and C. railway yesterday. It was caused by a couple of cows running across the construction train. Six men were thrown off the platform and the train was derailed. This occurred between Grand Riviere and Cape Tourmente. George Desbien and Louis Lessard were killed instantly. Four men were seriously injured. One of them named Lambert had his left leg cut off and his left arm almost severed. He will die. The others received more or less bodily injuries and one or two are in a critical condition.

A Chicago Absconder on Trial.

HAMILTON, Oct. 11.—Cornelius Murphy, who was arrested here on a warrant charging him with passing forged paper to the value of $1,360 on the First National Bank in Chicago in September last, was brought before Judge Muir yesterday and remanded for eight days. Murphy says he will fight extradition, and has secured Frank Fitzgerald as his counsel. The prisoner has been here about three weeks living with relatives, and during this time he has been watched by a Pinkerton detective also named Murphy.

A Missing Man's Body Found.

TORONTO, Oct. 11.—The body of Robert Irving, 37 Gladstone avenue, who has been missing for over three weeks, has been found on the lake shore, opposite the Exhibition Park. Deceased wandered from his son's home. A search was made. The police were notified, but were unable to to trace the missing man. Robert Irving, the son, has not been slack in his endeavors to find his missing parent. Deceased was about fifty years of age.

Cleaning Out the Detroit River.

AMHERSTBURG, Ont., Oct. 11.—The Dominion dredge Ontario has removed several large boulders from the Detroit river, 120 feet out from the docks. One of them is nine feet by six by four feet. These are the rocks on which the Calumet damaged her forefoot, which caused her loss four years ago on Lake Michigan and the place where the A. A. Parker struck last fall. Another big boulder has been located and will be removed at once.

Conductors' Case Adjourned.

MONTREAL, Oct. 11.—The enquete into the case of the Grand Trunk conductors charged with defrauding the company has been adjourned. At the afternoon's session Richard Wallace, of Toronto, testified that he had bought a ticket from Montreal to Toronto, in Montreal, from Lewis, the Queen's hotel porter, for $5.

The Australian Ministry's Policy.

MELBOURNE, Oct. 11.—Premier Turner has issued a manifesto concerning the new ministry's policy. He pledges himself to the principle of "One adult—one vote," and promises a royal commission to consider the question of founding a state bank of Victoria. He will produce in Parliament bills providing for the taxation of unimproved land and absentee landlords, and will propose a temporary income tax to be paid by persons whose incomes are not otherwise taxed. He will support imperial federation.

Lived on Pemican Ten Years Old.

CHRISTIANA, Oct. 11.—An interview with Astrup, one of the members of Lieut. Peary's Arctic exploration party, is published in the Morgenbladt. Astrup was respectful in speaking of Peary, but spoke with some reservation. Among the many things he said was that the pemican comprised in the stores of the expedition was spoiled and unfit to eat. It was more than ten years old, he said, having been made for the Greely expedition.

Engines for a Brazil Railway.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Twenty-five engines, more or less dismembered, arrived at Jersey City on twenty-eight cars over the Erie road from Dunkirk, for the new South American republic, Brazil. The twenty-five engines were part of the order of sixty engines placed with the Brooks Locomotive Works, Dunkirk, for the Central railway of Brazil.

Norwegian Elections.

CHRISTIANIA, Oct. 11.—The Norwegian elections by delegates from the constituencies have begun in several districts. Most members of the late government have been returned. Steen, ex-minister and a most pronounced separatist, has been elected in Kongsberg.

Dust Explosion in a Mine.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 11.—A special from Newcastle, Wash., says: A dust explosion occurred in breast 35 of the fifth level of the Oregon Improvement Co's. mine yesterday, with the result that one miner is dead and 10 are seriously burned, two probably fatally.

THREE RIVERS, Que., Oct. 10.—Mr. John Rennie, engineer of the Laurentian pulp mills, Grand Mere, was accidentally drowned in the St. Maurice river at that place yesterday.

Brampton Gas House Burned.

BRAMPTON, Oct. 10.—The gas house was gutted by fire and work cannot be resumed for several weeks. The first gas was being made since spring. The loss is not heavy.

THE RULING MARKETS.

TORONTO, Oct. 11, 1894.

Buffalo markets report Canada barley flat. Malsters as a rule say they will wait a few weeks before taking hold.

On the street here 300 bushels of wheat sold at 53c for white and 51c for red; 800 of barley at 44 to 48c; 150 of peas at 57 to 58c and 500 of oats at 31 to 31 1-2c. Outside prices were firm, but not any higher.

Wheat was dull in Chicago, traders not caring to take any chances on the government report. Corn was weak. Oats were bearish in tone, but closed unchanged.

At the East Buffalo live stock market of the 10 1-2 cars Canadas offered all were sold, a few lots of the best bringing $4.25, a little better price than has prevailed for a week back. Some very good sold at $4.15 and fairly good at $4 to $4.10, with common at $3.75 to $3.90.

In London the Jewish holiday and the miserable weather caused an idle day. Americans were flat. At the close they were slightly above the worst. South Americans were firm.

There was little in the New York stock market to merit comment. Nearly all the movements in securities were of insignificant proportions and largely governed by the "turns" of petty speculators.

HOUSE DECORATING SEASON

Greatest Wall Paper Values Ever Shown

We ask you to investigate the claims we have made for some time past, that we are selling Wall Papers, Window Shades, Cornice Poles and Room Moulding, of all grades, at the Lowest Prices that have ever been quoted. We know our claims are well founded, and as house cleaning, or rather HOUSE DECORATING, season again comes round, we ask you to let us convince you of the fact.

The majority of homes are re-papered and decorated during the fall months in preparation and anticipation of the many duties which devolve upon you during the long social winter season. This is the time when one lives indoors and enjoys interior decorations.

Householders, paper hangers, everyone, will save money by buying their decorations at

ROBERT HALL.

Seasonable and Opportune.

Always forearmed for all the shopping demands of our customers—this store is never behind—the right goods at the right time and at the right prices. October suggest the need of such things as

Underwear, Hosiery and Gloves.

We have too many kinds to attempt any detail, but in addition to the BEST makes in underwear we carry a full line of the celebrated "Health Brand" in all sizes and combinations.

Blankets and Bed Comforters.

The buying of these lines was done with extreme care, as we have an exacting constituency to chose for, who are wide awake judges of qualities and prices. The stock is right and the values correspond.

Along with these we would also mention our new fall selected Shawls, in many sizes, qualities and shapes—very exclusive—and from makers who warrant their goods.

Millinery and Mantles.

Style is everything in these lines. You don't want a last years' hat, or bonnet, or jacket, at any cost, and you won't find one here. You don't even want this season's unless the style is distinctive, and that is just where we excel.

We continue to show full range in all the newest novelties in Dress Goods.

An Inviting Programme.

A concert, under the auspices of the Ladies Aid, will be held in St. John's South Ward Mission, on Thursday evening, October 11th. The entertainment will consist of a scarf drill by eight little girls and a choice programme of vocal and instrumental music. Admission, fifteen cents.

Remember—Don't Forget.

Tuesday evening, Oct 16th, is the date of the Eva N. Roblin concert in the opera house. On this occasion a splendid programme will be presented by Miss Eva N. Roblin, the celebrated Canadian soprano, who has won such distinct triumphs in both Canada and England; and by Miss Lilian Burns, the noted Delsarte elocutionist, and by Master Wilfred LaRue, the wonderful boy cornetist. Don't forget the date nor the fact that the seat plan at the Peterborough Bookstore is rapidly filling up. Admission 25 and 35 cents.

Return Better Than Ever.

Guy Bros. Minstrels appear in the opera house here on Friday evening next and those who can enjoy a night's fun combined with clever specialties should not miss this performance. The Guy Bros. have been seen here before, and they come again with new specialties, brighter and newer than ever. The show throughout will be refined and some excellent singing will be heard, as well as splendid orchestra music by their own musicians. Don't miss Guy Bros. or you will miss a good thing. Prices 25c., 35c. and 50c. Plan now open at the Street Railway office. 1

The Late Mrs Samuel McKee.

The many friends of Mr. Samuel McKee, a former resident of Peterborough, but of late years a prosperous merchant of Listowel, will learn with regret of the death of his wife, which took place at Listowel on Wednesday, Oct. 10th. The deceased lady was the second daughter of the late Wm. Lang, of Lindsay, and was very highly respected both in her former and her late home. She leaves behind her a husband and two daughters 19 and 17 years respectively—to mourn her loss. The body will be brought to Peterborough for interment, arriving on the midnight express to-morrow. The funeral will take place from the residence of Mr. McKee's sister, Mrs. H. Bradburn, 227 Dublin street, on Sunday at 2 o'clock p.m. to the Little Lake cemetery.

Saturday Night's Attraction.

What the Ottawa Journal says: "It was 'awfully' funny. Hilliard's 'Nominee' at the Grand last night made a great hit. It was funny. It was superlatively funny. It was 'out of sight.' So said everyone who saw the 'Nominee' at the opera house last evening. There was a good house and there was not a single person in the audience who was not sore laughing before the first act was half through. If the first act was funny the other two were funnier. It was a case of funny, funnier, funniest. The last act capped the climax, and people almost rolled off their seats laughing. The fun never lagged. Every half minute there was a fresh explosion of laughter. The plot was a clever one, and every member of the company was an artist, almost a star. Hilliard was fine but so was his support. The aggregation was a tip-top one in every way. No better pleased audience ever left the opera house than that of last night." Mr. Hilliard appears at the Opera House here on Saturday next. Seats on sale at usual place.

MESSRS. BURNHAM AND STEVENSON AT OTTAWA.

They Have an Interview with the Government—Drill Shed, Trent Valley Canal, Military School and Post Office Matters Discussed.

Yesterday Mr. John Burnham, M. P., and Mr. James Stevenson, M.P., were in Ottawa and had a chat with the Government respecting several matters of public interest, the subjects being Peterborough's claim to being a site for the Military School, the drill shed matter, the Trent Valley Canal, and the post office, which were the subjects of some pretty plain representation to the Government.

A promise was extracted from the Government to take the claims of Peterborough to the Military School into serious consideration.

As to the Trent Valley Canal, it is understood that all the contracts under present survey will be let during the coming month.

Attention of a practical character was promised for the required improvements at the drill shed.

As to the post office matter it was decided to have the post office hereafter kept open till seven o'clock in the evening.

Several other matters which are not necessarily for publication, but evidently relating to the proximity or remoteness of the general elections, were also discussed.

A FAIR OTONABEE BRIDE.

The Sanderson—Hazlitt Nuptials Took Place Last Night.

The marriage of Mr. Francis Sanderson, who lives a couple of miles out of town on the Mud Lake road, and Miss Agnes Hazlitt, daughter of Mr. John Hazlitt, of Otonabee, was solemnized, last evening, at seven o'clock at the residence of the bride's father. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Torrance, of St. Paul's church, before a numerous assemblage of the relatives of the bridal couple.

The bride was assisted by her sister, Miss Minnie Hazlitt, and Mr. James Connal, town, performed the same office for the groom. The bride is well known in town as for some years she has spent the greater portion of her time at the residence of her uncle, Mr. T. G. Hazlitt, London and Water streets.

At the conclusion of the ceremony an adjournment to the dining room was made where the guests were invited to remain and partake of an inviting repast.

Some very handsome presents were received.

ANOTHER OCTOBER WEDDING.

"The Cedars" the Scene of an Interesting Event.

A pretty wedding took place at "The Cedars," Otonabee, last evening, when Mr. John Davidson, of Smith township, and Miss Minnie Wilson, daughter of Mr. James Wilson, late C. P. R. Supt. of Construction, Manitoba, was solemnized.

Rev. H. Symonds, M. A., rector of St. Luke's church, Ashburnham, assisted by Rev. C. W. Hedley, B. A., of St. Mark's church, Otonabee, performed the interesting ceremony, before a number of the most intimate friends and relatives of the parties most interested.

Mr. Davidson, who is a prosperous young farmer, of Smith, is well known in Peterborough, where he has many friends.

THE STORY OF HIS LIFE.

A Successful Meeting Held by the Emerald Trio.

The Ashburnham town hall was again crowded to suffocation last night with a large gathering anxious to hear Mr. J. Parsons Smith tell the story of his life and the many incidents connected therewith. The lecturer held the attention of his hearers for nearly an hour as he described the ups and downs of his early career, his life in the prize ring and his conversion. The singing, as usual, was one of the features of the evening. This evening a song service will be held and the programme to be presented will be a first-class one. Mr. J. W. Millar, cornetist, and Mrs. Kerneghan, vocalist, will assist in the programme. To-morrow night a lime light exhibition will be given.

NEWS NUGGETS.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—A charge was preferred against a citizen this morning in the police court of not sending his children to school. The defendant did not appear and the case has been laid over until Monday.

—A young man was fined $10 and costs this morning, at the police court, for enclosing a letter in a package which was sent through the mails, representing to only contain a photograph.

—On the return trip from the Lakefield canoe races on Friday next, the G.T.R. will hold the train until 4.15 p.m., so as to give those from Peterborough an opportunity of taking in the races and returning at an early hour.

—Officer McGinty arrested a feeble minded girl from Cobourg, on the streets, this morning. She pleaded guilty to a charge of vagrancy and has been remanded until Monday, by the police magistrate. The girl has been "wanted" by the police for some three weeks, as for about that period she has been hanging around the vicinity of the quarry and holding nightly revels with some of the "wild young bloods" of the town. A number of summons have been issued and some score of citizens well known to the public will figure in the case in a manner more conspicuous than agreeable to themselves.

A HOUSEWARMING AT THE STEWART SETTLEMENT.

An Evening of Jollity and Merriment Thoroughly Enjoyed.

A party of fifty or sixty young people drove down to the Stewart settlement, in Otonabee, last evening, upon the invitation of Mr. George Stewart, who placed his new house at their disposal ere he had his carpets put down for the winter.

Mrs. Metheral chaperoned the party down from town and the guests were welcomed at their destination by Mr. Stewart himself, who, it is rumored, will soon bring a fair mistress to his new residence. Mr. and Mrs. John Stewart and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stewart assisted the host in his duties.

Although the party was not of the "surprise" order in one sense, yet it was in another, as Miss Cassie Stewart, sister of the host, who has been visiting friends in Rochester for some months, drove down with the party and arrived at home unexpectedly.

Two busses and eight single rigs conveyed the invited guests to their destination and one of the merriest of evenings was spent. Dancing was kept up with undiminished zest until early this morning, the Butcher orchestra, from town furnishing the music. Two of the rooms were devoted to the trippers of the light fantastic, while in a third, the more staid members of the party indulged their propensities for a quiet game of cards.

All went merry as a marriage bell until the hour for departure came, and then there was wailing and gnashing of teeth, for some mischieviously inclined persons had visited the stables during the evening and played a few practical jokes which would have cost them dear had they been caught in the act. Besides a few changes made in the position of the vehicles, etc., one buggy appeared to have vanished altogether, as well as the pole and neck-yoke belonging to one of the busses.

A vehicle was borrowed from Mr. Stewart to enable the owners of the missing buggy to proceed homewards, and after a prolonged search the other lost articles were found hidden in a fence corner, and the last load of young people were enabled to depart homewards, after due thanks had been extended to Mr. Stewart for the kindness extended.

The missing buggy was found awaiting a claimant in the centre of a field on Mr. Stewart's farm this morning.

Among those present at the housewarming were: Mr. and Mrs. W. Metherall, Mr. and Mrs. John Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stewart, and Misses Aggie Downer, Ada Fraser, Lillie and Maud Mowry, Edith McKee, Lottie Morgan, Katie Simons, Mabel Metheral, Ida Cook, Minnie and Maud Jones, Clara Clegg, Cassie Stewart, L. Johnston, Bertha Sperry, C. Redmond, Lizzie Mahoney, Laura and Emma Lane, Misses Colthart, Millie Thorne, Addie and Mary Scott and Miss Nethercutt.

Messrs. John Smith, Scott Laing, Wm. McClelland, Walter Phelan, Robert Fife, E. Wasson, Harry Donnelly, Thomas Connal, Ed. Cox, Theo. McWilliams, Fred Jones, Wm. Thompson, Ed. Lackie, A. Jobe, Dickson Davidson, Wm. Bletcher, John Gemmell, John Allan.

IT SIMMERED DOWN TO AN ASSAULT CASE.

The Prisoner Sentenced to Three Months in the County Gaol.

George Nicholson, the Belleville stonecutter, who has been held since Tuesday last, on a charge of assaulting and attempting to commit rape on Miss Kennedy, sister of Mr. Martin Kennedy, of the American House, was this morning sentenced to three months in jail by the magistrate. The prisoner was committed on the charge of assaulting Miss Kennedy, the latter part of the information being quashed.

No evidence other than that which appeared in the EXAMINER was adduced at the trial and the prosecution failed to prove that a rape was attempted. Mr. E. B. Stone for the defence was unsuccessful in proving that beyond all doubt Nicholson was very much under the influence of liquor when admitted to the hotel, and that he had obtained more liquor before being shown to his room. The fact of Nicholson's taking a light with him when he went into Miss Kennedy's room was a mitigating circumstance of no inconsiderable weight.

Mr. R. E. Wood conducted the case for the crown.

ATTEMPTED TO ESCAPE.

The Man Who Picked David Doig's Pocket Tries to Get Away.

The gaol officials are considerably excited over the finding of a portion of a wooden key and an ugly weapon in the shape of a portion of an iron bedstead in the cell lately occupied by Thomas, the convicted pickpocket, who has been sentenced to serve two years in the Central Prison. Fortunately the man was placed in a different cell after his last trip to the Police Court, and was thereby unable to put into effect the plan of escape, which he had evidently formulated.

RESULT OF THE CROSS-COUNTRY RUN.

A Very Exciting Race—F. McPherson, a Dark Horse, Captures First Place—B. Simpson a Good Second.

For the past few days the boys of the Collegiate Institute have been anxiously looking forward to the hour appointed for the start of the cross-country run. It was thought best to have this race run off on Wednesday afternoon, so as not to overtax the energies of those entered in the various contests of Friday. Judging from the time in which the race was run, a good deal of sprinting on the quiet, along the back streets, during the past few days, must have been done by several of the runners.

There was much speculation as to the probable winner. Each contestant had his admirers, but the knowing ones picked Simpson and Bell as the runners most likely to finish first. The talent, however, overlooked McPherson, the dark horse of the freshman class, who secured first place. The start was made from the enclosure in front of the Collegiate Institute and was witnessed by about 400 pupils and other interested persons. There were 13 entries in all and precisely at seventeen minutes past four starter Drope dropped the flag and the race commenced. Across the park they sped on their way to the Hunter street bridge where Messrs. O'Brien and Kennedy were stationed to see that the proper course was taken. Simpson was in the lead in crossing the bridge and Bell was at his heels with the rest in close pursuit. On reaching Ashburnham "the noble thirteen" headed north for the Smith street bridge, keeping near the river, along the raceway.

Their progress was eagerly watched by hundreds of their fellow pupils who had taken up a position on the hill near the Court House, where a good view of their course along the east bank of the river was obtained. As the racers neared the Smith street bridge the line became more lengthened, and those in the rear showed signs of distress and began to drop away behind reflecting on the vanity of racing in general and of the insufficiency of their lung capacity in particular.

The bridge was reached at 4.25, just 8 minutes from the start. Principal Fessenden and Messrs. Fife and Jeffries had been stationed there as scouts, to act as good Samaritans, in case any should fall by the wayside, but the services of the ambulance corps were not needed. Simpson, Bell and Anderson crossed the bridge in a bunch McPherson was about five seconds behind, and the rest came along at irregular intervals. As they left the bridge they started on the home stretch, and it was indeed a beautiful finish. As McPherson began to creep up slowly upon the three ahead of him the pace grew hotter and hotter, which began to tell upon the leaders. McPherson slowly but surely forged ahead, and putting forth all his reserve energy, reached the starting point at 4.30, two seconds ahead of Simpson who finished second, Anderson a few seconds later came third, and Bell was a good fourth. Edward Simpson finished fifth, and H. Carleton (the Tom Thumb of the party) was sixth. These were the only ones who obtained prizes. Two of the others finished, namely Kennedy and McFadden, whilst the rest gave up in despair.

The half-mile race takes place this afternoon on the P.A.A.A. grounds, and other events will take place on Friday afternoon, commencing at 2 o'clock.

MAGISTRATE DUMBLE SAYS THE BYLAW IS BAD.

LIQUOR CASES DISMISSED.

There is no Authority given by Statute to Enact that "No person Engaged or Employed in and about any Other Business Shall While so Employed be Engaged about the Sale of Liquor in Such Licensed Shop."

Judgment was delivered this morning by Police Magistrate Dumble regarding the charges of violation of the "liquor by-laws" preferred by the Chief of Police against the firms of Henry Bros. and Mr. Alex. Elliott.

The charges against both firms were dismissed on the same grounds. Mr. R. M. Dennistoun appeared for Henry Bros., Mr. A. P. Poussette for A. Elliott, and Mr. E. B. Edwards for the prosecution.

The judgments being almost identical that of the Henry Bros.' case alone is published:

ROZZEL VS. HENRY BROS.

The defendants herein are charged for that they, on Saturday, the 2nd day of Sept., 1894, being keepers of a shop, licensed under the Liquor License Act, did not confine the business of the shop solely to the keeping and selling of liquor.

And did not carry the same on in premises wholly separate and distinct from the premises in which other business, namely, the sale of groceries, is carried on, as required by bylaws number 703 and 704 of the town of Peterborough.

Section 33, of the Liquor License Act, empowers the town council to pass a bylaw before 1st of April, in any year, requiring the shopkeeper, who gets a license, "to confine the business of his shop solely and exclusively to the selling of liquor, or may impose any restrictions upon the mode of carrying on such traffic."

Section 33 provides that no shop license to sell liquors in any store, shop, place or premises where groceries or other merchandise are sold or exposed for sale other than mineral waters, shall be granted.

Sub. section 2 of that section provides for voiding the license if any other commodity or goods are sold or exposed for sale, &c., therein. Sub. section 4 provides that after 1st May, 1898, no shop license shall be granted to any person to sell liquors in any store, place or premises where groceries or other merchandise are sold or exposed for sale or in any store, place or premises connected by any internal communication with first mentioned store, shop, place or premises.

Section 74 provides that every person who makes or uses or allows to be made or used any internal communication between any licensed shop or any store, shop, place or premises where groceries or other merchandise are sold shall be liable to a penalty of not less than $10, and not exceeding $50 for every day during which such communication remains open.

Section 75 enacts that where the Council has by by-law required licensed shop-keepers to confine the business of their shops so licensed solely and exclusively to the keeping and selling of liquor any person who makes or uses or allows to be made or used any internal communication between such licensed premises and any shop or premises in which other goods are sold shall be liable to a penalty of not less than $20 and not exceeding $50 for every day or part of a day upon which such communication remains open.

It is quite evident from these sections that the Legislature intended not only to prevent grocers from selling liquor, but that the shop where liquor was sold should be devoted exclusively to the sale of liquor. And that such last mentioned shop should not be connected by internal communication with any shop where groceries or other goods are sold.

It will be remembered that until the passing of this act grocers commonly sold liquor.

Now the bylaw No. 703 enacts let "that "every shopkeeper in the town licensed under "the Act shall be required to confine the business of the shop solely to the keeping and selling of liquor"; 2ndly "and to carry the same "on in premises wholly separate and distinct "from the premises in which any other business is carried on." And then it enacts "that the person or persons carrying on or "managing such business, and all clerks or "employees engaged therein shall be employed "solely in and about such business under the "said Act, and no person engaged or employed "in or about any other business shall while so "employed be engaged or employed about the "sale of liquor in such licensed shop."

We think there are here two charges—one that the defendant did not confine the business of the shop solely to the keeping and selling of liquor on that 21nd day of September.

On this charge there is no evidence that the defendants in the shop which was separate for their liquor business did on that day not confine the business to the keeping and sale of liquor.

There is evidence that a clerk in a adjoining grocery went by a front door into the liquor shop and got for a customer a bottle of something which was not proved to contain liquor. The customer asked for ale and got a bottle wrapped up which he never opened or examined. A bottle was produced in court labelled "English Hop Ale," but it was not identified as the one got in the grocery nor were the contents proved to be ale—if then this is a distinct charge, it is not proved.

If the second part of the information should be read as a separate charge then there are two in the same information which make it bad. But if the second part should be read with the first simply as a recital under Sec. 74, then it is objected that the bylaw is bad. The bylaw enacts that the premises shall be wholly separate and distinct from the premises in which any other business is carried on and it further makes provisions as to the persons engaged or employed in the business and goes, in my opinion, far beyond the authority of the Statute, for the separation called for by the Statute is only from places where groceries, goods or merchandise are sold. And there is no authority given by Statute to enact that "no person engaged or employed in and about any other "business shall while so employed be engaged "or employed about the sale of liquor in such "licensed shop."

I certainly think the bylaw is bad, but I need not dispose of this case on that ground, for if the information is anything it is one alleging that there was not a compliance with sub Sec. 75, prohibiting internal communication between the liquor shop and the grocery, and on this charge there is no evidence to sustain it. The only evidence on the point is that of Inspector Cochrane, who says the premises comply with the requirements of the Act and are quite satisfactory.

The Clerk Matchke was called and says that "we do sometimes sell liquor in the grocery shop," that under the Act is declared to be selling liquor without a license, but it is not the charge in this case, and no amendment has been asked for.

The charge is dismissed.

COLONIES SHOULD ASSIST.

They Should Take Part in the Defence of Coaling Stations.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—The Morning Post publishes a leader on "British naval movements in the east." In its discussion of imperial defence it says:

"The colonies hold aloof from Great Britain and are content to look on while the Mother Country pays premiums for their assurance policies. The time has come for a change. We would not do the colonies the injustice of supposing they would refuse to share the expense of the navy's coaling stations if they were asked, but we are surprised that not a single colony has offered to do so. This being so, imperial authority must take the initiative. It is clearly the duty of the Government to summon a conference of delegates from Australia, Canada and the Cape to discuss with the War Office and Admiralty some partnership scheme having a sound commercial basis."

Catholic Archbishops in Session.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 11.—The annual conference of the Archbishops of the United States, at which several questions of much importance to the Catholic Church in America are to be settled, is going on here at the residence of Archbishop Ryan. The conference is secret and but little could be learned of the result. Archbishop Ryan said that very little of public importance had come up and that the time had been mostly taken up in discussing matters of discipline. When asked what action had been taken upon the question of recognizing the Hibernian society, the Archbishop said: "We have decided to recognize the Ancient Order of Hibernians, that is the American order, as a most admirable society."

Suicide of a British Consul.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—The foreign office was the scene of a tragedy which created great excitement within the precincts of that department. P. Foley, the precis writer of the foreign department. Suddenly he drew a revolver and, before Mr. Foley could interfere, he shot himself in the head and fell to the floor, dying in a few minutes. Mr. Henderson's motive for taking his life is unknown.

THE DOMINIQUE.

Might Have Been Popular But for the Plymouth Rock.

The American Dominique is the oldest of strictly American breeds, says the poultry authority H. S. Babcock in American Agriculturist. It is a good example of what can be done by selection with a definite end in view. Its pedigree terminates, as one traces it backward to the source, in the common "hawk-colored" barnyard fowl, sprung from no one knows what, the result of promiscuous breeding. In its early history Dominiques had both single and rose combs, and it is altogether probable that the single combed birds were one of the progenitors of the Barred Plymouth Rock, though that excellent breed doubtless had a multiple origin. But finally the rose-combed birds supplanted the single combed ones, just as the pea-combed Brahmas supplanted those with a single comb. By constantly selecting rose-combed fowls with a barred plumage and those that had the largest size, the Dominique gradually shaped itself into a distinctive breed. No one knows, or if he does he maintains a mysterious silence, who has the honor of originating this breed. It seems to have been like Topsy, and just "growed." The Dominique has an excellent shape. It is not like that of the Plymouth Rock, but is longer in body and fuller in tail, and suggests both the Dorking and the Hamburg. Most persons are apt to be careless observers, and even some who pose as experts seem to be ignorant of the true type of a Dominique. Hence we sometimes see birds winning prizes that are, in reality, more like Plymouth Rock than Dominiques, and perhaps were produced by crossing the two breeds. Indeed at one exhibition held a few years ago a prominent exhibitor confessed that he put the two breeds together, and those that come with rose combs he exhibited as Dominiques, while those with single combs were named Plymouth Rocks. These birds were not successful winners at this exhibition, because the judge was a real expert and detected the cross. Their shape is an admirable one for a general purpose fowl, as it indicates good laying qualities with table properties of no mean order, and, in fact, the Dominique is an excellent layer and makes really good poultry.

To a fancier, the Dominique needs much improvement. The comb is not so neat as he could wish, though this feature has greatly improved in the past ten years. There are not nearly so many outrageous combs, great shapeless masses of flesh, as there used to be, and in some strains the combs are getting to be really handsome. The plumage, however, is the most defective point in the fowl. It is described in the American Standard of Perfection in precisely the same words as are used in describing the plumage of the Barred Plymouth Rock. It ought to be just like that of the Barred Plymouth Rock, but it is not. The hens are too dard and have a "muddy" look. The beauty of a barred plumage consists in having the alternate black and white bars clearly defined and stand out distinctly upon the fowls. This can be attained only by having the light bars wider than the dark ones, and having the latter narrow. There seems to be no reason, if the same skill were used in breeding Dominiques as has been employed in breeding Barred Plymouth Rocks, why the Dominique should not have as beautiful a dress as its descendant. But the fact is to-day it has not. To a man who keeps fowls for profit these matters are of little moment, and a farmer, unless he also be a fancier, as some farmers are, will not be deterred from keeping Dominiques because of the lack of these nice points. The Dominique is not a very popular fowl, despite its great value as a practical, every day, useful breed. This want of popularity is probably due to two things: first, the defects which have been indicated, and which breeders have neglected to remedy, and, second, the smaller size of the fowl compared with that of its newest rival, the Barred Plymouth Rock. Americans like large fowls. Even if it could be demonstrated that there was just as much profit in raising a small fowl as in raising a large one, the large fowl would have the greater popularity. Yet we must not forget that size is a quality that can be obtained. The American Dominique is a much larger fowl than were its ancestors, and one breeder informs me that his fowls are constantly increasing in size, and that he had last season a cock which weighed nine pounds. In a few years, with careful selection, early hatching and breeding only from matured birds, the Dominique could probably be bred to a size which would closely approximate that of the Plymouth Rock. It is doubtful, however, whether it can ever hope to obtain the popularity that the Plymouth Rock possesses. The latter fowl has such a strong hold upon the public that it would take a great deal to shake it, and inasmuch as the practical qualities of these two breeds are so very similar, it is not probable that the Dominique will ever supplant the Plymouth Rock.

A Recipe for Tartlets.

Mix four ounces of fine sugar and four ounces of ground almonds into a stiff paste with the yolks of two eggs; roll it out about a quarter of an inch thick, cut into rounds with a fluted pastry cutter and line some small tartlet tins with them. Fry them in a cool oven for some hours, remove and leave them to get cold and firm. Then detach them carefully from the molds, dust over with pounded sugar and fill with any fruit and cream prepared as follows: Put a pound of the chosen fruit into a basin with four ounces of sugar and a teaspoonful of maraschino, let them stand for an hour, then mix carefully and lightly with a gill and a half of whipped cream. Dish the tartlets on a napkin or fancy dessert paper.

INGERSOLL, Oct. 8.—W. H. Bailey of West Oxford township, claims to have only narrowly escaped premature burial a short time ago. He had had kidney disease for four years back and so badly at times that he was completely laid up. Many doctors treated him, but their treatment, in Mr. Bailey's opinion, made him worse rather than better. His escape from a premature grave was affected by the use of the infallible Dodd's Kidney Pills. Three boxes of these cured completely. "Among the many testimonials which I see in regard to certain medicines performing cures, cleansing the blood, etc., none impress me more than my own case. Twenty years ago, at the age of 18 years, I had swellings come on my legs, which broke and became running sores. Our family physician could do me no good, and it was feared that the bones would be affected. At last, my good old to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I took three bottles, the sores healed, and I have not been troubled since. Only the scars remain, and the memory of the past, to remind me of the good Ayer's Sarsaparilla has done me. I now weigh two hundred and twenty pounds, and am in the best of health. I have been on the road for the past twelve years, have noticed Ayer's Sarsaparilla advertised in all parts of the United States, and always take pleasure in telling what good it did for me."

MY INCUBATOR.

Valuable Hints in Running It By One Who Has Experimented.

Incubators are not automatic in their operations so that with the best of them the inexperienced are liable to fail of success. For this reason there has been much complaint made against the manufacturers, and not always without abundant cause. Many people have purchased incubators on guarantees which have not been made good and yet in many cases the fault in the main lies with the purchasers. In their inexperience and bad judgment in the management, a writer in the Practical Farmer says: I think I promised to tell my experience with a 120 egg size incubator, and as I always like to make my promises good, here I am. I put my first eggs in the incubator the 4th of January, 1894, regulating the heat at 103 degrees by means of a regulator attached to the incubator. The seventh day I inserted the moisture pans as I was directed, but only got twenty chicks for all my pains and trouble taken with them. But, not discouraged, I filled it the second time and, thinking perhaps I had not moisture enough the first time, I inserted the moisture pans the fifth day, adding water as it evaporated, and got ten chicks at the end of twenty-one days. We broke the eggs that were left unhatched and found that two thirds of them had full-grown chicks in them. In fact they had filled the egg so full they had not room to turn around and pick out. Now remember, please, that I followed the directions given with the incubator, in regard to heat and moisture, and also turning them night and morning with the egg-shifting frame. My neighbors all laughed at me for wasting time and eggs, and eggs at a good price, too; but I let them laugh—for I did not feel much like laughing myself—and went to work to get eggs to set my "old hen" the third time. But I didn't follow printed directions this time, but the old hen method. I kept the heat the same at 103 degrees, but instead of turning them with the frame, I took the egg tray out morning and evening, letting them cool while I turned each egg by hand, and did not put in the moisture pans until the twelfth day. Result, fifty-nine chicks, all as fine and healthy as could be wished for. Breaking the eggs we found a large per cent. had matured too fast, and were unable to pick out and so died.

A little better satisfaction with this batch, I concluded to not put in the moisture pans until the sixteenth day, that is about three days before they pip for when hatched in the incubator they pip the nineteenth day, and by the end of the twentieth are all hatched out. The last week I cooled off the eggs three times a day, leaving the tray out from one half to one hour, and got eighty-four chicks from 120 untested eggs. The fifth and sixth hatches did still better; getting ninety-six the fifth, and 106 the sixth time, and now I have it full of eggs again, and expect a still better hatch. But I did not depend on the incubator all together, but as soon as the hens became broody, I gave them eggs; now have 700 young chicks, all thriving and doing well. And I had such good luck to keep what I hatched out, seldom losing any. The first week I fed them on light bread wet up with sweet milk, with a little boiled egg and chopped onions added and how the little things did grow! My first three hatches are all disposed of now, at twenty-five cents per chicken, and I am commencing to sell the fourth hatch.

I never feed much cornmeal alone, but mix it with two-thirds shorts and wheat bran. There is too much heat in cornmeal alone, and it should never be fed to chicks, if one wishes to keep them in a thriving condition. Besides the other food mentioned, I give them all the clabber milk they will drink, letting them make their own curd. I think the main trouble in hatching in the incubator is too much heat and moisture, causing the little fellows to mature too fast, so as to be unable to turn in the shell when their time comes to free themselves. I think one would be safe in not putting in any moisture until the seventeenth day, and then have the water quite warm, so as to steam the eggs a little, in order to soften the membrane and not the shell.

OTHER LANDS THAN OURS.

Mr. Labouchere carries his radicalism so far as to refrain from giving the readers of his paper any information of the birth of an heir to the throne.

Since he won the derby, Lord Rosebery has also bagged first and second prizes for shorthorn cows, four first and one second for sheep and a first and second prize for pigs.

Sir Edward Burne-Jones confesses that the only one of his paintings which wearied him was his most famous "The Golden Stairs." He declares that he got "so tired of those girls."

The number of reindeer owned by a Laplander in Sweden varies to a considerable degree. The poor may have from three hundred to seven hundred, and the rich Laplander will keep one thousand, and even five thousand.

A collection of eighty thousand stuffed birds will be one of the attractions of a museum now in course of erection at Leyden, Holland. The building will, in size, outrank anything of the kind in the world, except the British museum.

When the hair begins to come out in combing, it shows a weakness of the scalp that calls for immediate attention. The best preparation to arrest further loss of hair and restore the scalp to a healthy condition is Ayer's Hair Vigor.

Signs of worms are variable appetite, itching at the nose, etc. Dr. Low's Worm Syrup is the best worm expeller.

Another Voice From Smith.

SMITH, July 7, 1893.

I was troubled with a nasty pain in the back and shoulders for a long time, and had tried several remedies without getting any relief. I thought at first it might be my lungs, as the doctor's say such pains are symptoms of lung trouble coming on, but I was induced to try a bottle of Membray's Kidney and Liver Cure, for sale at Tully's Drug Store, and after taking the second dose I was surprised to find the pains all leaving me. It acted like magic. I never knew anything that acted so quick on man or beast before.

EXCELLENT CELERY HOE.

A Tool Which Makes Play of What Used to Be Hard Work.

It will soon be time for the operation of "handling" the early celery plants grown in the ordinary way, namely in separate rows. This used to be, and with a majority of growers is yet, a tedious job, to be performed on hands and knees. If people who make so much fuss over the operation could once see the work done as we did in celery fields near Mount Morris, N.Y., where the men used hoes like the one here illustrated, it would dawn upon them that celery can be handled with a small fraction of the effort usually wasted upon it. The tool consists of an old hoe to the blade of which a piece of worn-out cross-cut saw, eighteen inches long, is fastened by rivets as shown. Two men, each provided with one of these hoes, operate on one row, one walking on one side, plying the hoe across the row, the other on the other side. If one man does the work alone, he hills one side first, then going back, the other. The operator standing on one side of the row, sets the hoe (blade in line with row) about eighteen inches or more from it on the other side, and simply draws the loose mucky soil up against the stalks, thus bending them upward, and making them grow upright and compact. It is an easy piece of work in such soils. On our grounds it only works well when the soil is kept very loose and mellow by thorough cultivation.—American Gardening.

The Composite Test.

As it is impossible in large factories to make a test of each patron's milk every day without a great deal of extra expense and labor, the best method to pursue is that of composite sampling. This is done by taking a sample of each patron's milk each morning, say one ounce, and put in a glass jar or scaler along with about 5 or 10 grains (or about what will lie on a ten-cent piece) of bichromate of potash. This quantity is sufficient to keep the milk in a perfectly liquid condition for one or two weeks, at the end of which time the test can be made in the usual way, care being taken, however, to have the cream and milk thoroughly mixed before taking the sample with the pipette. The result will be the average per cent. of fat in all the milk supplied by each patron up to the time of making the test. Then to find the amount of fat which each delivered, multiply the total amount of milk sent by the per cent. of fat and proceed as in the example given above.

In this way tests can be made once every one, two, three or four weeks with equally good results, as samples have been kept for two months and longer which tested as well as when kept only one week, but where convenient, testing every two weeks would perhaps give better satisfaction to the patrons.

Observe carefully the following points:

1. Get a fair representative sample of milk each morning.

2. Shake the sealer or jar with a rotary motion each time a new sample is put in, being careful not to churn the milk.

3. If samples are kept for three or four weeks, use a correspondingly larger quantity of the bichromate.

4. If cream should gather on the samples and become thick so as not to readily mix with the milk, before testing, stand the jars in water for a few minutes, shaking frequently, when the cream will quickly dissolve again.

THE EAST RIDING ANNUAL SUCCESS.

IN SPITE OF UNPROPITIOUS WEATHER.

A Big Day at Norwood—An Excellent Exhibition in all Departments—Live Stock and Roots Especially Good—Large Attendance—Notes of the Exhibits—Increased Entries and Increased Attendance.

The twenty-sixth annual exhibition of the East Riding Agricultural Society was held at Norwood on Tuesday and Wednesday and in spite of the dirty weather was a most gratifying success, the results showing a largely increased list of entries as well of attendance.

The first day was mainly devoted to the placing of exhibits; and, owing to the rain the second day was well advanced before the exhibition was in full swing. The day was dull and lowering and at intervals spiteful spits of rain came down in a dismally deliberate way, but it did not damp the energy of the exhibitors nor deter the attendance of visitors. About the noon hour the rain drove the visitors to shelter and the hotels did a thriving business. Shortly after dinner the weather lightened and the visitors streamed steadily through the turnstiles, and during the afternoon the flow kept up till by actual count there were two thousand visitors on the grounds, which presented an animated appearance. The grounds have been considerably improved. The race track has been put into much better shape, and sundry other improvements have been effected. The white shape of tents rose through the drizzle—the creditable clothing displays of Gough Bros., and Grafton & Co., the tents of some half dozen vendors of made to-order taffy and confectionery, and of the fakirs with the champion fat man, the oriental wonder, and other fakes. The exhibits of agricultural machinery, pumps, fanning mills, etc., were distributed at intervals and the outer walls of the enclosure were lined with the exhibits of

LIVE STOCK.

This department was well represented. There was a good show of good horses, though perhaps this department was hardly up to that of horned stock, sheep, swine and poultry. In blood horses there were only one exhibitor, Messrs. T. Birdsall & Son, with 3 foals of '94, sired by Harry Cooper. Roadsters were exhibited by John Beavis, W. Stillman, F. Bonnycastle, W. Arnott, J. W. Harrison, John Keleher, F. Birdsall & Son, J. B. Ewing, C. H. Curtis, Benj. Cardwell, J. F. Doherty, J. H. Douglass, Jos. Rightmyer, T. F. O'Neil, P. Howard, Jas. Robb, Read Bros. and John Sargent.

General purpose and heavy draught horses were also well represented, there being some fine heavy draught horses. The speeding events are noted elsewhere.

CATTLE.

Jerseys—This beautiful little class was well represented on the grounds. The exhibitors were Robt. Reesor, "Jersey Hurst," Locust Hill, whose collection of 26 animals is noted among the special exhibits to which the interested reader's attention is particularly directed. Messrs. Birdsall & Son had also three fine Jerseys on exhibition. Jas. Keleher had an aged and a yearling bull and heifer, and F. Macklin a bull three years old.

In Holsteins the exhibitors were Wm. Stillman, with a three year old bull, Andrew Cameron, with a 3 years bull and heifer, and Richard Hiney with an aged bull.

Ayrshires, a breed of cattle that is commanding, and deservedly, too, increased attention in the dairy world, were exhibited by John Brackenridge, who showed a bull and two cows; A. Humphries, a bull and three cows, John Harrison a three years bull; J. H. Douglass, two bulls, three heifers, and four calves; H. Humphries, bull, bull calf, two cows, three calves and herd.

Thoroughbred Durhams were represented by Geo. English with three heifers; F. Birdsall & Son, three bull calves, three cows, two heifers and one calf and herd; J. H. Douglass, bull and bull calf; John Knox, milch cow, two heifer calves and bull calf; Gilbert Blezard, aged cow and two years heifer; D. Kelly, milch cow and two bulls; Geo. English, bull and milch cow.

Good grades were exhibited by Messrs. A. VanBlaricom, A. Humphries, A. Cameron, Geo. English, J. H. Douglass, W. Thistlethwaite, Jas. Moore, W. R. Howson, H. Humphries, and Geo. Taylor.

SHEEP.

There was a good showing, especially of the short wool breeds.

In Cotswold, Wm. Stillman showed aged ram, shearling and lamb; Richard Honey, 1 ram and 6 lambs; Leicesters were shown by J. Breckenridge, shearling ram; Andrew Cameron, three rams, three ewes and two lambs; A. R. Kidd & Son good sized flock; David Forsythe, a flock of eight; Alex. Hood, flock of seven; J. H. Douglas, flock of nine and D. Kelly two ewe lambs.

Southdown exhibitors were R. L. Holdsworth & Son, Hope township, a flock of fifteen; A. R. Kidd & Son, with a flock of seven and James Thompson with a shearling ram.

In Oxforddowns, A. Humphries showed a ram and two ewes and F. Birdsall & Son, a flock of thirteen sheep, including an imported ram from noted prize winning stock.

Fat sheep were shown by Wm. Stillman, A. Humphries, Andrew Cameron, J. H. Douglas and Jos. Rightmyer.

SWINE.

This exhibit was noticeable by the prevalence of the new breeds, such as the English market demands.

Improved Yorkshires were shown by John Crosby, a sow; John Wells, a sow; John Breckenridge, boar and three sows; A. R. Kidd & Son, seven months boar; J. H. Douglass, a sow; Richard Honey, two sows and Jas. Keleher, a sow.

Improved Berkshires were shown by R. L. Holdsworth & Son, four boars and four sows; F. Bonnycastle, boar and sow; Jas. Stewart, boar; John Breckenridge, boar and four sows; D. Forsyth, boar; J. B. Ewing, two boars and two sows, and Paul Scott, two boars.

Suffolks were shown by J. A. Saxsmith and R. L. Holdsworth & Son.

In Chester Whites, F. Birdsall & Son with three boars and two sows, and Joseph Rightmyer with a boar and two sows, were the only exhibitors.

Tamworths were represented among the exhibits by J. Brackenridge, two boars, and J. F. Doherty a boar.

The exhibitors of other breeds were Robert Reesor, R. L. Holdsworth & Son, John Wells, F. Bonnycastle, J. Breckenridge, W. G. Paterson, David Forsyth, W. H. Brethen, Jas. Rightmyer, Mrs. Thos. E. Jory, D. Kelly, J. A. Saxsmith and Richard Honey.

POULTRY.

The poultry exhibit was exceptionally large and all the coops contained good specimens. There never was such an elaborate and creditable exhibit of poultry made at any East Riding show.

THE INSIDE EXHIBIT.

This was also quite up to the mark. There was a fine display of the various kinds of grains and seeds. Vegetables were hugely and abundantly in evidence, but it was in roots where the gigantic bulkosity of growth was a marvel. The mangolds, turnips, etc., were of enormous size, and the potatoes in their spheres were no mean competitors. The show of fruit, that is apples, was very fine and extensive.

The ladies made a very creditable showing in their special departments. Butter and dairy products and home made bread loomed up appetisingly; the domestic manufactures, blankets, carpets, flannels, etc., had a warm and homely look. The ladies department, especially that of fancy work, monopolized the whole of the southern wall of the building and was a fine display. It might be mentioned that the pickled and canned fruit table was well filled.

F. Tylor, of Hastings, had a good show of harness in the building.

THE SPEEDING EVENTS.

The speeding in the ring attracted great attention and furnished good sport, though the track was wet and clammy. In the "open trot" the racing was between Billy T. and Princess, the former starting out best, but failed to keep the Princess out. This is the summary:—

OPEN TROT.

J Leonord's (Warkworth), "Princess"	2 1 1
P Cooney's (Burnley), "Burnley"	1 2 3
H Elmhirst's "Billy T"	3 2 2
J Elmhirst's "Ontario Chief"	4 4 4

Best time, 2.43.

The Green Trot also was full of interest. The several heats were without particular interest. Following is the summary:

F Macklin's "Jessie C"	1 1
A Hogg's "Strideway"	2 2
W Stillman's "Honest Tom"	3 3

Best time, 2.58.

Messrs. A. Hogg and W. Stillman protested against the decision of the judges on the ground that Jessie C. was not "green," having taken second place last year.

NOTES.

The gate receipts indicated an attendance of over 2,000 visitors.

The ladies of St. John's English church had a marque upon the grounds, and dispensed excellent meals and light refreshments.

Messrs. Baptie, Job, Hooper and Guy, Peterborough, had made-to-order taffy and fruit and confectionery establishments on the grounds, and drove a brisk trade, and A. McCallum, town, was engaged in a branch of the timber trade.

The wet weather was a boon to the hotels. It is estimated that the Brennan House, between 11 and 2 o'clock supplied 1200 meals meals. The McGregor House was also full of business.

SPECIAL EXHIBITS.

MR. PLANT'S EXHIBIT OF AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.

The name of Mr. W. P. Plant, proprietor of the Norwood foundry, is one of the most familiar in the East Riding of Peterborough. He has been actively engaged in the manufacture of agricultural implements in Norwood for a period extending back into the eighties, and the farming community are indebted to him for some of the best implements and labour saving farm machinery that has been brought into requisition on their farms. Mr. Plant is a practical machinist of first rate mechanical ability, original, inventive, painstaking, and a thorough business man to boot. The splendid display which he made of his own manufactures on the show ground was characteristic of his enterprise and energy. It was by far the best display of the kind that has been seen at any of the society exhibitions held in the county this year, and attracted crowds of farmers to his section. He showed in good style his "Norwood" mower, which was first introduced to the farmers of this section 25 years ago, and as an evidence of its popularity, continues to have the "run" in this part of the country. Its many advantages need scarcely be referred to here, as they are too well known to require reiteration. Its chief points are its durability, its reliability and its simplicity. It is made of malleable iron and steel, is not of the "get-out-of-order" sort, and purchasers have no hesitation in recommending it to their neighbours.

Mr. Plant also showed two new improved Land Rollers, which possess special features that caught the eye of many intelligent farmers, who viewed them. These rollers are made in two separate drums, one kind being made with separate oak frames to each drum, the other with one frame for both drums. The ease with which one drum can move over the obstacle without interfering in the least with the work of the other is made very apparent. The advantages of this style of land roller over the ordinary kind on the market, is creating a large demand for them.

Mr. Plant if not a ploughman himself, knows what sort of an implement a ploughman wants. He showed four patterns of walking ploughs, with different attachments and improvements required for the varying demands of the field. The two steel ploughs, "Norwood No. 1" and "Princess," and the "Combination" plough and "No. 40" are fine specimens, admirably adapted for any description of ploughing, and are known to turn as good a sod as any champion ploughman could fain wish for. There was also shown a set of four drag harrows, wood frame, 8-bull, 4 pieces, for various kinds of work, which were spoken of with approval by men who knew. A well built sulky plough of the "Watford" make, with tempered steel beam, and a turnip sower claimed special attention. The turnip sower shapes the drill, rolls it, sows the seed and rolls it in at the one time. It sows two rows at once, and can be used for any kind of seed with one horse.

A Root Cutter and Pulper and a Straw Cutter were closely inspected by many good judges of both machines and highly commended. The Root Cutter is one of the "always ready" kind; it is fitted with ten knives, and makes a good clean thin slice or a thick square chunk, as desired. The straw cutter is a regular hand guillotine, with double action, and has two knives so keenly set that sheets of thin wrapping paper could be cut as cleanly as with a razor.

Mr. Plant is also an extensive manufacturer of pumps, and showed five different patterns of his own make on the grounds. There were three patterns of wooden pumps with cone heads, called the "Model," designed for both lifting and forcing the water. The "Model" force, with patent valve and hose attachment, is capable of throwing a stream 200 feet, and for fire protection as well as general use can't be beat. The handles of these pumps are adjustable and can be fitted to the pump to any position required in a few minutes. His "Stock" pump is a regular "gusher" for watering stock. It draws a big stream at every motion, and fills a pail in three strokes. There was also shown an iron force pump, for which Mr. Plant is the sole agent, with patent air chamber and attachments for hose—a pretty inside or lawn pump. Mr. Plant's pump business is growing rapidly, his sales averaging almost one for every day of the week.

Mr. Plant is an extensive manufacturer of other implements and machinery in addition to those required on the farm. He showed a common sense pattern of box stove, which finds ready sale; also, a school desk which has received the approval of school boards and others, and is well worthy the attention of all interested in this important necessity for well-fitted schools.

MR. ROBT. REESOR'S HERD OF JERSEYS.

One of the most notable and profitable of the live stock exhibits was that of the splendid thoroughbred herd of Jerseys of Mr. Robert Reesor, of "Jerseyhurst," Locust Hill, Markham, a Jersey breeding farm, whose grand stock and the enterprise of its proprietor have made it well known in stock raising circles throughout the Dominion. Mr. Reesor exhibited at both the Central in Peterborough last month and at the Norwood yesterday. His exhibit at the latter place comprised twenty-six out of the sixty fine animals that comprise the stock of "Jerseyhurst." Mr. Reesor, for purposes of advertisement and to permit farmers and dairymen to inspect the finest specimens in Ontario of the finest breed of dairy animals in the world has shown his Jerseys at all the principal exhibitions. The fatigue and worry of all the long railway journeys in confined box cars, the loss of appetite and of rest do not tend to keep his animals in the sleek exhibition condition desirable, but all this cannot obliterate the points that indicate that his animals are of the best flow of Jersey blood—the celebrated St. Lambert and St. Helier strains. Mr. Reesor has been in the business of breeding Jerseys for fifteen years. His beautiful farm, "Jerseyhurst," is 200 acres in extent and it is entirely given to the breeding of thoroughbred Jerseys. He has not an animal that is not full blooded upon his farm. He bred all his own stock and has a herd of 60 animals, a considerable number of which are for sale at reasonable prices. At a time when grain growing is giving place to dairying, the importance to farmers of having a place like "Jerseyhurst" to purchase from, cannot be denied. For butter purposes, the Jersey is, by long odds, at the head of the list. The Ayrshire is another of our best dairying breeds, and a cross between the Jersey and the Ayrshire produces the typically perfect dairy animal for general purposes, the milking conditions of both, large quantity and excellent quality, being happily combined. As Jerseys are becoming in demand in this county Mr. Reesor's splendid Jersey breeding farm at Locust Hill present splendid opportunities of purchasing exceptionally fine animals with pedigrees and milking qualities that distinguish the beautiful little butter building Jersey. In addition to the profit of the sales of animals Mr. Reesor makes money, not by butter making but by finding ready sale every morning for his cream at chief the hotels and restaurants of Toronto. Jersey milk and Jersey cream have the call, and the Jersey, in an age of increasing dairy competition, is bound, from all its qualities, to be THE dairy cow of the future. Mr. Robert Reesor's address is "Jerseyhurst," Locust Hill P. O., Ont.

GOUGH BROS.

"The Wonderful Cheap Men"—inimitable clothiers—of Peterborough, Belleville and Lindsay, were represented on the grounds in full force. They occupied a tent all to themselves in a prominent position for sight-seers, and had their banners flying and their name attracting the attention of visitors as conspicuous as ever. Farmers showed by their interest in Gough's clothing that they were quite as much concerned, at this season of the year, in good warm clothing at "pulverized" prices, as they were in Jersey cattle, grain or ploughs. It took the shiver out of a man to learn how comfortably he could be clothed for the price of a few pounds of butter, at its present quotation, as he ran his eye over the string of startling price tickets which stood out like seductive baits on Gough Bros. big warm overcoats, ulsters and fur coats. Here were displayed full suits of good Canadian tweed, heavily lined with frost-proof material, and trimmed in a style equal to any leave-your-measure suit. The mystery was how they were made for the prices at which they were marked. It must have convinced the most thrifty, economically inclined house wife, what a waste of energy she expended in trying to save a dollar by making up the old man's or boys' clothes at home. It was an object lesson in labour saving around the domestic fireside of the farm. The suit was there almost at the price the raw material could be bought for at the mill, with the making and trimmings thrown in. The display was effectively handled by Mr. Tyrrell, of the Peterborough branch, and the knack this artist had in showing off clothing to the best advantage, under a tent, entitled him to a diploma.

THE PAGE WIRE FENCE.

Mr. Harry W. Fowlds, of Hastings, had erected on the grounds, a section of the substantial, handy and cheap wire fencing, manufactured by the Page Wire Fence Co., of Walkerville, Ont., and which attracted the attention of many of the farmers. This is not a barbarous barb-wire invention, but a smooth wire fencing that will turn any kind of stock. It is made from the best hard steel wire, coiled around a ¼ inch rod, thus practically becoming coiled springs their entire length. These are securely tied together by 16 cross bars to the rod by the best quality of annealed wire, galvanized. The fence is neat, efficient and cheap. It needs but few posts, only three to the hundred feet. It does not bank snow. It does not break in winter or sag in summer. It does not injure stock. It is chicken proof, pig tight, bull strong and horse high. It is just the fence for farmers, railroads, land owners, gardens, cemeteries, lanes, lawns, yards, etc. For 85c per rod, you can have a fence five feet high that will keep out any kind of stock. All you have to do is to put in your posts, the agent puts up the fence for you without extra charge. It sells on sight. References are made to Squire Breckenridge, near Westwood, and Read Brothers, of Westwood, who have 200 rods erected on their premises, and Mr. Doherty, of the Doherty Hotel, Westwood, where it can also be seen to advantage. Mr. Fowlds is the energetic agent for East Peterborough and Percy.

BELLEVILLE BUSINESS COLLEGE.

Mr. Robt. Bogle, the founder, manager and sole proprietor of the Belleville Business College and Shorthand University, was in attendance near the entrance to the fair ground, representing his growing institution. The share of patronage enjoyed by this college is not confined to Belleville and neighboring counties of Hastings and Prince Edward. It has had amongst it students, representatives from the Maritime provinces, Quebec, Manitoba, British Columbia, the United States, and from 26 different counties in Ontario. It is claimed that this institution has produced a greater number of verbatim short hand writers and court reporters than all the colleges in Canada. It occupies and owns five of the most valuable lots in Belleville, and is not confined to the upper story of a building. Those who desire to become qualified to take positions as book keepers, stenographers, private secretaries, etc., will find the Belleville Business College the place to meet their special requirements. Catalogues are sent to any address, and Mr. Bogle will be pleased to have prospective graduates call and get all the information they require.

GRAFTON & CO'S. DISPLAY.

Messrs. Grafton & Co. of Peterborough, have become one of the most formidable competitors for the ready made clothing trade of this district. They are an aggressive firm, and are tireless in their efforts to push forward their goods. It is claimed that they have been largely instrumental in improving and elevating the standard of ready made clothing, and of producing a superior article at a price 25 per cent. lower than inferior grades of clothing of former years. Grafton & Co. are manufacturers of clothing. The headquarters of the firm is in Dundas, where the goods are all turned out, which supplies the Peterborough branch, as well as a similar branch at Owen Sound. The success which has attended their branch stores—especially the one in Peterborough—has no doubt been largely dependent upon the confidence which the buying public has reposed in the reliable character of their clothing. At all events, no one who saw the large exhibit at this fair could be otherwise than favourably impressed with the rapid growth of Messrs. Grafton & Co's. business in Peterborough. All the leading styles for autumn and winter were fully represented. In men's wear there were overcoats and ulsters in black, browns, meltons, beavers, freize, and foreign and domestic tweeds, all showing good fancy tweed linings and first class fabrics; suits, in cutaway sacks, walking coat suits, business suits, Prince Albert frock coats and vests, in fancy worsteds, black worsted, diagonals, cassimers, tweeds, etc., well finished, and to all appearances equal to tailor made. In boy's and children's suits they are very strong, special efforts being made, it is said, to produce a choice selection, which is designed in taste and manufactured in superior style.

The firm secured a front position as usual on the grounds. The arrangement of the exhibit was skilfully and tastefully executed, and reflected credit on Mr. Armstrong, whose work in this respect, under the direction of Mr. Conway, was complimented by good judges. Mottoes, badges, flags and banners enlivened the general effect, and the pains and care bestowed to make an artistic display was the subject of general remark. Throughout the show grounds the name of Grafton & Co was displayed in the most conspicuous quarters, wherever the eye turned. A large painted sign bearing their name and business formed the front to the judge's stand, where every eye was directed during the afternoon events, and another similar effective bill board was erected where the throng of people mostly congregated. Elsewhere on fences, posts and buildings their poster and hand bills were to be seen, and he must have been a very blind and deaf man who did not hear and see the name of Grafton & Co., clothing manufacturers.

SEAMLESS GARMENT CUTTING.

Mrs. McCaulley, of Peterborough, was allotted a prominent corner in the exhibition building, for demonstrating the De Lamorten system of seamless garment cutting. This was the favourite corner for ladies in the building, and the science of cutting certain garments without seams or darts was eagerly watched during the day. Applicants for learning the system came forward and made their arrangements with Mrs. McCaulley, and Norwood ladies especially were largely interested in the new system.

AS TOLD BY CHINESE

An Official of the Celestial Kingdom Writes an Interesting Letter.

CAUSES LEADING TO THE WAR

Japan's Actions in Corea, it Would Appear, Have Been Extremely High-Handed—Chinese Routed at Wi-Ju—Japan Practically in Control of Corea.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—The first authoritative statement of the Chinese side in the present war with Japan has been given out through the medium of a personal letter received by a gentleman in Washington of international reputation. Chang Yen Hoon, a member of Toung Li Yemen, or Foreign Office, and formerly Minister to the United States, is the writer of the letter, and while it is of a personal character, he asks that it be given to the press. The letter follows:

"PEKIN, China, Aug. 21, 1894.

"MY DEAR FRIEND,—Since I last had the pleasure of writing you the evils of war have fallen upon my country most suddenly. It may be of interest to you to know the exact causes of the unfortunate trouble between this government and the government of Japan, and which may be more correctly reported by me than it is likely to be reported in the papers of America.

"In the month of June last riots of a rebellious character broke out in the southern part of Corea, and as that country is tributary to this government it sought from us military assistance. Accordingly 1,800 troops were despatched by the Viceroy Li to the vicinity of the rebellion, a place named Ya-Shan, about 70 miles from the Corean capital, with no other aim but to suppress the rebels and restore peace to those unfortunate people.

"The Japanese government on hearing of the action of the Imperial government sent immediately large forces, took possession of the Corean capital and fortified themselves in all the important positions."

"When the Chinese troops arrived at Ya-Shan the rebels dispersed and peace was restored. In accordance with a treaty between the two governments that the forces of both countries should immediately withdraw after a riot or rebellion had been suppressed, the Imperial government was about to withdraw its troops but Japan insisted on permanently stationing her military forces in that country. Soon afterwards Japan demanded that certain reforms should be forced on Corea, modifying its laws and asking the Imperial government to renounce all claims over Corea. My government could not consent, for it is not the custom nor do the laws permit that we should control the internal affairs of a tributary country. I need not remind you that history has for years told us that Corea is tributary to this country. And at the time when Corea sent her first representative to Washington, on my call at your state department the Secretary of State did not hesitate to acknowledge that Corea was tributary to the Imperial government and that it was with its consent that she carried on treaties and negotiations with foreign powers.

"As matters were developing into a very dangerous state her Britannic Majesty's minister to this court was good enough to offer his services in the hope that the two nations might solve the question peaceably by arbitration.

"The Imperial government was most willing to act according to the treaty's stipulation between the two countries. On an intimation of her Britannic Majesty's minister that the withdrawal of troops of both would assist in a speedy arrangement we expressed our perfect readiness to recall our troops. The Japanese minister at Seoul informed our representative there that he would advise his government to withdraw its troops and put a stop to further forces about to be despatched to Corea. But Japan would not listen to reason and disregarded all the solemn promises contained in the treaty stipulations. Her Britannic Majesty's minister's well-meant intervention was of no avail. On being asked by this government your noble President also reported to the Japanese government in most strong terms how sorry he would feel to hear of the friendly relations being broken between the two countries, and that he would consider it an unjust and unreasonable and unnecessary war.

"Finally, the Japanese legation sent this Foreign Office a most unreasonable note, insisting that should hostilities break out it would not be Japan that commenced them. If it had been the intention of this government to gain any advantage from the Corean trouble we would have sent more than 1,500 troops to that country and they would have occupied themselves in other ways than in the suppression of rebels. I am sure the world will be thoroughly convinced that China, not only in this case, but in all previous troubles, has never taken the offensive.

"As Japan continued to increase her forces in Corea and affairs became more threatening, the Imperial government sent reinforcements thither to protect the Chinese subjects and the interests she had enjoyed and which had been recognized by the civilized world for many years; and it was not until our transport ships had been fired upon without a previous declaration of war, and one of them sunk, that this government gave up all hopes of arbitration and entered upon war.

"In the fear that the exact causes of this unhappy trouble may not have been properly presented in the American newspapers I write to you in the hope that you will be convinced that my government has done the utmost to maintain friendly relations and that it was not China that commenced hostilities. If it is not improper and not against the usual custom I would like to have this letter published in your leading newspapers, hoping that its publication may gain for my country the sympathy of the American people.

"I remain yours very truly,
"CHANG YEN HOON."

Wi-Ju in the Hands of the Japs.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—A despatch to the Central News from Tokio says that a detachment of Japanese cavalry and infantry made an attack upon and routed a force of 2,000 Chinese at Wi-Ju, and that the place remains in the hands of the Japanese.

The Japanese force had been greatly delayed in its advance by the badness of the roads. The heavy guns could be brought forward but slowly and the troops were compelled often to wait for supplies. Pioneer troops had to be brought and used repeatedly to make the roads passable.

The main Japanese column reached Yung-Chon, a short distance to the south of Wi-Ju, on October 4. There was no sign of the enemy. Four days later the scouts who had been sent out toward Wi-Ju reported that a small Chinese force still occupied the city. The strength of the enemy was estimated about 2,000.

A strong body of infantry and cavalry supported by light artillery was thrown forward at once. The Chinese offered little resistance. They retired before the first attacking party and eventually broke and fled across the Yalu. The Chinese loss was hardly more than a hundred killed and wounded.

The Japanese line of communication is now complete throughout Corea. They expect further reinforcements to come to Wi-Ju by water.

A Japanese officer has been appointed commissary of Wi-Ju. The field telegraph has been in working order since last evening and a regular courier service between Wi-Ju and the rear of the column has begun.

New York's Corrupt Police.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Lawrence Carney, a policy writer testifying before the Lexow committee, produced a list of 600 policy shops which had been running up to a few days ago. They were, he said, all known to the police who were paid by the backers of the game. All classes of people play the game; poor people play a penny, but the witness knew of down-town backers to put $100 on a gig. He had known of school children to play in Captain Siebert's precinct where the police used to guard the game. Another witness testified that to secure $50 rent paid for polling places, he paid the sergeant $15 to get it in his house. Mr. Goff said he had received several communications all pointing to the conclusion that every polling place in the city had to pay the police.

Striking Cloakmakers Clubbed.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—The gathering of the cloakmakers in Rutger's Square last night, to form a parade to Union Square, where a mass meeting was to be held, was the scene of indiscriminate and brutal clubbing by the police of the Madison street station, acting under instructions of and aided by Captain Grant. When the strikers began to gather Superintendent Byrne's permit for the parade had not arrived and the police claim that they were not aware of its existence. They dispersed the gathering with drawn clubs, one officer being particularly brutal. Finally one of the cloakmakers arrived, bearing the superintendent's permit, and the procession then proceeded.

Race Trouble in Virginia.

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 12.—Richmond has a regiment of white volunteer military, a howitzer battery and a cavalry squadron, all white. All of these have armories maintained at the city's expense. There is also a battery composed of colored men. The board of aldermen passed a resolution recently appropriating $2,500 to maintain an armory for the colored troops. Mayor Taylor has vetoed this, saying: "I deem it unnecessary, unwise and against public policy to maintain colored soldiers in this city." The board has unanimously passed the resolution over the mayor's veto.

Aftermath of the Storm.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 12. — Communication has been re-established with all points on the west coast visited by the storm which raged Monday night and Tuesday morning and despatches tell woeful tales of the destruction it caused. Apalachicola and Cedar Keys were directly in the storm's path and the damage at those places is almost incalculable. Two lives were lost at the former place. Fifteen fishing smacks belonging to this port were on the Gulf during the storm. Nothing has yet been heard of them and much anxiety is felt.

The Czar's Condition.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—The Daily News' correspondent in Vienna telegraphs: Russian embassies abroad have received official details of the Czar's condition. It is admitted to be very grave. The most difficult symptoms to be combatted are his great weakness and continued drowsiness. There is hardly ever a meal at which he does not drop asleep, and he has to be roused before he can be helped out of the room. Nevertheless it is hoped he will survive the winter.

Montreal Police Investigations.

MONTREAL, Oct. 12.—The city council yesterday extended the powers of the police investigation so as to enable it to hold an investigation into the general workings of the force. Some interesting developments are expected when the committee commences to hear evidence.

A Former Kingston Man Killed.

BUFFALO, Oct. 12.—Michael Montague, who was formerly a resident of Kingston, Ont., was blown from the top of a car of lumber yesterday, falling on his head. His skull was fractured and he died in a few minutes. His family at present lives in this city.

Baker Awaiting Extradition.

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 12.—William Baker, the Chicago desperado, is still in jail here awaiting extradition. The fifteen days limit in which an appeal may be made will be up on Monday next, and as yet no steps have been taken in this direction.

Charged With Firing a G. T. R. Car.

MONTREAL, Oct. 12.—Four men named Thomas Johnston, James O'Reilly, G. O. Spears and John Cross were brought into the city under arrest last night on the charge of setting fire to a Grand Trunk car at Coteau Junction.

AT THE GALE'S MERCY

Two New Brunswick Fishermen Had a Thrilling Night's Experience.

THEIR BOAT BLOWN TO SEA

All Through the Night They Fight Against the Raging Elements—Anxiety at St. Pierre, Miquelon, for the French Fleet of Fishing Vessels.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Oct. 12.—Wm. Dakin and his son Kenneth, who live at Trout Cove, had a night's experience in the Bay of Fundy last night which they never will forget. These two toilers of the sea went out fishing on Wednesday afternoon in a staunch fishing boat about twenty feet long with about seven feet beam. They were in company with a number of other boats, and although the wind was blowing quite hard they had no thought of danger until about 5 o'clock, when the storm had increased to such an extent that they decided to run for home, but the wind was against them and all the boats were obliged for their own safety to take in their sails and run before the wind with bare poles. They were immediately blown off shore in different directions, and darkness coming on shut them off from each other's view.

The boat in which Dakin and son were was out further than the others and soon distanced them. Unshipping their mast, the father took the tiller and kept the boat before the wind, while the son kept constantly bailing, for the sea was running mountains high and the little craft was taking in water steadily.

It was a desperate fight for them as darkness settled around and the gale increased in violence. At daybreak they found themselves off Point Le Preaux, and putting on such sail as he dared Dakin headed for St. John, reaching here at ten in the morning. He at once telegraphed to his family.

How such a craft lived through that night's storm even Dakin himself cannot comprehend.

Anxiety for Fishing Vessels.

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., Oct. 12.—The gravest apprehensions exist in St. Pierre concerning many fishing vessels that were on the banks in the recent gale. All returning ships were more or less damaged, not one escaping without loss. The French banking fleet numbers nearly 400 vessels. From accounts brought by several vessels it is believed that many were unable to withstand the gale and were lost with all hands. The damage done in this gale is so great that the fishermen will be compelled to abandon bank fishing for this season.

AN EDITOR'S UNTIMELY END.

J. G. Buchanan, City Editor of the Hamilton Times, Drowned.

HAMILTON, Oct. 12.—While returning from the Rockton fair on Wednesday night J. G. Buchanan, city editor of the Hamilton Times, and a well-known and popular citizen, was drowned in the Dundas canal. He left Rockton with Mr. Gardiner, editor of the Times, taking a road that runs along the canal in mistake for the main thoroughfare. They soon discovered their mistake, and in turning the rig around to retrace their steps, the buggy slipped off the road into the water, throwing both men out. Mr. Gardiner swam ashore but in the darkness could find no trace of his companion. He at once went for assistance, and in a few minutes the body of the drowned man was recovered.

Great sorrow is felt here at the sad event, Mr. Buchanan being connected with newspaper work in this city for many years and having many friends. He was formerly on the Spectator staff.

The Bullet That Killed Westwood.

TORONTO, Oct. 12.—The result of the post-mortem examination on the body of young Westwood was that the bullet was found to have entered the body a few inches above and about one inch to the right of the navel. It had passed through the liver, gone close to the kidneys and lodged near the spinal column, having gone almost through the body. It had gone close to a number of large blood vessels without injuring them. The wound caused internal hemorrhage and gave rise to acute peritonitis. From the direction taken by the bullet, which was directly through the body, it was evident that Frank Westwood when shot was standing perfectly erect. There was no indication from the examination that the young man had been suffering from any disease except that resulting from the wound received from the pistol shot, and there was nothing in the examination which would contradict the account of the shooting as given by himself.

Prominent Canadians Cross the Line.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Oct. 12.—A prominent party of officials visited the other side of the river yesterday. The personnel of the party was Sir Oliver Mowat, Premier of Ontario, Provincial Secretary of State Gibson and Commissioner of Crown Lands Hardy. They arrived from Toronto over the Grand Trunk and were met by James Wilson, superintendent of Queen Victoria Park and Commissioner Orchard. The whole party took a trip over the Niagara Falls Park and River Railway. Another prominent Canadian party passed through here. They were the Hon. John Haggart, Minister of Railways of the Dominion and Millionaire E. Peter McLaren, the Perth, Ont., lumber merchant. They were joined here by Dr. Montague and were bound for the southern states to look after business interests.

Neale Admits His Guilt.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—Neale, the Canadian customs official who absconded from St. Mary's, Alberta, and was captured here, came up on remand at Bow street and pleaded guilty to all the charges preferred against him. Inspector O'Leary, of the Dominion police, who arrived from Ottawa recently to take charge of the prisoner, will return with Neale on the Numidian, which sails on Thursday next.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1894.

SIR OLIVER WARNED.

THE Globe has the following skittish reply to the truculent threats of some Conservative papers that the Opposition "will not spare Sir Oliver Mowat":

Though the new leader of the Opposition has not yet been discovered, we have some information as to the kind of man he is to be and the policy he will pursue. Mr. Meredith was considerate of the feelings his opponents, and gentleness of demeanor was one of his conspicuous qualities. His opponents, however, did not reciprocate, and did not even appreciate his kindness. This ingratitude is now to be punished. The next leader will not be so "mindful of sensibilities across the House." He will be a bad man, and carry a razor. He will

"Imitate the action of the tiger—
Stiffen the sinews, summon up the blood,
Disguise fair nature with hard-favoured rage;
Then lend the eye a terrible aspect;
Let it pry through the portage of the head,
Like the brass cannon; let the brow o'erwhelm it.
As fearfully as doth a gallant rock
O'erhang and jutty his confounded base."

The Opposition will not "spare Sir Oliver Mowat." The old Parliamentary days are gone—the quiet, humdrum days. The Opposition will gnash its teeth, and roar until the welkin rings, or until Sir Oliver does what it wants; and even then "he will not be spared from ridicule." They will use him for their mirth, yes, for their laughter, when they are waspish. Altogether, it will be a fearful spectacle, yet one to be viewed with a kind of awesome interest by "one who hath no friend or brother there."

Yet, after all, this warning throws no light upon the question who the leader is to be; for the choice is widened by the intimation that the Opposition is in the main composed of fire-eaters, who have been with difficulty restrained from rending the Government asunder. It might be anybody. The mildest countenance in the back benches may be only a cover for a regular blast furnace of fury. The voice that murmured against over-consumption of raspberry jam may swell into a roar that will make the windows rattle. And yet the Empire wants a special session called immediately. As if the Government could be expected to spring the mine that has been prepared for its own destruction, to precipitate the war of elements, the wreck of matter, and the crash of worlds that is to take place when the Opposition really lets itself loose.

THE manner in which the high tariff permits protected manufacturers to keep up prices against the ruling market is shown by the granting of the contract for water pipes to the Canada Pipe Company at $35.95 a ton, which the Montreal Herald thinks, is an apt illustration of how competition, as fostered by protection, affects prices. In 1886 the city of Montreal bought its water pipes from home manufacturers for $26.21 per ton. In 1887 Sir Charles Tupper inaugurated his scheme of protection to the iron industries, and in the fall of that year the city had to pay $33.14 for the same goods. But protectionists then predicted that under the influence of protection so many foundries would spring up in the country that competion among them would soon bring the prices down again. As a matter of fact prices have come down the world over, not as the result of any tariff legislation, but on account of the continuous improvement in the process of manufacturing. The proprietors of the Canada Pipe Company themselves state that with the improved methods introduced in their new works they economize twenty-five per cent. in the process of manufacturing. But thanks to protection the company keeps the benefit of these improvements entirely to itself, and moreover charges the consumer thirty per cent. over the prices of 1886.

NOT only does business appear to be slowly but steadily brightening in the United States but according to Henry Clews's weekly circular it is improving in Britain. No doubt, the long uncertainty regarding the American tariff had a bad effect even in England, and the removal of the uncertainty should help the revival which was setting in after the desperate and and destructive strikes which signalized 1893. In Australia also there is a general upward business movement. The English-speaking world has reason to hope that another era of commercial prosperity is opening.

THE Supreme Court gave judgment Tuesday in a betting case from London, holding that all such proceedings were illegal, and no action for recovery could lie. This means that all persons who make wagers on the result of elections for Parliament must confide implicitly in the honour of the stakeholder, because he cannot be be made to give up the money if he refuses to do so.

THE Dominion treasury is out of funds again, and Finance Minister Foster has left for Europe to borrow more money. Dominion franchise acts at $1,000 a day, Carran bridge scandals, and in fact Tory government generally, costs money, and if the people will have it they must expect to pay for it.

WITH the Dominion Government being tapped for military schools, drill shed improvements, canals, post offices, and allied kinds of spoil, who will deny that there is no danger of a general election being close at hand!

One of the Wimbledon Team Dying in Vancouver From a Knife Wound.

VANCOUVER, B.C., Oct. 12.—Frederick Turner, a member of one of the leading families of New Westminster, is dying from a knife wound inflicted on him by Gracie Irwin, with whom he had been living. He was a fast bicyclist and a crack rifle shot and went to Wimbledon with the Canadian team.

Turner told the woman that they must separate. He is in an unconscious condition and the doctors have no hopes of his recovery. His mother is dying from the shock. The woman was arrested. It is said her real name is Bowman and that she was born in London, Ont.

The Browne Alimony Case.

MONTREAL, Oct. 12.—In the case of Maud Ray Barnes v. Andrew White Browne and Lyman Browne, the New York millionaire, in which the plaintiff (Mrs. Browne) seeks to recover $150 per month alimentary allowance from her husband, Andrew White Browne and her father-in-law, Lyman Browne. Mr. R. D. McGibbon, Q.C., moved in the Practice Court yesterday for an interim allowance of $150 per month, to be paid by Lyman Browne to Mrs. Browne during the pendency of the present proceedings. The parties were married on the 28th of January last at Fulton, N.Y. Mrs. Browne, in her petition for alimentary allowance, states that she is in want and at present dependent for support upon certain relatives, who were under no obligations to support her. Her father is dead. She has no brothers and her mother has no means to support her. The defendant, Lyman Browne, is a wealthy man, and able to pay the $150 per month demanded. The defendant was given till Monday to file his reply.

The Wild Man of Aylmer.

OTTAWA, Oct. 12.—Aylmer has a wild man, who, if he does not reside within the limits of the town, lives in such close proximity as to make the residents uneasy. No one knows who or what he is. He is only known as a wild man and everybody is frightened of him. His headquarters are on the farm of the late John Newman, about a mile and a half above the town. Every morning for about two weeks past as the Pontiac and Pacific Junction railway train has passed through the farm on its way cityward the wild man has made an appearance in a field at the side of the railway track, stark naked. He has not threatened to do harm, but merely stood and watched the train. He is a middle-aged man of good build and has a long black beard reaching to his waist. No one knows where he sleeps and the people in the neighborhood are even more perplexed to know what he lives upon, for he never asks anyone for food.

New Bridge Over the Trent.

TRENTON, Ont., Oct. 12.—The new steel bridge known as Gordon's bridge, across the river Trent, about a mile north of the town limits, has been inspected by Warden Farley and the county bridge committee and accepted from Mr. Robert Weddell, the contractor. It is a magnificent structure and was finished fifteen days ahead of the time called for. The bridge is a credit to the County of Hastings and to the noble river it pans.

A Lumber Barge Wrecked.

SAND BEACH, Mich., Oct. 12.—In the southwest gale on Lake Huron the barge Wesley, laden with lumber, was totally wrecked. The crew were taken off at Point Aubarques and the barque was then abandoned. The lumber keeps the wreck afloat and it will probably go ashore on the Canadian side below Goderich.

Centre Wellington Reformers.

SEVENTEEN YEARS OF IT.

Charles Schryver had Kidney Disease all This Time and Didn't Know it—How he Found Out and How he was Cured.

TORONTO, Oct. 1.—Sixteen years ago kidney disease attacked Charles Schryver, a bricklayer in this city, but he did not know it. It showed itself in the form of pains in the small of the back. They did not amount so much at first, but kept growing worse. Within the past six years Mr. Schryver has almost every week had to quit work for one or two days on account of their severity. Doctors ascribed them to the liver and other causes and prescribed, but their medicine did no good. Last spring a city physician diagnosed the case as one of diabetes and wanted to prescribe, but Mr. Schryver said:—"No, if its diabetes I'll use Dodd's Kidney Pills, which I know will cure me." They did cure him, too, and to-day Mr. Schryver is free from ache or pain and able to do his day's work, week in and week out, with any man in his trade.

DEAR SIRS,—I have used Yellow Oil for two or three years, and think it has no equal for croup. MRS. J. S. O'BRIEN, Huntsville, Ont.

An Important Organ

The health and life of the entire body is directly dependent upon the proper performance of the functions of the stomach, and no other organ is subject to such gross abuse, when everything that the palate craves or the eye covets is dumped into this abused receptacle, and indigestion ensues. Get a box of Ecclejay's Liver Lozenges for 25 cents and remedy the evil at once.

When catarrh attacks a person of scrofulous diathesis, the disease is almost sure to become chronic. The only efficacious cure, therefore, is Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which expels scrofula from the system and the catarrh soon follows suit. Local treatment is only a waste of time.

After Taking Hood's Sarsaparilla

Cured of a Serious Disease.

"I was suffering from what is known as Bright's disease for five years, and for days at a time I have been unable to straighten myself up. I was in bed for three weeks; during that time I had leeches applied and derived no benefit. Seeing Hood's Sarsaparilla advertised in the papers I decided to try a bottle. I found

FRATERNAL ASSESSMENT LIABILITY.

"Can't I get out when I please, as have no liability?"

Most people expect "yes" for an answer to this question, when they say they are members of an assessment insurance society, and begin to think of their responsibilities as such. It is important for them to know that they cannot escape liability; because every member, no matter when he drops out, is liable for any deficiencies that may arise in future, if they were developed during his membership. Here is an instance:

The United Masonic Benefit Association of Missouri was some years ago an active and apparently prosperous assessment concern. It provided no reserve, but offered low rates, cheap insurance, and seemingly hoped that new blood would make up for increasing mortality resulting from increasing age. By and bye its forces began to fall off, not enough "new blood" came in, and the cost of membership ran up in a very uncomfortable way. Presently the healthier lives began to feel their burden pressing heavily and steadily left the ranks, until so few were left in the association that the assessments amounted to $140—one hundred and forty dollars—on each certificate. The remaining members refused to pay such a sum, and the concern failed. But there were unpaid death claims for a large amount due, and the State Superintendent of Insurance thought they ought to be paid. So he began suits at law against individual members to enforce payment of the assessments against them; the court has decided that they must pay. The feelings of those who are thus compelled to pay what they never expected have undergone a change with respect to assessment insurance.

Replying to some enquiries which had been made upon this point of liability, and citing this case illustration of what may be expected in any similar case which might be pressed to suit, the Insurance Monitor says: "The decision referred to answers our question which has been debated whether the member's liability is limited to sums which he may choose to pay; in, other words, whether he can get out when he pleases without further harm. This he cannot do. Every member, no matter when he may drop out, is liable for any deficiencies which may crop up in future, resulting during his membership. The only safe course for parties that apprehend breakers ahead is to drop their membership before the breakers are reached; and the misfortune of this course is that the faster they drop, the faster the association drives towards the breakers."

There seems to be only one course open for the prudent man who may be determined to avoid possible liability; that is to keep out of such associations entirely and buy his insurance of the regular companies.—Monetary Times.

LIVE STOCK

CEMENT FOR STABLES.

It Is Preferable to Stone For Walls—How to Build With It.

While no one doubts the excellence of stone walls in the construction of suitable winter quarters for live stock says the Orange Judd Farmer, the labor involved and the cost are excessive. Cement walls can be constructed without high-priced skilled labor, and the materials are easily got and cheap. There is little question that the use of cement in the construction of walls and floors are destined to work a revolution in farm building by superseding the old, laborious, expensive and unsatisfactory methods of the past.

Once proper materials are secured, the all-important point is knowing how the work should be done. A strict rule governing all cases cannot be laid down, because conditions vary. Farmers and stockmen who have had experience in this line say that all structures built of concrete cement are not only stronger and more durable but, where sand and gravel are available, they are very much cheaper than stone.

A large platform of plank or boards, convenient to the wall, should be first laid down to mix on and to keep the materials clean. Before using, the cement must be kept free from dirt and perfectly dry. The sand or gravel should be clear, sharp and entirely free from clay. It must be mixed thoroughly dry first, using a hoe or shovel. If the mixing is not done thoroughly there will be soft, crumbling spots. Where clear, sharp sand alone is used, take two parts sand and one cement, spread over the platform two or three inches thick and mix thoroughly. Then apply water and work to a consistent mortar; next spread about the same amount of clean, coarse gravel over the mortar; if the gravel is dry sprinkle on a little water to dampen it. Turn over the whole quickly three or four times, working it into a good stiff mortar. Where a coarse gravel (the pieces of which are from one to three inches thick) is used, with sand enough to fill the interstices, a first-class concrete can be made of one part cement to five or six of a mixture of the sand and gravel.

If the gravel has a large proportion of fine sand, about one part cement to three of gravel should be used. Each particle of sand or gravel must be in contact, or be coated with cement, in order to hold them together, so there is great economy in using the coarse gravel. It also makes a stronger wall.

For an ordinary barn wall seven to nine feet high, dig the trenches below the depth to which the ground freezes in winter and eighteen inches wide. If the site is low and damp, put down a tile drain, but keep it a foot or so from the outside of the wall. Fill the bottom of trench with, say three inches concrete; then pack in stones and ram down firmly. All interstices must be filled with concrete. Next lay three inches more cement then another layer of stone, if available, well rammed down, and so on, till the level of the ground is reached. Very large stones may be put in this trench. Smooth, straight planks are then set on each side, supported in position by studs with space enough to allow for an inch wooden wedge between the studding and the outside of the plank, so that when the first course is "set" the plank can be slacked and raised for the next.

Build the wall fourteen inches wide at the bottom and twelve inches at the top. Set studding so as to allow for that. Fill the first course to top of plank. Then raise and begin again at the original starting point. If door frames are put in near the corners, the wall should "return" a little from corner, and the planks at the corner should be well braced from outside each way, in order to prevent the corner from settling outward, as it is apt to do, and cracking while wet. More than three or four inches of concrete should not be laid at a time without ramming. To make the surface of the wall smooth, let no coarse stones get to the outside.

The top pieces of window frames should not project over the upright end piece as the little corner underneath is hard to fill properly with concrete. Some place the window frames so that the top piece is just on a level with the top of the wall; others set them down say six inches lower so that there is that depth of concrete above the frame.

House walls may be built of concrete but a high wall should be at least eighteen inches thick at the bottom and twelve inches at the top. It is also being used in some localities for constructing silos. It promises to prove a very satisfactory material for this purpose as silos thus constructed can easily be made air tight.

In making floors for hog, cattle and horse stables the concrete should be laid three or four inches thick and well rammed down. A bed of stone or gravel should be laid first upon the original floor of dirt or clay which must be free from old manure. Over this place a heavy coat of concrete and finish it smoothly. Floors of this kind rightly made will prevent any loss of manure either liquid or solid.

BRUCE WAS HOMESICK.

An Account of a Scotch Collie's Voyage Across the Ocean.

Bruce was a Scotch collie. His master was coming to live in America, and, being attached to the dog, he decided to bring him to this country.

The first morning that Bruce was in his new home, the servant heard a scratching at her door, and on opening it the dog ran in, leaped upon her bed, crawled under the bedclothes, and laid his head upon the pillow.

But I started to tell you of Bruce's adventures at sea.

Having decided to take the dog to America, his master bought a ticket for him and led him by a stout chain up the gangplank to the deck of the steamship. He was to be fastened between decks, so the captain said. The poor dog was bewildered at first, and then frightened. When he found that his master had deserted him, as he supposed, and that he could not get away, he howled for a long time.

The sailors, growing tired of the noise, threatened to beat him if he did not stop, so he dropped down on the deck, and cried as if his heart would break. His master paid him a visit before bedtime, and tried to comfort him. How he begged to go into the cabin with the only one he knew in that dreadful place!

But that was against the rules. He cried all night, and the sailors and steerage passengers complained that they could not sleep.

In the morning the captain ordered Bruce to be loosed, and called to him to come up on the saloondeck. Bruce gave two bounds up the steep ladder, and then was at his master's side. He soon made friends with the cabin passengers, and they were quite willing to have him stay with them.

It was very funny to see Bruce stand by the ladder up which he had recently come, and watch the steerage passengers on the lower deck.—Sunshine.

CARPENTRY FOR BOYS.

A Wall Cabinet Which Can Be Made in a Few Hours.

The illustration shows a simple and useful wall cabinet that can be made by any boy. It should be made about thirty inches long, twenty inches high and seven or eight inches deep, and below the bottom shelf the ends of the sides should project about five inches.

Make the two sides first twenty-five inches long and eight inches wide. With a compass saw cut out the bracket effect at the bottom of each side, and then make two shelves twenty-eight inches long and eight inches wide. With these two shelves and the sides form the framework of the cabinet, and fasten it together with long steel wire nails or slim screws.

Next make an upright division piece, as shown in the illustration, and fasten it at top and bottom a distance of six or eight inches in from one end; make another shelf and fasten it a little above the centre, between the top and bottom shelf, making one end fast to the upright division and the other to one side of the cabinet, as the drawing shows.

Get from a carpenter a piece of cornice molding about two inches wide and long enough to go around the front and sides of the cabinet; mitre and fasten it around the top, and with the addition of a few coats of paint the cabinet is completed.

A curtain across the front, arranged with rings so it will slide on a rod, will add greatly to the appearance.

Goes to Europe for Treatment

Suffering For Years from Insomnia and Nervous Debility—Prostrated, Exhausted—No Vitality—No Rest Until "Nature's Sweet Restorer," South American Nervine Tonic, Built up the Nervous Organism, and Gave Back to the Wearied and Exhausted Nerve-Centres their Wonted Vigor.

ADOLPHE LABODIE, B.C.L., J.P., OF THE WELL-KNOWN LEGAL FIRM OF LABODIE & LABODIE, MONTREAL.

For four generations the remarkable family of LaBodie have been prominently identified with the legal and professional life of Montreal. A long line of active, intellectual men, whose ambition to rise to prominence meant a constant drain upon the nerve forces and a tremendous demand for brain power. Mr Adolphe LaBodie, B.C.L., J.P., etc., has for seventeen years been actively engaged in the legal profession, living, as the duties of intellectual men of this fast age demand, beyond the reserve limit of natural nerve force, requiring more of the nerve centres at the base of the brain than they can possibly fulfil, which always results in nervous prostration, dyspepsia, hot flashes, insomnia, constipation, and attendant evils.

Mr. LaBodie spared neither time nor money to obtain relief, went to Europe for special treatment, all to no purpose. His attention being directed to South American Nervine Tonic, he concluded to try it. Result—immediate relief from insomnia, and a perfect and permanent cure from all other disorders, with but five bottles of the Nervine.

Mr. Adolphe LaBodie, under date of April 27th, writes from Montreal:—"I was suffering from insomnia and nervous debility; prostration and exhaustion, rather than rest, followed a night's experience. I took five bottles of South American Nervine, and am wholly recovered, and now enjoy restful nights. I have tried many remedies, have been treated in Europe, and can say with truthful emphasis that the South American nervine has cured me."

There is reason in all things: business reasons in business, truthful reasons in truth. Mr. LaBodie's statement herewith is the truthful reason why, if South American Nervine Tonic cured him, it will cure you. It is the nerve builder for brain workers. Brain and stomach cannot both work at the same time with healthful and happy issues. One must suffer. Intense intellectual activity produces indigestion because the brain is consuming all the nerve power. South American Nervine Tonic holds nature to a happy poise, and life and its duties swing to fruitful success.

ROBERT HALL.

Seasonable and Opportune.

Always forearmed for all the shopping demands of our customers—this store is never behind—the right goods at the right time and at the right prices. October suggest the need of such things as

Underwear, Hosiery and Gloves.

We have too many kinds to attempt any detail, but in addition to the BEST makes in underwear we carry a full line of the celebrated "Health Brand" in all sizes and combinations.

Blankets and Bed Comforters.

The buying of these lines was done with extreme care, as we have an exacting constituency to chose for, who are wide awake judges of qualities and prices. The stock is right and the values correspond.

Along with these we would also mention our new fall selected Shawls, in many sizes, qualities and shapes—very exclusive—and from makers who warrant their goods.

Millinery and Mantles.

Style is everything in these lines. You don't want a last years' hat, or bonnet, or jacket, at any cost, and you won't find one here. You don't even want this season's unless the style is distinctive, and that is just where we excel.

We continue to show full range in all the newest novelties in Dress Goods.

LOCAL NEWS.

Knox's Gold Lable Ginger Ale

Put up expressly for campers and family use. Also Lemon Sour and Ginger Beer and all kinds of soft drinks and fine Cider Vinegar delivered to any part of the town D. KNOX, 26 Queen street.

Telfordian Temperature Topics.

Friday, Oct. 12.

Had ye any mixture at your end of the town yesterday evening? We had a little rain and snow together, at the commencement of the shower last night, and at this morning's observation the thermometer indicated 31 degrees above zero, which will soon bring more downfall.—THOMAS TELFORD.

The Rifle Association Meets.

A well-attended meeting of the Peterborough Rifle Association was held last evening in the drill shed, at which the officers of the 57th were well represented. Amongst the business transacted was the resolution to hold the annual rifle matches on Thursday, Oct. 18th, and among the events on the list is one to have a match in which only those who had not heretofore won prizes by rifle shooting could participate.

Remember—Don't Forget.

Tuesday evening, Oct 16th, is the date of the Eva N. Robiln concert in the opera house. On this occasion a splendid programme will be presented by Miss Eva N. Robiln, the celebrated Canadian soprano, who has won such distinct triumphs in both Canada and England; and by Miss Lilian Burns, the noted Delsarte elocutionist, and by Master Wilfred LaRue, the wonderful boy cornerist. Don't forget the date nor the fact that the seat plan at the Peterborough Bookstore is rapidly filling up. Admission 25 and 35 cents.

Important Business Transacted.

There was a large attendance of members present at the regular weekly meeting of City Lodge, Good Templars, held last evening. A number of candidates were initiated and a good deal of important business was transacted. The advisability of organizing a district lodge in the country for the purpose of bringing the different subordinate lodges into closer relationship, and for carrying on a more active temperance work in the district, was fully discussed and a committee appointed to make further arrangements for organization.

Here's Another Reminder.

It is only necessary to remind the public that the date of the Eva Robiln concert in the opera house is Tuesday, Oct. 16th. That is next Tuesday, and those who wish seats should secure them. The reserved seat plan at the Peterborough Bookstore is fast filling up, and it has been found necessary to include a large number of extra seats in the reserved seat plan. Remember that the EXAMINER has warned you in time, and if you find the plan filled when you apply for a seat, the fault is your own. The merit of the programme to be presented is sure to attract a large house Tuesday evening next. Admission 25 and 35 cents.

The Emerald Trio's Fourth Success.

The town hall, Ashburnham, was again crowded, last night, every seat being occupied and standing room even, was at at premium. The entertainment consisted of a delightful song service, contributed by the members of the Trio and local talent. Mr. John Miller contributed a cornet solo and Mrs. D. Kernaghan a pleasing vocal solo. Among other selections by the Trio, they sang by request, "The Prohibition Bells," and the "Fairy" gave a recitation in good style, entitled "Rivalry in the Church." This evening will be the last of the services, when a lime light exhibition will be presented. It deals with a great variety of subjects and is pronounced an entertainment of surpassing interest. General admission, ten cents. Through the efforts of the "Trio" the membership of Otonabee Council, R. T. of T., is on the increase and a great deal of good is manifest.

A Boys' Fall Suit at $2.50, or a Man's Overcoat at $12, gives you the best value possible for every cent of your money at Grafton & Co's.

NEWS NUGGETS.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—If the weather keeps fair the indications are that there will be a large market to-morrow.

—A vagrant was up before the Police Magistrate this morning, and dismissed with a warning.

—Don't miss seeing Guy Bros. refined minstrels at the Opera House to-night. Prices, 25, 35, and 50c.

—The dampness of the atmosphere last night drove three tramps to seek lodgings at police headquarters.

—The Collegiate Institute annual sports were held this afternoon at the P.A.A.A. There was a large attendance.

—The officers of the Rangers have left an order nineteen army greatcoats for themselves with Hall, Gilchrist & Co.

—The nose of the third drive of Gilmour & Co.'s logs arrived at Young's Point yesterday. The fourth and last is closely following.

—Editor Brierley, of the St. Thomas Journal, who was charged by Mrs. Beaton, of Burlington, with libel, had to pay $1 damages.

—It has been decided that the upper part of the new Bank of Commerce building will be built of brick. This portion of the work will be undertaken immediately.

—The steamer Daisy arrived in port yesterday with twenty thousand feet of lumber from the Dixon Co.'s mills, Harwood. She will be engaged towing till the lake freezes up.

—Chancellor Boyd gave judgment yesterday, dissolving the interim injunction preventing the handing over of the Dunlop Challenge Cup to the Atheneum Bicyle Club.

—Rev. S. Daw, rector of Christ Church, Belleville, is rumored to have resigned his charge on account of certain church difficulties. It is said Mr. Daw will enter upon the study of law.

—The performance of the Guy Bros. Minstrel band on the streets to-day was indeed a treat, and as such was greatly enjoyed by the many who congregated to hear the various selections rendered.

—The ninth annual convention of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew began at Washington yesterday. Twelve hundred delegates are present, representing Scotland, Canada and nearly every State in the Union.

—The half mile event of the Collegiate Institute races was run off yesterday afternoon on the P. A. A. A. grounds. There were eight starters. Ben Simpson was first, while Frank McPherson, who won the steeplechase the day before, pressed him hard. Garnet Bell made a good third.

—Township of North Monaghan vs. Town of Peterborough,—Watson, Q. C., for the plaintiffs, before Justice Boyd, yesterday, moved ex-parte for an interim injunction restraining the defendants from proceeding to carry out an award by constructing a sewer, pending the delivery of judgment upon an application to set aside an award. Leave given to serve notice of motion for to-morrow.

—Steamboat navigation is entirely cut off between Birdsall's and Hastings on account of the Gilmour drive passing through, the steamers Daisy, Beaver and Sunbeam being detained in their towing. The logs are heaved up along either shores and the channel completely blocked. Capt. Chas. Calcutt says it is impossible to get through till the drives open up some sort of a gap. Most of the smaller steamers are engaged in towing wood and placing it at the different landing stages along the route of the P. S. & N. Co. for next season's operations.

Eastern Ontario Dairymen.

A meeting of the executive committee of the Eastern Ontario Dairy Association was held in the Huffman House, Belleville yesterday afternoon. The business of the meeting was for the purpose of making the preliminary arrangements for the annual meeting of the association in Gananoque, January 2, 3 and 4, 1895. Arrangements are being made for hall, speakers, etc., for the January meeting. Those present at the meeting yesterday were: T. B. Carlaw, president, Warkworth; John McTavish, 1st vice-president, Vancamp; R. J. Murphy, Elgin; Henry Wade, Toronto.

Saturday Night Attraction.

What the Ottawa Citizen says of Mr. Robt. Hilliard's "Nominee":—"The Grand Opera House was filled, floor and gallery, last night, by an audience which went away as well pleased with its evening's entertainment as any audience which ever filled Manager Ferguson's theatre. Mr. Robt. Hilliard and the company of clever people, who are with him, presented that most amusing of comedies, "The Nominee," in a manner that was wholly delightful. The play itself needs no praise. A more amusing comedy could not be desired, or a more amusing presentation of it than that given last night. It is a refreshing change to have so clever and capable a comedy company come to delight Ottawa theatre-goers." This clever company appears at the opera house here on Saturday, Oct. 13th.

THE RING.

New York, Oct. 11.—For the first time since the present negotiations between Corbett and Fitzsimmons opened these two gladiators faced each other in the Herald office this morning. Fitz sat at a table in the library when Corbett entered, and the champion went over and took a seat facing the great middleweight and said, "How are you, Fitz?" The salutation was returned, and then Corbett said he supposed they were there to make a match. Fitz called his manager, Glori, to the chair, stating that he was his spokesman. Corbett asked Glori to show the colour of his money and the captain displayed $1,000 to bind a match. Corbett then showed a roll of $1,000 and told Glori to cover it when he pleased, but there would be no fight until July 1st, as he would not cancel profitable theatrical engagements. This was a disappointment, but Fitz and Glori agreed and the work of drawing up articles was begun.

"Are you willing to fight after July 1st?" was asked Fitz.

"Fight him any time," was the emphatic reply.

W. A. Scholl, matchmaker of the Olympic Athletic Club, New Orleans, and Capt. Frank Williams, representing the Auditorium Club, of the same city, were on hand. The first offer was $25,000 by Scholl of the Olympic, which was increased to $30,000 by Williams of the Auditorium. Vendig raised it to $41,000. Williams said $36,000 was his limit. Scholl mentioned $50,000, which called forth smiles. Corbett said the bet was wild and money would have to be shown. Scholl produced $5,000, which Corbett said was not enough to post for a $50,000 purse. Fitzsimmons evidently wanted to fight before the Olympic, while Corbett preferred Florida. Fitz finally said, "Well, I will yield every point in order to make a match. I will sign with the Florida Athletic Club."

Corbett sneered at Fitz's alleged complaisance. "I am the champion," he said, "and I will say when and where I will fight. I have been roasted right and left on the charge of being afraid of you. Now I am here to make a match."

It was finally agreed to battle some time after July 1st next at the Florida Athletic Club, Jacksonville, the club to fix the date of the fight.

QUOITS.

Mr. Ed. McFadden accepts the challenge issued by Mr. Geo. Giroux, a few days ago, and is willing to pitch him a game of quoits, providing he is allowed to use a light and a heavy horseshoe, the stakes to be $50 a side.

FOOLBALL.

The Rugby football club of the town has now a large membership roll on account of the recent amalgamation with the Edison team, and to-morrow afternoon it is proposed to have a scratch match on the P. A. A. A. grounds between thirty of the picked men, and without doubt a good game will be the result as two strong teams can easily be chosen from among the numbers.

It is hoped that there will be a large attendance of spectators present in order to encourage the sport.

The boys have been practicing three times a week regularly lately, having secured the drill shed for that purpose, therefore a scientific game may be looked for to-morrow.

There is a possibility of the town team from Port Hope coming up for a game Saturday afternoon, but up to the time of going to press final arrangements had not yet been made.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Geo. A. Cox is in town to-day.

Mr. Archie Virtue, a prosperous farmer of Enniskillen, is spending a few days in town.

Miss Ella Burnett, who has been visiting friends in Cobourg, has returned home.

Miss Murrey, of Bobcaygeon, is visiting her uncle, Mr. Robt. Duncan, 115 McDonnell street.

Mrs. Richard Simcoe and son, Eddie, have returned to their home in London, Ont., after a ten days' visit with her mother, Mrs. Condon, Driscoll terrace, Ashburnham.

AN ACKNOWLEDGMENT.

Dirty.

Well, we should say so. From the cellar to the garret. With the dust of the summer and the dust of the flies everything is apt to be a little dirty just now, especially the wall paper and window blinds. We offer a remedy for that dirty appearance that comes early in the fall. A new fresh paper and a new set of blinds is the simplest and finest remedy. It will make your home look like new, and give a refreshing appearance to everything around. See the beautiful stock all this month at a genuine discount. No regular prices at the Peterborough Book Store.—A. H. STRATTON & Co.

Protect your Horses.

Don't allow your valuable horses to go without a waterproof cover during the cold wet days of the fall. Be good to them, provide them with one of Kingscotte's strictly waterproof covers, costing only a dollar or two. If you are shipping and receiving goods that are liable to damage from wet, Kingscotte's black oiled canvas waterproof covers "fills the bill,"—nothing better or cheaper. They have no tar in their composition, being an OIL preparation, which keeps them soft and pliable. Awnings taken down and stored in a careful and agreeable manner. Halls decorated for assemblies, balls and meetings of all kinds. ALF. KINGSCOTTE, tent, sail and awning maker, 244 Water street.

The fact that Grafton & Co. sell the best clothing in town does not imply that they ask high prices for their clothing.

THE MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS.

THE year is slipping swiftly by and here we are at the middle of October, with the date of the municipal elections approximately in sight. The citizens are beginning to think over the claims of their representatives for the coming year, and to make speculative forecasts of probable candidates. As to the present council it would appear that there will be some changes, besides what the choice of the electors may produce. It is understood pretty definitely that the Mayor has expressed his intention not to be a candidate for another term, and it is generally accepted that several of the present councillors will not again offer themselves. Therefore, in all probability, the electors will be called upon to select a new mayor and several councillors. There does not seem to be any danger of the situation being complicated by the necessity of electing three members for Ashburnham. There is not the slightest apparent probability that co-operate union between the town and Ashburnham will be effected in time to affect the coming elections. From all appearances the question of union is as far from solution as ever, if not further.

"Now for the Rubber."

For these are rubber days, and all folks should wear rubber or rainproof coats. We carry full lines for men and boys, of the best English, German and Canadian makes. All sewed seams, with or without capes, and that don't throw off that horrid tarry smell that other kinds have. The prices are a little less than if you get a traveller to import you one as a favour. Gough Bros., the Wonderful Cheap Men.

UNION WITH ASHBURNHAM STILL HANGS FIRE.

Hours Spent in Discussion.

THE QUESTION REFERRED BACK ONCE MORE.

After Discussing and Voting Down Motion After Motion the Council Finally Decided to Let the Finance Committee act Once More in Regard to the Great Question of Union.

At a special meeting of the town council last night there were present the Mayor and Messrs. Cahill, White, Best, Kelly, Hall, Hughes, Dawson, Sutton, Mason and Roger.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read, but before they were confirmed Mr. Hughes rose to direct the attention of the council to the fact that the proceedings of the last meeting of council were illegal as sufficient notice had not been given. Twenty-four hour's notice, he believed, had to be given, therefore the changing of the sewer from an invert one to one of brick must be illegal, as must also the action of the council in deciding to run the sewer along the side of the street instead of the middle.

The Mayor stated that in case of emergency at the request of a majority of the members of the council, a meeting could be called at any time.

Mr. Hughes didn't think it was a case of emergency at all, and wanted to have the whole matter reopened in order to legalize the proceedings. The public, he stated, were under the impression that the proceedings were illegal. He therefore moved for a reconsideration of the sewer question.

Mr. Best claimed that it was too late now to reconsider the matter, as the documents warranting the forwarding of the work had been signed.

Mr. Dawson was of the opinion that all this talk was occasioned by the fact that some local contractors were piqued because an outside man had secured the work. He had actually heard one of these men figure out that the contractor would make the price of $00,000 brick by the fact that the sewer had been changed from an invert to an all brick one. All he had to say about this, was that if this man had devoted his time to figuring on the cost of the sewer earlier in the season, he might have secured the contract. On Mr. Dawson's motion the minutes were confirmed.

COMMUNICATIONS

were received,—

From the Separate School Board, asking permission to re-erect a wooden out-house at the Murray street school.

On motion of Messrs. Kelly and Best, Dr. Brennan was heard in reference to the matter. He explained that an old wooden structure had been torn down and when the contractor was about to re-erect it, it was ascertained that he would not, by bylaw, be allowed to do so. The building in question was a detached one and for sanitary purposes should, if possible, be of wood. If necessary it could be placed 100 feet from any adjacent property.

Mr. Cahill wished to see the matter referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committie, but Mr. Dawson could not see his way, he stated, to make fish of one and fowl of another. He didn't see why this building should be erected of wood, while others in the direct neighbourhood were compelled to be erected of brick and two stories in height,

Before he voted on the question Mr. Hughes wanted to know if the action of the council would be legal in granting the privilege.

The Mayor stated that other similar illegalities had been committed; and he didn't see why the council couldn't transgress once more.

Mr. Dawson waxed eloquent on the injustice which would be done the community in thus tampering with the by-laws.

Mr. Hall moved that permission be accorded the Board to erect a building 12x16 feet in size, situated 75 feet from the boundary of the school grounds. The motion was lost and the matter thus dropped.

From Robt. McLean, secretary Canadian Fire Underwriters' Association, noticing that the coal oil bylaw will come before the council, and asking to be advised of what progress is being made in regard to the other deficiencies.—Received.

From L. J. Seargeant, general manager of the G.T.R., acknowledging receipt of the resolution regarding railway whistling in the town.—Received.

From W. H. Manning, asking to have the sidewalk lowered in front of his new residence on McDonel street.—Referred to the Street and Bridge Committee.

From Mr. Croft, stating that Chief Rossel had notified him that he must pay over the usual $5 licence fee for keeping an eating house. Mr. Croft says in conclusion in his letter, "Now, gentlemen, I think this is decidedly unfair. I paid $67.50 for a three months licence, and feel that I have already paid enough. This is to request that you will take such action as will relieve me of the necessity of paying over this money and I will feel obliged. —Referred to the License Committee.

From F. Bartlett, who is the town agent for a contractors' supply company, stating that his company was prepared to ship 120 feet of 8-inch inverts at once to the town and the balance of the amount required by Monday. In regard to the prejudice which exists in regard to changing to the invert from the brick bottom, he can see no reason for the existence of such. The invert, he states, makes much the better bottom, being smoother and in addition makes a strong foundation for the upper portion of the brick wall.—Received.

From John Crane, stating that the collector, Miss B. Cumming, has returned the roll for 1893, and that the same is correct, but that in the absence of Mr. C. McGill the necessary oath cannot be taken. — Received.

Referred to the Finance Committee.

THE FINANCE COMMITTEE reported as follows:

Your Finance Committee to whom the question of the union of the municipalities of Peterborough and Ashburnham was referred to arrange final terms of union beg leave to report as follows:

Your committee held two meetings with the members of the Ashburnham council at which the following terms of union formerly reported to the council on April 2nd last by a special committee were again approved for recommendation to the council.

(1) That the united municipality remain a town and that incorporation as a city be not asked for at the time the union is carried out.

(2) That Ashburnham be received as one ward with the same representation as other wards.

(3) That the united municipality assume the liabilities and take over the assets of both the town and village.

(4) In regard to sewerage that the town of Peterborough as at present constituted have sole control of the matter of sewerage for that portion of the united municipality.

In regard to fire protection for Ashburnham, which is involved in the proposed terms of union, your committee received a communication from the Water Company, stating that they would place twelve hydrants in Ashburnham for a yearly rental of $30 each, all future hydrants in the village to $50 each, and the town to take one hydrant at the present rate, to be placed on Hunter street, 500 feet from the present one near Queen street; or they would take $40 per hydrant for the twelve Ashburnham hydrants and all hydrants now in use in the town, additional hydrants to be $35 a year. Your committee answered this by asking the Company if they would take $60 a hydrant for 12 hydrants in Ashburnham, additional hydrants to be at the rate of $35 per year. The reply of the Company is that they will place 12 hydrants in Ashburnham at $60 each, the town to take one hydrant on Hunter street at $35 and the price of future hydrants to be a matter for mutual agreement. The letters referred to from the Water Company are submitted with the report, and your Committee, having reported the facts, leaves the matter to be dealt with by the Council.

THE DISCUSSION.

Messrs. Dawson and Best moved that the report be received and further action deferred.

Mr. Dawson didn't see why Ashburnham should receive 12 hydrants all at once, when Peterborough residents who had been paying taxes for 40 years petitioned for the same privileges without avail.

Mr. Best said that the whole question of union would have to be reopened before it was settled, as the bylaw which had been submitted to the Ashburnham voters had provided for the united municipalities being incorporated as a city.

The Mayor answered Mr. Dawson's statement by explaining that if Ashburnham was annexed the residents would demand fire protection undoubtedly.

Mr. Cahill rose to state that, while Ashburnham wanted Peterborough to pay for its hydrants, yet that municipalty was unwilling to bear its share of the expense of constructing the new sewer. While Mr. Cahill had once been in favour of union, he was now against it. A house which a friend of his owned in Ashburnham brought in $6 per month rent. The taxes on it were $19 per year. He also owned a house in Peterborough which rented at $6, and the taxes were only $11. So after all Peterborough wasn't so badly off as she stood, when compared with her neighbours.

Mr. Hall pointed out that the committee had agreed on all the terms of union with the exception of the matter regarding the hydrants. He was anxious to have the matter closed up as soon as possible, and thought that the sooner a decision settling the whole question was reached the better. He stated that, while Peterborough had been seeking union for years, Ashburnham had never consented to such a step until the present time, and now the council seemed inclined, in spite of the expressed wish of the people, to thwart the whole matter.

A prolonged and most tiresome discussion followed, during which the entire question of union was brought up again, and matters long ago settled were once more thrashed out.

Messrs. Dawson and Best moved that the report re union of Ashburnham and Peterborough be received and that no action be taken.

Messrs. Hall and Kelly moved in amendment that the report of the Finance Committee be received, and that this council agree to the terms of union with Ashburnham contained in the report.

Messrs. Roger and White moved in amendment to the amendment that this council is opposed to union with Ashburnham on other than equal terms, and is opposed to union until the question of the prices of all the hydrants which may be required is settled with the Water Co., and that the report be referred back to the Committee with instructions to negotiate on this basis only.

All three resolutions were put and lost, after which a motion by Mr. Hall was carried to the effect that the report be received and referred back to the committee for further consideration.

The Finance Committee presented

DEATH OF A FORMER RESIDENT.

Typhoid Fever Claims a Victim in the Person of Mr. Max Peplow.

The death of Mr. Max Peplow, who was, together with his father, Mr. Edw. Peplow, at one time a resident of Peterborough, and studied chemistry with Mr. H. S. Macdonald, has been announced. The Port Hope Guide speaks as follows of the deceased, who was a great favourite during his residence here:—"Mr. Max Peplow, son of ex Mayor Edward Peplow, formerly of this town, died at Rapid City, Manitoba, a few days ago, from the effects of typhoid fever. The deceased was a young man of about 22 years of age, and was a native of this town, where he spent the first sixteen or seventeen years of his life. He received his education at the Port Hope Public School and was popular with both teachers and scholars. After leaving Port Hope, the deceased accompanied his father to Peterborough, where he studied chemistry and after taking the regular course, he graduated with high honours. Sometime ago, he went to Rapid City, Manitoba, to fill a position there as druggist. His death will be learned of by our readers with the keenest regret, and the most heartfelt sympathy will be extended to his father and mother and other members of the family. The deceased was a nephew of Mr. Jas. Evans, Harbor Master."

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 75c. bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

CARD OF THANKS!

GEO. G. HORKINS, Esq., District Manager, Manufacturers' Accident Company, Peterborough.

Dear Sir—Please accept thanks for the prompt manner in which your company paid my claim of $1,050.00 for broken arm under policy 6780. I take much pleasure in recommending your company to any one requiring Accident Insurance.

LADIES! LADIES!

Special Attention.

Ladies, do not be misled by paste-board charts and so-called tailor systems that have a set form of curves and give a box form appearance to all garments; they give the same curve and the same shape for all persons of the same size. We are the original inventors of all seamless garments, and warn all parties not to use them unless using our system, as we will prosecute those that do. We have our Government papers open for public inspection, which prove we are the inventors, so watch out for frauds and copyists. We graduate you with an elegant diploma. We give each scholar for one year free our Paris Fashion Publication, which gives you the latest styles and draftings. Our course is the only complete French course of dress cutting ever given in Canada, and we challenge the world for from $5,000 to $50,000 a side to contest the all-round merits of our system. Those wishing to accept our challenge must deposit their money in the bank, and have the bank notify us of the same, and we will at once cover the amount. Satisfaction guaranteed in all cases; $5.00 testimonials of merit on file for public inspection. Our academy in Toronto, No. 467 Yonge street, is the largest and best in Canada.

$10 Reward—We also offer a $10 Reward for the Crow system people to produce for public inspection any patent or copyright or government papers for their seamless garments as they claim for some years back. Yours truly, Prof. and Mme. O. E. DE LAMORTON & CO., Toronto and New York City, N.Y.

MRS. McCAULLEY, Dress-Maker, No. 125 Brock Street, is sole duly and only authorized representative in Peterborough for teaching our Seamless Garment System.

THE ART OF BUDDING.

The Modus Operandi of This Interesting Operation.

The usefulness of any good variety of fruit may be easily and profitably increased by any farmer by budding which requires little experience and no preparation in advance such as grafting does. Budding may be done in summer while grafting must be done in spring and the scions carefully saved in winter for the grafts. The Stockman and Farmer says upon the subject that budding and grafting, though essentially the same, are different. Grafting is done in spring, budding in the latter part of summer or in fall. Grafting is done by taking a piece of wood—a scion—of the kind to be multiplied and placing it in the wood of the stock. Budding is done by inserting a single bud of the desired variety under the bark of the stock. The stock, it will be understood, is the young tree, or the branch of a tree, which receives the bud, or the scion of whatever fruit is intended to be increased. But though different, budding and grafting are the same in results. They are the same in that the leaves unfolded by the bud or by the scion when the work is successful are the leaves of the identical kind budded or grafted. These leaves make wood and fruit-buds and blossoms and fruit of their own kind. All the stock does in the operation is to supply the life-giving sap. "The scion overruleth the stock quite," as Bacon wrote three hundred years ago.

The right time to bud is when buds approaching maturity can be obtained, and while the bark of the stock still peels freely. This is when growth is nearly completed for the season and while the stock is forming its terminal buds. At this period the layer of new wood under the bark is still soft and in the right condition to receive the bud. And the bark must peel freely. If it begins to adhere only slightly the work will fail. The best place on a stock to put the bud is generally within a few inches of the ground. But when budding is done in the branches of a large tree one's own judgment must direct.

The buds are obtained from scions of the current season's growth. As soon as the scion is cut the leaves are to be cut off all but about a third of an inch of the footstock, this footstock being left to hold the bud by when putting it in place. The best buds are in the middle of the scion, so that the usual way is to cut off and reject a few inches of the immature point, and the same of the butt, the buds on the latter part usually being too small. These prepared "sticks of buds" are to be kept in a damp cloth and a cool place until used. In cutting the scions, it is best to get them from a bearing tree in order to insure accuracy. The budding knife should have a keen edge, a thin blade and a point rounded to nearly the quarter of a circle.

For tying material the best is prepared basswood bark. But woolen yarn does well and also strips of muslin or calico half an inch in width.

When ready for work a smooth place in the stock is selected, and there is (1) an upright incision made clear through the bark. (2) A short horizontal incision is made across the upper end of the first. (3) The bark is then raised by pressing the thin piece of bone—or the point of the knife—against the cut edges with a kind of lifting motion, beginning at the upper end of the incision and proceeding downward, with special care so as not to touch the soft new wood under the bark. This done (4) a bud is cut from the prepared "stick," the knife entering half an inch below the bud and coming out three-quarters or so above it, taking as thin a slice of the wood as may be along with the bud. Some take this thin slice of wood out but it saves time to leave it in and it does just as well, to say nothing about the danger of spoiling the bud in taking it out. (5) The bud is then taken by the piece of footstalk left for the purpose, placed in the upper end of the incision under the bark and pushed gently down to the lower end. If a piece of the bark of the bud projects above the incision it should be cut off, making a neat fit. (6) Tying, to exclude air and moisture, should be done at once, beginning at the lower end and covering all the incision, but leaving out the footstalk and the point of the bud. This completes the operation.

In a week or ten days it may be known if the bud has taken by the piece of footstalk dropping off when touched. If it has dried and sticks fast there is failure. But if the bark still peels freely the work may be repeated, choosing a different place on the stock to make the incision. When successful, the tying may remain about three weeks, unless it begins to cut into the stock by reason of the growth of the latter; in which case untie and immediately replace the tying but not so tight. After untying at the end of the three weeks, nothing more needs to be done until the succeeding spring, when, if the bud is in good condition the stock is to be cut off two or three inches above the bud.

Many doctors treated him, but their treatment, in Mr. Bailey's opinion, made him worse rather than better. His escape from a premature grave was affected by the use of the infallible Dodd's Kidney Pills. Three boxes of these cured completely. USELESS IMPROVEMENT.

John E. Reed Discusses the Subject in The Practical Farmer.

Breeding up by a proper selection of pure bred stock for a cross upon the herds is no more important than the proper care which is just as necessary for their improvement and the ultimate success, which is only possible by it, whether dealing with the pure bred strains or of common herds. John E. Reed in the Practical Farmer says: In a general way it may be said that efforts to improve are judicious and commendable. The man who is satisfied with himself and his surroundings, and who is willing to let things run along as they are, is not likely to be successful. If there is to be progress, or even if a man is to maintain the position which he has already reached, there must be active effort. Drifting takes a man away from the point which it should be his constant aim to reach. The rule above stated applies to farmers as well as to other classes of people. Though their lives are passed in comparative seclusion, there are numerous obstacles to their success. These hindrances must be overcome by active effort, or else there must be a surrender of all reasonable hope of improvement. The farm that is allowed to run itself will produce but little for its owner, and whatever progress is made will be in the direction of a decline. There can be no question that to the farmer, as well to the men in other lines of business, improvement is the very keystone of the arch of success. Yet, strange as it may seem, there are a great many farmers to whom various improvements which they effect prove of no permanent benefit. This is not the fault of the improvements. Neither does it show that the theory which led to their adoption was incorrect. The improvements in themselves are all right, and the theory upon which they are based is without a flaw. The trouble comes from a neglect on the part of the farmer to make the charges which, under the new order of things, are needed to harmonize the various interests and conditions which have been affected by his action. There are various directions in which improvements which should be of great benefit to the farmer are made of no account.

Examples of the failure above described may be seen in almost any farming community. It is not very uncommon for a farmer who has had an old pair of horses, that had become slow and stiff by age, hard work and a lack of any special care, to sell his team and buy a much finer one. For a while all goes well. But in a few months the new horses begin to decline in appearance and efficiency and in a year or two they look nearly as bad as the old team did. The cause of this depreciation in appearance and also in value is apparent to all observers. When the new team was purchased the horses were in good condition. They had been well fed, moderately worked, and care had been taken to protect them from exposure to storms and from extremes of temperature. By these means the animals had been kept in good condition. But when these points were neglected, and the horses were deprived of the care which they had formerly received, they began to gravitate toward the condition of the team which they had superseded. In efforts to improve their dairy stock a large number of farmers fail to secure any permanent success. Perhaps even more farmers fail here than meet with disappointment with their teams. The decline in appearance and value is more quickly seen, and is more sharply marked, than it is with horses. This is especially true when very fine stock is secured to take the place of ordinary animals. When a farmer sells his native cows which are hardy and used to only moderate rations, and in their places obtain a lot of Jerseys which have been highly fed and carefully protected from storms, he gets a very much more valuable class of animals than he had before. But if this is all that he does, the improvement which he has made will be useless. In order to gain any benefit, or even to prevent a loss, from the change which he has made, he must also make a radical improvement in his methods of feeding and caring for the cows. If the Jerseys receive no better food and care than the natives had, they will not give a great return. They cannot yield butter fat without suitable materials from which to make it and, being accustomed to richer food, they cannot use coarse fodder to as good advantage as can stock of a lower grade. Neither can highly bred animals that have been carefully protected from injurious influences endure as much exposure as the hardier native stock is able to withstand without any great discomfort. The one class has been long used to, and now absolutely requires, very careful treatment. The other is capable of very largely looking after itself. There is no question as to which is the better of the two, if the conditions under which they are kept are favorable; but if the animals are to have short rations and little care it will be well to keep those which are already inured to this kind of treatment. The same principle applies to all other classes of domestic animals. Whatever class of animals he keeps it will pay the farmer, and pay him in the most liberal manner, to improve his stock by purchase or breeding, if in addition to this he gives suitable food and care. Otherwise such improvement will be utterly useless. In all parts of the country there is a pressing need of genuine and permanent improvement of the live stock, but there is no call from any quarter for the useless improvement which begins well, but which afterwards fails to comply with the conditions upon which permanent success must depend.

Another Voice From Smith.

Smith, July 7, 1892.

I was troubled with a nasty pain in the back and shoulders for a long time, and had tried several remedies without getting any relief. I thought at first it might be my lungs, as the doctor's say such pains are symptoms of lung trouble coming on, but I was induced to try a bottle of Membray's Kidney and Liver Cure, for sale at Tully's Drug Store, and after taking the second dose I was surprised to find the pains all leaving me. It acted like magic. I never knew anything that acted so quick on man or beast before

ITCHING AND PIN WORMS. PILES

No More Misery.

ITCHING PILES is an exceedingly painful and annoying affection, found alike in the rich and poor, male and female. The principal symptoms are a severe itching, which is worst at night when the sufferer becomes warm in bed. So terrible is the itching that frequently it is impossible to procure sleep. Often the sufferer unconsciously during sleep scratches the parts until they are sore—bleeding and ulcerated, offensive moisture is exuded. Females are particularly afflicted from this disease, causing unbearable irritation and discomfort. These and every other symptom of Itching Piles or irritation in any part of the body are immediately allayed and quickly cured by Chase's Ointment. It will instantly stop itching, heal the sores and ulcers, dry up the moisture.

Dr. Chase's OINTMENT

Gives Instant Relief.

PIN WORMS is an ailment entirely different as to cause from Itching Piles, yet its effects and symptoms are exactly the same. The same intolerable itching; the same creeping, crawling, stinging sensation characterizes both diseases. Chase's Ointment acts like magic. It will at once afford relief from this torment.

ABORTION IN COWS.

The London Times Stock Journal says that at the council meeting of the Royal Agricultural Society last month a detailed report from the special committee on abortion in cattle was submitted. So far as the inquiry had extended, the committee believed that they were justified in making the following recommendations:

(1) For practical purposes and with a view to the adoption of the necessary precautions, the disease should be deemed to be contagious; (2) for the purpose of prevention, strict sanitary precautions, including habitual cleansing and disinfection of places where breeding cows are kept, should be insisted on, and particular attention should be paid to the character of the food and the water with which the animals are supplied; (3) the treatment by the aid of antiseptics is certainly to be recommended, and the evidence which has been already furnished in favor of the use of a solution of bichloride of mercury appears to the committee to justify the advocacy of its general employment in every case where the disease presents itself in a herd. It may be advisable to state that in view of its poisonous nature it is necessary to guard against any injurious consequences arising to pigs or poultry from the careless disposal of the sweepings from the sheds in which this disinfectant has been used; (4) on the question of experiments for the purpose of proving whether or not the disease is of a contagious character, the committee do not feel justified in advising the society to expend a large sum of money in this direction. At the same time it is impossible not to realize that a decision on that point is a matter of very considerable importance, and the committee recommend that an additional sum of £200 be placed at the disposal of the veterinary committee for the purpose of further scientific investigations into the causes of abortion in cattle.

Preparing Plants for Windows.

Much satisfaction is enjoyed by the women folks who are willing to devote a little time and considerable thought to the cultivation of flowers. The preparing of plants for windows for winter is very apt to be overlooked at this season of abundance of flowers. It is because of this neglect that very much of the disappointment so many have arises. Those who do not care to prepare the plants, or neglect to do so, usually depend on plants dug up from the garden when summer is over, on what stray plants in pots happen to be available. It is much better to start at once to get established in pots a lot of nice plants in good assortment, such as are known to be good winter bloomers. Taking the geranium as an illustration, the best results follow the taking of small plants which have been in pots all summer. Without exception, such plants are the best, whether they be geraniums or anything else suitable for winter.

If such plants are not already in pots, dig up from your garden some medium-sized ones, prune the tops back somewhat, to make them bushy and to lessen the risk of harm from transplanting, and then place them in pots a little larger than what will hold the roots comfortably. Do this soon. They should then be placed in a damp, shady place for a while, such as a shaded frame, free from much wind, and be kept well watered. A shed or even a cellar will answer the purpose, as the shade and moisture are badly needed only for a day or two, that the plants may not suffer from the great evaporation. If taken up now and treated in this way, roots are soon made, the plants established and new growth commenced before cool weather comes. Plants already in pots should be shifted into a size larger, shaking from the roots as much of the old soil as possible.

WINDOW-SHADE HINTS.

Always place roller in brackets with shade rolled up.

If the shade is tacked on properly it will hang toward the window.

To fit a shade to a window with inside shutters, measure inside molding next to shutters.

If the spring is too strong, remove roller from brackets with shade rolled up, unroll a few turns and replace.

To strengthen the spring, draw the shade down a few revolutions, remove roller from brackets, roll up shade and replace.

In replacing a window shade that has been torn from the roller, use nothing but one ounce tacks; longer tacks injure the spring.

ILL-FATED SHAMOKIN

The Luke Fidler Disaster Followed by a Terrible Boiler Explosion.

FIVE MEN LOSE THEIR LIVES

Twenty-Seven Boilers Out of a Nest of Thirty-Six Explode in Rapid Succession—The Explosions Came Suddenly, Burying the Men in the Ruins.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Oct. 12.—A terrible boiler explosion occurred at Henry Clay shaft yesterday. Three dead bodies have been taken from the debris. Thomas Carr, married; William Boyle, married, and William Eslick, single. William McLaughlin and J. J. Dediam died after being conveyed home. Six men were injured, two fatally.

At the time of the accident there was, as far as known, seven men around the boiler house. Nobody seems to be able to give a correct statement as to the cause of the explosions. Without a moment's warning the last boiler on the west side of the nest went up and it was followed by the others in rapid succession. The workmen were knocked in every direction, and what had been but a few minutes before a strong corrugated iron building disappeared as if by magic, and all that remained was a tumbling mass of bricks and timber, besides numerous pieces of twisted pipe and battered boiler iron.

The nine remaining boilers were so injured that they will never be used. Pieces of heavy steel were carried hundreds of yards while half of a boiler was found over a quarter of a mile up the mountain. The terrific report was heard for miles and it was scarcely a minute before many of the employes of the colliery were upon the scene of devastation and at once set to work to liberate the men under the debris.

Fireman Dichanstin is internally hurt besides having several fractured bones and it is feared he cannot recover. Peter Heck was knocked senseless by flying bricks. His scalp is badly torn and he is severely bruised.

The disaster, coupled with the calamity on Tuesday at the Luke Fidler shaft, has plunged the city into mourning. The accident happened at 7.30 o'clock, a defective boiler exploding and causing 27 others out of a nest of 36 to blow out of their nesting places. One was hurled a quarter of a mile, while others were blown in all directions, some lodging against the breaker, and the slate pickers narrowly escaped death. The breaker was working at the time and the escapes were many and thrilling.

The explosion occurred just after the coal company had started to work. The men who were killed and injured were standing around the boilers, getting warm. The explosion came without the slightest warning. First one boiler went up and the others followed almost together. The report of the explosion was heard for miles. The big boiler house and several adjoining building, the blacksmith shop and storehouse were wrecked.

The boilers had become greatly weakened by the mine water that was used during the drought last summer.

The colliery is operated by the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company and is the best equipped plant of that company in this region. The pecuniary loss is $100,000. Sixteen hundred men and boys are thrown out of employment.

Another Fatal Explosion.

DEXTER, Me., Oct. 12.—The boiler in D. H. Hodge's saw and grist mill, 20 miles northeast of Dexter, exploded, killing the two Johnson brothers and a young man named Wilkinson.

Attempt on a Soubrette's Life.

BUFFALO, Oct. 12.—Eunice Vance, the soubrette, who was recently reported as being engaged to a Toronto gentleman, son of a prominent clergyman of that city, while driving in the park with her maid was shot at by one of two men who drove rapidly past the carriage in which Miss Vance was seated. The facts were at once reported to the police but the soubrette's assailants escaped.

Loss of the Majella and Crew.

PROVIDENCE, R.I., Oct. 12.—The flat-bottomed steamer Majella, owned by W. C. Caswell, of Narragansett Pier, lies bottom up on the coast between Matunack Beach and Point Judith. She foundered in the gale and her crew of six men went down with her.

Convicts Effect Their Escape.

ASHEVILLE, N.C., Oct. 12.—Nine prisoners escaped from Madison county jail at Marshall last night, among them George and William Cody, sentenced to hang for burglary, and George Roberts and George Hensley, indicted for murder.

A. R. U. Men Indicted.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 12.—Twenty-five railway men, including Eugene V. Debs, president of the American Railway Union, have been indicted by the United States grand jury here.

THE RULING MARKETS.

TORONTO, Oct. 12, 1894.

The Grand Trunk elevators at Sarnia are blocked with grain and there are no cars available to relieve the glut.

On the street here 200 bushels of wheat sold at 53 cents for white and 51 1-2 for red; 1,200 of barley at 45 to 49 1-2; 300 of oats at 32 to 32 1-2, and one load of peas at 58. Outside prices were unchanged.

At Buffalo barley remains steady but there is no particular demand at holder's prices. Malsters here say they do not need barley now and will not purchase till January; the few sales reported from time to time are for outsiders. Receipts continue to be heavy and shipments moderate.

After petering out day by day since Monday, the grain trade in Chicago practically collapsed. Vessel agents reported that not a bushel of any kind of grain was offered for shipment.

At the East Buffalo live stock market the offers were 20 cars, including 7 cars of Canadas. All the latter were sold, some selling up to $4.30, top price for a week, but most of the choice 85 lb. lambs sold at $4.25 per cwt. Market closing steady with a few lots of rather common lambs unsold.

London was responsible for the strong opening at the New York stock exchange, the foreigners having turned purchasers of Louisville and Nashville, St. Paul and other of their favorites. The government crop report had no influence on the market as the general opinion is that the bureau of agriculture has underestimated both the yield of corn and wheat. Towards the close a firmer tone prevailed, owing to the somewhat weaker condition of sterling exchange.

THE CONCERT A GREAT SUCCESS

A Programme Combining Many Interesting Features.

The St. Joan's South Ward Mission building was filled to the doors last night on the occasion of the holding of the concert under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid.

The programme which was presented was an interesting one, the chief feature being a cymbalette drill by eight little girls dressed as representing Italians. The costume was a pretty one, consisting of blue skirt, white waist and scarlet jacket, the skirt and jacket being liberally adorned with gold braid and trimmings. The drill was conducted under the supervision of Sergt-Major Rundle, and the little girls who participated were Pearl Landy, Alice Barlow, Lillian Rush, Sybil Stethem, Katie Green, Edna Ackerman, Mary Push and Ethel White.

The renditions of the Harmony Club were greatly appreciated, as were the recitations of that tiny and talented little elocutionist, Miss Lola Ostrom. Mrs. Stapleton kindly contributed several vocal selections to the evening's entertainment.

The chair was occupied during the evening by Rev. Mr. Pickford, who, before opening the programme, addressed a few words of kindly welcome to the many present.

A FEW HINTS ON KEEPING POULTRY.

On the 1st of October, 1893, I had fifteen hens and one rooster, and I thought I would keep an account of how much it would cost to keep them for one year, and also the number of eggs they would produce in a year. I kept a strict account and found at the end of the year that they had cost $15.25, which would be 95 5-16 cts. per hen and that the fifteen hens had layed 2,330 eggs, which would be an average of 155 5-15 per hen. I value the eggs at one cent each, which would be $23 30 for the whole. Being an average of $1.55 5-15 per hen, which gives a profit of sixty cents per hen, being $8.05 cents on the whole. If any poultry men, who read your valuable paper, can show a better record than the above, I would like to hear from them.

Yours etc.,
THOMAS PASCOE.

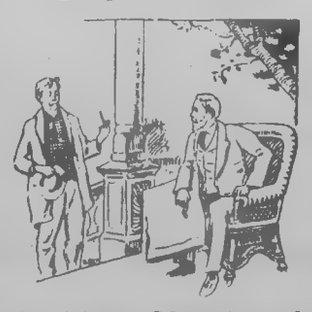
COLD SPRINGS—OTONABEE.

Football Match.

(From Our Own Correspondent.

On Saturday afternoon, Oct. 13th, at 3 o'clock, the Cold Spring's football club is to play an Association match with the Peterborough club, in Riverside Park. As there are some good players in both clubs, an interesting game is expected. All lovers of this healthful game should not fail to be on hand. Play is to start at 3 o'clock sharp.

An Experienced Gardener.



"Yes, it is true—I do want a gardener; but have you ever had any experience?"

"Yessir. I've read about gardens, an' I've worked in gardens."

"What garden have you worked in?"

"I was sweeper in the Madison Square Gardens, sir, during the horse show, sir."—Harper's Weekly.

The Danger Signal.

"Jim told me to give him some signal if father was in the house; this ought to satisfy him. I guess he knows what this means."

A Great Preponderance.

Tom DeWitt—Eighteen seventy-five must have been a great year for girls.

Kitty Winslow—I don't see——

Tom DeWitt—Oh, I was merely wondering how it happened so many more girls were born that year than any other.

Kitty Winslow—How do you know there were?

Tom DeWitt—Why, every girl I have met this summer has been just 19.—Life.

ONTARIO C. E. CONVENTION.

The Treasurer's Report—Officers Elected for the Year.

KINGSTON, Oct. 12.—The third session of the Ontario Christian Endeavor convention was opened with a sunrise prayer meeting led by C. K. Callahan, Lindsay. The fourth session followed with devotional exercises led by Rev. J. L. George, M.A., Belleville. G. Tower Ferguson, Toronto, general secretary, read his annual report. H. W. Barker, treasurer of the provincial union, reported that the total subscriptions received during the year with the balance on hand at date of last convention amounted to $436.49, which amount has been disbursed in the carrying on of the business of the union.

The nominating committee proceeded to choose officers for the ensuing year, the understanding being that the list recommended would be accepted by the convention without question. In most cases ballots were taken. The following was the final result: President, G. Tower Ferguson of Toronto; vice-presidents, Rev. George Munro, Mr. George Best, Mr. Geo. Mills, jr., and Rev. A. F. McGregor, general secretary, Mr. Thomas Morris, jr. No statistical secretary was chosen, the office being merged in that of general secretary-treasurer, Mr. W. H. Doherty; editor, Rev. J. A. R. Dickson; superintendent of junior work, C. J. Atkinson; councillors, Mr. W. R. Harris, Rev. Wm. Johnston and Rev. Ray R. Smith.

After a brisk contest between Brantford and Hamilton as the place of meeting next year Brantford was selected.

The Anglican Endeavor rally was held in St. George's hall this morning. About 250 delegates are in the city.

Arresting Land Agents for Perjury.

GUTHRIE, O.T., Oct. 12.—Charles W. Garland, a prominent politician, was arrested on a charge of perjury in a land case. For a month or more from one to three residents of the territory have been arrested daily on the same charge. Fully two hundred indictments are now pending in the United States court for the said crime, and about 50 persons have been sentenced to the penitentiary, all for committing perjury in attempting to secure homesteads under the present land laws.

Foundered in Lake Ontario.

UTICA, N.Y., Oct. 12.—A special from Adams says that an unknown three masted schooner foundered in Lake Ontario, five miles south of the Sandy Creek life-saving station yesterday noon. She was loaded with wheat. Two of her masts and other wreckage have come ashore but nothing to identify her. The vessel was one and one-half miles from shore when she went down. The gale was very heavy on the lakes yesterday.

A Kentucky Mail Robber Arrested.

WINDSOR, Oct. 12.—Chief Wills and Officer Honey have arrested Edmond Chittenden. He is wanted at Lexington, Ky., on a charge of robbing the United States mails. He had a hearing there and was liberated on $1,000 bail. He is 23 years of age and his family is one of the most influential in Kentucky. He admits robbing the mails two months while a mail clerk and since then has been a fugitive from justice.

Daniel Campbell Dismissed.

CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—Daniel Campbell, ex-member of the Canadian Parliament, and formerly postmaster under the same government, was dismissed in Justice Bradwell's court after being held eleven days on a charge of embezzlement. No evidence was obtained against defendant, and it was claimed that a police magistrate had no jurisdiction over his case had there been evidence.

To be a Current Half Dollar.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—The Chicago souvenir coin of the World's Fair is to become a current half dollar. It was at one time supposed that these coins would command fancy prices as souvenirs, but this expectation was not realized.

Convention of St. Andrews Brotherhood.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—The ninetieth annual convention of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew began here yesterday. Twelve hundred delegates are present, representing Scotland, Canada and nearly every state in the Union.

Outrages by the Kaffirs.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—A despatch received at the Foreign Office from the British consul at Lourenzo, Maquez, says the Kaffirs have entered the outskirts of that port, burned a number of houses and murdered 17 persons.

A Glenelg Young Lady Killed.

DURHAM, Ont., Oct. 12.—Miss Kate Black, daughter of Mr. Neil Black of Glenelg township, was instantly killed while driving home with her brother-in-law, Mr. Patrick Sullivan. On going down a pretty steep hill the neck yoke gave way causing the horses to run away and upsetting the rig. Miss Black was instantly killed, while her sister, Mrs. Sullivan, had her jaw broken.

Hamilton Carries the T., H. & B. By-Law.

HAMILTON, Oct. 12.—Voting took place here yesterday on a by-law to grant $225,000 bonus to the Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo Railway. The by-law was carried by 279 majority. The figures are: For the by-law, 2,370; against, 2,091.

PERILS OF THE DEEP

The Recent Storm the Worst Experienced for Many Years.

MANY VESSELS WERE WRECKED

The Schooner Hartford Went Down With Eight Persons on Board—Schooner's Crew Rescued From a Raft—A Captain and Steward Drowned.

OSWEGO, N.Y., Oct. 13.—The great storm which wrought so much damage up and down the eastern coast on Wednesday night, switched its tail around on to the lakes with disastrous results. A vessel, supposed to be the schooner Hartford, from Detroit to Cape Vincent, with 20,000 bushels of wheat, was driven ashore in Mexico bay. Her crew of seven is supposed to be all lost. The vessel went to pieces. The body of a child was washed ashore this morning, which would indicate that the captain's family must have been on board. The captain was William O'Toole, of Clayton, N.Y., and he was a part owner of the vessel.

DETROIT, Oct. 13.—The schooner Hartford, which was wrecked near Oswego, left this port Saturday with a cargo of 22,000 bushels of wheat shipped by Lapham & Co. The wheat was insured for $13,000. The vessel was valued at $4,500. She was owned by Captain O'Toole and a couple of partners. She carried a crew of seven—captain, mate, cook and four seamen. Mrs. O'Toole was the cook and she had her baby with her. The number of persons drowned is eight.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Oct. 13.—The schooner Silver Wave, from Weymouth for Fall River, was towed into port in a very delapidated condition by the schooner Gladys Slocumb from Bridgewater. The Silver Wave was out in Wednesday night's gale, and both fore and main mast, heads and all her rigging were gone, while the jib-boom was broken off and hung down by some of the gear. All hands report that they never want to experience such a night again.

BOSTON, Oct. 13.—The schooner Yulan, from Machiasms for Boston, lumber laden, was abandoned in the gale off That her's Island on Wednesday morning, a complete wreck. Capt. Garnet and the crew were rescued after a terrible experience on a raft. The schooner split open and turned bottom up. The crew were standing on the deck load of lumber and when the vessel went over they slid away from her and secured enough of the rigging to lash the boards together. Capt. Garnet tied his flannel shirt to a stick and used it as a signal. This was finally seen by the barque Hudson, of New York, which rescued the men.

FAIRPORT, N. Y., Oct. 13.—The schooner Columbian went ashore on Frenchy's flat, half a mile east of here, in the furious storm. The life-saving crew went to the wreck and rescued the crew from the stranded vessel. The Columbian is light and bound from Lorain to Cleveland. She measured 356 gross tons and was built in Green Bay in 1864.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—The Norwegian bark Adele Hansen, Captain Hansen, from Newcastle, N. B., September 15, arrived at Queenstown with the crew of the Norwegian bark Ethiopian, Captain Evensen, from St. Thomas, Que., September 17, for Cork. The Ethiopian was abandoned as a derelict and her crew, with the exception of the second mate, who was drowned on September 30, were rescued by the Adele Hansen.

BOSTON, Oct. 13.—The schooner Janie Lippitt arrived from Philadelphia with a part of the crew of the schooner Laura V. Rose aboard, having rescued them from their water-logged vessel. Capt. Leeds and steward Briggs were washed overboard and lost.

Suicide of a Montreal Millionaire.

MONTREAL, Oct. 13.—W. R. Elmenhorst, president of the St. Lawrence Sugar Refinery Company, Montreal, committed suicide by shooting himself with a revolver at his residence here yesterday. W. R. Elmenhorst was one of the richest men in Montreal. He went in the back of his stable and put a bullet through his head. The reason assigned by the family for the rash act is nervous prostration. Elmenhorst, nothwithstanding his heavy losses during the past and present year, was still a millionaire.

The T. H. and B. Contract Awarded.

BRANTFORD, Oct. 13.—The contract for building the T. H. and B. Railway from Cainsville (three miles east of Brantford) to Hamilton has been awarded to Brasey & Co., Chicago. The contractors agree to have grading completed by December 5th, 1894. The rails are procured from the Caunnell Co., Maryport, England, and are guaranteed of best quality. The ties are now at Courtright ready to ship. The track will be a single track to Hamilton and a double track from Hamilton to Welland.

Suicide at Chatham.

CHATHAM, Ont., Oct. 13.—The body of Joseph Laird, a carpenter living on concession 4, M. C. R., Harwich, was found hanging by the neck from the ceiling of his house. Deceased was a bachelor and lived alone. It is supposed he had become despondent and committed suicide.

The Death of an Aeronaut.

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., Oct. 13.—The coroner's jury investigating the death of Charles Marble, alias Ray, the aeronaut, who lost his life here by falling into the Fraser river with his balloon, rendered a verdict that death was caused by drowning and that no one was to blame.

UNITY OF THE EMPIRE

Imperial Federation Discussed by the London Daily News.

THE LEAGUE BEGAN WRONG

Imperial Unity Must Emanate From the Masses—Courses of Lectures to Be Delivered—Possibilities of a Plan in Sympathy With the Working Classes.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—The Daily News comments on a prospectus of a scheme for promoting imperial federation. The scheme, which was formulated by a body of public men headed by Sir John Seeley, includes a proposal that courses of lectures on the expediency of imperial federation be delivered in all the large towns of the United Kingdom and the colonies.

"This is an excellent plan," says the News, "and appeals to all classes. Many of the lectures will be especially designed for workingmen's clubs. As yet no detailed plan of federation has been prepared, but such a one will be formulated by degrees after full discussion. The promoters regard certain principles as necessary to the bond of union, primarily the continuance of our maritime supremacy as the mainstay of our commerce."

After remarking that the new scheme means the resumption of the labors of the Imperial Federation League the News continues: "The latter began at the wrong end, namely, with men of light leading, and excluding the masses. It was soon captured by private interests, especially the reciprocity men whose fad is merely protection writ small. Sir Charles Tupper struck the league a fatal blow when he wrote that its main purpose was to levy large contributions on the colonies to support the mother country's army and navy. This was not true, and Sir Charles afterward admitted his error, but the mischief was done.

"Imperial unity can never emanate from the learned political doctors. It must derive its first impulse from the sentiments and aspirations of the whole people, we may almost say the whole race, for Mr. Carnegie's generous utterance of a larger hope should not be forgotten. The people must wish for unity before unity can be anything more than a mere transaction in statecraft.

"If the promoters succeed in firing the whole working class with enthusiasm, the idea will soon be in the domain of practical politics. It is a crusade of love and trust and race pride that is to be preached. No series of political alliances will be negotiated as it is. There is something disheartening in the aloofness of our great imperial masses from one another, arising from their ignorance of one another's personal pursuits and habits of thought. To thousands of us Canada and Australia and the Cape are merely places on the map, associated with the conception of higher wages and cheap mutton. Any feeling of real brotherhood and common origin, common destinies and a great patrimony of rights and duties is unknown. We must change all that."

U.S. STAMP ROBBERIES.

Systematic Stealing in the Printing Bureau—Government Employes Implicated.

WASHINGTON, Ont. 13.—The stamp robbery at the bureau of engraving and printing turns out to be much larger than at first suspected. Instead of one package containing 50,000 two cent stamps, it is now believed that over 200,000 and possibly 250,000 stamps of various denominations are missing. Postmasters in all parts of the country, it is thought, have received fewer stamps than they ordered and failed to notice the deficiency. When their quarterly reports are made up these shortages may be found.

The stealing has been going on for thirty days and seems to have been the result of a plot. William B. Smith, formerly of Plainfield, N.J., and George W. Longstreet, who were employed in the stamp department of the bureau of engraving and printing, are under arrest and detectives are looking for Wm. A. Beach who was until recently employed in a hotel billiard room in this city and a man whose name is believed to be Simmerslitz.

Both men left Washington on Wednesday for the purpose of selling stamps. Smith has made a proposition to the authorities to turn state's evidence and make a full confession if they would sign a paper guaranteeing him protection. He said he would implicate government employes much higher than himself. He was told that such protection could not be granted. The authorities are at a loss what to make of Smith's offer as he has told many conflicting stories since his arrest.

Trevelyan Addresses Glasgow Liberals.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—Sir George Trevelyan, Secretary for Scotland, addressed the Liberals of Glasgow last evening. He said the last parliamentary session proved that the country would be better off without a House of Lords. The majority of people against popular measures was so overwhelming that there was no prospect of the Liberals carrying out their business before the Upper House should be reformed. The hostility between the two houses had become open and permanent.

Spinners Strike Settled.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Oct. 13.—The spinners strike was settled yesterday. The following proposition was accepted: That the spinners return to work under a reduction of 5 per cent. If the margin holds at 85 cents as at present for 60 days the other five will be restored. If it declines to 66 cents or below the 5 per cent. will be increased to 10 per cent. reduction.

Vice-President Howard Robbed.

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—Vice-President G. W. Howard, of the A. R. U., who, next to President Debs, was the most aggressive enemy of the railroads, was robbed of a pocketbook containing about forty annual passes on the largest railway systems in the country while taking a ride on an electric car with Debs yesterday.

Prince Yamashina in New York.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Prince Yamashina, of Japan, arrived here by steamer Augusta Victoria. He will remain in town for a few days and will probably visit Washington before proceeding to San Francisco whence he will take a steamer for Japan.

PARKDALE'S MYSTERY

Coroner's Inquest on the Murder of Young Frank Westwood.

EVIDENCE OF THE WITNESSES

Nothing is Brought Out Which Throws Any Light on This Extraordinary Case—The Boy's Father Testifies—Inquest Adjourned Till Monday.

TORONTO, Oct. 13.—The curtain was rung up on another act in Parkdale's tragic drama last evening when the inquest into the cause of the death of Frank B. Westwood was opened at No. 6 police station.

The inquiry took place before Coroner Orr and a jury composed of residents of the West End. A host of witnesses, police officers and newspaper men were present, and, as some interesting, not to say startling developments were expected, half the people of the classic suburb were in the vicinity of the station where the enquete was in progress, and there was a strong current of suppressed excitement running through the assembly.

The witnesses were numerous, and among them were several members of the Westwood family and a number of prominent Parkdalians.

Dr. Griffin was first sworn. He had nothing of importance to tell, except that Frank Westwood had called upon him about 8.15 Saturday evening and secured a prescription for a slight kidney trouble. After the shooting the victim had told him that he did not know who shot him. He knew deceased intimately but had not the slightest knowledge of anything which might account for the shooting in any way.

Mr. Westwood, father of the murdered boy, had practically nothing new to tell, his evidence being in detail almost the same as already published. Frank's first words to him after the shooting he could not remember at all. The boy had assured him that he had not the slightest idea who shot him. Frank had said he knew of not a single person who had a spite against him. The family relations all around were of the most cordial character. His, Mr. Westwood's, revolver was the only one in the house and was a 44 calibre of the bulldog pattern. He had not the slightest idea of any reason why any person should shoot any member of the family.

Mr. Westwood's examination was long and exhaustive, occupying considerably over an hour.

Police Sergt. Hert, of No. 6, and other officers gave evidence, which, however, showed nothing more important than the fact that the police protection was totally inadequate, there being only two policemen south of Queen street and west of Strachan avenue.

Mrs. Rice, of 17 Starr avenue, repeated in substance the story she had previously given to the press. A queer fact which she stated was that the first shot was very much the louder of the two.

The medical evidence elicited nothing having an important bearing on the case. Dr. Caven read the formal report of the doctors who made the post-mortem. The bullet was found near the backbone, pointing downward. It had travelled diagonally downward, but in the opinion of the doctor this amounted to nothing, as bullets are very easily deflected. The bullet was a 38 calibre, rim fire, as near as could be judged.

Mrs. Card, of Jamieson avenue, repeated the story she had previously told of a young man who had preceded her down that street about 11 o'clock on the night of the shooting. He wore a fawn overcoat and a derby hat, was of medium height, had dark hair and a sallow complexion and smoothly shaven face. She saw this man enter the grounds of Lakeside Hall—of this she was positive. Her young son heard a pistol shot a few minutes later, but she did not. She was positive it was not Frank Westwood who entered the gate.

A number of witnesses were examined whose evidence amounted to nothing.

The evidence of Miss Card was in some respects contradictory of her mother's, but still the Crown attaches some importance to the latter's story.

Miss Cora Wesley's story seemed to indicate that the young man who wore the fawn overcoat was Frank Westwood. She knew the murdered boy well, having been out with him several times, but she had not been with him since March last.

Miss Wesley's sister swore positively that the man she saw had a dark overcoat on. She had also been out with Frank Westwood, but not during the past summer.

Shortly before midnight the inquest was adjourned until Monday evening.

Unveiling the Macdonald Monument.

TORONTO, Oct. 13.—The unveiling of the monument erected in Queen's Park to the memory of Sir John A. Macdonald takes place to-day and will be performed by the Right Hon. Sir John Thompson and speeches will be delivered by himself and the Hon. Sir Adolphe Caron, Hon. G. W. Ross, M.P.P., Hon. Mackenzie Bowell and Hon. Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper. The school children will be addressed by Hon. J. C. Patterson, Minister of Militia and Defence, and Mr. R. S. Baird, chairman of the Public School Board, from a special platform to the right of the statue, and shortly before the opening of the ceremonies.

A Well Known Lake Captain Dead.

TORONTO, Oct. 13.—Captain Thomas Harbottle, steamboat inspector of the Customs Department, expired suddenly in his office yesterday. Captain Harbottle was one of the best known lake captains prior to accepting the post of steamboat inspector. He was the father of Capt. J. K. Harbottle, of the Chicora, and grandfather of the well-known bicyclist. At the time he was seized with the epileptic fit he was just walking through the door of his office. Medical aid was summoned but he died before the doctor arrived.

PRESIDENT OF THE I. T. U.

W. B. Prescott Re-elected to the Position for the Fourth Term.

LOUISVILLE, Mo., Oct. 13.—W. B. Prescott has been re-elected President of the International Typographical Union. This is the fourth term for Mr. Prescott as the chief executive of the organization.

He was first elected when he attended the Boston session in 1890 as a delegate from Toronto Union, No. 91, of which he was a member for a number of years, and has thus had the affairs of the union in charge during the most trying time in the history of that body.

James Reid, of Toronto, has been elected organizer for Ontario, in place of Geo. W. Dower, who has held the position for the past year.

AN IMPORTANT INCIDENT AT A COUNTRY AUCTION SALE.

Quite recently a country store stock was sold off by auction in lots to suit purchasers.

The sale, which had been well advertised by circulars issued throughout the country, drew a large crowd of sturdy farmers and their good wives; the bidding was fast and spirited, and good prices were realized for all useful and staple goods.

Amongst the vast variety of articles put up for sale were two lots of packing dyes for household dyeing. The auctioneer announced that he would first dispose of the "Diamond Dyes," goods that every farmer and farmer's wife knew well and favourably. The women, being most interested in these goods, did the bidding, and in ten minutes time, some six gross of the "Diamond Dyes" were sold to anxious buyers.

The other dyes were then brought forward, and introduced by some oriental name. Said the auctioneer: "I give you the name of these dyes, but I know little about their manufacture or qualities; come, give me a bid, any price."

There was no response—not a bid to encourage the auctioneer's heart. Seeing that time was being lost, and anxious to get rid of these dyes at any price, the auctioneer, in a joking way, said: "You surely want your garden fences and barns painted; if these dyes are not good enough to colour your dresses, shawls, jackets, coats, silks and ribbons, they will surely do for common wood painting."

The idea was a novel one—it was a revelation—and seemed to meet with the favor of a few, and for a small price, the entire stock of worthless dyes designated by a high sounding name, was sold to one farmer, who was heartily laughed at.

There is a most important moral to be deduced from the results of the auction sale just referred to. The moral taught is that poor and worthless dyes, wherever sold, are dear at at any price—even when used for common fence painting.

The "Diamond Dyes" are well known, popular and always reliable; they sell everywhere and under all circumstances, and give wonderful results in restoring to beauty and usefulness old and faded articles of wearing apparel. "Diamond Dyes" save many dollars each year in every farmer's home.

A Passenger Train Held Up.

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 13.—The northern bound passenger train on the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac railroad was held up near Quantico. The engineer and fireman were forced from their engine and the engine cut loose and sent ahead. The express car was then entered, the messengers covered with pistols and the safe robbed.

At the Mercy of the Kaffirs.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—A despatch from Capetown to the Times says that Lourenzo Marques, on Delagoa Bay, is in a complete stage of siege and would be at the mercy of the Kaffirs should they attack it. Guns have been mounted in the streets and barricades have been erected. One hundred and seventy Portugese marines are on guard.

"HAZING" AT KINGSTON.

Investigation Into the Charges Against the Senior Cadets.

KINGSTON, Oct. 13.—At the investigation held at the Royal Military College into the alleged hazing of Cadet Plummer, his father moved two separate charges against one Rennet, said to be the leader of those guilty of practices, which at the first sitting were so far proven that they were accepted by the authorities as a full justification for young Plummer's absence without leave. He is now at home on leave, pending the completion of his formal discharge, for which his father has applied.

It is understood that the charges will be fully investigated by the authorities who are determined to put down the evil practices of which Mr. Plummer has complained. During the investigation enough was developed to show that the treatment of the junior cadets, particularly the recruits, by the seniors is open to very serious objection.

Eastern Press Association.

CARLETON PLACE, Ont., Oct. 13.—The Eastern Press Association met here and although not very largely attended the meeting was a very pleasant and profitable one. There were two sessions, morning and afternoon, the sittings being held in the hall over the Central Canadian office. It was decided to reduce the limits of the association to that formerly covered by the Ottawa Valley Press Association and to adopt the old name. The officers elected were: President, W. J. A. Macdonald, Arnprior Chronicle; 1st Vice-President, W. H. Allen, Carleton Place Herald; Secretary-Treasurer, James Macleod, Almonte Gazette; Executive Committee, G. F. McKimm, Rideau Record, Smith's Falls; W. W. Cliff, Carleton Place Central Canadian; W. H. Bone, Pembroke Standard; W. E. Smallfield, Renfrew Mercury: W. T. Walker, Perth Courier. The following were elected honorary members: J. C. Jamieson, Belleville; J. Pollard, Napanee; T. Shannon, Kingston; T. Southworth, Brockville; B. Lane, Winchester. The date fixed for the next meeting is the second Friday in June 1895, at Carleton Place.

SEVENTEEN YEARS OF IT.

Charles Schryver had Kidney Disease all This Time and Didn't Know it—How he Found Out and How he was Cured.

TORONTO, Oct. 1.—Sixteen years ago kidney disease attacked Charles Schryver, a bricklayer in this city, but he did not know it. It showed itself in the form of pains in the small of the back. They did not amount so much at first, but kept growing worse. Within the past six years Mr. Schryver has almost every week had to quit work for one or two days on account of their severity. Doctors ascribed them to the liver and other causes and prescribed, but their medicine did no good. Last spring a city physician diagnosed the case as one of diabetes and wanted to prescribe, but Mr. Schryver said:—"No, if its diabetes I'll use Dodd's Kidney Pills, which I know will cure me." They did cure him, too, and to-day Mr. Schryver is free from ache or pain and able to do his day's work, week in and week out, with any man in his trade.

Consumption—Low Condition
Wonderful Results From Taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Miss Hannah Wyatt
Toronto, Ont.

"Four years ago while in the old country (England), my daughter Hannah was sent away from the hospital, in a very low condition with consumption of the lungs and bowels, and weak action of the heart. The trip across the water to this country seemed to make her feel better for a while. Then she began to get worse, and for 14 weeks she was unable to get off the bed. She grew worse for five months and lost the use of her limbs and lower part of body, and if she sat up in bed had to be propped up with pillows. Physicians

Said She Was Past All Help

and wanted me to send her to the 'Home for Incurables.' But I said as long as I could hold my hand up she should not go. We then began

FRATERNAL ASSESSMENT LIABILITY.

"Can't I get out when I please, and have no liability?"

Most people expect "yes" for an answer to this question, when they say they are members of an assessment insurance society, and begin to think of their responsibilities as such. It is important for them to know that they cannot escape liability; because every member, no matter when he drops out, is liable for any deficiencies that may arise in future, if they were developed during his membership. Here is an instance:

The United Masonic Benefit Association of Missouri was some years ago an active and apparently prosperous assessment concern. It provided no reserve, but offered low rates, cheap insurance, and seemingly hoped that new blood would make up for increasing mortality resulting from increasing age. By and bye its forces began to fall off, not enough "new blood" came in, and the cost of membership ran up in a very uncomfortable way. Presently the healthier lives began to feel their burden pressing heavily and steadily left the ranks, until so few were left in the association that the assessments amounted to $140—one hundred and forty dollars—on each certificate. The remaining members refused to pay such a sum, and the concern failed. But there were unpaid death claims for a large amount due, and the State Superintendent of Insurance thought they ought to be paid. So he began suits at law against individual members to enforce payment of the assessments against them; the court has decided that they must pay. The feelings of those who are thus compelled to pay what they never expected have undergone a change with respect to assessment insurance.

Replying to some enquiries which had been made upon this point of liability, and citing this case illustration of what may be expected in any similar case which might be pressed to suit, the Insurance Monitor says: "The decision referred to answers our question which has been debated whether the member's liability is limited to sums which he may choose to pay; in, other words, whether he can get out when he pleases without further harm. This he cannot do. Every member, no matter when he may drop out, is liable for any deficiencies which may crop up in future, resulting during his membership. The only safe course for parties that apprehend breakers ahead is to drop their membership before the breakers are reached; and the misfortune of this course is that the faster they drop, the faster the association drives towards the breakers."

There seems to be only one course open for the prudent man who may be determined to avoid possible liability; that is to keep out of such associations entirely and buy his insurance of the regular companies.—Monetary Times.

A Wonderful Deliverance from Suffering.

Could Not Turn In Bed or Walk Without Help.

Paine's Celery Compound the great Medicine that has Rescued Thousands in the Past, Cures Mrs. Vince.

MRS. M. J. VINCE, BARRIE, ONT.

From day to day the people of Canada loudly praise the marvellous powers of Paine's Celery Compound. Physicians know well that there is but one medicine in the world that can grapple with Sciatica, Rheumatism, and all the troubles that lead on to these dreadful diseases.

Hundreds have been cured by Nature's great nerve medicine, Paine's Celery Compound, after having been discharged from hospitals as incurable. We can show the people the records of the cures, and the cured ones are well known in their several districts. No other medicine can show such records, simply because other remedies have not the curing virtue needed by the suffering and the afflicted.

If you suffer, dear reader, or have suffering friends, we would utter a few words of warning. Do not be talked into mixtures of pills that will only prolong your months of agony and suffering. Insist upon getting Paine's Celery Compound; with it, you are sure to banish your pains and troubles.

Hundreds of people in Barrie, Ont., know of Mrs. M. J. Vince, and her happy release from suffering through the use of Paine's Celery Compound.

The Rev. Mr. McGrath, Episcopal Minister, of Barrie, vouches for the lady's statements.

Mrs. Vince writes as follows:—

"I am happy to say that I have taken Paine's Celery Compound with great results. I had sciatica so badly that I could not turn in bed, or walk without help, and for a period of three weeks, was helplessly laid up and suffered pain that at times was unbearable."

"I tried many medicines, but all in vain. I was afterwards recommended to try Paine's Celery Compound. I used six bottles and was entirely cured, and enjoy good health. I take great pleasure in recommending the valuable medicine that cured me.

Trade in the Dominion.

MONTREAL, Oct. 18.—Trade is fairly active throughout the Dominion, though a slackening in demand is noted from September activity. Groceries are in better demand here and the export apple trade is very large here and at Halifax. Profitable returns are hoped for. Mild weather in the Maritime Provinces checks the demand for heavy goods. Bank clearings at Hamilton, Toronto, Montreal and Halifax aggregate $20,260,000, a decrease of 4.04 per cent. from last week, but an increase of 5 per cent. over last year. There were 37 failures reported from the Dominion of Canada this week, compared with 40 last week, 32 a year ago, and 36 two years ago.

The Trial of the Conductors.

MONTREAL, Oct. 19.—The case of the Grand Trunk conductors charged with defrauding the company by "knocking down" fares was continued yesterday, when W. Brown, of Toronto, who acted as a spotter with Wallace, was examined and corroborated Wallace's evidence. Brown said he and Wallace had been paid by the Grand Trunk to work up the case and they had come to Montreal for that purpose. After some unimportant evidence the further hearing was adjourned until next Thursday.

North Bruce Patrons.

TARA, Ont., Oct. 13.—At the Patron's convention for North Bruce held here yesterday Mr. P. L. Potts, ex-reeve of the township of Arran, was made the unanimous choice of the convention as a candidate for the next Dominion election. It will be remembered when Mr. McCarthy held a meeting here a year ago Mr. Potts was chosen as the candidate by the McCarthyites. He is also a P. P. A. and formerly a Conservative. His prospects are considered good.

Bold Escape From Whitby Jail.

WHITBY, Oct. 13.—Last evening when locking up the prisoners for the night in the county jail here turnkey Alex. Bruce was nearly killed by Geo. Arnold, a prisoner from Oshawa recently committed to jail for 3 months for theft by Judge Dartnell. While Bruce's back was turned Arnold snatched a ring of heavy keys from Bruce and attacked him furiously, beating him into insensibility. Arnold then leisurely dressed and made his escape.

His Grandson His Executioner.

KOKOMO, Ind., Oct. 13.—Louis Marquis, a wealthy farmer, 71 years old and for seven years paralyzed and unable to move hand or foot, used his five-year old grandson as his executioner yesterday. The old man induced the boy to hold to his lips a solution of carbolic acid kept in the room as a deodorizer. Marquis drank it all, and sank back in his chair dead almost before the boy could remove the saucer from his lips.

TORONTO'S BABY FARMS.

Police Ferreting Out Institutions Where Infants Are Outrageously Treated.

TORONTO, Oct. 13.—Since the Lace baby farm case was first exposed dilligent searches have been made by the police authorities for similar offenders and the results of these investigations are appalling.

In Toronto there are only three licensed baby farms, but the police now know that at least six places are carrying on this business illegally, and there are no doubt twice as many houses unknown to the police. When all the facts come to light some one will suffer, and it cannot be done too soon.

One woman particularly may soon feel the weight of the law. Information reached the police that an infant had been buried hurriedly some time ago in a vacant lot at the rear of this woman's house. A neighbor had seen two women digging the hole. Detective Duncan and Patrol Sergeant Brown went up there and dug up the remains of what is supposed to be an infant, but the body was so badly decomposed as to be unrecognizable.

There is evidence undeniable that students in their first and second year, have attended women at these private lying-in houses and Inspector Archibald wants to know if this cannot be stopped. He says that the law must interfere to prevent these young men from undertaking work that none but a skilled doctor should attempt.

The undertakers are also being severely censured. It is said that there is proof that several infants have been disposed of at one time, they being buried together in a box, and with only one burial certificate. It is even stated that bodies of little ones have been placed in the coffins of adults at the undertakers' rooms and thus buried without anyone knowing it.

If the last inquest is re-opened, the police will endeavor to show the way in which these babies are killed. It is worthy of note that in one house all the infants die apparently from the same complaint. The detectives have been following up this clue and have found that the woman in charge buys large quantities of salts. This, it is affirmed, she gives to the infants and when its deadly effects have put them beyond the reach of medical aid she takes them to a physician and then if arrested this fact tends to lead to her acquittal.

Another Whiteway Man Unseated.

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., Oct. 13.—Justice Little delivered judgment in St. George's election case, unseating and disqualifying James Keating, Whiteway member, for bribery and corruption. Personal bribery was decided to be proven by promises of employment on public works. Costs were given against Keating. He is the sixteenth Whitewayite unseated. The trial of Parsons, editor of the Telegram, and member for St. Barbe, is now proceeding. This is the last batch of the seventeen petitioned against.

The Great Family Medicine of the Age.

There is probably, no family medicine so favorably and so widely known as Davis' PAIN-KILLER. It is extensively used in India, China, Turkey—and, in every civilized country on earth, not only to counteract the climatic influences, but for the cure of bowel troubles, cholera and fevers. It is used internally for all diseases of the bowels, and externally for wounds, burns, bruises, etc. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents for a big bottle.

For Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, Cramps, Colic, Diarrhœa, Dysentery and Summer Complaint, Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is a prompt, safe and sure cure that has been a popular favorite for over 40 years.

American Trade Reviewed.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Bradstreet's says: An accentuation of favorable features is revealed in the telegraphed reports this week. In New England, although demand is classed as only moderate and a conservative trade is doing, the industrial situation improves owing to the ending of the great cotton mill strike. At Chicago business in staple lines is large, though a slackening from previous weeks is noted. Export trade is active at San Francisco. A number of prominent southern points report increased activity. The number of business failures in the United States this week is 238, against 215 last week. Bank clearings at 72 cities for the week ending Thursday aggregate $27,428,877, a decrease from last week of 7.5 per cent., but an increase of 3 per cent over last year.

THE RULING MARKETS.

TORONTO, Oct. 13, 1894.

Dun & Co. report the failures this week to have been 231 in the United States, against 208 last year, and 43 in Canada, against 42 last year.

There was considerable activity on the local grain market. These sales were made on the street: 1,500 bushels barley at 44 to 48 1-2c; 500 bushels oats at 31 to 32c; 150 bushels peas at 57 1-2 to 58 1-2c, and 300 bushels wheat at 53c, 51c and 50c, for white, red and goose respectively.

Exports of wheat, including wheat from both the United States and Canada for six days ending with Thursday of this week, aggregate 3,317,048 bushels, compared with 3,248,000 bushels last week.

Wheat was dull in Chicago, but closed a shade higher. Corn closed firm. Oats were stronger.

Sellers in Buffalo are doing a great deal of hustling in barley but find few buyers. The feeling among maisters is that prices are too high, and they intend to hold off as long as possible. Canada barley is coming in fair, but there is no demand at the prices asked.

At East Buffalo live stock market the total offerings were 23 cars, including 10 cars Canadas. The early trading was rather quiet, but late in the day there was increased firmness and near the close of the market some choice Canadas sold up to $4.40, with closing values of good to choice at $4.25 to $4.40.

The gains in price in the New York stock market were pretty well distributed, and their relative magnitude gave a fair means of discovering the short interests present location. Aside, however, from this retreat of local speculators there was nothing significant or interesting in the market. The buyers on yesterday's advance were parties as a rule quite as irresponsible as the recent sellers.

45,000 Yards of All-Wool, High-Class Dress Goods, 550 Dozen Ladies' Josephine and Monisquitaire Kid Gloves, 1,000 Yards Flannelettes, as well as Smaller Lots of Hosiery and Gloves, Underwear, Blankets, &c.

Hall, Gilchrist & Co's Share will be offered for sale Wednesday, Oct. 17th

We can candidly state that there is no single house in Canada that could handle such a large lot of goods at once, but as our syndicate is composed of 15 very large concerns, we can readily consume a quantity, no matter how large, without it coming too heavy on any one house. This being the manufacturers' and wholesalers' stock-taking season, they preferred spot cash, even at 50c. on the dollar.

What we propose to do is to give the public the benefit of this most enormous purchase by selling them at a slight advance on what they cost us. We state most emphatically, and you have never found but truth in our statements, that the prices are in no instance more than half the value of the goods. You will do yourself a very great injustice if you do not carefully read over our list and come and see these WONDERFUL BARGAINS ON THE DAY OF SALE.

Excessive Tea-drinking Highly Dangerous.

Dr. James Wood, of Brooklyn, who has been investigating the evil results of excessive tea drinking, says it causes nervousness, headache, dizziness, indigestion, palpitation, insomnia, muscular tremor, irregular heart action, hallucinations, nightmares, obstinate neuralgia, anxiety prostration, general weakness and mental depression. This is a list to do a temperance reformer's heart good and tea may be expected to take its place along with tobacco and whiskey among forbidden luxuries. Religious denominations who forbid their office holders to smoke ought to put tea drinkers also under the ban, but this would disqualify so many old women (male and female) that this much needed reform will probably be put off until the day before the millenium.—Ex.

Quite a Record in Mantle Selling.

Last week Miss Rudkins had quite a run on mantle cloths and ulsterings, so much so that she was compelled to send repeat orders for certain popular lines. At least 25 new mantles are known to have been sold, cut and fitted on the premises during the week. Customers come back pleased and leave their orders for coats for other members of the family, so satisfied are they with the perfect cut and finish. Miss Rudkins has always decided bargains in mantle cloths to offer those who prefer to make up their mantles at home. Mantles bought at her store are cut and fitted free of charge, and the pieces carefully stitched together, all ready for running up on the sewing machine. A selected stock of the ready-made mantles always on hand. MISS RUDKINS, Crystal Block, opposite the EXAMINER Office. 2d1w

Particularly recommended to weak mothers when nursing. Sold by all leading grocers, and delivered to any part of the town. Telephone No. 98.

Examiner Fall Edition.

The Fall Edition of the EXAMINER is now issued and is being delivered by post and otherwise to every household in the county. It is a twenty page issue, beautifully printed on good paper and handsomely illustrated. It is also well filled with live advertisements of Peterborough's live business men. Whatever there is in the cry of hard times it seems that these wide-awake merchants are going to fight hard times to a finish and compel public patronage of their establishments.

"The Nominee" To-Night.

Mr. Robert Hilliard must feel particularly gratified at the unstinted praise bestowed upon him for his characterization of "Jack Medford" in the awfully funny comedy "The Nominee," which he will present at the opera house to-night. Everybody knows "Bob Hilliard" and if they don't, they have heard of him, and those who know him are sure to be in attendance, while those who have never seen him should embrace this opportunity and at the same time have an evening of incessant laughter and merriment. Manager Bradburn is deserving of much credit for having secured so fine an attraction for our theatre-goers.

Another Hunting Party Goes North.

Captain. M. Costello and party have left for the Blue Mountains, situated nine miles north of upper Stony Lake. The party is composed of five dead game sports. No doubt they will make the feathers, etc., fly when they open up, being mostly being members of the "Knights of the Cork Screw" Club (Ashburnham division.) They left at noon to-day on the Lakefield flyer, carrying a carload of camping utensils, canoes, shot guns, dogs, cholers medicine and edibles, in fact enough to last seventeen men six months. The boys are out of sight crack shots and no doubt anglers too at that, and it is expected that they will give account of themselves on opening their game bags. The party are Capt. Michael Costello, Mr. Jos. Begley, Mr. Bert. Watley, Mr. Alphonse Girard, (Quebec); Mr. Barney Nevin, Mr. H. J. Brown, Rochester, and Mr. Saul Cole, Lakefield.

A Rare Entertainment.

Nellie Ganthony, is the distinguished English lady, who has successfully challenged the great George Grossmith as an entertainer. Miss Nellie Ganthony, who captured London, and who is such a favourite in all the "smart" circles of the great British metropolis, will be seen and heard in our Opera House for the first time on Monday night, Oct. 15th. If reports from Montreal and Quebec are to be believed, her European success has been more than duplicated; in fact her reception is said to have been overwhelming. Miss Ganthony appears in three distinct sketches of her own at each performance, and for two hours and a half this beautiful English girl, single-handedly and alone, without the slightest external aid, and by her strong personality and individuality, will hold her audience in a state of ecstacy. That everyone of her own sex will go to see her, who can, there remains no doubt; for the problem of woman's usefulness will be solved when Nellie Ganthony finishes her entertainment at the Opera House. 1d

IN THE DIVORCE COURT.

Isaac J. Hodge's Wife Wishes a Separation.

Rebecca Hodge, a Canadian, is applying for a divorce in the Supreme Court of Buffalo, from her husband, Isaac J. Hodge, formerly waterworks superintendent of that city.

Mr. Hodge is a Victoria county man and is well connected amongst the farming community of Emily township. He has lived in Buffalo for many years, where he rose to considerable prominence. Some trouble, however, arose between him and his wife on account of what is alleged to have been the too frequent visits of a Salvation Army officer to the house during his absence. Hodge threw up his lucrative position in Buffalo, and leaving his wife returned to Canada. During a portion of last fall and during the winter he worked on the street railway here, but must have apparently gone down the ladder fast as he was no unfrequent occupant of the prisoner's box in the police court. Messrs. Murray & Edwards are looking after Mrs. Hodge's interests here and ferreting out evidence in her behalf. Mr. A. P. Poussette has been engaged by the defendant as his Canadian representative.

GEORGE TAYLOR WINS AT LAKEFIELD.

A Close and Interesting Canoe Race on a Course of One and a Half Miles.

Quite a few canoeing enthusiasts drove out from town yesterday to Lakefield to witness the contest between George Taylor, Chemong; M. Howard, Rice Lake; S. Nicholls, Wm. McIlmoyle and Wm. Jarvis, Lakefield. The race was a close one and most interesting. Howard pressed Taylor close, but the former came out the victor by a short length.

The marriage took place at Greenfield, Mass., the other day, of Mr. Duncan Campbell Scott, of Ottawa, to Miss Bell Botsford, the talented violinist, who has been heard with so much delight in Peterborough, several times. Mr. Scott is one of the best of the young Canadian poets and writers and has access to some of the best American magazines.

A Wonderful Conqueror.

No disease is more common among the people than scrofula. Handed down from generation to generation, it is found in nearly every family, in some form. It may make its appearance in dreadful running sores, in swellings in the neck or goitre, or in eruptions of varied forms. Attacking the mucous membrane it may be known as catarrh, or developing in the lungs it may be, and often is, the prime cause of consumption.

In whatever form scrofula may manifest itself, Hood's Sarsaparilla is its inveterate foe and conqueror. This medicine has such powerful alterative and vitalizing effects upon the blood that every trace of impurity is expelled, and the blood is made rich, pure and healthy.

Piano Tuning.

Mr. G Gumpricht is in town. Orders may be left at Messrs Taylor & Macdonald's or at the Peterborough Bookstore.

For coughs, colds and bronchitis the best and safest remedy is "Madill's Pulmonic Cough Syrup." Each bottle has a positive guarantee attached to it. If it fails to cure, return empty bottle and your money will be refunded.

NEWS NUGGETS.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—Additional local matter on eighth page.

—Work was discontinued on the sewer to-day, owing to the wet weather.

—A drunk was discharged at the police court by the magistrate this morning.

—The teachers of George street Sunday school met last night to inaugurate a series of normal Bible studies.

—Rev. Dr. Sexton is expected to deliver two sermons, a week from to-morrow, in George street Methodist church.

—The placing of a 60 candle incandescent light in the sitting room at the Morgan House is quite an improvement to that popular hotel.

—The regular meeting of the W.C.T.U. will be held on Monday Oct. 15th, at 3.30 p.m. at the residence of Mrs. Geo. Paton, 202 Brock street. All are welcome.

—The "Little Dutchman" was the only local man, who was "touched up" by the Guy Bros., last night. The troupe registered at the Grand Central, while here.

—The recent rain has again put the town streets in a bad condition. A couple of men were kept busy keeping some of the principal crossings clean during the day.

—Ladies, call at the Peterborough Bookstore, and get a copy (free) of the Metropolitan Fashion Sheet, special fall edition of latest fashions. A. H. STRATTON & Co., agent Butterick's Patterns.

—The charge against Wm. Lynch, of Asphodel, of setting fire to the building known as the Brickley post office, was dismissed a few days ago at Castleton by Squires Miller and Castleton.

—Mr. Frank Herald, of Herald Bros., boat builders, Gore's Landing, Rice Lake, is in town to-day. They shipped yesterday three crates of canoes, three in each crate, to their agents in Sidney, N. S. Wales.

—A charge of selling liquor on Sunday last, was preferred against a hotel keeper this morning in the police court. As some of the witnesses for the prosecution did not appear, warrants were issued for their arrest.

—Mr. Arthur Stevenson and Mr. Drury of the Peterborough Gas Company, were in town on Saturday last, with a view to making an offer for the apparatus and fixtures of the Lindsay Gas Works.—Lindsay Watchman.

—Mr. Z. White, of Harwood, proprietor of the Harwood saw mills, is in town today. His drive of logs is at Burleigh, the tail end is at Lovesick. Mr. Wm. Johnston, his foreman, and Mr. Harry Lane, superintendent, are also in town on official business.

—A couple of cabmen had a tiff at the G. T. R. station the other day. One is alleged to have called the other "a big bellied baby" and some other pet names, coupled with a few threats, and the result was that he had to pay in $5.00 and costs at the Police Court, this morning.

—The Chief of Police is in receipt of a communication from "Temperance Worker," stating that, on Thursday last, he saw liquor sold over the bars of some of the unlicensed temperance hotels. The Chief would be obliged if the informant would be more explicit and give the names of the hotelkeeper as well as his own.

—The Cobourg and Peterborough Railway is being put in repair this week in anticipation of having to bring in lumber from Harwood for the Dickson Lumber Co. It is expected the contract of sale to American parties will be complete in a few days, and the work of bringing in the lumber will be commenced. — Cobourg Post.

—An engineering class has been formed in connection with the Mechanics' Institute, under the tutetage of Mr. White, of the Canadian General Electric Co. The class, which now numbers 15 pupils on its roll, will meet for the first time at 7:30, on Tuesday evening next. The Mechanics' drawing class meets on Wednesday evening.

—Peterborough is anxious for a sham battle. What's the matter about attacking Omemee, only a 12 miles march! We will guarantee No. 5 Company, 45th Battalion, will give them a hot and realistic reception and as good a defence as they would wish for, although there is only an odd Chinese and Italian in our reserves forces.—Omemee Mirror.

—Mr. L. L. Gallagher, secretary of the Frontenac cheese board, estimates that the factories represented by the 42 members made 4,500,000 pounds of cheese during the season. This, at 10c. per pound, an average price, would mean $450,000, or having deducting the cost of making at 1½ cents per pound, left $305,000 to go into the farmers' pockets.

—Everyone has read the Khan's poetry—and nearly everyone has found some selection of his that interested them—will be pleased to learn that preparations are being made to have his works published in book form. The Khan has written some excellent poetry, most of which breathes of the Bohemian spirit and which strikes a responsive chord in the general public.

—A young man from Dummer township underwent an examination at the police court yesterday afternoon concerning his sanity. He left his home during the early part of the week and has been heard of in various parts of the county since. Yesterday he was located by his father here and during the afternoon an examination, as stated, was held. The result was that there was no doubt of the young man's insanity existing and he will be sent to the asylum.

How to Get a "Sunlight" Picture.

Send 25 "Sunlight" Soap wrappers (the wrapper bearing the words "Why Does a Woman Look Old Sooner Than a Man") to LEVER BROS., L't'd, 43 Scott street, Toronto, and you will receive by post, a pretty picture free from advertising and well worth framing. ONLY TO-NIGHT LEFT

To Get Your Name on the Dominion Voters' List.

Attention is again urged to the importance of qualified electors applying to have their name placed on the Dominion voters' list for the preliminary revision. Remember that all declarations must be submitted to the Revising Officer, not later than next Monday, Oct. 15th. This is, therefore, the last evening, and an official will be at the EXAMINER office to receive names and assist in the making of the necessary declarations to permit names to be submitted for the preliminary revision. And remember that, no matter how otherwise fully qualified you may be to vote, you will be disfranchised unless your name appears on the Dominion Voters' List. Lose no time, therefore, but come to the EXAMINER office this evening and take the necessary steps to enable your name to be added to the list.

While it is advisable that all who are properly qualified should have their names put on the lists, a special effort should be put forth during the few days now remaining, to submit declarations asking that the names of persons not properly qualified be struck off. This can be done on the preliminary revision.

THE OTHER SIDE.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR, — Allow me space in your paper to refer to the robbery committed recently at the Peterborough Roller Mills. An article appeared a few days ago in an evening paper strongly censuring the mill hands, and hinting at their being implicated in the robbery. From my own personal knowledge I do not think that a finer class of men, or men less likely to commit such a crime, can be found anywhere in Ontario, and if not in Ontario, then not in America. They are all residents of the town, honest, sober and industrious, striving to maintain an honest name. The writer in question should have been careful in sowing broadcast charges which would lead to the inference that the night staff was to blame for the robbery. It seems to me that some statement from the proprietor as to his belief in the innocence of his employees would not be amiss.

Yours truly,
A FRIEND.

Protect your Horses.

Don't allow your valuable horses to go without a waterproof cover during the cold wet days of the fall. Be good to them, provide them with one of Kingscotte's strictly waterproof covers, costing only a dollar or two. If you are shipping and receiving goods that are liable to damage from wet, Kingscotte's black oiled canvas waterproof covers "fills the bill,"—nothing better or cheaper. They have no tar in their composition, being an OIL preparation, which keeps them soft and pliable. Awnings taken down and stored in a careful and agreeable manner. Halls decorated for assemblies, balls and meetings of all kinds. ALF. KINGSCOTTE, tent, sail and awning maker, 344 Water street.

ROBERT HALL.

Seasonable and Opportune.

Always forearmed for all the shopping demands of our customers—this store is never behind—the right goods at the right time and at the right prices. October suggest the need of such things as

Underwear, Hosiery and Gloves.

We have too many kinds to attempt any detail, but in addition to the BEST makes in underwear we carry a full line of the celebrated "Health Brand" in all sizes and combinations.

Blankets and Bed Comforters.

The buying of these lines was done with extreme care, as we have an exacting constituency to chose for, who are wide awake judges of qualities and prices. The stock is right and the values correspond.

Along with these we would also mention our new fall selected Shawls, in many sizes, qualities and shapes—very exclusive—and from makers who warrant their goods.

Millinery and Mantles.

Style is everything in these lines. You don't want a last years' hat, or bonnet, or jacket, at any cost, and you won't find one here. You don't even want this season's unless the style is distinctive, and that is just where we excel.

We continue to show full range in all the newest novelties in Dress Goods.

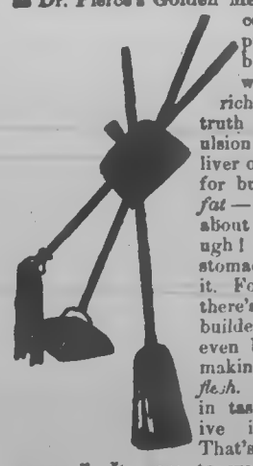
AS A CLEANSER

of the blood, nothing sweeps as clean as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It purifies the blood as well as enriches it. The truth is, an emulsion of Cod liver oil is good for building up fat — no doubt about it. But—ugh! a weak stomach loathes it. Fortunately, there's a tissue-builder, that's even better for making healthy flesh. Pleasant in taste—effective in result. That's the "Discovery." It goes to work in the right way, by regulating, cleansing, and repairing all the organs of the body.



When the germs of disease are round about us we do not all get them. Why? Some of us are in too good a condition. The germs of Consumption, Grippe, Malaria, and all the infectious diseases, pass you by if you are strong to resist their attack. Render yourself ger proof by putting your blood and liver in a healthy state.

In all blood-taints and diseases, if the "Discovery" fails to benefit or cure, your money is returned.

No other medicine of its kind can be sold so.

LIFE BECAME A BURDEN.

THE WONDERFUL NARRATIVE OF A PATIENT SUFFERER.

The After Effects of La Grippe Developed Into Inflammation of the Lungs and Chronic Bronchitis—After Four Years of Suffering Health is Almost Miraculously Restored.

From LeMonde, Montreal.

Mrs. Sarah Cloutier, who resides at No. 405 Montcalm street, Montreal, has passed through an experience which is worthy of a widespread publication for the benefit it may prove to others. Up to four years ago, Mrs. Cloutier's health had been good, but at that time she was attacked by that dread scourge, la grippe. Every fall since, notwithstanding all her care to avoid it, she has been afflicted with inflammation of the lungs, which would bring her to the very verge of death. This was followed by bronchia for the rest of the year. Her bronchial tubes were affected to such an extent that it was with difficulty she could breathe, and a draught of outside air would make her cough in the most distressing manner. "There was," said Mrs. Cloutier to the reporter, "a constant rattling in my throat, and in the state I was in, death would have been a relief. I could not attend to my affairs nor to my house, and had it not been for my neice, on whom I relied, I cannot say what would have become of me. It was in vain that I tried the numerous remedies given me by various doctors, and when I think of all the money they cost me I cannot but regret I have ever tried them. I had read frequently of the cures effected by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I felt that they must contain the truth, for if they were unfounded none would dare to give the names and addresses of the persons said to be cured in the public manner in which these are given in the newspapers. I decided to try Pink Pills, and none but those who are acquainted with my former condition can understand the good I have derived from their use, which I continued until I felt that I was completely cured. As a proof that I am cured, I may tell you that on the first occasion after my recovery, I walked for two miles on an up hill road without feeling the least fatigue or the least pant for breath, and since that time I have enjoyed the best of health. Last fall I was afraid that the inflammation of the lungs, to which I had been subject at that period of former years, might return, but I had not the least symptom of it, and never felt better in my life. You can imagine the gratitude I feel for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I recommend them to all who will heed my advice, and I do not think it possible for me to say too much in favour of this wonderful remedy, the use of which in other cases as well as mine has proved invaluable.

A depraved or watery condition of the blood or shattered nerves are the two fruitful sources of almost every disease that afflict humanity, and to all sufferers Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are offered with a confidence that they are the only perfect and unfailing blood builder and nerve restorer, and that when given a fair trial disease and suffering must vanish. Pink Pink Pills are sold by all dealers or will be sent by mail on receipt of 50 cents a box or $2 50 for six boxes, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicide Co., Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N.Y. Beware of imitations and always refuse trashy substitutes alleged to be "just as good."

Hand Lines.

Tourist (in Oklahoma)—I presume you have to endure more or less hardship in such a new country as this, Mr. Harps?

The Rev. Mr. Harps—Well, yes; I have a good many trying experiences, one time and another. For instance, last Sabbath my mule was sick, and I walked eleven miles, preached one sermon, married two couples and ate two wedding dinners; and when I reached home I found my mule dead, and that I was too late to witness the tar and feathering of a wife beater that I had counted on seeing.—Puck.

When catarrh attacks a person of scrofulous diathesis, the disease is almost sure to become chronic. The only efficacious cure, therefore, is Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which expels scrofula from the system and the catarrh soon follows suit. Local treatment is only a waste of time.

Mr. Robillard's Resignation.

OTTAWA, Oct. 13.—There was a rumor around town that H. Robillard, had resigned his seat in the House of Commons. The rumor while not strictly accurate had some foundation. The fact of the matter is Mr. Robillard not long ago wrote out his resignation to be forwarded to the Speaker. That the document was formal is evident by the fact that his signature was witnessed by two members of Parliament who, however, it is stated, did not know the contents of the paper. It is understood the resignation was put in the hands of a prominent member of the party. His intended resignation was the result of a dispute, it it said, between himself and members of the ministry respecting patronage. For numerous good reasons the resignation was withdrawn a few days ago. Mr. Robillard was seen and admitted the facts as stated above but declined to say anything more.

Serious Accident in Ayr.

AYR, Ont., Oct. 13.—An accident which may prove serious happened here to Mrs. John Guthrie and her daughter Bessie. They drove to Baker & McColl's store, where Mrs. Guthrie alighted from the buggy and Miss Guthrie turned to proceed up the street, when the horse took fright, turning suddenly, throwing her under the buggy, which overturned. She was carried into Mr. McGeorge's drug store and afterwards to Mr. John Wyllie's house, where she still lies unconscious.

Fred Turner Out of Danger.

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., Oct. 13.—Fred Turner, the young real estate and insurance agent, who was stabbed by his mistress, Grace Bowman, is pronounced by his physicians to be out of danger. The woman has been remanded for a week.

Alleged Elopement in Lockport.

LOCKPORT, N.Y., Oct. 13.—It is alleged that Frank Barton, a sewing machine agent with a wife in Canada, has eloped with Mrs. Barrell. The latter leaves a husband and four children. Her friends and Barton's friends deny that they have gone together.

HE TELLS IT HIMSELF.

A West Oxford Farmer Narrowly Escapes Premature Burial The Causes of His Threatened Fate and Lucky Escape.

INGERSOLL, Oct. 8.—W. H. Bailey of West Oxford township, claims to have only narrowly escaped premature burial a short time ago. He had had kidney disease for four years back and so badly at times that he was completely laid up. Many doctors treated him, but their treatment, in Mr. Bailey's opinion, made him worse rather than better. His escape from a premature grave was affected by the use of the infallible Dodd's Kidney Pills. Three boxes of these cured completely. Mr. Bailey claims to be able now to do a bigger day's work than his twenty-four-year-old son.

"Only the Scars Remain,"

Says HENRY HUDSON, of the James Smith Woolen Machinery Co., Philadelphia, Pa., who certifies as follows:

"Among the many testimonials which I see in regard to certain medicines performing cures, cleansing the blood, etc., none impress me more than my own case. Twenty years ago, at the age of 18 years, I had swellings come on my legs, which broke and became running sores. Our family physician could do me no good, and it was feared that the bones would be affected. At last, my good old to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I took three bottles, the sores healed, and I have not been troubled since. Only the scars remain, and the memory of the past, to remind me of the good Ayer's Sarsaparilla has done me. I now weigh two hundred and twenty pounds, and am in the best of health. I have been on the road for the past twelve years, have noticed Ayer's Sarsaparilla advertised in all parts of the United States, and always take pleasure in telling what good it did for me."

Mother Urged Me

HANDY THING TO HAVE NO HOUSE SHOULD BE WITHOUT A FEATHER DUSTER HOLDER.

Easily Made if the Instructions Given Below Are Carried Out—But a Few Cents Needed to Buy the Necessary Material.

The feather brush is as popular as ever as a useful ornament for a drawing-room, and there is, therefore no excuse to be made for dust upon brackets, pictures or knickknacks of any sort. The holder shown here is, as seen from the sketch, by no means elaborate, and most of the effect depends upon the colors and materials employed for it.

Of course it is made up on a foundation of stout cardboard, which is cut into a diamond shape and used with one point uppermost, the brush being slipped into a loop specially made for it. Cut a piece of moire, or of satin, or velvet, or plush, for the front, just about one-half larger all round than the cardboard. Cut also a band of buckram about two inches wide, and three inches longer than will stretch across the diamond horizontally from point to point. Cover this buckram with plush or velvet to accord with the rest of the covering, and line the middle of this band with a scrap of silk; the ends need not be thus lined. Sew a number of little imitation gems, or large spangles, at equal distances along the centre of this band, and add some small pompons or drops of some kind to the lower edge. Lay this band across the centre of the satin from point to point, sew it down firmly at each end from the wrong side, but leave the exact middle of the band slack so that the handle of the brush will slip easily into it. The reason for lining the middle part of the band is now obvious.

Now stretch the satin very tightly over the cardboard, drawing the raw edges together on the wrong side with lacing stitches of strong thread. Be careful to get the band in the middle quite straight, for the holder will be anything but ornamental if this is crooked. It is as well to add the cord round the edges below the band, the bow at the tip of the point, and the ring to hang the holder up by, before lining the back neatly with sateen or a piece of plain silk.

It is quite possible to make up the feather brush itself at home, if the worker is anxious for the whole thing to be of her own workmanship, or if she happens to have a number of fancy feathers that she would like to use up. A "turned" stick is needed, which may either be gilded or enamelled. Take the shortest of the feathers and arrange them with the tips downward round the lower edge of the stick. Tie them firmly in place with some fine twine, and glue this well to prevent it from coming untied. Add a second set of feathers rather longer than the others, and secure them also with fine twine, gluing this as before. Continue this until the brush is full enough, and hide the ends of the last set of feathers with a "sugar-paper" shaped piece of velvet, secured here and there with a touch of glue, and having a band of wide gold braid tacked round the upper edge to hide the place where the velvet and stick meet. The lower edge of the velvet should be vandyked. It is a good plan to use kid or leather instead of velvet, and there should be no difficulty in getting this of a good and suitable color, as many bookbinders will dispose of scraps left over from their own work.

Another Voice From Smith.

SMITH, July 7, 1892.

I was troubled with a nasty pain in the back and shoulders for a long time, and had tried several remedies without getting any relief. I thought at first it might be my lungs, as the doctor's say such pains are symptoms of lung trouble coming on, but I was induced to try a bottle of Membray's Kidney and Liver Cure, for sale at Tully's Drug Store, and after taking the second dose I was surprised to find the pains all leaving me. It acted like magic. I never knew anything that acted so quick on man or beast before.

PRETTY LINEN DOILIES.

THEY ARE MORE POPULAR THIS SUMMER THAN BEFORE.

Their Numbers Have Increased Until They Are Nearly Beyond Count—Tablecloths for Luncheons Are No Longer An Fait in the Best Circles.

The doily is in great demand. Its numbers have increased and added unto themselves until now they are nearly beyond count. The very latest of all is the wine glass doily, and authorities declare that a full set must include all sizes and sorts from it to the big one which forms the centerpiece. But without going quite so far as that, one can set a very charming table and present an up to date appearance with only a part of the prescribed number.

One of the most important of all to the lucky owner of a polished mahogany board is the plate doily. In its latest, most approved style it is ten inches square, is finished with a fringe and is embroidered in one corner only. When the table is laid these embroidered bits are all turned toward the centre, where they decorate the cloth, and the plain portion is left free for the plate. They are really very decorative, and if you possess a dozen of them and a few caraffe doilies, besides a centerpiece, you are well supplied. The multitude of smaller ones will hardly be missed, and you can always console yourself with the thought that many objects to the too great accumulation of linen bits.

The wreath and the bow-knot designs still hold sway. The former is used almost exclusively for the round doilies, and the latter is seen upon all sizes and all sorts. A charming set recently sent to a bride is all done in wreaths of different flowers, no two being exactly alike, and the whole effect is dainty in the extreme. For these only solid work is used. The flowers are necessarily small and do not admit of the more sketchy styles. The work involved us, of course, considerable, but linen endures so well and the colors of to-day are made so lasting that it is thoroughly well worth the doing.

Ribbons and flowers combined are always charming and suggestive of the best French taste. Just now they are very popular and are rivaled only by the wreaths. Most needle workers make the ribbon solid as well as the flowers, but one clever woman has devised a rapid and effective method of her own. She first outlines the entire design, then fills the space between the lines with single cat stitching. The result is really striking and well worth the trying. The contrast between the solid flowers and the lighter ribbon is charming and novel, besides being very little work. A most successful design of the sort is of white violets tied with pale yellow ribbon, and it is seldom one gets a better result with even the most exacting work.

Luncheons promise to be popular the season through, and the bare table will be much in use both for indoor and the piazza functions. These charming bits of napery will so find a speedy demand and may well employ all one's leisure time. Linen is delightful stuff to handle in the warm summer days, and an array of well selected silks in a natty basket makes a picture not to be despised.—N. Y. Recorder.

Incubator Hatches.

We frequently get inquiries about the percentage of eggs that should hatch in an incubator. A Saratoga, New York, poultry-man sends the following to the American Fancier:

I have taken 18 hatches out of my machines this season which gave me the following results: Percentage of chicks hatched from fertile eggs, 69, 85, 72, 88, 81¼, 81¼, 47¼, 78, 80, 64, 76, 84, 77. Average per cent of chicks hatched from fertile eggs, 76¼. I would say in explanation of the hatch that only yielded 47¼ per cent, that the eggs used in them were from two to four weeks old, and let me say right here to all amateurs and novices that the fresher your eggs are the larger will be your percentage, and your chicks will be stronger and healthier. Now these percentages are all figured from the tested fertile eggs in the machines as all percentages with incubators are. But as some may want to know what the season's result was from the total number of eggs placed in the machines, I will give that also. I placed 3115 eggs in the incubator and hatched 1603 chickens or 51¼ per cent of the total number of eggs placed in the incubators.

SOUTH MONAGHAN'S EXHIBITION SUCCESS.

A BIG ANNUAL SHOW AT CENTREVILLE.

Increased Entries and Increased Attendance—Notes of the Live Stock and Miscellaneous Exhibits—The Speeding Events—Football.

The annual exhibition of the South Monaghan Agricultural Society held at Centreville was a success which calls for congratulations upon the directors and members.

The weather, though a trifle chilly, was not unseasonably so, and the attendance of visitors was far in excess of other years. The gate receipts in 1892 were $72; in 1893 they were $118; and this year the figures mounted up to between $128 and $130. Last year the number of entries was 521, this year they were 673—an excess over the previous year of 152.

As usual the show of stock was good and a credit to this fine township.

HORSES.

In heavy draught horses the chief exhibitors were John Mouncey, with one imported mare and foal, Walter Bradshaw, mare and foal and 2 year colt; Alex. Anderson, sr., with pair of draught horses; Robert Fisher, span of horses, and Wm. Whittington, 1 year colt.

General purpose horses were shown by George Robinson, Wm. Rutherford, mare and foal, Walter Bradshaw, two year old, and one year old; Wm. Bradshaw, one year old colt; J. J. Heron, two year old colt: Alex. Anderson, pair of horses.

Carriage horses were exhibited by Geo. Robinson, year old colt; Wm. Rutherford, mare and foals, Walter Bradshaw, mare, and foal and yearling colt; Thos. Bradshaw, single horse; William Bradshaw, one year old colt and single horse; J. J. Heron, single horse and two year old colt; T. M. William, mare and foal, pair of horses in harness and single driver; Thos. Wood, pair of horses in harness, a two and one year old colt, and John Moncrief, pair of horses in harness.

CATTLE.

The exhibitors in this department were the best known stock men of the township.

Durhams were shown by Wm. Rutherford, two year old bull calf and two milch cows; J. Mouncey, three cows, two 2-year old heifers, two yearling heifers and two bull calves. Good grades were exhibited by Howard Barnard, W. Rutherford, J. Mouncey, Thos. Bradshaw, J. J. Heron. Alex. Anderson and W. H. Hutchinson.

SHEEP

were shown by Joseph Clarke, T. M. William, James Wood, and N. Dawson.

SWINE.

In pigs the exhibitors were Joseph Clarke, boar, large breed, Geo. L. Fair and W. H. Hutchinson. Berkshires were shown by Jos. Clarke, boar, '94; and Wm. Rutherford, aged sow.

THE INSIDE EXHIBIT.

was generally creditable though in the matter of grains, there seemed to be a slight falling off; grain it appears were not as good as usual in this township this year. The show of roots and potatoes was, however, excellent, and compensated for any slight deficiency in grains. Fruit also made a creditable showing. The ladies work and the domestic department were creditably filled, and the dairy products were not very large, but of excellent quality. The exhibit of fine arts was not to be called large, except in the matter of quality, the latter being considerably above the average of township exhibitions. In this department Miss E. Kerr exhibited water colour, landscape and crayon drawing. Miss A. Nimmo had a collection of pencil, pen and ink and crayon drawings; Miss A. R. M. Nimmo, showed ornamental penmanship. Mrs. J. Lightfoot, exhibited water colour flowers and a general subject painting in water colours, all showing considerable skill in drawing as well as colouring.

SPECIAL ATTRACTIONS.

Early in the afternoon two football teams, the Maple Leafs of Bewdley and the Bailliboros lined up on the grounds inside the race track, to contest the possession of a silver cup, presented by the society. The following is the compositions of the teams:

Bewdley.		Bailleboro.
E Flemming (capt).	for-	J Nattrass
Eph. Flemming	wards	M Currie
L Flemming		P Rutherford
J Coates		S Huggins
G Benson		J Jackson
D Burns	½ backs	J Isbister
F Coates		F Waterman, cap
G Burns		J White
F Sidey	backs	S Rutherford
G Kent		T Isbister
J White	goal	F Day

Referee—M. Keanoally, Keene.

The play was pretty evenly balanced, but there was a good deal of side play. After an hour's hard play, the game closed without either side having scored. Through some difficulty there was not another half hour's play to decide the ownership of the cup, which is still in possession of the society to be presented for competition again, next year.

THE SPEEDING EVENTS.

The speeding events, in semi-official connection with the exhibition, were conducted during the afternoon, by a committee of gentlemen, who charged themselves with the duty of providing a good programme of sport, and very good sport was given. The track can hardly be called first class, being rather heavy for fast work. There were four racing events well carried out, the open trot and the running race being good races and rather exciting contests.

THE NOVELTY RACE, walk once, trot once, and run once round the track was won by horses owned by the following gentlemen:

T M Willan	1
W Bradshaw	2
W Hooper	3

THE OPEN TROT.

For this there were three entries, J. E. Nattrass' "Demand," Geo. Curtis' "Canadian Star" and H. LeBrun's Rysdick Hambletonian, "Harry B." The race was a close one between the first two in every heat, Harry B. made a good third, though he was handicapped by drawing the outside where the track was soft and spongy, so as to make good speed an impossibility. This is a summary of the three heats that settled the race:

J E Nattrass' "Demand"	1 1 1
Geo Curtis' "Canadian Star"	2 2 2
H LeBrun's "Henry B"	3 3 3

THE RUNNING RACE.

This also was an event that furnished capital sport. The entrees were: F. E. Jones, Peterborough, Nettie Wood; A. E. Nattrss, Speck, and L. J. Bennett's Butcher Billy. The racing was between the first two, though the Peterborough mare had little trouble in finding the wire first. Butcher Billy made a game start and forced the running for the first half, but he did not seem to be a stayer and dropped into the position of a spectator. This is the summary of the two staight heats:—

F E Jones' Nettie Wood	1 1
A E Natrass', Speck	2 2
L J Bennett's, Butcher Billy	3 3

THE FARMERS' RUNNING RACE.

This event, from its purely local character, was of more than passing interest. It brought out four entries, J. Lightfoot's Barnum F., T. Bradshaw's Barber, W. H. Hutchinson's Maud, and W. Bradshaw's Valentine. This race was pulled off rather slowly, there being considerable waits between the heats, so that in the last heat there was not one "dark horse" but four dark horses, the fading daylight hardly serving to distinguish the animals. This is a summary of the heats, the winners being given in order:

T Bradshaw's Barber	2 1 1
J Lightfoot's Barnum F	1 2 2
W Bradshaw's Valentine	4 3 3
W H Hutchinson's Maud	3 4 4

Messrs. Charles Nixon, — Wilson and W. O'Brien were the judges in the several races, which were, taken altogether, excellent sport.

GARNET BELL HOLDS THE CHAMPIONSHIP CUP.

THE COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE SPORTS.

Bell and Simpson Both Try Hard for the Honours, but After a Keen Struggle the Staff Cup is Won for 1894-5 by the Former.

The annual fall sports of the pupils of the Collegiate Institute were held yesterday on the P.A.A.A. grounds, but strange to say, although the day was fine there were very few spectators present other than the pupils themselves.

Although all the events were keenly contested yet the grand struggle for general supremacy was between Garnet Bell and Ben Simpson, both of whom have been training assiduously, it is understood, for the sports.

The cup fell to Simpson, last year, but yesterday it was as Bell won the greatest number of points in the different events. A first counted three, a second two and a third one, so by glancing over the list it will be found just how many points in the aggregate were secured by the different contestants. It has to be taken into consideration that in the two mile cross country run McPherson took first, Simpson second and Bell third, and in the half mile run, Simpson took first, McPherson second and Bell third.

THE SPORTS.

Standing long jump, 15 and over—W. Milburn, 8 ft. 6 in.; B. Simpson, 8 ft. 3½ in.; P. McFadden, 8 ft. 2 in.

Hundred yards race, under 15—P. Kelly, H. Carleton, F. Turner. Time, 12 2-5 seconds.

Throwing baseball—P. McFadden.

Hundred yards race, 15 and over—G. Bell, H. Lewis, B. Simpson. Time, 11 3-5 seconds.

Standing long jump, under 15—P. Kelly, 7 ft. 9 in.; P. Earle, 7 ft. 8½ in.; G. Butler, 6 ft. 10 in.

220 yards race, under 15—P. Kelly, H. Carleton, P. Earle. Time, 30 seconds.

Running high jump—P. McFadden and G. Bell, E. McIlmoyle; 4 ft. 8 in.

A MOST REFINED ENTERTAINMENT.

An Evening Spent in Laughter at the Opera House.

One of the best, if not the best, minstrel troupe which has ever held the boards at the opera house was that of Guy Bros last evening.

The house was crowded to the doors and standing room only was available when the curtain was rung up. A hum of surprise welled up from the audience when the opening scene was revealed. The costumes, consisting of mailed suits, shone and glistened in the light like burnished silver, and altogether the spectacle was a most brilliant one.

All the solos, which were rendered during the evening, were excellent and the jokes were new, bright and mirth-provoking to an extreme degree.

There is no doubt but that the Guy Bros. have selected the personnel of their troupe, this season, with the idea of making it the best on the road, and it will be a galaxy of stars, indeed, that can outdo them as refined fun makers.

The engagement of such a troupe reflects credit on the management of the Opera House.

LONDON CABLE LETTER

The Government to Announce its Policy With Regard to the Lords.

STATE AID FOR WORKINGMEN

The Plan Proposed by Mr. Chamberlain's Bill Whereby Workingmen May Have Houses of Their Own—Labor Members at Loggerheads.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—The successive declarations made this week by the Right Hon. George Shaw-Lefevre, President of the Local Government Board, the Right Hon. Herbert Gladstone, First Commissioner of Works, Sir John T. Hibbert, M. P., and Sir George O. Trevelyan, Secretary for Scotland, that the Government had definitely decided to deal with the question of abolishing the veto power of the House of Lords, has prepared the public mind for a statement from Lord Rosebery on the subject upon the occasion of his making a speech at Bradford on October 27. Expectant interest in this matter has become so keen that the Premier will not dare to omit from his address an explicit pronouncement of the Government's policy.

In his recent declaration Mr. Herbert Gladstone said the time was near at hand when the Government should publicly announce this intention in regard to the House of Lords and expressed his opinion that the Prime Minister's statement would undoubtedly meet with the entire concurrence of the rank and file of the Liberal party. Sir John T. Hibbert, though not a member of the Cabinet, has the close confidence of Lord Rosebery. His forecast of the course to be adopted by the Ministry in dealing with the House of Lords question is that the first action will be taken through a resolution introduced in the House of Commons immediately upon the re-convening of Parliament, affirming the principle of limiting the veto power of the peers, and next through a bill to be introduced later, in which the same principle shall be embodied. The great advantage of this plan lies in the fact that the resolution could be carried after a debate of not more than a week's duration, while the consideration of the bill would be apt to take up the time of the entire session and might then be rejected. With the resolution thus passed the Government could well afford to allow the bill to drag along until the dissolution of Parliament.

Chamberlain's Bill for Workingmen.

The members of the Executive Committee of the National Federation are at variance over the question of the introduction into the programme of their coming conference of certain proposed measures with a tendency toward socialist doctrines and beliefs. The measures are seductive to the members of the labor party and are in competition with Mr. Joseph Chamberlain's latest state socialist platform. A majority of the committee have reached the conclusion that by far the greater number of Liberals in the kingdom disapprove strongly of coqueting with the socialists. The bill prepared by Mr. Joseph Chamberlain for introduction at the coming session of Parliament is approved by the Unionists but is looked upon with suspicion by the Radical workingmen for whose benefit it is designed. The measure as it stands includes provisions for the furnishing of state aid to artisans for the purposes of homes of their own, for the granting of old age pensions; for the limitation of the hours of labor in shops and factories, for the restriction of pauper alien immigration and a new employers liability act, embodying a contracting-out clause. It is looked upon as a high old Tory dodge which will result in the shelving of the questions of the abolishing of the veto power of the House of Lords; the disestablishment of the church and various land reforms and the placing of them with socialist bribes at the cost of the masses of the people.

The scheme proposed in Mr. Chamberlain's measure of giving to every workingman a house of his own, proposes that the workingman shall supply one fifth of the money for the purchase, the state advancing the other four fifths at such a rate of interest as it is supposed will enable the borrower to pay off the debt incurred in 10 years. The Economist characterizes the proposal as a sheer illustration of the beguiling of a man into the fallacious idea that the state will endow them with houses of their own without the least additional expense to themselves. An analysis of the plan proves that Mr. Chamberlain has omitted from his calculations the payment of rates, the cost of keeping the house in repair, the ground rent, charges, the cost of insurance, the loss of interest on the capital invested by the workingmen and the possibility of loss of this capital in the event of the vicissitudes of his trade compelling the investor to change his place of residence. The genuine socialist laborists have evolved another sort of a programme, which has been formulated by Tom Mann for the behalf of the independent labor party. It provides, among other things, for the furnishing of remunerative work to the unemployed for taxation to the extinction of all unearned incomes, for the collective ownership of property and for the control of production, distribution and exchange. These subjects are made the basis of the chief planks in the party's reform. In the meantime, however, the independent labor party cannot boast of its solitutary.

Labor Men at Variance.

John Burns, M.P., who, accompanied by David Homes, president of the Weavers' Association, will shortly start for Denver, Col., where he and his companion will sit as delegates in the trades congresses to be held shortly, has been publicly berating Tom Mann, whom he speaks of as a "shifty and incapable person, having a tidal intellect." The leaders of the various factions of the independent labor party he characterizes as a clique of "bounders on the bounce." The free laborists he regards as a "conglomerate mass of men on the make and retired boosers, with all the evidences of subsidy on their faces and incompetency written on their large beery features." Certain persons who have ventured to criticize him and his actions through the newspaper press Mr. Burns denounced as a "loathesome brood of journalistic jerry diddlers."

Tom Mann and James K. Hardie, M.P., are also going to Denver as delegates to the trade congress. At a meeting held subsequent to the tirade delivered by Burns the independent labor party bewailed the virulence displayed by him in his remarks, but did not attempt to excuse in any way the language of which he had made use. Another leader, Frank Smith, who was one of those to whom Burns referred as a "journalistic jerry diddlers," has retorted in kind. He refers to Burns as a "bombastic, bullying boss, bull-dozing, selfish and conceited."

ELECTIONS IN BELGIUM.

Voting Under Universal Suffrage is Held for the First Time.

BRUSSELS, Oct. 15.—Belgium's first parliamentary election with universal suffrage was held yesterday. The complications of the three-class system caused much delay in the voting. The electors are divided into classes designated by the names Univox, Rivox and Trivox. The first class includes all men over 25 years of age who have resided a year or more in the election district. Many of these voters are ignorant and were exceedingly slow in preparing their ballots. With the second class of married men and widowers who pay personal taxes of five francs or more each there was little difficulty. In the third class are most of the highly educated men, and consequently all the priests, who in Belgium number fully 10,000. As every priest has three votes, the total vote of the Belgian priesthood is about 30,000.

No summary of the general result will be possible before to-morrow. The success of the Catholics in Ghent is assured. The socialists united with the progressionists having gained ground in Charleroi and Liege and have lost none in Mons. Minister Bruyn was re-elected in Termonde. The Liberals have carried Namur. It is announced that M. Woeste, the clerical leader, has been defeated.

REJECTS CHINA'S PROPOSAL.

Japan is Not Anxious That War Should Cease—Rioting in Hankow.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—The Central News is informed that Japan has rejected as inadequate China's proposals of peace. The report was that China had offered to acknowledge Corea's independence and pay a war indemnity in case hostilities should be suspended forthwith.

It is rumored that the Admiralty intends to charter a number of passenger vessels in eastern waters, to be used as a refuge for Europeans at the Chinese treaty ports in case of an emergency.

The Central News correspondent at Shanghai cabled yesterday:

"It is reported that in consequence of the projected 10,000,000 pounds 10 per centage loan to be guaranteed by the imperial customs Chinese agents abroad have been instructed to put the best face possible on the recent Chinese reverses and to represent the fleet as being active and efficient.

"The outbreak of the Kulaowhei society in Hankow has spread rapidly. Troops were sent out to quell it but they were resisted savagely and eventually were put to flight. Two mandarins were killed.

STRUCK BY A TRAIN.

A Buffalo Society Woman and Two Girls Killed.

BUFFALO, Oct. 15.—A terrible accident, resulting in three deaths, shocked Buffalo society yesterday. At five o'clock Miss Emily S. Woods and two daughters of John N. Scatcherd, went for a drive along the Niagara boulevard. Miss Wood is one of the best known society women of Buffalo. Mr. Scatcherd is a millionaire, the best horseman in Buffalo and the Republican state committeeman from the 31st district.

The children who went with Miss Wood were aged 11 and 5 years respectively. The eldest girl was driving and Miss Wood was reading aloud from a newspaper. Seeing the belt line passenger train approaching at the Parkside crossing the girl whipped the horse over ahead of it. A Central freight train going east escaped the notice of the occupants of the carriage.

The engine struck the carriage and threw it clear up on the pilot, breaking it to pieces. The two girls were almost instantly killed and Miss Wood died soon after being removed to a near-by house. Mr. and Mrs. Scatcherd are nearly insane from grief.

AN ASSASSIN RUN DOWN.

A Woman Charged With the Murder of Montgomery Gibbs.

BUFFALO, Oct. 15.—Mrs. Sarah Robinson, the woman brought here from Cleveland, charged with the murder of Montgomery Gibbs, made a statement to the police yesterday. According to her story she and her husband set out on that night with the intention of holding up some one. They selected a long, dark block on Delaware avenue and walked up and down, laying in wait for the first well-dressed man who came along. Gibbs was the man. When Robinson demanded his valuables Gibbs struck at him and Robinson fired two shots, one of which inflicted the fatal wound in the temple.

The police and the public have always entertained the theory that the murder was committed by some one who thought Gibbs had wronged him or a relation. The Cleveland people will get a reward of $1,000 in case Robinson is convicted of the crime. Chief Detective Cusack believes that he has a sure case.

A Cargo of Anarchist Weapons.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—The Havre correspondent of the Central News, says: Seventy packages purporting to be furniture were landed here recently from Southampton. On examination the police found that they contained a perfect arsenal of anarchist weapons including various bombs explosives, old arms and ammunition skeleton keys and burglars tools. The Havre police communicated with English police who are trying to trace the packages to the sender.

BOLD TRAIN ROBBERY

A Gang of Men Hold Up a Train Near Washington, D.C.

THEY SECURE LARGE BOOTY

The Door of the Express Car Blown Open by a Dynamite Cartridge and Money Packages Footing Up $120,000 Taken—The Robbers Escape.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—All Washington was astounded on Saturday to learn that seven masked men had held up a train within a few miles of the Capitol. The robbery took place at Quantico and a number of men were concerned in the job.

The train was brought to a standstill and the engineer covered with a half dozen ugly revolvers. The leader, on the messenger refusing to open the car blew the door open with a dynamite cartridge.

The express safe contained $18,000. The robbers secured this and all of the express packages containing money. It is thought this amount will foot up to $180,000.

None of the passengers were molested.

The robbery is one of the largest on record. Seldom have the train robbers made away with more than $100,000 and this has been extraordinary. There is little doubt, however, but that the Acquia Creek bandits secured $150,000. The manifest of the company, it is said, show that $182,000 is missing but some of this is believed to be in bonds and paper which cannot be readily negotiated by thieves. The chances for the capture of the robbers are poor. The men had ample time to get away before being pursued.

There is every reason to suppose that the leader of the gang which perpetrated the bold train robbery at Aquia Creek, Va., on Friday night has been identified. He is George Carter, a former resident of the neighborhood, an ex-convict of Sing Sing, a railroad engineer and a man who has been associated with many scenes of robbery and bloodshed. Carter in all respects resembles the man who fired the shot through the door at the express messenger and subsequently threw the stick of dynamite.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—The Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac railway train which was held up and robbed by a gang of train robbers near Quantico, Va., arrived in Jersey City yesterday. It was in two sections and the express car which was forced open by the robbers with dynamite, was on the second section. The car was No. 214 of the Atlantic Coast line. It was in charge of Messenger Crutchfield, who lives in Richmond, Va. As soon as the car was unloaded it was hustled to the repair shops in the Hackensack Meadows.

The crew of the train was not the same as was on the train when the robbery occurred. The crew which brought the train in took charge at Philadelphia. Messenger Crutchfield hurried to the headquarters of the Adams Express Co. He was immediately taken into the private office of Superintendent Ware, with whom he was closeted for a few hours. Then Crutchfield went to the headquarters of the Pinkerton Detective Agency and had an interview with Mr. Pinkerton.

The officers of the Adams Express Company refuse to give any information at present as to the amount of money taken by the robbers, except to say that it would not amount to $180,000, as reported. One of the clerks said there was no means at present of finding out the extent of the loss, as the robbers had taken away all the way bills.

The railway officers are very incensed at the manner in which the desperadoes uncoupled the engine from the train and ran it several miles up the road into a coal chute, where it was wrecked. The employes of the Adams Express Company say they have no doubt that the robbery was committed by men who were skilled in railroad business. One package consigned to Wilmington, Del., which it is said is missing, contained $20,000.

At the office of the Adams Express Co. Mr. H. H. Gates, the president's private secretary, said: "Messenger Crutchfield has been here and delivered his report to the officers of the company and has again started south, as it is necessary for him to be at the scene of the robbery. The story of the robbery, as printed, is substantially correct, except as to the amount stated, $150,000. That we cannot say anything definite about as yet, as we really do not know how much was taken. It is impossible for us to know at the present time as the money way bills were all destroyed."

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 15.—Gov. C. Farrel has offered a reward of $1,000 for the arrest of the robbers. Major Myers, president of the railroad company, has offered a reward of $1,000 for the arrest of the outlaws or any one of them and Mr. Welsh, Richmond, representative of the express company, said to-day he had no doubt that his company would follow suit.

More Trouble for San Salvador.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Among the passengers who arrived on the La Champagne was D. Jiminez, a central American said to be a member of the cabinet of ex-President Ezeta, of Salvador, who with Ezeta and his friends were forced to flee after the late successful uprising. He left the steamer immediately upon arrival and could not be found. It was understood aboard ship that he proposed to take up abode in Honduras, near the San Salvador line and instigate an insurrection with a view of re-establishing the former regime.

Double Murder at a Barbeque.

VAN BUREN, Ark., Oct. 15.—A double murder occurred at a barbecue fifteen miles north of here on Saturday. George Trutt struck Casey Hensey with a barral stave during a fight and mashed his skull, and as Hensey was falling he disemboweled Trutt, who cannot recover.

Mormons Tarred and Feathered.

THE OPPOSITION LEADERSHIP.

The rumour that the Conservative Opposition in the Ontario Legislature will not select a leader until the House meets is confirmed by the fact that there is not a whisper of probable candidates being discussed. From a party standpoint this delay is inexplicable. The circumstances of the forlorn condition of the Opposition would, one would think, suggest the necessity of a leader that would guide the leaderless members into some definite line of action such as the circumstances demand. It may be suggested that possibly the party, having a somewhat discouraging experience of the usefulness of past leadership in bringing the treasury benches within even hailing distance, have a feeling that a leader is not necessary. Then perhaps the reluctance of any sane man taking the position of leader is justified by the absence, or rather the multiplicity of policy on the part of the Opposition. At the recent election in this riding in June, the half dozen representative spouters, who went forth to spout, had each a different platform, and if the Opposition, as elected, have the same variegated complexion as to policy, a prospective leader may well stand aghast at the idea of modelling and moulding into coherent unity so complex a following.

A German paper says that there has of late been a great reduction in the number of emigrants going from the continent of Europe to the United States. The number of emigrants shipped from Bremen during the late month of August was only 8,668, against 12,450 in August, 1893; and from 83,998 carried in the last eight months of last year the number fell to 28,666 in the corresponding period of the present year. Such a sudden check to emigration has not been experienced for many years. In 1874 the number of emigrants carried went back to 31,000, and then further sank, until in 1877 it got down to 1700. After this there came a sudden revival, 38,000 taking passages in 1879 and 88,000 in 1880. Subsequently the passengers carried by the North German Lloyd Company numbered almost over 100,000 per annum, and in some cases even reached 140,000 and 160,000 persons.

Hazing should be beneath the dignity of the students of a government institution. An enquiry was made on Thursday at Kingston into charges made by Mr. Plummer, assistant general manager of the Bank of Commerce at Toronto, that his son, one of the cadets at the Royal Military College, had been beaten by some of the senior boys and threatened with serious injury. The result of the investigation was that the commandant considered that Cadet Plummer was justified in absenting himself from the college in consequence of the ill-usage he received.

Some men have greatness thrust upon them. A convention of the Patrons of Industry of North Bruce was held at Tara on Friday, and Mr. P. L. Potts was made the unanimous choice as their candidate at the next Dominion elections. Mr. Potts had already been selected by the McCarthyites of North Bruce. As a Patron candidate Mr. Potts knows what he believes in, but he cannot be so certain of the permanency of the policy of the man whom the Empire "wobbled" out of the Conservative party.

YOUNG'S POINT.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Mrs. Gleason, who for the past two years was confined to her bed, died at her son-in-law's residence, Mr. Richard Anglesley, on Wednesday, Oct. 10th. The deceased was 86 years of age and leaves one daughter to mourn her loss, whom many friends sympathize with, in the loss, by death, of her dear mother. The funeral took place Friday, at ten o'clock, to the Catholic cemetery, here, for interment.

Mr. Robert Young, brother of Mr. Wm. Young, of here, died Thursday morning, about two o'clock, after a two weeks' illness. The funeral took place on Friday, the remains being interred in the cemetery here.

The shingle and saw mill is at present in full operation.

The steamer Mary Ellen is still busily engaged towing wood from Deer Bay and Burleigh to Lakefield, belonging to Mr. P. P. Young. There is about 300 cords still to bring down.

The third and fourth drive of the Gilmour Co. is now about run over here. The two wonderful "alligators," working day and night with electric light on board them, are hustling the logs along at a rapid speed.

Mr. Gunter was in our village to-day looking after the Gilmour interests.

Mrs. Patrick Young, sr., still continues about the same.

Miss Emma Scollard has gone to North Bay to visit friends. She intends to remain during the winter months.

Mr. R. J. Young, of Trout Creek, Muskoka district, son of the late Robert Young, came to attend the funeral of his father, but owing to some unfavourable circumstance he was too late.

To Beautify the Complexion

—do not take the cosmetics, paints and powders which injure the skin, but take the easiest way to gain a beautiful color and a wholesome skin. Health is the greatest beautifier. The means to beauty, comfort and health for women is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Dull eyes, sallow or wrinkled face, and those "feelings of weakness," have their rise in the derangements peculiar to women.

"Favorite Prescription" will build up, strengthen and invigorate, every "run-down" or delicate woman by regulating and assisting all the natural functions.

Doctors say it is the Best.

Gentlemen,—Last July, I took Congestion of the Lungs and was in bed for four weeks. I was very weak and could not speak above a whisper. Dr. Lavrence, of Hamiota, attended me and sent a bottle of Milburn's Emulsion. It soon restored my voice and health.

The Doctor's Strange Catch With a Fancy Minnow in Stony Lake.

(Toronto Empire.)

Dr. Rose, of Brooklyn, N. Y., made a queer catch in Stony Lake some days ago. The doctor owns a cottage at the Narrows of Stony Lake. There is good fishing in the lake and some tremendous big maskinonge. The doctor isn't what you might call a great fisherman, but he occasionally tries his hand at the sport and has landed some nice catches. One day this season he was out trawling with a light rod and a fancy minnow line. His boatman was a guide known as Uncle Jim.

"You can't ketch nothin' with that skeery lookin' thing!" said Uncle Jim when he saw the doctor's trawl.

But the doctor declared that his new bait was the killingest thing he ever tried on the lake.

"I'll land something that will surprise you," said he.

And in less than a quarter of an hour he had a strike that almost pulled him out of the boat.

"Great Peter!" exclaimed Uncle Jim. "If you git that chap you'll have a dandy! He a 30-pounder, sure."

No one had ever seen such manoeuvring on the lake as the doctor's catch went through. Every body waited to see the maskinonge leap from the water, as in the custom of these finny fighters, but he didn't leap.

"He's so blamed heavy he can't jump!" declared Uncle Jim, his eyes blazing with excitement, as he worked his boat the best way to favour the fisherman, who was as pale as a sheet. Whatever it was that the doctor had hooked was a savage fighter, and no mistake, and he had made his fight clear down in the very deepest water. Such a struggle as it made, beat all fights anyone had ever had at Stony Lake. The doctor puffed and blowed, while the sweat poured down his face in streams.

"This old fellow will tucker me out sure as fate, if he don't weaken pretty soon," groaned the doctor.

Soon after that the line grew slack and it was seen that the doctor's catch was coming to the surface at last. Up out of the water it popped, and up into the air it rose, with most frightful yells. It quickly reeled out all the doctor's line, but he just as quickly recovered from his surprise and began playing the catch in the air. For ten minutes he worked it here and there until he had tired it out, and then it came plumping down in the water. It lay there panting and made resistance to being picked up. "A blame diver or a loon!" exclaimed Uncle Jim. "You might a-know'd that nothin' but one of them crazy things would touch that bait of your'n!"

That's what it was—a great northern diver. It had been skirmishing along beneath the surface looking for fish and had gobbled the doctor's fancy minnow. The doctor took the bird home and picketed him outside the cottage, where he was an object of much interest. This is not the first case on record of a loon having been caught with a hook and line.

UNJUST LIBEL LAW.

Sarnia Observer.

Mr. James B. Brierley, of the St. Thomas Journal, has been made the victim of a libel suit tried this week in Hamilton, and though the assessed damages are small—$1—the costs will be considerable. The case was peculiar one. A Mrs. Beaton, of Oakville, was named by the New York World, as the woman last seen with Cicero Harrison Case, an old man who was drowned off the seamer Guyandotte on a voyage from South Carolina to New York, in 1893, and a sensational article was made up out of the connection alleged to have existed between the woman and Case. This article was copied into several Canadian newspapers, and was supplied to a number of other Canadian journals as "plate matter." Mr. Brierley's paper was among the latter. There was no malicious motive on his part, nor any desire to do Mrs. Beaton an injustice, and when she, through her lawyer, charged him with libel, he promptly apologized, published paragraphs retracting the accusations in the story, and paid $10 into court to satisfy expenses incurred. This was not acceptable to plaintiff, and the case was carried to trial, with the result above stated, a nominal verdict for plaintiff with costs on the defendant. The verdict may be in conformity with the law as it stands, but it certainly is unfair and unjust to the publisher who innocently copies an item of news giving the source from which it is taken.

Constipation or Costiveness

is caused by a sluggish state of the liver, sedentary habits, want of fresh air, astringent medicines such as opium or quinine, neglect of the calls of nature and the pernicious practice of taking pills or other strong purgatives upon every provocation. A positive cure for these troubles has been discovered in Esclay's Liver Lozenges. They do not react like other laxative medicines. They are 25 cents a box or 5 boxes for a dollar.

FRATERNAL ASSESSMENT LIABILITY.

"Can't I get out when I please, and have no liability?"

Most people expect "yes" for an answer to this question, when they say they are members of an assessment insurance society, and begin to think of their responsibilities as such. It is important for them to know that they cannot escape liability; because every member, no matter when he drops out, is liable for any deficiencies that may arise in future, if they were developed during his membership. Here is an instance:

The United Masonic Benefit Association of Missouri was some years ago an active and apparently prosperous assessment concern. It provided no reserve, but offered low rates, cheap insurance, and seemingly hoped that new blood would make up for increasing mortality resulting from increasing age. By and bye its forces began to fall off, not enough "new blood" came in, and the cost of membership ran up in a very uncomfortable way. Presently the healthier lives began to feel their burden pressing heavily and steadily left the ranks, until so few were left in the association that the assessments amounted to $140—one hundred and forty dollars—on each certificate. The remaining members refused to pay such a sum, and the concern failed. But there were unpaid death claims for a large amount due, and the State Superintendent of Insurance thought they ought to be paid. So he began suits at law against individual members to enforce payment of the assessments against them; the court has decided that they must pay. The feelings of those who are thus compelled to pay what they never expected have undergone a change with respect to assessment insurance.

Replying to some enquiries which had been made upon this point of liability, and citing this case illustration of what may be expected in any similar case which might be pressed to suit, the Insurance Monitor says: "The decision referred to answers our question which has been debated whether the member's liability is limited to sums which he may choose to pay; in, other words, whether he can get out when he pleases without further harm. This he cannot do. Every member, no matter when he may drop out, is liable for any deficiencies which may crop up in future, resulting during his membership. The only safe course for parties that apprehend breakers ahead is to drop their membership before the breakers are reached; and the misfortune of this course is that the faster they drop, the faster the association drives towards the breakers."

There seems to be only one course open for the prudent man who may be determined to avoid possible liability; that is to keep out of such associations entirely and buy his insurance of the regular companies.—Monetary Times.

BOUNDARIES DISPUTED

Questions to be Settled by Surveyors in Maine and Alaska

MOUNT ST. ELIAS IN DOUBT

The Statement That This Giant is in Canadian Territory Was Premature—Its Location Not Definitely Known—The Maine and New Brunswick Line.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—There is a dispute between the United States and Great Britain over two boundary lines, and as a work preparatory to the settlement of this controversy various engineering and surveying parties have been in the field for a year or more, making surveys in the supposed vicinity of the boundary lines. Their labors have been completed and their reports submitted, but they decline to discuss the result of their work until it is made public.

It is known, however, that these surveys have resulted in a manner satisfactory to the United States. The statement published that Mount St. Elias, which has always been held to be on United States soil, had been found to be in British territory, is stated to be at least premature and made without authority of any one in possession of the facts. The computations have not been made, and until this is done the survey will not make any statement on the subject. The officers say that until the present season's work has been completed no authentic details can be presented upon which to base any calculation.

The result of the work will enable the survey to make the inter-sections of the boundary line between Alaska and British Columbia, with all the principal inlets and rivers and determine the location of the principal mountains from the Portland canal to 141st meridian.

The other boundary in controversy is the water line between Maine and New Brunswick formed by the St. Croix river. This river bounds the eastern-most limit of the United States, Eastport, Maine, being on its banks, near where it enters the sea. The boundary which is an imaginary line, follows the course of the stream, meandering in and out among the islands that are found near the mouth of the St. Croix and in the Atlantic near the Main land. Just where the line is, in certain parts, has for a long time been an open question and the fixed determination of the line and its marking by fixed buoys is the object of these surveys. There will be some change in the boundary, but not of special importance. One place known as Pope's Folly which is claimed by New Brunswick has been located west of the boundary and inside the state limits of Maine. It is a small island, a mere rock however, and from either a commercial or strategic standpoint, useless.

After these several surveying parties have compiled the results of their observations the whole work will be arranged by the Unitde States survey and turned over to the two commissioners, one each on the part of each government. If they can agree they will determine the proper line, based upon the survey, down the St. Croix and between Alaska and British Columbia. This done they will report to their respective governments and the boundaries will be for ever fixed by definite bounds, marked by indestructable land marks. The commissioners cannot possibly complete their task short of another year's work.

VICTIMS OF A COOL SWINDLER.

Farmers Near Montreal Taken in by a Pretended Monk.

MONTREAL, Oct. 15.—The farmers and residents of the district to the north of Montreal would be glad to hear of the whereabouts of a certain individual who a few days ago dressed in the garb of the Brothers of St. Joseph's Order, reached their district and after visiting the leading residents, including many priests, a number of people were victimized.

It appears that he was the bearer of many credentials, among these a letter signed by Archbishop Fabre, another by Bishop Emard, and three or four others signed by distinguished people including Lieut.-Governor Chapleau. Some time ago he gave out a very large contract for what he claimed to be a branch of "His Order," which he wanted to erect at "Kiamika." Plans were drawn for the new building and work commenced. As the man at first exhibited a large sum of money the farmers thought they had a good "haul" in store and they commenced to trust the man.

Upwards of $20,000 worth of materials was forwarded by various firms to the so-called "monk" and the building was well under way, when a few days ago the so-called Brother said he was not authorized to pay out any money for God's work until such a time as his "Superior" had approved of the same. A few days afterwards he skipped out with considerable money and no word has since been heard of him.

Crawford Adjudged Insane.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Oct. 15.—The jury in the case of Asa Crawford, charged with the murder of John Branton, at Fairville, returned a verdict of not guilty on the ground of insanity. The prisoner has been committed to jail and will probably be sent to the insane asylum to remain there until released by order of the Lieutenant-Governor. The verdict has roused strong feeling here, as Crawford was seen to commit the deed and it is thought he is not insane.

The H. G. and B. Electric Railway.

HAMILTON, Oct. 15.—The formal opening of the Hamilton, Grimsby and Beamsville electric railway will take place on Wednesday. A trial trip over the road was made on Saturday with every satisfaction and in every particular the road was found to be first class. The shareholders, municipal representatives and others will be invited to take part in the opening ceremonies.

Accidentally Shot Dead.

HAWKESBURY, C. B., Oct. 15.—A sad shooting accident occurred here on Saturday evening. A young lad named Willie Reynolds while coming down a ladder in the house fell against a gun that was leaning against a wall, discharging it, the shot entering his side and killing him instantly. Coroner McDonald summoned a jury, and held an inquest. The verdict was accidental death.

ITCHING AND PIN WORMS. PILES

No More Misery.

ITCHING PILES is an exceedingly painful and annoying affliction, found alike in the rich and poor, male and female. The principal symptoms are a severe itching, which is worst at night when the warmth of bed seems to cause the private parts to become unbearably irritable. Sometimes it is impossible to procure sleep. Often the sufferer unconsciously during sleep scratches the parts until they are sore—bleeding and running form, excessive moisture is created. Females are peculiarly afflicted from this disease, causing unbearable irritation and trouble. These and every other symptom of Itching Piles or irritation in any part of the body are immediately allayed and quickly cured by Chase's Ointment. It will instantly stop itching, heal the sores and ulcers, dry up the moisture.

DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT

Gives Instant Relief.

PIN WORMS is an ailment entirely different as to cause from Itching Piles, yet its effects and symptoms are exactly the same. The same intolerable itching; the sense creeping, crawling, stinging sensation, characterizes both diseases. Chase's Ointment acts like magic. It will at once afford relief from this torment.

MOLLY, MYSELF AND THE BABY!

Buy all our shoes at McNaughton's.
MOLLY is a sweet, sensible little woman—economical, too—always buys what she can get the best value for her money.
FOR MYSELF, I used to buy my shoes down town, but I dropped into McNAUGHTON'S to see if he was selling as cheap as the big George Street stores. Bought three pair quicker than scat.
THE BABY, well, the kid wouldn't wear a shoe that didn't come from McNAUGHTON'S. Is never troubled with croup.

GREAT SYNDICATE PURCHASE

—OF—

45,000 Yards of All-Wool, High-Class Dress Goods, 550 Dozen Ladies' Josephine and Monisquitaire Kid Gloves, 1,000 Yards Flannelettes, as well as Smaller Lots of Hosiery and Gloves, Underwear, Blankets, &c.

Hall, Gilchrist & Co's Share will be offered for sale Wednesday, Oct. 17th

We can candidly state that there is no single house in Canada that could handle such a large lot of goods at once, but as our syndicate is composed of 15 very large concerns, we can readily consume a quantity, no matter how large, without it coming too heavy on any one house. This being the manufacturers' and wholesalers' stock-taking season, they preferred spot cash, even at 50c. on the dollar.

What we propose to do is to give the public the benefit of this most enormous purchase by selling them at a slight advance on what they cost us. We state most emphatically, and you have never found but truth in our statements, that the prices are in no instance more than half the value of the goods. You will do yourself a very great injustice if you do not carefully read over our list and come and see these WONDERFUL BARGAINS ON THE DAY OF SALE.

Dress Goods.

	Worth	Sale price
1,000 yards Pure Wool, Black and Coloured, Dress Goods.	$ 50 to $ 75c.	25c.
1,000 yards Pure Wool, Black and Coloured, Dress Goods.	75 to 1 00	35c
500 yards Pure Wool, Black and Coloured, Dress Goods.	1 00 to 1 25	50c.
250 yards Pure Wool, Black and Coloured, Dress Goods.	1 25 to 1 50	75c.

If you have samples from any house in Canada, bring them along and compare them with these goods. If you can't come yourself, write for samples.

Kid Gloves

FOR DAY AND EVENING WEAR.

You may rest assured that with the large stock of Gloves we imported this season, we would not have bought this lot, unless the PRICE WAS TEMPTING.

Off for the "Shanties."

This morning Mr. T. Cavenagh sent by G.T.R. fifty men to work in the shanties of McLeod & McCormack at Burk's Falls. Mr. Cavanagh requires fifty more to work in the shanties of the St. Anthony Lumber Company, on the Madawaska. Here is a chance for many men who have been living in enforced idleness, to take the wire edge off a hard winter by work at good wages.

"The Nominee."

The entertainment given at the opera house on Saturday night by the Robert Hilliard Comedy Company was a first class one in every respect. The farcical little skit that preceeded the chief play was a commedetta written by an Englishman. It was capitally presented and gave the audience a foretaste of the treat to follow. "The Nominee" was capitally put on. It is full of ridiculously complicated situations, which were made the most or by the cast. Every member was quite up to the mark. With the well-balanced cast and the laughable effects that kept the audience in a chronic condition of laughter, were reached by natural means, and not by exaggerated horse play. The acting was natural and easy and the refined wit that sparkled through the dialogue had none of the repulsive suggestiveness that one too frequently meets with. The work of the cast is neat and clever and for a refined; pitching, 'oily two hours of clean comedy commend us to Robert Hilliard's Nominee. There was a fairly good house which thoroughly enjoyed the great treat presented.

To-night at the Opera House a treat of the highest charactte will be presented. Admission, 25c, 35c and 50c, boxes 75c.

Quite a Record in Mantle Selling.

Last week Miss Rudkins had quite a run on mantle cloths and ulsterings, so much so that she was compelled to send repeat orders for certain popular lines. At least 25 new mantles are known to have been sold, cut and fitted on the premises during the week. Customers come back pleased and leave their orders for coats for other members of the family, so satisfied are they with the perfect cut and finish. Miss Rudkins has always decided bargains in mantle cloths to offer those who prefer to make up their mantles at home. Mantles bought at her store are cut and fitted free of charge, and the pieces carefully stitched together, all ready for running up on the sewing machine. A selected stock of the ready-made mantles always on hand. MISS RUDKINS, Crystal Block, opposite the EXAMINER Office. 2d1w

A Coming Craze.

A song that promises to be as popular as "After the Ball" and "Two Little Girls in Blue," and of the same type, is sung by Billy Jerome in "The Prodigal Father," and Steve Brodie in "On the Bowery."

Of course, every boy has a sweetheart,
And some boys dey have two or tree;
But of all the girls in de great city,
Dere's only one in wid me.[!?]
She lives 'way down on de Bowery,
A few doors away from Canal,
She helps to support her old mudder,
Does my little Bowery gal.
My Pearl's a Bowery girl,
She's all de world to me,
She's in it wid any de girls 'round town,
And a corkin' good-looker, see!
At Walhalla Hall she kills dem all,
As waltzing togedder we twirl;
A spieler, a dancy, she eats dem all crazy,
Does my little Bowery Pearl.

PERSONAL.

Mr. W. A. Holden, of Toronto, is registered at the Grand Central.

Mr. Walter W. Whitehair, of Cobourg, is visiting friends in town.

Catarrh—Use Nasal Balm. Quick, positive cure. Soothing, cleansing, healing.

Dirty.

Well, we should say so. From the cellar to the garret. With the dust of the summer and the dust of the flies everything is apt to be a little dirty just now, especially the wall paper and window blinds. We offer a remedy for that dirty appearance that comes early in the fall. A new fresh paper and a new set of blinds is the simplest and finest remedy. It will make your home look like new, and give a refreshing appearance to everything around. See the beautiful stock all this month at a genuine discount. No regular prices at the Peterborough Book Store.—A. H. STRATTON & Co.

SPORTS AND PASTIMES.

Items of Interest to Local Sportsmen.

The local Rugby team will journey to Port Hope on Saturday next to do battle with the Trinity School boys and endeavour to recover the laurels which were lost last Saturday. There will be some changes on the town team which will materially strengthen it and a big crowd will go down from here to Port Hope to cheer the boys on to victory.

Arrangements have been made with the G. T. R., whereby a cheap rate will be given to all Peterboroughians going down that day, and hotel rates in Port Hope will also be reduced for that occasion. No admission to the grounds will be charged those who accompany the town team on their trip. A great many have already signified their intention of going down to witness the game.

A STRONG PURCHASING SYNDICATE.

Its Buying Capacity is Two Millions.

The reader's attention is directed to the half page ad of Hall, Gilchrist & Co. in this issue, in which their big purchase of dry goods is announced as on sale. Last week Mr. John Gilchrist, the buyer of the firm, was in Toronto in attendance at a meeting of the Canadian Dry Goods Syndicate, of which his firm is a member. This syndicate represents the large purchasing power of two millions. It is composed of the following firms:

A Bristol & Son, Picton.
Beattie & Co., St. Mary's.
Hardett & Maodonald, Windsor.
John Catto & Co., Toronto.
Jas. Craig & Co., Port Hope.
Crompton, Appelbe & Co., Paris.
Dundas & Flavelle Bros., Lindsay.
Geddes Bros., Strathroy.
Hall, Gilchrist & Co., Peterborough.
John Murphy & Co., Montreal.
J. & W. Mickelborough, St. Thomas.
Geo. Ritchie & Co., Belleville.
G. B. Ryan & Co., Guelph.
Ryan Bros., Owen Sound.
Pratt & Watkins, Hamilton.
John White & Co., Woodstock.

The advantages of the existence of such a syndicate are evident. Going into the markets with ready cash and placing immense orders, it is plain that the most favourable prices are obtainable. The syndicate operates in the markets of Great Britain and Ireland, Germany, Austria, France and Switzerland, and these operations command the very closest cost prices. Of course this enables the individual firms to offer goods at extremely low prices, combined with first-rate qualities. The public will find in comparing the price of goods at Hall, Gilchrist & Co.'s with the high quality, that they are able to realize all the advantages which their special purchasing facilities procure.

FELLED BY THE FRAME OF A HUGE IRON GIRDER.

A Leg Crushed and Fractured but Amputation not Necessary.

Mr. John Hooey, of lower George street, met with a serious and most painful accident on Saturday afternoon last, while at work in the Central Bridge Works.

It appears that a huge iron girder, which is one of a lot ordered for the new Union Station in Toronto, was being hoisted by means of a block and tackle, and that something slipped with the result that the girder dropped to the ground.

Hooey was standing almost directly beneath it and the giant frame struck him on the right leg just above the knee bearing him to the floor with it, the full weight of the girder apparently resting on his limb, which it pressed down upon some iron plates beneath it in a manner which caused the unfortunate victim to believe that his leg was almost severed from his body.

The girder was lifted from the injured man and the services of Dr. Clarke brought into requisition. Upon examination it was discovered that the injury although a painful one, was not as serious as at first thought. The bones composing the knee joint are crushed and fractured, but amputation will not be necessary. The patient is doing as well as can be expected under the circumstances, but will be confined to his bed for some time.

Saturday was only the second day after Mr. Hooey had secured employment at the Works.

A Sight Worth Seeing.

—Additional local matter on eighth page.

—Lansdowne Lodge, S.O.E., meets this evening.

—Snow fell at intervals yesterday morning and afternoon.

—"A cold day for business" is what the merchants want just now.

—Pretty near time for the curlers and hockyists to be organizing.

—Mr. A. J. Graham, of Cobourg, has been gazetted a notary public.

—City Lodge, I. O. G. T., will meet this week, on Wednesday evening.

—The Fortnightly Club meets Tuesday evening in the Judge's Chamber.

—Would you be surprised if this cold snap should slide into Indian summer?

—Wm. Lemmon, a Kingston boy, was killed by falling on a slate pencil held in his mouth.

—Grapes are down to a cent and a half a pound in Essex. They are worth about twice that here.

—Mr. Thos. McKee, builder, has assigned to Mr. Wm. Langford, and a meeting of creditors is called on Friday, Oct. 26th.

—By order of the Chief of Police, a sick horse, which was discovered, unable to rise, in Dickson Park, yesterday, was shot.

—The heavy wind of yesterday stripped many trees of their verdure. More especially was this the case on the hills and more exposed places in the town.

—The Rangers will turn out for drill in the armoury to-morrow evening in order to get into shape for the sham fight which is to take place Thanksgiving Day.

Don't miss seeing Miss Nellie Ganthony at the Opera House To-night.

—Florida is going to pass a law to prevent prize fighting. The first law of nature—self preservation, seems to suit most of the modern fighters well enough.

—Margaret L. Sheppard has come to the conclusion that her acting is not a howling success and has disbanded her company. She will go back to her trade—lecturing.—Intelligencer.

—The Cold Springs and town Association football teams played on the P. A. A. A. grounds, Saturday afternoon. The match resulted in a victory for the visitors by a score of 1—0.

—Ladies, call at the Peterborough Bookstore, and get a copy (free) of the Metropolitan Fashion Sheet, special fall edition of latest fashions. A. H. STRATTON & Co., agent Butterick's Patterns.

—The Grand Trunk has issued a neat little book for sportsmen, describing the various resorts along the favorite line. It gives maps and a vast amount of information, including synopsis of the fish and game laws.

—The International Bee-keepers' Association, which has been in session October 10, 11 and 12 at St. Joseph, Mo., has selected Toronto as its next place of meeting. R. F. Holtermann, Brantford, Ont., has been elected president.

—Lizzie Juby, of Cobourg, was this morning sentenced to two years in the Mercer on a charge of vagrancy, by police Magistrate Dumble. The girl, who appears simple-minded and has fallen very low, acknowledged her guilt.

—Shelter was given to no less than six tramps at the police station, Saturday evening. Any of these gentry, who had to pass last night out of doors, would have a cold time of it, as ice half an inch thick formed on all the ponds in this locality.

—Mr. Tom McDonough, the affable and obliging clerk of the Oriental, received payment in full to-day of a claim, which he put in to the London Guarantee and Accident Co'y, in which he was insured, on account of being disabled last summer and unable to perform his duties while nursing a broken thumb.

—A large moose was struck by a west bound freight train on the Drummondville county railway. The moose was running ahead of a train approaching a bridge about thirty feet long, which the animal cleared at one leap, but on landing it lost its footing and was struck by the train. It was bled to death and loaded on the train.

—The first regular meeting of the Young People's Association, of St. John's church, will be held this evening, at eight o'clock, in the School House. The inauguration meeting was held a week ago, under the brightest auspices and it is hoped that a large attendance will be present this evening, as the election of officers will take place.

—Mrs. Orde, Ashburnham, has moved to Toronto, and has rented her house to private bankers of Peterborough. The residence is now called the "Bankers' Retreat." No doubt the boys will now conduct "batch" in great style. Mrs. Orde will remain in the Queen City during the winter months, returning to town early in the spring.

—The work on the new Nicholls Park, on the Ashburnham side of the river, is progressing and a large force of men is at work levelling off that portion of the grounds, which is to be devoted to the use of the cricketers. The bicycle track is also assuming shape. As yet no movement has been made in the direction of pulling down the house and barns which are to be removed. It is understood that the stone foundation of a barn, which stood near the spring and which was burned down some years ago, will be given away, upon application, to those who wish the stone.

—Bears are reported to be fairly swarming in the Campbellford district, and it is estimated that over thirty have been already killed this season within a dozen miles of the village. Bears hunts are now of daily occurrence. A good story is told of a hunter there who went as far as his orchard and laid in wait there for his game. The bear came all right enough, but the hunter just glanced at it, dropped his rifle and fled. The next day his infant son asked him if he had gotten his rifle back yet, and asked his father to vouch for the accuracy of the rumour that the bear had taken it away from him.

The White is King.

The Peterborough Music Company, 404 George street, are now sole agents for this popular sewing machine.

Furniture.

The long nights are coming and people are preparing to make home attractive. A. Clegg is now receiving, daily, the newest things in furniture. A full assortment in every line. Parlour suites, dining room furniture, all grades very cheap. In bedroom suites, the largest line ever offered in Peterborough, especially in suites ranging in price from $14 to $38—by far the best values ever offered. Fancy chairs, centre tables, spring beds, mattresses, pillows, etc.—A. CLEGG, 427 George street. dw

Protect your Horses.

Don't allow your valuable horses to go without a waterproof cover during the cold wet days of the fall. Be good to them, provide them with one of Kingscotte's strictly waterproof covers, costing only a dollar or two. If you are shipping and receiving goods that are liable to damage from wet, Kingscotte's black oiled canvas waterproof covers "fills the bill,"—nothing better or cheaper. They have no tar in their composition, being an OIL preparation, which keeps them soft and pliable. Awnings taken down and stored in a careful and agreeable manner. Halls decorated for assemblies, balls and meetings of all kinds. ALF. KINGSCOTTE, tent, hall and awning maker, 344 Water street.

BUSINESS PROSPECTS.

In sympathy with the general revival of trade, which advices indicate is an incident of the commercial world, the prospects in Peterborough are brightening. In spite of the unfavourable weather of Saturday, there was a good business done generally by the merchants of the town. Though there was nothing extraordinary in the trade itself, the indications were that there is a renewal of hopefulness in the direction of better times and of confidence in the financial situation. People have not altogether lost heart, and cling to the belief that there is still money in the country, and that the conditions are shaping in a manner to bring it into circulation. The latest bulletins show that the business outlook in the United States is steadily improving and as the depression struck that country first and slowly followed in Canada, it is only natural that the revival of trade should come upon the same lines; therefore we may, with considerable confidence, anticipate a return of better times. Confidence still remains to us and as things, when at their worst, mend, it is reasonable to look forward to business improvement. The people of Peterborough are not easily discouraged, and if we keep heart and meet hard times with the assurance that this ogre is only a transient guest, we shall pull through all right and enjoy all the better the good times, which are evidently on the way.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 75c. bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

ROBERT HALL.

Seasonable and Opportune.

Always forearmed for all the shopping demands of our customers—this store is never behind—the right goods at the right time and at the right prices. October suggest the need of such things as

Underwear, Hosiery and Gloves.

We have too many kinds to attempt any detail, but in addition to the BEST makes in underwear we carry a full line of the celebrated "Health Brand" in all sizes and combinations.

Blankets and Bed Comforters.

The buying of these lines was done with extreme care, as we have an exacting constituency to chose for, who are wide awake judges of qualities and prices. The stock is right and the values correspond.

Along with these we would also mention our new fall selected Shawls, in many sizes, qualities and shapes—very exclusive—and from makers who warrant their goods.

Millinery and Mantles.

Style is everything in these lines. You don't want a last years' hat, or bonnet, or jacket, at any cost, and you won't find one here. You don't even want this season's unless the style is distinctive, and that is just where we excel.

We continue to show full range in all the newest novelties in Dress Goods.

MERCHANT TAILORS, &c.,

416 George Street, Opposite the "Examiner" Office,

In thanking their numerous customers for orders received since their Fall Openings, desire to inform them and others that they have now received another consignment of Fall and Winter Goods, embracing every grade, shade and pattern of Cloths known to the trade.

OVERCOATS! OVERCOATS!

We desire to draw the special attention of the public to our stock of OVERCOATS, made up in Worsteds, Meltons, Beavers, Irish and Canadian Friezes. These goods were cut and made on the premises by our own workmen, and under my personal supervision, during the dull times, and are now offered to our customers at prices which cannot be approached by any house in town.

We have also a special line of UNDERCLOTHING which we are selling very low. Call in and see them.

WM. LECH & SONS,

413 GEORGE STREET.

Reflections of a Married Woman—are not pleasant if she be delicate, run-down, or overworked. She feels "played out." Her smile and her good spirits have taken flight. It worries her husband as well as herself.

This is the time to build up her strength and cure those weaknesses or ailments which are the cause of her trouble.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription regulates and promotes all the proper functions of womanhood, improves digestion, enriches the blood, dispels aches and pains, melancholy and nervousness, brings refreshing sleep, and restores health and strength.

It's a safe remedial agent, a tonic and nervine guaranteed to cure those disorders and derangements incident to womanhood, or the money paid for it is returned.

It would not pay to sell a poor medicine on these terms.

Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures Catarrh in the Head.

CIRCUMSTANCES ALTER CASES.

"Goodness, how you frightened me, madam! I thought it was my wife!"

"I'm sure I am quite as much disappointed as you are, sir. I wish to heaven it had been."

The Country Circus—A Moment of Envy

Boy (from tent)—Hey, fellers! Run home an' get de money to come in, even if yer have to steal it! It's immense. De clown's a standin' on his head, an' de baby elephant's a chuckin' a pint o' popcorn into his ears—don't yer wisht yer wuz me?

No Money There.

First Burglar—Hark! I hear some man talking.

Second Burglar—What's he saying?

First Burglar—That he will never bet on another horse as long as he lives.

Second Burglar—Let's get out of this! No money here; he's lost every cent.

No Color Sense.

Nan—Mrs. Bangs has execrable taste, hasn't she?

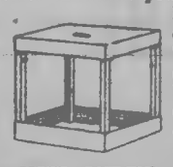
Kitty—Yes, indeed! She has red hair, you know—though, of course, she can't help that—and only the other day she gave a pink tea.

Don't commit suicide on account of your "incurable" blood disease. The sensible thing for you to do is to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. If that fails, why, then—keep on trying, and it will not fail. The trouble is, people get discouraged too soon. "Try, try, try again."

Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam cures coughs, colds, asthma, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles.

Date for Shipping Live Fowls.

Express charges on live poultry being double rates, it is desirable to make the crate in which poultry is shipped as light as is consistent with strength. The illustration shows perhaps the best framework for such a crate. An empty grocery box of the requisite size may be sawed in the middle, making the top and bottom of the crate, though if the box is at all high some three or four inches only, of the top and of the bottom should be taken. The corner post of inch and a half pine should be well nailed to the box, and the sides and ends then covered with burlap or cotton cloth. The top may be of slats or of boards, as shown in the sketch. If of the latter, a hole should be cut both for ventilation and for convenience in handling. Straw should be placed in the bottom, and plenty of oats or wheat scattered into it. If the birds are to be shipped but a short distance, no water should be placed in the crate, but if sent a long way a tin cup should be provided, and notice pasted on the outside that the fowls within are to be watered by the express messenger. If food is provided for a long journey it should be placed in some receptacle so that the birds will not soil it before it is all eaten. Do not crowd birds that are to be shipped a long distance. If they are to be on the way but twenty four hours, or less, some little crowding will not injure them.



LIGHT POULTRY CRATE.

To Kill Worms in Pigs.

Worms in pigs, says the Rural New Yorker, come from eggs, some of them hatched within the animal and some outside. This is but one of the different stages through which these insects pass and is a provision of nature for perpetuation of the species. The pigs should have a liberal diet of green food, roots, grain, and, if possible to be had, buttermilk is excellent. Let the bowels be cleansed by a dose of castor oil. There are several vermifuges, some of them specially adapted to particular parasites. Common salt, where the animals may have access to it at will, is excellent. Oil of turpentine, 10 to 20 grains, calomel, ½ to 1 drachm, the dose varying according to the size of the animal, are good. Tartar emetic and sulphate of iron given for six successive mornings, followed by a purge, may be used. Sometimes a concentrated solution used as an injection is of service.

HE TELLS IT HIMSELF.

A West Oxford Farmer Narrowly Escapes Premature Burial—The Causes of His Threatened Fate and Lucky Escape.

INGERSOLL, Oct. 8.—W. H. Bailey of West Oxford township, claims to have only narrowly escaped premature burial a short time ago. He had had kidney disease for four years back and so badly at times that he was completely laid up. Many doctors treated him, but their treatment, in Mr. Bailey's opinion, made him worse rather than better. His escape from a premature grave was affected by the use of the infallible Dodd's Kidney Pills. Three boxes of these cured completely. Mr. Bailey claims to be able now to do a bigger day's work than his twenty-four-year-old son.

A Remarkable Event.

An event which has been the talk of the town for some weeks is the cure of Mr. Edward White, whose sufferings from Salt Rheum (Eczema) were well known. Mr. White's statement is as follows:

For 12 years previous to the last few months I have been a sufferer of the worst kind from Salt Rheum. I tried twelve different doctors, besides many patent medicines but received no benefit, but gradually became worse. Last January I was advised to try B. B. B. by the postmaster here. I soon perceived a decided change for the better, and it only took six bottles to make a complete cure.

EDW. WHITE, Victoria Corner, N.B.

Mr. J. B. Bowser, Merchant; Mr. Jas. W. Boyer, Manufacturer, and Mr. Thos. W. Letson, J. P., can certify to the truth of the above statement.

"When I was a Boy,"

Writes Postmaster J. C. WOODSON, Forest Hill, W. Va., "I had a bronchial trouble of such a persistent and stubborn character, that the doctor pronounced it incurable with ordinary medicines, and advised me to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I did so, and one bottle cured me. For the last fifteen years, I have used this preparation with good effect whenever I take and I know of numbers of people who keep it in the house all the time, not considering it safe to be without it."

"I have been using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my family for 30 years, with the most satisfactory results, and can cheerfully recommend it as being especially adapted to all pulmonary complaints. I have, for many years, made pulmonary and other medicines a special study, and I have come to the conclusion that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral occupies a position pre-eminent over other medicines of the class."—Chas. NEAT PIAZZA TABLE.

Directions for Making This Indispensable Article at Home.

Where the piazza is used as a summer sitting-room, a table is necessary, as in a dining-room. A shelf hinged to the house and so arranged that it can be raised and lowered is quite serviceable, but it is not exactly an ornament to the house, and the difficulty of exactly matching the paint makes it even less so. Our illustration shows one that can be quite readily made by anyone who can drive a nail or fasten a screw.

The top is of pine wood, three-quarters of an inch in thickness and twenty-four inches across. As it is difficult to find a board of sufficient width, two pieces will have to be glued together and secured with dowel pins. There must be two of them, driven into the edge of each piece two and one-half inches, after the edges have been carefully squared and straightened by planing. The holes must be bored with a quarter inch bit, and an equal distance apart. Make the pegs of oak to fit the holes, and after dipping them into hot liquid glue, drive them into one piece; then glue the edges, and before it has time to cool, insert the pegs in the opposite piece and drive them tight together.

The lower round or shelf of the table will probably have to be made in the same way. It measures twenty inches across. Set them away to dry till next day; meantime select three hardwood, straight-grained broomsticks of equal thickness, and saw them twenty-seven inches long. Prepare them by scraping off the paint and varnish and sandpaper them down smooth. The following day the work may be continued. Smoothly plane both sides of the boards. If you have not a large pair of compasses the circles may be described with pencil, string and tack in the way that every schoolboy knows. Saw along the lines carefully with a compass saw, holding it vertically. Through the smaller circle bore three holes through which the legs may pass, each one inch from the edge, equi-distant from each other.

Lay the shelf on the under side of the top, and mark the places for the upper ends of the legs. The broomsticks should fit tightly in the holes, and the shelf secured in place, thirteen inches from the floor, with one and one-half inch finish nails. The upper ends of the legs must be placed on the marks and the tops secured with one and one-half inch screws, the ends of which are sunken in the wood and the hole filled with putty. After it has been smoothly finished with sandpaper it may be stained or painted and finished with lambrequin or fringe put on with brass-headed nails.

Another way to finish it is to cover it smoothly with denim, or any preferred material, tacked on with an embroidered valance. The legs should be stained cherry or oak, and finished with brass claw-foot sockets.

The Queen's Work and Duty.

A prosperous colony of bees at swarming time consists of a fertile queen and a few hundred drones and many thousand workers. The queen is a perfectly developed female, and is the prolific parent of the whole colony. The only duty she performs is to deposit the eggs. This fact is well demonstrated by removing a common queen and introducing an Italian queen in her stead. During the honey flow the queen will deposit about 30,000 eggs per day. She is distinguished from the other bees by her size, form and color. Should her death occur when there are drones in the apiary and eggs in the hive, or if she is to leave the hive with a young swarm, the workers will construct large cells, supply them with "royal jelly" and the eggs or larvæ that would have produced worker bees are developed into queens. The young queen usually leaves the hive when five or six days old to meet the drones in the air, for the purpose of fertilization. The cells in which the workers are reared are the smallest in size, the drones about one-third larger, the queen cell still larger, and resembles a peanut in shape and appearance. In the movable frames which should always be used, the queen cells are readily found about the time swarms are expected.

A Grand Shrub.

Hydrangea-grandiflora is a grand shrub, with very large white and pink flowers, as large as the two hands. Blooms in August when flowers are scarce. Owing to the large number of flowers the plant should be supported during blooming time.

Ringing Noises

In the ears, sometimes a roaring, buzzing sound, are caused by catarrh, that exceedingly disagreeable and very common disease. Loss of smell or hearing also result from catarrh. Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier, is a peculiarly successful remedy for this disease, which it cures by purifying the blood.

Hood's Pills are the best after dinner pills, assist digestion, prevent constipation.

Another Voice From Smith.

SMITH, July 7, 1892.

I was troubled with a nasty pain in the back and shoulders for a long time, and had tried several remedies without getting any relief. I thought at first it might be my lungs, as the doctor's say such pains are symptoms of lung trouble coming on, but I was induced to try a bottle of Membray's Kidney and Liver Cure, for sale at Tully's Drug Store, and after taking the second dose I was surprised to find the pains all leaving me. It acted like magic. I never knew anything that acted so quick on man or beast before.

REMOVING NEW HONEY.

When to Take from Hive—Bee Escapes—Round-up in Apiary.

After honey is capped or sealed it deteriorates in appearance if it remains upon the hives and should be removed at once when a fancy article is desired. Its quality and flavor is improved if left with the bees, but what it gains in this way is lost by discoloration. And further, if a dearth of honey occurs the bees may open some of the cells along the bottom of the section, destroying their good appearance and injuring their sale.

Among the recent developments in aiding a honey producer to remove his surplus are bee escapes. British bee keepers call them super cleaners, and they are simply small cones through which bees can leave the section, but can not return. One of these escapes is fastened over a hole in a board. If, towards evening, a case of sections is raised and this board put between it and the brood combs, the case will be free from bees by morning and can be removed without disturbing the colony in the least. There is no discoloring of the combs with smoke or tearing open the cells by angry bees. Some producers advise putting an empty case under a case of sections partially filled, raising them up, and putting underneath. In doing this great care should be exercised, for a case of completed sections are worth much more than two unfinished. When contemplated, a careful survey of the honey resources should be made, and if the flow promises to continue it may be done. Where the cases are so constructed that the finished sections can be readily removed, and there are unfinished ones in the outside row, these should be put directly over the brood and their places filled with empty sections.

When bees refuse to leave sections there is either a queen or brood in them, and it is better to remove and investigate at once. The brood will be drone and can be fed to the chickens, and the honey that surrounds it extracted. If there is a queen she can be returned to her hive.

Those who keep bees to produce honey simply for their own use, usually have it stored in small boxes. These boxes when full should be removed towards evening, placed near the entrance of the hive and covered with cloth. If the bees get started from the boxes before night there will probably be but few of them remaining in the morning. Take the boxes away early in the morning or robbers will find them. If all the bees have not gone out put the boxes in the bottom of a barrel, cover closely, leaving only a small hole at the top. The bees will pass out through this and those on the outside will not find it. When bees do not leave a box, it contains either a queen or brood and had better be returned to its hive and taken off at some future time.

It is a good time now to have a roundup in the apiary preparatory to a fall flow of honey. Where colonies have been allowed to swarm at their own pleasure, there may be parent colonies which have swarmed to death; that is, until they have too few bees to pass the winter in safety. Small afterswarms or casts may also be found, which have only a small amount of comb. If these were returned to the parent colony before the fall flow of honey, they may be able to secure enough stores for cold weather. In my apiary there has not been a single afterswarm this season and but few first swarms. In my experience with Italian bees I have had but few second swarms, and believe that they are far more provident than the common bees, for the little swarms that flit from tree to tree late in the season are usually black bees. At the present, says Mrs. L. Harrison in Orange Judd Farmer, strong colonies are little more than making a living, and the prospect for a fall flow is quite encouraging, as there has been abundant showers. Polygonum (smartweed) which grows in corn and potato fields is now making its appearance. Spanish needles and beggar sticks which grow luxuriantly upon overflowed lands and along water courses, yield much honey in the fall.

The Best Furniture Polish.

An experienced cabinet-maker says that the best preparation for cleaning picture frames and restoring furniture, especially that somewhat marred or scratched, is a mixture of three parts of linseed oil and one part spirits of turpentine. It not only covers the disfigured surface but restores wood to its original color, leaving a lustre upon the surface. Apply with a woolen cloth and when dry rub with woolen.

Flowers in Finger Bowls.

A very pleasing table decoration that is easily carried out throughout the summer months is the addition of flowers to the finger-bowls. Use double bowls, one large enough to hold the other, and fill the space between the two with very small blossoms. The effect of dipping the fingers into flower-encircled water is decidedly unique and agreeable.

Quack Advertisements

Are a nuisance and we think it behooves publishers to examine into the merits of many articles puffed up in their columns. We do not deny that many meritorious remedies are properly to be classed under this heading. Take the hundreds and thousands relieved from severe suffering by the use of Polson's Nerviline; would it not be unreasonable to expect them to condemn that far-famed remedy? Now we know for a fact that Polson's Nerviline is without exception the most powerful, pleasant and certain remedy in the world for pain. It cannot fail, for it goes right to the bottom of pain, penetrates to the nerve, soothes them into quietness, and affords prompt and permanent relief.

CHURCH CHIMES.

The Brotherhood of St. Andrew attended corporate communion yesterday morning in St. John's.

The Brotherhood of St. Andrew willl meet to-morrow evening at the residence of Rev. C. B. Kenrick.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of St. John's church is holding its regular monthly meeting this afternoon.

Collections in aid of the Widows' and Orphans' Fund were taken up in St. Luke's church, Ashburnham, yesterday.

The Young Peoples' Association in connection with St. John's church meets this evening at 8 o'clock in the Sunday School.

A meeting of the Sunday School Association will be held in the Y.M.C.A. rooms, Thursday afternoon at 4.30 o'clock.

Six or seven hundred delegates are expected to attend the Provincial Sunday School Convention in Belleville week after next.

The Women's Baptist Mission Circle will hold its regular monthly meeting Tuesday afternoon at three o'clock in the Park street Baptist church.

The Provincial Sunday School Association will meet in Belleville on Oct. 23rd, 24th and 25th. The Peterborough delegates have not as yet been appointed.

Miss Pauline Scheak, of Toronto, and Mrs. W. A. Sanderson sang the duet, "The Lord is my Shepherd," yesterday, in St. Paul's church, in a manner most effective.

In the absence of the Rector, Rev. H. Symonds, the services at St. Luke's yesterdoy were conducted in the morning by Rev. A. W. Mackenzie, of Port Hope, and by C. W. Hedley in the evening.

Mr. E. J. Stubo, of McMaster University, Toronto, conducted services in the Murray street Baptist church, yesterday, the pastor, Rev. J. E. Trotter, delivering the anniversary sermons in the Gilmour Memorial church, Smith.

The duet which was rendered in St. John's church last evening, entitled "Forever With the Lord," by Miss Clarke and Mr. Maitland Boswell, was indeed well taken, the voices of both singers being singularly clear and sweet.

Rev. D. O. Crossley last Sunday asked for a collection of $60 to pay this year's coal bill of the Western church at Napanee and received in response $73.50. Surely this is the better way of raising church funds than the objectionable means often resorted to.

A pastoral letter has been issued by the Bishop to the clergy in this diocese asking that next Sunday be observed as one of special intercession on behalf of Sunday school work. The sermons at both the morning and evening services in St. John's will be devoted to this end. The teachers and others interested in the work are requested to attend communion at 8.30 o'clock next Sunday morning.

ST. ANDREW'S.

Yesterday morning the congregation in St. Andrew's was not so large as usual. The evening congregation, however, was very large, many strangers being present. A very practical and eloquent sermon was delivered by the pastor from the text, "What do ye more than others?"—Matt. v. 47. The anthem by the large and efficient choir was much appreciated. During the offertory a male quartette rendered "Nearer My God to Thee," in beautiful harmony and with much effect. The whole service was very impressive.

Next Sunday the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed in St. Andrew's. The preparatory services will be on Friday evening at 8 p.m.

PARK STREET BAPTIST CHURCH.

Mr. C. Sneyd, B. A., conducted both the morning and the evening services in the Park street church. In the morning, he took his text from Romans, chap. 5, verse 2, "Moreover the law entered, that the offence might abound. But where sin abounded, grace did much more abound," and preached a most excellent discourse on "Law and grace." He spoke of the law of God and its mission and the grace of God and its work. In the evening, Mr. Sneyd spoke on the parable of the Good Samaritan. A voluntary by the choir in the morning, entitled, "He is the chief of ten thousand," was very sweetly rendered, as was the anthem, "Now I love Jesus and Jesus loves me," with orchestral accompaniment, in the evening. The attendance at both services was large.

The growth of the Y. P. S. C. E., as shown by the reports presented, yesterday, at the provincial convention, has indeed been remarkable. In 1884, the society was established in Toronto. In 1886 there were four societies in the Province; in 1887, there were 15; in 1888, there were 55; in 1889, there were 150; in 1890, 341; in 1891, 546; in 1892, 851; in 1893, 940; in 1894, there are 1,490, with a total membership of not far short of 70,000.

The Manitoba Free Press makes the assertion that in Winnipeg the hiring out of churches, for the purpose of entertainments and concerts, has been carried to such an extent that it has been decided that the license inspector shall demand the same fee for the use of churches, as though the entertainment were held in the opera house.

SALVATION ARMY NOTES.

The local corps of the Salvation Army are expecting to have one of the most remarkable events that has ever taken place in its history on Thursday, October 18th, being the occasion of the visit of General Booth, the founder and leader of the Salvation Army. The meeting promises to be one of the largest religious gatherings ever held in this part of the country. The armoury has been engrged for the evening meeting, and no doubt the citizens will turn out en masse to do honour to the leader of one of the most progressive organizations of the present century. General Booth was welcomed to Newfoundland by the premier of that colony and 6,000 citizens. He is now doing a tour through Nova Scotia, New Brunswick Quebec and Ontario. Colonel Lowley, also Commandant and Mrs. Booth, the Army's commissioners for Canada, will accompany the General, also Brigadier de Barritt and a great number of staff and field officers. The party arrives on Thursday by the 11.45 G.T.R. train, and will be escorted to the Central Park where an address will be read by Mayor Kendry. In the afternoon a service will be held in the George Street Church, and in the evening a mass meeting will be held in the armoury. There will also be a banquet in the Simcoe street barracks from 5.30 to 7.30 p.m.

The latest statistics concerning the Salvation Army are very interesting. They are as follows:—Corps and outposts, 7,397; training garrisons, 66; slum posts, 64; rescue homes, 49; prison gate homes, 12; homes of rest, 24; food and shelter depots, 53; factories and labour bureaus, 39; farm colonies, 5; number of officers, 10,874; social officers, 443; rescue officers, 238; slum officers, 186; farm colony officers, 87; "War Cries" sold weekly, 580,333; "Young Soldiers" sold weekly, 148,582; magazines monthly, 114,990. The report of the United States shows 114 corps and outposts, 14 slum posts, 5 rescue homes, 5 food and shelter depots, and 1,634 officers.

RIVER AND LAKE RIPLETS.

Duck, Fur and Fin in the Waters North and South of us.

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Mr. McDonald, of the Point St. Charles lumbering mills, town, lost a valuable horse Sunday morning. He attributes the cause of its death to heart failure, it being the second one this fall. The other died after reaching its destination at his timber limits, north.

The steamer Daisy with a jolly party of some fame left this morning for Sugar Island, situated at the mouth of the Keene river, Rice Lake, some four miles distant from Keene. The party is composed as follows: Capt. Chas. Calcutt, Mr. Harry Neil, "Shortstop" Tobin, Joe Young, Billy Dayman, "Bat" Laroque and others. Ducks are numerous in the lake, and yesterday's cold wind and frost has driven them in near shore and up in the creeks, so no doubt the boys will have good luck.

On account of the water being let out of Hazlett's raceway, in order to clear the watersoaked debris, which has accumulated at the sluceway, which provides power for Faint's woolen mill, Ashburnham, to-day, large quantities of eels are being captured. Mud larks up to their knees, with all sorts of anglers' tools, such as picks, spears, forks, spades and shovels, are digging them out right and left.

The Costello party passed through Young's Point, yesterday, in their five mile paddle from Lakefield, there being three canoes in all. Their catch was four lunge and nine bass, the total weight being 76 pounds, which they disposed of at Mrs. Kearney's, "Lakview House," at the Point. They expect an enormous catch of salmon in Long Lake, before proceeding to the Blue Mountains, at which place they will pitch canvass for deer hunting.

The Winch Morrow hunting party will set sail Wednesday morning next with the following brigade of expert crack shots of the jungle in the Arctic regions. They are as follows: Messrs. Harry C. Winch, R. A. Morrow, H. LeBrun, Geo. Hatton, Alex. Patterson, Arthur Stevenson, also the far-famed and renowned guide, Mr. Alex. Simpson. They also take with them a hash architect whose identity is as yet an unknown quantity. Their equipment includes, rifles, ammunition, six tents and edibles to last as long as the deer hunting season prevails. In former years this party has had exceptionally good luck. No doubt ontheir return they will give a good account of themselves—unless their supply of the English language becomes exhausted. Mr. Alex. Patterson left this morning with a party of competent engineers in order to locate most suitable shooting grounds for the party, at the same time making final preparations.

OUT ON SUSPENDED SENTENCE.

Connors is a Free Man Once More—The Judge Tempers his Justice With Leniency.

"Professor" Connors was up before Judge Weller for trial, this morning, on the charge upon which he was committed by Magistrate Dumble, a week ago, viz., the larceny of a rubber coat from Thomas Kemp, of Douro.

It will be remembered that Kemp left the coat in a hotel, at Lakefield, and that when he returned for it, the mackintosh had vanished. He found it in a Peterborough hotelkeeper's hands the next day, and the theft was cleary traced to Connors by the local police.

The Professor was found guilty by the Judge, this morning, but upon the intercesson of Mr. E. B. Stone, counsel for the prisoner, Connors was allowed to go on suspended sentence. Mr. Stone represented to the judge that severity had been tried with the prisoner, he having served a ten years' sentence, and that it apparently had no effect, as regards the reformation of the man's character. Mr. Stone believed that ths exercsie of a little kindness would beget beneficial results. Judge Weller accordingly tempered his justice with mercy, and the Professor is now a free man.

Mr. E. B. Wood represented the Crown in this case.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

At the young men's meeting on Saturday night Mr. K. Mark gave a Bible reading, which was much appreciated by the young men present, and which will be continued next Saturday night.

There was a very good attendance at the gospel and song service last evening. Mr. Jas. Sutherland gave a very instructive and thoughtful address from Rev. 1st chap., 10th verse. The Misses Jewett sang a duet, "Speeding Away." The meeting was closed by prayer after singing the doxology.

Our Saturday and Sunday night meetings are growing in interest as the numbers at the meetings testify, and the interest that is shown by the attendance. We are praying for showers of blessing on our work here during the fall and winter months.

Big Collision at New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 15.—Fifteen people were more or less injured and $40,000 worth of railroad property destroyed in a collision at the junction of the Louisville and Nashville, and New Orleans and Northwestern tracks about two miles from the city. T. P. Simpson, engineer of the East Louisiana train, is under arrest charged with criminal negligence.

Three Men Drowned at Coney Island.

BROOKLYN, Oct. 15.—Yesterday a catboat containing four men was capsized in the lower bay, opposite McPherson's pavilion at Coney Island. John and Daniel Bailey put out in a rowboat and succeeded in rescuing one of the men, who gave his name as Walter Booth, of New Brighton, S.I. His three companions are supposed to have been drowned.

"Now for the Rubber."

For these are rubber days, and all folks should wear rubber or rainproof coats. We carry full lines for men and boys, of the best English, German and Canadian makes. OUR MONTHLY REPORT.

September, the ingathering month for the husbandmen, came in lovely and bright, with a moderate temperature, but changes will make their appearance, either for better or worse, even with the best of house keepers. So with our pleasant delightful and muse-inspiring September; our first morning's observations being 40 degrees, but going considerably over that up to the 12th, than coming down to 26 degrees; went again, rising like smoke in a frosty morning till down to 35 deg. on the 25th. But I tell you on the morning of the 26th, when the henpecked husband got up to light the fire in the stove, then came the silent wish, "If only I had been a bachelor," with the mercury down to 27 deg., sharp frost and crisp ice under his feet. But, alas, that can never be again. It then kept pleasant to the end of the month. As I said, the 26th was the coldest, and the 7th the warmest, going up to 66 deg.; then at 1 p.m. our coldest was on the 25th, going down to 52 deg., and the warmest on the 5th, going up to 85 deg., leaving the mean temperature of the month at 61 deg. We had four thunder storms during the month, but no heavy rain fall. Rain fell on 15 days to the depth of 3 inches. Twice fog, twice halo, one awful gale, and seven times frost. The following are the different points from which the wind was blowing at sunrise during the month, viz.: Northwest 8 days, south 1 day, south-east 4 days, south-west 12 days, west 4 days, and north 1 day.

FROM THE CAPITAL.

Survey of Lake Nepigon—Martini-Metford Rifles for the Militia.

OTTAWA, Oct. 15.—Ferdinand Van Bruysel, the Belgian Consul-General, who has been here for three years past, has been recalled by the home government.

William McInness and D. B. Dowling, of the geological survey, have returned from their summer work at Nepigon, where they were making a detailed topographical and geological survey of Lake Nepigon and the Nepigon river, which connects this lake with Lake Superior. This lake, they say, lies in a basin of rocks of the lower Cambrian range, its length is about 80 miles and its breadth is about 40, its water is clear and is a great depth. To the southern and western sides are many irregular bays and almost every variety of coast line from a flat delta at the mouth of the river to perpendicular cliffs rising to a height of 400 feet.

Judge Mosgrove returned from the Kingston Military College where he was inquiring into the "hazing" case. The Judge has a son there, and he also went through the "hazing." It is the intention of the Judge to interview the Minister of Militia as to what he learned during his visit to the institution.

The Militia department is sending out ten of the new Martini-Metford rifles to each of the principal shooting regiments of the Dominion. Some 38 regiments in all will receive them. The intention is to have the new arm, which Major-General Herbert would like to see in the hands of all the militia men of the country, thoroughly tested. The rifle has already been well tested as to its merits, but it is impossible for marksmen to make so good scores with it as with the arm they have been used to until they become familiar with it. This limited supply will afford an opportunity for riflemen to practice with it.

In the Canada Gazette appears the notice of application to Parliament of Mrs. Clara Victoria Ellis, of Toronto, for a bill of divorce from her husband, Thomas D. Ellis, traveller for the firm of P. W. Ellis & Co., residing at 583 Sherbourne street, on the ground of adultery.

A NOTABLE EVENT.

The Unveiling of the Statue of Sir John Macdonald in Toronto.

TORONTO, Oct. 15.—The unveiling of the monument to the memory of Sir John A. Macdonald in Queen's Park on Saturday by Sir John Thompson was a notable event. At 1.30 the reception committee proceeded to the park. In College street the school boys were received by the Minister of Militia and Lieut.-Col. Otter, who had gone up in advance of the other members of the party. Fully 1,200 of the schoolboy soldiers turned out, and their marching was excellent, so excellent as to call forth the encomiums of the War Minister and the commandant of the regulars.

The review over, the distinguished people went up to the platform around the veiled statue and the speaking began. E. F. Clarke, the chairman of the committee, made a few opening remarks. He told the audience how the work of collecting funds had gone on. Then came the customary remarks concerning the man whose bronze effigy was hidden behind the folds of the Union Jack. Sir John Thompson followed. Hon. Mackenzie Bowell, Hon. G. W. Ross, Sir Adolphe Caron and Sir C. H. Tupper followed, and Mayor Kennedy made the closing remarks. Amongst the guests were: Sir John Carling, K. C. M. G.; Hon. T. M. Daly, Minister of the Interior; Hon. W. B. Trees, President of the Council; Hon. John F. Wood, Controller of Inland Revenue; Hon. N. Clarke Wallace, M. P., Sir Frank Smith, the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Kirkpatrick, Sir Oliver Mowat, Hon. Mr. Dryden, Hon. A. S. Hardy, Hon. Mr. Harcourt, Chancellor Boyd, Justices Ross, Ferguson and McMahon, Sir Thomas Galt, Senators Sanford, Dobson and Ferguson, Mr. Craig, M. P., Mr. Mulock, M.P., Hon. J. C. Aikens, Sir James Grant, K.C.M.G., M.P., Major-General Cameron, the Bishop of Toronto, Judge Chisholm, of Port Hope, Hon. Colonel Clarke, Senator Ogilvie, of Montreal, and Dr. Bourinot, of Ottawa.

The new Chief Justice, Mr. W. R. Meredith, was present.

Fatal Accident to a Brock Farmer.

BLACKWATER, Ont., Oct. 15.—Last Wednesday night Mr. William Thompson, of the 2nd concession Brock, while working a hay press, met with what proved to be a fatal accident. He was driving the team attached to the arm of the machine when the belt came out of clevis, allowing the arm to fly back. It struck Mr. Thompson with great force across the stomach and bowels, inflicting internal injuries from which he died Saturday evening. The bereaved family have the sympathy of the entire community.

Hamilton's Youthful Thieves.

HAMILTON, Oct. 15.—John Benson and Wm. Ford, two boys aged 13 and 14 years respectively, pleaded guilty in the police court on Saturday to the charge of stealing two pairs of shoes from in front of Pratt's shoe store. Magistrate Jelfs is in quandary how he should dispose of young boys for petty thefts and suggested to the fathers of the lads that they publicly chastise them. As a result the boys were taken to the jail yard, stripped of coat and vest and given a severe flogging with a strap.

A Brantford Compositor has Diabetes—He Drops 40 Pounds in Weight in a Short Time—How He Was Cured.

BRANTFORD, Oct. 15.—Thos Hazelhurst, a compositor in the Courier in this city, has seen some ups and downs in health within the past few months. Last spring he found himself suffering from diabetes in a very severe form. In a few weeks he lost forty pounds in weight. His system kept on running down and Mr. Hazelhurst was very naturally alarmed. After trying many remedies without benefit, he began using Dodd's Kidney Pills. Three boxes made a big change in his condition, and six boxes worked a complete cure. Mr. Hazelhurst is to-day better than he has been for years. Add one more to the list of diabetes cases cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

HE WILL PLEAD GUILTY

Robinson, the Murderer of Montgomery Gibbs, Loses His Nerve.

CONFESSION OF HIS SPOUSE

Dressed in Man's Clothes She Went Out With Her Husband to Look for Booty—The Secret Let Out in a Quarrel With Her Sister-in-Law.

BUFFALO, Oct. 16.—District Attorney Knefick has returned from Cleveland with the written confession of Clarence Robinson, the murderer of Montgomery Gibbs. Mrs. Robinson made a confession last evening. Here is the substance of it:

"Shortly after our wedding Robinson and I went to Mount Vernon, Ohio, to live. Soon after our arrival there some show people came along and induced my husband to put into the show $1,000 of the $3,000 he had. We went on the road and finally went broke at Jamestown, N.Y. Then we came to Buffalo. On Saturday night, April 28, we did not have a cent and my husband proposed that we go out and hold up somebody to get some money. I dressed in men's clothes and we took revolvers and started out. Gibbs was the first well-dressed man we met.

"When Robinson ordered Gibbs to hold up his hands Gibbs struck out viciously with his right hand. Robinson fired his revolver within a foot of his head. Gibbs fell down on the walk and my husband shot him again, striking him in the arm. Then we made our way to our room on Eagle street.

"Next morning while we were in bed we heard the boys crying, 'All about the murder,' and my husband said, 'That's a good thing. He can't tell who did it.' The next day we left Buffalo for Cleveland.

"The story of the murder got out through my husband's sister. I was talking with her one day and she said something about my reputation not being good. I was angry and I said to her, 'Well, your brother killed Gibbs in Buffalo.' She reported what I had said to the Cleveland police and this set them working on the case."

Both Mr. and Mrs. Robinson will be put on trial for murder.

Robinson is in a pitiable condition and fears are entertained that he will lose his reason. The unfortunate man will be guarded day and night to prevent suicide.

Robinson says that he will plead guilty to murder in the first degree as he has no desire to live. His family has been notified against his wishes.

Study of the Moon's Surface.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 16.—Scientific camera artists on top of Mount Hamilton have made the finest negatives of the moon ever registered on sensitive plates. Hills, valleys and craters that have never been noticed in direct observations through the telescope are perceptible, and those men on Mt. Hamilton have been able to see lunar objects one-tenth of a mile in diameter in certain condition. The negatives are inches in diameter. It was found that an exposure of two seconds was sufficient for the brighter regions, and was even more than sufficient for the intensely bright. An exposure of four or more seconds was not too much for parts. By comparing these photographs with others made in the past and still others to be made in the future, astronomers expect to settle the interesting question as to changes of the moon's surface.

A Preacher Who Traded Wives.

ANDERSON, Ind., Oct. 16.—Judge Ellison has granted Mrs. M. Smith a divorce from Rev. Dr. Smith, who is well known throughout Indiana. Two years ago, while preaching in Winchester, Rev. Mr. Smith, it is said, became infatuated with Mrs. Fred Helm, a member of his congregation. She also became infatuated with him. Mr. Helm then fell in love with Mrs. Smith, and the result was a trade in wives that raised a commotion and necessitated Mr. Smith's retirement from the pulpit. All four persons involved moved to this city, where two applications for divorce were filed one year ago. The petitions were not granted. Smith and Mrs. Helm are in Ohio, where he is preaching.

Triple Murder and Suicide.

ELIZABETH, N.J., Oct. 16.—A horrible triple murder and suicide occurred near here yesterday. Mrs. Thomas Harrigan, aged 30 years, took her three children, aged 5, 3 years and 6 months, and huddling them close to her in the hay mow set fire to the hay. The mother and three children were burned to death.

Incendiary Fire at North Bay.

NORTH BAY, Ont., Oct. 16.—Fire broke out in Henry J. Davis' barn and stables north of here. Both buildings were destroyed with all the season's crops, one cow and nine calves. Loss $1,400, covered by insurance in the Western. The origin of the fire is supposed to have been incendiary.

Our Prairie Sheep in England.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—Eighteen hundred live prairie sheep have just been received at Islington from Canada. The price received is four shillings a stone, or sixpence per pound, excluding the offal. It is claimed that this mutton will find more favor here than frozen Australian mutton.

Mr. Wye Molds to His Charge.

WINDSOR, Oct. 16.—Rev. G. W. Wye, rector of Christ Church, Amherstburg, who was served with a notice not to continue in charge of the church, held service as usual on Sunday. He has begun a civil suit to recover $1 years of salary amounting to $1,200.

PARKDALE'S MYSTERY

Further Evidence at the Inquest on the Shooting of Westwood.

SOME THEORIES EXPLODED

An Express Driver Testifies to Being the Man Who Inquired for the Westwood Residence—Contradictory Evidence—Inquest Again Adjourned.

TORONTO, Oct. 16.—The inquest into the cause of the death of Frank B. Westwood, who was shot down by an assassin at his father's door one week ago last Saturday was resumed at No. 6 police station last evening. The hall was again crowded and a curious crowd, unable to gain admission, assembled outside the building. Jurors, witnesses and reporters took up half the room, and detectives and police officers were everywhere.

Excitement over the murder has now cooled down a little from the fever heat of last week and the tragedy has become but a bit of current history in the daily life of a big city; still there was a look of expectation in the faces of most people present last evening, for some interesting disclosures were expected and sensational developments were whispered of.

Promptly at 8 o'clock Coroner Orr opened proceedings. Before the hour of opening there was a great crush at the door, the crowd being very anxious to get in. The police had to force them back, so persistent were they.

Dr. Lynd was first called. Frank had told him that the man who shot him down did not speak a word. He described his murder as a short young man dressed in dark clothes and wearing a dark hat and light moustache. He believed the boy had told the whole truth regarding the matter. It was possible that Frank Westwood had committed suicide but not probable. He had seen two young men on Springer ave., west of Jameson ave., and heard them whistle as he passed. One wore a light overcoat, the other a dark one.

Mrs. Card was re-called. She had remained at the Grand Opera House till the play was over. This means that she could not possibly have reached Jameson ave. before the shooting, for the opera was not out till 11.05. At least so swore C. B. Shepherd, manager of the house. This exploded Mrs. Card's little theory.

The evidence of several witnesses who followed was unimportant.

M. K. Keeler, 70 Victoria crescent, had seen a young lady get off a King street car at Jameson avenue about 11.30 on the night of the murder. She met a couple of other ladies a short distance down the avenue, but he paid no attention to them. He had whistled on Victoria crescent that night. It was 11.35 when he got home. This knocks out the "whistling signal" evidence.

W. H. Monroe, 70 Victoria crescent, had reached home about 11 o'clock on the night of the shooting. He had heard a pistol shot just after he turned on to Jameson avenue. He heard but one shot and had seen no person on the street. It was a few minutes after 11 when he got home, but he could not state the time exactly.

Miss Helen Watson, 73 Victoria crescent, had heard two shots at 10.50 on that fatal Saturday night, one three or four minutes later than the other. She had also heard a furious barking of dogs after the first shot.

Stephen Leslie, 118 Victoria crescent, had heard the first shot while in front of the South Parkdale depot. The shot sounded smothered. At least seven minutes intervened between the two shots. He saw no person on Jameson avenue. He entered his own house not a minute after the second shot and it was just 11.14 then. Some importance is attached to this man's evidence, as it supports a possible theory of the shooting having taken place inside the house.

Dr. Sparrow swore that it was only 11.10 when he reached Westwood's after the shooting, which contradicts Leslie's evidence as to time. Frank told him that he had walked upstairs after the shot was fired. He had also said he placed his right foot against the door and only partially opened it. Mr. Westwood, sr., said the shot might have been intended for him, although he knew of no motive.

Miss Bessie Stephen, the domestic at Westwood's, said that she had been awakened by Mrs. Westwood screaming, "Oh Ben, don't go." She then heard a commotion in the house but had not been called by Mrs. Westwood until ten minutes later. Frank was then lying on his bedroom floor with his coat off, and Mrs. Westwood was alone in the room with him. Mrs. Westwood had told her how the shooting had occurred, and Frank had said that his assailant was short and stout. Frank had not, to her knowledge, quarrelled with any other member of the family.

Frank Rice, aged 14, 17 Star ave., had been asked by a stranger on the day of the shooting where the Westwood residence was. The stranger was about 5 feet 8 inches, had light curly hair and light moustache, and wore dark, shabby clothes.

James Burns, express driver, swore that he was the person who made the inquiry of the boys; he had a piano to deliver at Westwoods. And another clue was proven valueless. "Private Detective" Hornby, the man who found the scraps of paper, repeated his little story. No importance is attached to his story. He had found some more scraps on Victoria crescent which he exhibited, but this latest discovery of the modern Lecoque only served to amuse the court.

The inquest was then adjourned for one week.

Fatal Boiler Explosion.

BRADFORD, Pa., Oct. 16.—A boiler explosion occurred at M. H. Kelley's saw mill situated on Sugar Run, five miles from this place. George McAlister and Gus Carlson were instantly killed and William Dyer was fatally injured. Another man, George Lewis, received a slight flesh wound on one of his legs. The mill was wrecked.

Italy Must Retrench.

VICTIM OF INTRIGUERS

A Sensational Story Connected With the Illness of the Czar.

WANT THE CZAREWITCH'S RULE

He Is Said to be Disposed to Effect Certain Radical Reforms, and it is Hinted That His Father's Sickness is the Result of a Plot in His Favor.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 16.—Dr. George Fry Schmidt, an officer in the Prussian army now traveling on leave, has made public in an afternoon paper a letter received from a friend in St. Petersburg. The most sensational matter in the despatch is the intimation that the Czar's illness has been caused by other than natural means. The doctor translated the despatch as follows:

"The Czar is lying at the point of death. It is understood in a wide circle in Russia that the Czar's sickness was brought about by scientific means and that his death will not be a natural one. It is on account of this that the journals contradict the fact of the Czar's sickness.

"There is a party that wants to set the Czarewitch on the throne. The Czarewitch is of a cranky, melancholy nature, is inclined to institute the most radical reforms throughout Russia and has already made plans for such actions. He is very much hated by the clergy. The Patriarch of Moscow, who is at the head of the Greek Church, has travelled about with the Czar in order to persuade him to put his second son on the throne instead of the Czarewitch.

"As this second son is very hot-headed he is sure not to remain long on the throne without becoming seriously involved in state troubles. He is a fine soldier, fond of a fight, a martial fellow and very ambitious. He is an enemy of England, of Germany and above all of America. He not only intends to increase the size of Asiatic Russia, but also to attempt the tremendous task of bridging the Behring Straits and extending his empire in the direction of America."

WILL PROTECT MISSIONARIES.

China Takes the Foreigners Under its Protection the Fight Will Go On.

LONDON, Sept. 16.—The Times has this despatch from its Tien-Tsin correspondent: "In an imperial edict issued from Pekin the government assumes full responsibility for the protection of foreigners and denounces rowdyism. It orders the punishment of several culprits who assaulted travellers and assures strangers that their persons and property will be protected. It especially favors the missionaries.

"Japan having rejected China's peace overtures without a hearing the war will now enter upon a chronic stage demanding an appeal to the latest forces of China. The government is prepared, although reluctant to engage in a protracted conflict. The party in power recognize, however, the urgency of radical military and fiscal reforms. There is danger of a revolution, which might be followed by prolonged anarchy."

WHEN WILHELM VISITS PARIS.

Conspicuous Parisians Give Opinion as to His Reception.

PARIS, Oct. 16.—The Echo de Paris has got the opinions of conspicuous Parisians as to the treatment to be accorded Emperor William should he visit the city in 1900.

Jules Simons said: "He ought to receive the same courtesy as the other guests."

Joseph Reinach: "He should be received with courtesy. An insult would be madness and cowardice."

Deputy General Riu: "As a soldier I should turn pale and shudder. As a deputy I should uphold France's tradition of courtesy."

Editor Drumont: "The Parisians would hoot him."

Mme. Adam: "If Alsace should be German still I should taunt the French with cowardice even if I should be the only woman to speak."

Burglars Work the Royal City.

GUELPH, Oct. 16.—Burglars are operating in this city. A few nights ago a domestic in Postmaster Stirton's house heard some one escape by a back entrance, but nothing further was thought of the incident. Sunday evening while Mr. M. Costello and family were at church some one unlocked the front door with a key, lit a lamp and made a careful and thorough investigation of the interior. Every drawer in the house was opened and the contents ransacked. The only thing taken was some cake. The burglars in their quest overlooked a purse containing some small change. After doing the house the visitors left again by the front door, relocking it after them. The police have the case in hand.

Mgr. Satolli's Visit.

MONTREAL, Oct. 16.—Monseigneur Satolli, papal abiegate, reached here from New York yesterday accompanied by his private secretary, Abbe Papi. The abiegate granted an interview in Italian, being interpreted by his secretary. He says he has no mission of any kind in Canada. He came here on the invitation of the clergy to visit the educational establishments and goes to Quebec on the invitation of his former pupils. He said that neither the Manitoba school question nor any other Canadian question had been brought to his attention.

Fatal Shooting at Woodstock.

WOODSTOCK, Oct. 16.—Ned Hogan, about 18 years of age, son of Martin Hogan, laborer, was shot and instantly killed yesterday by a companion, William Cross. According to the story told by Cross, they were hunting in the woods at the time and began to play Jesse James. They marked off a distance and aimed at each other. Cross, not knowing that the hammer was cocked, fired and instantly killed Hogan. The body was taken to the Hogan home. Cross gave himself up to the police immediately. He is now in the lock-up.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 16, 1894.

THE Toronto World refers to the recent libel suits against newspapers and points out that in almost every case the journalistic defendant has come out best, and remarks that "these cases ought to be a fair warning to the public that the impecunious are not likely to make fortunes out of the innocent mistakes of newspaper publishers." This immunity on the part of journalists, is due more to the sense of fairness and justice of juries than to the libel laws which are not quite what they ought to be. Another mischievous element lurks at the back of libel suits and that is the pettifogging lawyer, who, for the sake of having the rare experience of a case in court, urges on some rascal to bring a suit and suggests settlement on a basis perilously near to what is called blackmail. A man cannot be very grieviously maligned or injured if he has to wait for the assurance of his lawyer that he is a most badly used individual.

THE Toronto World boasts that the N. P. has developed the building of bicycles to a magnificent extent. It innocently asserts if we had a higher duty on bicycles Canada would soon manufacture all the wheels it needs. This might be true, but what would be the result?—just what has happened—the factories would either combine to keep up prices, or the official assignee would have more wheels than he could ride.

TORONTO boasts of its prosperity, but it cannot borrow money on any more favourable terms than poor, bankrupt Quebec. It seems that the financiers cannot share Toronto's opinion of its own greatness and goodness. Evidently the Queen's City's goodness is not reliable enough to "bank on."

THE Montreal Star has the temerity to discuss the question, Is the British Empire Stable? Just wait till Mr. J. Castell Hopkins lights on the Star and beats it blue with the lion's tail. No punishment could be too great for the Star's political heresy.

CANADIAN FORESTRY PRINTING.

The Basis of a Charge that Resulted in a Libel Suit—A Forester Editor's Character Vindicated—Also that of the High Court Executive.

At the recent assizes in Guelph one of the most interesting and important cases was

GUMMER VS. THE TORONTO EVENING NEWS.—This action which was brought in the Queen's Bench Division by Mr. Harry Gummer, of Guelph, publisher of the Herald, against the Toronto Evening News Printing Company, was tried before His Lordship Mr. Justice Robertson and a jury on Thursday and Friday, at Guelph. The particulars of the case are that in an issue of the Toronto Evening News the defendants published the following article:

"FAT JOBS FOR PRINTERS."

How the Orders are used by some members to make money.

Considerable interest was aroused last summer regarding the contract for printing the Forester which was alleged to have been awarded at a price very greatly in excess of rates offered in Guelph and other cities.

The plaintiff, who had the contract of printing for the High Court Canadian Order of Foresters, claimed that the meaning of the article published by the defendants was that the defendants referred to the plaintiff as the gentleman who holds the contract for printing The Forester and the organ of the Chosen Friends, and by the use of the words "fat jobs for printers" and "how the Orders are used by some members to make money," the defendants intended the public to infer that the plaintiff had wrongly used his position to obtain by improper means corrupt contracts for printing and without giving adequate value in return, and meaning that the plaintiff was an unworthy member of the Order to which he belonged, and referred to his being represented by The Forester and the organ of Chosen Friends, and that such article tended to bring him into disrepute among his associates and brothers in these Orders.

Mr. Gummer immediately served a notice that he claimed the article was libelous and asked them to retract what they had said, but The News paid no attention to it and refused to apologize. Mr. Gummer then commenced an action against them for damages and the defendants still refused to apologize but maintained that the article was true.

In this position the action came down to trial and upon the plaintiff proving the article, the defendants were left to justify what they said, but although they called several witnesses with the object of substantiating their charges, all of them failed to prove any basis of imputation against Mr. Gummer, and on cross-examination admitted that Mr. Gummer had not been guilty of any improper act, in any way, in connection with his dealings with the societies. Mr. Gummer then called the officers of the societies who one and all denied the imputations contained in the article and said that there was nothing whatever in them. The case then went to the jury. Mr. Nesbitt, on opening the case to the jury and explaining to them the nature of it on Thursday, stated that if the defendant would retract the article, apologize and pay the costs, that Mr. Gummer would abandon the action, as he was not looking for money, but to get at the persons who were using the columns of the News to defame him. The defendants, however, declined to accept this proposition and insisted on their defence going on.

After the examination of a large number of witnesses, Mr. Wallace Nesbitt, of Toronto, who, with Mr. T. P. Coffee, of Guelph, appeared for the plaintiff, addressed the jury. At the outset, he explained the law on the case. In such actions the jury were to decide on both the law and the fact, a practice that had originated by the gifted Fox over a hundred years ago. The leading English authority had clearly shown that in cases of libel it was immaterial what meaning the author intended to convey; what the jury had to connect themselves with, was the meaning the ordinary reader would take out of the words. What that meaning was witness after witness had shown. Even a witness for the defence, Thornton, admitted that the article insinuated at corruption on the part of the plaintiff. J. Howard Hunter, registrar of friendly societies, a man whose duty it was to sit in solemn judgment in all matters pertaining to their welfare, testified that the News article insinuated wrong doing, and were his attention called to it officially by a member, and it was not contradicted, he would feel it his duty to investigate the charge. The defendants, when called upon to do so, refused to retract their statement. They would not give the author's name, but it was self-evident they allowed their paper to be used by some secret enemy of the plaintiff to vent his malice. Since they had accepted the responsibility they should be made sweat for it. "We have been following this lie ever since 1892," said the eloquent counsel, "but this is the last time we have met it face to face to say to it down." Mr. Nesbitt then went on to analyze the weak efforts of the defence to make out that Honest John Neelands and Mr. Elliott, of Wingham, Mr. Britton, of Gananoque, Mr. White, of Brantford, Mr. Jameson, of Peterborough, Mr. Henderson, of Whitechurch, and the other members of the Executive were in a ring to give corrupt contracts. Not one tittle of evidence had been adduced in justification of the innuendo in the News article. Closing he called on the jury to vindicate the plaintiff's character. The plaintiff did not come into court for money, but since the defendants had libelled him and sought then to justify the libel, they should be made pay substantially for the wrong they had done.

THE JUDGE'S CHARGE.

His Lordship explained that it was not necessary for the plaintiff, in a case of written libel, to prove specific damages through the publication of the article. He dwelt on the power of the press for good or evil, and said that if in the performance of what it considered a duty in exposing an alleged wrong, a newspaper committed a wrong itself, it should pay the consequences. He expressed the opinion that Edward Towe was at the bottom of the whole trouble and had got the News into this scrape. He asked the jurymen to take the article complained of to their room, read it carefully, and if it impressed them that the defendants imputed to the plaintiff corrupt acts, which the evidence had not justified, then they were to return a verdict for the plaintiff.

After about forty minutes deliberation, the jury came in with a verdict for plaintiff for $200 and costs.

The issue of this cause celebre must be gratifying to the members of the Canadian Order of Foresters, who are justly proud of the straightforward and upright conduct of the officers and executive of the High Court. The great good the Order is accomplishing cannot be carried on unless baseless attacks on the integrity of officials are promptly challenged, and, as is the case, promptly disproved.

A VALUABLE DISCOVERY.

A Boon for All Infants.

Lactated Food Baby's Protector and Mother's Comfort.

As far as babies are concerned, time and science have contributed much for their comfort and health.

The greatest boon of science for the infant is Lactated Food, a highly nutritious form of diet containing all the principal elements of pure and healthy breast milk.

Lactated Food, thoroughly well known to thousands of mothers in Canada takes precedence of all other forms of prepared foods. Its purity, strengthening powers, its adaptability for weak digestion and its non-irritating qualities are well known to physicians who prescribe it every day.

Babies properly and regularly fed on Lactated Food are always secure from such infantile troubles as dysentery, diarrhœa and bowel consumption. In a word, Lactated Food "Saves babies' lives" when all other foods fail. Try it mothers, the results will delight you.

How to Prepare Frozen Coffee.

Measure four heaping tablespoonfuls of pulverized coffee. Put into a farina boiler and pour over it one quart of fresh boiled water, cover the boiler and stand it over the fire for ten minutes. Then strain through two thicknesses of cheese cloth, add half a pound of sugar, stir until the sugar is dissolved, and when cold drop in the white of one egg unbeaten, half a pint of cream and turn it at once into the freezer. Freeze as you would a sherbet, stirring carefully but continuously. Serve in glasses as quickly as frozen.—Household News.

Cornmeal as a Cosmetic.

Cornmeal, the yellow Indian meal of our pantries, is said to be one of the best of cosmetics. A jar of it should be kept on the toilet stand, and after the face has been washed in really hot water with a pure, unscented soap, the meal should be rubbed all over it, well and gently. Then it should be dusted out of the hair and eyebrows, the face wiped lightly over with a bit of soft old linen, and the result promised by those who have tried it is a delightfully smooth and satiny skin.

To Beautify the Complexion

—do not take the cosmetics, paints and powders which injure the skin, but take the easiest way to gain a beautiful color and a wholesome skin. Health is the greatest beautifier. FRATERNAL ASSESSMENT LIABILITY

"Can't I get out when I please, and have no liability?"

Most people expect "yes" for an answer to this question, when they say they are members of an assessment insurance society, and begin to think of their responsibilities as such. It is important for them to know that they cannot escape liability; because every member, no matter when he drops out, is liable for any deficiencies that may arise in future, if they were developed during his membership. Here is an instance:

The United Masonic Benefit Association of Missouri was some years ago an active and apparently prosperous assessment concern. It provided no reserve, but offered low rates, cheap insurance, and seemingly hoped that new blood would make up for increasing mortality resulting from increasing age. By and bye its forces began to fall off, not enough "new blood" came in, and the cost of membership ran up in a very uncomfortable way. Presently the healthier lives began to feel their burden pressing heavily and steadily left the ranks, until so few were left in the association that the assessments amounted to $140—one hundred and forty dollars—on each certificate. The remaining members refused to pay such a sum, and the concern failed. But there were unpaid death claims for a large amount due, and the State Superintendent of Insurance thought they ought to be paid. So he began suits at law against individual members to enforce payment of the assessments against them; the court has decided that they must pay. The feelings of those who are thus compelled to pay what they never expected have undergone a change with respect to assessment insurance.

Replying to some enquiries which had been made upon this point of liability, and citing this case illustration of what may be expected in any similiar case which might be pressed to suit, the Insurance Monitor says: "The decision referred to answers our question which has been debated whether the member's liability is limited to sums which he may choose to pay; in, other words, whether he can get out when he pleases without further harm. This he cannot do. Every member, no matter when he may drop out, is liable for any deficiencies which may crop up in future, resulting during his membership. The only safe course for parties that apprehend breakers ahead is to drop their membership before the breakers are reached; and the misfortune of this course is that the faster they drop, the faster the association drives towards the breakers."

There seems to be only one course open for the prudent man who may be determined to avoid possible liability; that is to keep out of such associations entirely and buy his insurance of the regular companies.—Monetary Times.

HOME SLAVES.

From Early Morn Till Late at Night.

Work, Worry and Bustle.

Results: Nervousness! Sleeplessness! Headache! Dyspepsia and Run-down Constitution.

Paine's Celery Compound the Wife and Mother's Salvation.

It Gives Health and Strength and a New Lease of Life.

The home slaves of our country—the thousands of wives and mothers who toil from early morn till late at night—deserve comfort, cheering and encouragement.

The daily toil, worry and bustle in the management of home and children is so severe on the vast majority of mothers, that they become prematurely aged and broken down in body. Thousands are nervous, sleepless, dyspeptic, despondent and melancholic.

Unless some effort, some means of rescue be devised for saving these devotees and slaves of home life, the dark grave will speedily engulf many wearied and worn-out mothers, leaving mourning husbands and helpless little ones. 'Tis a fearful picture, but nevertheless true as heaven's sun shines on earth. It is well to know the truth. It is our duty to utter warnings in tones that cannot be misunderstood.

Our weary, nervous, faint, weak and broken-down wives and mothers must follow the example of a multitude of their sisters who have renewed and changed their lives by the use of Paine's Celery Compound, Nature's true and infallible invigorator and strengthener.

Oh! ye overworked, burdened mothers, your duty is clear. Your husband and dear ones need your presence in the home for years to come. Lay hold of that great health builder, Paine's Celery Compound, at once. It will give you new life, vigor strength and lengthened years. Husbands, you have a duty to perform; a true devotion to wife and children will compel its performance. See that your devoted wives are supplied with the medicine that is so well adapted for their condition. Nothing but Paine's Celery Compound can bring back the glow of health to the fading and pallid cheeks; nothing else can make you weak and despondent wives bright, vigourous and happy.

Saved and cured woman in all parts of Canada have sent in telling testimony regarding the life-giving effects of Paine's Celery Compound; the following from Mrs. Joseph Lloyd, Gananoque, Ont., will be interesting to all women:

"I feel it my duty to tell you what Paine's Celery Compound has done for me. I was always a sufferer from nervous debility and very bad headache, and found it impossible to obtain regular sleep and rest.

Two years ago I read of your Paine's Celery Compound, and bought a bottle of it. After I had used it I found I could get rest and quiet. I have used altogether seven bottles and find myself completely cured.

Your medicine purifies the blood and regulates the system; and I would not be without it in my house if it took my last dollar.

Before using Paine's Celery Compound my weight was only 100 pounds; now I weigh 141 pounds. Is this not sufficient reason for me to praise the Compound highly?

Before I knew of your wonderful medicine I was treated by the doctors, but never received any good. Five of my friends are now using your valuable medicine since they have seen what it has done for me.

I wish you to use my statements as they may be of encouragement to others."

A West Oxford Farmer Narrowly Escapes Premature Burial—The Causes of His Threatened Fate and Lucky Escape.

INGERSOLL, Oct. 8.—W. H. Bailey of West Oxford township, claims to have only narrowly escaped premature burial a short time ago. He had had kidney disease for four years back and so badly at times that he was completely laid up. Many doctors treated him, but their treatment, in Mr. Bailey's opinion, made him worse rather than better. His escape from a premature grave was affected by the use of the infallible Dodd's Kidney Pills. Three boxes of these cured completely. Mr. Bailey claims to be able now to do a bigger day's work than his twenty-four-year-old son.

A Remarkable Event.

An event which has been the talk of the town for some weeks is the cure of Mr. Edward White, whose sufferings from Salt Rheum (Eczema) were well known. Mr. White's statement is as follows:

For 12 years previous to the last few months I have been a sufferer of the worst kind from Salt Rheum. I tried twelve different doctors, besides many patent medicines but received no benefit, but gradually became worse. Last January I was advised to try B. B. B. by the postmaster here. I soon perceived a decided change for the better, and it only took six bottles to make a complete cure.

EDW. WHITE, Victoria Corner, N.B.

Mr. J. B. Bowser, Merchant; Mr. Jas. W. Boyer, Manufacturer, and Mr. Thos. W. Letson, J. P., can certify to the truth of the above statement.

On The Platform.

Seasonable and Opportune.

Always forearmed for all the shopping demands of our customers—this store is never behind—the right goods at the right time and at the right prices. October suggest the need of such things as

Underwear, Hosiery and Gloves.

We have too many kinds to attempt any detail, but in addition to the BEST makes in underwear we carry a full line of the celebrated "Health Brand" in all sizes and combinations.

Blankets and Bed Comforters.

The buying of these lines was done with extreme care, as we have an exacting constituency to chose for, who are wide awake judges of qualities and prices. The stock is right and the values correspond.

Along with these we would also mention our new fall selected Shawls, in many sizes, qualities and shapes—very exclusive—and from makers who warrant their goods.

Millinery and Mantles.

Style is everything in these lines. You don't want a last years' hat, or bonnet, or jacket, at any cost, and you won't find one here. You don't even want this season's unless the style is distinctive, and that is just where we excel.

We continue to show full range in all the newest novelties in Dress Goods.

The Late Edwin Page.

Intelligence has been received of the death at Charlebois, Mich., on Oct. 1st, of Mr. Edward Page, at the age of 74 years. The deceased gentleman, who formerly resided for about twenty years in Peterborough, was a native of Walkington, England. About twelve years ago Mr. Page removed to Charlebois, where he resided till his death. He leaves behind him a wife and four children—two girls and two boys—Mr. E. E. Page, town, Harold, of Bobcaygeon, Mrs. Geo. Papin, and Miss Gertrude, unmarried.

Dirty.

Well, we should say so. From the cellar to the garret. —The tanners of Ontario held a meeting in Toronto last week at which the local firm of Patterson & Son was represented by Mr. James Patterson. The meeting was called to consider the advisability of advancing prices. No action was taken.

—The cash box taken from the safe of Mr. J. H. Helm, Port Hope, which was blown open by burglars on the morning of September 21st, was found last Saturday morning by workmen in the G.T.R. yard under a pile of rails. None of the papers were touched.

—Mr. H. Calcutt is having extensive repairs made to his "terrace" near the brewery, which is occupied by some of his employees. Mr. Sandy Erskine has charge of the work, Mr. Wm. Payne doing the masonry. The building will be bricked at an early date.

—Mr. Mat Jamieson of the Little Windsor, has lost his three pet squirrels, one a piebald, black and white. He thinks they have gone into winter quarters to enjoy the accumulated spoil of nuts, etc—purloined from the dining tables, and that they will come forth in the spring.

—It was small house, indeed, which greeted that talented young entertainer, Miss Nellie Ganthony, at the Opera House, last night. The stay-at-homes missed a rare treat, as Miss Ganthony proved emphatically that the flattering press notices, which preceded her, were the results of merit and had been fairly earned. The skits entitled, "For Charity's Sake," "Mrs. Gushaway's Children" and the "Tail of the Programme," were all given in a highly entertaining manner.

—The diamond drill recently procured by the Provincial Bureau of Mines to explore mining properties, is to be first employed on the locations of the Bedford Mining Company in the Township of Bedford, County of Frontenac. A Pennsylvania syndicate which is getting ready to work iron properties in Hastings, has also agreed to take the drill to bore in the Township of Madoc; but the Bedford Company being an earlier applicant has the first claim. Operations will likely begin in a few days.

PERSONAL.

Mr. A. P. Melrose, Water street, leaves to-day on a three months' trip through the Southern States.

Rev. Mr. Nicholls, of New York, who was stricken down with typhoid fever some weeks ago, and who was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital, is now convalescent.

Mr. J. H. Mann, of Smith, who is attending the Collegiate Institute here, was present at the anniversary services conducted in Gilmour Memorial church Sunday and also spent Monday in Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Barrie, of New York, return on Tuesday morning, after spending a very pleasant week with his brother Mr. Wm. Barrie, Sherbrooke street. Mr. Barrie has taken two fine solo selections of Miss H. Hagerman, on one of Edison's phonographs, which he intends to exhibit in New York.

Mr. G. B. VanBlaricom, formerly of the reporting staff of the EXAMINER, who about six months ago entered upon a similar position with the Woodstock Sentinel-Review, has been promoted to the editorship of the Galt Daily Reformer, Mr. Andrew Laidlaw, proprietor. "Van's" many friends in town will be pleased to hear of his advancement, which is but a practical tribute to his "hustling" qualities as a newspaper man.

Constipation or Costiveness

is caused by a sluggish state of the liver, sedentary habits, want of fresh air, astringent medicines such as opium or quinine, neglect of the calls of nature and the pernicious practice of taking pills or other strong purgatives upon every provocation. A positive cure for these troubles has been discovered in Ecclay's Liver Lozenges. They do not react like other laxative medicines. They are 25 cents a box or 5 boxes for a dollar.

THE CHEESE BOARD.

The Peterborough Cheese Board met this afternoon with the following present: Messrs. Claxton, Hodgson, Cook, Fitzgerald and Wrighton.

There were 2407 boxes boarded, being the last half of September and October. Liverpool was quoted at 49s.

Quite a discussion was engendered by the fact that Bobcaygeon sold the latter half of its September make off the Board. It will be remembered that at the last meeting of the Board only 308 boxes were sold, the factories holding off for a higher price than 10½c, which was bid by Mr. Hodgson. It was thought at the outset that Bobcaygeon was one of the factories, which received an offer and refused to sell, but later it was ascertained that such not the case and the question dropped.

The bidding was opened by Mr. Wrighton bidding 9¾ for selections of September. Mr. Cook raised to 9¾ and Mr. Hodgson to 10. Mr. Wrighton went a sixteenth better and Mr. Cook bid 10¼. Mr. Hodgson raised it to 10½ and Mr. Claxton then bid 10 3-8. Mr. Cluxton named Lakefield and Westwood (conditionally) which accepted, but the following factories refused the offer: Pine Grove, Warminster Shearer, North Smith, Oakdale, Norwood.

Mr. Cook bid 10¾ for further selections and called Warsaw, Lang, Keene and Missing Link, which all refused.

Mr. Hodgson bid 10¼ for further selections and called Newtonville, Orono, Perrytown, Hope and Darlington Union which all accepted. Then Mr. Hodgson bid 10c. for further selections. Mr. Cook raised the bid by one-eighth and Mr. Cluxton bid the quarter and called Maple Leaf and Lang, which both refused.

Mr. Hodgson bid 10 cents for Victoria section, September. Mr. Cook raised to 10 1-16 and Mr. Cluxton raised it to 10¼ and called Mariposa, Fenelon Falls, Dunsford, Cameron and Star, which all refused.

Mr. Cook rose to state that on account of the forwarding of large quantities of cold storage cheese lately the market was in a most unsettled state. He moved, seconded by Mr. Hodgson, that the Board adjourn for two weeks.—Carried.

No factories will be allowed to sell off the Board before the next meeting.

The president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, Mr. Sanderson, Mr. Cluxton, Mr. Wrighton, Mr. Galvin, Mr. Cook, Mr. Hodgson and Mr. Riddle, will form a committee to revise the rules of the Board.

SPORTS AND PASTIMES.

Items of Interest to Local Sportsmen.

Arrangements have been completed by the town's Rugby fifteen to go to Port Hope on Saturday next and play the return match with the Trinity School team. A great many enthusiasts in the game have signified their intention of accompanying the boys on the trip, and the Grand Trunk is offering a special rate of 60 cents. The boys have arranged the expenses in such a manner as to provide free passage for any of the ladies who are sufficiently interested in the game, to go down to Port Hope. Not a few have already stated their desire to see the fifteen up on its mettle and it is expected that fully a carload of the fair sex from Peterborough will grace the game with their presence.

The second Rugby fifteen of Trinity School come up on Saturday to battle with the Collegiate Institute team on the P.A.A.A. grounds. The collegiate boys are in good trim having put in a lot of practice lately. A good game may be looked for.

Peterborough Has to Pay the Costs and the Award Has Been Referred Back to the Arbitrators.

The case of the appeal of North Monaghan against the award of the arbitrators, concerning the construction of the new outfall sewer, came up in single court yesterday, before Justice MacMahon. The judge held that improper evidence was received, viz., a copy of the report of the Provincial Board of Health, and that the evidence was improperly rejected, viz., evidence effecting the right of the town corporation to the extension, and as to the sanitary question. Order made referring the award back to the arbitrators, with the costs of the motion to be paid by the town corporation. Watson, Q. C., Toronto, and Edmison, Peterborough, for the motion; E. B. Edwards, Peterborough, contra.

THE RULING MARKETS.

TORONTO, Oct. 16, 1894.

The visible supply of barley is 3,117,000 bushels, an increase during the past week of 367,000 bushels.

There is nearly four times the quantity of barley in Buffalo now that there was at this time last year. Markets are all reported quiet without noteworthy sales. Canada barley is nominally 63 to 66c.

On the street here 400 bushels of wheat sold at 53c for white, 51c for red and 49 1-2c for goose; 2,000 of barley at 44c to 48 1-2c and 500 of oats at 41 to 32c. Outside prices of grain remain unchanged.

Wheat was depressed in Chicago on account of lower cables and large increase in visible supply. Corn followed wheat Oats were dull and lost 1-2c on the day.

The Mark Lane Express in its weekly review of the British grain trade says: English wheats have fallen to an incredibly low price, 16s to 18s 2d having been the average offered at Saturday's market, which is 18s 6d below the very lowest price compatible with profit. American flour is firmly held. Oats are dull; corn steady and barley, beans and peas quiet.

The New York stock market turned upon the sterling exchanges. For days past the latter have been decidedly strong and the actual figures have gradually advanced to the gold exporting point. Yesterday it was announced after the closing of the stock exchange that Kidder, Peabody & Co., of Boston, had withdrawn $500,000 of gold from the local sub-treasury for shipment for Europe. The gold will go direct to Germany.

The Y. P. A. of St. John's Elect Officers—The Meetings to be Held Fortnightly.

The Young People's Association of St. John's held its first regular meeting last evening and elected the following officers who will serve until the first of the year:

Honorary President—Rev. J. C. Davidson.
President—
Vice-President—Miss Clara Hodgson.
Secretary—Mr. Alf. Terrill.
Treasurer—Miss Perry.
Executive Committe—Miss Sproule, Miss Carrie Clarke, Miss S. Comstock, Mr. Harold Clarton, Mr. Baker and Mr. Hilliard.
Programme Committee—Miss Sproule, Miss Vink, Miss Kate Henderson, Miss C. Clarke, Messrs. Baker, Hilliard and F. Clarke.
Fatigue Committee—Messrs. Nicholls and Walter English.

The next meeting will be held on Monday evening, Oct. 22nd, and the Association will afterwards meet on every alternate Monday.

The office of president will be left open until next Monday when the election will take place for that office.

It was decided that the next two meetings of the society be open to members only, but that the succeeding meetings should be an open one, and take the form of an entertainment to which all members of the congregation could be invited. During the winter the association will hold a number of open meetings, to which a small admission fee will be charged. The funds, it is understood, will be applied to the praiseworthy object of enlarging the Sunday school building.

Fifteen new members were present at last night's meeting, which large increase in membership is most encouraging to the Association.

WINTER READING.

New Books added to the Mechanics' Institute.

Green Carnation, Anon.; Under the Red Lamp, C. Doyle; Our Bible, Talbot; History, Prophecy and the Monuments, McCurdy; Social England, Trail; John Bull & Co., Max O'Rell; Major Joshua, Forster; Quaker Idylls, Gardner; Tales from the Maine Coast, Brooks; City of the Just, Terrell; Cumberers of the Ground, Smith. The attention of the public is called to the fact that the newest books are procured the moment they are published. In view of this, and in view of the fact that there are now between seven and eight thousand volumes on the library shelves, it is advisable for all who can in any way do so, to procure season tickets. This can be done on application to the obliging and painstaking librarian, Mr. Peters, who will be happy to attend to the wants of the reading public.

Don't commit suicide on account of your "incurable" blood disease. The sensible thing for you to do is to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. If that fails, why, then—keep on trying, and it will not fail. The trouble is, people get discouraged too soon. "Try, try, try again."

DISTINGUISHED VISITORS.

GENERAL BOOTH AND HIS STAFF.

An Address Will be Read by the Mayor, in the Park, in the Morning and the General Will Speak in the Afternoon, at George Street Church and in the Evening, at the Drill Shed.

General Booth, the founder and present leader of the great Salvation Army movement, together with his staff, visit Peterborough, on Thursday next, and a warm welcome is bespoken for him. In view of this visit of so distinguished a party, it may not be an inopportune time to publish the following brief sketches of the lives of the General and his aide-de-camp, Colonel Lawlor:—

General Booth is certainly one of the best known men of to-day, and his "Darkest England" schemes have been subjects of discussion with many of the great thinkers of the present time. His early history, however, is not so well known as his prominent position. He was born in Nottingham, in 1829. Although his mother was an earnest Christian he was unconverted at the age of fifteen. He became interested in Christian work, and publicly confessed Christ in a Wesleyan chapel. His talent for Christian work very soon made him a leader among the workers of that place. When seventeen years of age he was appointed a local preacher. He commenced to study for the ministry about three years later. When a division took place in the Wesleyan Society, in 1851, he joined the reformers. He was then set apart as an evangelist, and his labours were wonderfully successful. About this time he was married to Miss Catherine Mumford. As Mr. Booth's wife and helper, she became famous and the Salvation Army owed much of its success to her efforts. But a few years ago, death claimed her and her removal from active labour was the cause of great sorrow; the Army was in mourning for weeks. After several years of evangelistic work his re appointment was refused, and he resigned his position. London offered a great scope for work, so he moved there in 1864, and began work in a tent in the east end. This work grew so rapidly that he gave all his time to it. He soon found that assistance was needed, and that some organization would be required. Ultimately, what was known as the Christian Mission was formed. It consisted of Mr. William Booth and his small band of workers. This organization continued to grow until in 1878 the first great war congress was held, and the Christian Mission was merged into the Salvation Army. The scope of the Army is now well known, and General Booth is still its indefatigable leader, deputing his wonderful energy through thousands of officers and followers. General Booth is largely responsible for the success of the Salvation Army, which now has some 4,000 corps under 12,000 officers, and almost uncounted soldiers and adherents in 40 countries and colonies. It publishes thirty-three weekly and monthly papers in 21 languages, having a circulation of 50,000,000 copies a year. All of them are sold and none of them given away.

His American tour is a part of the jubilee of his conversion from the ways of wickedness in 1844.

The American celebration of the General's jubilee and tour of the country, is not to be confined to processions and unheard of spectacular features, by any means. Its most important and interesting part is of a practical nature, and was devised by Commander and Mrs. Ballington Booth. This plan of practical celebration has twenty-four divisions, each one of them having some important bearing on the spiritual or bodily welfare of a large number of persons. The combined efforts of all these plans will be felt more or less directly, no doubt, by the whole nation. In the first place the Army's division of the Pacific is to begin an attack on the devil as manifested on the Hawaiian Islands. Adjutant Egner has just set sail for the little republic. In the second place, 50 new corps are to be opened in various cities of the United States. The chief cities selected are: New York, Brooklyn, Newark, N.J.; Chicago, Milwaukee, Detroit, San Francisco, Sacramento, Oakland, Cal.; Boston, Providence, R.I.; Portland, Me.; St. Louis, Kansas City, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Toledo, Buffalo, Rochester, Albany, Leavenworth, Kan.; Fort Scott, Kan.; Minneapolis, Philadelphia, Scranton, Pittsburg, Peoria, Ill., and Springfield, Ill. German corps are to be opened in New York, Brooklyn, Hoboken, Cincinnati and Milwaukee.

One of the most important features of the celebration is to be the establishment of what are to be known as prison gate brigades, whose duty it shall be to look after discharged convicts from the moment they are released and provide them with work, shelter and spiritually healthy surroundings. The Salvation Army seems to have been more successful than any other agency working in this direction in other countries, and in India, Ceylon and Australia, the prison brigade has come to be recognised by the prison officials as almost a part of the prison system. In Australia the Army is supplied by the Government with money to carry on the work, and it is thought likely that state aid can be looked for in this country when the system gets to working well here.

Last, but not least, on this extraordinary programme of celebration comes the observance of a week of jubilee thank offering some time this month. The army observes what it calls self-denial week once every year, and it raised $35,000 by this means last year, and that came, too, chiefly from the salaries of soldiers, who in many cases had to go without food and the necessaries of life in order to make a contribution.

COLONEL LAWLOR.

The following sketch of Col. Lawlor, A.D.C. to the General, and who will accompany him, will also be found of interest:—

Col. Lawlor, the General's A. D. C., is a striking individuality, no less in character than in person. Of Norfolk parentage, brought up in Yorkshire, endowed with the arm of a Hercules, and with a spirit as tender and pitying as that of a woman, he has conquered the disadvantages of a poor education, risen to eminence in the service of God, and worked his way into the confidence and heart of of his leaders and comrades throughout the world. Humanly speaking, he owes all he possesses to the Salvation Army. If asked what he is most thankful for in his life, he will tell you that it is that God overtook him when an engine lad, in Pullan's theatre, Bedford, and saved his soul. One of the happiest moments of his life was when the General in the front bedroom of Col. (then Mr.) Dowie's quarters in the same city, accepted him, along with Ted Irons, as an officer, and appointed him to open the 30th corps of the Salvation Army. His scholastic qualifications were then, as we have hinted, rare. He could read, but he had to be careful what chapters he selected; he could write, but the writer would have to be close by if the reader wanted to decipher it rapidly. When sixteen years old he stepped forward as an ambassador for Jesus Christ, all he had was a tin box and a Bible. Since then he has grown to be one of God's giants, and is still growing. With a heart as full of music as Heaven, as fond of it as a seraph, he could not, strange to say, play a tin whistle if you were to offer him the Bank of England. He has not read a couple of "standard works" in all his career, and as for magazines and newspapers he touches them with misgiving when he invests in them! to read about some wreck or explosion from which to draw morals to warn the ungodly. On Col. Lawlor has fallen the mantle of a poet. He is forever versifying. He began fourteen years ago by putting two or three verses together to the tune of "I'm a soldier bound for glory," and has written hundreds off and on since then. His songs have sung thousands into the Light. His singing of a salvation song is his choicest gift.

WHERE WERE YOU WHEN THE LIGHT WENT OUT?

There Were Some Foolish Ones Who Neglected to Keep Their Lamps Trimmed.

Although due notice had been given that electric lighting could not be depended upon for the next few days, or rather evenings, the want of it was keenly felt last night by the many who had neglected to supply themselves with lamps wherewith to meet the occasion.

The water was drawn off, the Dickson raceway, as stated in yesterday's issue, in order that the water soaked debris might be taken from it and some repairs made. During the day, the Power Company utilized the old fire engine to fill its tank and consequently the lights on some of the circuits could be depended upon. The streets, as usual, being lighted. None of the sixty-fives could be persuaded to even glimmer.

Many startling innovations were improvised during the evening in some of the stores, which were not on the line of the charged circuits. Sam. Ray's tobacco store, though not lighted by electricity, was yet well illumined, as a couple of lamps backed up by tobacco tins created quite a glare.

Some curious looking lamps, indeed, were routed out of the cellars and forced to duty again, last night.

OMEMEE.

From Our Own Correspondent

The funeral of David Storey was very largely attended, he being largely connected in this township and village, and having won the respect of all whom he associated with. Mrs. McKee's funeral was also attended by a number of citizens from this place, this being the birth place of the deceased.

Mr. Hamilton, traveller for oil, from Peterborough, was here doing business with Mr. Curry.

The Presbyterian anniversary services, on Sunday and Monday, Oct. 21st and 22nd, promise to attract a large attendance. The very best speakers and music to be had.

"CANADA."

Part IX. to be Ready on Oct. 15th.

From unavoidable causes there is a short delay in the publication of Part IX. of the series of original photographic views of Canadian scenery which many of our subscribers have been receiving. It is now ready for prompt delivery. Readers who have received the first eight parts of this beautiful reproduction of our beautiful scenery will be able to complete the series. Orders for Part IX. and for back numbers should be given at once and they will be filled accordingly.

HONOUR ROLL.

That Joyful Feeling

With the exhilarating sense of renewed health and strength and internal cleanliness, which follows the use of Syrup of Figs, is unknown to the few who have not progressed beyond the old time medicines and the cheap substitutes sometimes offered but never accepted by the well informed.

Furniture.

The long nights are coming and people are preparing to make home attractive. A. Clegg is now receiving, daily, the newest things in furniture. A full assortment in every line. Parlour suites, dining room furniture, all grades very cheap. In bedroom suites, the largest line ever offered in Peterborough, especially in suites ranging in price from $14 to $35—by far the best values ever offered. Fancy chairs, centre tables, spring beds, mattresses, pillows, etc.—A. CLEGG, 427 George street. dw

Protect your Horses.

Don't allow your valuable horses to go without a waterproof cover during the cold wet days of the fall. Get good to them, provide them with one of Kingscotte's strictly waterproof covers, costing only a dollar or two. If you are shipping and receiving goods that are liable to damage from wet, Kingscotte's black oiled canvas waterproof covers "fill the bill"—nothing better or cheaper. They have no tar in their composition, being an OIL preparation, which keeps them soft and pliable. Awnings taken down and stowed in a careful and agreeable manner. Halls decorated for assemblies, balls and meetings of all kinds. ALD. KINGSCOTTE, tent, sail and awning maker, 346 Water street.

WATERPROOFS

WHEN YOU ARE

Out in the Rain

How fortunate is the man who has a thoroughly Waterproof Coat. Many a time when you have been caught in the fall rains and drenched to the skin, you have made up your mind to invest in a Waterproof the first opportunity—but you have delayed and delayed until you get caught in the same fix again. Don't procrastinate any longer. Let us help you to a good Mackintosh NOW—right on the spur of the moment. The value of a Waterproof Coat is more obvious during October and November when you are likely to be surprised with a downpour every few minutes.

PECULIARLY MADE

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are made of refined and concentrated botanical extracts. They're different from the large old-fashioned pills for these Pellets are as tiny as mustard seeds, and are sugar-coated. They're made in an improved chemical laboratory under the direct supervision of scientific men. Everything else being equal, the smaller the size of a liver pill, the more comfort.

They do not shock the system, but regulate, cleanse and tone up, the liver, stomach, and bowels, in nature's own way.

They're put up in sealed glass vials, easily carried in the vest-pocket.

In Bilious Disorders, Sick Headache, Constipation, Indigestion, Dizziness, or for breaking up sudden attacks of Colds, Fevers, and Inflammation, "Pleasant Pellets" are prompt and effective in action.

Peculiar in the way they're sold, too, for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or money is returned.

First Telephone Girl—The mug wanted 761 Harlem, but I couldn't get 'em, so I give him 762, and told him that was as near as I could come to it; and he was mad as hornets!—Life.

The Etiquette of the Fan.

There is an endless etiquette in the use of fans, and with the Japanese the fan is an emblem of life. The rivet end is regarded as the starting point and as the rays of the fan expand so the road of life widens out toward a prosperous future. It is also said that the Japanese ogi originally took its shape from their wonderful mountain, Fuji-san, which represents to them all that is beautiful, high and holy. When one begins to understand all this there comes a salutary feeling of ignorance, and we perceive that the Japanese may claim to be among the great symbolists in the world. A continuance of such study might turn the most hardened European into a Japonophile.

Notes For Shepherds.

Cold, wet weather and lambing time are the two crucial points in successful sheep raising.

By using care in feeding, a rapid gain may be secured at comparatively low cost, and if the lambs are kept gaining steadily they can be ready for market early.

In feeding corn the greatest care must be exercised not to overfeed. To obtain the greatest possible gain in the shortest time it is also necessary to feed all the animal can digest. This happy medium can only be ascertained by the closest observation, and, positively, with only one attendant.—Farmers' Voice.

A PRINTER'S ILLS.

A Brantford Compositor has Diabetes—He Drops 40 Pounds in Weight in a Short Time—How He Was Cured.

BRANTFORD, Oct. 15.—Thos Hazelhurst, a compositor in the Courier in this city, has seen some ups and downs in health within the past few months. Last spring he found himself suffering from diabetes in a very severe form. In a few weeks he lost forty pounds in weight. His system kept on running down and Mr. Hazelhurst was very naturally alarmed. After trying many remedies without benefit, he began using Dodd's Kidney Pills. Three boxes made a big change in his condition, and six boxes worked a complete cure. Mr. Hazelhurst is to-day better than he has been for years. Add one more to the list of diabetes cases cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Doctors say it is the Best.

GENTLEMEN,—Last July, I took Congestion of the Lungs and was in bed for four weeks. I was very weak and could not speak above a whisper. Dr. Lawson, of Hamiota, attended me and sent a bottle of Milburn's Emulsion. It soon restored my voice and health.

Another Voice From Smith.

SMITH, July 7, 1892.

I was troubled with a nasty pain in the back and shoulders for a long time, and had tried several remedies without getting any relief. I thought at first it might be my lungs, as the doctor's say such pains are symptoms of lung trouble coming on, but I was induced to try a bottle of Meunbray's Kidney and Liver Cure, for sale at Tully's Drug Store, and after taking the second dose I was surprised to find the pains all leaving me. It acted like magic. I never knew anything that acted so quick on man or beast before.

and I know of numbers of people who keep it in the house all the time, not considering it safe to be without it."

"I have been using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my family for 30 years, with the most satisfactory results, and can cheerfully recommend it as being especially adapted to all pulmonary complaints. I have, for many years, made pulmonary and other medicines a special study, and I have come to the conclusion that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral occupies a position pre-eminent over other medicines of the class."—Chas. Stabbed by a Tramp.

NAPANEE, Oct. 15.—Radford & Sons, gents' furnishing store, was entered on Saturday evening from the back door by a tramp who attempted to steal an overcoat but was detected by Geo. Gordon, a young man in charge, who made a rush for the robber and during the scuffle that ensued Gordon was stabbed below the heart. The wound is not thought to be dangerous. The police have not been able to capture the would-be murderer.

Mgr. Satolli Comes to Canada.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Mgr. Satolli left the city on Saturday for Montreal, Canada, having been called there to act as arbitrator to settle the misunderstanding which has arisen between Cardinal Taschereau, Metropolitan of Canada, and the civil authorities. He will act in some troubles which have arisen between the Cardinal and his clergy.

Big Blaze in Goodwood.

GOODWOOD, Ont., Oct. 15.—The carriage shop, blacksmith' shop, show room, dry-house' stables and dwelling house, the property of W. H. Todd, were burned here. Cause unknown; loss about $10,000; insurance $4,000, about equally divided between the Gore District and London Mutual.

Suicide at Sherbrooke.

SHERBROOKE, Oct. 15.—M. J. Milward, toys and fancy goods dealer, established here for many years, committed suicide a little after midnight by jumping over a bridge near his house to the rocks 60 feet below. He died two hours later.

Another Attack by the Kaffirs.

CAPETOWN, Oct. 15.—The natives attacked Lourenzo Marquez on Delagoa Bay again on Saturday but were repulsed. Twelve Portuguese were killed. The country is open revolt and the authorities intend to ask the Transvaal for assistance. Premier Cecil Rhode's offer of help has been refused.

Strikers Heavily Sentenced.

OGDEN, Utah, Oct. 15.—Sentences were pronounced in the district court on Saturday on Decamp, McConnell and King found guilty by a jury of attempted train wrecking during the A. R. U. strike. King was given four years and Decamp and McConnell twelve years each in the penitentiary.

Father and Son Fight a Duel.

WACO, Texas, Oct. 15.—A duel to the death between an old man named Stripling and his son George, living ten miles from this city, was fought Saturday. The father was shot and mortally wounded and the son's skull crushed and he will probably die.

NEWSPAPERS AND BOOKS.

In 1818 there were 33 papers in London—8 morning and 7 evening, 7 every other day, 16 every Sunday.

Last year the United States and Canada published 19,578 papers, with an aggregate circulation of 8,481,610,000 copies.

The little island of Iceland, with about seventy thousand inhabitants, has the same number of newspapers as the great empire of China.

Types are not used in printing Persian newspapers. The "copy" is given to an expert penman, who writes it out neatly. Then his work is lithographed.

The first English book was printed in 1474. In 1891 the publishers of this country issued 4 665 new books, with an average of 1,000 copies each. During the same year there were 4,429 new books printed in England.

"Now, see here, my son, if I ketch you stealin' apples from me again I'll give you a wallopin'. Hain't you got no sense, robbin' your own father? If you needs apples, ain't there plenty o' neighbors 'round you can hook from?"

A Scientist's Investigations.

Heinrich, a German scientist who has given considerable study to the methods of applying commercial fertilizers recently tested the comparative value of mixing fertilizer with the soil and simply applying it to the surface. He experimented with sulphate of ammonia, ground meat, ground bone, pulverized leather, dried blood and ground horn. The crop grown was oats and with two exceptions (sulphate of ammonia and pulverized leather) the plants developed more vigorously where the fertilizers had been mixed with the soil. Except in the case of sulphate of ammonia and ground horn the yield of both straw and grain was noticeably larger when the fertilizers were mixed with the soil than when spread on the surface. In some cases the yield was fully one-third greater. It appears then that as a rule the results favor the mixing of the fertilizers with the soil. This condition of affairs apparently tends to produce a uniform distribution.

The Guinea for the Table.

There is no sale for guineas in the city markets, yet if the consumers in cities were aware of the luxury of eating guineas there would be a demand greater than could be supplied. Its flesh is what may be termed a "gamy" flavor, and it is well filled with meat, especially on the breast and thighs. In fact, a bird that is so active and which uses its wings and the legs without rest from early in the morning until late, must necessarily be covered with muscle on the breast and thighs. High prices are paid for prairie hens and other game birds that are in no manner superior to the guinea, and which do not arrive in market in as fresh condition as would the guinea if it was an article sought. So far as the farmer is concerned, he can at least use them on his own table and afford to allow the city people to have the other fowls.

A Steamer on Mule Back.

A triumph in engineering is reported from the mountains of Peru, where a twin-screw steamer of 540 tons, 170 feet long and thirty feet wide has been successfully launched on Lake Titicaca, the highest navigable waters in the world, more than 18,000 feet above the sea. This steamer, which belongs to the Peruvian government, and is to be used for freight and passenger traffic, was built on the Clyde, then taken apart in more than a thousand pieces and shipped to Mollendo by sea. It was then carried to Puno by railway and transported over the mountains on the backs of llamas and mules and put together by a Scotch engineer.

Quack Advertisements

Are a nuisance and we think it behooves publishers to examine into the merits of many articles puffed up in their columns. We do not deny that many meritorious remedies are properly to be classed under this heading. Take the hundreds and thousands relieved from severe suffering by the use of Polson's Nervilline; would it not be unreasonable to expect them to condemn that far-famed remedy? Now we know for a fact that Polson's Nervilline is without exception the most powerful, pleasant and certain remedy in the world for pain. It cannot fail, for it goes right to the bottom of pain, penetrates to the nerves, soothes them into quietness, and affords prompt and permanent relief.

THE AFGHANSTAN SUCCESSION.

Illness of the Ameer Causes Uneasiness for the Safety of Foreigners.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—Advices from Cabul say that the condition of the Ameer is critical. A special vice-regal council has been summoned to meet at Simla. No definite statement as to the nature of the Ameer's illness can be obtained, but it is understood that he is suffering from internal hemorrhage.

General Lord Roberts, who was for many years commander-in-chief of the British forces in India, was interviewed in regard to the probable addition to the eastern complications in the event of the death of Ameer Abdur Rahman Kahn, and said:

"Similar reports of illness and from which the Ameer has recovered have reached India in years gone by. But the Ameer is now older and the constantly recurring attacks of the gout must have seriously undermined his general health.

"The news doubtless was brought from Cabul to Peshawer by horsemen and was telegraphed from the latter place to Simla. Should the question of succession arise there will certainly be serious trouble at Cabul between the opposing parties, one favoring the succession of the elder son, Sardar Haibibulla Kahn, the child of a wife of low rank, who has already held a sort of power at Cabul. The second party supports the royal wife in the interest of her son, who is a child. Upon a former occasion, when the Ameer's death was expected, the royal wife made preparations to seize the treasury and gain the adhesion of the army.

"If the Ameer dies the Europeans at Cabul will be in danger from the fanatical hatred of the Afghans, which is only suppressed through the personal influence of the Ameer. Unfortunately there are two or three English women at Cabul and their only means of escape is a journey of 190 miles to Peshawer, during which they will be at the mercy of the Afghans until they reach Lundikhotal where they will be under the protection of the Khyber rifles. The situation will cause the greatest anxiety to the government of India. The summoning of a special council is a very unusual proceeding, and it is evident that the Earl of Elgin considers the situation to be grave."

Mr. Martin, the Afghan agent, said last evening that he did not expect immediate trouble in Cabul. Nevertheless it would be prudent for the English residents to leave the country and get to the frontier as soon as possible.

ANTIPODEAN NEWS.

Women Enfranchised in New South Wales —Rich Gold Finds.

VANCOUVER, B.C., Oct. 16.—The steamer Arawa, from Sydney and Honolulu, brings the following advices:

The New South Wales legislative assembly has passed a resolution favoring the extension of the franchise to women by a vote of 58 to 13.

Her Majesty's ship Royalist is now at the Solomon Island group investigating the murder of Capt. Guy, master of a trading schooner, who was killed by natives, and the schooner plundered.

News from the Coolgardie gold fields say that the excitement continues and many rich finds are reported. People are flocking there from all parts of Australia and New Zealand, special steamers being put on for traffic.

The co-operative colliery recently started at Newcastle proved a failure owing to quarrels between the unionists and non-unionists. A number of fights occurred and the colliery has been shut down. Feeling is very bitter between the rival factions.

The amalgamation scheme of the Bank of New Zealand and Colonial Bank of New Zealand has met with general approval. The terms of the amalgamation between the banks are that the Bank of New Zealand shall raise £1,000,000 in capital, of which £400,000 shall be given fully paid up, and carrying no further liability to the Colonial Bank's shareholders in exchange for the present paid-up capital of that bank, the balance of £600,000 remaining unissued. The capital of the bank after amalgamation is to amount to £3,600,000.

THE BELGIAN ELECTIONS.

Socialists Win a Number of Seats—A Catholic Club Stoned.

BRUSSELS, Oct. 16.—The result of the Belgian elections, as far as known, are that 41 Clericals and 25 Liberals had been elected to the Senate and 75 Clericals, 8 Liberals and 6 Socialists had been elected to the Chamber. The results in 15 districts are expected to be favorable to the Socialists. Reballots will be necessary in 44 Senate and 19 Chamber constituencies. Several thousand Socialists paraded the streets last evening with bands playing the "Marseillaise."

The Clericals numbered 93 in the old chamber. So far they have lost 10 and gained 2 seats. The Liberals had 59 seats in the old chamber and have lost 24 and gained 7. The Socialists, who previously had no seats, score every constituency won by them as a clear gain. In the Senatorial contests the Clericals have won 10 Liberal seats.

Socialists stoned the windows of the Catholic club in Mons last evening. There was a great uproar but nobody was injured.

A Mystery Solved.

DIAMOND, Ia., Oct. 16.—The body of Adolph Clark, an old and wealthy orange grower of this parish, who mysteriously disappeared some time ago, has been discovered floating down the river. His feet were tied together and a five-gallon demijohn filled with water was attached to them. Louis Dienet and his son were arrested, charged with the crime.

Oyster Crop Failing Off.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 16.—The oyster dredging season in the Chesapeake Bay opens this week. The outlook is not encouraging. The supply has fallen nearly one-half in fourteen years. What was one of the largest industrial interests in the state has declined for want of a system of cultivation.

Desperadoes Killed by Officers.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Col., Oct. 16.—While officers were transporting two prisoners who were charged with holding up a faro bank at Victor an escape was attempted. Sheriff Sterling killed James Cannon and mortally wounded the other man, who refused to give his name.

Duel Over a Woman.

WACO, Texas, Oct. 16.—Hosea Stone and Virgil Moon, young farmers, quarrelled over a woman and engaged in a duel with knives. Moon was cut and stabbed several times and died shortly afterwards. Stone was badly wounded, but escaped.

Salvador French to Die.

BARCELONA, Oct. 16.—The execution of Salvador French, the anarchist at the head of the Lyceum Theatre plot, is imminent. His wife had her last interview with him last evening.

Cold in the head—Nasal Balm gives instant relief; speedily cures. Never fails.

FROM THE CAPITAL.

Rumored Death of Captain Howard—Manitoba's Crops.

OTTAWA, Oct. 16.—The Conservatives say they have added about 2,500 names to the Dominion voters' lists and the Liberals state they have placed about 1,000 thereon.

A letter received in town from Gaspe, Que., says grave fears are entertained that Capt. Howard, of Gatling gun fame, and his son, have been drowned. Capt. Howard, who runs a lobster cannery on the Labrador coast, left Gaspe Basin a week ago on Friday with his son in an open fishing smack to visit his canneries, 80 or 90 miles up the coast. There was a storm on when both men left. It lasted for three days. Neither of them has since been heard from.

The heads of the different departments of the public service have been advised to have their estimates for the next year ready as soon as possible. This looks like an early session.

Hon. T. M. Daly, who has returned to the city, on being interviewed said that the condition of the farmers in Manitoba was very much improved over that of last year. They had not run into debt during the year and were working very cautiously and within their means and eschewing the old principle of buying everything on credit. In days gone by, implement men, horse men, and trades people generally, were willing to give the farmers credit to any extent, and being only human, the latter took advantage of their opportunities. They now regret it, and find they have got to farm on the old lines. The sample of wheat throughout Manitoba is excellent. The yield will be about sixteen bushels to the acre, and this makes the third year without frost. The harvest weather was perfect, and when Mr. Daly left Manitoba last week the great bulk of the wheat was threshed and in the elevators. Altogether, the people are more hopeful, and look forward to a turn in the tide of their affairs, when the depression which is prevalent all over the world ceases. In the minister's opinion, when times are good again, Manitoba and the territories will be favored with the best, as by that time the farmers will be practically free from their old debts, and will be strengthened by their experience during the past two years. Creameries and cheese factories are becoming more general, and are giving great satisfaction to their patrons.

Systematically Robbed Their Employer.

TORONTO, Oct. 16.—William McClaymont is a prisoner at police headquarters, charged with stealing a quantity of flour from his employer, George Coleman, the baker, of King street west. The prisoner has been employed by Mr. Coleman for about ten years as a baker and the stealing is said to have been going on for over a year. Several other employes are, it is said, involved in the matter, and other arrests will follow. Mr. Coleman estimates his losses during the last twelve months at about twenty barrels a week. The prisoner was caught in the act by a man employed for that purpose.

Robbed by His Guest.

KINCARDINE, Ont., Oct. 16.—A man representing himself to be John Farnley, from Leeds, England, called upon M. D. Chadbourne, miller, of Kingerford, and said he wanted to buy a farm. He was invited to stay with Mr. Chadbourne a few days when the two would go out to see about purchasing the property. When Mr. Chadbourne arose yesterday his guest had gone, taking with him $17 and leaving a valise containing a $3 bill, a revolver ball, two small files and a piece of paper with the name "John Moffatt" written upon it.

Trusky Must Hang in December.

WINDSOR, Oct. 16.—Word has been received from Judge Robertson by the counsellor for Trusky, the murder of Constable Lindsay, that the judge would not grant another trial at the spring assizes and that Trusky must hang in December. The doomed man's counsel is determined that another trial shall be given Trusky and will petition the Minister of Justice to that end. The counsel claims that the judge's charge to the jury was biased and that he gave the jury questions to answer which he claims the judge had no right to ask.

Hog Train Derailed.

HAMILTON, Oct. 16.—Special train No. 88 from Fort Huron to Toronto on the G. T. R. left the track this side of Copetown. The tender broke and as a result nine cars loaded with 780 hogs were derailed. Five hundred and nine hogs were recovered by the railway employes but a few escaped and a large number were killed. Several of the cars were badly wrecked. It took the wrecking crew about six hours to clear the track.

Fifteen Fishermen Drowned.

APALACHICOLA, Fla., Oct. 16.—The saddest feature of the recent storm was the drowning of fifteen fishermen, all whites, near Sand Island, about ten miles from Apalachicola. It was known that these men were caught in the gale and until Saturday it was hoped that they had escaped. Since the gale subsided searching parties have been looking for them and on Saturday their bodies were found.

A London Family's Narrow Escape.

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 16.—Mrs. W. C. Hiscott, her two children and her father, John Crone, had a very narrow escape from asphyxiation at their home on Cartright street. One of the children fortunately fell out of bed, and this awakened Mrs. Hiscott sufficiently to realize the trouble. With great difficulty she crawled to the front door and attracted attention.

A Markham Farmer Killed.

MARKHAM, Ont., Oct. 16.—While leading a vicious cow home yesterday, George Braithwaite, a farmer living on the 6th concession of Markham, in some way became entangled by the rope and was dragged along the ground, receiving injuries resulting in his death. He leaves a wife and one child.

The Brantford Weavers Strike.

BRANTFORD, Ont., Oct. 16.—The Dominion Cotton Mills are still closed down. The weavers were given a chance to resume work at scheduled prices, but none of them put in an appearance. All other employes are shut out on account of the weavers.

PETE SIMONS & CO.,

MERCHANT TAILORS, &c.,

416 George Street, Opposite the "Examiner" Office,

In thanking their numerous customers for orders received since their Fall Openings, desire to inform them and others that they have now received another consignment of Fall and Winter Goods, embracing every grade, shade and pattern of Cloths known to the trade.

OVERCOATS! OVERCOATS!

We desire to draw the special attention of the public to our stock of OVERCOATS, made up in Worsteds, Meltons, Beavers, Irish and Canadian Friezes. These goods were cut and made on the premises by our own workmen, and under my personal supervision, during the dull times, and are now offered to our customers at prices which cannot be approached by any house in town.

We have also a special line of UNDERCLOTHING which we are selling very low. Call in and see them.

To each and every Lady that buys 50 cents worth of PETROLIA WASHING FLUID and used it eight times in succession at her washing and goes strictly by the directions printed on the labels. If it injures the fibre of the finest garments or won't clean the clothes cleaner and whiter, with less work, less soap, less wearing of the clothes rubbing them; if you don't find it better than the old way of washing in every respect, call and tell your grocer about it, and in what way it failed to do its work, and he will tell me and I will tell the company and you will get $5 if you are entitled to it. Beware of imitations, for there is a fluid called by the same name, but not the same directions. Buy no other but the kind that is whitewashed by

BARGAINS EXTRAORDINARY!

We have cleared from a large manufacturer 2 cases containing 700 yards Ladies' Tweed Suitings, 54 inches wide, the original price of which was $1.00 to $1.25 per yard and which we are enabled to sell at the ridiculously low price of only 50 and 60c. per yard.

The whole purchase is now displayed on tables in the centre of our store. These goods are suitable for either Dresses or Ulsterings.

SEALETTES.

When in the wholesale market last week we purchased a wholesale lot of the celebrated "Lister's" Sealettes, (every piece stamped), at a reduction of 30 per cent. and which we are now offering as follows:—

$13 00 the yard Sealette for $9 00
11 00 the yard Sealette for $8 00
8 50 the yard Sealette for $6 00
6 50 the yard Sealette for $4 50
5 00 the yard Sealette for $3 00

This is, without doubt, the greatest value ever offered in these high class makes and qualities. "It's Fair's way." "Well, we've seen all the Mantles in town and we like yours the best," is a remark one frequently hears in our Ready-Made Mantle Department.

FIRE IN AN INFIRMARY

Two Sisters of Mercy Lose Their Lives in the Flames.

FOUR PERSONS ARE MISSING

One of the Victims Was a Novitiate Recently From Montreal—The Infirmary Was Completely Demolished—Loss Will Reach Half a Million.

HOUSTON, Tex., Oct. 17.—Fire was discovered in the San Jacinto boarding house on Franklin and Jacinto streets and before the flames were under control two lives and probably four were lost and $500,000 worth of property was destroyed.

The flames quickly spread to St. Joseph's Catholic Infirmary on Franklin street and despite the efforts of the firemen the building was totally destroyed. Two sisters of the Institute, Jane and Dorell, perished. Two patients lying in an upper story of the dormitory are missing and it is feared they were burned to death. Another sister named Clothilda had a narrow escape. She was frightfully burned about the head and shoulders, but it is believed she will recover.

From St. Joseph Infirmary the flames spread to St. Jacinto boarding house, then to an adjoining store. The flames lasted for two hours and in that time destroyed over a dozen buildings. The losses will aggregate half a million dollars. This is partially covered by insurance. It is supposed the fire was started by the explosion of an oil lamp.

The names of the two sisters of mercy who lost their lives are Sister Dolores and Jennie Ellis. The family name of Sister Dolores was Elizabeth Boyle. Jennie Ellis was a novitiate and removed to San Antonio from Montreal two weeks ago. The debris is still burning.

Filed Their Offerings on the Altar.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—At a meeting in the Eighth avenue gospel tabernacle of the Christian and Missionary alliance, which closed its eleventh annual convention on Sunday, something unusual happened. It was at the height of the meeting when Miss Louise Shepard, an evangelist, proposed that there should be an offering of gold and silver for the work of the alliance. In a whirl of religious fervor men and women marched up the aisles to the altar and left gold and silver watches, diamond pins and rings and jewelry of all forms to be sold in the interest of missionary work. The programme of the meeting was stopped and was not resumed until the altar of the tabernacle was piled high with the offerings. On Sunday morning, at one of the three great meetings, more jewelry was given. One man's generosity reached such a pitch that he gave a deed for a farm. Others gave sums of money ranging from $6,000 to $1. More than $50,000 was subscribed during the day.

A Madman in a Church.

YORK, Pa., Oct. 17.—With a jug of cider in one hand and a repeating rifle in the other William Pattison, an escaped madman, entered Mount Olivet Church here. He at once threw the congregation, composed of 70 persons, into a panic by firing right and left. The first shot sent a thrill of terror through every worshipper. No one dared go near the wild-eyed maniac, who aimed his rifle at windows, pulpit, stoves and pews with a recklessness that sent men, women and children rushing pell mell out of doors. In the meantime Pattison reloaded his weapon and banged away until he had fired twenty-eight shots. As no one then remained in the church but himself, the lunatic picked up his jug and walked out. He was overtaken by an officer and locked up here.

Plots to Rob a Mail Company.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 17—Officers of the Pacific mail company are unearthing a conspiracy by which the company has lost thousands of dollars. The plan was one by which employes at the Pacific mail docks in this city are supposed to have made a great deal more than their regular wages. Two weeks ago the company started a secret investigation and within a few days thereafter six watchmen, three gate keepers and the storekeeper were discharged. Yesterday the axe fell again and the chief delivery clerk is out of a job. There are more to follow. Goods from cargoes were carried off and sold and in other ways the company suffered.

Vicious Fight Between Convicts.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 17.—A vicious fight occurred in the Belem prison between two American prisoners, Edward J. Adams, of New Orleans, and Charles J. Spencer of New Jersey. Adams was first attacked by Spencer and badly cut in the face with a knife. Adams then armed himself with a knife. Another prisoner tried to separate the combatants and in doing so was stabbed in the arm by Adams. Adams is under death sentence for murder and Spencer is locked up on a charge of robbery.

No Faith in Their Employes.

CLAREMONT, I. T., Oct. 17.—On account of recent robberies the Pacific express companies have posted notices in the territory to the effect that it will not receive any money or valuables for transmission nor issue any money orders. It is reported all Pacific express offices in the territory are to be discontinued.

This Thief Made a Good Haul.

NEW ALBANY, Ind., Oct. 17.—While Postmaster Schingler was at dinner a thief slipped into his private office and took $4,000 worth of stamps and $300 in cash from the safe. There is no clue to the robber.

JUDGE DUGAS' OPINION

Montreal's Police Force Undergoing a Searching Inquiry.

THEY ARE BEHIND THE TIMES

No Record of Criminals is Kept—What He Would Do With Disreputable Houses—Startling Revelations Expected Against Members of the Force.

MONTREAL, Oct. 17.—A great deal of interest is being taken by the citizens in the enquiry that is being held by a committee of the city council into the standing of the police force.

The committee met yesterday and heard the evidence of Judge Dugas, the police magistrate of Montreal, who gave some very straight evidence against the force. Judge Dugas has been a criminal judge for over fifteen years and speaks with authority. He declared that there was an entire lack of system in the force as at present constituted. The members seemed to act without any method and the result was that many criminals escaped. There was an entire absence of the modern appliances that had been established in connection with other detective forces in the old and new world. There was no system of identification and no record of criminals was kept. The members of the force made no attempt at disguisement and as they were well known by the criminal classes their usefulness was impaired. There was also a lack of administrative ability displayed in the management of the force, which only composed some seven men, a number altogether too small for the city.

Judge Dugas advocated that houses of ill-fame should be tolerated and placed under police control.

The citizens who are moving against the force promise some startling revelations against the members.

SPLIT IN A CREED.

The United Brethren Carry a Difference Into Court.

TORONTO, Oct. 17.—Gathered in the Queen's Bench court room at Osgoode Hall yesterday were Chancellor Burwash, of Victoria University; Rev. Prof. Gregg, Knox College; Rev. Prof. Clark, Trinity College, and other notable divines who were subpoenaed as expert witnesses on a matter of creed.

In 1889 the Church of the United Brethren of Canada and the United States split in the annual conference at York, Pa., on the question of amending the constitution so that lay representatives would be admitted in part in future. This was carried, but the fifteen dissentients left and proceeded to hold a conference of their own. Since then both sides claim to be the orginal church.

At Port Elgin, in Bruce County, there is a division in a church. The sympathizers of the fifteen dissentients are in possession and the other side brought this suit to dislodge them.

A New Radial Electric Railway.

HAMILTON, Oct. 17.—New life has been infused into the project to build a radial electric railway from Hamilton to Guelph via Waterdown. At a meeting held in Waterdown to discuss the granting of a bonus by that village and East and West Flamboro, it was announced that the money to construct the road has been subscribed by a syndicate of Boston capitalists, with W. F. Forsyth at its head. Mr. Forsyth was present and announced that the construction of the road is certain, the only question being as to the route. The inference is that the route will depend to some extent on the liberality of municipalities in the matter of finances. This line as projected will connect with the C.P.R. at Shaw station.

A Young School Teacher Drowned.

PENETANGUISHENE, Ont. Oct. 17.—J. O. Proteau, a young French Canadian school teacher at Lafontaine, was drowned yesterday at Sing Beach. He and a companion started out in the morning to where they had left a fishing net. The wind was blowing very hard and as they reached the net his companion remarked that they had better go back, and in turning the boat capsized and they both fell into the water. Proteau took hold of the net which held him down. His companion managed to reach the shore very much exhausted. He immediately gave the alarm and a large party went out and found the unfortunate man still holding on to the net.

Robbed His Benefactor.

OTTAWA, Oct. 17.—Dr. Davies, of Chelsea, while returning from the old country last summer paid the passage fare of a stowaway who was discovered on the steamer, and whom the captain was going to take back to England to have him prosecuted. The doctor not only did this but took the young Englishman, whose name is William Lester, to Chelsea, where he was to make himself generally useful. He, however, proved ungrateful and ran away with $200 which he found in the doctor's safe. He got one year in the Central prison in the police court yesterday.

Serum Injections for Diphtheria.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Surgeon-General Wyman has received a preliminary report from Past Assistant J. J. Kinyoun from the Pasteur Institute in Paris, where he is making a special study of the methods of Prof. Roux in the treatment of diphtheria by means of serum injections. Dr. Kinyoun states that he is convinced that Prof. Roux has been too modest in his claims for the efficacy of this treatment. He says the discovery is one of the greatest in medicine and has passed through the experimental stage and laid a foundation for a new system of preventative medicine.

Given the Lie Direct.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—The World prints a startling story purporting to give the reasons for Mr. Gladstone's retirement from active political life. According to that paper, he withdrew from the House of Commons for the purpose of taking holy orders, and if he retains his health and regains his eyesight, he is likely to be ordained in 1895. In the meantime he will become an opponent of the proposal to disestablish the church in Wales. Concerning the story, Mr. Gladstone telegraphs that it is untrue.

ARMIES FACE TO FACE

The Chinese and Japs Occupy Positions on the Banks of the Yalu.

DECISIVE BATTLE EXPECTED

The Japanese Awaiting the Arrival of Heavier Artillery Before Beginning the Attack—Hundreds of Captive Celestials Taken to Tokio Prisons.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—A despatch to the Central News from Wi-Ju dated Monday says:

"The opposing armies still face each other on the banks of the Yalu river. The Chinese have not fired a shot, but work night and day strengthening their defences. Count Yamagata, the Japanese commander-in-chief, is awaiting the arrival of heavier artillery before attacking the Chinese position. Japanese scouts estimate that the Chinese forces altogether number 25,000 men. The scouts have brought in detailed information as to the condition of the Chinese defences, showing that they are not so strong as the first reports indicated. The Chinese artillery is shown to be less formidable than the Japanese had supposed. A decisive attack is expected shortly. Various indications justify the belief that the chief stand of the Chinese will be at Kubenchao."

A despatch from Tokio says that several hundred Chinese prisoners, who were taken at the battle of Ping Yang, arrived in Tokio yesterday. Crowds were in the streets to see the captives and followed them from the station to the prisons. The crowds were quiet and orderly, indulging in no insults or signs of exultation. The captives were distributed among several military stations.

The Japanese legation in London has received advices to the effect that the Japanese transport steamer Ariaki Maru has arrived at Yokohama from Hong Kong. A Chinese gunboat left Hong Kong a few hours before the Ariaki Maru, but contrary to expectation made no attempt to engage the transport.

A despatch from Shanghai says it is reported there that Captain Von Hennecken, the German officer who was wounded on one of the Chinese warships in the battle off the mouth of the Yalu river, is suffering from blood poisoning resulting from his wounds and is not likely to recover.

The Central News claims to have the highest authority for the statement that overtures looking to a declaration of peace between China and Japan have been made but that Japan rejected the proposals made, considering them inadequate. According to the Central News, however, there is every reason to believe that the proposals were eminently satisfactory to China and that her representatives signified their willingness to acquiesce in them.

The Times publishes a despatch from its St. Petersburg correspondent saying that arrangements are making to have in readiness and in case of necessity to despatch six steamers of the Russian volunteer fleet to Vladivostock where they will be fitted out as cruisers.

CHAMBERLAIN'S POLICY.

The Unionist Leader Addresses the Conference at Durham.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—Joseph Chamberlain, M.P., the Liberal Unionist leader, addressed the Unionist conference in Durham yesterday. He held that the Unionist party was growing in strength at the expense of the Gladstonians and he insisted upon the importance of having a definite policy of social reform. He defended in detail the bill which he has prepared for introduction at the next session of Parliament, providing for the furnishing of State aid to artisans in the purchase of homes of their own, for the granting of old age pensions for the limitation of the hours of labor in shops and factories for the restriction of pauper alien immigration, and for a new employers' liability act embodying a contracting out clause.

Referring to the adverse opinions of certain Unionist papers on this bill, he said that if he thought the criticisms were approved by any considerable section of the Unionist party he would resign the responsible position which he now holds in the party's councils. The party would never succeed, he declared, with a barren policy of negative criticism or cynical indifference.

Central Pacific Affairs.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—A meeting of security holders of the Central Pacific railroad was held here to consider important proposals in view of the unsettled relations of the company with the United States government and the Southern Pacific railroad. A motion was made that a committee of seven be appointed to represent and protect the interests of the European shareholders. It was determined that the services of Sir Charles Rivers Wilson be secured by the committee. Among the matters which Sir Charles will endeavor to settle while in America will be the question of the indebtedness of the Central Pacific Company to the Washington government and he will also see what modifications can be made in the lease between the Central Pacific and the Southern Pacific roads.

A Monument to the Greater William.

BERLIN, Oct. 17.—Emperor William yesterday unveiled the monument erected at Wiesbaden to the memory of his grandfather, Emperor William I. The city was appropriately decorated for the occasion and the ceremony of unveiling the monument was witnessed by an enthusiastic crowd. The Emperor congratulated the Mayor of the city and the sculptor of the monument, Schilling, upon the excellence of the memorial.

The Belgian Elections.

BRUSSELS, Oct. 17.—The socialists announce that in the supplementary ballots they will vote for all liberal candidates who pledge themselves to support free trade and universal suffrage in both local and general elections. The socialists estimate that they will have thirty members in the new house.

COUNTY HOUSES OF REFUGE.

The members of the Prisoners' Aid Association are urging the general adoption of the system of caring for the destitute poor of the country by means of houses of refuge or poor houses. Up to the present time only ten out of a total of thirty-five counties in Ontario have as yet adopted the system. They claim that it is not only the most humane, but that in the end it is by far the most economical method, and, moreover, that in counties where there is a well-managed poor house there is far less begging—in fact no excuse for it—far less pauperism and far less crime.

Other advantages resulting from the establishment of a poor house in the county, which is referred to by the Association, is the fact that the removal of the tramps and the simply destitute poor from the county jail prevents over-crowding of the latter, and makes it possible to effect a better classification of the remaining prisoners. This they claim is a matter of much greater importance than is generally supposed, as it is found that both vice and crime are propogated by lack of proper classification of the inmates of county jails.

When it has been decided to erect a county poor house, plenty of time should be taken in selecting the farm, selecting the site, and in deciding upon the character of the building.

The farm should be good land, not less than 100 acres, easy to till and convenient to a railway station or boat landing. The buildings should be erected on high ground, where they can be easily drained, and where there will be of water both winter and summer. In making plans for the buildings the aims should be economy, convenience, orderly administration, a complete separation of the sexes and a right classification of the inmates. The heating, ventilation and drainage are of great importance, and these should not be entrusted to any except good reliable parties or well known firms.

One of the best county poor houses in Ontario is the one recently built in the County of Oxford, near the town of Woodstock. The total cost to the county, complete, was $30,363, less the Government grant of $4,000.

In the United States nearly every county has a county poor house. In the State of Ohio, for instance, there is a poor house in each one of its 88 counties. In the State of New York, with only four exceptions, every county has a poor house. In this State the poor houses are under the supervision of a State Board, and this board now favours the adoption of the cottage system in the construction of county poor houses. The cottage system is more expensive than the congregate system, but it is claimed that it is much safer in case of fire, it prevents the spread of contagious diseases, it is more home like, and it is the only system that provides for the absolute separation of the sexes.

A well managed county poor house is a regular hive of industry, and every inmate not too ill or too feeble is expected to do a fair day's work, and in this way contribute to their maintenance. As might be expected such a poor house is not popular with the lazy, good-for-nothing tramp, and it is found that he gives a wide berth to the county where it is located.

MILLBROOK.

From Our Own Correspondent.

On Thursday evening the Citizen's Band serenaded Mr. Wm. Strain, who has been lately married, and who for some time has been an active member of the above organization. Mr. Strain invited the boys in after which Mr. G. A. Duncan, the popular and able leader, read a well worded address and presented the host with a beautiful hanging lamp. Mr. Strain who was taken entirely by surprise made a brief reply in which he thanked the boys most heartily for their kindness toward him and assured them that he would continue to do all in his power to advance the interests of an organization of which he was proud to be a member. After leaving Mr. Strain's house they proceeded to the residence of Mr. Fred Duncan their ever faithful baritone player. The residents of the east end did not have the pleasure of listening to the music in the chilly October air very long before Mr. Duncan also invited them in. When the leader stepped forward and presented him with a dozen beautiful silver knives he was not a little surprised. In a few well chosen words he thanked the boys and after being most hospitably entertained they left, well pleased with their night's outing.

The subscribers of the Mechanics' Institute met last Thursday, and decided to have their rooms in the Wood & Kells block, over Johnston & Fair's hardware store. Stanley Pickup has been appointed caretaker and librarian.

A West Oxford Farmer Narrowly Escapes Premature Burial—The Causes of His Threatened Fate and Lucky Escape.

INGERSOLL, Oct. 8.—W. H. Bailey of West Oxford township, claims to have only narrowly escaped premature burial a short time ago. He had had kidney disease for four years back and so badly at times that he was completely laid up. Many doctors treated him, but their treatment, in Mr. Bailey's opinion, made him worse rather than better. His escape from a premature grave was affected by the use of the infallible Dodd's Kidney Pills. Three boxes of these cured completely. Mr. Bailey claims to be able now to do a bigger day's work than his twenty-four-year-old son.

FRATERNAL ASSESSMENT LIABILITY.

"Can't I get out when I please, and have no liability?"

Most people expect "yes" for an answer to this question, when they say they are members of an assessment insurance society, and begin to think of their responsibilities as such. It is important for them to know that they cannot escape liability; because every member, no matter when he drops out, is liable for any deficiencies that may arise in future, if they were developed during his membership. Here is an instance:

The United Masonic Benefit Association of Missouri was some years ago an active and apparently prosperous assessment concern. It provided no reserve, but offered low rates, cheap insurance, and seemingly hoped that new blood would make up for increasing mortality resulting from increasing age. By and bye its forces began to fall off, not enough "new blood" came in, and the cost of membership ran up in a very uncomfortable way. Presently the healthier lives began to feel their burden pressing heavily and steadily left the ranks, until so few were left in the association that the assessments amounted to $140—one hundred and forty dollars—on each certificate. The remaining members refused to pay such a sum, and the concern failed. But there were unpaid death claims for a large amount due, and the State Superintendent of Insurance thought they ought to be paid. So he began suits at law against individual members to enforce payment of the assessments against them; the court has decided that they must pay. The feelings of those who are thus compelled to pay what they never expected have undergone a change with respect to assessment insurance.

Replying to some enquiries which had been made upon this point of liability, and citing this case illustration of what may be expected in any similiar case which might be pressed to suit, the Insurance Monitor says: "The decision referred to answers our question which has been debated whether the member's liability is limited to sums which he may choose to pay; in, other words, whether he can get out when he pleases without further harm. This he cannot do. Every member, no matter when he may drop out, is liable for any deficiencies which may crop up in future, resulting during his membership. The only safe course for parties that apprehend breakers ahead is to drop their membership before the breakers are reached; and the misfortune of this course is that the faster they drop, the faster the association drives towards the breakers."

There seems to be only one course open for the prudent man who may be determined to avoid possible liability; that is to keep out of such associations entirely and buy his insurance of the regular companies.—Monetary Times.

Y.P.S.C.E. NOTES.

KINGSTON, '94.

The provincial convention is now over and it will be the proper thing for each society to wait on their delegates and hear their report in full. The convention was not as well attended as it has been in past years, nevertheless those who were present received instruction that will be helpful to themselves and their respective societies. One of the most prominent features of the convention was the inter-denominational feeling that existed. Rev. Canon Richardson, of London, a member of the Anglican church, presided, while representatives of the Presbyterian, Methodist, Baptist, Congregational and Disciple took part in the programme. The meeting throughout was very interesting, more especially the sunrise prayer meetings, which were well attended. The juniors' work received more attention than has been paid it during previous years, and especially at the convention of the junior workers, held on Friday morning, where different forms o this work was discussed and some practical instruction was imparted to those who were present, while those interested in missions could not but feel that this portion of the work was well championed. Those who spoke on the missions were returned missionaries and their addresses were all practical. Those who spoke on behalf of missions were Rev. Jonathan Goforth, a young Canadian missionary home on a furlough; Rev. H. R. Beach, a returned missionary from China, and Rev. W. C. Dodd, Presbyterian missionary in Siam, now home on a furlough.

Miss M. Quinn, of St. Paul's Society, presided at the junior conference on Thursday afternoon and conducted it in a manner that was not only satisfactory to those present, but will be beneficial to this portion of the work hereafter. Different plans of how to interest the children were discussed. Miss Aggie Patterson, of St. Andrew's junior society, responded to the address of welcome and expressed herself in words that conveyed as in child-like sympathy to those interested in the juniors. She spoke in a manner calculated to impress upon those present the vital importance of this branch of God's work, and stated that if she had time to tell of the work being done by the 175 junior societies in the province it would make a long and interesting story, and said they would have to be satisfied with their greetings. After she had finished her address fully 800 children stood up and waved bouquets of pretty flowers over their heads in appreciation of the address of the young lady from Peterborough.

On Friday morning, each of the denominations held a rally and Christian Endeavour was discussed, and considered from a denominational standpoint. Each denomination met in a separate church and a great deal of interest was displayed in all these meetings. Below, we give two resolutions, drafted by the executive and unanimously carried by the delegates:

"This Christian Endeavour Convention for the Province of Ontario, assembled in Kingston, expresses its appreciation of the interest which the various Christian denominations have taken in the Christian Endeavour movement as Providential in the history of the churches and fraught with richer results in experience, service and fellowship than have been attained hitherto in young people's work and further expresses its cordial agreement with the action of any denomination in taking constitutional oversight and control of the Christian Endeavour Societies in its churches and depends on the Societies in harmony with our published principles to be loyal to the local church and denomination with which each society is connected. We do this properly and heartily, because we look on the Christian Endeavour convention as a meeting for spiritual fellowship, co-operation in Christian work, comparison of methods and mutual edification and inspiration. We express the hope that city, county and local unions will increase in number and grow in power and thus present a common united and aggressive front for Evangelical Christianity against all forms of sin, worldiness and formality in our country."

"This convention of Christian Endeavour representatives assembled in Kingston expresses its conviction of the great importance of having proper ideals before our young people in the matter of citizenship. We recognize practices and forces in our midst that are injurious to our material interests, contrary to our social well-being and against our national success. Such are the gambling practices prevalent in our cities, the disregard of the Lord's day as a day set apart for rest and worship, the use of intoxicating liquors and the licensed traffic therein, the use of tobacco and opiates, the display of indecent posters and the use of impure language and literature. We urge the young people to take an active interest in good citizenship, to use their influence and vote to dislodge systems of evil entrenched in the gains, prejudices and practices of sections of the community and in the laws and institutions of the land, and to do all in their power to build up in our province and Dominion a national life that will acknowledge God, honour His Word and exalt His Son."

The convention closed on Friday night with a consecration service led by Rev. A. L. McGregor, of Woodstock, who is known as the father of the Endeavour movement in Canada. This service was very impressive. Little groups would rise here and there and repeat a passage of Scripture or sing a hymn, all of which tended to make the last session a very interesting one, and the convention of '94 closed with the Mizpah benediction.

NOTES OF THE CONVENTION.

There were 240 delegates present. The reception committee was prepared to accommodate twice that number.

The banner for the greatest aggregate mileage travelled goes to the Toronto local union.

The reception committee of which W. A. McIlroy was chairman, was large and efficient, and every delegate received right royal treatment at their hands.

Miss Laura Mann, of Gimour Memorial, Smith, read a paper at the Baptist rally.

The officers for the ensuing year are as follows:

President.—G. Tower Ferguson, Toronto.
General Secretary.—Thos. Morris, jr., Hamilton.
Treasurer.—W. J. Doherty, London.
Editor.—Rev. J. A. R. Dixon, Galt.
Junior Superintendent.—C. J. Atchison, Mimico.

The convention of '95 will meet at Brantford.

The publishers of the Herald intend publishing a number devoted solely to the junior work, and portraits of those who took part in the convention will be one of the attractions of this number.

The delegates who attended from this district were Miss Laura Mann, of Gilmour Memorial, Smith; Mr. Anderson, of Riverdale Mission; Miss Aggie Patterson, of St. Andrew's junior society and Miss Quinn, Mr. W. Webster and H. Martin, of St. Paul's Society.

SMITH UNION.

The Smith Local Union will hold a rally in the Methodist church at Bridgenorth on Friday, Oct. 20th, at 7.30 p.m. An interesting meeting and large attendance is requested.

LAKEFIELD METHODIST.

The E. L. of C. E. met on the evening of Sept. 29th, and the following officers were elected for the ensuing term:

President—Miss I. Cox.
1st Vice-President—Mr. John Dixon.
2nd Vice-President—Miss C. Burgess.
3rd Vice-President—Miss M. White.
4th Vice-President—Miss N. Sherin.
Recording-Secretary—Miss A. Leonard.

Butter Fat and Butter.

An exchange says that theoretically one hundred pounds of milk that tests 4 per cent fat will yield more than four pounds of butter, but that practically it does not, or at least not always. Practically it does if the butter-maker understands his business. When the cream is raised by gravity much of the fat is lost in the skim-milk and consequently the yield of butter is cut down, but in a creamery where separators are used a pound of fat in the milk should always make more than a pound of butter, and if it does not it is pretty good evidence that the butter-maker does not understand his business as he should.

A Matter of Test.

The best ration for any given cow can only be found by trial. It will not do to graduate the weight of the ration by the weight of the cow. Assimilation is partly a matter of individuality, and the scales can not show that.

Punctuality is a Virtue.

The habit of being always a little late is so general that it might seem unavoidable, were it not that punctuality is secured from the very persons at fault when the occasions are as guarded as in the wedding to which the foolish virgins failed to gain admission because "the doors were shut." It is better to train up children to order, punctuality, honesty in keeping engagements, as a part of keeping one's word, and to teach them not only self-reliance, but make them men and women on whom reliance may be placed.

Lining for Hen's Nests.

The outside peel of onions makes a good lining for hen's nests, as the odor from this vegetable drives away the lice, which are sure to be worse on the hen that is sitting if there are any in the hen house. It is well to rub a little grease on the necks of sitting hens to destroy the lice, but it should not be used plentifully or put on their breasts. Grease of any kind closes the pours of the egg, and when its supply of air is cut off the chick is sure to die in the shell.

U. S. RAILROADS.

The railway system of the United States comprises 176,461 miles of track.

Railroad stock in the United States aggregates in round numbers $10,506,235,410.

The receipts of all railroads for last year were $1,220,751,874, while the expenses were $827,921,299.

It requires 34,788 locomotives, 31,884 passenger cars and 1,047,577 freight cars to operate the railroads of the country.

Dear Experience.

A good farmer of our acquaintance says that he will never pasture a field of fodder again. He tried this on seven acres, the past season, to save the expense of cutting up the corn, and found that he received only a small proportion of the usual benefit from the fodder. After this he will cut and feed properly every stalk of corn he grows.—Buffalo Express.

To Beautify the Complexion

—do not take the cosmetics, paints and powders which injure the skin, but take the easiest way to gain a beautiful color and a wholesome skin. Health is the greatest beautifier. The means to beauty, comfort and health for women is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Dull eyes, sallow or wrinkled face, and those "feelings of weakness," have their rise in the derangements peculiar to women.

"Favorite Prescription" will build up, strengthen and invigorate, every "run-down" or delicate woman by regulating and assisting all the natural functions.

To cure constipation, biliousness, indigestion, sick headache, take Dr. Pierce's Pellets. One a dose.

A Remarkable Event

An event which has been the talk of the town for some weeks is the cure of Mr. Edward White, whose sufferings from Salt Rheum (Eczema) were well known. Mr. White's statement is as follows:

For 12 years previous to the last few months I have been a sufferer of the worst kind from Salt Rheum. I tried twelve different doctors, besides many patent medicines but received no benefit, but gradually became worse. Last January I was advised to try B. B. B. by the postmaster here. I soon perceived a decided change for the better, and it only took six bottles to make a complete cure.

Mr. J. B. Bowser, Merchant; Mr. Jas. W. Boyer, Manufacturer, and Mr. Thos. W. Letson, J. P., can certify to the truth of the above statement.

MOLLY, MYSELF AND THE BABY!

Buy all our shoes at McNaughton's. MOLLY is a sweet, sensible little woman—economical, too—always buys what she can get the best value for her money. FOR MYSELF, I used to buy my shoes down town, but I dropped into McNAUGHTON'S to see if he was selling as cheap as the big George Street stores. Bought three pair quicker than sent. THE BABY, well, the kid wouldn't wear a shoe that didn't come from McNAUGHTON'S. Is never troubled with croup.

ROBERT HALL.

Seasonable and Opportune.

Always forearmed for all the shopping demands of our customers—this store is never behind—the right goods at the right time and at the right prices. October suggest the need of such things as

Underwear, Hosiery and Gloves.

We have too many kinds to attempt any detail, but in addition to the BEST makes in underwear we carry a full line of the celebrated "Health Brand" in all sizes and combinations.

Blankets and Bed Comforters.

The buying of these lines was done with extreme care, as we have an exacting constituency to chose for, who are wide awake judges of qualities and prices. The stock is right and the values correspond.

Along with these we would also mention our new fall selected Shawls, in many sizes, qualities and shapes—very exclusive—and from makers who warrant their goods.

Millinery and Mantles.

Style is everything in these lines. You don't want a last years' hat, or bonnet, or jacket, at any cost, and you won't find one here. You don't even want this season's unless the style is distinctive, and that is just where we excel.

We continue to show full range in all the newest novelties in Dress Goods.

The Sham Battle Declared Off.

The officers of the rangers have been forced to relinquish the idea of having a sham battle on Thanksgiving Day, as the number of men who turned out to drill was not sufficiently encouraging. It is a pity that this military manœuve had to be abandoned, as a field day of this character would do much to give the men an insight into the life of the soldier when in action. The citizens too, were anticipating a day of enjoyment, and were indulging in the pleasurable expectation of seeing something out of the common.

—No arrests.

—City Lodge, I.O.G.T., meets this evening.

—Crossley & Hunter are still working in Pembroke.

—There was no session at the police court this morning.

—Nothing new around the fire hall and everything reported quiet.

—Winnipeg hotel men have been fined $25 each for having nickel-in-the-slot machines in their bars.

—The Bank of Montreal has just declared a half-yearly dividend of 5 per cent. on its paid-up capital stock.

—Port Hope has just voted on a by-law for the introduction of a waterworks system. The by-law was carried by a majority of seventy-one.

—Messrs. J. R. Donnel and Geo. Kincaid left this morning for the northern lakes, where they will spend a fortnight hunting. They go to Long Lake.

—The woodwork on the front of the City Hotel is being neatly grained, adding not a little to the appearance of the block. Mr. Ben Johnston is doing the work.

—At Ottawa yesterday Senator Read, of Belleville, led to the altar Mrs. Wartman, a sister of Dr. Horsey, of Ottawa. The groom is 79 years old and the bride 62.

—Chief Justice Meredith will, in all probability, preside at the "trials without jury" here next week as he is taking Chief Justice Galt's work in many instances.

—Ladies, call at the Peterborough Bookstore, and get a copy (free) of the Metropolitan Fashion Sheet, special fall edition of latest fashions. A. H. STRATTON & Co., agent Butterick's Patterns.

—The Ontario Gazette devotes seventy of its pages to the advertisement of Toronto's City Treasurer's sale of lands for taxes. This is Toronto all over again. It tries to monopolize the whole of everything.

—Yesterday afternoon, while a teamster in connection with Calcutt's brewery, was assisting the fireman, of the city of Peterborough, in removing his trunk from the vessel, he had the misfortune to take a header. Trunk and all went into aqua pura—a cool reception.

—Although six or seven hundred delegates to the Provincial Sunday School Convention are expected in Belleville next week, yet the names of hardly twenty of these delegates have been received yet. The Billeting Committee are in dire perplexity. Few if any of the delegates from Peterborough have even been selected yet.

—A subject which will come up at the annual meeting of the Peterborough Cheese Board for discussion will be the printing of slips containing a list of the cheese boarded by the different factories and the sales. These slips are supposed to be in the hands of the salesmen and buyers immediately after the adjournment of the Board so that they may be taken away and filed for reference.

—The deer will suffer this year as almost every provincial daily or weekly that is picked up contains accounts of the various parties that are starting out for the north country. The season for deer does not open until Saturday, but already the horn of the hunter is heard in the land, and nearly all those intending to hunt this fall are already on their camping grounds. The season lasts for just twenty-five days.

—The Brotherhood of St. Andrew met last night at the residence of Rev. C. B. Kenrick. It was decided that Mr. Kenrick and Mr. Kingscotte form a committee to overlook the stock of hymn and prayer books with which the Brotherhood supplies strangers at the church door, and be empowered to purchase as many new ones as were required. Encouraging reports were received from the different committees.

—Messrs. Hall, Gilchrist & Co. in opening a packing case containing a shipment of Oriental silks, found among the wrapping paper a peculiar specimen of Chinese literature. It is a sheet about 30 by 35 inches, composed of two layers of "dodgers," or newspapers, pasted together, printed side inward, each piece about 7 by 9 inches overlapping at the edge to make a single sheet of the size mentioned. The writing or printing being about as complicated as the outfall sewer matter, life seems too short to attempt a translation of the weird celestial characters.

A Coming Pianiste.

What an exchange has to say of Miss Marie Louise Bailey, who appears at the Opera House, Friday night, Oct. 19th, 1894: In Bechstein Hall, yesterday evening, the artiste, Fraulein Bailey, made her New York debut. The young lady possesses all the requisites of a great artist; a powerful penetrating touch perfect technique, great rhythm, and a correct conception. She understood the composer's meaning and feeling. Her playing is full of life and expression. She showed her artistic qualities in the Bach Chromatic Fantasie and Fugue, Beethoven's E flat Sonata Op. 31, No. 3, and in the Schumann Fasching-schwank. Don't miss this treat. Prices, 25, 50 and 75; box seats, $1,00.

Evidently Appreciated.

The following address has been presented to Mr. G. J. Early by the members of Lansdowne Lodge, Sons of England, of which organization he is a member:

MR. GEORGE J. EARLY:

Dear Sir and Brother,—On the eve of your departure from Peterborough and the severance of your connections with the Sons of England here, we cannot permit such an event to take place without placing on record the very high esteem in which for years you have been held by your brethren of this lodge.

It is not often in fraternal intercourse the fortune of societies to meet and have communion with one of such marked urbanity, honourable characteristics and genial disposition as you have invariably exhibited toward your brethren here, and we beg to assure you with all sincerity we view your departure from among us, as brother and citizen, with the most profound regret.

Yet this regret is happily tempered with the pleasing thought that while we lose in the severance of these fraternal and civic associations, in the sphere to which you are removing you will only require to be known, to be as honoured, respected and loved as you are with us.

In your career as an artist in Peterborough you have, with no small skill, portrayed for loving friends resemblances of those whose memories were sacred to them. These must fade, but on our hearts are photographed, not merely facial resemblances, but brotherly love, genial intercourse and active beneficence, and these can never fade until time in the fulfilment of its inevitable and remorseless function, shall have swept into oblivion memory and all that makes it. May your future career be a happy one.

If there is any virtue, any power, in sterling qualities of mind and heart such as you possess, we can have no fear nor doubt but that your future will be as happy and prosperous as we sincerely pray it may be.

Signed on behalf of the lodge.

GEO. CARPENTER, W. President.
W. J. SQUIRES, W. Secretary.

Constipation or Costiveness

is caused by a sluggish state of the liver, sedentary habits, want of fresh air, astringent medicines such as opium or quinine, neglect of the calls of nature and the pernicious practice of taking pills or other strong purgatives upon every provocation. A positive cure for these troubles has been discovered in Esslay's Liver Lozenges. They do not react like other laxative medicines. They are 25 cents a box or 5 boxes for a dollar.

SPORTS AND PASTIMES.

Items of Interest to Local Sportsmen.

TROTTING MATCH.

The great match of the year will come off on Saturday next at Mystic Park, Boston, the scene of 100 classic trotting encounters, and the question in all trotting horse circles is, which will win. There never was before such a perfect handicap. Directum, the five-year-old black stallion king, has a record in the third heat of a race of 2.05¼. Alix, the trotting queen, has also a record in the third heat of a race of exactly the same time. Alix has a time record of 2.03¾, but as all good judges estimate that a time record has an advantage of about two seconds over a race record it does not follow that she is any faster than her great competitor. It will be largely a question of fitness, not merely on the day, but almost to the hour of the race. If either of them is the least off it will give victory to the other. Should they both go to the wire in the very pink of condition, the 25,000 persons who are certain to be there, will witness the greatest race of the century. Mystic Park is probably two seconds slower than the famous tracks of Terre Haute or Nashville. This should insure a race in about 2.07, but with a warm day and with a track housed to perfection, it is probable that they will trot close to 2.05. Directum is as steady as a machine, but the mare is sometimes a little flighty. Should she make the slighest mistake victory will go to the black cyclone from California.

THE BANG TAILS.

Gideon and Daly head the list of winning owners this season. In all they have captured $131,462. J. R. & F. P. Keene come next, with $76,755, about half of which was earned by Agitator, who ran third in the Futurity, and won the Matron Stakes. Byron McClelland's little string snatched prizes aggregating $60,425, and Richard Croker's nags won more money that did the racers of M. F. Dyer, Mr. Croker's running mate. Mr Croker got $70,257, and Mr. Dyer $43,349. J. A., A. H. and D. S. Morris won $51,675, I. W. Rogers, $30,325; Leigh & Rose, $29,507; Charles Littlefield, $29,600; the Oneck Stables, $38,965; the Fleischmanns, $22,886; G. Walbaum, $22,215; Fred Foster, $22,945; McCafferty & Wishard, $19,955; Jacob Ruppert, jr., $17,575; J. E. McDonald, $17,612; P. Lorillard, $16,195; Kendal Stables, $13,775; W. B. Jennings, $13,477; E. C. Headley, $13,236; O. H. P. Belmont, $13,815; William Donogh, $14,120; Blemton Stables, $12,570, and the Preakness Stable, $12,024. The remainder of the $1,500,000 paid out by the racing associations was split up among about 120 owners of strings of race horses.

FOOTBALL.

Through a misunderstanding it was announced yesterday that excursion tickets to Port Hope would be issued free, on Saturday, to any ladies who desire to go down to witness the football match between the town fifteen and the Trinity School team. The ladies and all other Peterboroughnians going down will be admitted to the ground free, but a uniform rate of sixty cents will be charged for all railroad tickets sold.

QUOITS.

When seen this morning regarding the challenge issued to Mr. Eddie McFadden, Mr George Giroux stated that he was willing to pitch a game of quoits, the match to be a go-as-you-please one in the matter of selecting the articles to be pitched. Mr. Giroux is willing to allow Mr. McFadden to pitch a light and a heavy horseshoe, if he is so inclined, provided that he himself, can pitch four pound quoits.

It looks as though it would be a hard matter to bring these two crack men together as Mr. M. McFadden holds to his original terms, and is only anxious to get on a match with a man who will, as well as himself, pitch the game with a light and heavy weight. As using such weights would be a great disadvantage to a man not using them regularly, the match will probably drop through, Mr. Giroux being hardly likely to come to the scratch on these terms.

Mr. McFadden has never yet been beaten at his game and is thought by his friends to be invincible.

CURLING.

The semi-annual meeting of the Ontario Curling Association was held yesterday in the Walker House, Toronto. The grouping of the different clubs were arranged and those in this section play as follows:

No. 1—To be played mainly at Cobourg—Belleville, Cobourg, Bowmanville, Oshawa, Whitby. Umpire, J. A. Vance, Millbrook.

Dirty.

Well, we should say so. From the cellar to the garret. With the dust of the summer and the dust of the flies everything is apt to be a little dirty just now, especially the wall paper and window blinds. We offer a remedy for that dirty appearance that comes early in the fall. A new fresh paper and a new set of blinds is the simplest and finest remedy. It will make your home look like new, and give a refreshing appearance to everything around. See the beautiful stock all this month at a genuine discount. KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 75c. bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

KEENE.

(From Our Own Correspondent).

The Council held their regular monthly meeting in their chambers, on Monday, and transacted general business. An effort is being put forth to procure a new bridge here, and we hope they will succeed, as the present one has been pronounced unsafe.

The Presbyterian manse and adjoining buildings are being repaired and in a few weeks will present a new appearance.

Quite a number of the Keenites purpose attending the Foresters' annual assembly, in Westwood, on Friday evening.

Miss A. Curts, of Belleville, is visiting friends here.

Mr. W. H. Wrighton was in the village, Monday.

Mr. Wm. Carter is improving the lot purchased from Mrs. Armstrong, and intends building a fine new house in the spring.

Rev. Mr. Demill, who is soliciting subscriptions for the Demill Ladies' College, Toronto, occupied the Methodist pulpit on Sunday evening, and preached a very good sermon to a fair audience.

The church bell purchased by the Christian Endeavour Society in connection with the Presbyterian church will be presented to the Rev. F. Andrews, pastor of the church, on Friday evening, Oct. 19th. Addresses will be delivered by the Rev. Mr. Cattanach of Centreville, Rev. Mr. Howard of Keene, and others. The bell which was cast by the McNeely Bell Company, of Troy, N. Y., is a handsome piece of work and a credit to the manufacturers. The members will have no excuse now for being late for service.

Mr. R. S. Skinner's new house will soon be completed.

The house occupied by Mrs. T. Campbell has been treated to a new coat of paint, which greatly adds to its appearance.

Death has again entered into our midst, and carried off an old resident. Mr. Geo. English, who has been ill for some time, passed away very suddenly on Tuesday. The deceased was 76 years old and has resided near Keene for a great number of years. He leaves a widow and three sons to mourn this loss. The bereaved family have the sympathy of the community.

Miss J. Dinsdale, eldest daughter of Jno. Dinsdale, Lang, is very low.

On Wednesday, Oct. 17th, at the residence of the bride, Miss Christina Anderson and Mr. Geo. Cow were married by the Rev. Mr. Windsor, all of Hiawatha. Congratulations were numerous.

THE FORTNIGHTLY CLUB.

The Successful Second Regular Meeting

The second regular meeting of the Fortnightly Club was held Tuesday evening. The paper on "Macbeth" was warmly received. After briefly telling the story of the drama, Mr. Jeffries dealt with the art displayed in its composition, and then reviewed and contrasted the characters of Lord and Lady Macbeth. The paper showed a very comprehensive and accurate knowledge of the tradegy, a fine critical faculty and a deep appreciation of the extraordinary characters revealed in this great drama. As is well known, there has been much controversy over the characters of Lord and Lady Macbeth. Mr. Jeffries takes the darker view of Macbeth, and supported his views by many shrewd and forcible arguments at the close of the discussion. He considers him never to have been a man of real honour or feeling, but that whatever good sentiment he seemed to possess was merely an intellectual conception, and had no root in the heart—was never absorbed into his moral being. Mr. O'Brien, one of the special speakers, was inclined to take the other view, that Macbeth was at the first a man of honour and kindly feelings, and that he was betrayed into crime by overmastering ambition and the evil influence of his wife. This view is certainly more in accord with the evident moral purpose of the drama, to show the disastrous results, even to an ordinarily virtuous man, of nourishing a selfish ambition, and entertaining the suggestions of evil. Many members took part in the animated discussion which followed Mr. O'Brien's address.

The topic for conversation was admirably introduced by Mr. Garvin, and the appreciation of the members was evident from the spirited discussion which his remarks gave rise to.

Mr. Dennistoun, in a specially clear and forcible manner, stated the view the London Times took of the situation, which differs in some respects from Mr. Garvin's theory.

Mr. Garvin's investigations inclined him to regard China as the aggressor, and that China has only desired for her own safety the independence of Korea, and the security of the Sea of Japan. In 1876 China and Japan agreed with each other to maintain the independence of Korea. But Russia and China have been intriguing at the expense of Japan, and in self-defence the latter has been strengthening herself. Hence her readiness when China attempted to send troops to the peninsula, in violation of the treaty of 1876. Mr. Dennistoun expressed the view that Japan had been eager for a conflict with China, mainly to divert the attention of the people from internal disorders and discontent, which threaten revolution, and that she has seized upon the first plausible pretext for war.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday, Nov. 6. A paper will be read by Rev. Herbert Symonds, M.A., on "the religious element in the poetry of Tennyson and Browning," and the topic for conversation is "Tennyson,". The special speakers and leaders will be announced later. Programmes may be had from the secretary.

THE EVA ROBLIN SONG RECITAL.

A Highly Successful Concert—A Very Large Attendance—A Fine Programme Presented.

The ladies of the Charlotte street Methdist church are to be warmly complimented upon the signal success of their concert on Tuesday night. The financial outcome must be very gratifying, for the house was filled in every part, and the programme presented was in keeping with the audience. Of course the bulk of the programme was presented by Miss Roblin, and to say that her artistic singing, was a decided treat is to employ a mild form of expression. Miss M. M. Clarke opened the programme with a well rendered pianoforte selection and was followed by Miss Roblin who sang a dainty and very sweet little song by West, "My Pretty Marquise." Her other numbers were an Italian selection by Gomez, "Mia Piccirella" "With Verdure Clad," from the Creation, a double number "Spring," by Vidal, "Snowflakes," by Cowen, and her closing number "The Promise of Life," also by Cowen. Miss Roblin's singing is eminently satisfactory. Her voice is full and sweet, her method is artistic without affectation, and one of the most pleasing features of her singing is the ease with which her work is done, the most trying notes and most florid cadenzas being sustained and executed without apparently an effort. Her robust physique enables her, without fatigue, to bring out all the resources of her splendid voice. Her selections were judiciously made to show her versatility—the sentimental by her first number, the florid by her second and fourth and the devotional by the third and fifth. Miss Roblin created a very favorable impression by her singing. She was encored several times, one of her repeat numbers, Annie Laurie, being very sweetly sung. Miss Lillian Burns, the elocutionist of the evening gave several selections, but won most popular favour in her artistic posing in Greek costume in which over forty human emotions were successfully represented. She was recalled and repeated several of her posings. Master Wilfrid La Rue in two or three selections, showed marked ability as a cornetist for so young a performer. He was repeatedly recalled. With proper teaching he will make a brilliant performer. Miss Minnie M. Clarke supplied the several accompaniments quite effectively. The concert throughout was a very pleasing entertainment.

"THE RIPENED LEAVES."

Margaret E. Sangster, in Harper's Young People.

Said the leaves upon the branches
One sunny autumn day,
"We've finished all our work, and now
We can no longer stay.
So our gowns of red and yellow,
And our sober cloaks of brown,
Must be worn before the frost comes,
And we go hustling down.

"We've had a jolly summer,
With the birds that built their nests
Beneath our green umbrellas,
And the squirrels that were our guests.
But we cannot wait for winter,
For we do not care for snow.
When we hear the wild northwesters
We loose our clasp and go.

"But we hold our heads up bravely
Unto the very last,
And shine in pomp and splendor
As away we flutter fast.
In the mellow autumn noontide
We kiss and say good-by,
And through the naked branches
Then may children see the sky."

THE TOWN IS IN FOR IT NOW.

The Writ for $10,000 for Damages Issued and in the Hands of the Sheriff.

On the appeal of the township of North Monaghan yesterday, Justice Ferguson granted an interim injection restraining the town from constructing the outfall sewer upon the highway of that township.

The town is thus placed in a most embarassing situation, and one that is likely to prove most costly. The work on the sewer was stopped this morning, as Mr. Edmison, counsel for the township, and the sheriff, drove down and warned the contractor that to proceed would be taken as contempt of court and action would be taken accordingly.

Although the stopping of the work is hard enough, that is not the worst of it, as through their solicitor, the township has issued a writ for damages, which was this morning placed in the hands of the Sheriff for service. The amount of damages is placed by the township at $10,000.

Mr. Edmison, during the afternoon, prepared a paper for service, warning the corporation that unless the highway was restored to the same condition in which it was, prior to being torn up by the corporation, within a period of five days, that the township would employ labour on the work at the town's expense.

GENERAL BOOTH'S VISIT.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—General Booth, the greatest philanthropist of the nineteenth century, being about to visit our town, to-morrow, Oct. 18th, we think it would be becoming of us, as citizens, to recognize his presence in some public way. We suggest that our places of business be decorated to some extent. That the bells of the town be rung on his arrival at the G. T. R. depot, at 11.30 a. m. That the bands of the town escort him from the depot to the Central Park. That the benevolent and other societies give him an address of welcome. That the stores be closed at an early hour in the evening. We hope business men and others will act in some way in this matter.

A LONG TRAIN —of diseases follows bad blood and inactive liver. Every one knows when his blood is impure and liver sluggish; pimples and boils appear, or he feels drowsy, weak, tired and thick-headed.

We want to teach you how to fight it. Begin in time. Plenty of fresh air, exercise, and Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, will bring you out of danger. The reason? "Discovery" enriches and purifies the blood and renders the liver active. As the germs of disease enter the circulatory system through the liver, they can be resisted there and in the blood. In those scrofulous conditions of the blood which invite catarrh, bronchitis, and end in Consumption, you have the means of prevention and cure. You can save yourself from Grip, Malaria, or Fever by putting all the functions of the body in a healthy state, besides building up healthy flesh, by taking the "Discovery." Not the fat of Cod liver oil, but wholesome flesh. G. M. D. is guaranteed to benefit or cure all blood disorders, or money refunded.

THE FASHIONS.

White satin and white chiffon is the ideal combination for a bridal petticoat.

Chinese muslin is a pretty new material, and it comes both plain and figured a la pompadour.

The autumn bell skirt will be fuller and wider than the original model, but exactly like it in other respects.

Braiding will be a very favorable garniture in rich dresses next season, as well as on tailor gowns and utility costumes.

The new poplin coats take the place of the dress waists. Some are Vandyked on the sides in deep points, but are shorter than any of the coats worn a year ago.

JUDGMENTS.

Dairy Notes.

Lots of butter-makers are simply spoiling good raw material.

The flavor of cheese and butter largely determines the price.

The herd should be carefully watched for the horn fly. A few timely applications of fish oil and tar will save a vast amount of annoyance as well as an expensive shrink in dairy products.

To wash milk pails, cans strainers etc., they should be first rinsed in lukewarm water, next washed with hot water, and then scalded, after which put them in a nice place to air and dry.

A Convenience in Fruit Gathering.

Designs for fruit ladders are legion, some good, some bad, and some indifferent. The quadruple stepladder here illustrated must be classed among the good designs, for obvious reasons. Placed under low, branching trees its use permits one to move about within reach of a large portion of the whole side of a tree, because of its four sides, about which one can freely step. Moreover, when not occupied as "standing ground," the top affords an excellent resting place for the basket. It will be found exceedingly convenient for the home orchard, where one may desire to pick but a basket or two of fruit at a time, and wishes to make a selection of those in the best condition for picking. It should be made strong, but light, so as to be readily moved about.

A Retrospective Thought.

He sat for a long time wrapt in thought.

"What is the matter?" asked his wife; "is there trouble on your mind?"

"Not exactly," he answered, mopping the perspiration from his brow, "not unless ye might look at it as a kind o' remorse."

"What was occupying your mind?"

"I was wondering whether I'm the same man that kicked about having to shovel snow last winter."—Washington Star.

Fast Horses.

The breeding and handling of fast horses is a proper branch of the live-stock industry, but it is one that the farmer should let severely alone. It is a business that should be engaged in only by men of ample means, who are able to stand large losses; but it has a tempting aspect when we learn that a single horse farm near Lexington, Ky., had an income of about $200,000 last year. This amount included the sale of stock and the earnings of five stallions.

A New Dress Material.

A new dress fabric made of "peat fiber" is in contemplation, and the possibility of using aluminium for making drapery goods is thought to be very practical, since it can be drawn into wires finer than a hair, and yet so fine and supple that they can be woven with silk. It has already been used for silk bows.

French Salad Dressing.

One tablespoonful of vinegar, one half teaspoonful of salt, one-fourth teaspoonful of black pepper. A dash of cayenne, three tablespoonfuls of olive oil. Put the salt and pepper in a bowl and add gradually the oil. Mix in slowly the vinegar, stirring rapidly the while. As soon as you have a perfect emulsion, that is, the dressing is well blended (the oil and vinegar), it is ready to use, and should be used at once.

A PRINTER'S ILLS.

A Brantford Compositor has Diabetes—He Drops 40 Pounds in Weight in a Short Time—How He Was Cured.

BRANTFORD, Oct. 15.—Thos. Hazelhurst, a compositor in the Courier in this city, has been some ups and downs in health within the past few months. Last spring he found himself suffering from diabetes in a very severe form. In a few weeks he lost forty pounds in weight. His system kept on running down and Mr. Hazelhurst was very naturally alarmed. After trying many remedies without benefit, he began using Dodd's Kidney Pills. Three boxes made a big change in his condition, and six boxes worked a complete cure. Mr. Hazelhurst is to-day better than he has been for years. Add one more to the list of diabetes cases cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

On The Platform.

Public speakers and singers are often troubled with sore throat and hoarseness and are liable to severe bronchial attacks which might be prevented and cured by the use of Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam—the best throat and lung remedy in use.

Another Voice From Smith.

SMITH, July 7, 1892.

I was troubled with a nasty pain in the back and shoulders for a long time, and had tried several remedies without getting any relief. I thought at first it might be my lungs, as the doctor's say such pains are symptoms of lung trouble coming on, but I was induced to try a bottle of Membray's Kidney and Liver Cure, for sale at Tully's Drug Store, and after taking the second dose I was surprised to find the pains all leaving me. It acted like magic. I never knew anything that acted so quick on man or beast before.

WITHOUT A FREEZER.

A Delicious Ice May be Made Without the Usual Apparatus.

Make an ice pudding without the aid of a freezer, thus: Pour half a pint of boiling milk, sweetened, into a basin containing two well whisked eggs, stir the ingredients, put them into a clean sauce-pan and stir steadily over the fire until a thick custard is produced, taking care it does not boil, or it will be spoiled. Remove from the fire and put aside until cold, then add half a pint of whipped cream to the custard, and a teaspoonful of vanilla essence. Ascertain that the mixture is sweet enough, and add some dried cherries or pineapple cut into small pieces and a few drops of carmine, just sufficient to give a pale pink tint.

Put the mixture into a pudding mold with a cover, or an ordinary round cocoa tin that will hold a pint will do quite as well, providing it has a well fitting cover; stand the tin in a zinc pail, and pack it round tightly with equal quantities of rough ice, broken up into fairly small pieces, and freezing salt; about three pounds of each will be required; then cover the pail entirely with a thick blanket and stand it in a warm corner of the kitchen, near the fire, but not too close, for three hours and a half. Then turn the pudding out of the tin, knocking it on the table if necessary to loosen it, and serve at once.—New York World.

The Power of Children.

One man was making unkind remarks about his mother-in-law, and the other man was taking it all in. After awhile he put in his oar.

"You haven't any children, have you?" he inquired.

"No," was the reply; "what's that got to do with it?"

"More than you'll ever know until you have some."

"I fail to see it."

"Yes, so did I, at first, and I talked just as you do. Then when the youngsters came and began to grow up and to learn who grandma was, and to look to her as their best friend; the one to shield them when they needed the parental spanking; the one to give them pennies when their parents thought they should not have them; the one who came and watched by them when they were sick; the one who was always good to them; the one grandma of all the world to the innocent, mischievous, all-pervading kids, blamed if I didn't forget utterly that she was my mother in-law, and I got to calling her 'grandma' just as the little ones did, and thinking about her just as they did, and finally, when the gray-haired old angel went to her rest, I grieved with the children and as sincerely as any of them."

Household Hints.

Cold meats or fish may be hashed fine and mixed with potatoes, rice or hominy and a sauce and made into croquettes.

Gravies, sauces and soups, no matter how small the quantity, should be saved to use in warming over meat, fish or vegetables.

Tough pieces of meat and bones may be used for making little stews or a little soup stock. All kinds of meats can be combined in making a stew or soup.

Pieces of bread may be used for puddings and griddle cakes and in the form of dry crumbs for breading. Pieces of cake and gingerbread may be used in puddings.

Leather belts or boots that have been soaked in water and dried hard may be softened by rubbing plentifully with coal oil. If the leather is very dirty wash it with good, hot soapsuds first.

To clean silver, first wash or remove all the grease from the silver, then rub with a woollen cloth wet with ammonia and whiting and polish on the chased and filigree parts with a toothbrush.

A Fish with a Lantern.

No matter what animals, or groups of animals, are studied, it will always be found that their leading physical traits are exactly adapted to their habits and conditions. A striking illustration of this fact is afforded by the torch fish. This is a deep sea fish, that carries on its nose something like a short, thin bone, which it can illuminate with a phosphorescent light, or extinguish at pleasure. It does not use this lantern to guide it on its way in the depth of the ocean, or to enable it to see what is going on in the neighborhood; the light is put to a more practical use. When the fish feels hungry, it lights up to attract smaller fish. They dart for the light and find themselves in the capacious mouth of the fish. How the lantern is lighted and extinguished is not yet clearly understood.

When the Nerve Centres Need Nutrition.

A Wonderful Recovery, Illustrating the Quick Response of a Depleted Nerve System to a Treatment Which Replenishes Exhausted Nerve Forces.

MR. FRANK BAUER, BERLIN, ONT.

Perhaps you know him? In Waterloo he is known as one of the most popular and successful business men of that enterprising town. As managing executor of the Kuntz estate, he is at the head of a vast business, representing an investment of many thousands of dollars, and known to many people throughout the Province. Solid financially, Mr. Frank Bauer also has the good fortune of enjoying solid good health, and if appearances indicate anything, it is safe to predict that there's a full half century of active life still ahead for him. But it's only a few months since, while nursed as an invalid at the Mt. Clemens sanitary resort, when his friends in Waterloo were dismayed with a report that he was at the point of death.

"There's no telling where I would have been had I kept on the old treatment," said Mr. Bauer, with a merry laugh, the other day, while recounting his experiences as a very sick man. "Mt. Clemens," he continued, "was the last resort in my case. For months previous I had been suffering indescribable tortures. I began with a loss of appetite and sleepless nights. Then, as the trouble kept growing, I was getting weaker, and began losing flesh and strength rapidly. My stomach refused to retain food of any kind. During all this time I was under medical treatment, and took everything prescribed, but without relief. Just about when my condition seemed most hopeless, I heard of a wonderful cure effected in a case somewhat similar to mine, by the Great South American Nervine Tonic, and I finally tried that. On the first day of its use I began to feel that it was doing what no other medicine had done. The first dose relieved the distress completely. Before night I actually felt hungry and ate with an appetite such as I had not known for months. I began to pick up in strength with surprising rapidity, slept well nights, and before I knew it I was eating three square meals regularly every day, with as much relish as ever. I have no hesitation whatever in saying that the South American Nervine Tonic cured me when all other remedies failed. I have recovered my old weight—over 200 pounds—and never felt better in my life."

Mr. Frank Bauer's experience is that of all others who have used the South American Nervine Tonic. Its instantaneous action in relieving distress and pain is due to the direct effect of this great remedy upon the nerve centres, whose fagged vitality is energized instantly by the very first dose. It is a great, a wondrous cure for all nervous diseases, as well as indigestion and dyspepsia. It goes to the real source of trouble direct, and the sick always feel its marvellous sustaining and restorative power at once, on the very first day of its use.

How to Gather Garden Seed.

Garden seed cannot be gathered in a happen-and-by-chance method and then good returns justly expected next year. Gather the first well-formed ripe tomato and cucumber from which to keep seed. This will make tomatoes and cucumbers from two to three weeks earlier than the neighbors and of the finest fruit. I have gathered the pods of lima beans which matured first and stored them away securely with the seed in the bunch with poled beans, radishes, lettuce, onions, etc., all of which were saved from my best, so I expect to have of the best next year. If good, large heads of cabbage and cauliflower are desired, the best of the heads grown must each time be saved, setting out the whole plant from which to grow seed. It is almost no trouble to take precaution in this, and he who does it is always amply paid in the spring.—Exchange.
